Cherokee Nation-
Comes now the representative of the Cherkee Nation and protests against the enrollment of said applicant and his family, alleging the applicant's mother obtained her admission to citizenship by fraud.

By the Commission-
The applicant applies for the enrollment of himself and four children as citizens by blood of the Cherkee Nation. He is identified upon the Census roll of 1896 as a native Cherokee, together with his chilren. He has made his home continuously in he Cherokee Nation since the spring of 1884. His children have also resided in the Cherokee Nation continuously since their birth. He and his children will be listed for enrollment as Cherokee citizens by blood. He presents satisfactory proof as to the admission of his mother to citizenship in the Cherokee Nation on the 9th day of September, 1884, her name at that time being Melvina Dawson. She was admitted, however, under the name of Malinda Dawson. The applicant was a minor at the time his mother was admitted to citizenship. The representative of the Cherokee Nation present protests against the enrollment of the applicant and his family for the reason that said Melvina or Malinda Dawson was admitted to citizenship in the Cherokee Nation through fraud. The applicant therefore, and his children will be placed upon what is known as a doubtful card, and when final judgment is rendered in his case, he will be notified in writing at his present postoffice address. The applicant will also be required to file with the Commission either the original or a certified copy of his marriage certificate, showing that he was married to his deceased wife, Mollie, a white woman, in 1887.

To be filed with C. D. 476, James H. Harmon et al.

DEPARTMENT OF THE INTERIOR,
COMMISSION TO THE FIVE CIVILIZED TRIBES,
VINITA, I. T., SEPTEMBER 18th, 1900.

IN THE MATTER OF THE APPLICATION OF Francis Marion Dawson, wife and children for enrollment as citizens of the Cherokee Nation, and he being sworn by Commissioner, T. B. Brockinridge, testified as follows:

Q What is your full name? A Francis Marion Dawson.
Q What is your age? A I am fifty eight years old.
Q What is your Postoffice? A Oodema.
Q What District do you live in? A Delaware.
Q Who is it you want to have enrolled? A Myself and family.
Q Your wife? A Yes, sir.
Q How many children? A Six.
Q Do you apply for enrollment as a Cherokee by blood? A Yes, sir.
Q Is your wife a Cherokee by blood? A No, sir; she is a white woman.
Q How long have you lived in the Cherokee Nation? A Since 1883.
Q Were you admitted by the Cherokee Commission? A Yes, sir.

The applicant presents a duly authenticated certificate of admission to citizenship, showing that on the 11th day of January, 1883, certain persons were admitted by the Commission on citizenship, and among them appears the name of F. M. Dawson.

Q That is your name as it? A Yes, sir.

This is considered as satisfactory evidence of the facts stated.

Q Have you lived in the Cherokee Nation ever since your admission?
A Yes, sir; in Delaware District most times.
Q Give us the name of your wife? A Katie Dawson.
Q How old is she now? A Forty five.
Q Was she admitted with you? A No, sir.
Q Have you married her according to Cherokee law since your admission? A No, sir.
Q You have not remarried since your admission? A No, sir; it was not necessary.

The applicant presents a duly authenticated marriage license and certificate, showing that he was married to his wife, as stated by him, in 1880, by the Reverend R. W. Goudelock, in Carrol County, Arkansas, the license being issued by the Clerk of that County.

These papers are filed herewith.

Q Your wife was not admitted by the Cherokee Commission, when you were? A No, sir.
Q Or at any other time? A No, sir.
Q By act of the Commission or Council? A No, sir: she was placed on the rolls.
Q On the census rolls? A Yes, sir.
Q Give me the names of your children, please? A Lula.
Q How old? A Seventeen.
Q Next child? A Ray.
Q How old? A Fifteen.
Q Next child? A Jessie Jane.
Q How old? A Fourteen.
Q Next child? A Jacob Levy.
How old? A Ten.
Q Next child? A Enoch A.
Q How old? A He is eight I believe.

Q Next child? A Laura.
Q How old is that child? A She is four years old.
Q Is that all? A Yes, sir; six of them. I have others, but they are not at here.
Q Are they married? A No, sir.
Q Are they over age? A Yes, sir.

Q Is this Lula or Lulu? A Lulu.

The applicant applies for the enrollment of himself, wife and six children.

Q Were these children all born since you were admitted into the Cherokee Nation? A Yes, sir.

The applicant is shown by the certificate of admission, cited in the testimony, to have been admitted to Cherokee citizenship by the Commission on Citizenship, January 11th, 1883; he is identified on the roll of 1896, but the representative of the Cherokee Nation desires to make inquiry into the methods of that time, and for that reason, the application of the applicant will at present be placed on a "Doubtful Card." He has lived in the Cherokee Nation ever since his admission to citizenship. His wife was married to him under United States law, and was married prior to his admission: she has never been repudiated according to Cherokee law: She has lived with him ever since his admission to citizenship, and she is identified on the roll of 1896. The application for her enrollment will be placed on a "Doubtful Card".

Their six children, as enumerated in the testimony are identified on the roll of 1896: They are living at this time, all having been born since the admission (Applicant's) . These children will be placed with him on a "Doubtful Card". The applicant's marriage to the mother of these children is established by the marriage license and certificate filed herewith. If any additional papers, adverse are developed in this case, he will be given timely notice thereof.

The undersigned, being sworn, states that as stenographer to the Commission to the Five Civilized Tribes, he correctly recorded the testimony and proceedings in this case, and that the foregoing is a true and complete transcript of his stenographic notes thereof.

BEFORE THE HONORABLE COMMISSION TO THE FIVE CIVILIZED TRIBES.

In the matter of the enrollment of F. M. Dawson and others as Cherokee citizens.

Depositions of sundry persons in behalf of the applicants for enrollment mentioned in the title, taken before me, Lewis T. Martin, a Notary Public in and for the Northern District of the Indian Territory, duly appointed, qualified and acting as such, at the office of G. B. Denison in the Grey-Halsell building in the town of Vinita, Indian Territory, on Thursday the fourth day of October 1900, between the hours of one and a half o'clock and six o'clock in the afternoon of said day, in accordance with the agreement to take testimony, entered into between the applicants and the Cherokee Nation, by their respective attorneys, which agreement is hereto attached.

T. F. Thompson, being produced by the applicants, being first duly sworn to testify to the truth, the whole truth and nothing but the truth, testified as follows:

DIRECT EXAMINATION BY G. B. DENISON:

Q State your name, age, residence and occupation?
A T. F. Thompson, 63 years old, I live near Vinita, Cherokee Nation, I. T. I am a farmer.
Q How long have resided in the Cherokee Nation? A All my life.
Q Are you a citizen of the Cherokee Nation as now constituted?
A Yes, sir.
Q Upon what is that citizenship based, blood or otherwise?
A Blood.
Q What, if any official position have you held in the Cherokee Nation, and at what time?
A I was elected to the Cherokee Council in 1870 some odd, I don't remember the exact year, I was also on the Commission Court.
Q Do you remember when that was? A Some time in 1880 or 1881, I think, it may have been earlier.
Q Did that Commission or Court have anything to do with admission to citizenship in the Cherokee Nation? A Yes, sir.
Q State, if you remember, how many members of that Commission or Court, there were, and who they were besides yourself?
A There were three, Tehee, Rolf and myself, Tehee was President of the Court.
Q Where were the sessions of that body held? A Tahlequah, Cherokee Nation.
Q Did you have a Clerk? A Yes, sir.
Q Do you remember who that was? A D. W. C. Duncan.
Q Do you know whether the members of that Commission beside yourself, are living or dead? A Yes, sir, they are both dead.
Q Can you recollect now what period of time that Commission lasted?
A About two years I think, two sessions, and there was one session each year.
Q Were the sessions of that body held in Tahlequah, open to the public at all times when it was in session?
A Yes, sir.
Q Were the cases coming before that body heard in open session?
A Yes.
Q Witnesses examined orally? A Yes, sir.

Q Judgments of the Court or Commission pronounced in open session?
A In case of decisions I think they sometimes had secret sessions, yes, the judgments of the Commission were pronounced openly.
Q What you intended to convey by you answer to the former question was that after hearing the proof the Commission or Court deliberated in secret session upon the testimony taken before reaching a decision or announcing it? A After hearing all the testimony we went into secret session.
Q I will present you with a paper which the Notary will mark exhibit "A" and a copy of which he will attach to your deposition, and will ask you if with the exception of the certificate of record by H. L. Bragdon, Clerk, and John L. Adair Asst. Ex. Secretary, you recognize it as a paper you have ever seen before?
A I recognize the signature to it, but don't remember the instrument.
Q Which signature on that paper do you recognize? A My own.
Q That signature is in your own handwriting? A Yes, sir.
Q Do you know whether Thomas Tehee, president of the Commission could write in English or not? A No, I don't think he could.
Q How as to Alexander Wolfe, a member of the Commission?
A I don't think he could write either, I don't think either of them ever wrote except by touching the pen.
Q Were you, and are you familiar with the handwriting of D. W. C. Duncan, the Clerk of that Commission?
A Tolerably well, but it has been a long time since I saw any of it.
Q Will you look at the paper again and say whether you recognize his signature attached thereto?
A Yes, that is his signature to the best of my knowledge.
Q Do you preserve any personal recollection of the application before that Commission of F. M. Dawson and other members of the Dawson family, to be admitted as citizens of he Cherokee Nation by tht Commission?
A I remember F. M. Dawson and his brother, that is about the only ones I remember.
Q The question was not as to the personal recollection of the individuals, but as to the claim being presented by the Dawsons for admission?
A Yes, there was such a claim before the Commission.
Q Can you state as to the citizenship of Thomas Tehee, whether he was a citizen of the Nation by blood or not?
A Yes, sir, he was always recognized as such, full blood besides.
Q What is your knowledge of Alexander Wolfe?
A About the same, he was also a full blood and recognized as a Cherokee.
Q Judge Thompson, if you possessed or had, or have now any knowledge of any corruption or bribery of the court or Commission, or any member of it by F. M. Dawson or any of the Dawson family or anybody connected with the presentation of their claim for citizenship, state it fully?
A None whatever as far as I was concerned, and I don't think there was by the balance of the Court.

CROSS-EXAMINATION BY W. T. HUTCHINGS.

Q Do you mean to say Mr. Thompson that your name attached to the certificate shown you is in your handwriting?
A Yes, sir.
Q When Mr. Duncan certified that this is a transcript of the decision in the case, he is mistaken, that is the original?
A No, I don't know, that may be the original, if that is not the original I did not sign it, if it is the original I signed it.
Q You state that the witnesses were examined orally before the Court, don't you know that in almost every case was taken by ex-parte affidavits of witnesses when those witnesses were not present?

A I think we ruled exparte evidence out, as well as I remember.
Q Did you have any stenographer or anybody to copy the evidence?
Mr. Duncan did all of the copying.
Q Was the evidence copied and preserved?
A Yes, sir, I think it was.
Q What was done with that evidence, where was any of it ever put?
A I suppose it is at Tahlequah in the office of the Treasurer or Secretary.
Q When you went into secret session did you have Mr. Duncan read the evidence to you?
A Yes, sir, we went over the evidence thoroughly.
Q Did you allow the applicants or their attorneys admission to any of your secret sessions?
No, sir.
Q When you got ready to render your decisions did you then send for the applicants or their attorneys?
A No, sir.
Q And you rendered them in secret also, did you? A Yes, sir.
Q Have you any recollection who testified in the Dawson case, as to their claim? A No, sir, I have not.
Q Have you any recollection as to who they claimed their Cherokee ancestors were? A Yes, sir, they claimed the Rogers.
Q Did they claim relationship with any of the present families of Rogers residing in the Cherokee Nation?

The applicant objects to this question as tending to elicit testimony wholly incompetent and irrelevant to the issue, and not cross-examination of this witness.

A I don't know that they did, particularly.
Q How would your court determine when they claimed descent through some Rogers family, that that family was of Cherokee blood?

The applicant objects to the question upon the same grounds as their objection to the previous question.

A By the evidence they produced.
Q Didn't you make them prove that that family was well known at one time to be connected with the Cherokee Nation, and were citizens thereof? A Yes.
Q Who was the attorney for the Dawsons? A Old man Houston Benge.
Q Could either Tehee or Wolfe speak English? A They could understand, but they never spoke English, they had an interpreter.
Q Did you ever talk to either of them as to whether they got anything for deciding this case? A No, sir.
Q How long were you considering the case altogether?
A I could not say as to that, I think we were on it two or three days, anyhow, I could not say positively now, they were a long time engaged in testimony.
Q There were only two or three witnesses examined all told, were there?
A I think so, three I think, they had quite a lot of affidavits, but I did not consider them.
Q How long the Court was a good while arriving at its conclusion after the case was closed?
A Quite a good while, I don't remember the exact time.

RE-DIRECT EXAMINATION:

Q Do you remember who the interpreter the Commission used during the hearing of the Dawson case?
A His name was Reese, I forget his given name.

Q Do you now whether he is living or dead?
A I don't know, he seemed to be in bad health at the time we had the case up, I think they are all dead but me and Mr. Duncan.
Q What was he, a Cherokee by blood?
A He was considered a Cherokee by blood.
Q Do you know where he lived at that time?
A No, sir, he lived in the South part of the Nation though, I think in Sequoyah.

D. W. C. Duncan being produced by the applicants after being sworn to testify to the truth, the whole truth and nothing but the truth testified as follows:

DIRECT EXAMINATION BY C. B. DENISON:

Q Please state your name, age, residence and occupation?
A My name is D. W. C. Duncan, my age is 70 years, my residence is Vinita, Indian Territory, my occupation is a farmer.
Q How long has that been your place of residence? A Since 1874.
Q Are you a member of the Cherokee Nation as it is now constituted?
A Yes, sir.
Q Upon what is your citizenship based, a Cherokee by blood?
A Yes, a Cherokee by blood.
Q In January 1883, did you hold any official position in the Cherokee Nation, if so, what was it?
A About that time I held the position of Clerk of the Citizenship Court or Commission.
Q If you remember the names of themembers of that Commission or Court, please give them?
A The President of the Commission was Tehee I believe, and a Member by the name of Wolfe whose first name I don't recollect, and Mr. Thompson here.
Q T. F. Thompson?
A Yes.
Q Do you know whether those three members of that Commission were recognized citizens of the Cherokee Nation, and whether their citizenship was based upon blood or not?
A They were supposed to be citizens of the Cherokee Nation and their citizenship was based upon their blood.
Q Will you please look at the paper now handed you which the Notary has marked exhibit "A" to the deposition of Mr. T. F. Thompson, and a copy of which he will attach to Mr. Thompson's depositions, and state whether with the exception of the certificate of M. L. Dragdon, Clerk, and of John L. Adair Asst. Ex. Secretary, you recognize the paper as one you have ever seen before?
A Yes, I think I have seen this before.
Q When, and where, if you remember, did you first see that paper?
A This is a paper I drew up at the time I was acting as Clerk of the said Citizenship Court.
Q Looking at its date, was it drawn at you at the time it bears date?
A To the best of my recollection it was drawn at the date specified.
Q Do you recognize the signature to the certificate attached to that paper?
A Yes, that is my signature.
Q State if you know, in whose handwriting the body of the paper is?
A It is in my handwriting.
Q And at that time you were Clerk of that Commission? A Yes.
Q Will you please look at the signatures of the members of the Commission as they appear on that paper, and state if you can, by whom they were written?
A I think the first two is my handwriting, the last I recognize that as T. F. Thompson's.
Q Explain please, how you came to write the signatures of Thomas Tehee and Alex Wolfe to that paper?
A Thomas Tehee and Alex Wolfe were full bloods and could not write, and in their presence, and at their request I wrote their signatures.

Q Was that the usual manner of certifying to the action of the Commission to applicants as to the decision of their application for citizenship, where admitted?
A In all instances where it is necessary for the Court to sign a paper of any kind it was adopted by that Court for the Clerk to sign Tehee's and Wolf's names and T. P. Thompson to sign his own name.
Q You didn't catch exactly my idea, but perhaps that answered it, what I intended to call you attention to, was whether when applicants had been admitted to citizenship a paper of this kind now shown you, signed by the judges as you have explained, and certified by you as a transcript of the proceedings was issued?
A My recollection is that a transcript of the judgment was issued to the applicant when they were admitted at their request, the judgment was entered upon the record when they were admitted and signed by the judges, and whenever the transcript was delivered to the applicants I think it was signed by the judges.
Q If you had any knowledge at the time the application of the Dawson family, F. M. and others whose names are mentioned in that paper, was pending before that Commission, or before or after, of any corruption or bribery, or attempted corruption or bribery of the Court or any of its officers, by F. M. Dawson, or any person connected in any manner with the claim of the Dawsons to citizenship in the Cherokee Nation, state it fully?
A I never heard a thing of the kind, I know nothing of the kind, all that I have ever heard about a question of that kind in what has originated recently, since the enrollment business has been inaugurated.

CROSS-EXAMINATION BY W. T. HUTCHINGS:

Q If as you certify, this paper was a transcript of the record, why did you have the judges sign it?
A I know no reason further than that was the practise at that time, the members of the Court being present I presume it was thought it would be an good or better than the signature of the Clerk.
Q Examine that signature of Mr. Thompson, examine the first T in his name and the T in Tehee's name and see if it is not all your own handwriting?
A No, I would not call that mine, there is a resemblance between the letters but I am satisfied it is a mere fortuity, accident.
Q How was the evidence taken in those cases?
A It was taken by the witness being present and detailing his knowledge of the case, I wrote it down sentence by sentence as it was delivered.

Q Do you know whether that evidence is in existance or not?
A I do not, the last I saw of it was when I turned the records over to the Executive office at Tahlequah, and I have not seen it since.
Q You say you never heard any talk about this being an improper case until very recently?
A Well, that would depend upon what you mean by recently, I don't think I ever heard of it prior to three years ago, I can safely say that did not.

Q Do you remember through what ancestor they claimed their right to citizenship here?

Objected to by applicants because the question tends to elicit testimony which is wholly incompetent and irrelevant, and because it is not proper cross-examination.

A They claimed their right of citizenship through a man by the name of Rogers, I don't recol ect his first name.
Q Do you know how many Rogers families there are who have citizenship in the Cherokee Nation?
A I do.

Department of the Interior,
Commission to the Five Civilized Tribes,
Muskogee, I. T., March 17, 1903.

SUPPLEMENTAL TESTIMONY in the matter of the enrollment of FRANCIS M. DAWSON, ET AL., as citizens of the Cherokee Nation:

The case having been set for final hearing March 17, 1903. the following proceedings were had:

APPEARANCES:
Mr. A. S. McKennon, of counsel for applicants;
Mr. W. T. Hutchings, of counsel for Cherokee Nation.

Mr. Hutchings: Comes now the Nation on the calling of this case and announces that it is ready for trial, provided permission is given to hereafter examine before the Commission, either at this place or Fort Gibson, the witness S. H. Benge, who has been regularly summoned to attend at this day and time but who is too sick to travel at this time and probably will be for some time to come. As evidence of a good faith of the Nation we hereby present an affidavit of the facts sought to be proven by the said Benge. If the applicant's counsel are willing to concede that the witness if present would testify to the facts herein set forth, the Nation is ready to proceed to trial without reservation of any kind. If they are not it desires to reserve this privilege of hereafter, either tomorrow or otherwise, this case being set for to-day and tomorrow, of examining before the Commission, or its authorized officer, this witness as above set forth.

Mr. McKennon: Applicants object to the introduction of the paper presented and do not admit that the witness, Samuel H. Benge if present would testify to the facts therein stated. They consent and desire that the testimony of said Benge be taken before the Commission at its office in Muskogee but not elsewhere, and protest against it being taken at any other place, with the understanding, however, that when taken we have opportunity to introduce any evidence we may desire in rebuttal.

Mr. Hutchings:
The Nation will pay all the expenses of the opposing Counsel, their client and Commission officers in taking the deposition at Fort Gibson.

Commissioner Breckinridge: The allegations of this witness are material in their character and are quite tangent. The Commission of its own volition would acquire information of that character if it knew of its existance anywhere. While the functions of the Commission, as well known are in many respects judicial, yet it is bodied with somewhat complex powers, such as Congress creates from time to time to do business of certain character, and it is ordered to make a correct roll, which is a duty largely independent of hearing simply what is brought before them; it must be the architect and constructor of that roll and if evidence is not brought before before the Commission it must go out and get it, to be uniform on that construction of the law. The Commission, therefore, desires this information independent of any counsel on either side both with respect to the applicant and to the Nation, and if this witness is is not able to come one of the Commissioners will go to Fort Gibson and to his bed-side, or send a Keeper official, if necessary to take his testimony. The only matter to consider, therefore, is one of convenience with respect to getting this testimony. Now, I understand that this witness is an extreme sufferer from Bright's Disease he is an old man and he may never be able to get out of the house, and it may be an injustice to him to subject him to a trip here, and therefore it seems to me better that counsel for plaintiff submit to a form of taking a deposition or else accompany an official of this Commission over to Fort Gibson and let his testimony be taken there.

After consultation with the attorneys upon the two sides it is found to be agreeable that the parties start to Fort Gibson to-morrow morning at half past eight o'clock, and it is agreed then and directed with an official of the Commission with a stenographer leave from the office of the Commission for Fort Gibson at 8:30 to-morrow morning.

FRANCIS M. DAWSON, the applicant, re-called for additional cross-examination on part of the Cherokee Nation:

MR. HUTCHINGS:

Q What is your name? A Francis M. Dawson.
Q Where do you reside? A In Afton.
Q You have been examined in this case heretofore, have you?
A I don't know which case it is.
Q In your own case? A Yes, sir.
Q Are you the one that is commonly called Bud Dawson? A Yes, sir.
Q You made the original application in the Dawson family for admission to citizenship in the Cherokee Nation, didn't you? No, sir; my brother.
Q What was his name? A A. E. Dawson.
Q You and Robert Dawson and Elbert Dawson and others applied September 24, '81, about that time? A Yes, sir.
Q And you were admitted about the 11th of January '83? A Yes, sir.
Q There were other members of your family that applied and were admitted after that time? A Yes, sir.
Q Do you or not remember the evidence offered in their to substantiate their case was the relationship between yourself and Robert and others and the evidence of your admission by the Teh Court. In all the subsequent admissions I mean the only evidence offered was the fact that you and your brothers had been admitted before and that they were kin to you; that was the only evidence offered in any subsequent cases, wasn't it; so far as you know?
A That is afterwards?
Q Yes, afterwards? A I think there was some other evidence introduced.
Q Don't you know that there was never any evidence offered in any other case except evidence of Dr. Baker of Arkansas? Yes, sir.
Q Who else? A Oliver Miller.
Q Who was Oliver Miller; the records in this case have been somewhat destroyed and mutilated? A Oliver Miller was an Indian.
Q What was he, who was he? A He is no kin to me at all.
Q Well, what station in life did he occupy; was he a farmer?
A Yes, sir, farmer.
Q Were you present when he testified? A Yes, sir.
Q Were you present when Dr. Baker testified? A Yes, sir.

Q Have you a fair recollection of the testimony of those two men?
A No, not at all.
Q You don't read do you, Mr. Dawson? A No, sir, I dont read nor write; I can barely write my name.
Q Do you think you would remember the testimony of Dr. Baker if your mind was refreshed on it? A Part of it I think.
Q Were you present when you were admitted? A I was not in the room.
Q You were in Tahlequah at the time? A I was in the town of Tahlequah at the time.
Q I will read this paer to you and desire for you ro say whether or not it was the testimony of Dr. Baker in your case:
(Affidavit of Dr. Arthur Baker read to witness, and asked to be copied in the record later.)
Q Is that the correct transcript of the testimony? A It has been so long ago, I could not say: a part of it is, I could not remember it all.
Q Does that state the facts as to the family history correctly so far as you know about it? A So far as I know.
Q Now, you were a son of what Dawson? A Robert Dawson.
Q How many children did Robert Dawson have, and give me their names?
A Elbert Dawson, the oldest; Lila, Jesper, Francis Marion-
Q That is yourself? A Yes, sir; Elizabeth Dawson, Josephine Dawson, John Dawson, Joseph Dawson, Jane Dawson, James Dawson, Edna Dawson, Mollie Dawson, Wilburn Dawson.
Q Thirteen? (No response.)
Q Now, Rober Dawson's father was whom? A Sam Dawson.
Q Who was Sam Dawson's wife, your grandmother? A I have been told.
Q By family history is all you know? A She was called Polly Dawson.
Q Who was Anna Pruitt? A I don't know.
Q Never heard of anybody in the family by the name of Anna Pruitt? A No, sir, that was away back in the old country; I have heard talk about it, old Dr. Baker talked about it.
Q Your grand-mother's name was Polly Dawson? A Yes, sir; I don't remember seeing her but once, she died when I was small, died in Texas.
Q Pollie Dawson? A Yes, sir.
Q And she was known as Pollie Rogers, her maiden name? A Yes, sir.
Q Daughter of Captain John Rogers? A Yes, sir.
Q Now, she died in Texas what time? A I don't remember.
Q Can't you guess at it? A Oh, I could guess.
Q Give your best recollection? A About '58 or '59, or no, '48 or '49; I don't say positive, just guessing at it.
Q How old a boy were you then? A I was born in '42.
Q Have you any distinct recollection of her? A No, sir.
Q Have you any recollection of all the children of Sam and Pollie Dawson; that is, your father, uncles and Aunts? I didn't see all of them.
Q Do you know by family history the names of all of them? A Yes, sir.
Q Will you give them to me?
A Betsy Ann Dawson, I believe her name was.
Q Did she marry a Petty? A Yes, sir; the next is Robert Dawson.
Q Your father? A Yes, sir.
Q Next one? A I think the next was James Dawson, and I think the next one was a girl. Edna Dawson.
Q Did he have two daughters? A Yes, sir.
Q Tell sir? A The next one was Joe Dawson. I never saw him; Riley Dawson.

Q That is Samuel R. Dawson, Riley Dawson? A Yes, sir.
Q Any other one? A That is all I know anything about.
Q Did he have any child by the name of John? A Yes, Jack.
Q Didn't you get Jack misplaced with Joe? A No, it was Joe; I have heard my father speak of him.
Q Then they have seven children? A I never see them all.
Q How many of them did you ever see? A I seed uncle Riley Dawson and James Dawson and Jack Dawson and Betsy Ann Petty; I don't think I saw but one of Pa's sisters and brother, they went to Mississippi I think.
Q Do you know what your family history says that the mother of your grandmother, Pollie Rogers' name was? A We have no history.
Q Well, as it was brought down to you; did you ever hear anybody say what your great grandmother's name was? A No, I don't remember.
Q What is that other man, Oliver Hill that testified in your case? A He testified in Joe Dawson's case; he never testified in my father's case.
Q Well, didn't anybody testify in your case but Dr. Baker?
A Yes, sir, several other witnesses.
Q Who were they? A I don't remember; my mother got them witnesses around Tahlequah, old people.
Q Were you present? A No, sir.
Q You were only present when Mr. Baker testified? A Yes, sir.
Q Now, do you find any mistakes in Dr. Baker's statement there?
A I could not say all of them was correct or not, part of it is correct.
Q What part is correct? A Why about knowing the family over there.
Q Who is Buck Dawson? A My brother,
Q What is his name? A We always called him Buck, it is Elbert, E. Dawson.
Q Who went with you the first time you went up to make application for citizenship do you remember? A With my brother.
Q The first time? A I met my brother in Texas.
Q Which one? A E. Dawson.
Q That is Elbert or Buck? A Yes, sir.
Q You were living in Arkansas? A Yes, sir.
Q And he was living in Texas? A Yes, sir, and another one of little brothers, Dr. Dawson now:
Q Dr. Dawson now? A Yes, sir.
Q What is his name? A James.
Q And you three went there? A Yes, sir.

Mr. McKennon: Applicants by their counsel object to all the statement of this witness relating to the testimony introduced before the Cherokee Citizenship Commission, and the history of the family as detailed by him, because the same is incompetent and irrelevant, and cannot be used for the purpose of impeaching the integrity of the judgment of said Commission, or either of the Commissioners in admitting members of the Dawson family.

Commission: The objection of the Attorney for the applicants to the testimony above will be noted. The same will be filed and noted for what it is worth.

(Attorney for applicants waives examination.)

C. H. TAYLOR, being duly sworn, testified as follows on part of the Cherokee Nation:
MR. HUTCHINGS:

Q State your name? A O. H. Taylor.
Q Where do you reside, Mr. Taylor? A Mt Near Coffeyville.
Q Were you an attorney before various citizenship Courts along in '01 to '8" in the Cherokee Nation at Tahlequah? A Yes, sir.
Q Were you attorney for F. M. Dawson commonly known as Bud Dawson?
A Yes, sir.
Q Were you present at the taking of testimony in that case? A No, sir; I wasn't present.
Q Do you know who composed the court that decided the case at that time? A Yes, sir.
Q Who were they? A Tom Tehee and Alex Wolfe and Tom Thompson.
Q Do you know whether or not they were all there when the case was decided? A No, sir, there were only two of them present.
Q Which two? A Tehee and Wolfe.
Q Who was the Clerk of the Court at that time? A Mr. Duncan, D. W. C. Duncan.
Q Do you know what witnesses were used in the case of Bud Dawson?
A No, sir; now I was the attorney in the case and the evidence had already been filed before the Court.
Q When were you made attorney? A I was only called in as an attorney at the— Well, Mr. Duncan came down there, and Mr. Bryant had the case and several other attorneys had the case and he employed me.
Q Did you read the evidence in this case? A No, sir.
Q Did you deliver any money? A Now, I was the attorney in the case and I don't think it would be right for me to make any statement.
Q Well, you have claimed your privilege, I ask that you answer the question? Did Dawson ever hand you any money with the direction to pay it to either member of the Court or the Clerk of the Court, D. W. C. Duncan, and if so state the amount? A I had a heap of trouble over this matter.—

Commission: Just answer the question, Mr. Taylor.

A Being the attorney I don't believe it is right for me to answer that question.

Commission: Do you refuse to answer? A Yes, sir.

Q Did the matter to which you object to testifying occur prior to the rendition of the decision admitting to citizenship or afterwards? (No response)

COMMISSIONER BRECKINRIDGE:

Q Do you desire to reply to the last question? A I don't think it is right; I was attorney in the case.

Q Mr. Taylor, do you object to answering that question? A Yes, sir.

Q You refuse to answer that question, do you? A I had rather not say or it.

Q Either answer it or say you won't answer it? A I had rather not answer it.

Q Mr. Taylor, you have answered a number of questions down to this point, and it is at this point what you prefer to plead your privileges, as an attorney, do you? A Yes, sir.

Com'r Breckinridge: The matter in regard to these matters is lodged in the United States. The Court is clothed with special power with reference to any cases that arise through this Commission. Of course the Commission does treat the Government right for the sake of a correct roll the fullest information possible, but it is subject to the limitation of law, and it is not for this Commission to decide of the law in the matter of this character with any authority as I understand it at this time, but to report the matter to the United States Court and let the Court pass judgment.

Under section 21 of the Curtis law as it is commonly called Act of June 28 1898, the members of the Commission shall in performing all duties required of them by law, have authority to administer oaths, examine witnesses and send for papers and persons, and the court is clothed with authority to enforce obedience. The law having enumerated certain powers goes on to say so far as all others are concerned to enable said Commission to make rolls as therein required, and to punish anyone who may in any manner or by any means obstruct said work. Now, the Commission will report the facts to the United States Court and let the Court decide whether or not you are within your lawful privilege. It seems that you refuse to answer questions, or at least one question, which tends to establish as to whether or not you are claiming what what is commonly considered a matter of privilege--according to an authority referred to by an attorney, but the enforcement of an answer seems clearly to be a matter for the Court to deal with.

Q Now, Mr. Taylor, in regard to the last question asked you by Mr. Hutchings, one of the Counsel for the Cherokee Nation, I direct that you make answer, and if you refuse I shall report the matter to the United States Court; do you refuse? A Yes, sir.
Q Now, you have read to you, Mr. Taylor, the first of the two questions propounded to you by Mr. Hutchings, and which you declined at the time to make answer; viz: as to whether Mr. Dawson sent you money to pay to the Court or to any officials of the Court, it seems to come to the question as to whether there was any collusion between you and Mr. Dawson and any member of the Court; now, I understand that you refuse to answer that question upon the grounds that you were Mr. Dawson's attorney? A Yes, sir.
Q Now, I require that you answer that question, do you refuse?
A Yes, sir.
Q I shall also report that refusal to the United States Court as it seems to come under the provision of law, relating to conspiracy between you and Mr. Dawson which apparently considered a privilege matter, and you base your refusal now, not upon the ground that you are incriminating yourself, but that you were counsel for Mr. Dawson. I will report the matter to the Court and you will be informed at the time of any proceedings in the matter I caution you not to talk with Mr. Dawson or any of the applicants in this case.

Mr. McKennon: Applicants do not object and have not objected to the witness answering on account of his privilege as an attorney or for any other cause whatever, they only want to object to the incompetence and irrelevancy of the testimony, with the privilege of cross-examining upon any testimony given by the witness.

COM'R BRECKINRIDGE:
Q You still refuse having the consent of the attorneys in the case to make answer? A I will just ask your Honor to let the matter go over until morning.

Commissioner Breckinridge: It will rest until in the morning at its present status: It is after business hours now.
As for the objection made by Captain McKennon, Counsel for the applicant, it will be taken into consideration, but will not be granted at the present.
(The Commission adjourns until 1:00 P. M. to-morrow, March 13, 1900.)

SUPPLEMENTAL TESTIMONY in the matter of the enrollment of FRANCIS M. DAWSON ET AL., as citizens of the Cherokee Nation:

Appearances:
Mr. A. S. McKennon, of Counsel for applicants.
Mr. W. T. Hutchings, of Counsel for Cherokee Nation.

SAMUEL H. BENGE, being duly sworn, testified as follows on part of the Cherokee Nation:
W. T. HUTCHINGS:

Q State your name? A Samuel H. Benge.
Q Where do you reside? A Fort Gibson.
Q How old are you? A I am 70 years old, going in 71.
Q Are you a citizen of the Cherokee Nation? A Yes, sir; Cherokee by blood.
Q State what official position you have held in the Cherokee Nation and what your general connection with the Nation officially in the last 40 years? A Well, I had several; I have been Sheriff, Councilman, Senator, Delegate to Washington; had a hand in making the treaty of 1866, I am the only one living that signed that treaty; President of the National Council of different tribes of Indians.
Q Were you acquainted with F. M. Dawson, commonly called Bud Dawson? A Yes, sir; I knew him.
Q State you connection with and what you know about his citizenship case before what is known as the Thomas Tehee Citizenship Court? A Mr. Dawson came down, I was living down below here, he come and employed me to look to his case and we went to Tahlequah, I believe if I ain't mistaken in 1901 and filed his case there; we went several times and continued his case on for the want of evidence, and finally while we was up there we run across one old darkey by the name of Tosh Rogers; we got his testimony and after we got that testimony we concluded that it was sufficient to go into the trial with. Tosh lived here at Fort Gibson, he was a horse trainer down here and stayed here; he claimed that he knew the Rogers and belonged to one of them and after that we thought we had sufficient evidence we submitted our case to the Court for trial, and the Court went to work and rendered a decision against Mr. Dawson. I told Mr. Dawson right there that "our case is dough", just made that remark, and he just made the remark "never mind", and next morning they taken up his case again and they rendered a decision in his favor. I filed no motion nor any evidence at all whatever; I give the case up right there and the decision was then given in his favor, and on our way back from Tahlequah, why we got to talking about the case and I told him: "it was a pretty hard blow when they rendered that decision against us." He said: "yes, but Duncan was the man to reach", but he reached him with five hundred dollars.
Q What position did Duncan occupy? A He was a Clerk of the Court.
Q Was he an educated man or—? Yes, sir; he was an educated man.
Q Who were the members of the Court? A Tom Tehee, Alex Scales and Tom Thompson.
Q How many of those could speak English at all? A One.
Q Which one? A Thompson.
Q Who was the Attorney that represented the Nation in those cases? A Guy Sanders.

Q What was his given name? A Wilson Sanders; was it Wilson Sanders?
A Wilson Sanders.
Q Was he an educated man, or could speak English well? A No, sir.
Q Did Mr. Dawson say anything about the matters having cost him a good deal of money? A He said it had cost him a right smart.
Q Was any remark made on the way back about the opening up of the case, and if so, what? A He asked me if I thought the case was ever investigated eventially and I told him I didn't know.

MR. McKENNON:

Q Were you ever a witness in the Dawson case, Judge, in any of those investigations that have been made since that time? A I don't know that you might call it a witness; that young man came to me once at Tahlequah, and asked me to help him up there that the case was going against him, him and his mother and all was about knocked out and I interceded and done what I could there before the Committee. I was not a witness but that is all I don't for him.
Q That was Mr. Graham, wasn't it? A Yes, sir.
Q Have you had conversations with Mr. Graham since that time about it? A Well, I might, I don't recollect, I might have had conversations with him.
Q Well, after the Dawes Commission began taking a census of the Cherokees and when they were about Sallisaw down here, did you have a conversation with him here in Fort Gibson about the matter?
A Now, I just can't tell you; I have seen him on several occasions, but the conversations we might have had I can't state.
Q To refresh your memory I will ask you if he did not tell you that they were making a fight on the Dawson family and he wanted to know of you whether that judgment in favor of Robert Dawson's family was fairly wondered, and did you not then tell him that it was all right, that it was fairly obtained? A Not as I recollect of; all he said was that is as I have stated he talked to me in regard to his mother, himself and probably his brothers and sisters, I don't recollect how many there were, but he told me they were rejected, that is just the words he used.
Q When? A It has been sometime ago.
Q Here in Fort Gibson? A Well, that is I saw him here in Fort Gibson, and then I saw him in Tahlequah.
Q Well, did he here in Fort Gibson ask you particularly about the Robert Dawson judgment, as to whether it was fairly obtained or not?
A No, sir; he was basing his claim on the Dawson case, that is the way he-
Q What is the principal Dawson family? A Yes.
Q When was this other written statement here made, When was this made by you? (referring to affidavit heretofore referred to.)
A Yesterday I reckon.
Q Who do you take this? A Mr. Starr.
Q Who else was present when this was taken? A No, sir.
Q How had you told about this matter, Judge? A No one as I know of.
Q Do you know how it was that they knew that you knew him?
A No, sir.
Q You never made any statement? A Never made any statement that I recollect of except I might have talked with Scales, he and him talked about these cases a good many times; if I ever made a statement it was to Joe Ab Scales.
Q Did Mr. Starr know? A I could not tell you that. I do not know.

Q That was his given name? A Wilson Sanders; was it Wilson Sanders?
A Wilson Sanders.
Q Was he an educated man, or could speak English well? A No, sir.
Q Did Mr. Dawson say anything about the matters having cost him a good deal of money? A He said it had cost him a right smart.

A Yesterday I reckon.
Q Who goes to take this? A Mr. Starr.
Q Who else was present when this was taken? A No, sir.
Q Who had you told about this matter, Judge? A No one as I know of.
Q Do you know how it was that they knew that you knew him?
A No, sir.
Q You never made any statement? A Never made any statement that I recollect of except I might have talked with Scales, we talked about, talked about these cases a good many times; if I ever made a statement it was to Joe Ab Scales.
Q How did Mr. Starr know? A I couldn't tell you, no sir.

Q He came alone here as a Notary Public? A He came alone here as a Notary Public. All he said when he come, he says "we understand that you know something in regard to these cases", I said " what case," and he went to work and named Shoemake case and Dawson case.
Q And thereupon you made this statement? A He said he wanted to qualify me.
Q Are you certain Judge that after the rendition of tht judgment Mr. Dawson came back here to Fort Gibson with you?
A Yes, sir; we was together.
Q Let me ask you if it was not a very cold day when he came here and he went over ahead of you and you went over to Tahlequah the next day or two after he left? A My recollection was he and I went together.
Q And returned here together? A Yes, sir.
Q Did he not leave you there and go back direct to Arkansas?
A No, sir, we care here together. If my memory serves me right, I might be mistaken but then I don't believe I am, he came from Webbers Falls up here to my house, that is according to his statement.
Q What amount of fee did they pay you? A I don't know as that is in connection with the case whatever the money they paid me.
Q How didthey pay you? A Paid me the money.
Q Who paid it to you? A Dawson there and that fealow, young fellow paid me some.
Q Mr. Grahar? A Yes.
Q At the same time? A Oh, no, he wanted me to intercede for him at Tahlequah and paid me to do something for him which I did.
Q I will ask you if Mr. F. M. Dawson h re did not obtain two copies of the judgment one of which you sent in a letter in which you wrote to his brother living in Texas and that brother in Texas, the one they called Buck, didn't send you $50 that they paid you? A No, if I ever got a let er of Buck whatever you might call him, I don't recollect it and if I ever got a nickel from him I don't recollect it. Old man paid me what money I got from it. I don't know nothing about his brothers; he told me he had an uncle living over i Arkansas, but not living down in Texas, I don't know about it.
Q Where did he pay you the money? A Paid it here at home.
Q Before you went out? A He paid me fifty dollars before we went up and when we went up yonder he paid me fifty dollars more; if you want to know what I got, I got one hundredn dollars.
Q You were acting as his attorney in the case? A Yes, sir.
Q How many judges were there present when the judgment was rendered? Q In his case?
A Yes, sir. A Well, according to my recollect there was all there, but if they were not all there, Tom Thompson was sick. Tehee and Wolfe.
Q Don't you remember that they were all present? A No, I think they were present though.
Q Who else was present at the time? A Oh, I could not tell you, there were several people in the house; could not tell you at all.
Q Were there several in the house the evening before the judgment was rendered against them as you say? A Yes, there were several in the house.
Q And several in the house when the judgment was rendered the next day? A I don't know how many there was.
Q Do you remember the names of any of them? A Why not exactly, mostly full bloods.
Q How long didyou remain out at Tahlequah on that trip?
A I guess I was there about three days.

Q Tending to this case alone, or did you have other cases? A no, sir.
Q Do you know of your own knowledge that the judges received any money (this question asked at the instance of Mr. Graham present) A I don't know whether the judges received nay or not.

I, J. O. Rosson, do hereby certify upon my official oath as stenographer to the Commission to the Five Civilized Tribes that I correctly recorded the testimony had this day in the above case, and that the foregoing is a true and complete transcript of my stenographic notes thereof.

(Signed) J. O. Rosson.

March 18, 1902. Commission convened pursuant to adjournment.

Appearances:
Mr. A. S. McKennon, of counsel for applicants.
Mr. W. T. Hutchings, of Counsel for Cherokee Nation.

C. H. TAYLOR takes the stand and continues his testimony.
BY MR. HUTCHINGS:

Q Mr. Taylor, you said you would consider the matter yesterday and let us know whether you would answer those questions today: have you decided what you would do about the matter? A Well, it is like this, of course I don't want to be held as in contempt of the Court.
Q You would be held in contempt and the other Court would make you answer? A That being the case of course I would make a statement.
Q Are you acquainted with D. W. C. Duncan, the Clerk of what is known as the Tehee Citizenship Commission Court? A Yes, sir.
Q Did you ever have any conversation with him about letting him know of the different character of cases that would come up before the Court that you knew of, whether they were good ones or bad ones? A No, the only thing that ever come up in that respect; he asked me if whatever large cases that would come up before the Court to let him know.
Q Did you have any talk with him about the Dawson case during the progress of its trial or before and ever introduced Mr. F. M. Dawson to him, or carry him to him? A I spoke to him when Mr. Dawson came to Tahlequah to see about his case, and he said that he would take the papers over to his room, the Dawson papers.
Q Did you see him again that night? A Yes, sir; after supper I went down to his room.
Q Did he ask you about the Dawsons or Dawson case? A He asked me where Dawson was.
Q Which Dawson are you referring to now, F. M. Dawson, known as Bud Dawson? A Bud Dawson.
Q Well, what didyou reply to him? A I told him that I thought he had gone to church.
Q Did you find Dawson after church? A Yes, sir, he told me to come and bring Dawson down and I did so; Dawson was in church.
Q You carried Dawson to him? A Yes, sir.

Q Did you remain during the conversation? A Only a minute.
Q What was said if anything while you were present? A Mr. Duncan spoke to Mr. Dawson and says "there is a hitch in your evidence."
Q Go ahead and state what else he said? A He said "if that was straightened out it would be all right," and I turned and went away, I says, "gentlemen, I will go home."
Q Did you know of their having any other conversation or communication after that? A No, sir.
Q You left them there together yourself? A Yes, sir.
Q Did Mr. Dawson give you any directions the next morning about submitting the case? A Yes, sir, he asked me to call it up the case.
Q The next morning? A Yes, sir.
Q Had there been any additional evidence offered? A No, sir; there was not additional testimony offered.
Q He told you the next morning to call up the case? A Yes, sir.
Q Was it called up and submitted the next morning? A Yes, sir.
Q Now, how many of the members of the Court were there present that morning? A There were only two, two full-blood Indians.
Q Could they speak english at all? A Tehee could talk a little, talk some.
Q Did that Court have open sessions all the time or what is called executive sessions sometimes? A Well, I don't remember about that; it was generally when the case was submitted the attorneys would go out. The parties would go out and they would determine the case.
Q Well, did they go out into that sort of executive session the next morning on the Dawson case? A Well, we went out when the case was submitted.
Q And was the decision rendered that morning in their favor?
A Yes, sir.
Q Who notified you of the decision of the Court? A Why, Mr. Dawson.
Q Do you remember whether he went out with you or was in there during the consideration of the case? A I think he went out with me.
Q Did you at any time thereafter receive any money, checks or other evidence money from Mr. Dawson with direction to turn it in part over to D. W. C. Duncan, the Clerk of that Court? A Mr. Dawson gave me 20 dollars and said he would send the balance in a short time, said he would send some more money in a short time.
Q Well, did he send any money afterwards? A Yes, sir, in the course of ten days or two weeks he send a hundred dollar check, draft.
Q What did he direct you to do with it? A He directed me to give D. W. C. Duncan half of it.
Q Did you give him half of it? A Yes, sir.
Q Did he send you any at any other time after that? A Well, in the course of a couple of weeks he sent me a hundred dollars more.
Q Did he direct you to turn any of that and if so how much, to D. W. C. Duncan? A He told me to give him half of it,
Q Did you give him half of it? A I did, sir.
Q Do you remember whether or Dr. Arthur Baker was the principal witness in behalf of the Dawson case? A No, sir, I don't because I never had any connection with the case, but I heard that he was a witness in the case.
Q No argument was made when you submitted the case? A No, sir.
Q Just submitted it on the testimony? A Yes, sir.

MR. McKENNON:

Q Are you a citizen of the Cherokee Nation? A Yes, sir.
Q Were you born and reared in the Cherokee Nation? A No, sir; I was born in the old Nation.

Q When did you come to the Cherokee Nation? A Come here in 1385.
Q How long have you been practicing law in the Cherokee Nation?
A I think since '88.
Q You have done a great deal of citizenship business haven't you?
A Yes, sir.
Q You were in the United States Court at Fort Smith on charges in regard to the citizenship business? A Yes, sir.
Q Were you convicted there? A Yes, sir; I was convicted there on this very case.
Q And served a term of what length? A I was sent to the jail hospital for sixty days and I stayed in about 38 or 39 days, and I was released.
Q When was that? A I don't remember how long ago it has been.
Q You say it was in regard to this case? A Yes, sir; this case was the bone of contention; Clem Rogers and the Chief, they are the ones that had me arrested, carried to Fort Smith.
Q Well, now, were you charged with an offense against the law in this case, or was it in regard to some other case? A Well, it was in regard to using the mail for fraudulent purposes.
Q Sending out propositions and obtaining case for citizenship for people [illegible] Cherokee Nation? A No, sir, it was for answering correspon[illegible].
Q Not relating to this case at all? A Well, this was the main charge, Clem Rogers went before the Court there and stated that I had got in at least three hundred Dawsons, that they were white people and not entitled to citizenship and that was the main trouble.
Q Well, now, was the charge based upon that or was it based upon your letters you sent out to other people? A That was the charge for using the mail for fraudulent purposes.
Q The use of the mails for fraudulent purposes not in connection of this case was it? A Not particular of this case.
Q Then the trouble you had was the prejudice of Clem Rogers and others caused by your connection with the Dawson case; that is what you mean to say? A Yes, sir.
Q Why did you say because you were charged with an offense based upon this case? A Well, the prejudice grew out of this case.
Q Now, then, you had full conversation with the representatives of the Cherokee Nation as to your testimony in this case, did you not before you came on the stand? A Yes, sir.
Q You had told them of these particulars before you came on the witness stand did you not? A Yes, sir.
Q Yet when you came on the stand you assumed to have conscientious scruples as to answering as to matters which occured between you and your client, Bud Dawson, in relation to this matter and declined to answer claiming your privilege as an attorney did you not? A Yes, sir; I didn't want to make a statement at all in the matter.
Q You had voluntarily made a statement to the representatives of the Cherokee Nation? A Yes, sir; I had stated to Mr. Hastings; he summoned me and I come down here and I didn't want to make a statement to him but he insisted.
Q He had no power to compel you to make a statement? A No, sir.
Q You could then make it very freely and your conscience did not hurt you, but when you came on the stand you were very conscientious about it? A I didn't want to make a statement at all unless I would be put in jail here if I didn't.
Q But you had armed them with information by which they could ask you these questions when you came on the stand? A I had told Mr. Hastings.

Q You knew when you gave him that information that you would be brought on the stand as a witness, did you not, by reason of that?
A No, I didn't know that I would be compelled to make a statement in the matter, a sworn statement.
Q You thought you would not be compelled to answer?
A I didn't think the law would compel me to make a statement.
Q Why then did you make a statement to him about it? A Oh, he was asking me about it, and I told him that I didn't want to make a statement, and I didn't for quite a while after I came down here.
Q When the enrollment division of the Dawes Commission was in Tahlequah, in the winter of 1900, did you not there meet F. M. Dawson and did you not then and there say to him "I told Shoemake I would be for him if he would employ me in his case and if he didn't I would be against him, and the same to you?" A No, sir; I said to him this: I says that if there is not something done that I will likely be summoned against you and Mr. Shoemake both.
Q What did you mean by that? A Well, I just meant this, I just left the matter with him to say what he wanted to do in the matter; I only spoke a word or two about it. I was going out of town just as he came in.
Q When you told him if something was not done you would be summoned as a witness against him; what did you mean by that? A Well, I just meant that the chances were that the Nation would summon me against him.
Q What did you mean by the expression "if there was not something done" that you would be summoned as a witness?
A Well, I meant this, if I was re-employed in the matter if he was to have a case and I was re-employed I would not be required.

Q You could be required to make a statement as to declarations made to you by your client to you in one instance, but if a little more money was put up you could not be required to make a statement; is that what you mean? A I didn't think I could be forced to make a statement at all in the matter.
Q Why did you make that expression to him "if something wasn't done you might be summoned as a witness" if you believed you could not be made to make a statement? A I meant if I was employed in the case.
Q If he would put up you would not testify? A That they could not force me to testify.
Q About the month of February, 1901, in the town of Wagoner, Indian Territory, did you not send your son to get Graham to come to the hotel at night, and did you not then and there say to Gid Graham; "you people are on the doubtful list and if you will give me $500. I will make it all right and see that you are enrolled and if you don't I will see that you don't get on"? A No, sir; I got a letter from Gid Graham in which he asked me to certify that the case was all right and after I met him I told him that I could not do it, that the case was crooked, he then said to me, he says, "I will give you a hundred dollars", he says "will you take a hundred dollars," I said "no, sir." I didn't make any bid, that is I didn't set no price with him.
Q You did not say to him then what I have embraced in that question there? A No, sir.
Q You did have a conversation with him about that time and at that place, did you not? A Yes, sir.
Q You say you didn't make any bid or set any price? A No, sir; he offered me a hundred dollars.
Q Why did you send for him to come to the hotel? A In answer to his letter.

A Did you not on yesterday morning on the street in Muskogee, Indian Territory, in a conversation with W. H. Shoemake say to him: "You have made a great mistake in not keeping in your employment and as we have the Dawsons and it will go hard with you and you will need it"? No, sir; I says to Mr. Shoemake, I says: "Who have you employed in your case," and he says "Judge Thomas and Mr. Owen." I said "It might have been h advantage to you if you had retained me in your matter;" Well, he says "there was nothing wrong in my case" and I says "No, there is nothing wrong on earth in your case that I know of." He said all he wanted was justice and I said "I don't know a thing on earth against you," and I says "there is not a thing on earth wrong in your case as I know it came up fairly and squarely and decided in your favor."

Q You said nothing to him about the Dawson case? A Yes, I said to him "it might have been well if the Dawsons had retained me in their case." I said "I am summoned on the part of the Nation and I don't want to make a statement and I wont if I can possible avoid it."

Q Was that befo e or after you talked with Mr. Hastings, the representative of the Nation? A It was afterwards.

Q You meant by that if you had refused to answer you would have gone to jail? A No, sir; if they had employed me before hand I meant not now.

Q You mean that if they had employed you before hand you would not have given this information to Mr. Hastings? A I would not be required, being the attorney.

Q Were you required to give him the information; did you know that you had to give him any information? A Who do you mean.

Q Mr. Hastings. A I did refuse him and he insisted.

Q Well, he no authority to compel you to do it? A No, sir; I don't know whether he did or not.

Q As a lawyer you know that he did not have authority to compel you to make a statement to him? A I told him tht I was an attorney in the case and I didn't want to make any statement at all.

Q Why did you do it? A Well, he intimated to me it would go any further. He said to me "I will not make this matter — I will not use it;" that is, what I stated to him was part in confidence.

Q And he pledged you his word that it would not be used? A Well, told him I could make a statement in confidence, and that I didn't want to make a statement before the Court.

Q Well, what did he reply, as you s id just now? A Oh, he says to the statement and then I told him—I regretted very much to do it, and I regret very much to make a statement here. I tried to avoid it yesterday.

Q You stated just now th t he said it would not be used; did he say th t or not? A Well, something to that amount; oh, he says it wont make any difference or someth ng to that effect.

Q Now, don't you know that Mr. Hastings did not intimate to you that the statement he was asking you to make would not be used? A Well, I didn't think that I would be forced to make a qualified statement before the C urt here, because I thought my license would protect me in that matter.

Q Yet it did not protect you or prevent you from making a statement to the attorneys for the Nation? A No, sir.

Q Now, in this conversation with Shoemake to which I befo e referred did you not ask him to again employ you and tell him if he would that would make it all right for him? A No, sir; I didn't say that; no, I said if he had employe me in the matter "maybe it would have been better for you." Now, he offered me when I was down here last week, he offere me five dollars to go down and talk with the lawyers on the matter, I didn't go I was busy.

Q That was not your price? A No, no, I had nothing to say in his case that would be to his advantage; I knew nothing against him.
Q Now, then, you say that your were present on the morning that the judgment was rendered in favor of the Dawsons? A I was not in the Court house.
Q You were present in Tahlequah? A Yes, sir.
Q How long had you been at Tahlequah? A I was living there at that time.
Q When were you first employed by them? A By Dawsons?
Q Yes, sir. A The evening before the case was tried.
Q You say that after he judgment was rendered Dawson handed you $20? A Yes, sir.
Q And told you to hand to Duncan? A No, sir.
Q What was your statement? A That he paid me $20 and says "I will send you some more in a short time, week or so.
Q And then he sent you $100? A Yes, sir.
Q And wrote you to give D. W. C. Duncan $50 of it? A Yes, sir.
Q And then sent you another $100 and told you to give him half of it? A Yes, sir.
Q How much did they pay you? A Well, that was the agreement, was that he would pay me $50 a family.
Q How much did he pay you? A I think there was $250; now I am not sure about the $50, but it appears to me like there was a $50 sent, and Mr. Duncan asked me, as well as I remember, says "have you got a letter from Dawson," I told him "yes, sir." It was either that or the $100, and he says "I would like to have some money", and I went to Stapler's and got it changed— I won't be sure about it being $50 or $100—I went to Stapler's and got him to cash the check and give him his part of it.
Q How much did they pay you for your services? A That is all I got.
Q How much? A I think it was $100, $130.
Q What did you do for them? A Didn't do a thing only called up the case and submitted it; never read the evidence.
Q Submitted it without remarks? A Yes, sir.
Q And for that you say they paid you $130? A Yes, sir; $130.
Q Was Houston Benge present when that was one? A No, sir; I don't think he was.
Q Did you see him then at that time in Tahlequah? A I don't remember.
Q Were you associated with him in any manner in connection with the case? A No, sir.
Q You had a great deal of business of that character, have you before the Courts? A Yes, sir.
Q Were you paid like fees in other cases for like services? A Yes, sir.
Q In many of them? A Yes, sir, good many.
Q All like cases? A Oh, citizenship cases.
Q When was it you were in jail at Fort Smith? A I don't remember; Mr. Mellette can remember, he was there, he was my attorney.
Q Was it about 1883? A It was somewhere along there, along in 1890 somewhere.
Q That has been your principal business as a lawyer, has it not? A Yes, sir.
Q You have never practiced much in any other way have you? A Very little.
Q Were you in the habit of working your cases through in the same manner in which you state you worked this through? A No, sir.

Q This was an exception was it? A I never worked this case through. I simply called the case up by request of Mr. Dawson. I read the evidence; don't know what proof there was in it; he just asked me to call the case up.
Q And he agreed to pay you $50 a family for doing that? A Yes, sir.
Q Was that what you required of him? A That is what he agreed to pay. I says "what will you give?" He says "I will give you $50 a family.

MR. HUTCHINGS:

Q At the same time that the attorney for the Nation was talking to you about the Dawson case he also made inquiries about the Shoemake case didn't he? A Yes, sir.
Q And you told him at that time before you knew anything about whether you would be made or compelled to testify that so far as you knew there was nothing you knew detrimental to the Shoemake case? A Yes, sir; that is what I said.
Q You told him at the same time that you not only expected to claim you privilege as an attorney in the case, but that you told him, Mr. Hastings, with the full belief that the Court would sustain your position? A Yes, sir.

Mr. McKennon: That is very leading.

Q Now, did you think that the re-employment, being the attorney in the pending case would strengthen your position or weaken it, when you spoke to Mr. Dawson? A What I thought in the matter was before ever I would be summoned in the matter, a long time ago, that if I had been employed in the matter of course my position would have been such that I would not have been required or could not have been forced.
Q Did you think under those circumstances that Mr. Hastings would approach you about the subject? A No, sir; I don't think I would be forced to, having license to practice law.
Q Did Mr. Hastings tell you at the time that he was going to put you on the stand? A Yes, sir.
Q And let the Court decide? A Yes, sir.

MR. McKENNON:

Q Now, have you a license to practice in the United States Courts? A Yes, sir.
Q In the Territory? A Yes, sir.
Q And also in the Indian Courts? A Yes, sir; do you want to see them?

JAMES W. LEWIS, being duly sworn, testified as follows on part of the Cherokee Nation:

MR. HUTCHINGS:

Q State your name please? A J. W. Lewis.
Q James W. Lewis? A Yes, sir.
Q Where is your postoffice, Mr. Lewis? A Afton.
Q How old are you? A 73 years old.
Q What is your business ? A I work at the tin business and gun work.
Q Do you know one James Dawson, the brother of F. M. Dawson and the other Dawsons? A I know old man James Dawson.
Q That is the one I mean, old man James Dawson? A Yes, sir; I know him.
Q How long have you known him? A Well, some four or five years, I guess.
Q How long? A Four or five years I think.

Q When did you come to the country? A I have been in the country 70 odd years.
Q Well, when did we come to the country, do you know? A Along about somewhere in eighty if I recollect right, might have been later than that.
Q How did you happen to be acquainted with? A He lived right close by me and I built a house for him.
Q Did you have any conversation with him at the time you built that house? A Yes, several different times.
Q About how he became a citizen of the Cherokee Nation, about the circumstances? A Yes, sir.
Q Did he make any statement to you about the use of money in getting his citizenship, and if so, state what he said?
A Well, he told me that it cost him $700 to get his rights.
Q Didn't tell you to whom he paid it? A No, he didn't and I didn't ask any questions.

CR. McKENNON:

Q How old was he at that time, do you know? A I do not know exactly, must have been somewhere near about 70 years old, he might have been older than that, I don't know.
Q He was a very old and feeble man? A Yes, he was old and feeble.
Q He seldom ever got out away from his house? A No, sir, only short distance.
Q When you first knew him he was that kind of man? A Yes, sir.

J. L. CLINKENBEARD, being duly sworn, testified as follows in part of the Cherokee Nation:

LR. HUTCHINGS:

Q State your name? A J. L. Clinkenbeard.
Q What is your post office address? A Vinita.
Q How old are you? A 56.
Q Were you ever an applicant for citizenship before the Tahee citizenship Court in Tahlequah? A Yes, sir.
Q About what time was that? A September '81, I think.
Q Did you meet there about that time, one Elbert or Buck Dawson?
A Yes, sir.
Q How did you happen to meet him? A He and I stopped at the same place, ran'n by the name of Sharrow.
Q You and he stopped there, did you, board there? A Yes, sir.
Q Well, did you have any talk about citizenship cases, yours and his? A
A Yes, sir.
Q Where did he state that he was from? A Texas.
Q Well, state what you can remember of the conversation between you from time to time about citizenship in the Cherokee Nation?
A Well, we were there on the same business and we talked about it at different times, and in talking about the evidence we had there I, of course, told him how many witnesses I had and what I could prove and so on, and he said that he didn't have but one witness, Dr. Boler from Arkansas, and he what was 85 or 90 years old, he said, and he hadn't come and said he was to have met him there, but he hadn't come.
Q Well, what did he say about the doctor's knowing anything?
A Well, he said he was 85 or 90 years old and didn't know straight up.
Q Well, did he say anything about giving him whisky?
A Well, he said he could give him four drinks of Arkansas whiskey and he could swear that black man white.

Q What he said about what money would do in Texas or Indian Territory? A Well, in talking about the evidence, he said that money had a great deal to do here go down in Texas and he said "I come to get the lay of the land" and he says "I found out it goes here," or words to that effect.
Q Did he say what he had to spend on the question? A Well, he said that he could stand a thousand dollars on it and not be hurt very much; finally he said he could stand more than that.
Q What did he tell you what he thought about the necessity of witnesses anyhow? A Well, I don't know as he said as to that, but I understood from what he said that he thought money would beat witnesses.
Q Well, where did he go from there? A He and I left there together; he came to Muskogee by way of Fort Gibson and there we parted.
Q Did you ever see him after that? A I saw him about two years or something like that afterwards.
Q Where? A Vinita.
Q Did you refer to the citizenship matter? A I asked him how he came out and he said all right.
Q Was he deformed in any way this man? A He had a crippled hand or stiff finger; I don't remember just what it was now.

MR. McKENNON:

Q Your first conversation with him was in '01 was it? A Yes, sir.
Q What time in '01? A September.
Q You were then an applicant for citizenship? A Yes, sir.
Q Were you admitted? A No, sir.
Q You are still an applicant? A No, sir.
Q You are still wanting to get in as a citizen of the Cherokee Nation? A No, sir; haven't quit it entirely.
Q What business are you in now? A I am running a dairy in Vinita.
Q When did you make statements now to the representative of the Cherokee Nation? A Well, sir, I haven't; I saw Mr. Hastings I believe here last Saturday the first time.
Q How did they ever know that you had had these conversations with Mr. Dawson? A I don't know.
Q You don't know how they found that out? A No, sir.
Q You say you saw Mr. Hastings here last Saturday? A Yes, sir.
Q How, did you approach him or did he approach you? A He approached me.
Q You know why? A No, sir; I suppose somebody I have told something at some time about this, I don't know when or who. I don't remember of having talked to anyone about it. I have seen Mr. Hastings for years.
Q Now, you say—now was that expression about his giving Dr. Baker three or four drinks of liquor? A He said the old man; he said that Dr. Baker, he was expecting him there and he didn't come, and he said he didn't care where he did or not; he said he was 85 or 90 years old; he said he didn't know straight up; said he could give him three or four drinks of Arkansas whiskey and he would not know black or white.
Q Now, he said that did he? A Yes, sir.
Q You are just as positive of that as you are of any other statement he made are you? A Yes, sir.
Q You say you next saw Dawson at Vinita? A Yes, sir.
Q How long afterwards was that? A About two years, I think something near that.
Q Did he move to the Territory? A Yes, sir he lived at Vinita at one time.

Q You speak about having a dairy business there at Vinita, to what extent? A I am only milking about four cows now, I sent the others to the country.
Q Do you run a dairy wagon there? A No, sir.
Q You serve on the jury a good deal? A I have been serving on the Petit jury there this winter.
Q Generally? No, sir.
Q Are you a kind of a professional juror? A No, sir; I was on the regular petit jury, I was on the regular panel and served.

C. C. BRAUGHT, being duly sworn, testified as follows on part of the Cherokee Nation:

MR. HUTCHINGS:

Q State your name? A C. C. Braught.

A Been living there 19 years.
Q Do you know one Bud Dawson or F. M. Dawson as his name is?
A I do.
Q How long have you known him? A About 13 years.
Q How close do you live from him? A Half a mile of him.
Q Does he still own that place? A I think he does.
Q Were you an applicant for citizenship along about '81 or '2 at Tahlequah? A Yes, sir.
Q Did you have at any time a conversation with Bud Dawson about his and your citizenship cases? A Yes, sir.
Q State what he stated to you of citizenship cases in general and about his own in particular, you can state the time that you had these conversations as near as you can? A Well, I think it was in '83, he told me if I ever got in I would have to put up; he said it cost him $700 to get in; he said he paid one witness three hundred dollars.
Q Did he state the name of that witness? A No, he did not.
Q Who did he say he made arrangements with? A He said he made arrangements with the Court; that is, heads of families to get them in at one hundred dollars apiece.
Q Do you know what time of the year tht was, whether it was in the summer or not? A I think it was in June.
Q Did he make any other statements to you at any other time?
A No, sir, I don't think he was in regards to that matter.
Q You have been living neighbors with him? A Yes, sir.

MR. McKENNON:

Q You say this was about June of '83? A I think it was in June, 1883, I won't be positive whether it was June or not.
Q You were an applicant; were you admitted? A No, sir.
Q Have you been admitted? A No, sir.
Q You are still an applicant? A Yes, sir.
Q Still trying to get in? A Yes, sir.
Q Where was this conversation had? A Had at Bud Dawson's house.
Q What part of the premises? that is, in his residence?
A Yes, sir.
Q In the house? A Yes, sir.
Q Who was present? A There wasn't anybody present; he just built the house and there wasn't anybody there.
Q Was there more than one room? A I won't be positive but I don't think there was but one room, log house.
Q Just one room? A Yes, sir.

Q And in that room he made this statement to you? A Yes, sir.
Q He and you are enemies are you not? A No, I don't think we are enemies.
Q You are not friendly at all? A Friendly part of the time, and part of the time we ain't.
Q Haven't you had considerable trouble about the lands between your farms? A No, sir; we ain't had any trouble.
Q Didn't you have his little boy arrested recently for a difficulty?
A Yes, sir.
Q And you say that you are not on bad terms with him?
A Why we speak, have conversation, have right right along all the time.
Q Is it not a fact now that you and he have been all the while at outs? A No, sir.
Q You don't have any unkind feeling towards him? A No, sir.
Q What were your other remarks? A I said no, sir, I didn't have any unkind feeling towards him.

(It being 5 o'clock, the Commission adjourns until 8:30 o'clock to-morrow morning.)

March 19, 1902.
Commission convened pursuant to adjournment.

Appearances:
Mr. A. S. McKennon, of Counsel for Applicants.
Mr. W. T. Hutchings, of Counsel for Cherokee Nation.

C. G. BRAUGH, re-called, further testified:

MR. McKENNON:

Q Mr. Braught, you were a claimant under the Watts family are you not? A Yes, sir.
(witness excused.)

CHARLES D. KENNEY, being duly sworn, testified as follows on part of the Cherokee Nation:
MR. HUTCHINGS:

Q State your name? A Charles D. Kenney.
Q What is your post office? A Dawson now.
Q Are you a citizen of the Cherokee Nation? A Yes, sir; supposed to be.
Q Recognized as such are you? A Yes, sir.
Q How old are you? A There is no family record, my parents died when I was young, I just guess at my age, I am somewheres between 44 and 45 years old.
Q Were you personally acquainted with one Elbert or Buck Dawson?
A I knew Buck Dawson when I saw him.
Q Did you know him in the state of Texas, if so state what time?
A I knew Buck Dawson, knew him and saw him at different dates in Texas.
Q Well, in the year '81 in Clay County, Texas, did you ever see him?
A It was in '81 or 82, I think I knew him in both years.
Q Did you ever have any conversation with him in the presence of Bill Smith, Miles Pilgrim and Joe Preston about his application for citizenship in the Cherokee Nation? A Mr. Dawson and Pilgrim were talking in regard to grass down there before me one time and it was mentioned, I was going up on the strip and Buck Dawson says "he an Indian" and Jiles said "yes, he is an Indian", and "By God," I believe is the way he spoke, "if I was an Indian I would not be punching cattle, I would have stock eating my grass."

Q What did he say about making application? A He said he was going to the Chickasaw Nation and prove up and get him some grass.
Q Who was that? A Buck Dawson.
Q Well, did anybody suggest about his going to the Cherokee Nation?
A Yes, sir, I told him, I says "Why don't you go to the Cherokee Nation, why don't you go up home" I believe is the way I spoke it, "up amongst God's people;" and he says "are they all white like you?" and Jiles spoke up and says "majority of them."
Q Well, what did he say to Jiles then? A He says "let's go up Jiles', just in a whole crowd of cow punchers, and Mr. Filspin says "Hell, I am going; brother John is getting ready to go now."
Q Well, then what did he say to you? A He says "Who are your best lawyers up there, Kenney," and I told him "Hooley Bell was counted the brainiest man in our country."
Q Well, do you know whether he claimed to have any Indian blood or what he was claiming in that country, whether white man or Indian?
A No, sir, I could not say what he was; he was generally known down there as Buck Dawson, a citizen of the State of Texas, that is all I know of him.

Mr. McKennon: The applicants object to all of the testimony of this witness because it is wholly incompetent and irrelevant.

Mr. McKennon:
Q Were you born and reared in the Cherokee Nation? A I can't tell you where I was born; I was raised here part of the time and in Rusk County, Texas. B. W. Alberty was my guardian.
Q Were you admitted to citizenship by the Council or Court? A I think both of them passed on me; I can't tell you the date.
Q About what time? A It was sometime in '80 though.
Q What tribunal first? A I don't know; I don't know either when I was admitted, I was re-instated at Council.
Q When? A I think it was in '87 or '88.
Q Haven't you been arrested for crime and charged with crime?
A Well, I didn't know that I was on trial; I have been arrested a hundred times I guess from here to the Rio Grande.
Q For what offense? A For gambling, stealing; if I am on trial I have had lots of them, I have been on the road.
MR. HASTINGS, of Counsel for Cherokee Nation:
Q Were you ever convicted? A No, sir.
Mr. McKennon: Applicant makes further objection to the testimony of this witness on account of his criminal character stated by him.

THOMAS B. BABBART, being duly sworn, testified as follows on part of the Cherokee Nation:
MR. HUTCHINGS:

Q State your name, please? A Thomas B. Babbart.
Q What is your post office? A Welvin.
Q What is your age? A 49.
Q Are you a Cherokee by blood? A Yes, sir.

Q Did you know one James Dawson? A Well, yes; I did; I have seen him time or two.
Q Were you in Tahlequah about the time he had an application before the Cherokee or Snake Puppy Citizenship Court? A Yes, sir; I was there about the time the case was settled.
Q Did you know Aaron Butler? A Yes, sir.
Q Who was he? A He was a Cherokee Interpreter for the Court.
Q Do you know James Smith? A Yes, sir.
Q Who was he? A He was the Nation's attorney before the Court.
Q Well, did you about that time have a conversation with either Aaron Butler or Jim Smith in company with Mr. James Dawson? A Yes.
Q State the full particulars of it? A About that time this man Dawson and Butler come to me while they were all together, all three of them, and Butler come and called me off to one side, that was down at a colored church, it was after dark, and they called me off there and this man Dawson borrowed some money from me, he said he had to have it that night, his case was going to be submitted the next morning.
Q Well, did he say anything about whether he could get his case submitted if he had some money? A Well, from the language to me and Butler, he wanted this money; Smith had agreed to submit the case without further evidence in the matter.
Q Well, did you let him have the ten dollars? A Yes, sir.
Q Where did they go then? A They walked off up towards town.
Q Did they go together, those three? A Yes, sir.

MR. McKENNON:

Q Was that James Dawson, the leading applicant in that case?
A Yes, best of my recollection that was.
Q How old a man was he? A I don't know; I could not tell you; he looked, I don't know, he might have been—could not tell you just about how old he was.
Q Well, about how old was he, 35, 30 or 40? A Yes, he was older than that, from my judgment I guess he must have been 45 or 50 years old.
Q Is he living or dead? A I don't know.
Q Where have you been living? A I have been living down here near Tahlequah.
Q What was the man's name, Dawson's name? A Jim Dawson I think.
Q You are certain of that? A Yes, sir; I am pretty certain.
Q They came to you with Smith, the Prosecuting Attorney, and Butler, the Interpreter? A Yes, sir.
Q Dawson took you off to one side? A Butler took me to where Dawson was and introduced me to Dawson and vouched for Dawson being all right for the money.
Q When did you first make a statement of this matter to anybody?
A I guess—I don't remember when.
Q How long have you been in Muskogee this time?
A I have been here since, I was summoned here last Friday.
Q Did you ever make any statement to anybody about this before that time? A Yes, I talked to Butler about it.
Q When? A Oh, about, first I remember it was been about two years ago, and Butler was talking to me about it; it was at my house.
Q Were you born a citizen? A Yes, sir.
Q You weren't admitted to citizenship by the Courts or Council?
A No, sir.
Q You have been living in the Cherokee Nation all your life?
A Well, I was born and raised here; ; I haven't been here all the time; I have been out and in.

Q You have never seen that man Dawson since? A If I have I have never known it, but I seen him the next day.
Q You saw him and took a good look at him, and know about what kind of man he was? A I saw him around there about several times.
Q You think he was about 35 or 40 years old? A That would be my guess at it, my recollection.

Mr. McKennon: Applicants object to the testimony of this witness, all of it, because it is wholly incompetent and irrelevant.

DELIA A. BREWER, being duly sworn, testified as follows on part of the Cherokee Nation:
MR. HUTCHINGS:

Q What was your full maiden name? A Delia A. Vann; well it was really Delilah but I never was called by that name, it was De altogether in my young days.
Q What was your father's name? A His name was Joseph Vann.
Q Was he called by any nicknames and if so how many, and what?
A None but the Cherokees, the full-bloods called him Joe Aney.
Q What does that name mean when you talk English? A Rich Joe.
Q Did any of them call him Big Joe Vann? A I don't know; he was a large man; larger than the other Joe Vann.
Q There was another Joe Vann? A Yes, sir.
Q Did your father have any sisters and brothers? A He had quite a number of sisters.
Q Did he have a half sister? A Had two half brothers.
Q Did he have a half sister? A Had several half sisters.
Q Who did they marry? A Different persons: I know the names of all of them but I have a bad memory, but I know that there was one, a Mrs. Ibbie Wolfe, and Mrs. Lamer, she was first a Mrs. Nicholson and she became a Mrs. Lamer and lived in Alabama and never come to this country, but she has grandchildren in this country.
Q Well, did any of your father's sisters or half sisters ever marry a Rogers? A No, sir.
Q Never had any Rogers kin-folks? A No, sir, I certainly would have heard of them through my family, there was a great many of the kin-folks I never saw, but I heard of them.
Q The Dawson case was talked of here for many years, they claiming kin?
A I never knew until I understood they claimed to be kin to the Vanns, and I flatter myself that my family was prominent enough that they never claimed kin.
Q They never claimed kin at all? A No, sir.
Q Did your father ever had a sister or half sister by the name of Annie, Anna or Alsey? A No, sir.

Mr. McKennon: Applicants object to all the testimony of this witness because it is incompetent and irrelevant.

SAMUEL TOLLIVER DAWSON, being duly sworn, testified as follows on part of the Cherokee Nation:
MR. HUTCHINGS:

Q State your name? A Samuel Tolliver Dawson.

Q What relationare you to the Dawsons? A Well, I am not acquainted with none of these Dawsons, I guess I am cousin, that is what he told me.
Q Who was your father? A Samuel Riley Dawson.
Q What did you say your father's name was? A Mile Dawson.
Q Do you know what his full name was? A Samuel Riley Dawson.
Q What children had your father? A Why, he has got, you mean his first children or his whole family?
Q I want all of his children? A I don't know, I will have to count a while on them, there was nine or ten of them.
Q Just one or two of them I care for: is Mrs. Lewis your sister?
A Yes, sir.
Q Your full sister? A Yes, sir.
Q Was she a daughter of S. R. Dawson, Jr.? A Yes, sir.
Q Now who were the parents of your father, , Samuel Dawson?
A Why Sam Dawson was his father.
Q Sam Dawson was his father? A Yes, sir.
Q What was Sam Dawson's wife, if you know their family history, what your father said or what your grandfather said? A I have heard that she was a Pruitt, my father said; of course I don't know.
Q What was her given name? A Annie.
Q Did you ever see your grandfather, Samuel Dawson? A Yes, sir.
Q Saw him? A Yes, sir.
Q Do you know about how old he was when he died? A He was somewhere up about 90.
Q About how old were you when your grandfather died? A I don't remember exactly how old I was, I must have been somewhere near 12 years old when my grandfather died.
Q Was your father his youngest child? A Yes, sir.
Q Do you know about when your father was born? A Well, no, I don't, he died in '90 and he was 67 years old.
Q He died in about '90 and was about 67 years old when he died?
A Yes, sir.
Q And he was the youngest child? A Yes, sir.
Q Now, do you know how many children your grandfather had , that is brothers and sisters of your father? A I heard him say seven.
Q Well, did you ever hear your father or grandfather speak of whether or not your grandmother was a white woman or an Indian?
A Well, I heard my father speak about it, I don't know that I ever heard my grandmother say anything about it.
Q Well, what did he say about it? A I have heard him say his mother was not an Indian.
Q Did your fathercome here and apply once for citizenship?
A Yes, sir.
Q Was he admitted? A I think not.
Q Did you hear him make any statements about he ground he expected to get in? A He said his brothers had proved their rights here and if his brothers had any rights he did, but I don't know.
Q Well, in that connection did he say whether his mother was an Indian or white woman? A Never heard him say that his mother was a white woman in speaking about that, I don't know whether he said anything about that or not; I have heard him say his mother wasn't no Indian.

Mr. McKennon: Applicants object to the testimony of this witness because it is wholly irrelevant and incompetent.

BY MR. HUTCHINGS:

Q State your name? A Emma Brashiers.
Q What was your maiden name? A Emma Dawson.
Q What was your father's name? A Samuel Riley Dawson.
Q What was his father's name? A Samuel.
Q What was your grandmother's name? So far as you know from family history? A Her maiden name was Annie Truett.
Q Then your father, if I understand you, was the son of Samuel Dawson and Annie Dawson, nee Truett? A Yes, sir.
Q Did your father have a brother named Robert, and a brother named James? A Yes, sir! that is what I was told.
Q And had a sister named Mrs. Petty? A Yes, sir.
Q And another one named Mrs. McGee? A Yes, sir.
Q And another brother named John? A Yes, sir.
Q What relation are you to Mrs. A. S. Lewis? A Sister.
Q Did you ever see your grandfather, Samuel Dawson? A Yes, sir.
Q You have a distinct recollection of him? A I, yes, I can remember him, but I was small.
Q About how old were you you suppose when your grandfather died? A About 6.
Q Was your father's birth recorded in the family Bible? A Yes, sir.
Q You know whether your grandfather's record of marriages and births were recorded in any Bible or not? A I was, but we haven't it.
Q What became of it? A Got burned.
Q Well, about what year do you reckon that your father, Samuel Dawson was born? A I believe it was '25.
Q In 1825? A Yes, sir.
Q And how old was he when he died, if you recollect? A He was between 64 and 67.
Q Did you ever hear your father speak of his relations, his father and mother, as to whether they were white people or Indians? A Yes, sir, they were white people.

Q. You know whether in the family you grandmother was spoken of by the name of Annie, always? A Yes, sir.

BY MR. McKENNON: Applicants object to the testimony of this witness because it is wholly irrelevant and incompetent.

ALEX S. LEWIS, being first duly sworn and being examined, testified as follows:

BY MR. HUTCHINGS:

Q State your name? A Alex S. Lewis.
Q What is your post-office? A Dawson, Indian Territory.
Q How old are? A 59 years.
Q What was your wife's maiden name? A Elizabeth Perales Dawson.
Q Who was your wife's father and mother? A Her father was Samuel R. Dawson and her mother was the wife of Samuel R. Dawson, did you want her maiden name?
Q Well, if you know the maiden name of your wife's mother, state how you know it? A Well she was called Margarett, Margarett Queen was her maiden name.
Q The maiden name not of your wife's father's mother? A Why the maiden name of my wife's father's mother?
Q Yes, sir? A From what her husband and my father-in-law told me it was Annie Pruett.
Q What was the name of your wife's father's father? A My wife's grandfather on her father's side, Samuel Dawson.
Q And his wife's maiden name was Annie Pruett? A Yes, sir.
Q Did you know the old gentleman, Samuel Dawson, you wife's grandfather? A Yes, sir.
Q Personally? A Yes, sir.
Q What opportunities had you to get acquainted with him? A He lived with his youngest son, my father-in-law, and visited me, my wife and I, after we were married, stayed with us quite a while; I lived near my father-in-law and so visited very often.
Q When did he die? A '74.
Q Have you any particular method of recalling that date? A Well, I was away from the house when he was taken sick, and they sent for my wife and myself, and so when I got home my wife had gone to her father's to see her grandfather, he was sick, and I remember my first wife was a baby at that time.
Q And when was your first child born? A He was born December, '73.
Q You know how old you wife's father was when he died? A Why he was up in 60, but I don't remember his age.
Q Did the old original Samuel Dawson ever tell you his age? A Yes, sir, several times.
Q How old was he at the time of his death? A He was past 84.
Q Did he ever tell you whether or not his wife Annie Pruett had any sister or brother? A Told me she only had one brother named Bob Pruett.
Q Have any of the members of the family named their children after him? A Make it a little plain, it is a little long: my wife's oldest brother was a particular favorite of his grandfather, and he always took this boy with him everywhere, and he has named one of his,- oldest child for this brother-in-law who was a particular favorite of his grandfather; named it for him I understood.
Q Now, what is his name? A Of course I don't know why he named it, but he gave him the name of Robert Pruett, and I understand it was on account of his grandfather thinking so much of Robert Pruett.
Q Did you ever hear the old Samuel Dawson speak of his brother-in-law? A Yes, sir; I have heard him say but he claimed he knew what had become of Bob Pruett, he never had heard of him for a long time; didn't know where he was, or whether he was alive or not.

Q Now, I want the children of Samuel Dawson and Annie Pruett, how many of them did you know, first? A How many did I know personally?
Q Yes, sir? A John James, and Samuel R. Those were the only ones of his children that I remember personally.
Q Well, remember what you know of the family, who other children did he have? A Well he had two girls, as I understand the family history, he had two girls, first, and John Dawson was the third child, and the oldest boy was John Dawson.
Q Was John Dawson the oldest boy? A Yes, sir.
Q Which was the eldest girl? What is she known by now? A I think it was Mrs. Petty, nee Bettie Dawson.
Q And John Dawson was the oldest boy? A Yes, sir.
Q And Samuel R. Dawson was the youngest boy? A Yes, sir.
Q You know anything about the time John Dawson was born, have you any way of coming at it, the oldest boy? A Yes, sir, I know what the oldest son and his wife told me.
Q What was that? A They said he was born in 1811.
Q Who was his oldest son? A Toliver H. Dawson; told me his father was born in 1811.
Q Do you remember now whether the old man had occasion to say whether his wife, Annie Pruett was an Indian or white woman, or ever said anything about it? A I know what the old man said what she was, I don't know that I ever heard the question approached in that way, I have heard him speak as to her blood, but it was in a different way that he reached it.
Q What blood did he say she was? A Well he said that she was the daughter of Mrs. Pruett, a white woman; and that her father was Captain John Rogers, a white man who lived with the Cherokee Indians, and traded with them.
Q Did he say who Captain John Rogers afterwards married? A Said he had a wife in the Cherokee Nation.
Q But that Annie Pruett was not her child? A No, sir, she was the child of Mrs. Pruett.
Q A white woman? A Yes, sir, that was the half sister of Bob Pruett.

BY MR. McKENNON:

Applicants object to all of the testimony of this witness, because it is wholly incompetent and irrelevant.

Q Did ever you apply for citizenship here? A Yes, sir; for my wife.
Q When? A My father-in-law made the application, I don't know exactly when it was, I think probably about '86, I couldn't say as to the date.
Q Before the Cherokee authorities? A Yes, sir.
Q Did he file an application before the Dawes Commission in 1896 also? A Him.
Q Yes, sir? A I don't think he did, no sir.
Q Did you? A I did.
Q On account of your wife? A Yes, sir.
Q Did you make affidavit to that application? A No, sir.
Q Who did? A I don't know, don't remember now.
Q You applied for your wife as an Indian by blood did you not? A Yes, sir.
Q Are you still an applicant? A No, sir.
Q Is she? A No, sir.
Q She was denied was she? A Yes, sir.
Q Was there an appeal taken from that? A Application was filed if I remember, before the Dawes Commission, and they rejected the case, and then I appealed it to the District Court, and it was rejected there and then I stopped.

Q Have you ever been arrested for any crime? A Yes, sir.
Q What? A Charge of murder.
Q Anything else? A No, sir.
Q Convicted on the train? A Yes, sir.
Q In a train robbery? A Yes, sir, in a train robbery.
Q How long did you remain in jail? A Appealed the case to the Supreme Court, and it was reversed and sent back, and I was acquitted on that charge.
Q That all the crime you were ever charged with? A Yes, sir.
Q Haven't you been having some trouble with the Dawson family? A Well as personally I have no trouble with any of them, there is one of my boys and one of W. A. Dawson's sons-in-law had some trouble.
Q You are not friendly with the Dawson family? A That son-in-law Mr. Wooley, and myself, don't speak, and I don't think his wife speaks to me either.
Q Well you are claiming some sort of lease on the Wooley farm, aren't you? A No, sir, I don't claim any lease on the Wooley farm.

B. W. ALBERTY, being first duly sworn, and being examined, testified as follows:
BY MR. HUTCHINGS:
Q State your name? A B. W. Alberty.
Q What is your post-office? A Tahlequah.
Q What is your present official position in the Cherokee Nation? A Assistant Executive Secretary of the Cherokee Nation.
Q As such have you charge of the citizenship records and books etc. of the Nation? A Yes, sir.
Q Have you made search recently for the original records in the various cases of the Dawson family before citizenship courts in Council? A Yes, sir.
Q Have you got what records you found with you? A I find what's supposed to be the original papers in the case, all that I could find. (Produces papers and hands to Nation's attorney.)
Q Where did you find these papers? A I found them in the desk in which papers of that character are filed away in the Executive Office at Tahlequah. (Applicant's attorneys examine papers produced by witness.)

Testimony for Claimants.

Witness:

Dr. Baker sworn testified as follows. My name is Arthur Baker I reside at Berrivill, Arkansas, Carroll County, my age is 73 years, I am not a Cherokee, I lived in the Cherokee Nation about three years when I first came to Arkansas I have been acquainted with him since he became a citizen of Carroll County more thirty five years (line drawn through the last three words.) 35 years at my mother's house near Calhoun I became acquainted with the claimants Robt Dawsons grandmother on mother's side, she was frequently at my mother's house; though she Anna Pruit lived in the Nation side. She claimed to be a half sister to Big Joe Vann, also claimed to be half Cherokee; the first time she brought the claimant's mother to my mother's house she the claimant's mother was about grown, when I was a little boy she called her daughter Polly Rogers said Capt. John Rogers who ran a boat up the river was the father of the child; I saw the girl frequently there at my mother's and there at Louis Rosses Store I saw her occasionally until I was 15 or 16 years old and I think then Old Capt John Rogers took her off to school. I saw her no more from the time Old Capt. John Rogers took her off till I saw her here in Arkansas the wife of Old Samuel Dawson. I stayed all night there and she and I had a talk over our old matters, and I asked her when she became acquainted with Dawson and she said at the time she was going to school. And she said after she left school that Dawson followed her home to the Nation and they were there married. I have told that precisely in the words she used.

Capt John Rogers claimed to be one fourth Cherokee, the claimant is the son of Polly Rogers and I know Polly Rogers to be the daughter of Anna Pruet, and I know the claimant to be the son of Polly Dawson Capt Rogers then resided in the Cherokee Country about twelve miles from Calhoun on the Hiawassa River.

Anna Pruet resided in the Cherokee Nation as long as I stayed there the Dawsons when I got acquainted with them Arkansas were recognized where they were as Cherokees, Robt Dawsons children is Buck, John, Marion, and two girls; the children named in the petition I recognize as being the claimants.

Cross examined by Solicitor:

Ques. 1 How many children did Polly Rogers have?

Ans. 1 Five, I think that's all

Ques. 2 Did you say something about someone being married twice?

Ans. 2 The claimant was married twice.

Ques. 3 Could Anna Pruet speak English?

Ans. 3 She could speak it well

Ques. 4 Did Polly Rogers speak English?

Ans. 4 She could when she was young.

Ques. 5 How old was the claimant?

Ans. 5 About 3/4

Ques. 6 Was he a citizen of the Cherokee Nation?

Ans. 6 He was both by birth and by the last payment in the Eastern part of the State.

Ques. 7 Which Harnage was it went to Texas?
Ans. 7 George went first then John went they were the sons of old man Harnage that lived up here near the line.
Ques. 8 Did the claimant go to Texas?
Ans.8 No the clairant didn't go to Texas.
Ques. 9 What connection was claimant and Polly Rogers?
Ans. 9 The claimant is the son of Polly Rogers Marion here is the grandson of Polly Rogers.
Ques. 10 Where does claimant now live?
Ans. 10 He lives in Carroll County, Arkansas.
Ques. 11 Do you know what relation old Captain John Rogers was to Charlotte Rogers here in Coowescoowee?
Ans. 11 They claimed kin but what kin I dont know there were two Capt. John Rogers' in the Nation I am speaking of the time when I first came to this 1830 Country about the year 1830.
Ques. 12 Was Anna Fruet the maiden name of Claimant's grandmother
Ans. 12 Yes that was her maiden name the Indians called her Sinee.

Joseph Dawson introduced for Claimants, sworn in open Court testified as follows:

Jos. Dawson, am a Cherokee live in the Cherokee Nation, am 71 years old.

Lulu Dauthett and Dallas Dauthett, the Claimants are Cherokees. Fannie Dawson was their mother. Fannie Dawson was a Cherokee, that is what I was always told. Her father was E. Dawson. E. Dawson was my brother. Mrs. Dauthett is not living now: the last time I saw Lula, and Dallas Dauthett, they were in Texas. But I have heard since that they are in the Cherokee Nation. E. Dawson recognizes them as his grandchildren and I have known them ever since they were born.

By Solicitor:

Lula is about 10 years old. The Dallas is about 5 or 6 years old. I heard that their father is now at Vinita Cherokee Nation, E. Dawson is Elbert Dawson. The applicants' mother has been dead about three or four years. She died at Hillsboro, Texas.

I was not present when their mother and E. Dawson had eight children to the best of my recollection, or 9. Fannie, Francis, Cartenas, Janie, Bob, Smith, Norsh, Bert, Ella. All living but two, Fannie and Smith. They are all living in Texas when I left there. I am a brother to F. M. Dawson, we are full brothers. My father has been admitted to Cherokee Citizenship by this Court.

"Now this day comes the above case for final hearing, Samuel R. Dawson, bases his application for readmission to citizenship in the Cherokee Nation upon the ground that he is the son of Samuel Dawson a white man, Polly Rogers the alleged daughter of Captain John Rogers and Chilsey Pruitt, said to be a half sister of Joseph Vann, commonly known as Rich and who were of Cherokee blood. It is admitted that John Rogers and Chilsey Pruitt died before the roll upon which their names would appear if living at the time and specified in the 7th section of the Act of December 8th, 1866, creating the Commission on Citizenship, were made but in support of the application it is urged that certain members of the Dawson family and full brothers of the applicant were re-admitted to citizenship by the Commission on Citizenship commonly known as

"The Tehee Court", and the "Spears Court", and are now residing as citizens in the Cherokee Nation. In the opinion of this Commission the sufficiency of the considerations which determined the decision of those Commissions of the testimony now introduced to authorize the admission of the present applicant is not relivent to the issue now pending. The 7th section of the Act of December 8th, 1886, before named provides, that "The Commission shall give a hearing to any person applying for citizenship in the Cherokee Nation upon the ground of Cherokee blood or descent, but such applicant must be a person, or the lineal descendant of a person whose name appears upon the census rolls of Cherokees taken by the United States." As are hereafter enumerated. Neither the name of the applicant nor that of the person of whom he claims to be a lineal descendant appearing upon either of said rolls the Commission adjudge and decree that Samuel R. Dawson and family are not entitled to re-admission to citizenship in the Cherokee Nation as Cherokees by blood. This opinion includes the cases of Andrew J. Dawson, James K. P. Dawson, Jounnah Barber nee Jounnah Dawson and Jane Queen, nee Jane Dawson, and their families, as enumerated in their respective applications.

for citizenship in the Cherokee Nation.

Your respondent, S. H. Mayes, Principal Chief of the Cherokee Nation, comes now and demurs the said application, and for the grounds thereof says:

1st. That this Commission has not jurisdiction over the parties or subject matter of this controversy.

2nd. That the application does not state facts sufficient if true, to show that the applicant . . . entitled to citizenship.

Respondent not waiving his aforesaid demurrer, but insisting upon the same for answer to said application, says that John Rogers through whom the petitioner claims to derive right to citizenship in the Cherokee Nation, is not now, - . . and has not been a citizen of the Cherokee Nation, since the removal of said Nation, west to the Indian Territory, as at present located and defined; that his name does not appear on any of the authenticated rolls of said nation; that neither nor any of his ancestors now reside, or ever have resided in the Cherokee Nation and Indian Territory, as citizens thereof.

See case Nation's No. 1573.

Having fully answered, your respondent asks to be hence dismissed.

Now this day comes the above case for final hearing, Samuel R. Dawson bases his application for re-admission to Citizenship in the Cherokee Nation upon the ground that he is the son of Samuel Dawson, a White man, Polly Rogers, the alleged daughter of Captain John Rogers, and Chilsey Pruett said to be half sister of Joseph Vann personal known as Rich and who were of Cherokee blood. It is admitted that John Rogers ...

Chilsey Pruett died before the roll upon which their names would appear as living at the time, and specified in the 7th Section of the Act of December 6th, 1886, creating the Commission on Citizenship were made, but in support of the application it is urged that certain members of the Dawson family the full brothers of the applicant were admitted to citizenship by the Commission on Citizenship commonly known as the "Tokee Court" and "Spears Court" and are now residing as citizens in the Cherokee Nation. In the opinion of this Commission the sufficiency of the considerat ons which determined the decisions of those Commissions or the testimony now introduced to authorize the admission of the present applicant is not relevant to the issue now pending. The 7th Section of the Act of December 6th, 1886, before named provides that the Commission hearing to any person applying for citizenship in the Cherokee Nation upon the grounds of Cherokee blood or descent, but such applicant must be a person, or the lineal descendant of a person whose name appears upon the census roll of Cherokees taken by the United States, hereafter enumerated, neither the name of the applicant nor that of the person of whom he claims to be a lineal descendant appearing upon either of said rolls, the Commission adjudge and decree that Samuel R. Dawson and family are not entitled to re-admission of citizenship in the Cherokee Nation as Cherokees by blood. This opinion includes the case of Andrew J. Dawson, James K. P. Dawson, Joannah Barber, nee Joannah Dawson, and Jane Queen, nee Jane Dawson and their families as enumerated in their respective applications.

Before the Honorable Henry L. Dawes, Frank C. Armstrong, A. S. McKennon, T. B. - (name torn off) A. B. Montgomery, Commissioners.

In the matter of the application of Nation's No.1573 Jonnah Barber Commission's No... et al-
for citizenship in the Cherokee Nation.

Your respondent, S. H. Mayes, Principal Chief of the Cherokee Nation, comes now and demurs the said application, and for the grounds thereof says:

1st. That the Commission has not jurisdiction over the parties or subject matter of this controversy, and not legal right, therefore, to hear and determine the same.

2nd. That the application does not state facts sufficient, if true, to show that the applicants are entitled to citizenship.

Respondent not waiving the aforesaid demurrer, but insisting upon the same for answer to said application, says that the John Rogers through whom the petitioners claim to derive their right to citizenship in the Cherokee Nation, do not now, and has not been a citizen of the Cherokee Nation, since the removal of said Nation, west to the Indian Territory as it presently located and defined; that his home does not appear upon any of the unmutilated rolls of said Nation; that neither they nor any of their ancestors now resident or ever have resided in the Cherokee Nation and Indian Territory, as alleged in the petition.

Having fully answered, your respondent asks to be hence dismissed.

S. H. Mayes, Principal Chief Cherokee Nation.

John L. Adair, Executive Secretary, Cherokee Nation, having been first duly sworn, states that the matters contained in the foregoing answer are true, to the best of his knowledge and belief.

'S

CHEROKEE NATION, APPELLEE.

PETITION FOR APPEAL FROM THE DECISION OF THE COMMISSION TO THE FIVE CIVILIZED TRIBES.

Come now the appellants in the above entitled cause and petition the Court to grant an appeal in said cause from a decision of the Commission, known as the Dawes Commission, created and empowered to treat with the Five Civilized Tribes of Indians, to-wit: the Cherokee, Creek, Choctaw, Chickasaw, and Seminole Indians, and to pass upon and decide applications for citizenship in the said Five Civilized Tribes, which decision by said Commission was rendered by authority of, but not in accordance with, an Act of Congress passed and approved June 10th, 1896, and by which decision on the 29 day of October, 1896 the aforesaid appellants were denied their rights to citizenship in the Cherokee Nation, Indian Territory.

The facts relied upon by the appellants to establish their rights to citizenship in the Cherokee Nation, as aforesaid are as follows: to-wit: The affidavits of E. Dawson, S. P. Dawson T. A. Dawson, F. M. Dawson.

Said affidavits fully and conclusively establishing the fact that said applicants are Cherokee Indians, by blood and descent, and entitled to rights of citizenship in the Cherokee Nation.

Said affidavits, together with the application of said appellants, were, prior to September the 10th, 1896, filed with and submitted the said Commission for its investigation, consideration and decision.

That a certified copy of said application, together with the accompanying Affidavits, were served upon the Chief, or Attorney General, of said Cherokee Nation, prior to September the 10th, 1896.

The errors of the Commission in rejecting the claims for citizenship of said appellants are the grounds for appeal to this Court, to-wit:

FIRST. The Commission erred in rendering its decision on said claims adversely to the appellants and against the proof submitted by said appellants.

SECOND. The Commission erred in investigating the claims of appellants and denying same in the absence of a majority of the members of the Commission.

THIRD. The Commission erred in refusing the appellants the right and privilege of examining the proof submitted by appellee in support of the answers filed by the appellee and denying the appellants the right of filing replication to appellee's answer or producing proof in rebuttal of the same.

FOURTH. The Commission erred in denying the appellants the right of a trial of their claims by a competent jury, as granted to them by the laws and constitution of the United States.

FIFTH. The Commission erred in denying appellants the right to be present in person, or by attorney, during the trial and determination of their claims before said Commission.

SIXTH. The Commission erred in refusing to issue process for witnesses and to send for persons and papers when requested to do so by the appellants.

SEVENTH. The Commission erred in deciding against the right of these appellants to be enrolled as citizens of the Cherokee Nation.

EIGHTH. The Commission erred in deciding against blood, holding that blood was not a test of the right of citizenship in said Cherokee Nation.

NINTH. The Commission erred in deciding against the question of residence, holding that residence in the Cherokee Nation was not a test of the right of citizenship in the said Cherokee Nation.

TENTH. The Commission erred in not entering upon their docket or record the grounds upon which the claims of appellants were denied and refusing to notify appellants the grounds of denial or rejection.

ELEVENTH. The Commission erred in examining the claims and proof of appellants and denying the same while the Commission was not clothed with any legal authority, nor had jurisdiction, to render decision on said claims nor deny the same.

TWELFTH. That the act of Congress approved June the 10th, 1906, was unconstitutional and had no power or legal right to confer jurisdiction on said Commission to try and determine the rights to citizenship of said appellants, and said Commission erred in determining the rights and denying the same to said appellants.

THIRTEENTH. That Congress had no power by an act to create, appoint and empower a judiciary, and said Commission erred in denying the claims of said appellants without any legal authority to do so.

Therefore, the appellants of this cause pray that an appeal be granted to this Court and that a trial, de novo, be granted the appellants, and that said appellants be permitted to introduce new testimony, and that an order be made requiring said Commission to send all pleadings, papers and records filed before it in the cause to said Court, and that the Cherokee Nation, the appellee in the cause, be cited to appear at this Court and plead and defend against the appeal to show why the appellants should not by the rules, orders and decisions of this Court be adjudged entitled to citizenship in the said Cherokee Nation, and the appellants will ever pary.

"Joanna Barber et al.
vs. No.90.
Cherokee Nation,

Mr. H. A. Gibson, Special Master, to whom this case was referred, submit the following report:

'IN THE UNITED STATES COURT IN THE INDIAN TERRITORY,
NORTHERN DISTRICT, AT MUSKOGEE.

JOANNA BARBER ET AL)
-VS)- : REPORT OF SPECIAL MASTER.
THE CHEROKEE NATION.)

----------ooo----------

I, H. A. Gibson, Special Master herein, show to the Court that under the general order herein, I have examined the proof and pleadings herein, which is hereto attached and made a part hereof, and that I find as follows:

I

That this cause was instituted on September 5th, 1906, before the Dawes Commission to the Five Civilized Tribes, by Joanna Barber, and Isaac J. Barber, her husband, and their children, Onie E., William H., James E., Johnnie and Joel A. Barber. That Joel A. Barber has the following children, Hattie Toliver, George A., Frankie C., Jesse and Ethel Barber. That the application includes also Mary A. Boyer and her child Inez Boyer, Emma L. Murphy and her child Claud Murphy, Effie Moore and her children Anna J., Jackson D., Mary M. Gladys, Attie L. Hunt and her child Dorman Hunt, Albey J. Smart and her children Georgia A. and Emzey M. Smart, Jennie J. Garlinghouse and her children Myrtle C., Cora L. and Bertha M. Garlinghouse. That this application was by the Commission tried and rejected on October 20th, 1906, with no reasons given for the decision, and that subsequently on December 27, 1906, the claimants appealed to this Court. That they and all live in the Cherokee Nation, Indian Territory.

II

That the parties claim the right to be admitted to citizenship in the Cherokee Nation by reason of their descent from Polly Rogers, who is claimed to be a Cherokee Indian by blood. That there is filed in support of their application the affidavits of S. P. Dawson, E. Dawson, Francis M. Dawson, and W. A. Dawson, who testify that Joanna Barber is the daughter of Elizabeth Perry, nee Dawson, and the granddaughter of Polly Rogers, who married a white man by the name of Israel Dawson, and that Polly Rogers was the daughter of Captain John Rogers and Nancy Vann. That these witnesses are all Cherokee citizens by blood, and that the said claimants, and according to their testimony, related to them by blood.

The apple introduces to contravert this testimony the decision of the Cherokee Commission on Citizenship, rendered in the year 1907, in which these claimants were rejected by this Commission and also the affidavits of E. D. Rogers a grandson of Captain John Rogers, and Mrs. Sarah Carter, a granddaughter of Captain John Rogers, both of whom state that they never heard of any daughter of said Captain John Rogers by the name of Polly Rogers, and that Cynthia Rogers was his only daughter.

III

The claimants contend that they are residents of the Cherokee Nation, are relatives of the Dawson family, who are recognized citizens of the Cherokee Nation by blood, are entitled to be admitted in the Cherokee Nation as citizens by blood, while the appellee contends that John Rogers, through whom the petitioners claim, is but now and has not been a citizen of the Cherokee Nation since the removal West; that his name does not appear on the rolls of the Cherokee Nation, and that he nor his ancestors ever resided in the Cherokee Nation as citizens thereof.

The premises considered, in view of the unsettled condition of affairs in the Cherokee Nation at the time when Captain John Rogers, the ancestors through whom these claimants trace their Cherokee blood, lived, and especially in view of the absence of a marriage law and of records pertaining to marriage, I am of the opinion that these claimants have proved that they are descended from Capt. John Rogers, who resided in the Cherokee Nation, and was a recognized citizen, though they do not show that he was ever enrolled as such, and I therefore find that the claimants are all residents of the Cherokee Nation, Indian Territory, and that they are all Cherokee Indians by blood. That they have resided in the Cherokee Nation since 1907, and probably longer, though the proof does not state definitely how long they have so resided.

I ask that the Court allow me a reasonable fee for my services herein as special master.

Respectfully submitted this 10 day of August, 1907,

(signed) H. A. Gibson,
SPECIAL MASTER.

Fee paid.
No Exceptions filed.

IN THE COURT,

From this report it appears that the claimants base their rights to be enrolled as citizens of the Cherokee Nation upon the grounds that they are the descendants of a Cherokee Indian by blood, but their ancestors through whom they claim have never resided in the Cherokee Nation as now constituted. It appears that they have resided in the Cherokee Nation since 1907, and probably longer, though the proof does not state definitely how long they have so resided. It does not appear that the applicants or any of their ancestors have ever been recognized as members of the Cherokee Nation.

The judgment of the United States Commission rejecting this case is affirmed, and the application of the claimants to be enrolled as citizens of the Cherokee Nation is denied."

BY MR. HUTCHINGS:

We now introduce the original record in the citizenship case of Irene J. House, et al., before the Commission in 1896, the court number of same being 238. said case being denied by the Commission; appealed to the United States Court, and the decision of the Commission affirmed.

In this case I desire to call especial attention to the certified copy filed therein of the testimony of Arthur Baker, the certified copy having been made in 1894, being the testimony of Dr. Baker in the case of Robert Dawson against the Nation, number 108, before the Citizenship Commission, and which was made January 10, 1894.

BY MR. McKENNON: To all of which the applicants object, because the same is immaterial, irrelevant and incompetent.

The papers in Court No. 838, just introduced above, are as follows:

"Office of Commission on Citizenship,
Cherokee Nation, Tahlequah, January 19, 1882.

No. 108.
Robert Dawson et al) Exhibit C. vs (
Cherokee Nation.)

Testimony for Claimants.

Witness, Dr. Arthur Baker sworn testifies as follows:

My name is Arthur A. Baker I reside at Berryvill Arkansas Carroll County my age is 73 years I am not a Cherokee. I lived in the Cherokee Nation about three years when I first came to Arkansas I have been acquainted with him since he became a citizen of Carrolls County some 35 years - At my Mothers house near Calhoun I became acquainted with the claimants Robt Dawson grandmother on mother's side she was frequently at my mothers house though she Anna Pruet lived in the Nation side; She claimed to be a half sister to Big Joe Vann, also claimed to be half Cherokee, the first time she brought the claimants mother to my mothers house she the mothers mother was about grown when I was a little boy. She called her daughter Polly Rogers, Said Captain John Rogers who ran a boat up the River was the father of the child; I saw the girl frequently there at my mothers and there at Louis Ranses Store.

I saw her occasionally until I was 15 or 16 years of old and I think then Old Capt. John Rogers took her off to school, I saw her no more from the time Old Capt. John Rogers took her off till I saw her here in Arkansas the wife of old Samuel Dawson, I stayed all night there and so and I had a talk over our old matters and I asked her where she became acquainted with Dawson and she said at the time she was going to school and she said after she left school that Dawson followed her home, to the Nation and they were there married. I have told that precisely in the words that she used, Capt John Rogers claimed to be one fourth Cherokee. The claimant is the son of Polly Rogers, and I know Polly Rogers to be the daughter of Anna Pruett and I know the claimant to be the son of Polly Dawson.

Capt. Rogers then resided in the Cherokee Country about twenty (Word "twenty" marked through) twelve miles below Calhoun on the Hiwassee River Anna Pruett resided in the Cherokee Nation as long as I stayed there & Dawson when I got acquainted with them Arkansas were recognized where they were as Cherokees. Robert Dawson children is Buck, John, Marian and two girls, The children named in the petition I recognized as being the claimants.

Question by Solicitor:

No. 1 How many children did Polly Rogers have?
Ans. 1 Five I think that's all.
No. 2 Did you say so ething about some one being married twice?
Ans. 2 The claimant was married twice.
No. 3 Could Anna Pruet speak Cherokee?
Ans. 3 Yes, she could speak it well.

Ques 4 Did Polly Rogers speak Cherokee?
Ans. 4 She did when I was young.
Ques 5 How far did you live from Anna Pruet?
Ans 5 Just across the five about 3/4 of a mile.
Ques 6 Was Calhoun in the Cherokee Nation?
Ans. 6 It was on both sides of the river part in the Nation and part out in the state.
Ques 7 Which Marriage was it went to Texas?
7 George went first, then John went, they were the sons of old man Marriage, that lived up near the line.
Ques 8 Did the Claimant go to Texas?
Ans. 8 No the Claimant did not go to Texas.
9 What connection was claimant and Polly Rogers?
9 The Claimant is the son of Polly Rogers Marion here is the grandson of Polly Rogers.
10 Where does claimant now live?
10 He lives in Carroll Co Arkansas.
11 Do you know what relation old Capt John Rogers was to Charles Rogers here in Cooweescoowee?
11 They claimed kin but what kin I dont know there were two Capt John Rogers in the Nation I am speaking of the time when I first came to this country about the year 1830.
12 Was Anna Pruet the maiden name of claimants grandmother
12 Yes that was her maiden name the Indian called her Since

The said Robert Dawson father of this affiant and Elizabeth Dawson who married John Petty were full brother and sister by blood, both being children of said Samuel Dawson and his wife Polly Dawson whose maiden name was Polly Rogers The said Elizabeth Petty was the mother Of Joanna Barber who is a full cousin by blood of this affiant in the Indian side. The said Joanna Barber is the mother of Irena J. House nee Barber who is a second cousin of this affiant in the Indian side.

This affiant further states that he has seventy five to a hundred blood relatives who reside in the Cherokee Nation and are recognized Cherokee Indians by blood and drew their per capita money all the last payment; said citizens and relatives derived their Indian blood from the same source that the above named Irene J. House, derives her Indian blood and right.

This statement I have made to John H. Koogler, a Notary Public at Muskogee Indian Territory and it has been written down by him at my dictation. Such part of this testimony which refers to matters occurin; previous to my recol ection I know by means of family history and traditions which facts I have always been taught and told of by my parents and grand parents from childhood up, ts facts stated as occuring since my childhood I know of my personal knowledge. Affiant further states that he is not personally interested in the prosecution of the application of said Irena J. House for citizenship in the Cherokee Nation.

EXHIBIT D.

E. Dawson, being duly sworn according to law on oath states. My name is E. Dawson; I am 61 years old; my post office address is Talala, Ind. Ter. I am a Farmer by Occupation, and reside in Coowescoowee District- Cherokee Nation. I am a recognized Cherokee Indian by blood, and exercise all the rights and immunities of a Cherokee Citizen now living in the present Cherokee Nation. I was born in Carroll County Arkansas near Berryville. I derived my Cherokee Indian blood from my Grandmother Polly Rogers through my father, Robert Dawson. My grandmother Polly Rogers was a Cherokee Indian and was married to my grandfather Samuel Dawson in the old Cherokee Nation in Tennessee. My Grand Parents, Samuel Dawson and his wife Polly Dawson whose maiden name was Polley Roger came West from the Old Cherokee Country in about the year 1832, and settled in Western Arkansas, and later came on to the Cherokee Nation. My father Robert Dawson was a recognized member of the Cherokee Nation when he died, by reason of his Cherokee Indian blood.

The said Robert Dawson, the father of this affiant, and Elizabeth Dawson who married John Petty were full brother and sister by blood, both being children of the said Samuel Dawson and Polly Dawson his wife she being the same Polly Rogers as aforesaid. The said Elizabeth Petty was the mother of Joanah Barber who is a full cousin by blood of this affiant on the Indian side, the said Joanah Barber is the mother of Irena J. House, whose maiden name was Irena J. Barber and a second cousin of this affiant on the Cherokee Indian side. This affiant further states that he has seventy five to a hundred blood relatives who reside in the Cherokee Nation and are recognized Cherokee Indians of the present Cherokee Nation and exercise all the rights and privileges of such Cherokee citizens, they having drawn their shares of the Strip Money at the last per capita payment made by the Cherokee Nation.

Said citizens and relatives derived their Cherokee Indian blood from the same source, as did the above named Irena J. House.

I have made this statement before J. Barrichman, Notary Public at Talala, Ind. Ter, [illegible] affiant further states that he has no personal interest in the prosecution of [illegible] for citizenship [illegible] Irena J. House.

Mr. W. A. Gibson, Special Master to whom this case was referred, submits the following report: (Insert report)

IN THE UNITED STATES COURT IN THE INDIAN TERRITORY.

NORTHERN DISTRICT AT MUSCOGEE.

IRENE J. HOUSE ET AL

VS # 238 REPORT OF SPECIAL MASTER.

THE CHEROKEE NATION

---oOo---

I, M. A. Gibson, Special Master herein, show to the Court that under the general order herein, I have examined the proof and pleadings on file in this case which are made a part of this report, and that I find as follows:-

I

That this case is in reality a branch of Case No. 90, Joanna Barber vs Cherokee Nation, the principal claimant herein being Irene J House a daughter of Joanna Barber.

That this cause was instituted on September 3, 1896 at which time application was made to the Commission to the Five Civilized Tribes for citizenship by blood in the Cherokee Nation.

That this case was tried by the said Commission on November 24, 1896 and the applicants denied, no reasons being given for the decision, and that on January 20, 1897, the parties appealed from said decision to this Court.

That this application was made by Irene J. House, her husband, W. J. House, and their children Chas., C. Winston T., and Henry W. House. That they file in support of their application the affidavits of Joanna Barber, F. L. Dawson, Arthur A. Baker, E. Dawson, and W. A. Dawson. That these Dawson witnesses are citizens by blood of the Cherokee Nation, and state that they are related by blood to the claimants herein on the Cherokee side. The claimants base their contention of a right to Cherokee citizenship upon the fact that the claimant Irene J. House is the daughter of Joanna Barber, who is the daughter of Elizabeth Ratley, who was the daughter of Polly Rogers, and that Polly Rogers was the daughter of Captain John Rogers and Kissey Ward, who were recognized Cherokee citizens by blood. That [illegible] this Dawson [illegible], and that [illegible] Indian [illegible], Polly Rogers was Captain John Rogers and Kissey Ward, who were all recognized Cherokee [illegible].

II

[illegible] applicants [illegible] Commission on Citizenship in the [illegible] the rejection of the claimants [illegible] Mrs. Sam Butler, a [illegible] that they never heard [illegible] by the name of Polly Rogers, and [illegible] Cynthia.

III

The Claimants [illegible] Cherokee Nation and are relatives of [illegible] who are recognized citizens of the Cherokee Nation by blood, are entitled to be admitted to the Cherokee Nation as citizens by blood, while the appellee contends that John Rogers, through whom the petitioners claim, is not now and has not been a citizen of the Cherokee Nation since the removal west. That his name does not appear on the rolls of the Nation, and that neither he nor his ancestors ever resided in the Cherokee Nation as citizens thereof.

IV

The premises considered, I find that the claimants are the descendants of Captain John Rogers, and that it was entirely possible that in the condition of affairs at that early date in the Cherokee Nation, especially owing to the absence of a marriage law and of records pertaining to marriage, that these claimants should be the descendants of Captain John Rogers by a daughter, Polly Rogers, of whom the affiants for the appellee may never have heard.

I find that the claimants are residents of the Cherokee Nation, Indian Territory, where they have resided since 1887, and that they are Cherokee Indians by blood.

I ask that the Court allow me a reasonable fee for my services herein as Special Master.

Respectfully submitted, this 9 day of Nov 1897.

BY MR. HASTINGS:

Well we close for the present.

TESTIMONY ANTOUCHED ON BEHALF OF THE APPLICANTS:

D. F. C[illegible] CAR, being first duly sworn, and being examined, testified as follows:

BY MR. HASTINGS:

Q Please state your name, age and residence? A My name is D. F. C. Duncan, my age is 72 years, my residence, Vinita, Indian Territory.
Q Are you a duly recognized citizen of the Cherokee Nation by blood? A I am.
Q You gave testimony in this case once before did you not, before the Dawes Commission? A I did.
Q Before this Commission I will say, this Commission? A The Dawes Commission? A Why I don't recollect who the Commissioner was, that was taken at Vinita, ex parte.
Q Were you in any way connected with the Cherokee citizenship Commissionnin 1963 known as the "Tehee Commission"? A I was Clerk of that Commission.

Q For what length of time? A I don't recollect the exact length of time, I think it was about thirty days, during the continuance of that Commission, existance of that Commission.
Q You were the only clerk it had during its existance were you?
A I think I was.
Q You were Clerk of that Commission when it rendered a decision in favor of Robert Dawson et als, as found on page 114, of its record, numbered 103 (witness examines record referred to.) now in the possession of this Commission? A I was.
Q The members of that Commission were the same as shown by the signatures to this judgment were they? A The same, yes, sir.
Q Thomas Tehee, President of the Commission, Alex Wolfe and T. F. Thompson, Commissioners, that is correct, is it? A That's correct.
Q Were you present when this case was under consideration by that Commission and when it rendered this judgment in the case? A I was.
Q Were you at that time acquainted with F. M. Dawson, commonly called "Bud Dawson", Campbell Taylor and Samuel H. Benge, who were attorneys, who were Cherokee attorneys at that time? A I might say that I merely know Mr. Dawson; all I know of him was I saw him there as a party to the suit, I know Mr. Taylor and Mr. Benge more extensively; I have known them a number of years.
Q They were recognized Cherokee citizens were they? A They were.
Q Was Taylor not known generally as a Citizenship Attorney?
A I think he was.
Q Do you remember seeing him and Benge present at the time this case was under consideration by the Court? A Why I do not recollect seeing Mr. Benge, I cannot recollect, but I can recollect of seeing Mr. Taylor about the Court room now and then.
Q Do you know who submitted the case to the Court for the applicants? A Let me understand the meaning of that; who brought the case?
Q Who called up the case? A No, I don't recollect.
Q Do you remember whether that Commission rendered any other decision than that found upon this record in that case? A I never had any knowledge only but one decision.
Q Was that in favore of or against the applicants? A It was in favor of them; I will say this: that if there was another decision other than the one that appears on the docket now before you, I have no recollection of it.
Q The only decision you have any knowledge of was recorded by you in this book as here shown was it not? A That is the only one that I have any knowledge of.
Q Did Bud Dawson pay you any money in connection with that case?
A He did not.
Q Did he ever promise to pay you any money for your influence with the Court in that case? A Never.
Q Or paid you any money, either directly or through any other person? A For my influence in that case?
Q Yes, sir? A Never.
Q Did you have any knowledge of any money paid to the Court or to any member of the Court for the purpose of influencing their judgment in that case? A None whatever.
Q Did you have opportunity of observing his conduct during that Court at this time? A The only opportunity that I had was during the session of the Commission, I have seen a little of him during the recess of the Commission, but little. I would not hit in particular.
Q Did you see anything in his conduct toward that Court which indicated that he had used undue influence in procuring that judgment? A I never observed anything of the kind; nothing that awakened a suspicion in my mind that he was engaged in that kind of practice.

Q Did Campbell Taylor at any time after the rendition of that judgment pay to you any money as coming through him from Bud Dawson for any services which you had rendered to him in that case?
A Yes, he paid me some.
Q What amount? A My recollection is that, I think it was a twenty dollar bill. I don't know but I had better go and state the transaction, all about it.
Q Yes, sir. A Mr. Dawson, Bud Dawson, during the trial of the case occasionally applied to me at my desk for writing paper, issue of a subpoena or transcript, something of that kind; I always treated him with courtesy and proper official consideration. He seemed to appreciate it, and whenever I did services of that kind to him, says he, I have no money, Mr. Duncan, but I feel as I ought to pay you. I told him I made no charges for work of that kind. And in passing I might state that I never received a cent for any kind of that work which I had been in the habit of doing for various parties before the Curt.

After his trial was concluded, in the afternoon a little while before supper time I went to my hotel, The National Brick Hotel in Tahlequah; went to my room, felt a little tired, laid down upon the bed to rest. I recollect Mr. Duncan stepped into the room, drew a chair up to the bedside and sat down and commenced giving expression to his gratification at the success of his case, dwelling mostly upon the testimony in the case being so satisfactorily, establishing his Cherokee blood, and that he thought that he was entitled and that he had received justice by the Court. I listened to him, and we talked there I guess some ten or fifteen minutes; after a little he says, I must go to-morrow, I think he says to-morrow, I must go home,- he then lived down in Arkansas somewhere. Says he, Mr. Duncan, I believe I owe you something, ought to pay you something. Alluding, as I understood, to these little courtesies that I extended to him at my desk. Says I, I make no charges, Mr. Dawson, for services; if I have done you any good you are welcome. Well, says he, I feel indebted to you, I ought to pay you. I says, that makes no difference; I will leave that to you. Says he, I have hardly enough money to get back home. He shook my hand, and the last word he says to me, you shan't lose anything for your kindness to me; I thought he had reference to my services at the desk. That was the last I saw of Mr. Dawson, oh it must have been a year afterwards; I had located a little claim on the public domain up there in Delaware District, staked off what I intended to be a farm, merely stakes, I didn't make any other improvements, over there on Horse Creek. Went over in that part of the country to look after my claim, and I ran across Mr. Dawson, he had come into the country and located and built him a little shanty and was living in it; I called upon him, he was very glad to see me; I asked him what he was doing there; he said he had moved into the country, and I told him, says I, you are encroaching upon me here; he had spread his claim over part of mine, mine had been made so long it was outlawed under Cherokee law. Well, says Mr. Dawson, I don't feel like doing you any wrong, I will pay you for your claim, and we will settle the matter in that way, that he as soon as he got his little matters together that he would satisfy me for it. Well we parted at that point. It ran on then for a long time, I don't know how long,- I think I met him in Vinita, and says he, did Camp Taylor pay you any money that I sent to you? Says I, No, I have not seen Camp Taylor.

Well, says he, I gave him some money and told him to hand it to you for me, and, says he, you ask him and he will hand it over to you I guess. Well we parted then. Well, went on for some time, some months; I happened to meet Mr. Taylor in Tahlequah; I met him on the street I think, jocularly I slapped my hand on his shoulder, says I, look here, did Mr. Dawson any money to me by you? He says, yes, and he pulled out what I recollect to be a twenty dollar bill, and handed it to me; I received it, and I received it with the idea that he was compensating me for taking my claim, or possibly for doing him those little services in the Court. Now that is the sum and substance of the whole thing.

Q Was not that twenty-five dollars, Mr. Duncan? A It might possibly have been, my recollection does not serve me exactly, it might have been 25 dollars.

Q Did Campbell Taylor pay you any other money as coming from Bud Dawson? A Never a cent.

Q Did he at one time pay you fifty dollars out of a hundred dollars which he had received from Mr. Dawson? A Never.

Q Did he on a second occasion pay you fifty dollars out of one hundred dollars which he claimed to have received from Mr. Dawson? A None at all.

Q He paid you no other money than that you have already stated, from Mr. Dawson? A Not a cent.

BY MR. McKENNON: We offer in evidence the judgment of the Cherokee Citizenship Commission before referred to, and ask that it be filed in evidence in the case of every application made by members of the Robert Dawson family who claim under it, or through Robert Dawson, as citizens of the Cherokee Nation, said judgment being found on page 114, Records of the Tehee Court, 1880 to 1884, case number 108, judgment dated January 11th, 1883, signed by Thomas Tehee, President, Alex Wolfe, T. F. Thompson, Commissioners. D. W. C. Duncan, Clerk Commission.

The said judgment just introduced is as follows:

"Office Commission on Citizenship,
Tahlequah, C. N., September 24th, 1881.
No. 108
Robt Dawson,
Elbert Dawson,
Jasper Dawson,
John Dawson,
Josephine Dawson,

James Dawson,
Rial Dawson,
vs.
Cherokee Nation.

Continued by the Plaintiff, Oct. 5, 1881.

January 13th, 1882.
The above case continued by the Cherokee Nation till Sept.

taxes, Agreed by the parties that the above shall not be taken up for final disposition before the first day of Oct, 1883.

October [illegible] 1882

It is agreed by the parties that this shall be finally disposed of at the next January term if the claimant is present defending the same, if not, the case shall be continued to the September term, 1883.

On this agreement Commission continues the case till the next January term to-wit, January 1883.

And now this the 11th day of January A.D. 1883 this case coming on for final hearing, and all the evidence produced in the case being carefully read and fully considered by the Commission it was adjudged and determined by the Commission on Citizenship that the claimants, Robert Dawson, F. M. Dawson, Elbert Dawson, Hooper Dawson, John Dawson, Jeremiah Dawson, Joseph A Wood, Jane Dawson, Molly Dawson, Wilson Dawson, James Dawson, and Fiel Dawson, are Cherokees by blood; and that they are entitled to all the rights and privileges of Cherokee citizenship within the Cherokee Nation, and that they should be, and they are, hereby admitted to the full and complete enjoyment of the same in all respects as native born Cherokees.

Journal Note: "Case submitted by Claimant January 11th 1883. Case submitted by Solicitor January 11th, 1883."

Q Do you remember how many members of the Court were present when this judgment was rendered, or were all of them? A My recollection upon that point is not positive, but it is my belief and upon what I know to be the practice of the Court at the time, seeing the names of all these Commissioners there, I can say with a great deal of positiveness that they were all present, because I never signed the name of one of the Commissioners unless he was present, assenting to it or directing it.

Q The rendition of that judgment then was concurred in by all of the three judges? A It was.

Q Mr. Duncan, if there had been a decision rendered the day before in this case while the Court was in session, adverse to these claimants, would you have known it? A I certainly should have known it.

Q Was there any such decision of the Court? A None to my knowledge. I can say positively there was not.

Q How many of those judges are now living? A Only one.

Q Which? A Mr. Thompson.

Q Tehee and Wolfe are dead? A Tehee and Wolfe are dead.

Q How long have they been dead, do you know? A I do not know, quite a number of years. I wasn't living there, never lived near there when their death occurred, and their death occurred perhaps a long time before I got knowledge of it. It is generally understood that they are dead.

Q Do you remember to have seen any other order of the Dawson family about the court at that time than said Dawson? A I have been thinking, and I don't call to mind that I have seen any other Dawson except me, until after they came into the country subsequent to the rendition of the judgment.

(At this point a party who was sitting in the room in which the examination is being held, is called forward, sworn on behalf of applicants, and asked to retire until called.)

BY MR. MACKINNON:

Q Mr. Dawson, when did you become clerk of the Yukon Commission Court? A It must have been recorded in December, 1903, at the time the Commission was organized, or shortly at the close of the Council in which they were appointed.

Q December 1903? A I think so.

Q What are you doing recording judgments here in your handwriting in 1903? A The Commission held its Court after they were elected sometime.

Q The Court was elected in 1901 wasn't it? A Well, I mean the time, I don't pretend to say when the Court was elected, I might have said at the time I was chosen clerk. I was chosen clerk just at the close of the session of the National Council of that year.

Q '84? A I think it was '84.

Q You entered up this judgment rendered January, 1903? A Yes, that was the session of the Commission.

Q That was before you were clerk of it? A Well I held my clerkship for some time you know continuously.

Q Well but when you go back to say that you were their clerk when the Dawson case was passed on? A No, I don't mean to say that.

Q How could you be clerk when the Dawson case was passed on in 1903 when you were not elected until 1904? A I am mistaken in that, '84 comes after '03,- it was the year preceding 1903, it must have been '83.

Q Your first entry in the Dawson case is January 15, 1903, isn't it? Q I don't recollect what my first entry was. (Attorneys show the record to witness) Yes, that is the entry there on the 15th day.

Q And that was shortly after you became clerk wasn't it? A Yes, shortly after I became clerk.

Q The case had been entered upon the docket before you became clerk? A I think so, yes; It was entered at the previous term of the session of the Commission.

Q In whose handwriting was the names of the three Commissioners signed to that judgment? A Dawson Judgment?

(Attorney shows record to witness again) A That is my handwriting.

Q All three names? A All three names.

Q The record here shows that you immediately upon that day a transcript of the judgment, do you know who signed that? A Signed the transcript?

Q Yes, sir. A I do not recollect now, this is, did you writing?

Q signed the name to it? A Yes, that's it.

Q You always signed the names of Jones and Wills didn't you? A I think I did pretty generally; I don't know of their attempting to write their own names.

Q When Mr. Thompson was there didn't he sign his own name? A Sometimes he did, sometimes he simply authorized me to do it.

Q Have you any recollection of him authorizing you to do it except from the fact that you have done it on that record frequently? A I can't recall the particular litigated fact of authorization, but I can say positively that, consulting the record, that he authorized me to put his name there.

Q Will you look at the original transcript hereby shown you and referred to in the judgment and say who signed the names of the Commissioners there? A (Papers shown to witness) A I signed them there.
Q You recognize that as your handwriting? A I do.
Q What made you state you were testifying at Vinita before Mr. Martin, on looking at the same signatures, and being cross-examined by me, say that it was not your signature and that the signature thereto attached was the signature of Mr. Thompson? A Occurred in this way; I had not seen any of the records in the case for about nineteen years. The exact transaction in the court had vanished about entirely from my memory; I recollected at that time, however, when I gave in my testimony before the Commissioner, Martin, that that was a practice of the Court at the time I served by which I signed the names of the full-blood members of the Commission, and Mr. Thompson either uniformly or occasionally signed his own name. I based my statement in that deposition upon my knowledge of the rule or practice in the Court, without comparing the docket and refreshing my memory. I made an incorrect statement when I said that that was not my handwriting; I am convinced now that it is my handwriting. That is the way it occurred, the way it happened.
Q Then you consider your recollection of the fact that Thompson when he was present and rendering a judgment signed it himself, better than your own knowledge of your own handwriting?
A No, I didn't so regard it. I simply spoke without advisement when I gave in that testimony; I subsequently became better informed and concluded that that was my handwriting and not entered by Mr. Thompson under the rule, but was one of those cases in which he authorized me to do it myself, and I did it.
Q Then you have changed your testimony, because you think you have a better knowledge of the surrounding facts now than you had then, and not from the face of your judgment on your handwriting at present? A I simply corrected my testimony in reference to my statement in regard to this handwriting, this case.
Q And you couldn't know then as I understand you whether or not that is your handwriting if it was not refreshed by what you consider to be exterior facts? A I should know it by examining it and thinking over the circumstances, I think I should recognize my own handwriting, but if a question should be propounded instantaneously without any advisement or preconsideration I might make a mistake.
Q You did recognize the names of Thomas Tehee and Alexander Wolfe as being in your handwriting at that time? A I was very clear and positive, and so stated, that the names of those Commissioners were in my handwriting, and I was made certain by reflecting on the rule that they never signed their names with their own hand, but always authorized me to do it. Hence there is no question in my mind in regard to my handwriting in their signatures.
Q And then the third name, right under it, as compared with your admitted handwriting, you had to wait and learn the facts afterwards to determine whether that was your signature or not? A No, I don't think that if I had considered the circumstances, I knew that there was a resemblance; what basis of the opinion that that might have been Mr. Thompson's signature was like this: I knew that he had been in the habit of at least sometimes signing his own name, and I was under the impression—and I do not now think I am much deceived- that his chirography bore at least some resemblance to my own, hence I doubted whether I had signed that name or not on that account.

Q You were aided somewhat at that time in your testimony by the fact that Mr. Thompson swore that that was his handwriting and not yours, didn't he? A Mr. Thompson is stating that that was my handwriting but my mind is to ascertain whether I was not mistaken or not, and after so long a time I concluded that I was.

Q And he stated, moreover, didn't you, that he always signed the original bill when he was present? A I do not recollect that I stated, that I used the word Palmyra, at that time, but at the time I was examined when the deposition was taken I recollect that he did, but when I got to court and examined the docket I was convinced that I was wrong, that occasionally I signed for him.

Q Then you never could put your testimony given on this trial a year and a half ago that you examined the docket day before yesterday, and aware of your responsibility as it is? A I don't know that I have thought of it since that time until yesterday or day before the examining the docket.

Q Now the only recollection that you have got and the only aid to your recollection that Thompson was present when this judgment was rendered was the fact that you and his were signed to it, in your handwriting, is it? A As a fact,-

Q You can answer that yes or no? A That seeing the handwriting aids my recollection and I recollect now that the commissioners were all present at the time that I signed it. I didn't their names out of court at all.

Q Was it in the forenoon now or in the afternoon? A I don't recollect whether it was in the forenoon or afternoon.

Q In recollecting that they were all present when the record was signed, do you mean to say that they were all present when the judgment was rendered? A Yes, that is, you mean when the question of admission or rejection was voted upon?

A Yes. A They were present.

Q Did you make up the record at the time that they rendered the judgment, or make a memorandum of it, and then write up the judgment some days afterward? A The record was not written up immediately upon the decision of any case, but I wrote up the record after adjournment, generally in the evening, and presented it next day or when the next session was had, for signature; that was the practice.

Q But in this Dawson case you wrote it up the very day that it was rendered didn't you? A I didn't recollect as to that.

Q And gave them a transcript the very day it was rendered? A I don't recollect as to that.

Q And indicated the giving of the transcript on the bottom of the judgment the day it was rendered? A I should say it was given at the date of the transcript.

Q That was a very unusual thing for you to do in entering up judgment? A To do what?

Q To notice on the bottom that you had given a transcript the same day the judgment was rendered? A No, I dont' know that there is anything unusual about that.

Q Any other places in that record or more than one in any event that you have ever done that? A I don't recollect, but as I don't recollect of giving anybody else a transcript.

Q That is what I am getting at: you gave them a transcript and wrote up your judgment and everything right away? A Pretty promptly after the decision: whether it was the same day or the evening, and signed next day, I don't recollect.

IT WAS AGREED BY COUNSEL OF BOTH SIDES THAT THE COMMISSION MIGHT SIT DURING THE SESSIONS OF THE AFTERNOON, TIME: 1:45 P.M., AT THE COURT HOUSE, IN THE FORE-NOON, D. M. C. BLACK BEING ON THE STAND,
BY MR. HOGGINS:

Q Do you remember what witnesses were before the Court? A I don't remember now distinctly except Dr. Baker. I remember him mainly because of the length of his testimony; it took two days.

Q The Doctor was about the only distinct witness there was? A He is the only one now that I can call to mind.

Q There was probably another old darkey that testified who was illiterate? A I have no recollection of that at all.

Q The court was just decided solely on Doctor Baker's testimony, is about the only one that you remember about the case? A I am not certain that Dr. Baker was the only witness; might have been others that have now escaped my recollection.

Q Doctor Baker's testimony was taken down in writing? A Yes.

Q Was any not anybody else's testimony taken down in writing also? A All the testimony that was accepted in the case was taken down in writing.

Q Did you ever see anybody's else testimony in writing, except Dr. Baker in that case? A That is not as I recollect, I don't recollect any other but Dr. Baker.

Q You know whether that was taken previously before the trial or at the trial or how was it? A It was taken in the presence of the three Commissioners during the progress of the suit.

Q You remember how many terms the case was pending or how? A I do not recollect whether the case was on trial more than one day, but my impression is that it was.

Q Do you know whether it spent a term of the court or not? A I think it was the next term of the Court.

Q How many terms a year did that Court have then and how did they last? A I don't recollect of but serving but one term.

Q Don't recollect the serving but one term? A Usually, it seems to me so.

Q You didn't go in until January of 1888 did you, your first record is a record of about the 13th of January 1888, as shown in the book, isn't it? A I don't recollect in this regard.

Q How would they take testimony in the case, then continue it, or how would they generally do about that? A I think they decided on the case at the term in which they took testimony.

Q Can you say whether or not this testimony was taken in this case at the time it was decided on at the term it was decided, or within a week or two of the time it was decided? A My best recollection is that it was taken at the term at which it was decided; and was taken the testimony heard that the decision was made at the conclusion of the testimony.

Q Well now, I see on October 4th, 1888, on your handwriting, the following entry reads, "It is agreed by the parties that this cause finally be dismissed at the next January Term." That would be January, 1889, and the affidavit is present duly sworn to, etc., "This cause shall be continued to the next succeeding term, January 1889." From that the Court then continues the case till the next January term, 1889. Now that I should take it you had a January and a September term; and this decision was rendered at the January, 1863 term. Was Baker's testimony taken during the January, 1863, term, at the time this decision was rendered? A I find it impossible for me to recollect those facts that are reported there; although I can say about that, that the record shows the correct statement of the facts; but I can't recall those facts.

Q Well there is a record here that this case was continued on the 13th day of January, 1863, upon agreement that it should be taken upon the 4th day of October, 1862; your record shows that there was nothing done in the case from January 13th, 1863 until October 4th, 1863; would you say that was correct? A I would say it was correct if it so stands on the book; it is designed to be a correct entry of the facts.
Q I will let you see the book for yourself; I don't want to misrepresent your end of it at all. (Shows entry in book to witness.)
A I can't recall those facts in regard to the agreement.
Q Who took down the testimony of the witnesses in court? A I took it down.
Q You took down the testimony of Dr. Baker? A Yes.
Q He was cross examined by counsel for the Nation? A As to that I don't recollect. He was present, he was always present; I think likely he was cross examined.
Q And that testimony was taken at or near the time when the judgment was rendered in January, 1863? A I think it was, my impression is to that effect.
Q Well the court was to have had no session as to this case from January 13, 1863 up to October 4th, 1862, according to the record? A (No response.)
Q You don't recall taking down anybody's else testimony in the case? A No sir, I don't.
Q And the probability is that he was the only witness examined, isn't he? A It might have been not by recollection is that he was recorded as the main witness of the case.
Q He was quite an old man, about 70 at that time? A Yes, he was quite old.

BY MR. McKENNON:

Q The testimony of Dr. Arthur Baker, from this record, appears to have been taken January 14th, 1863; is that correct as far as you may know, or are able to state? A Is that Dr. Baker's testimony? (Attorney here shows witness papers) A It appears to be, yes; I don't think that was the testimony that the case was decided upon, because his testimony was taken orally before the Commission, and I wrote it down; please let me see it. (Attorney hands said papers to witness.)
A Well, all I know about this is as I stated before, I can't recall those facts, but whatever the record says why I say that the record was made correct, according to the fact. (Witness takes copy of the testimony referred to to refresh his memory.) I don't understand in reading that very clearly to my own understanding, but I gather from the subject matter in that testimony that it is in accord with Doctor Baker's statement; an exactly word for word I am not able to say, but that is the tenor of the testimony.

BY MR. HUTCHINGS:

Q In taking the testimony you endeavored to get down all the material facts that you could in taking it in long hand? A Yes, very nearly word for word, as I could write it, with the exception of a little variation made necessary by the length of the witness' statement.

BY MR. McKENNON: Applicants object to all of the witness' testimony relating to the method of taking the testimony of witnesses at the trial, the character and effect of that testimony, and the number of witnesses, except so far as the same may be used for the purpose of testing the memory of the witness, because the same is incompetent, irrelevant and immaterial.

R. F. FORTNER, being first duly sworn, and being examined testified as follows:

BY MR. McKENNON:

Q What is your name? A R. F. Fortner.
Q What is your age? A 54.

BY MR. HASTINGS:

Q Mr. Le can belongs to the same church you belong to? A Yes, sir.
Q And has for a number of years? A Well now I say I think he does: I have always so understood.
Q Don't keep up with all your members? A No, but he has attended church there and my impression has been that he is a member of the church.
Q You didn't have any business before the Citizenship Court of which he was clerk, did you? A No, sir, not that I know of.
Q You was not at Tahlequah while he was clerk of a Court from 1900 to '3? A I don't believe I was.
Q Never had any business before that Court? A Had no business before them, not while he was Clerk to my knowledge.

BY MR. McKENNON:

Q You spoke of his membership in the church; he is in good standing as a member of the church is he? A Yes, sir.
Q I will ask you if Campbell Taylor's reputation isn't notoriously bad? A Yes, I have so understood it.

BY MR. HASTINGS:

Q I will ask you if you [illegible] bad in 1903, what those peop[illegible] of the Court? A That

Q But so far as you know his bad reputation dates back as far as you know him? A So far as I know him.

G. W. MILLER, being duly sworn and being examined, testified as follows:
BY MR. McKENNON:
Q What is your name? A G. W. Miller.
Q What is your age, Mr. Miller? A 61.
Q Where do you reside? A Vinita.
Q How long have you lived there? A Well I have lived there altogether about 13 years I guess, or 14.
Q And you a citizen of the Cherokee Nation? A No, sir.
Q What is your business? A Real estate and insurance agent.
Q Do you know D. W. C. Duncan? A Yes, sir.
Q How long hav you known him? A I have known him twenty years.
Q Do you know his general reputation for honesty and uprightness of character where he lives? A Why yes sir.
Q Is that good or bad? A It is good, so far as I know.
Q Do you know Campbell Taylor? A Yes, sir.
Q How long have you known him? A Well I have known him 18 or 20 Years, I guess.
Q Do you know his general reputation for truth andhonesty? A Well yes.
Q Is that good or bad? A Well, it is bad, I think.

ATTORNEYS FOR CHEROKEE NATION waive cross examination.

W. H. CURTIS, being first duly sworn and being examined testified as follows:
BY MR. McKENNON:
Q What is your name? A W. H. Curtis.
Q How old are you, Mr. Curtis? A 56.
Q Where do you reside? A Afton, Indian Territory.
Q How long have you lived in the Indian Territory? A 20 years.
Q What is your business? A Lumber business.
Q Do you know D. W. C. Duncan? A I do.
Q How long ave you known him? A About 20 years.
Q You know his general reputation for honesty anduprightness of character in the community where he lives? A I do.
Q Is that good or bad? A As good as any man's.
Q Do you know Campbell Taylor? A I do.
Q How long have you known him? A Some 20 years, I suppose.
Q Do you know his general reputation for truth and integrity and honesty? A Yes sir.
Q Is that good or bad? A Bad.
Q Is it notoriously bad? A Yes.
Q Did you ever known Dr. Baker. Dr. A. B. Baker, of Berryville, Arkansas? A Yes sir, I knew him in '68 and '69.
Q Where? A Over at Berryville; I ran a saw mill in that country at Berryville.
Q Did you know his general reputation so far as honesty and uprightness of character and truthfullness? A Yes sir.
Q Is that good or bad? A Good sir. Good as any man's; he is a good Christian gentleman.
Q Did you know him well enough to know his habits of life? A Yes sir.
Q Was he in the habit of taking liquor, drinking liquor? A Not that I know, of sir, I never saw him take a drink in my life,

Q Was his character good as to truth and any such charge against him? A It was, yes sir.

BY MR. KUYKENDALL:

Q How long did you know Mr. Stuart? A Two years.

Q What does he do there? A He was an old gentleman then, he lived right in the edge of Harrisville, Mr. Baker.

Q How old do you think he was then? A I think he must have been 70 or 72 years old, an old gentleman.

Q That is all he was, not? A No sir, it was in '68 and '69, the two years that I lived over there.

Q He just retired from business? A Yes, sir.

Q Did he have any family? A Yes, sir.

Q What family did he have? A I don't know how much family he had, I was not acquainted with the old gentleman.

Q You don't claim any intimacy with anybody? A No sir.

Q And his character has never called in question one way or the other, has it? A No sir, no sir.

Q Colonel Taylor was a notary and kept a drug store? Now ever since you ever knew him wasn't he? A Yes sir, I never knew much good of him.

Q And therefore a man of bad citizenship came to get Campbell to work it, because he was notoriously a rascal, that's it ain't it? A Told a great many of them got him.

Q It was a notorious thing then, they had a bad case they would get him, it would sort of give a case a bad color to have Campbell around it? A Yes, that would be right.

Q You never knew anything about Mr. Duncan's connection with Mitchell's retirement, did you sir, never did.

Q You never heard about his changing some of the records of citizenship cases? A No sir, never did.

Q You have heard lots of talk about this Duncan case? A Yes sir.

Q Rather all around that somebody was doing something wrong? A Yes sir.

Q You never accused him of it you think? A I never heard him accused of it, no sir.

Q That he got out from the first day they were tabulated right up to the present? A Well I don't know not from the first day, I have heard it for a good while though.

Q But you never knew who has fixed it out? A No sir.

Q They have been a pretty strong family up there in that country haven't they, really large family? A Yes sir.

Q Cast a good many votes up there? A Yes sir.

Q Did you ever know of the Doctor's testifying any in court, Mr. Baker? A No sir, I never did.

Q What would you think of a man who would testify that in 1827 a girl that was single in 1825 when the youngest of her seven children was born in 1827; what would you think, would you think that was a statement to be made by a man who was truthful? A -

BY MR. McKINNON: Applicants object to the question because it is wholly incompetent, and not based upon any proof ... or admitted facts in the case, and it is wholly immaterial and incompetent.

Do you think that was a statement that would be made by a truthful man? A (No response.)

Q You knew him in '68? A Yes sir.

He was quite an old, decrepit man? A Yes sir, quite old, [illegible] '68.

Q 14 years from that time he was liable to be in his cottage?
A I don't know, he was an old man that I knew him.
Q He was too old to work, and retired from business then? A Well he did work a good deal, but wasn't doing any business particular that I knew of.
Q He would have been pretty old 14 years from that time? A Yes, he would be getting old.

D. H. HARRE, being first duly sworn and being examined, testified as follows:
By Mr. McKENNON:
Q What is your name? A D. H. Harre.
Q What is your age, Mr. Harre? A I am 44.
Q What is your business? A I am publishing a newspaper.
Q What paper? A The Indian Chieftan.
Q Are you editor of that paper? A Yes sir.
Q You live at Vinita, then? A Yes sir.
Q Are you a citizen of the Cherokee Nation? A Yes sir.
Q By blood or intermarriage? A Intermarriage.
Q Do you know D. W. C. Duncan? A I do.
Q How long have you known him? A 12 or 13 years.
Q Do you know his general reputation in the community where he lives for honesty and uprightness of character? A Yes sir.
Q Is that good or bad? A Good.
Q Do you know Campbell Taylor? A Yes sir.
Q How long have you known him? A Ten 15 years or longer.
Q Do you know his general reputation for truth and honesty in the community? A His general reputation, yes sir.
Q Is it good or bad? A Well it is not good.
Q Is it bad? A Well I suppose it must be bad then.
By Mr. McKENNON:
Q How long has Campbell's reputation been bad, Mr. Harre, quite a good while, hasn't it? A Why I think so, yes sir.
Q And it kind of began mostly with their citizenship business? A Yes, so far as I knew it did, yes sir.
Q Campbell got so many bad citizenship cases and through the mails, and they finally had him up about it, had a good deal of stir about it? A Yes sir.
Q And some of that stir was sort of occasioned by his helping the Dawsons in, wasn't it? A I don't know, I don't know whether he helped the Dawsons.
Q Was not that one of the principal cases that brought him into notoriety? A I don't know whether he had that case or not. I know he had a great many cases.
Q That was the principal thing that convinced the final Campbell out, was citizenship cases here? A I think that is what got him into the most trouble.
Q I say before that time nobody had talked much about Campbell one way or another, and it became pretty general that Campbell was handling bogus citizenship cases, and he got a bad reputation from that? A Yes sir, I think that was the impression generally.
Q Has Mr. Duncan's connection with the Dawson case sort of been kept back? People never talked much about it? A I never heard much talk about it, as I know of.
Q You have heard that there has been objection, now, about the Dawson case, that has been a notorious thing? A Oh it has been a notorious case, yes sir.
Q Tell the fact of Mr. Duncan's reputation for straightness has been somewhat given by himself, by confession in transactions in that?

THOMAS L. CHANDLER, being first duly sworn and upon, examined, testified as follows:

BY MR. ROBINSON:

Q [illegible] A Thomas L. Chandler.

Q [illegible] Mr. Chandler? A I am 30.

Q [illegible] A Deputy Clerk of the United States Court at Muskogee.

Q How long have you lived in the Cherokee Nation? A All my life.

Q Do you know D. W. C. Duncan? A Yes sir.

Q How long have you known him? A Let me see, I have known him about nine or ten years.

Q You have his moral reputation for honesty and uprightness of character in the community where he lives? A Yes sir.

Q Is it good or bad? A Good so far as I know.

Q Is your home Campbell Taylor? A Yes sir.

Q How long have you known him? A I think about 15 years.

Q Do you know his general reputation for truth and honesty? A Yes sir.

Q Is it good or bad? A Good so far as I know.

BY MR. HUTCHINGS:

Q How did Campbell Taylor get a bad reputation? A Well sir, I don't know how he did.

Q You never knew him until 1885? A Well I never knew him personally, I heard of him before that.

Q He had a bad reputation before '85? A Yes sir.

Q And reputation way back yonder? A First I remember I ever heard of him I heard people speaking bad of him, when I was a kid.

Q And everybody that one around the Nation and knew anything at all knew Campbell had a bad reputation? A Yes sir, ever so far back as '79 or '80, that is as far back as I can remember; I think I heard it spoken of in '80, I think that's about the time.

Q And Campbell got a very bad reputation in '80 and '81 when we began to have these citizenship cases? A Yes sir.

Q You heard him spoken of in connection and using the mails for those business? A Yes sir, I heard of him being in the Fort Smith Jail or that account.

Q Citizens of the Nation talked a good deal about Campbell's being in these bad citizenship cases? A Yes sir.

And I also heard he had a bad reputation for paying his debts, also about the same time.

Q You don't know whether he had the money, he might not have had the money to pay his debts? A No sir.

Q He could have kept out of bad citizenship cases? A Yes sir, I suppose he could.

Q You never heard Mr. Duncan's name mentioned before in connection with the bogus, citizenship cases? A No sir, I don't think I have, I may have, but I don't remember hearing it.

Q Several in connection that everybody had done something wrong with bad citizenship, citizenship cases? A I heard there was something wrong in connection with the bogus citizenship cases.

Q Don't you know been in politics ever since they were settled? A Yes sir, I have heard it rumored around over the country that such was the case.

Q Now is a pretty large voting community up there and it never was investigated? A I don't know about that, I don't know if it was ever investigated, I never heard of it.

Q So they never had any encounter to find out who the real liar
A No sir.
Q Where did you live in 1896? A Mr. I lived out on Buck Creek about 18 miles South-East of Jasper.
Q How far from Tallequah was that? A About 45 or 50 miles, I reckon.
Q Did they have Circuit Court in Tallequah in April or May during that time? A No sir.
Q You don't know as your parents could have met and did have sexual intercourse in Tallequah, do you? A No sir, I do not, at that time.
BY MR. MASTERSON: Defendants object to all of the testimony of this witness that is what is known by and to her, about the character of Bill Rogers, because the same is hearsay, irrelevant, [illegible] and immaterial.

[redacted] Being first duly

[illegible].
BY MR. MASTERSON:
Q How long did you know him? A I resided in Carroll County until 1897, when I moved to Johnson County, Arkansas, and the year
I was away from here, but I now [illegible] that I resided in Carroll County.
Q Did you know his reputation? A Yes sir, I have seen him several times. I have relatives living in the town in which he lived; by relations to him were such as to cause me always to inquire about Doctor Rogers; I knew his reputation I think as well after
I left there as I did when I lived there.
Q Did you know these facts in 1896 when you was a member of this Commission? A Yes sir, I have known them all my life as I know them now.
Q Did you know them when you was a member of this Commission passed on the Steve J. Evans case? A I knew it every day of my life, in 1896 as well as now.
Q Suppose that Doctor Arthur Baker's sister should swear that he was born in the year 1859, and suppose he said when he was 15 or 16 years of age that Anna Truett the wife of Samuel Dawson, was a grown up girl going to school, then the other undisputed evidence shows that she had married Sam Dawson prior to that time and had several children, the youngest of whom was born in '83, how would you harmonize that with a man who was an honest man and knew the facts in the case? A Whatever Dr. Baker stated he honestly believed, whether it was true or not, whether it was error or truth he honestly believed it, and stated it as he believed it.
Q He was capable of being in error? A Every man is.
Q I say he was? A Yes sir, just as you and I and every one, he was; I merely stated as to his character, which could be proven, by every one who knew it, I [illegible] I knew it.
Q The Commission rendered Steve J. Evans in 1896, of which you were a member? A I don't remember anything about that personally.

was [redacted] years old.
Q Was he or was he not? A Yes sir.
Q Exactly what is the situation? A No sir.
Q Was he not, also, arrested on Sheik's trial out? A I don't know whether he was or not.
Q You don't know what he had to do with Sam Sixkiller, in Choi, himself, do you? A No, I judged it was himself and Fiddle that went that went to get Sheik. Attorney's term, sir. That is the way I took it anyway.
Q You were in a position to know, were you not? A Yes sir.
Q Where A At Ames Ford.

Q How long has he been dead? A I think he died probably within two years after that.

TESTIMONY TAKEN ON BEHALF OF THE APPLICANTS.

F. E. Dawson, again re-called and further examined, testified as follows:
By Mr. McKennon:
F. E. Dawson? A Yes sir.

Q Mr. Dawson, what member of your family came to the Cherokee Nation to file and prosecute the claim of your father, Robert Dawson, and the members of his family, to Cherokee citizenship?
A My brother from Texas met me at Tahlequah.
Q Tell his name? A Elbert Dawson, they all know him by Buck.
Q When was that? A In '81 as well as I remember, or '82, I don't know which, it was in '81 or '82.
Q Did you file your claim at that time? A My brother was, yes, the application,-my brother had Joel Mayes to make it out and file it. That is my understanding.
Q Joel Mayes, who afterwards was Chief of the Cherokee Nation?
A Yes sir.
Q Before what court was that filed? A My understanding now he was clerk of the court; Hastings can tell me what court he was clerk of.
Q He was clerk of the court at that time? A Yes sir, of the citizenship court; that's my understanding.
Q What was done about the case at that time, if you remember? A I went back home and left my brother down there at that time, that trip.
Q Where did you then live? A I lived at Perryville, Arkansas.
Q When did you next come to the Cherokee Nation? A I believe I came back the next January, that was in September.
Q Was your brother Buck here then? A I don't think he was, I don't remember.
Q Well had he at any term of the Court or session of the Commission at any time after you first came here and filed the application until after it was decided? A No sir, I never met him any more until that case was decided.
Q You conducted the business then after that did you not? A Yes sir.
Q The case was finally determined in January 1883? A '83, yes sir, the 11th day as I remember.
Q Were you present at that session? A Yes sir.
Q Was there any decision of that case other than the one of record here? A I never heard of it if there was.
Q Was the judgment rendered in that case as recorded in the record Book of that Commission now in the custody of the Dawes Commission the only judgment that was rendered in that case so far as you know?
A Yes sir, so far as I know, if there was any I never heard of it in that case.
Q You then know of no decision against you in the case? A No sir.
Q Who was your attorney employed at the beginning? A I employed A. H. Norwood.
Q Was he a Cherokee Citizen? A Yes sir, I think so.
Q Where did he live? A At Claremore, my understanding.
Q Was he present at any time before the Commission? A I never saw him, he never met me there before the Commission.
Q Did you pay him any money? A Yes sir.
Q How much? A Fifty dollars.
Q Did he ever render any services? A If he ever did I never knew it.
Q Well then who did you employ? A My brother employed Joel Bryant.
Q Was he a Cherokee citizen?
A That is my understanding.
Q Was he not a prominent Cherokee citizen? A Yes sir.
Q What service did he render? A Well sir, I don't know whether he rendered any or not, only he met me a time or two at Tahlequah, and he was before the Commission; whether he rendered any services or not I don't know; he was generally always at Washington City during the term down there.

Q Well what did he do about it? A I don't know, I couldn't say that he done anything about it. That is Mr. Bryant, he was always gone.

Q What more you done about the employment of an attorney? A Why I got a letter from Joel Bryant that he was going to Washington City and for me to come down in January term and Campbell Taylor would run to my trial before the court.

Q Did he say that he had engaged the services of Campbell Taylor the attorney, to attend to it in his absence? A Yes sir, in his absence.

Q Have you got that letter? A I don't think I put the letter.

Q Well what did you do then? A Why when the time come I come down on the 4th to Washington here and I come over from here to Fort Gibson and I went down to see Uncle Houston Benge and stays all night with him; it was very cold weather, and I got him to go over my affairs by name to the court; I went over one day and the next day Uncle Houston Benge come over and the next morning after he come over the case was committed.

Q Did he sue it the court? A Yes sir, he told me so.

Q For you? A Yes sir.

Q Were you present? A I was present until they went to take the vote on the case and then we was drove out of their room and they had a secret session, acting on the case.

Q Was Houston Benge present with you? A Yes sir.

Q Were you in the court when he submitted it to them? A Yes sir, when he made his argument.

Q He made an argument before the Commission? A Yes sir.

Q Was the decision rendered on that day? A Yes sir.

Q How long after he made his argument and submitted the case? A Was not but a little bit; when we were drove out of the house the first time before they went into secret session they wanted me to get up the cigars to the court and the crowd in the house; after the decision was rendered then I was to get up the cigars, and everybody come to me and told me to go and get the cigars and I done so.

Q And you took the cigars there and all? A Yes sir, everybody, the attorneys and all that was in the house, all had a cig smoke.

Q Did they then announce their finding in the case? A Yes sir, they told me that I was granted my citizenship right and by the Commission.

Q What did you do about it then? A Why the Clerk wrote it out by certificate.

Q That same day? A That same day.

Q What arrangements did you make with Mr. Benge about his fee, and what was the amount of his fee? A There was no arrangement made until we got up there and he submitted our case; then he wanted me to pay, he charged me fifty dollars, that was his fee.

Q What was the agreement about the matter, the manner in which that fee should be paid? A My brother in Texas was to pay it.

Q Were you to write or was he to write? A He was to write for me.

Q Did your brother in Texas ever pay his fee of fifty dollars? A Yes sir.

Q Was that all that was to be paid? A All he was to have; all he charged me.

Q You heard his statement when he gave his deposition at Fort Gibson the other day did you not? A Yes sir.

Q He (Mr. Starr) that you paid him fifty dollars before you went away to Tahlequah did you do that? A No sir.
Q Is it that you paid him fifty dollars after he got over to Tahlequah, did you do that? A I never paid him a cent in my life.
Q After that judgment was rendered where did you go to? A I went back home to Arkansas.
Q By what route? A I went by Silom Springs and on by Spring Dale and I went to Fayetteville, took the railroad there and went on by Sulphur and by Purdy Springs home.
Q You then did not return to Fort Gibson with Houston Benge, as he states? A No sir, I did not.
Q Why did you not return by way of Fort Gibson? A Well I thought maybe the others was the cheap at road and struck a hack going out by Sam Hobbs where I was boarding at, I could go to Silom Springs and I went by that route and then there was a hack going by Spring Dale, that was the most direct route.
Q That was the most direct route from your home was it not? A Yes sir.
Q And the cheaper? A And the cheapest route.
Q Had you been coming back to Fort Gibson you would have been going directly away from home would you not? A Yes sir.
Q Your home was nearly east, due east of Tahlequah was it not? A Yes sir, little north of east, pretty near due east.
Q While Fort Gibson is almost due west is it not? A Southwest.
Q You heard him at the time that you went to Fort Gibson with him, and he you came you stated to him that the way to reach that court was through Gibson and you reached this through Duncan with five hundred dollars, did you make that statement? A I never did, I didn't have the five hundred dollars to reach him.
Q Did he while at Tahlequah inthe court room on the evening before this judgment was rendered in your favor, tell you that the court had rendered a judgment against you? A No sir.
Q And did you then say to him, you would fix that? A I had no such conversation with him.
Q Did you pay to D. W. C. Duncan, who was the Clerk of the Court any sum of money, or agree to pay him any sum of money, directly or through any other person for any services he might render you by way of influencing the court to decide in your favor? A No sir.
Q Or for any other purpose? A No sir.
Q Did you pay him any money after that through Campbell Taylor? A Yes sir.
Q What amount? A 30 or 35 Dollars, I don't know which it was.
Q State what that money was paid for? A For a claim.
Q What do you mean by a claim? A Claim on the public domain; he had a claim up there close to me; paid him 30 or 35 dollar for his claim he had up there where, on the Cherokee Public Domain.
Q What did Campbell Taylor have to do with your case?
A He had nothing to do with it.
Q Did you agree to pay him any money for his services as an attorney? A No sir.
Q Did he perform any services in that case foryou as a representative of Mr. Bryant? A No sir.
Q Did you pay him any money? A Yes sir.
Q On that account? A No on account to me and said he had the claim against me for Joel Bryant and wanted me to pay him the money and I done so.
Q What amount? A Hundred dollars.

Q [illegible] A [illegible] Joel Bryant.
Q Did [illegible] account to Joel Bryant, or [illegible] A Joel Bryant claimed [illegible] to [illegible] again, paid Joel Bryant [illegible] dollars we owed [illegible]; E. Duncan paid Joel Bryant [illegible] we never did get [illegible] from Campbell Taylor, only [illegible] twenty dollars or twenty-five dollars; that is all we ever got back from him.
Q How did you get that 25 dollars out of it for Duncan? A I kept after him and talked him in to pay that money and to do, he rendered no services to us at all and the money was to go to Joel Bryant, and I finally worked out the twenty or twenty-five dollars, that is all I ever did get back.
Q The amount that was paid to Duncan? A Yes sir.
Q Was this money paid to him, this one hundred dollars, while you were there at the time the jury was rendering, or was it sent to his office[illegible]? A I think it was paid them, I believe I remember about it.
Q You think it was paid him? A Yes sir, that's my recollection now.
Q Did you send him one hundred dollars after you got back from there, subsequent to the rendering of that judgment, after it was rendered I mean, [illegible] any fifty dollars of that or any of it to D. W. C. Duncan? A No sir.
Q Did you send him a second one hundred dollars in any direction? A No sir.
Q Mr. Duncan, do you know when it was finally in all to obtain this office and [illegible] Cherokee Nation under this judgment? A [illegible] it I do.
Q Well about what was it? A About five hundred dollars, pretty near 500 dollars. That is what I considered, I was beat out of some of my money, that I was beat out of and expenses.
Q Now make a statement of what that money was paid for and how, so far as you remember, item for item now? Tell the first fifty dollars Duncan got; the next fifty dollars Bryant got; that was his attorneys fees; I speak of the attorneys fees now; the next money was the hundred that Campbell Taylor got; the next attorneys fees was Bryant's one hundred dollars.
Q Was that all the attorney's fees? A I think it was, no, wait, I paid Rose 15 dollars for taking Baker's deposition.

Q What Rose was that? A The old Chief, Will Rose I think was his name, William P. Rose.
Q So then, this Chief William P. Rose for taking the deposition of Mr. Baker charged you fifteen dollars? A Yes sir.
Q Do you remember that he acted as your attorney and examined him? A Yes sir.
He examined it before the Commission, took his statements.
Q What other attorneys were there present? A None of this was present.
Q Well now, go on? A Pay the expenses of taking Dr. Baker and he [illegible] Bryant, I will now I remember he charged me 5 dollars a day and I [illegible] and his expenses down there; we [illegible] through [illegible] Arkansas, to Arlington, and our board and [illegible] I think it was about 75 dollars more [illegible] taking it. Maybe a little over that.
Q Did you pay him a per diem? A I paid him five dollars a day for his time and then his expenses.

Q Well? A Well I made several trips out here at different times to Tahlequah before the Convention, and back, three or four trips as well as I remember now, cost I 20 or 25 dollars each trip, as I remember about it.

Q Do you remember how many trips aside from the one in which you brought Mr. Bakeps? A No, I think there was probably three trips I think it was, maybe more, and then I made one trip to Claremore to see A. R. Norwood.

Q What did that trip cost you? A I don't remember what it cost; I went on a horse then I think.

Q You went [illegible] Norwood before, down by railroad, what did that trip cost you? A I don't remember what it was, whether it was 21 dollars or 30 dollars, one or the other, I don't remember which it was, but between, or whether it was the first, it was either 21 or 31 dollars.

Q Was there any other amounts that you know of that was paid by you or your family, any members of your family, other than that you have enumerated? A I don't, I don't know; I can't tell to my memory right now.

Q What was the condition of the members of your family generally now, financially, at that time? A Well we were pretty poor people; I don't know, we didn't have much money, generally.

Q Was there any one of them that was better off than the others, and if so, which one? A I suppose Elbert Bruner was better off than the others, Buck Bruner.

Q Do you know how much Buck Bruner paid of these expenses? A I don't think he paid, he paid the large debt and the arrest debt, I think it was.

Q That is one hundred and fifty dollars? A Yes sir, that he came up on one trip and taken some evidence with Joel Bryant when Joel Bryant was Clerk of the Court before this Tehee Court, I don't know what that cost him.

Q Came up he heard tool sq. to Timony? A Yes, came up and went back to Texas. Filed his claim and took some testimony and went back to Texas and I didn't see him.

Q Did that testimony include Dr. Baker's testimony? A No sir.

Q You know how many witnesses were examined then? A I only know what he told me.

Q How many? A Four witnesses.

Q You know whether they were residents of the Cherokee Nation or not? A He told me they was.

Q Were you present on that trip in which he came there and took that testimony? A No, I met him there and then I went back home and left him at Tahlequah.

Q He had it on the testimony before you left him or afterwards? A He taken it afterwards; that was my understanding.

Q Did Buck Bruner pay the one hundred fifty dollars that you mention? A I think it was.

Q And the expenses of taking those witness up there A Yes sir.

Q You also interested many men of the members of your family? A My husband and father lived down in Sallisaw, me and my brother-in-law Alexander, we all chipped in together a few dollars from each family.

Q You heard the statement of C. C. brought that in June 1883 you were paid, that you had sent you 800 dollars, did you make any such statement to him? A I never did.

Q And that you paid one witness 300 dollars? A I never made any such statement.

Q Did you pay any witness any such sum? A No sir, I paid Dr. Walker for his time; he said his time was worth $ dollars a day, sir, and I paid it.
Q And you are not any witness any more than that? A No sir, he was the only witness I had down there in my case.
Q Well the Robert Dawson case? A Yes sir.
Q He says that you held him this in your house there on your place. Did you have any house there in June 1883? A I was not living on my farm at that time.
Q Did you have any farm? A Didn't have any.
Q When did you build a house there? A I built a house on the farm I live in now by Mr. Wright, I moved on the farm the last of July, 1883, and I carried in my wigwam.
Q What did you do? A I went to the timber and cut poles and boards out and made me a log cabin on the place by a spring near it, Wright.
Q About what time did you finish that house? A I was in September.
Q How long after you finished that house until you brought your family out? A I finished it up and got it covered and the floor in it and I went back to Dardanelle after my wife.
Q What family did you have then? A I had my wife and she had one child; but my oldest children, by my first wife were with me in the Territory, camping with me, three little boys and one girl were with me, and one girl back in Arkansas.
Q Are you and C. C. Brought on good terms? A No sir.
Q What has been the character of the trouble between you? A Trouble over our places first started it.
Q When did it begin? A As soon as I got back from Arkansas he commenced fencing crowding me out to take my farm and fronts, and we have been in a racket ever since.
Q Then his statement that you were on friendly terms, is it correct or not? A No sir, it aint correct.
Q He and you have never been friendly as neighbors then since you first came back from Arkansas and settled in the Territory? A I don't remember ever being in his house, I never was in his house.
Q Have you had law suits with each other? A Yes sir.
Q How many? A I don't know that we had any particular law suits, but I have had law suits and he has been a witness against me.
Q What was your last trouble with him, when I mean? A Along last fall.
Q That was when your boys had a little racket and he had your boy arrested? A Yes sir.
Q What was the age of those boys? A Eleven years old.
Q He had him arrested down at Vinita? A Yes sir, had his arrested and carried before the Commissioner at Vinita.
Q He was discharged on account of his age? A Yes sir.
Q Jack Dawson is dead is he? A Yes sir.
Q How long has he been dead? A Three years, little over three years.
Q And Jarus Dawson is dead? A Yes sir.
Q Is your father, Robert Dawson living? A No sir.
Q When did Jarus Dawson die? A I don't remember boy, been dead several years, I don't remember how long; 6 or 7 years, I couldn't state.
Q When did your father, Robert Dawson die? A I believe it was in 87 as I remember now, I might be mistaken.
Q Were all these moved to the Cherokee Nation before their death?
A No sir, father died in Arkansas.

Q Those that lived here in the Nation they lived here in the Nation but went back to Arkansas and died there? A Well the rest of my folks all lived here. That was James Dawson and Buck Dawson.
Q Robert Dawson, your father, never did move to the Territory, did he? A No.
Q Did you hear the statement of the witness Beavert this morning, that about the time of hearing of the James Dawson case, at a negro church at night James Dawson came down there with someone else was introduced to him, and he loaned him ten dollars; did you hear that statement this morning? A I heard the statement, yes sir, I heard it.
Q He says that man James Dawson was 35 or 40 years old; was there any James Dawson living below in, to your family at that time of any such age? A No sir.
Q How many James Dawson's were there belonging to your family? A There was my uncle James Dawson and a brother James Dawson, the Doctor here.
Q How old was your brother James Dawson then? A He was a tolerable old man, I don't know his age.
Q About what age? A What have been 60.
Q Between 60 and 70? A Yes sir.
Q That was the age of your brother James? A At that time?
Q Yes sir, in '84? A In '84 I suppose he was about 18, something like that.
Q Had he anything to do with the James Dawson case? A No sir.
Q Was he present at the time that the James Dawson case was under consideration? A No sir.
Q Was James Dawson, your uncle, James Dawson, present at any time during the consideration of his case? A No sir.
Q He never was present? A No sir, if Uncle Jim Dawson was ever in Tahlequah I never knew it.
Q Who conducted the prosecution of the James Dawson case before the Cherokee Citizenship Corrission, who conducted it? A The James Dawson case?
Q Yes sir? A I think James Low and Bill Jackson and Campbell Taylor.
Q Were you acting with them? A Yes sir.
Q They employed Campbell Taylor? A Yes sir.
Q Then there was no James Dawson present during that session of the Corrission? No sir.
Q What was the condition of James Dawson's health at that time?
A It was pretty poorly; was not good.
Q Was he at that time able to get about and attend to business?
A I don't think he was.
Q He was not a very feeble minded old man at that time? A Yes sir.
Q Regarded as rather a silly man was he not? A Yes sir.
Q Did he attend to any kind of business of the family at that time?
A No sir, didn't.
Q What was his financial condition? A Pretty bad.
Q Did he have any money? A No sir.
Q Did he have any property? A None hardly at all; horse probably, or a cow or two, or something that way.
Q Was that about all the property he had? A Yes sir.
Q How about the other members of his family that were admitted at that time; what was their financial condition? A They were in poor circumstances.
Q Now then after these judgments were rendered what members of your family removed to the Territory, Cherokee Nation, I will say?
A Robert Dawson and family and James Dawson and family, that is, them and their children.

Q Robert Dawson didn't remove here? A No, I said except Robert Dawson.
Q Did all the members of Robert Dawson family move here? A Yes sir.
Q Except himself? A Yes sir.
Q And all the members of James Dawson family? A No, not all the members, Melvina Low I don't think ever lived here.
Q She has never moved here? A No sir.
Q Well all the members of your family, your father's family included in that judgment of the Committee, rendered January 11th, 1883? A All but one.
Q What was the name of that one? A Edna.
Q A daughter? A Daughter of Robert Dawson.
Q Your sister? A Yes sir.
Q Was she then of age or was she a minor? A I think she was a minor, as well as I can remember.
Q Was she afterwards admitted to citizenship in the Cherokee Nation? A She was.
Q By a Commission or by the Cherokee Council? A She was first admitted by the Speaks Court, her and two of my neices.
Q What are their names? A Katie Vernon and Verna Fishback.
Q What became of that? A The certificate papers they got was lost, and they went before the Council in 1894 andthey was readmitted back by the act of Council.
Q That was in 1894, the Cherokee Council admitted, re-admitted as they called it, the three above named? A Yes sir. Mary and Verna Fishback and Katie Vernor, they have now the same names now except Vernor, it is not, Tob Robinson married the widow, a neice of mine.
Q Now then was there any other consideration of the Dawson case by the Cherokee authorities at any time aside from these two judgments in '83 and '84 admitting the two families of Robert and James Dawson, and the act of Council of '94 admitting these three whom you have just named? A Yes sir.
Q When? A My two of my sons was placed on the roll by the act of Council in 1892 I think it was; left off of the rolls in per capita payment and they was placed on the rolls I think, and Sam Nightingh member of Council, got their draft or checks for the money.
Q Have you got that copy of the act of Council admitting them?
A Yes sir.
Q There is it? A (Produces papers.)

BY MR. McKENNON: We offer in evidence an act of the Cherokee National Council making an appropriatinn of 20,000 dollars belonging to the general fund for the payment of certain persons therein named a per capita payment, as per amount set opposite their respective names, provided that the Principal Chief shall draw warrants for such amounts, and further provided "That the names of the persons appearing on the per capita rolls in this act shall be placed (on) the authenticated roll of 1880 by the Principal Chief."
This act was approved December 31, 1891.
Approval signed by Stephen Tenes, Assistant Acting Principal-
In this list appear the names of William R. Dawson for payment of $11,70, and of Marion Dawson, for a like sum. Are these now the names of two of your sons? A Yes sir.
(This paper above introduced, is filed and made a part of the records in this case.
Q Was there any other action of the Cherokee authorities relating to members of your family? A Yes sir.

Q When? A In 1894.
Q What was that? A Allowing them their Strip Money.
Q Have you a copy of that? A I think I have. (Produces papers.)
BY MR. McKENNON: We offer in evidence A duly certified copy of an Act of the Cherokee National Council approved November 24, 1894, signed C. J. Harris, Principal Chief. Senate Bill No. 18, appropriating a sufficient amount of money to make payment per capita of what is known as the strip money to certain persons named therein. Among them are members of the Blessingame family, as follows: Jane, Elbert, Henry, James Ross Bertie, Pearl, Ross, Myrtle, Winnie and Clifford; this act mentions these persons as Cherokees by blood, and whose names had been left off the pay roll approved May 3, 1894, providing a payment to each one of these a sum of $265.70.
Q Were these members of the Robert Dawson family? A Yes sir.
Q Which one of the members of the family? A Jane.
Q This is Jane who was admitted by the judgment admitting the Robert Dawson family? A Yes sir.
Q And her children? A Her children, was not admitted, she was admitted.
Q I mean this mentions her children here? A Yes, that mentions her children.
(The paper last above introduced is filed and made a part of the record in this case.)
Q Do you know whether the payment of the Cherokee Strip Money was to Cherokee citizens by blood only or not? A Yes sir.
Q Was there any other act of the Cherokee authorities passing upon the citizenship of members of your family? A Why the Douthett children, my brother's grand-children. Two grand-children of E. Dawson.
Q When was that? A That, I think it was in '84.
Q Have you got a copy of that act? A No, the record is here.
Q Was that by the Spears Court? A Yes sir, by the Spears Court.
BY MR. McKENNON: We now offere in evidence a judgment of the Cherokee Commission on Citizenship, 1880 and 1884, found on page 190, case No. 181, dated September 8th, 1884, signed by Eli Spears, President, John Lee and Andrew Young, Commissioners, admitting to citizenship Lula Douthett and Dallas Douthett as Cherokees by blood.
Q These now are the Douthetts to which you refer, are they? Yes sir.
BY MR. McKENNON: Attention is called to the fact that the names of the Commissioners are all signed in the same hand-writing as the record of the judgment.

The said judgment record above introduced, and found on page 190, No. 181, record of 1880 to 1884, is as follows:

"Office of Commission on Citizenship,

Submitted by defense Sept 9 1884.

And now on this the 12th day of September 1884 come this case for final hearing and all the evidence in the case having been carefully read, and considered by the Commission on Citizenship it has been decided by the Commission that the above named Lula Danthett and Dallas Danthett are Cherokees by blood, and that they are entitled to all the rights and privileges of Cherokee citizenship in the Cherokee Nation and that they should be, and are hereby admitted to the full and complete enjoyment of the same in all respects, as native born Cherokees.

Ellis Spears, Pres.
John Lee,
John L. Adair, Andrew Young,
Clk Com'n. Commission on Citizenship."

Q Now were there any other actions of the Cherokee authorities of like character relating to the members of your family?
A I don't remember of any others.
Q I will ask you if when the Cherokee authorities were making the roll of 1896, in compliance with the request of the Dawes Commission for a roll to be prepared by them for the use of the said Commission, the question of the citizenship of the members of your family was not then raised and an investigation had in regard to it? A Before the Dawes Commission?
Q No, before the Cherokee Commission making the roll of 1896, of which John T. Gunter was a member? A Yes sir, yes. I had forgot it, but since you have named it there was some investigation of that at that time; this is what I understood.
Q That roll shows that the members of your family were duly enrolled by that Commission? A Yes.

Q Have you and the other members of your family since your removal to the Territory in 1883 and immediately following been recognized as Cherokee citizens by blood? A Yes sir.

Q Have you been exercising and enjoying all the rights of Cherokee citizens by blood since that time? A Yes sir.
Q You and all the members of your family are living in the Cherokee Nation? A Yes sir.
Q You have all drawn Cherokee moneys whenever payments were made? A Yes sir.
Q And have you all male members been voting at the Cherokee elections or in the Cherokee elections? A Yes sir, I was one of the judges of the elections that was held voting on the treaty.
Q What treaty? A The treaty bill that was sent back here for the Cherokees to vote on; I was one of the judges at Afton.
Q In what year was that? A I believe it was last spring some time, last April.

Q Have any of you held any offices in the Cherokee Nation? A Yes sir.
Q What offices have the members of your family filled? A Deputy Clerk, under Pete Hastings, when he was clerk of Delaware District. I was a candidate once for Council in the Downing Party.

Q Can any office of deputy clerk be held by any one else except a recognized citizen? A Only by a citizen, yes sir.
Q Is that all? A (No reply).
Q Have the children of members of your family attended the Cherokee schools, and been educated in Cherokee schools? A Yes, sir.
Q Have the members of your family been all the while subject to the jurisdiction of the courts of the Cherokee Nation? A Yes sir.
Q Have they been tried for any offenses against the laws? Yes sir.
Q And have they instituted their civil suits in the courts of the Cherokee Nation? A Yes sir.
Q And had suits instituted against them in such courts? A Yes sir.
Q Some of these cases have gone to the Supreme Court of the Cherokee Nation? A Yes sir.
Q And were passed upon by that tribunal? A Yes sir.
Q Is there anything else? A Nothing now; I am sick this evening; I have got the head-ache so bad I can't hardly see.

BY MR. HUTCHINGS:

Q How old was your father Robert Dawson when he died? A I don't know, I couldn't answer that.
Q He was a very old man? A Yes sir, he was getting tolerably old.
Q Could you tell how much older he was than you? A No I don't know.
Q Mr. James Dawson in 1884 must have been a very old man wasn't he?
A Well he was old and he was feeble.
Q Well you stated that he had become silly: was he naturally that way? A He used to live in Texas: I didn't know him until after he came to the Territory.
Q I say he had gotten so old, that was the occasion of that?
A I suppose so, the oldest one of these children was Mrs. Betty Petty, that's my understanding.
Q And the oldest boy was John Dawson? A He always called him Jack.
Q Jack Dawson he was the oldest? A Yes sir.
Q Sam was the youngest? A Sam Riley.
Q He was the youngest one of the crowd? A Yes sir.
Q Your father lived four or five years after he and you were admitted to citizenship? Yes sir, something about that, it was in 1883, I think he died in 1887, I wont be positive; that is as near as I remember now. I have got a headache so bad that I can't remember anything.
Q He now none of the older members of the family were ever present at any of these trials of citizenship? A No sir, not a one of them was.
Q Not a one of them was ever called upon to testify as to the blood of their mother, who she was or anything about it? A I don't think they was.
Q Your claim of kinship was through Captain John Rogers and that your grandmother was the half sister of Big Joe Vann, wasn't it?
A I don't know, I couldn't answer the question.
Q You were there when they took the testimony? A I was there when Dr. Baker's testimony was taken, that was about 16 years ago.
Q And nobody kin to the Rogers and Vanns was ever called to testify in the case? A Not as I know of.
Q They were very well known Cherokee families in the coun try?
A I suppose so, I don't know.
Q And yet nobody on any side of the family connected with it was ever called to testify A Not that I know of, I don't know what my brother done, he taken some of the evidence at Tahlequah when I was not there; he first filed his claim.

Q You had spoken to Dr. Baker about the testifying before you brought your case didn't you? A No sir.
Q Must have been a short time afterwards? A It was a short time afterwards. I went back after him and it was too late and I fetched him the next time.
Q You had talked to your brother about what you could prove by Dr. Baker? A I told him I thought Dr. Baker, I thought he knew about our folks.
Q You had told him in a general way you expected to use Dr. Baker as a witness? A Yes sir.
Q You went off, came to Arkansas and left your brother at Tahlequah after you told him that fact? A Yes sir.
Q You didn't see your brother any more until after you were admitted? A No sir.
Q You and he however made trips back and forth to Tahlequah and here at different times, but you didn't happen to get together? A No. I never met him any more and I don't know that he was there until after we were admitted.
Q But you were there and brought Dr. Baker over? A Yes sir.
Q And took his testimony down on such a matter before ever you were admitted? A I think he did as I remember, yes sir.
Q How the way you came to get Campbell Taylor was on the recommendation of old man Bryant? A I didn't get him, didn't use him.
Q The way he came into your case? A The way he claimed to come in.
Q He did more in your case than Bryant did? A Campbell didn't do anything.
Q What did Bryant do? A I think he help my brother take evidence my brother employed him.
Q How did you happen to be sending money by Campbell to Mr. Duncan? A I never sent him any money.
Q Then when he, Mr. Duncan, states that Campbell delivered the money as Campbell said he did, both were wrong? A Oh no, you are mistaken, Mr. Duncan got 20 or 25 dollars, which he stated, from Campbell Taylor, for me.
Q How did you happen to give it to Campbell? A I give the money to Campbell to give to Joel Bryant, and he wouldn't do it, and I tried to get the money back from him, and I finally worked the 20 or 25 dollars he gave to Duncan.
Q Then you didn't tell Duncan as he testified that you sent 20 or 25 dollars by Campbell Taylor? A Campbell Taylor agreed to pay Duncan 20 or 25 dollars for me of the money I give him to give to Joel Bryant.
Q The family kept Campbell Taylor employed though as their attorney after that? A In the James Dawson case I think so.
Q E. Dawson, you remember, had him for his grand-children? A That is my understanding.
Q And your uncle James Dawson had him in the case of his children? A Uncle James had nothing to do with it; James Lowe and Bill Jackson got him; that was my understanding of who employed him.
Q The record here shows that the case was originally instituted by C. E. Taylor and was finally submitted by him September 2nd, 1884, in the James Dawson case? A I don't deny him being in that case.
Q You say he was employed in the E. Dawson case? A I don't know who was in the Douthett children's case.
Q The record shows that Campbell Taylor instituted the case, and it was finally submitted by him, and Mr. Beevert, who testified a while ago? A That was in the James Dawson case, wasn't it?
Q That was in the E. Dawson grand-children? A Elbert?
Q No, in the Douthett children's case? A Oh yes.

Q He was likewise attorney in the Mary Dawson case was he, and before the Adair Court, the 4th of October, 1887, in the case of James K. P. Dawson? A I don't know anything about that.
Q And the case involving of Riley Dawson? A I don't know anything about those.
Q They are relations of yours? A Well I wouldn't say.
Q James K. P. Dawson proves to be a son of Riley Dawson? A Well if he is he is no connection them. There are so many Dawsons I don't know them all.
Q You know Andrew J. Dawson? A Yes sir.
Q The Dawsons have so many children their brothers didn't hardly know them did they? A That's it, I don't know them.
Q Well then you don't know who Andrew J. Dawson is? A No sir, I don't know.
Q He refers in his application as being a cousin of E. Dawson, and your self, who were admitted to citizenship by the Tehlo Court? A He may be, I don't know nothing about it.
Q He resided I believe, at that time at Nevada, Missouri? A I don't know anything about the people.
Q Old man Baker was an old and paralyzed man at the time he testified wasn't he? A Getting old, he was not paralyzed.
Q Then the statement made that the reason he couldn't write his name and had to make his mark, because he was paralyzed, in the testimony isn't that true? A He didn't have good use of his fingers.
Q Then he was not paralyzed? A No, I brought him over there in a hack from Berryville, Arkansas.
Q Well I say he was a very old man? A Yes, getting old.
Q Now didn't you come to this place and then joining Brought's and work on it some time before you brought your family? A No, I brought my family with me, except my wife.
Q And you subsequently built a log house on it? A Yes sir.
Q And went back and got your wife and moved them to the log house? A Yes sir, went to Eureka and got my wife.
Q You never saw your grandfather at all? A Sal Dawson, yes sir, I saw him.
Q You remember do you of being with him much of any at all? A I was in Texas in time of the war, with my uncle Riley Dawson, and he was there.
Q In '60 sometime? A '62, I reckon, or '63. Somewhere along there, it was in time of the war.
Q How old a man was he at that time? A Pretty old man.
Q You never saw your grandmother, she died before she came? A Yes sir, I never saw her at all.
Q Who first started the citizenship matter, your brother in Texas or you? A Why it was me, and my brother together.
Q I mean who first conceived the idea? A I first commenced talking about it.
Q And sent down for him? A I was in Texas with him and then in Arkansas; I went backwards and forwards a time or two after the war.
Q About that time nearly everybody in Arkansas were trying to get some claim of kinship to Cherokees? A No sir, not at that time.
Q They were getting pretty thick in there in 1900? A Well in 83 and '4 and '5 I think.
Q Been more excitement over there to get yourselves on the rolls? A Just got to be everybody; but it wasn't at the time we was admitted there was not much stir about the rights here.
Q Well the Watts had been admitted before that? A I suppose they had; there was not much excitement over the Watts claim at that time.

BY MR. HASTINGS:

Q You did locate and house with Sam Shables when you first came to Tahlequah in 1913? A I think I did.

Q Your brother Wat Dawson stayed there also? A Yes sir.

Q Sam Shables lived in the north end of town, big ferran? A Yes sir, old German lived in the lower part of town.

Q Did you ever hear the names of any other witnesses which you stated perhaps testified in your case? A I have heard them but I have forgot them.

Q You don't recollect any name now? A I dont remember them now sir.

Q In the Irene House case and Joann Barber case, in which you testified before the Commission, when you were making search for this testimony you couldn't find any other testimony from that of record except the Dr. Baker testimony, could you? A That's all we could find, no we didn't find the testimony, we got a copy.

Q Well it must have been a copy of the original, the certificate shows that? A I don't know; House got a copy of what claimed to be the affidavit of Baker and he told me to give it to him; that is all I know about it.

Q Well the certificate there does not bear my certificate does it? A I don't know about that, I am no scholar.

Q Well you didn't get the testimony of any other witness except that of Dr. Baker; you couldn't find any other over there of record? A I didn't hunt for any; House hunted for them.

Q None of you have ever been able to find any other? A No. Not even find our petition.

Q Samiel R. Dawson applied to what is known as the Adair Court, didn't he? A I don't remember now.

Q He was an uncle of yours wasn't he? A Yes sir, claimed to be.

Q The father of these two parties who testified here this morning? A Well I don't know, they claimed to be, I never met them to know them.

Q He was rejected by the Adair Court, or Mayes Court? A I don't know whether he filed his petition.

Q Did you testify in his case? A I don't remember; I might have dont it.

Q Didn't you testify in the Andrew J. Dawson case before what is known as the Mayes Court? A I don't recollect, if I did I don't remember.

Q Did you testify in the Piley Dawson case? A No sir, not that I remember.

Q Didn't you know of his being rejected by that court? A I don't remember, sir.

Q You know that the Cherokee Council never authenticated the roll of 1896, don't you? A No sir, I don't know it; I didn't know this was done until I went to Tahlequah after some papers and could not and they told me about it.

Q You never found out that C. H. Taylor was a big rascal up until the present time have you? A (No response)

Q The records here show that he has been in the constant employment of your family from that date up to this time? A Why it shows here from the record; I could not be excused for any part of it.

Q You were the man that had the most to do with it? A I never employed him, I can say that.

Q You are the man that had most to do with the records? A In my case and in my father's case.

Q Didn't you testify for your uncle Jim Dawson? A Yes sir.

Q Wasn't he attorney for him? A Yes sir.

Q Wasn't he employed by Mr Dawson after you got your citizenship?
A Why not but the armed-children.
Q Did Mr son's petition was filed in Septe ber 1883, after yours?
A Yes sir.
Q C. H. Taylor, attorney of record, filed his petition? A He might have filed it for all I knew.
Q Well you hadn't at that time fallen out with C. H. Taylor had you? A Why no, we never did have any trouble, only over the money, he never would give it back to me or give it to Bryant.
Q You never discovered that he was such a bad man until after your judgment was rendered? A I knew he was not of good character.
Q Are you and Bright, this man who testified for the Cherokee Nation, on speaking terms? A Hardly speak.
Q Does he refuse to speak to you? A So plain he does.
Q Do you refuse to speak to him? A Yes sir.
Q Have you been speaking to him for the last two or three months? A I have not spoke to him until I met him here at the hotel the other day.
Q First time you spoke to him since he had the boy arrested? A Yes sir.
Q When did he have the boy arrested? A Along in Septe ber or October, septe ber I think.
Q Then did Dr. Baker die? A I don't re e ber.
Q You don't re e ber how much older your father was than you?
A No, I don't know.
Q What is your age? A I will be 60 in May.
Q Then you were born in '42? A Yes sir, '42 according to the record.
Q Was your father as much as 25 years old when you were born?
A I couldn't say.
Q What was your best judgment? A I suppose he was 20 or 35 years old. My understanding he married young.
Q Can't you give any better idea than 4 or 5 years of your father's age? A I say 25.
Q Your father was born say, 25 from 42 would have made him be born in 1817; now had your father any older brothers or sisters? A I think Jack Dawson was the oldest of the family, no, Betty, the girl, was the oldest and Jack next, and then my father as well as I re e ber about it.
Q There were two girls older? A No, one of the girls I never saw.
Q Then you think there are only 3 older than your father? A Yes, that's my understanding of the family.
Q Dr. Baker gives his age 75 in '82, which would make him be born in '89, now he states that when he was 15 or 16 years old, which added to 1809, will make 1824, that your grandmother Anna Priett, as a school girl: whereas from your testimony and that of the family history introduced here shows that your grandmother Anna Priett was the mother of seven children, the youngest being born in 1837, how do you reconcile that? A I don't re e ber about the statement of Dr. Baker; I don't know what he made such statement as that, I don't re e ber about it.
Q And if he did you don't know how to reconcile it ? A (No response.)

Q Did you talk to any of the e bers of the Court that admitted you? A No sir, I was not acquainted with them.
Q You know whether they were old or young men? A They were old men like; Steve Tehee, I got acquainted with him afterwards, and Tobe Thompson, at the Council you know I was there a good deal.

Q That was the ballot that was on the Senate? A Yes sir.
Q He was afterwards Assistant Chief of the Cherokee Nation?
A I think so.
Q Steven Tehee, that's the man you had reference to? A Yes sir, I think it was, I just know the name, I had no acquaintance with him at all.
Q D. W. C. Duncan swore that you were down there at the National Hotel? A I think he did, as well as I remember how when he were admitted.
Q Don't you know he did? A I think he did, as well as I remember.
Q Were not you over there to him from Fay think I was.
Q You remember when it was that you brought Dr. Baker down there to make a statement before the Court? A It was in January, Ter., was in January Term of 1882 I believe, it was, as well as I remember about it.
Q Well you didn't take any more testimony after Dr. Baker testified?
A No sir, I didn't.
Q Was your case then pending or passed upon for a hour?
A I think it was, yes sir, as well as I remember.
Q I would like to ask you when the Blannings family came to the Cherokee Nation? A Alex Bolding came with me when we moved here, and went back and got his family and moved that fall.
Q Did he move his family here that same fall? A Yes sir.
Q What years was that? A In the fall of '87 I believe it was, as well as I remember now.
Q When did the Sulenka family come? A I think the girl and the old lady came in the next spring.
Q How long did they remain that time? A The old lady stayed here, but this girl went back and in a short time her and her husband came back.
Q Did she come back until after her marriage? A No, she was married when she came first.
Q The last time? A She was married I think, she was married when she came out.
Q How long has August Sulenka been a permanent and continuous resident of the Cherokee Nation? A I think he came there in the fall of 1884 or 1885, I don't say which.
Q How long has Robert Pierce been a continuous resident of the Cherokee Nation? A Ever since he was admitted.
Q When was that? A '83.
Q How long has Martin L. Patterson? A Ever since he married his wife, and he was living here before he married his wife.
Q Who is Arizona Airey? A That is my daughter.
Q Did you bring her with you? A No not when I moved.
Q When did she come? A She came out in a year or two after I moved here.
Q Was she married when you moved here? A No sir, she was not married.
Q She was not married when you were admitted? A No sir, she was a child.
Q When did Jim Lowe come to this country? A With his grandfather, James Dawson.
Q What was his father's name? A Melvind Dawson.
Q You know Jim Lowe's age? A No sir.
Q Don't know how old he was in '83? A No sir.
Q Was he grown? A I think he was.
Q Married? A No no.
Q Married in this country? A Yes sir
Q Who is James H. Dawson? A Married one of the Jackson girls.

Q When did they come to this country? A Right away after they was admitted.
Q In what year? A I think the winter of '94, I think it was, spring or winter of '94.
Q You knew Gideon Graham? A Yes sir.
Q Who is his father? A Missouri Ann Graham, formerly Missouri Ann Dawson.
Q Did he come from Texas to Arkansas? A Came from Texas.
Q Did you know them in Texas? A I knew the girl.
Q You never knew them until they came to this country? A I never knew Sis.
Q When did you see him here? A I think they came here in the fall or winter of 1894 or '5.
Q He was married then? A I think so, yes.
Q Married his wife? A I think he was, I don't know.
Q Did he have any children when you first saw him? A He came to my house and I never saw his family for-I don't know, for several years.
Q You understood he had a family? A Yes sir.

BY MR. McKENNON:

Q Did you mean to say '84 or '94? A '84.
Q Did you see Gid Graham in '84? A '84, let me study, maybe '85.

BY MR. HASTINGS:

Q Did you see him in '85, are you positive on that proposition? A I think so.
Q Will you swear it? A No sir, I won't positive swear it, but I think it was, I remember now it was; I couldn't say positive.
Q All the people Mr. Duncan that have been admitted to citizenship by courts of competent jurisdiction unless they were de-citizenised by courts of acquired jurisdiction, enjoyed the same privileges that you have mentioned here about going to sch ol and being tried in the courts? A Yes sir.

Q All that sort of thing that you have been telling here in your direct examination? A Ask me the question again.
Q I say all people who were admitted here by courts of competent jurisdiction, until they were de-citizenised by courts of like jurisdiction, enjoyed the same privileges that you did? A So far as I knew they was.
Q They All drawed money and all tried in the courts as long as we had tribunal courts, were they not? A Yes sir, so far as I know.
Q That was no special privilege granted to you in preference to anybody else? A None but recognized citizens of the Cherokee Nation.
Q Well you had been recognized since you were admitted? A Yes sir, I enjoyed the same privileges of native born Cherokees.
Q Well I say there is nothing special about it? A No, I don't know or there is.
Q You got acquainted with Mr. Duncan while you were up there during the hearing? A Yes sir, I was acquainted with him, knew him, when I saw him.
Q Mr. Pitt Rose did the examination of Dr. Baker? A Yes sir.
Q Did you file any other paper before the Court other than your petition And then Dr. Baker's statement? A I never filed any petition there at all.
Q Read whatever? A I don't remember any.
Q Well you never had occasion to file any papers before Mr. Duncan? A I got him to do some writing for me.
Q What? A Letters to my brother in Texas.
Q Buck Duncan? A Yes sir, B. Duncan.

Q What? A Yes sir, Buck Dawson.
Q Well is that all he did for you? A I don't remember now about it.
Q Why didn't you get your attorney to do that letter writing? A There was not any there.
Q Taylor nor Benge was not there then? A No sir.
Q That is what you paid the 40 or 45 dollars for, was writing this letter back to your brother? A I paid it for that claim.
Q When did you pay that? A I think I paid it, I don't exactly when, Camp Taylor paid it a year or two after I moved out here and settled where I did, might have been 2 years. I don't remember.
Q Where was Dawson living then? A I couldn't say where.
Q Was he still clerk of this Court? A No sir, not when that money was paid, that is, when Camp Taylor said he paid it.
Q You did send Camp Taylor more money? A I sent some money to him for Joel Bryant.
Q You know Joel Bryant's ad rem didn't you? A No, I don't know that, I did. No I didn't send Camp Taylor any money, I gave it to him.
Q How much do you give him? A One hundred dollars.
Q What? A Right at that time; he asked it from me as soon as we got our papers, he came onto me and dunned me for Bryant.
Q You never sent him any then after that? A No sir.
Q Did you ever see Bryant after that? A Yes sir.
Q How long after that? A I don't know, a year or two afterward, a year I believe, my brother wrote, I wrote to my brother about paying Camp Taylor money and he went onto my brother about it and he never paid him until he moved out to this country.
Q After all that you got him to attorn to your uncle Jno Dawson's and the other relatives cases? A The other parties did.

BY MR. McKENNON:

Applicants object to all that part of the witness' evidence in response to interrogatories by representatives of the Cherokee Nation which relates to the character of the evidence upon which the judgments admitting members of the Jones and Robert Dawson families were admitted, and to the history of the members of the Dawson family, because the same is immaterial, incompetent and irrelevant.

BY MR. McKENNON:

Q One question I omitted to ask you Mr. Dawson, as to the Court at the time the judgment admitting Robert Dawson's family was rendered, who of the judges were present on that day? A They was all three of them, Wolfe, Tehee and Thompson.
Q Are you positive of that fact? A Yes sir.
Q You do not know this Andrew Dawson family who applied to the Dawes Commission for Cherokee citizenship, and who stated that they are cousins of some members of your family? A Andrew?
Q Andrew J. Dawson, who claim to be from Missouri? A How was the question?
Q You do not know them do you? A I don't know that they are any kin to us.
Q You don't know that they are related to you at all? A No sir.
Q This Mary Dawson case, do you know the members of that family? A No sir, I don't.
Q Don't know who they are? A No sir.
Q The Robbeen Dawson case? A I don't know her either.
Q You don't know whether they are related to you or not? A No sir.
Q If any of these persons are related to you or your family did you have any knowledge of it? A Not as I know of.

Q Joanna Barber, do you know anything about them? A They claim to be kin to me.
Q Where are they from? A They are from Texas.
Q Do you know they are related to you? A They claim to be kin.
BY MR. HASTINGS:
Q Tell you were for them before the Commission? A Yes, they claim to be relatives of mine.
BY MR. McKENNON:
Q Irene J. House, who is that? A That is a cousin of mine; claims to be.
BY MR. HASTINGS:
Q You testified for her didn't you before the Commission? A I think - I did as well as I remember.
BY MR. McKENNON:
Q Before the Court that admitted Jared Dawson and family, who were the witnesses there? A Oliver Miller, from Perryville, Arkansas.
Q Who were the witness? A Myself and J. Dawson and there was two other witnesses, I don't remember who they are.
Q Were they Cherokee citizens and residents of the Cherokee Nation? A Yes sir.
BY MR. HASTINGS:
Q You don't remember their names? A No sir.
Q Of these other people who claimed to be citizens of the Cherokee Nation and who were witnesses? A I said about me and J. Dawson was citizens of the Cherokee Nation.
Q You only proved that Jim Dawson was a brother of Robert Dawson before the Court? A Yes sir.
Q And then referred back to the decision in the Court before? A We proved that they were citizens, and he knew my folks before we ever came here.
Q Was he older than Dr. Baker? A About the same age.
Q Why didn't you get Oliver Miller's testimony in the House case?
Q He was dead.
Q You and no member of your family in the Irene House case or the Joanna Barber case or any of those cases that were tried before the Dawes Commission in your affidavits ever made reference to the fact that Oliver Miller testified in Jim Dawson's case in '84 did you? A I don't remember about that.
Q You did make reference to the fact that Dr. Baker testified there in '83, didn't you? A I don't remember about that now.
Q You never made reference to any other witness having testified other than Dr. Baker did you? A I don't remember about it now.
BY MR. McKENNON:
Now just one other question: All of these papers in the original application and everything, so far as you know, in the James Dawson case, were filed before the Commission which admitted the James Dawson family, are lost or mislaid are they not? A I suppose they are, I don't know, I never saw them.
Q Have you tried to get copies of them? A Yes sir, I tried to get the original papers.

BY COMMISSION: This case is continued until 8:30 a.m., tomorrow morning, March 20th, 1902, it now being the hour for adjournment.

MARCH 20, 1902,- 8:30 a. m.- W. T. DAWSON again on the stand, testifies as follows:
BY MR. McKENNON:
Where was your brother Jim Dawson raised? A In Arkansas.

Q What County? A Carroll.
Q Near what town? A Berryville.
Q Did Dr. Major live at Berryville? A Yes sir.
Q Was your brother intimately acquainted with him for many years? A Yes sir.
Q Did he know him sufficiently to be acquainted with his character and habits of life? A Yes, sir.
Q Do you know Josephine Pierce? A Yes sir.
Q Whose daughter was she? A Robert Dawson's.
Q Is she the same identical person who is called Josie Pierce, and Josie Dawson? A Yes sir.
Q Is there any other Josie Pierce or Josie Dawson or Josephine Pierce or Josephine Dawson? A I don't know but the one.
Q She was also called Josephine or Josie Kelly? A Yes, after she married her first husband was Pierce.
Q And her second husband A Was Kelly.
Q There was another Josephine Dawson wasn't there, Balaska's wife? A Why they called her Joe, I suppose that's her name, I could not be positive that was Rile Dawson's daughter, August Balaska's wife.
Q She is much younger than your sister, Josephine, above referred to? A Yes sir, oh yes.

BY MR. HUTCHINGS:

Q Where were you born, Mr. Dawson? A Carroll County, Arkansas.
Q You know how old you are? A 42.
Q 42? A I think so.
Q How many older children were there of your father and mother than yourself? A Three.
Q Which were they? A E. Dawson, Riley Dawson and Jasper Dawson.
Q You are the fourth child and the fourth boy? A Yes sir, fourth boy.
Q There were your father and mother married, do you know, from family history? A I think it was in Arkansas, I couldn't be positive, I think they was.
Q Do you know how long your grandfather lived in Arkansas? A No sir I don't.
Q Don't know what year he came to Arkansas? A Only from statement.
Q Well what did they say about it? A I think they came there some time in '30.
Q You know whether your father was born in Arkansas? No any of your grandfather's children were born there? A There was none of them born in Arkansas according to history and according to what he always told me, they were born in Tennessee.
Q He came there in '30, and all the other children were born on the Hiwassee River in Tennessee, before he ever came? A That is what I think, yes sir. Now I am not positive about that. They were from Tennessee, but either Dr. Major lived there or my folks came from there; I don't know as I remember that I ever heard my father any where he was born at.
Q In Tennessee somewhere; he said he was a good big boy when he came to Arkansas? A I don't know as I ever heard him say.
Q Do you know the difference in the ages of yourself and your three older brothers? A No I don't.
Q Don't know the time that comes in between you? A No I don't know that; I think it is about two years though.
Q That would make E. Dawson about eight years older than you, probably? A Yes sir.

BY MR. McKENNON:
Q Did Josephine Pierce have a daughter who married Mr. Bogle?
A Yes sir.
Q What was her name? A I always knowed her by Dode Pierce; I don't know whether that is her right name or not.
Q What is Bogle's name? A John Bogle.
Q She is the child of Josephine Pierce who married John Bogle?
A Yes sir.
BY MR. HASTINGS:
Q Where did she marry John Bogle? A Near Afton.
Q When? A I couldn't state.
Q About when? A You have got a copy of the marriage license.
Q When did Josephine Pierce come to the Cherokee Nation? A '83.
Q Has she lived here continuously since that time? A Up until her death; she is dead.
Q Any of her children come with her at that time? A Yes sir.
Q And have they lived here continuously since that time? A Yes sir, except Bill Pierce, he went to Colorado and died.

J. C. STARR, being first duly sworn and being examined, testified as follows:
BY MR. McKENNON:
Q Your name is J. C. Starr is it? A Yes sir.
Q Mr. Starr, was that instrument taken by you, or before you? (Showing witness document.)
A Yes sir.
Q Where? A At the residence of S. H. Benge: near Fort Gibson.
Q When? A On the 15th day of this month.
Q What day of the week was that? A On Saturday.
Q Is that the day it was taken? A Yes sir.
Q Did you go there on Saturday to take this? A Yes sir.
Q Then when Judge Benge stated on Tuesday that it was taken "yesterday" meaning Monday, the 17th, he was mistaken, was he?
A It was taken Saturday, the 15th.
Q Was he mistaken or not? A It was not taken then.
Q Then his statement made on Tuesday the 18th that it was taken on "yesterday", meaning Monday, the 17th, was not correct, was it?
A I think not, because I was there, and it was taken on the 15th.
Q And it was taken on the 15th, you are positive it was taken on the 15th? A Yes sir.

Q Then of course his statement could not be correct? A I guess not.
BY MR. HASTINGS:
Q He was just mistaken about the date, wasn't he? A Yes sir.
BY MR. McKENNON:
Q Did you tell Charles T. Moore who is now present, on last Tuesday that they sent you out there on Monday to take that? A No sir.
BY MR. HASTINGS:
Q I sent you there last Saturday? A Yes sir.
Q And you went there at my direction, didn't you? A Yes sir, and come back Saturday night.

ROBERT L. DAWSON, being first duly sworn, and being examined testified as follows:
BY MR. McKENNON:
Q What is your name? A My name is Robert L. Dawson.
Q What is your age? A My age is something close to 30 years old, I am 29 past.

Q Are you a son of E. Dawson, commonly known as Buck Dawson?
A Yes sir.
Q I will ask you if you will examine this letter sent with the enclosure and state whether or not you found that among the papers of your father after his death? A (Hands letter to witness who examines it) A Yes sir, I found this amongst the papers of my father. He always kept all his own papers, and on looking over them I saw this letter.
Q Has that been in your custody ever since you found it? A Yes sir, if that's the letter that was in the envelope.
Q Well that's what it is, you can tell whether it is or not. (Witness further examines letter) Q That purports to be a letter from Samuel H. Benge, does it not, to your father? A Yes sir. (Here Applicants' attorney hands letter and envelope referred to to attorneys for Cherokee Nation.)

BY MR. McKENNON: I want to offer this letter in evidence in this case: it is a letter signed by S. H. Benge, attorney at law, dated Fort Gibson, C. N., Jan. 13, 1883. Addressed to Mr. E. Dawson, Esq., together with the envelope, in which it was enclosed, with the card of S. H. Taylor upon it, attorney at law, Tahlequah, Indian Territory, and postmarked Tahlequah, Ind. T., January 13.

BY MR. HUTCHINGS: The Nation objects to the introduction of this letter for the reason that S. H. Benge is living and has testified in this case, and his handwriting should be either proven or denied by himself.

G. W. BENGE, being first duly sworn, and being examined, testified as follows:
BY MR. McKENNON:
Q What is your name? A G. W. Benge.
Q Are you a son of Samuel H. Benge? A Yes sir.
Q Do youknow his handwriting? A I believe so.
Q Is that his handwriting? (Shows witness letter before referred to.) A Yes sir, it is either his or a resemblance of his.
Q To the best of your knowledge and belief is that his letter?
A Yes sir.

BY MR. McKENNON: Now we offer it in evidence.

BY COMMISSION: (Reading letter)

"Fort Gibson, C. N.,
Jan 13th, 1883.

Mr. E. Dawson, Esq.,

Dear Sir:- I write this note to inform you that your case came off before the Court on Citizenship on the 11th inst, and was decided in your favor. so you all are citizens of this Nation. E. M. Dawson was furnished with a copy of the decision at the court. He will write to you also. You will please send me fifty dollars as my fee in your case according to contract. Send it to Fort Gibson, Cherokee Nation.

Respectfully yours,
S. H. Benge,
Attorney at law."

Enclosed in envelope, as follows:
Card in upper corner, left hand:
"Return in ten days to S. H. Benge,
Attorney at Law,
Tahlequah, Ind. Ter."
Addressed: "Mr. E. Dawson"

Henryetta,
Clay Co., Texas."

Post-marked: " Tahlequah, Jan 17 Ind T."

ROBERT L. DAWSON, re-called and further examined, testified as follows:

BY MR. McKENNON:

Q Now examine that and see if that is also a paper which you found among your father's papers after his death? (Hands papers to witness) A That is the same letter that I found.

Q Among the ones that you found the Bange letter? A Yes sir.

BY MR. McKENNON: This is a letter purporting to have been written by J. M. Bryan, to R. Dawson, dated at Choutean Station, Cherokee Nation, and not dated, which we offer in evidence. (Applicants' attorney hands said paper to Nation's attorneys.)

Q Mr. Bryan is dead is he not? A I think so.

BY MR. HUTCHINGS: We have no objection.

BY COMMISSION: (reads letter)

"Choutean Station, Cherokee Nation.
I. T., M. K. & T. R. R.

MR. Dawson:

Dear Sir:-

I am in receipt of your favor of the 30th inst in regard to our contract.

After I had got the claim so there would be little more to do I employed Campbell Taylor to answer for me when the case came up, for which I was to pay him $30 out of my fee.

This all the action I had in the matter with Taylor.

I saw Taylor in Washington last month, and he told me that your brother had made another contract with him, and paid him, or that you was to pay him $100- and that you had offered him a check on some bank in Texas.

That $100- matter with Taylor, I have nothing to do with, nor couldn't have if I wanted to.

I hope Mr. Dawson this letter will explain the matter fully.

And I am satisfied that you are apprised of the earnest work I done for you, Please write to me.

Very respectfully,
Very truly,
J. M. Bryan."

Q I will ask you if you know of your father having paid Bryan that money? A Yes sir, paid him a horse and some other money.

BY MR. HUTCHINGS:

Q How old was your father when he died? A No, I don't know whether I know his age or not.

Q If you don't know you can't say? A I wouldn't have no reason to know his age; never asked his his age; of course I guess my mother known.

Q Never had occasion to talk about his age at all? A Oh I have heard him speaking of his age at different times, but then I never paid enough attention to it.

Gid Graham, being first duly sworn and being examined testified as follows:

BY MR. McKENNON:

Q What is your name? A Gid Graham.

Q How old are you? A Mr. Graham? A I am 35 years old.
Q How long have you been living in the Territory? A I came out here in 1887 or '88.
Q To the Cherokee Nation? A Yes sir.
Q How long have you been living in the Cherokee Nation, what year was that '87 or '8? A Yes sir.
Q Have you resided here continuously from that time ever since in the Territory? A Yes sir.
Q How long did you live in the Cherokee Nation? A About 6 years.
Q Where did you go then? A Wagoner.
Q In the Creek Nation? A Yes sir.
Q And been residing there ever since? A Yes sir.
Q In business? A Yes sir.
Q Have you all the while been recognized as a citizen of the Cherokee Nation? A Yes sir.
Q Mr. Graham, do you know Judge Samuel H. Benge? A Yes sir.
Q Did you have a conversation with him in Fort Gibson about September of 1900? A Well as to the exact time I couldn't say, it was sometime about the time that the Dawes Commission were at Sallisaw, or possibly a little later, somewhere about there.
Q Taking the census of the Cherokees? A Yes sir.
Q At that time had the question of the validity of the judgment of the Cherokee citizenship commission admitting Robert Dawson and family been called in question? A Yes sir.
Q Did you talk to him about the facts concerning the obtaining of that judgment? A I did.
Q What did he tell you about it; well I will just ask you, did he then and there tell you that that judgment was regular and all right nothing wrong with it? A He did.

BY MR. HUTCHINGS:

Q You were looking around for testimony at that time, Mr. Graham, were you? A How was that?
Q You were looking around for testimony at that time, expecting this case to be questioned? A Since the validity of that judgment had been attacked by the authorities of the Cherokee Nation, I thought it was well to look into the matter.
Q And he told you the judgment was all right? A Having known that Mr. Benge was connected with the case, I saw him in Fort Gibson, subsequent to that time and asked him about it, if there was anything wrong about the matter, and also that I might want his affidavit concerning the matter, and I also I think maybe wrote to him; possibly prior to that, I am not sure as to the writing, but I think possibly I did.
Q Did he tell you he would make an affidavit? A I don't think at that time that I asked him for an affidavit. I thought as he lived right near here I would use him in person; he assured me that everything was all right.
Q Your mother was Missouri Dawson was not she? A Yes sir.
Q Her name was Missouri Graham when she was re-admitted to citizenship? A Yes sir.
Q And was not Missouri Dawson as named in that judgment? A Yes sir.
Q Do you know whether the other children named in there had married and changed their names also at the time they were admitted? A There were not any of them married.
Q Ella Dawson was your aunt? A Yes sir.
Q Was she married at that time? In 1883? A Yes sir.
Q Melvina Dawson, was she married at that time? A Yes sir.
Q And the fourth one you have mentioned, Missouri Dawson, was your mother? A Yes sir.

Q Can you give us the exact date of your birth? A Yes sir.
Q Do so, please? A January 21, 1867.
Q And you came to the Territory when? A In 1887 or 1888.
Q You can't make that any more definite? A Well sir, it has been a good while ago, and I didn't have anything to cause me to.
Q Well I just want to know whether you did have or not? A No sir.
Q When were you married? A 1886.
Q You were married prior to coming here? A Yes sir.
Q Your first child born away from here? A Yes sir.
Q What is its name? A John W.
Q '86 you were married, and he was born about the spring of '87? A Somewhere in 1887, I don't remember.
Q Prior to your coming here? A Yes sir.
Q That is the only child you had that was born away from here? A No sir, Julius.
Q Julius was not born in the Territory? A No sir.
Q And prior to the time of your removing to the Territory? A Yes sir.
Q These are the only children born out? A Yes sir.

BY MR. McKENNON:

Q Do you know Campbell Taylor? A Yes sir.
Q I will ask you if about February 1901, he came to Wagoner, and sent his son to have you come to the hotel at night where he was, and if he then and there said to you "You people are on the doubtful list, and if you will give me five hundred dollars I will make it all right and see that you are enrolled, and if you don't I will see that you don't get on".? A Well now as to the first part of thatquestion, where you say he sent his son; that is an error; I don't know whether he came to my house or sent some one; when I returned home that evening my wife told me there was some one there to see me, and was at the city hotel at Wagoner, and said come down and see him; I went down there; I never had met Taylor; he introduced himself to me and stated what his business was; asked me if I was on the doubtful list, etc., to which I replied that we were; he asked me if I didn't want to employ him, stating that if we would give him, our family would give him five hundred dollars he would see that we were placed on the rolls all right, but if we refused to give him five hundred dollars that he would use his influence against us and see that we were rejected.
Q You never had met him before, or had any communication with him? A I never met him before; as to the communication, I may have written him something about his affidavit as to the validity of that judgment, I can't say as to that. He said in his testimony that I did; I don't know whether I did or not now.

BY MR. HUTCHINGS:

Q You knew he was the attorney in the case, originally? A After looking at the records I did.
Q I mean you knew it at the time you wrote to him about the affidavit; that was the reason why you thought he would know something? A Certainly.
Q He never told you he was going to swear against you or threatened to tell anything that was not true? A He just simply said unless we gave him that five hundred dollars he would see we were all put off the rolls.
Q Said he would use his influence against you, that is what he said? A Yes sir.

BY MR. HASTINGS:
Q You don't deny writing to him then for the affidavit? A I don't say I did or I did not; I neither affirm it or deny the question.
Q You went to Captain Ponge and also wrote him with reference to what he knew about the case? A I don't know whether I wrote him or not, I said I was under the impression I wrote his son.
Q You went to see Aaron Butler, who was interpreter before that court that admitted you? A Yes sir.
Q And you went with Aaron Butler to see Jim Smith, attorney before that court? A Yes sir.
Q And you either wrote or went to see everybody you knew of that was before that court then? A Yes sir.
Q That shows you used considerable activity? A Yes sir, I used such activity as was to my interest.
BY MR. McKENNON:
Q That was all after the representatives of the Cherokee Nation objected to the enrollment of the Dawson family and by reason thereof each as had appeared before the objection had been placed upon a doubtful card? A Yes sir.
Q Then you began to look up the evidence and see what there was in it? A Yes sir.
Q As Mr. Hastings has stated? A That's right.
BY MR. McKENNON:
Q You are a grandson of James Dawson? A Yes sir.
Q The old gentleman? A Yes sir.
Q About what was his age when he was admitted to citizenship in the Cherokee Nation, in 1834; wasn't it? A Yes sir, well I can't be exact as to that.
Q Well as nearly as you can? A He was somewhere about 70 or 72, years of age.
Q Well what other James Dawson did you know belonging to the families, either one of these families, Robert Dawson family or the James Dawson family? A I never knew of but two James Dawsons.
Q Who were the others? A Dr. James R. Dawson, who is present and standing right here; my grandfather, James Dawson.
Q Was there in '84 any James R. Dawson 35 or 40 or 45 years old, that you know of, belonging to either one of these families?
A No sir.
Q Do you know how old Dr. James R. Dawson was that that time?
A James Dawson? Q No I am speaking of Dr. James R. Dawson? A Oh, how old he was, no sir, I do not.
BY MR. HUTCHINGS:
Q Do you know who was here attending to your mother's citizenship case at that time, at the time they were admitted? A Yes sir, James Low and Bill Jackson, son of Ellen Jackson.
Q Who was W. A. Dawson? A That is Wilburn, my uncle.
Q Was he here? A I don't know sir.
Q You were not here any of the time? A No sir.
Q You knew your grandfather then, you had lived in the same neighborhood with him? A Yes sir, I knew him well.
Q He didn't die for a year or two after that did he? A After when, Mr. Hutchings?
Q After his admission to citizenship? A No sir, he didn't die I think until '91 or '90, several years after.
Q Very old man when he died? A Yes sir.
BY MR. McKENNON:
Q About what age? A He was approximately 80 years old.
BY MR. HUTCHINGS:
Q When he died? A Yes sir.

BY MR. HASTINGS:
Q That about 1881? A I think so, yes sir.
BY MR. McKENNON:
Applicants object to the testimony of the witness elicited by interrogatories of Counsel for the Cherokee Nation relating to his family, their history, etc, as being immaterial, irrelevant and incompetent.

James R. Dawson, being first duly sworn, and being examined, testified as follows:
BY MR. McKENNON:
Q Your name is James R. Dawson? A Yes sir.
Q Where do you live? A Afton, Indian Territory.
Q What is your age? A 45.
Q You are a physician are you not? A Yes sir.
Q Was James Dawson, whose family was admitted in 1884, an uncle of yours? A Yes sir.
Q Do you know what his age was at that time? A No sir, I do not, only approximately.
Q State as nearly as you can? A At the time of theadmission?
Q Yes sir? A About 70, I don't know exactly.
Q How old was he when he died? A I would suppose he was about 78.
Q What was your age in 1884? A I am 45.
Q What year were you born, Doctor? A I was born in '55.
Q That have been '84? A Yes sir, that's right.
Q What was your age then? A In '84?
Q Yes sir? A About 28.
Q Were you present at the time that James Dawson family was admitted, or at any time while their case was pending before the Cherokee citizenship commission? A Not while the James Dawson case was, no sir.
Q You were present during your father's cases? A I was there at the time.
Q When was that? A The dates I cannot remember when the case first come up, I cannot remember the exact date.
Q How long were you there? A I was there about a week.
Q Was that when it first came up you say? A Yes sir.
Q Nothing was done? A No sir.
BY MR. HUTCHINGS:
Q You never saw Dr. Baker? A Yes sir.
Q Did he and your uncle Jimmie use to talk about how they played together when they were boys? A My uncle Jim and Dr. Baker talk?
Q Yes? A I never saw them together.
Q They were about the same age? A Yes sir, I believe Dr. Baker was 15 years older probably.
Q Dr. Baker must have been mistaken about his own age? A Guessing, that's all I know about his age.
Q The Doctor had been paralyzed, rather a decrepit looking man at the time he was over here at this citizenship business? A No sir, not as I know anything about.
Q He was near about 70 then? A I couldn't tell you, he was an old looking man.
Q Your uncle Jimmie was about 70? A Yes sir.

TESTIMONY ON BEHALF OF THE CHEROKEE NATION.

W. W. HASTINGS, being first duly sworn, and being examined testified as follows:
DIRECT EXAMINATION BY MR. HUTCHINGS:

Q State your name? A W. W. Hastings.
Q Residence? A Tahlequah, age 35.
Q You are attorney for the Cherokee Nation in the general preparation of these cases? A Yes sir.
Q Just state how it happened that you summoned Mr. Campbell Taylor, and what occurred between you with reference to his testimony?
A Well there had been some talk, as the testimony here indicates, that there was perhaps fraud in the admission of this family, and by agreement with counsel on the other side, and the Commission, this case was set for the 17th day of March, and some short time prior to that, as the attorney for the Nation I began to make some preparation or inquiry into the case, and I wrote a great many letters around to different people and among them I wrote C. H. Taylor to come down here. I don't think in that letter that I told him what I wanted with him. I don't think I told him the case that I wanted him to testify in; that is my recollection now. Mr. Taylor prior to that time, neither directly nor indirectly, so far as I know, ever gave me any information voluntarily against this family, or ever said anything that would lead me to believe that he knew anything of a fraudulent character connected with it. But I summoned him; perhaps the fact that I knew he had been connected with them in some way and that I perhaps also would get some information from him. Well he came in response to a letter that I wrote, and I took him up to my office. I talked to him quite a long while. He was exceedingly reluctant about giving any testimony whatever, he told me first and last that he didn't intend to testify before the Commission. He told me he had been attorney for these people, and he didn't believe he could be compelled to testify, and that is he was put upon the stand he would claim that privilege, and he didn't believe I could force him to testify. I talked to him at some considerable length; I asked him what he knew about it; of course he for a long time declined to tell me; and what information I did get from him was by piecemeal. He was exceedingly reluctant all through the interview to give any information. I asked him finally though that if the Court compelled him to testify when he got before the Commission, if he would tell the facts about it, and he said that he would. I told him then that I would subpoena him.
Well we talked quite a good while and finally after always telling me that he intended to claim that privilege, and never wanting to testify, he detailed to me the facts just as he told them on the stand; I don't believe there is the slightest variation, except that he perhaps was not so full at that time and it was told by piecemeal, but I got all those facts out of him, or very nearly all those facts out of him. He may have elaborated a little more here by examination; but he never voluntarily gave me any information at all, either directly or so far as I know indirectly. I don't think he sent any one to me. I got his name because I heard he was connected with the case, and perhaps knew something about it, like I did a great many other people, some of whom I didn't bring, because they didn't know what I supposed they did know about the case.

With reference to S. H. Benge, I want to state that he never voluntarily gave me any information at all about this case, nor did I know that he knew anything in connection with this case until I sent J. C. Starr over to S. H. Benge's place to take his affidavit on Saturday, March 15, in the W. H. and J. W. Shoemake case, and the descendants. I had heard that Mr. Benge knew some important facts in connection with the Shoemake case and I sent him over there then to take that affidavit; and when Mr. Starr came back he told me that he knew some facts also in connection with these other cases, and I was surprised to find he had instead of one affidavit, in the Shoemake case, that he also had another affidavit in the Dawson case. That is the first information I had that Mr. Benge knew anything whatever in connection with the Dawson case, and therefore he never voluntarily, either directly or indirectly gave any information prior to that time to me.

I impressed upon Mr. Taylor that the Nation only wanted the absolute truth in this matter; that it was not seeking anything else but the truth, and didn't want him to tell anything else but the truth.

I want to say again that after he was on the stand and left that evening, and after Captain McKennon, or counsel for the family, had indicated his willingness for Mr. Taylor to testify, that he went over all of these facts that he testified to on the stand subsequent to that time in the presence of J. C. Starr in my office. I simply wanted to go on the stand for the purpose of showing that Mr. Taylor hadn't voluntarily given me any information, and I make this statement for that purpose.

BY MR. McKENNON:

Q You had no power to compel him to give you any information at that time at all did you? A No sir, none other than the persuation that I brought to use.
Q He therefore did it simply upon your persuation? A Yes sir.
Q You knew he had been acting as attorney for these parties?
A Yes sir, I had seen from the record that he did too.
Q And he told you so? A Yes sir.

BY COMMISSION: The attorneys for the applicant and the representatives of the Cherokee Nation will be granted thirty days from the receipt of the transcript in this case in which to file a brief in this case with the Commission.

I, M. D. Green, do hereby certify that as stenographer to the Commission to the Five Civilized Tribes I correctly recorded the testimony and proceedings in this case and that the foregoing is a true and complete transcript of my stenographic notes thereof.

(Signed) M. D. Green.

I, Arthur C. Evans, being duly sworn, state that as stenographer to the commission to the Five Civilized Tribes I copied the foregoing, and that the same is a true and complete copy of the original.

R E C I T A L S.

It appears from the record herein that applications were made to this Commission at the times and places hereinafter mentioned for the enrollment of the following named persons as citizens of the Cherokee Nation;

D 324 By Francis M. Dawson, son of Robert Dawson, at Vinita, Indian Territory, on September 17, 1900, for the enrollment of himself and his minor children, Lula, Ray, Jessie J., Jacob L., Hugh A. and Laura A. Dawson as citizens by blood, and for the enrollment of his wife Katie Dawson as a citizen by intermarriage. Further proceedings were had in the matter of said application at Muskogee, Indian Territory, on April 8, and October 20, 1902.

D 580 By John Dawson, at Nowata, Indian Territory, on October 15, 1900, for the enrollment of himself as a citizen by blood. Further proceedings were had in the matter of said application at Muskogee, Indian Territory, on July 1, 1902.

D 581 By William R. Dawson, at Nowata, Indian Territory, on October 15, 1900, for the enrollment of himself and his wife, Fannie Dawson as citizens by blood. Fannie Dawson has been differently classified and is not embraced in this decision.

D 584 By Andrew G. Atkins, at Nowata, Indian Territory, on October 16, 1900, for the enrollment of himself as a citizen by intermarriage, and for the enrollment of his wife, Lizzie Atkins and his minor children, Homer, Nina E., Edward C. and George J. F. Atkins as citizens by blood. Further proceedings were had in the matter of said application at Muskogee, Indian Territory, on October 15, 1902.

D 588 By Francis M. Dawson, Jr., son of Francis M. Dawson and grandson of Robert Dawson, at Nowata, Indian Territory, on October 16, 1900, for the enrollment of himself as a citizen by blood.

D 555 By Francis M. Dawson, Sr., at Chelsea, Indian Territory, on November 20, 1900, for the enrollment of his daughter Arizona Allred and his grand-son William C. Allred as citizens by blood.

D 550 By Samuel R. Dawson, at Vinita, Indian Territory, on September 19, 1900, for the enrollment of himself and his two minor children August and Mate Dawson, as citizens by blood, and for the enrollment of his wife Catherine Dawson as a citizen by intermarriage. Further proceedings were had in the matter of said application at Muskogee, Indian Territory, October 3, 1902.

All of these proceedings have been made a part of the record herein.

The evidence, and an examination of the records of the Cherokee Nation, in the possession of this Commission show that on January 11, 1883, one Robert Dawson and his adult children, F. M. Dawson, Elbert Dawson, Jasper Dawson, Mollie Dawson, Wilborn Dawson, James Dawson, Rial Dawson, Josephine Dawson, Joseph Dawson, Jane Dawson and John Dawson were admitted to citizenship in the Cherokee Nation by the Cherokee Commission on Citizenship, commonly known as the "Teehee Court", and that on September 9, 1884, one James Dawson, a brother of the Robert Dawson aforesaid, together with his adult children, Ella Dawson, W. A. Dawson, Malvina Dawson and Missouri Dawson were admitted to citizenship in the Cherokee Nation by the Cherokee Commission on Citizenship commonly known as the "Spears Court." In addition to their tribal enrollment as shown by the evidence herein, it also appears from an examination of the Cherokee tribal rolls, in the possession of this Commission, that F. M. Dawson is identified on the Cherokee pay rolls of 1883 and 1894, Elbert Dawson on the Cherokee pay roll of 1886, Mollie Dawson on the pay roll of 1883, Wilborn Dawson on the pay rolls of 1886 and 1894, James Dawson on the pay rolls of 1883 and 1894, Rial Dawson on the pay rolls of 1886 and 1894, Josephine Dawson on the pay roll of 1894, Jane Dawson on the pay roll of 1883, Joseph Dawson and John Dawson on the pay rolls of 1883, 1886 and 1894, Ella Dawson and W.A.

Dawson on the pay roll of 1880, and Missouri Dawson on the pay roll of 1884.

A majority of the above named persons, together with the descendants of the persons admitted as aforesaid and such white persons as may have intermarried with the said Dawsons or their descendants are the applicants herein.

For convenience, the applications are divided into groups:

Group 1, includes the applications of Francis M. Dawson and those claiming through him and embraces cases numbered D 324, D 500, D 531, D 584, D 588 and D 835.

The evidence shows that Francis M. Dawson is the same person admitted to citizenship as hereinbefore stated under the name of F.M. Dawson. Katie Dawson, his wife, was married to him on November 21, 1880. The Cherokee Supreme Court in the cases of Cherokee Nation vs. Nancy Rogers and Melissa Dawson vs. W. A. Dawson held that a white woman married to a Cherokee Indian at the time of his admission to citizenship acquires thereby the rights of Cherokee citizenship. She has lived with her said husband since they were married, and the six children included in the application of said Francis M. Dawson, and hereinbefore named are the issue of the marriage aforesaid. All the applicants herein are identified on the Cherokee Census roll of 1896.

John Dawson, William R. Dawson, Lizzie Atkins, formerly Dawson, Francis M. Dawson, Jr., and Arizona Allred are the children of said Francis M. Dawson by a former wife, Julia Ann. They were minors at the date of their father's admission to citizenship. John Dawson, Lizzie Atkins and Francis M. Dawson, Jr., are identified on the Strip Payment roll of 1894, and William R. Dawson and Arizona Allred are identified on the Cherokee Census roll of 1896.

Andrew C. Atkins was married under a Cherokee marriage license and in accordance with the laws of the Cherokee Nation on March 29, 1893, to the above named Lizzie Dawson. He has resided in the Cherokee Nation with his said wife since they were married, and the four children included in his application, and hereinbefore named are the issue of that marriage. The oldest child, Arthur, is identified on the Cherokee pay roll of 1894, and the three younger children are identified by birth affidavits on file with this Commission.

Arizona Allred, nee Dawson, came from Arkansas to the Cherokee Nation for the first time in 1894, remained there about two years and then returned to Arkansas, where she was married to Lee Allred. Such marriage was not in accordance with the laws of the Cherokee Nation. Arizona Allred and her husband came to the Cherokee Nation in 1896, stayed there a month and returned to Arkansas where they remained until September, 1898, at which time they came to the Cherokee Nation, remained there about a year and returned to Arkansas in 1899, where they were living at the date of this application. William C. Allred is the child of said Arizona Allred and possesses no rights not acquired by his mother. He is identified on the Cherokee Census roll of 1896.

Paragraph 9, Section 21, of the Act of Congress approved June 28, 1898 (30 Stats., 495) provides:

> "No person shall be enrolled who has not heretofore removed to and in good faith settled in the Nation in which he claims citizenship."

The evidence further shows that Francis M. Dawson, his wife, Katie and William R. Dawson, Francis M. Dawson, Jr., and Lizzie Atkins have resided in the Cherokee Nation since 1883, and Andrew C. Atkins, the husband of said Lizzie Atkins, since 1891, and that John Dawson has resided in the Cherokee Nation for at least fourteen years prior to the date of his application. The residence of the minor children of the above named persons is considered to be that of their parents, with whom they are living.

Group II, includes the applications of Samuel R. Dawson, together with those claiming through him and embraces cases numbered D 350, D 358, D 359, D 366, D 402 and D 403.

The evidence shows that Samuel R. Dawson is identified as the Rial Dawson admitted to citizenship in the Cherokee Nation as hereinbefore stated. His wife, Catherine, a white woman, was married to him on July 11, 1866. The Cherokee Supreme Court in the cases of Cherokee Nation vs. Nancy Rogers and Melissa Dawson vs. W. A. Dawson held that a white woman married to a Cherokee Indian at the time of his admission to citizenship acquires thereby the rights of Cherokee citizenship. She has lived with her said husband since their marriage, and August and Mate Dawson are the issue of the aforesaid marriage. Samuel R. Dawson, his wife and children are identified on the Cherokee Census roll of 1896.

Robert Dawson, Albert H. Dawson, Josephine Bulawsky, formerly Josephine Dawson, John W. Dawson, and Katie Newman, formerly Katie Dawson are the children of said Samuel R. Dawson. They were minors at the date of their father's admission to citizenship, and they are all identified on the Cherokee Census roll of 1896.

Sarah F. Dawson, nee Abbott, was married to the said Albert H. Dawson in October, 1894. She has lived with her said husband, since they were married. Ralph H., Alford and Cecil Dawson are the issue of that marriage. Sarah F. Dawson and her child Ralph H. are identified on the Cherokee Census roll of 1896. Alford is identified by a birth affidavit on file with this Commission. The evidence further shows that the youngest child, Cecil Dawson, is dead.

August Bulawsky, was married under a Cherokee marriage license and in accordance with the laws of the Cherokee Nation on May 25, 1893, to the said Josephine Dawson. He has lived with his said wife since they were married and the six children included in his application, and hereinbefore named, are the issue of that marriage. The four older children are identified on the Cherokee Census roll of 1896, and the Starr Payment roll of 1894. May Bulawsky is identified on the Cherokee Census roll of 1896, and Oscar Bulawsky is identified by a birth affidavit on file with this Commission.

Mamie Dawson, nee Baugher, was married to the said John W. Dawson on September 8, 1894, and she has lived with her said husband since they were married.

The evidence further shows that Samuel R. Dawson, his wife, Catherine, and Robert Dawson, Albert H. Dawson, John W. Dawson, and Katie Newman have resided in the Cherokee Nation since 1886, August Bulawsky and his wife Josephine, since 1892, and Sarah F. and Mamie Dawson since 1894. The residence of the minor children included in this group is considered to be that of their parents, with whom they are living.

Group III, includes the application of John Dawson, and those claiming through him and embraces cases numbered D 578, D 360 and D 530. The evidence shows that John Dawson is the same person admitted to citizenship in the Cherokee Nation as hereinbefore stated. Sarah J. Dawson, nee Wood, his wife, a white woman, was married to him on October 4, 1871. The Cherokee Supreme Court in the cases of Cherokee Nation vs. Nancy Rogers and Melissa Dawson vs. W. A. Dawson held that a white woman married to a Cherokee Indian at the time of his admission to citizenship acquires thereby the rights of Cherokee citizenship. She has lived with her said husband since they were married and the nine children included in the application of said John Dawson, and hereinbefore named, are the issue of said marriage. John Dawson, his wife, and his seven older children are identified on the Cherokee Census roll of 1896. The two younger children are identified by birth affidavits on file with this Commission.

Thomas P. Dawson and Orle H. Dawson are the children of said John Dawson. They were minors at the date of their father's admission to citizenship, and they are both identified on the Cherokee

Census roll of 1896.

Thomas P. Dawson was married on April 24, 1888, to Allen A. Allison, and Marion J. Dawson is the issue of that marriage. The said child is identified by a birth affidavit on file with this Commission.

Orlo M. Dawson was married on December 28, 1899, to Mattie York, and Burr M. and James W. Dawson are the issue of that marriage. The said children are identified by birth affidavits on file with this Commission.

The evidence further shows that the said John Dawson and his wife, Sarah J., have resided together in the Cherokee Nation since 1883; that said Orlo M. Dawson has resided in the Cherokee Nation since 1885, and that Thomas P. Dawson has resided in the Cherokee Nation since 1888. The residence of the minor children herein is considered to be that of their parents, with whom they are living.

Group IV, includes the applications of those claiming through the said Josephine Dawson, now deceased. At the time of her admission she was the wife of one Thomas Pierce, but was admitted to citizenship under maiden name of Dawson. The group embraces cases numbered D 408, D 409, D 431, D 471, D 472 and D 479.

The evidence shows that Robert Pierce, William Pierce, Charles E. Pierce, Oma Gray, formerly Oma Pierce, Effie Pierce (now Effie Akin) and Nancy J. Bogle, formerly Nancy J. Pierce are the children of said Josephine Dawson. They were minors at the date of their mother's admission to citizenship, and they are all identified on the Cherokee Census roll of 1896.

Nellie Pierce, a white woman, was married to said Robert Pierce on July 16, 1894. She has lived with her said husband since they were married, and Myrtle and Arthur Pierce are the issue of that marriage. Nellie Pierce is identified on the Cherokee Census roll of 1896, and her two children are identified by birth affidavits on file with this Commission.

Ora Gray was married to John B. Gray on April 7, 1898, and Cecil and Dalton Gray are the issue of that marriage. Ora Gray is identified on the strip payment roll of 1894 and her children are identified by birth affidavits on file with this Commission.

John S. Bogle was married under a Cherokee Marriage license, and in accordance with the laws of the Cherokee Nation on April 5, 1894, to the above named Nancy J. Pierce. He has lived with his said wife since they were married and the six children included in his application, and hereinbefore named, are the issue of that marriage. John S. Bogle and his two older children are identified on the Cherokee Census roll of 1896, and his four younger children are identified by birth affidavits on file with this Commission.

The evidence further shows that the said William Pierce died in January, 1902.

It further appears that Robert Pierce, Charles E. Pierce, Nancy J. Bogle and Ora Gray have resided in the Cherokee Nation since 1884; that John S. Bogle, husband of Nancy J. Bogle, and Nellie Pierce, wife of Robert Pierce, have resided in said Nation ever since they were married, and the residence of the minor children herein is considered to be that of their parents with whom they are living. It appears that Effie Akin was seventeen years old at the date of the application for her enrollment, and it further appears that she resided in the Cherokee Nation from about 1886 up to December, 1900, when she went to Colorado, was married there to Will Akin, and is now living in that state with her said husband.

Group V, includes the application of the said Joseph Dawson, Wilborn Dawson and James Dawson, and embraces cases numbered D 364, D 475 and D 526.

Joseph R. Dawson is identified as the Joseph Dawson admitted to citizenship in the Cherokee Nation as hereinbefore stated. He was married to Florence Jackson on May 16, 1886, and they have lived together since the date of their marriage. The said Florence Jackson is the daughter of Rila Dawson, but she was of age at the date of her mother's admission to citizenship. The six children included in the application of said Joseph R. Dawson, and hereinbefore named, are the issue of the marriage between the said Joseph R. Dawson and Florence Jackson. The applicant, his said wife and his four elder children are identified on the Cherokee Census roll of 1896. The two younger children are identified by birth affidavits on file with this Commission.

Wilborn Dawson is identified as the person of that name admitted to citizenship in the Cherokee Nation as hereinbefore stated. He is identified on the Cherokee Census roll of 1896.

James R. Dawson is identified as the James Dawson admitted to citizenship in the Cherokee Nation as heretofore stated. His wife, Martha A. Dawson was married to him on February 20, 1890. She has lived with her said husband since the date of their marriage, and the four children included in the application of said James R. Dawson, and hereinbefore named, are the issue of said marriage. The applicant, his said wife and his three elder children are identified on the Cherokee Census roll of 1896. The youngest child is identified by a birth affidavit on file with this Commission.

The evidence further shows that Joseph R. Dawson has resided in the Cherokee Nation since 1883; that Florence Dawson and Wilborn Dawson have resided in said Nation since 1886, and that James R. Dawson has resided in said Nation since 1883, excepting a temporary absence from 1889 to 1891. The residence of the minor children included in this group is considered to be that of their parents, with whom they are living.

Group VI, includes the application of Mollie Dawson and those claiming through her and embraces case numbered D 518.

The evidence shows that Mollie Moore, formerly Dawson, is identified as the Mollie Dawson admitted to citizenship in the Cherokee Nation as hereinbefore stated. Her husband, Charles T. Moore, was married to her under a Cherokee marriage license, and in accordance with the laws of the Cherokee Nation on January 27, 1897. He has lived with his said wife since they were married and the six children included in his application, and hereinbefore named, are the issue of said marriage. Charles T. Moore, his wife Mollie, and his four older children are identified on the Cherokee Census roll of 1896; the two younger children are identified by birth affidavits on file with this Commission.

The evidence further shows that said Charles T. Moore, his wife Mollie and his oldest child have resided in the Cherokee Nation since 1893; the younger children have resided in said nation all their lives.

Group VII, includes the applications of those claiming through the above named Jane Dawson, who, at the time of her admission to citizenship in the Cherokee Nation, as hereinbefore stated, was the wife of one Alexander Blasingame, but she was admitted under her maiden name of Dawson. Jane Dawson is a resident of Arkansas, and is not an applicant for enrollment. This group embraces cases numbered D 832, D 833 and D 834.

The evidence shows that Henry A. Blasingame, Elbert L. Blasingame, and James R. Blasingame are the children of said Jane Dawson. They were minors at the time of their mother's admission to citizenship and they are all identified on the Cherokee Census roll of 1896.

Henry A. Blasingame was married to his wife Birdie J., on December 6, 1896, and Vinnie C. Blasingame is the issue of that marriage. The said child is identified by a birth affidavit on file with this Commission.

Ida Blasingame, a white woman, was married to the said Elbert L. Blasingame on September 5, 1894. She has lived with her said husband ever since they were married and the four minor children included in the application of said Elbert L. Blasingame are the issue of that marriage. The said Ida Blasingame and her two older children are identified on the Cherokee Census roll of 1896. The two younger children are identified by birth affidavits on file with this Commission.

Mary A. Blasingame was married to the said James R. Blasingame on August 11, 1895. She has lived with her said husband since they were married and the three minor children included in the application of said James R. Blasingame, and hereinbefore named, are the issue of that marriage. Mary A. Blasingame and her oldest child are identified on the Cherokee Census roll of 1896. The two younger children are identified by birth affidavits on file with this Commission.

The evidence further shows that the said Henry A. Blasingame, Elbert L. Blasingame and James R. Blasingame removed to the Cherokee Nation in 1897 and have resided therein with their said wives ever since. The residence of the minor children included in this group is considered to be that of their parents, with whom they are living.

Group VIII, includes the applications of those claiming through the said Elbert Dawson, and embraces cases numbered D 435, D 604, D 608, D 605, D 606, D 617, D 626 and D 627.

The evidence shows that Zona Patterson, formerly Dawson, William C. Dawson, Robert L. Dawson, Elbert B. Dawson, Richard W. Dawson, Ella L. Spickerman, formerly Dawson, and Francis M. Dawson are the children of the said Elbert Dawson. All of them, excepting the said Francis M. Dawson, were minors at the time of their father's admission to citizenship. Zona Patterson is identified on the Cherokee Census roll of 1896, and William C. Dawson, Robert L. Dawson, Elbert B. Dawson and Richard W. Dawson are identified on the Strip payment roll of 1894. An examination of the Cherokee tribal rolls, in the possession of this Commission, shows that the said Ella L. Spickerman is also identified on the Strip Payment roll of 1894.

Martin L. Patterson was married under a Cherokee marriage license, and in accordance with the laws of the Cherokee Nation on July 13, 1896, to the said Rena Dawson. He has lived with his said wife since they were married and the six children included in his application, and hereinbefore named, are the issue of that marriage. Martin L. Patterson and his three older children are identified on the Cherokee Census roll of 1896, and his three younger children are identified by birth affidavits on file with this Commission.

Alice Dawson, nee Alexander, was married to the said William C. Dawson on November 18, 1886. She has lived with her said husband ever since they were married.

Elbert B. Dawson was married on February 16, 1898, to Cora Bright, a non-citizen, and his child Ralph E. Dawson is the issue of that marriage. The said child is identified by a birth affidavit on file with this Commission.

Sarah J. Dawson, nee Jones, was married to the above named Elbert Dawson about 1854, and lived with him as his wife until his death in February, 1899, and has not re-married since his death. The Cherokee Supreme Court in the cases of Cherokee Nation vs. Nancy Rogers and Melissa Dawson vs. W. A. Dawson held that a white woman married to a Cherokee Indian at the time of his admission to citizenship acquires thereby the rights of Cherokee citizenship.

Richard W. Dawson was married to Luella Mason, a white woman, on January 24, 1898. His child Ina E. Dawson is the issue of that marriage, and she is identified by a birth affidavit on file with this Commission.

Ella L. Spickerman was married to John J. Spickerman, a white man on September 7, 1897. Her children Nellen J. and William Glenn are the issue of that marriage. They are identified by birth affidavits on file with this Commission.

It further appears from the evidence that Francis M. Dawson, son of Elbert Dawson, at the time of his father's admission to citizenship in the Cherokee Nation was twenty-two or twenty-three years old. There is no evidence that the said Francis M. Dawson has been admitted to citizenship in the Cherokee Nation by the duly constituted authorities of said Nation, or by the Commission to the Five Civilized Tribes, or by the United States Court under the provisions of the Act of Congress of June 10, 1896 (29 Stats., 321), Section twenty-one of the Act of Congress approved June 28, 1898 (30 Stats., 495), provides for the enrollment of,

> "all persons who have been enrolled by the tribal authorities who have heretofore made permanent settlement in the Cherokee Nation whose parents, by reason of their Cherokee blood have been lawfully admitted to citizenship by the tribal authorities, and who were minors when their parents were so admitted."

The evidence further shows that Zona Patterson, William C. Dawson and Richard W. Dawson have resided in the Cherokee Nation since 1884; Robert L. Dawson, Elbert B. Dawson, Sarah J. Dawson, and Ella L. Spickerman since 1883; Alice Dawson since 1836, and Martin L. Patterson since 1894. The residence of the minor children included in this group is considered to be that of their parents, with whom they are living.

Group IX, includes the applications of the said Missouri Dawson, and those claiming through her. The said Missouri Dawson at the time of her admission to citizenship was the wife of one John W. Graham, but she was admitted under her maiden name of Dawson, This group embraces cases numbered D 23, D 35, D 836, D 1124, D 1125, D 1126, D 1127 and D 1128.

The evidence shows that John W. Graham was married under a Cherokee marriage license, and in accordance with the laws of the Cherokee Nation on February 12, 1888, to the said Missouri Dawson. He had been formerly married to her in the State of Texas in 1868, and has lived with her since that time. Tempa V. and Robert S. Graham are the issue of the aforesaid marriage. John W. Graham, his wife and two children are identified on the Cherokee Census roll of 1896.

erly married to her in the State of Texas in 1886, ith her since that time. Tompa V. and Robert S. Gras of the aforesaid marriage. John W. Graham, his ildren are identified on the Cherokee Census roll of

Joe E. Graham was married to Mary Bradshaw, a non-citizen on January 6, 1898. William C. Graham is the issue of that marriage, and he is identified by a birth affidavit on file with this Commission.

John F. Graham was married on February 11, 1900, to Mattie Lawson, a non-citizen, and Edna M. and Robert Lee are the issue of that marriage. Said children are identified by birth affidavits on file with this Commission.

Bessie Graham was married on November 2, 1892. to the said James M. Graham. She has lived with him since the date of their marriage, and the six children included in the application of said James M. Graham, and hereinbefore named, are the issue of the said marriage. The oldest child Marion is identified on the Strip payment roll of 1894, and the five younger children are identified by birth affidavits on file with this Commission.

The evidence further shows that the said John W. Graham, his wife Missouri Graham, Gideon Graham, Mathew A. Painter, and his wife Laverna A. Painter, Florence P. Bradshaw, John F. Graham and Joe Willis Neal have resided in the Cherokee Nation since 1888, and that Joe E. Graham and James M. Graham have resided in the Cherokee Nation since 1884. The residence of the minor children included in this group is considered to be that of their parents, with whom they are living.

Group X, includes the application of the said Ella Dawson and those claiming through her. The said Ella Dawson, at the time of her admission to citizenship, was the wife of Green W. Jackson, but she was admitted to citizenship under her maiden name of Dawson. This group embraces cases numbered D 395, D 476, D 508, D 830 and D 847.

The evidence shows that Green W. Jackson was married under a Cherokee marriage license, and in accordance with the laws of the Cherokee Nation on March 24, 1887 to the said Ella Dawson. He had been previously married to her in Texas prior to her admission to citizenship. From an affidavit made a part of this record it appears that Green W. Jackson died subsequent to the date of this application, and prior to September 1, 1902.

The evidence further shows that Flora Harmon, formerly Jackson, Tahlo A. Jackson, William Jackson and Fannie Lonex, formerly Jackson are the children of said Ella Dawson, now Ella Jackson. Flora Harmon, Tahlo A. Jackson and Fannie Lonex were minors at the date of their mother's admission to citizenship, and they are all identified on the Cherokee Census Roll of 1896.

James H. Harmon was married under a Cherokee marriage license, and in accordance with the laws of the Cherokee Nation on April 24, 1887, to the said Flora Jackson. He has lived with his wife since the date of their marriage, and the four minor children included in his application, and hereinbefore named, are the issue of the said marriage. James H. Harmon and his three elder children are identified on the Cherokee Census roll of 1896. The youngest child is identified by a birth affidavit on file with this Commission.

William C. Lonex was married under a Cherokee marriage license, and in accordance with the laws of the Cherokee Nation on April 1, 1888, to the said Fannie Jackson. He has lived with his wife since the date of their marriage, and the two children Birtie E. and Myrtle Lonex, included in his application, are the issue of the said marriage. William C. Lonex and his two children are identified on the Cherokee Census roll of 1896.

Lizzie Jackson claims to have been married in 1888 to the said William Jackson, who is now deceased. It appears that William Jackson at the date of his mother's admission to citizenship, was over twenty-one years old. There is no evidence that the said William Jackson was ever admitted to citizenship in the Cherokee Nation, by the duly constituted authorities of said Nation, or by the Commission to the Five Civilized Tribes, or by the United States Court under the provisions of the Act of Congress approved June 10, 1896 (29 Stats., 321). Lizzie Jackson and the five minor children included in her application, and hereinbefore named, are identified on the Cherokee Census roll of 1896, and they take only such rights as may have been possessed by the said William Jackson. The authority of the Commission herein is defined in Section twenty-one of the Act of Congress approved June 28, 1898 (30 Stats., 495), heretofore quoted.

The evidence further shows that the said Ella Jackson, the said Flora Harmon and the said Tsakie A. Jackson have resided in the Cherokee Nation since 1884, and that William S. Lenox, and his wife Fannie Lenox have resided in the Cherokee Nation since 1888. The residence of the minor children included in this group is considered to be that of their parents, with whom they are living.

Group XI, includes the applications of those claiming through Malvina Dawson and embraces case numbered D 359.

The evidence shows that James Lowe is the son of the said Malvina Dawson, and that at the time of her admission to citizenship the said James Lowe was over 21 years old. There is no evidence that the said James Lowe was ever admitted to citizenship in the Cherokee Nation, by the duly constituted authorities of said Nation, or by the Commission to the Five Civilized Tribes, or by the United States Court under the provisions of the Act of Congress approved June 10, 1896 (29 Stats., 321). It further appears that the said James Lowe was married on June 12, 1887, to Mollie Knight, a white woman, and the four minor children included in his application and hereinbefore named, are the issue of that marriage. James Lowe and his said children are identified on the Cherokee Census roll of 1896 and said children take only the rights which may have been acquired by their father.

The authority of the Commission herein is derived in Section 21 of the Act of Congress approved June 28, 1898 (30 Stats., 495), heretofore quoted.

Group XII, includes the applications of those claiming through the said W. A. Dawson and embraces cases numbered D 405, D 406, D 715, R 12 and R 13.

The evidence shows that Millie T. Dawson was married to the said W. A. Dawson in 1892 and lived with him as his wife in the Cherokee Nation until his death in 1899, and that she has not re-married since his death. Texanna Woolley is the daughter of said W. A. Dawson and his former wife Melissa A. Dawson. Texanna Woolley was a minor at the date of her father's admission to citizenship, and she is identified on the Strip payment roll of 1894. She was married on March 27, 1898, to James Woolley, and her children Irene T. and Wilburn R. are the issue of that marriage. They are identified by birth affidavits on file with this Commission.

Henry T. Richardson was married under a Cherokee marriage license, and in accordance with the laws of the Cherokee Nation on July 11, 1886, to one Sellar Dawson, who was the daughter of the said W. A. Dawson by his first wife Melissa A. Sellar Dawson was a minor at the date of her father's admission to citizenship. Henry T. Richardson lived in the Cherokee Nation with his said wife Sellar from the date of their marriage until her death in 1892. On September 22, 1898, Henry T. Richardson married one Kitty Flournoy nee Dawson. The said Kitty Flournoy was re-admitted to citizenship in the Cherokee Nation by an Act of the Cherokee National Council on December 1, 1894. Of the children herein applied for, Delia F. Richardson is the child of the applicant by his first wife, Sellar. Finis T. Richardson and Jasper C. Richardson are children by his wife Kitty. Oscar, Walter, Alice, Laura, Oscar, Claude and Edna Flourney are the children of his said wife Kitty by a former husband.

The six older children were admitted to citizenship in the Cherokee Nation on December 1, 1894, with their mother as the members of her family. The youngest child Edna Flournoy was born in 1896 and was living at the date of this application. Dalia F. Richardson is identified on the Cherokee Census roll of 1896, and Finis T. and Jasper C. Richardson are identified by birth affidavits on file with this Commission.

Etta Brauer is the daughter of said W. A. Dawson, and was a minor at the date of her father's admission. She was married in 1892 to a non-citizen but such marriage was not in accordance with Cherokee laws. She is identified on the Cherokee Census roll of 1896.

Melissa A. Dawson was married to the said W. A. Dawson in the State of Texas on September 28, 1873. The Supreme Court of the Cherokee Nation in the case of Melissa A. Dawson vs. W. A. Dawson, decided that Melissa A. Dawson, the applicant herein was a citizen of the Cherokee Nation by virtue of intermarriage with her said husband, W. A. Dawson. She is identified on the Cherokee Census roll of 1896, and she has not re-married since her divorce from said W. A. Dawson.

The evidence shows that Texanna Woolley has resided in the Cherokee Nation since 1884; that Etta Brauer and Melissa A. Dawson have resided in the Cherokee Nation, with the exception of temporary absences, since 1884; that Millie T. Dawson has resided in the Cherokee Nation since 1892; that Henry T. Richardson has resided in the Cherokee Nation since 1886, and that Kitty Richardson, his wife, has resided in the Cherokee Nation since 1894. The residence of the minor children included in this group is considered to be that of their parents, with whom they are living.

Group XIII, includes the following applications: Hiram F. Weddle, et al D 521; William D. Douthitt, D 522; Alonzo M. Fishback, D 543; Florence Morgan, et al D 737; John E. Fishback, D 845 and George A. Mabry, et al D 979. The persons embraced in these applisations are related to the above named Dawsons. They are not claiming the right to enrollment by virtue of such relationship, but rely upon a separate adjudication of their rights.

The evidence shows that Hiram P. Waddle was married under a Cherokee marriage license, and in accordance with the laws of the Cherokee Nation on September 13, 1884, to Lula F. Douthitt, who was admitted to citizenship in the Cherokee Nation by the said "Spears Court" on September 13, 1884. Curtis, Morris O. and Roy Waddle are the issue of the said marriage. Hiram P. Waddle and his said wife are identified on the Cherokee Census roll of 1896, and their three children are identified by birth affidavits on file with this Commission.

William D. Douthitt is the brother of said Lula F. Waddle, and was admitted to citizenship in the Cherokee Nation with his said sister on September 13, 1884. He is identified on the Cherokee Census roll of 1896.

Alonzo M. Fishback was married under a Cherokee marriage license and in accordance with the laws of the Cherokee Nation on May 17, 1894, to Lavrna A. Dawson. He had been previously married to the same wife in Texas in 1877, and has lived with her ever since. It appears that Lavrna Fishback was re-admitted to citizenship in the Cherokee Nation by an Act of the Cherokee National Council on December 1, 1894. William A. and Annie B. Fishback are the issue of the said marriage. Alonzo M. Fishback and his said wife and children are all identified on the Cherokee Census roll of 1896, and his wife is also identified on the Cherokee pay roll of 1890.

Florence Morgan, the wife of Albert L. Morgan, is the daughter of the Kitty Richardson heretofore mentioned and was admitted to citizenship in the Cherokee Nation on December 1, 1894 with the said Kitty Richardson as a member of her family. Clide and Alice A. Morgan are her children by her said husband. The said children are identified by birth affidavits on file with this Commission.

John R. Fishback is the son of Laverna Fishback, who was re-admitted to citizenship on December 1, 1894, as heretofore stated. He was a minor at the date of his mother's admission to citizenship and he is identified on the Cherokee Census roll of 1896.

George A. Mabry was married to one Edna Dawson in the State of Arkansas in 1884. He claims to have been married under a Cherokee marriage license to his said wife in 1880, but he presents no satisfactory proof of such marriage. Edna Dawson was re-admitted to citizenship in the Cherokee Nation by an Act of the Cherokee National Council on December 1, 1894. Roby and Charley Mabry are her children by her said husband, George A. Mabry. Edna Mabry is identified on the strip payment roll of 1894, and the two children were minors at the date of their mother's admission to citizenship.

The evidence further shows that Alonzo H. Fishback and his wife Laverna A. Fishback have resided in the Cherokee Nation since 1883; that Lula P. Waddle, William D. Southitt, and John R. Fishback have resided in the Cherokee Nation since 1884, and that Florence Morgan and Edna Mabry have resided in said Nation since 1894. The residence of the minor children included in this group is considered to be that of their parents, with whom they are living.

All birth affidavits for the minor children embraced in this decision, and hereinbefore noted, are made a part of this record.

It is contended by the Cherokee Nation that the applicants herein are not entitled to be enrolled by this Commission because they have never been lawfully admitted or enrolled by the Cherokee authorities, and that the judgment of the Cherokee Commission on citizenship admitting Robert Dawson and his family was obtained by fraud on the part of said Dawson.

In considering the question at issue, it is the opinion of this Commission that it has no power, and that it is not the purpose of this proceeding, to review or to set aside the judgment in the Dawson case, or to determine such questions as were necessarily involved in the issues before the Cherokee Commission, and were passed upon by that Commission. In United States vs. Throckmorton, 98 U.S. Page 61, it is stated, "the doctrine is well settled that the Court will not set aside a judgment because it was founded on perjured testimony or for any matter which was actually presented and considered in the judgment assailed." Only such facts therefore, are considered by this Commission, as were not part of the record in the Robert Dawson case before the Teehee Commission, and which tend to show whether the judgment admitting the Dawsons was a bona fide judgment of the Teehee Commission, or whether such judgment is void because of fraud, and upon this proposition the burden of proof is upon those attacking the judgment.

Briefly stated, the circumstances attending the admission of the Dawsons appear to be as follows:

On September 24, 1881, an application was made to the Cherokee Commission on Citizenship known as the "Teehee Court" for admission to Cherokee citizenship of Robert Dawson and the members of his family above mentioned. The members of that Commission were Thomas Teehee, Alex Wolfe and T. F. Thompson. The first two were full blood Cherokee Indians; they could understand, but could not talk English. One D. W. S. Duncan was the Clerk of the Commission. The Dawson case was continued several times before final decision. J. M. Bryan appears to have been an attorney in the case, and after some delay he notified Francis M. Dawson that the case would be taken up by the Commission at its session in January, 1883, and also informed him that C.M.Bayler would look after Dawson's interests as he, Bryan, would be in Washington. On receipt of this notice Francis M. Dawson went to Fort Gibson, Cherokee Nation, and made arrangements with his uncle Samuel H. Benge to go to Tahlequah and conduct the case. Benge who is a witness herein testifies that he was connected with the Dawson case when it was commenced in 1881; that it was continued several times for want of evidence, and that in January, 1885, in company with F. M. Dawson he went to Tahlequah and while there secured the testimony of Tom Rogers, a negro, who knew the Dawson's ancestors, and that after getting his evidence the case was submitted to the Commission. He further testifies that the Commission rendered a decision against the Dawsons and that next morning the Commission reopened the case, but not upon motion of the witness, and rendered a judgment admitting the Dawsons to citizenship. He further states that on his way home to Fort Gibson with Dawson he remarked to the latter, "it was a pretty hard blow when they rendered a decision against us," to which Dawson is alleged to have replied, "yes, but Duncan was the man to reach and he reached him with five hundred dollars."

Dawson denies ever having had such a conversation and says that he did not return to Fort Gibson with Benge but went home to Arkansas by a different route.

C. H. Taylor testifies that he was an attorney in the case and was present when the case was decided. He says there were only two Commissioners present, Tehee and Wolfe. He further testifies that D. W. C. Duncan, the Clerk of the Court asked the witness to let him know when any large citizenship cases came up; that he introduced F. M. Dawson to Duncan on the evening of January 10th, heard part of a conversation between them in which Duncan addressing Dawson said, "there is a hitch in your evidence, if that was straightened out it will be all right." Next morning witness says Dawson told him to call up the case, which he did. That there was no additional evidence introduced and no argument made, and that the case was then decided in favor of the Dawsons. Witness further testifies that Dawson gave him twenty dollars and said he would send him the balance in a short time, that in the course of ten days he sent him one hundred dollars with directions to pay over half of it to Duncan; that Dawson soon afterwards sent him another hundred dollars with the same instructions to give Duncan half of it.

Dawson denied the matters testified to by Taylor excepting in the matter of paying Taylor money, which he admits in part, but says that the twenty dollars mentioned was sent to Taylor about a year after the decision, and that he instructed Taylor to pay it over to Duncan to pay him for a land claim, and that the other money was in payment of J. M. Bryan's attorney fees which Taylor represented to Dawson he had for collection against him. Taylor's reputation for truth and veracity has been impeached by various disinterested witnesses.

The evidence which may be considered as tending to support the charge of fraud is the testimony of S. H. Lange, C. H. Taylor, Thomas J. Babcart, J. L. Clinkenbeard, James W. Lewis, C. G. Draught and David Meredith.

S. H. Lange testifies that a judgment adverse to the Dawsons was rendered by the Commission on the evening of one day and without any additional proceedings in the case that judgment was reversed on the morning of the next day.

Even if this were a material fact, there is no other proof that two judgments in the case were ever rendered. The record of the proceedings and judgment in the Commission's docket is all on one page, the entry of the application in 1851 and the first continuance being entered under authority of a former Commission and by a different clerk, and there is no evidence of erasure on that page. It is not an unusual thing for a Court to change its judgment, and this fact, if it is a fact, is not in itself any evidence of fraud.

Thomas B. Dabeart testifies that one James Dawson, a man of forty or fifty years of age, in company with Butler, the Commission's interpreter and Jim Smith, solicitor for the Nation, came to the witness in Tahlequah the evening of January 10, 1883, to borrow some money; that Dawson was vouched for by Butler as a responsible party and that Dawson told the witness that he had to have money that night, that his case was to be submitted the next day if he could get some money, that Smith had agreed to submit the case without evidence, and that witness thereupon let Dawson have ten dollars.

Admitting all this to be true and that the influence of these officials was purchased for the sum of ten dollars, the Commission fails to see how these alleged facts show that the Court was imposed upon or misled. Bribery of officials to use their influence with the Commission would not necessarily vitiate the judgment, but it must appear that the fraud, or corruption reached the members of the Commission and tainted the judgment itself. The case was not submitted without evidence as appears from the record, and it is shown that such evidence was carefully considered by that Commission. Furthermore, the evidence shows that there was no such person then in Tahlequah as the James Dawson described by witness.

Clinkenbeard testifies that he had a talk with Elbert Dawson about 1881; that Dawson told him he had only one witness, Dr. Baker of Arkansas, "an old man 85 or 90 years old who did not know straight up" and that he could give Dr. Baker four drinks of Arkansas whiskey and he would swear black was white. Witness further testifies that Dawson told him that money was what made the mare go in Texas, and that he had found out that it goes here too.

Assuming that this Commission can go into thequestion of perjury in connection with evidence in that case, the testimony of Clinkenbeard establishes, if anything, only the facts stated, and does not prove that Dr. Baker committed perjury in giving his testimony before the Commission. Further, it is not clear that Dr. Baker was the only witness in the case. Benge stated that Tosh Rogers was a witness, Duncan is under that impression also, and T. F. Thompson, one of the Commissioners, states that he thinks there were three witnesses. The testimony of Dr. Baker, seems, however, to be the only testimony preserved of record. As to whether Doctor Baker offered perjured testimony by Dawson's procurement, it is proper to state that the evidence of W. H. Curtis and A. S. McKennon, witnesses for applicants, show that Doctor Baker was a man of integrity and was not addicted to drinking.

The testimony of James W. Lewis is to the effect that he had a conversation with F. M. Dawson about 1883, in which Dawson had told the witness that it had cost him seven hundred dollars to get his rights. Draught also testifies that he was an applicant for citizenship about 1881 or 1882, and that while his case was pending he had a talk with F. M. Dawson who told him that if he (the witness) ever got in, it would cost him seven hundred dollars, and that Dawson told him he had paid one witness three hundred dollars, and made arrangements with the Court to get the Dawsons in at one hundred dollars a family. David Meredith testifies that he had a talk with old James Dawson in 1888, and that the latter told the witness it cost him twelve hundred dollars to get his case through.

It can hardly be urged that such evidence is sufficient to show that the members of the Teehee Commission were corrupted by the fraudulent use of money. So far as these witnesses have been able to testify the money spent by the Dawsons might have been for proper and legitimate purposes. F. M. Dawson gives a detailed statement of what the case cost him and his brother in a legitimate way. The presumption can not be indulged that such moneys were used for fraudulent purposes and the proof to the contrary must be very clear before this Commission will deny applicants the right to be enrolled upon that ground.

Admitting the truth of all the testimony in this case as to the actual transfer of money by the Dawsons, it appears that Duncan, Butler and Smith were the only beneficiaries of that money. There is no evidence that the members of the Commission received or were offered any of it.

The judgment entered in the Commission's docket shows the signature of the three members of the Commission appended thereto. There is some conflict as to whether Duncan signed Thompson's name, or whether Thompson affixed his own signature. Duncan testified that all three signatures were made by him as Clerk under authority of the Commissioners present, the two full bloods being unable to sign their names. T. F. Thompson testifies that he signed the original transcript of the judgment, which was made on the day of its rendition. The question, however, is not considered to be very material. The signing of judgments by each Commissioner appears to have been a matter of custom only. T. F. Thompson testifies that he remembers the Dawson case and recognizes the judgment therein as the final judgment of the Commission, and that there was no fraud or corruption in the procurement of that judgment by the Dawsons or by any one else so far as he knew.

Much evidence has been introduced by the Cherokee Nation for the purpose of showing that the ancestor, through whom the Dawsons claim, was not a Cherokee, and that other members of the Dawson family, claiming from the same source, have been denied Cherokee citizenship by subsequent Cherokee tribunals, and also by this Commission and by the United States Court. Such evidence, in the opinion of this Commission, is not competent for any purpose in this proceeding. The only question before this Commission is whether there was fraud in the procurement of the Robert Dawson judgment, and not whether the applicants are Cherokee Indians, or whether they ought to have been admitted to citizenship upon the proof submitted. These were questions presented, considered and passed upon by the Teckee Commission. If their decision is a valid and regular judgment, it is binding on this Commission. If, on the contrary, the applicants have never been lawfully admitted to citizenship, because the judgment under which they claim is void, for fraud, then the question as to whether they are Cherokees by blood is not material, as this Commission has now no authority to admit them to citizenship.

While it is true, that since 1883, a number of applicants, members of the Dawson family, have been denied admission to citizenship in the Cherokee Nation, no argument derived therefrom is of any force, for it is also true that other members of the same family have been admitted to citizenship, and the action of the Cherokee authorities in admitting them has never been questioned by the Cherokee Nation. Whatever inference, therefore, may be drawn from these facts, applies with equal force both for and against the validity of the judgment in question.

The Dawsons have lived in the Cherokee Nation, most of them since 1883; they have exercised the rights of Cherokee citizenship for many years, some of them occupying official positions in the Nation, and no protest seems to have been made against their citizenship until within the last few years. The records of the Cherokee Nation, in the possession of this Commission, show, that since 1883, there have been Commissions on citizenship charged with authority to investigate the judgments of former tribunals alleged to have been secured by fraud, and the Cherokee Legislature had power to order an investigation, and to create a tribunal with authority to set aside a judgment so obtained. No such action appears to have been taken by the Cherokee authorities with reference to the judgment of the Teehee Commission in the Robert Dawson case.

After a careful consideration of all the facts in this case this Commission is of the opinion that the evidence fails to establish that the Dawsons secured their admission to citizenship by fraud or that the judgment of the Teehee Commission as rendered January 11, 1883, was fraudulent as the result of corruption, bribery, or deception upon the part of the Dawsons, or their agents, and that such judgment, and also the judgment of the Spears Commission in 1884, and the Act of the Cherokee National Council of December 1, 1894, which have not been attacked by the Cherokee Nation, being regular on their face, must therefore be accepted by this Commission as the valid judgments of the duly constituted Cherokee authorities.

It is, therefore, the opinion of this Commission that,

ADDRESS ONLY THE
COMMISSION TO THE FIVE CIVILIZED TRIBES

February 1st,

Muskogee, Indian Territory, ... 1902

James Lowe,

Afton, Indian Territory,

Sir:-

You are hereby notified that the application of yourself and four minor children for enrollment as citizen of the Cherokee Nation will be taken up for final consideration by the Commission to the Five Civilized Tribes, at its office in Muskogee, Indian Territory, on the 17th day of March, 1902.

On said date, you may, if you desire, appear before the Commission, in person or by attorney, when an opportunity will be given you to introduce any additional testimony affecting your application.

You are further notified that the Representatives of the Cherokee Nation will also, at the same time, be afforded an opportunity to introduce testimony tending to disprove your right to enrollment, but said Representatives will be required to notify you of their intention to introduce such testimony before they will be permitted to do so.

CHEROKEE ENROLLMENT.

Francis M. Dawson, et al.,

GROUP XI.

The Honorable,

The Secretary of the Interior.

Sir:

Referring to office report of even date, transmitting Group 1. of the consolidated Cherokee case of Francis M. Dawson, et al., applicants for enrollment, there is enclosed herewith the record pertaining to the applicants parties to Group XI.---

D. 839, Group XI. page 1.

James Lowe applies for the enrollment of himself and his minor children, May, Zelma, Roberta and Rosa Lowe, as citizens by blood of the Cherokee nation.

The Commission in its decision of December 23, 1902, held that these applicants were not entitled to enrollment as citizens by blood of the Cherokee Nation.

August 31, 1903, Kimball & White filed a brief on behalf of applicant James Lowe and applicant Lizzie Jackson. Lizzie Jackson is a party to Group X. On August 14 they filed a motion for review and recommitment to the Commission the case of James Lowe. They ask that the motion be passed upon before this office or the Department acts on the case upon its merits.

In connection with the motion to recommit, Kimball & White filed an affidavit of James Lowe, in which he swears that he is a son of Melvina Dawson, who was admitted to citizenship in the Cherokee Nation by the Spears Commission or Court, September 9, 1884; that at the time of his mother's admission he appeared before the Court for the purpose of applying for the admission of himself; that he advised the Court as to the relationship existing between himself and Melvina Dawson; that he informed the Court he was more than twenty-one years of age; that the Court asked whether he was unmarried and living with his parents; that upon this question being answered in the affirmative, the Court advised the affiant that the admission of his mother carried with it his admission, and that it was not necessary therefore for him to make application for admission to citizenship.

Said attorneys in their brief take the position that on account of the showing made by the affidavit of James Lowe, he is entitled to enrollment.

The record in this case shows that James Lowe is the son of Melvina or Melinda Dawson, who was admitted to citizenship by the Spears Commission, September 9, 1884. He was about twenty-two years of age when his mother was admitted. He has resided in the Cherokee Nation 1884. He claims to have actually removed to and in good faith settled in the Cherokee Nation in the Spring of 1884. His name and the names of his minor children, May E., Selma, Roberta and Rosa Lowe, appear on the 1896 census roll. The record does not show whether the applicant's name appears on the 1894 Strip payment roll, but he positively swears that he participated in that payment.

The applicant in his affidavit swears that he has voted at Cherokee elections since attaining his majority; that he was arrested by a Cherokee official, charged with an offense against the Cherokee law, "said offense being the employing of a white clerk;" that the penalty for such action was a fine of not less than $100.00 and not more than $1000.00, and not less than one year nor over five years' imprisonment; that the affiant was tried before a Cherokee District Judge; that the Judge held the law was unconstitutional; and that he has been amenable in every way to the laws of the Cherokee Nation, "even to being appointed to and holding the office of Deputy District Clerk of the Delaware District."

As the record does not show whether the principal applicant's name is found on any roll of the Cherokee Nation other than the 1896 roll, and considering his affidavit, it is believed by the office that Group XI. should be returned to the Commission with direction to advise the Department whether the name of James Lowe appears on any Cherokee roll beside the 1896 roll, and which instructions to determine if possible as to the truth or falsity of the affidavit of the principal applicant.

Very respectfully,

(Signed) W. A. Jones.

Commissioner.

DEPARTMENT OF THE INTERIOR,
Office of Indian Affairs,
Washington, Oct. 21, 1903.

The Honorable

The Secretary of the Interior.

Sir:

The office is in receipt of Departmental letter of October 14, 1903 -- I.T.D. 8683 -- transmitting a communication from W. W. Hastings, Attorney for the Cherokee nation, dated October 1, 1903, forwarding a supplemental brief in the matter of the enrollment of James Lowe, et al., and Lizzie Jackson, et al., as Cherokees, parties to the consolidated case of Francis M. Dawson, et al.

Office report on the record pertaining to the parties above mentioned was prepared before Department letter of October 14 was received, and inasmuch as it was recommended in report of October 16 relative to group 10 that the record in so far as it relates to the application of Lizzie Jackson for the enrollment of her minor children, be returned to the commission with direction to ascertain whether the name of William Jackson, deceased, and that of Lizzie Jackson, or those of the minor applicants are found on any roll of the Cherokee nation other than the 1896 roll; it is not believed that it is necessary to enter into any discussion of that part of the brief which pertains to these minor applicants.

Lizzie Jackson applies for enrollment as an intermarried citizen and her application should not be passed upon until after the Court of Claims shall have made findings and rendered an opinion on the question submitted to it by the Department on February 24 last.

The record relative to the application of James Lowe was forwarded with office report of October 16, group 10, and it was recommended that the record in so far as James Lowe is concerned, be returned to the commission with instructions to determine whether the name of James Lowe appears on any roll of the Cherokee Nation other than the 1896 roll and with direction to determine, if possible, the truth or falsity of the affidavit made by the principal applicant and filed with the case while it was pending in this office.

In view of this recommendation the office does not consider it necessary to discuss that part of the supplemental brief which relates to James Lowe.

Very respectfully,

(Signed) W. A. Jones,

Commissioner.

L. R. S.

Commission to the Five Civilized Tribes,

Muskogee, Indian Territory.

Gentlemen:

On February 25, 1903, you transmitted the record in the matter of the application of Francis M. Dawson, et al., for enrollment as citizens of the Cherokee nation. In your decision of December 23, 1903, you disposed of the applications in the Dawson case by groups. In this letter, Group XI, as disposed of by you, will be considered, which includes the application of James Lowe, D839, for the enrollment of himself and his minor children, May, Zelma, Roberta and Rosa Lowe, as citizens by blood of the Cherokee Nation.

James Lowe is the son of Melvina (or Malvina or Melinda) Lowe, nee Dawson, who was admitted to Cherokee citizenship by decree of the Spears Court dated September 9, 1884. The said applicant was 22 years of age when his mother was admitted. It is impossible to ascertain from the record his exact age at the date her petition was filed. It is considered, however, that he was about 21 years old. He removed to the Cherokee Nation in the spring of 1884, where he has since resided. He is identified upon the strip payment roll of 1894.

Kimball & White, attorneys for the applicants, filed a motion for a rehearing in reference to this application, subsequent to the receipt of the record by the Department. Said motion, which was served upon the attorney for the Nation, is supported by an affidavit signed by James Lowe. Subsequently the attorneys for the applicants filed a brief in support of the application of James Lowe, stating that if the Department considered the statements made by James Lowe in said affidavit as proved, they are willing that the case be disposed of upon the record as it now stands, with this affidavit added. This supplemental brief was also served upon the attorney for the nation. The latter has also filed a brief respecting this application, duly served. In their supplemental brief the attorneys for the applicant rely upon Department decisions in the Caldwell and Hill cases, of June 11 and July 12, 1902.

From the affidavit of James Lowe it appears that he and his cousin, William Jackson (Group K), presented themselves before the Spears Court for the purpose of applying for admission, but were advised by the Committee that as they were unmarried and living with their parents, it was unnecessary for them to make separate application. Said affidavit further relates that the affiant has been duly enrolled as a Cherokee citizen; has been allowed to vote at all Cherokee elections, and to exercise all the rights of Cherokee citizenship; that he was arrested by a Cherokee official, upon the charge of employing a white clerk; that he was tried for such offense and acquitted by the District Judge, who held that said law was unconstitutional, and that the said affiant has held the office of Deputy District Clerk of the Delaware District, Cherokee Nation.

From the above statement of facts, it is impossible to form a definite decision as to whether or not James Lowe was admitted by the decree of the Spears Court which admitted his mother. It was, however, the intention of the Cherokee authorities in the matter, to admit him, if their subsequent conduct by virtue of which he was taken and received as a citizen among them, can be regarded as indicative of their purpose. It is unnecessary, however, to determine whether or not citizenship was directly conferred upon this applicant by the Spears Court, or whether the statements contained in his affidavit are true. Independent of benefits which may have accrued directly to him by the admission of his mother to citizenship, there are other grounds upon which his right to enrollment depend. The decree admitting his mother declared her to be a citizen by blood. He "now resides" in the Cherokee Nation, where he has lived since 1884. He is identified upon the strip payment roll of 1894 and upon the census roll of 1896. Applying the rule laid down in departmental decisions of June 10, July 12 and November 12, 1903, relating respectively to the Martha Hill, James Shirley and Gus Caldwell cases, he is entitled to enrollment in accordance with the provisions of Section 5 of Article 3 of the Cherokee Constitution as amended in 1866.

His children, named above, were born in the Cherokee Nation and have always resided therein. They are identified upon the 1896 census roll, and (according to your letter of November 30, 1903, to Kimball & White) upon the strip payment roll of 1894.

In your decision of December 23, 1902, you refused to enroll these applicants.

Reporting in reference to this group October 16, 1903, the Commissioner of Indian Affairs recommended that the record be returned to you with instructions to ascertain whether the name of James Love appears upon any Cherokee roll besides that of 1896.

From your letter of November 20, 1903, to Kimball & White, referred to above, showing that the name of James Love is on the 1896 roll, it is considered unnecessary to return the record for the purpose indicated by the Commissioner. It is sufficient that the record already shows his identification upon the 1896 roll.

In view of the considerations enumerated above, your decision is reversed as to the applicants in this group, and you are directed to enroll them as citizens by blood of the Cherokee Nation.

A copy of the Commissioner's letter of October 14, 1903, relating to this group, is inclosed herewith, together with copy of his letter of October 21, 1903.

Respectfully,

(Signed) Thos. Ryan,

Acting Secretary.

NOTICE!

IN THE MATTER OF the application of [illegible] for enrollment as Cherokee citizens

DOCKET NO. 4 66

To [illegible] Anna Woolsey Al, Al

You are hereby notified that the Cherokee Nation will present before the United States Commission to the Five Civilized Tribes testimony on behalf of the Cherokee Nation tending to disprove your right to be enrolled as a Cherokee citizen at the office of the United States Commission to the Five Civilized Tribes in the town of Muskogee, I. T. Indian Territory, on [illegible], at 8 o'clock A. M. or from day to day thereafter until the same can be heard by said Commission during the usual business hours of said Commission for the taking of testimony both for and against applicants for enrollment as Cherokee citizens.

In testimony whereof, the undersigned representatives of the Cherokee Nation have hereunto set our hands this [illegible].

W. W. Hastings

Attorneys for the Cherokee Nation.

To be filed with D. D. 378, Thomas A. Dawson et al.

DEPARTMENT OF THE INTERIOR,
COMMISSION TO THE FIVE CIVILIZED TRIBES,
VINITA, I. T., SEPTEMBER 17th, 1900.

IN THE MATTER OF THE APPLICATION of Francis Marion Dawson, wife and children for enrollment as citizens of the Cherokee Nation, and he being sworn by Commissioner, T. B. Brockbridge, testified as follows:

Q What is your full name? A Francis Marion Dawson.
Q What is your age? A I am fifty eight years old.
Q What is your Postoffice? A Decoma.
Q What District do you live in? A Delaware.
Q Who is it you want to have enrolled? A Myself and family.
Q Your wife? A Yes, sir.
Q How many children? A Six.
Q Do you apply for enrollment as a Cherokee by blood? A Yes, sir.
Q Is your wife a Cherokee by blood? A No, sir; she is a white woman.
Q How long have you lived in the Cherokee Nation? A Since 1838.
Q Were you admitted by the Cherokee Commission? A Yes, sir.

The applicant presents a duly authenticated certificate of admission to citizenship, showing that on the 11th day of January, 1883, certain persons were admitted by the Commission on citizenship, and among them appears the name of F. M. Dawson.

Q That is your name in it? A Yes, sir.

This is recognized as satisfactory evidence of the facts stated.

Q Have you lived in the Cherokee Nation ever since your admission?
A Yes, sir; in Delaware District ever since.
Q Give to the name of your wife? A Katie Dawson.
Q How old is she now? A Forty five.
Q Was she admitted with you? A No, sir.
Q Have you married her according to Cherokee law since your admission? A No, sir.
Q You have not remarried since your admission? A No, sir; it was not necessary.

The applicant presents a duly authenticated marriage license and certificate, showing that he was married to his wife, as stated by him, in 1880, by the Reverend H. W. Goudelock, in Carrol County, Arkansas, the license being issued by the Clerk of that County.

These papers are filed herewith.

Q Your wife was not admitted by the Cherokee Commission, when you were? A No, sir.
Q Or at any other time? A No, sir.
Q By act of the Commission or Council? A No, sir: she was placed on the roll.
Q On the coherm roll? A Yes, sir.
Q Give to the names of your children, please? A Lula.
Q How old? A Seventeen.
Q Next child? A Ray.
Q How old? A Fifteen.
Q Next child? A Jerdie Jane.
Q How old? A Fourte n.
Q Next child? A Jacob Levy.
How old? A Ten.
Q Next child? A Hugh A.
Q How old? A He is eight I believe.

Q Next child? A Laura.
Q How old is that child? A She is four years old.
Q Is that all? A Yes, sir; six of them. I have others, but they are not at home.
Q Are they married? A No, sir.
Q Are they over age? A Yes, sir.

1896 Roll, Page 461, #902, Francis Marion Dawson, Delaware.
1896 Roll, Page 559, #155, Katie Dawson, Delaware District.

1896 Roll, Page 461, #908, Edgar Albertie Dawson, " "

Q Is this Lula or Lulu? A Lulu.

The applicant applies for the enrollment of himself, wife and six children.

Q Were these children all born since you were admitted into the Cherokee Nation? A Yes, sir.

The applicant is shown by the certificate of admission, cited in the testimony, to have been admitted to Cherokee citizenship, by the Commission on Citizenship, January 11th, 1883; he is identified on the roll of 1896, but the representatives of the Cherokee Nation desires to make inquiry into the methods of that time, and for that reason, the application of the applicant will at present be placed on a "Doubtful Card." He has lived in the Cherokee Nation ever since his admission to citizenship. His wife was married to him under United States law, and was married prior to his admission; she has never been remarried according to Cherokee law: She has lived with him ever since his admission to citizenship, and she is identified on the roll of 1896. The application for her enrollment will be placed on a "Doubtful Card".

Their six children, as enumerated in the testimony are identified on the roll of 1896. They are living at this time, all having been born since his admission (Applicant's). These children will be placed with him on a "Doubtful Card". The applicant's marriage to the mother of these children is established by the marriage license and certificate filed herewith. If any additional papers, adverse are developed in this case, he will be given timely notice thereof.

The undersigned, being sworn, states that as stenographer to the Commission to the Five Civilized Tribes, he correctly recorded the testimony and proceedings in this case, and that the foregoing is a true and complete transcript of his stenographic notes thereof.

BEFORE THE MONTRAPER COMMISSION TO THE FIVE CIVILIZED TRIBES.

In the matter of the enrollment :
of F. M. Dawson and others as :
Cherokee citizens. :

Depositions of sundry persons in behalf of the applicants for enrollment mentioned in the title, taken before me, Louis T. Martin, a Notary Public in and for the Northern District of the Indian Territory, duly appointed, qualified and acting as such, at the office of C. B. Denison in the Gray-Halsell building in the town of Vinita, Indian Territory, on Thursday the fourth day of October 1900, between the hours of one and a half o'clock and six o'clock in the afternoon of said day, in accordance with the agreement to take testimony, entered into between the applicants and the Cherokee Nation, by their respective attorneys, which agreement is hereto attached.

F. F. Thompson, being produced by the applicants, being first duly sworn to testify to the truth, the whole truth and nothing but the truth, testified as follows:

DIRECT EXAMINATION BY C. B. DENISON:

Q State your name, age, residence and occupation?
A F. F. Thompson, 63 years old, I live near Vinita, Cherokee Nation, I. T. I am a farmer.
Q How long have resided in the Cherokee Nation? A All my life.
Q Are you a citizen of the Cherokee Nation as now constituted?
A Yes, sir.
Q Upon what is that citizenship based, blood or otherwise?
A Blood.
Q What, if any official position have you held in the Cherokee Nation, and at what time?
A I was elected to the Cherokee Council in 1870 some odd, I don't remember the exact year, I was also on the Commission Court.
Q Do you remember when that was? A Some time in 1870 or 1871, I think, it may have been earlier.
Q Did that Commission or Court have anything to do with admission to citizenship in the Cherokee Nation? A Yes, sir.
Q State, if you remember, how many members of that Commission or Court, there were, and who they were besides yourself?
A There were three, Tehee, Wolf and myself, Tehee was President of the Court.
Q Where were the sessions of that body held? A Tahlequah, Cherokee Nation.
Q Did you have a Clerk? A Yes, sir.
Q Do you remember who that was? A D. W. C. Duncan.
Q Do you know whether the members of that Commission beside yourself, are living or dead? A Yes, sir, they are both dead.
Q Can you recollect now what period of time that Commission lasted?
A About two years I think, two, sessions, and there was one session each year.
Q Were the sessions of that body held in Tahlequah, open to the public at all times when it was in session?
A Yes, sir.
Q Were the cases coming before that body heard in open session?
A Yes.
Q Witnesses examined orally? A Yes, sir.

Q Judgments of the Court or Commission pronounced in open session?
A In case of decisions I think they sometimes had secret sessions, yes, the judgments of the Commission were pronounced openly.
Q What you intended to convey by you answer to the former question was that after hearing the proof the Commission or Court deliberated in secret session upon the testimony taken before reaching a decision or announcing it? A After hearing all the testimony we went into secret session.
Q I will present you with a paper which the Notary will mark exhibit "A" and a copy of which he will attach to your deposition, and will ask you if with the exception of the certificate of record by M. L. Bragdon, Clerk, and John L. Adair Asst. Ex. Secretary, you recognize it as a paper you have ever seen before?
A I recognize the signature to it, but don't remember the instrument.
Q Which signature on that paper do you recognize? A My own.
Q That signature is in your own handwriting? A Yes, sir.
Q Do you know whether Thomas Tehee, President of the Commission could write in English or not? A No, I don't think he could.
Q How as to Alexander Wolfe, a member of the Commission?
A I don't think he could write either, I don't think either of them ever wrote except by touching the pen.
Q Were you, and are you familiar with the handwriting of D. W. C. Duncan, the Clerk of that Commission?
A Tolerably well, but it has been a long time since I saw any of it.
Q Will you look at the paper again and say whether you recognize his signature attached thereto?
A Yes, that is his signature to the best of my knowledge.
Q Do you preserve any personal recollection of the application before that Commission of F. M. Dawson and other members of the Dawson family, to be admitted as citizens of he Cherokee Nation by that Commission?
A I remember F. M. Dawson and his brother, that is about the only ones I remember.
Q The question was not as to the personal recollection of the individuals, but as to the claim being presented by the Dawsons for admission?
A Yes, there was such a claim before the Commission.
Q Can you state as to the citizenship of Thomas Tehee, whether he was a citizen of the Nation by blood or not?
A Yes, sir, he was always recognized as such, full blood besides.
Q What is your knowledge of Alexander Wolfe?
A About the same, he was also a full blood and recognized as a Cherokee.
Q Judge Thompson, if you possessed or had, or have now any knowledge of any corruption or bribery of the court or Commission, or any member of it by F. M. Dawson or any of the Dawson family or anybody connected with the presentation of their claim for citizenship, state it fully?
A None whatever as far as I was concerned, and I don't think there was by the balance of the Court.

CROSS-EXAMINATION BY W. T. HUTCHINGS:

Q Do you mean to say Mr. Thompson that your name attached to the certificate shown you is in your handwriting?
A Yes, sir.
Q When Mr. Duncan certified that this is a transcript of the decision in the case, he is mistaken, that is the original?
A No. I don't know, that may be the original, if that is not the original I did not sign it, if it is the original I signed it.
Q You state that the witnesses were examined orally before the Court, do you know that in almost every case it took ex parte affidavits of witnesses when those witnesses were not present?

A I think we ruled exparte evidence out, as well as I remember.
Q Did you have any stenographer or anybody to copy the evidence?
Mr. Duncan did all of the copying.
Q Was the evidence copied and preserved?
A Yes, sir, I think it was.
Q What was done with that evidence, where was any of it ever put?
A I suppose it is at Tahlequah in the office of the treasurer or Secretary.
Q When you went into secret session did you have Mr. Duncan read that evidence to you?
A Yes, sir, we went over the evidence thoroughly.
Q Did you allow the applicants or their attorneys admission to any of your secret sessions?
No, sir.
Q When you got ready to render your decisions did you then send for the applicants or their attorneys?
A No, sir.
Q And you rendered them in secret also, did you? A Yes, sir.
Q Have you any recollection who testified in the Dawson case, as to their claim? A No, sir, I have not.
Q Have you any recollection as to who they claimed their Cherokee ancestors were? A Yes, sir, they claimed the Rogers.
Q Did they claim relationship with any of the present families of Rogers residing in the Cherokee Nation?

The applicant objects to this question as tending to elicit testimony wholly incompetent and irrelevant to the issue, and not cross-examination of this witness.

A I don't know that they did, particularly.
Q How would your court determine when they claimed descent through some Rogers family, that that family was of Cherokee blood?

The applicant objects to the question upon the same grounds as their objection to the previous question.

A By the evidence they produced.
Q Didn't you make them prove that that family was well known at one time to be connected with the Cherokee Nation, and were citizens thereof? A Yes.
Q Who was the attorney for the Dawsons? A Old man Houston Benge.
Q Could either Tehee or Wolfe speak English? A They could understand, but they never spoke English, they had an interpreter.
Q Did you ever talk to either of them as to whether they got anything for decidingthis case? A No, sir.
Q How long were you considering the case altogether?
A I could not say as to that, I think we were on it two or three weeks anyhow, I could not say positively now, they were a long time getting in testimony.
Q There were only two or three witnesses examined all told, were there not?
A I think so, three I think, they had quite a lot of affidavits, but we did not consider them.
Q Well the Court was a good while arriving at its conclusion after the evidence was closed?
A Yes, quite a good while, I don't remember the exact time.

RE-DIRECT EXAMINATION:

Q Do you remember who the interpreter the Commission had during the hearing of the Dawson case.
A His name was Reese, I forget his given name.

Q Do you know whether he is living or dead?
A I don't know, he seemed to be in bad health at the time we had the case up, I think they are all dead but we and Mr. Duncan.
Q What was he, a Cherokee by blood?
A He was considered a Cherokee by blood.
Q Do you know where he lived at that time?
A No, sir, he lived in the South part of the Nation though, I think in Sequoyeh.

D. W. C. Duncan being produced by the applicants after being sworn to testify to the truth, the whole truth and nothing but the truth testified as follows:

DIRECT EXAMINATION BY C. B. DENISON:

Q Please state your name, age, residence and occupation?
A My name is D. W. C. Duncan, my age is 70 years, my residence is Vinita, Indian Territory, my occupation is a farmer.
Q How long has that been your place of residence? A Since 1874.
Q Are you a member of the Cherokee Nation as it is now constituted?
A Yes, sir.
Q Upon what is your citizenship based, a Cherokee by blood?
A Yes, a Cherokee by blood.
Q In January 1883, did you hold any official position in the Cherokee Nation, if so, what was it?
A About that time I held the position of Clerk of the Citizenship Court or Commission.
Q If you remember the names of themembers of that Commission or Court, please give them?
A The President of the Commission was Tehee I believe, and a member by the name of Wolfe whose first name I do not recollect, and Mr. Thompson here.
Q T. F. Thompson?
A Yes.
Q Do you know whether those three members of that Commission were recognized citizens of the Cherokee Nation, and whether their citizenship was based upon blood or not?
A They were supposed to be citizens of the Cherokee Nation and their citizenship was based upon their blood.
Q Will you please look at the paper now handed you which the Notary has marked exhibit "A" to the deposition of Mr. T. F. Thompson, and a copy of which he will attach to Mr. Thompson's depositions, and state whether with the exception of the certificate of H. L. Bragdon, Clerk, and of John L. Adair Asst. Ex. Secretary, you recognize the paper as one you have ever seen before?
A Yes, I think I have seen this before.
Q When, and where, if you remember, did you first see that paper?
A This is a paper I drew up at the time I was acting as clerk of the said Citizenship Court.
Q Looking at its date, was it drawn at you at the time it bears date?
A To the best of my recollection it was drawn at the date specified.
Q Do you recognize the signature to the certificate attached to that paper?
A Yes, that is my signature.
Q State if you know, in whose handwriting the body of the paper is?
A It is in my handwriting.
Q And at that time you were Clerk of that Commission? A Yes.
Q Will you please look at the signatures of the members of the Commission as they appear on that paper, and state if you can, by whom they were written?
A I think the first two is my handwriting, the last I recognize that as T. F. Thompson's.
Q Explain please, how you came to write the signatures of Thomas Tehee and Alex Wolfe to that paper?
A Thomas Tehee and Alex Wolfe were full bloods and could not write, and in their presence, and at their request I wrote their signatures.

Q Was that the usual manner of certifying to the action of the Commission to applicants as to the decision of their application for citizenship, where admitted?
A In all instances where it was necessary for the Court to sign a paper of any kind it was adopted by that Court for the Clerk to sign Teheo's and Wolf's names and T. F. Thompson to sign his own name.
Q You didn't catch exactly my idea, but perhaps that answered it, what I intended to call you attention to, was whether when applicants had been admitted to citizenship a paper of this kind now shown you, signed by the judges as you have explained, and certified by you as a transcript of the proceedings was issued?
A My recollection is that a transcript of the judgment was issued to the applicant when they were admitted at their request, the judgment was entered upon the record when they were admitted and signed by the judges, and whenever the transcript was delivered to the applicants I think it was signed by the judges.
Q If you had any knowledge at the time the application of the Dawson family, F. M. and others whose names are mentioned in that paper, was pending before that Commission, or before or after, of any corruption or bribery, or attempted corruption or bribery of the Court or any of its officers, by F. M. Dawson, or any person connected in any manner with the claim of the Dawsons to citizenship in the Cherokee Nation, state it fully?
A I never heard a thing of the kind, I know nothing of the kind, all that I have ever heard about a question of that kind is what has originated recently, since the enrollment business has been inaugurated.

CROSS-EXAMINATION BY W. T. HUTCHINGS:

Q If as you certify, this paper was a transcript of the record, why did you have the judges sign it?
A I know no reason further than that was the practice at that time, the Members of the Court being present I presume it was thought it would be as good or better than the signature of the Clerk.
Q Examine that signature of Mr. Thompson, examine the first T in his name and the T in Teheo's name and see if it is not all your own handwriting?
A No, I would not call that mine, there is a resemblance between the letters but I am satisfied it is a mere fortuity, accidant.
Q How was the evidence taken in those cases?
A It was taken by the witness being present and detailing his knowledge of the case, I wrote it down sentence by sentence as it was delivered.

Q Do you know whether that evidence is in existance or not?
A I do not, the last I saw of it was when I turned the records over to the Executive office at Tahlequah, and I have not seen it since.
Q You say you never heard any talk about this being an improper case until very recently?
A Well, that would depend upon what you mean by recently, I don't think I ever heard of it prior to three years ago, I can safely say that did not.

Q Do you remember through what ancestor they claimed their right to citizenship here?

Objected to by applicants because the question tends to elicit testimony which is wholly incompetent and irrelevant, and because it is not proper cross-examination.

A They claimed their right of citizenship through a man by the name of Rogers, I don't recol ect his first name.
Q Do you know how many Rogers families there are who have citizenship in the Cherokee Nation?
A I do.

SUPPLEMENTAL TESTIMONY in the matter of the enrollment of FRANCIS M. DAWSON, ET AL., as citizens of the Cherokee Nation:

The case having been set for final hearing March 17, 1902, the following proceedings are had:

APPEARANCES:
Mr. A. S. McKennon, of counsel for applicants;
Mr. W. T. Hutchings, of counsel for Cherokee Nation.

Mr. Hutchings: Comes now the Nation on the calling of this case and announces that it is ready for trial, provided permission is given to hereafter examine before the Commission, either at this place or Fort Gibson, the witness S. H. Benge, who has been regularly summoned to attend at this day and time but who is too sick to travel at this time and probably will be for some time to come. As evidence of a good faith of the Nation we hereby present an affidavit of the facts sought to be proven by the said Benge. If the applicant's counsel are willing to concede that the witness if present would testify to the facts herein set forth, the Nation is ready to proceed to trial without reservation of any kind. If they are not it desires to reserve this privilege of hereafter, either tomorrow or otherwise, this case being set for to-day and tomorrow, of examining before the Commission, or its authorized officer, this witness as above set forth.

Mr. McKennon: Applicants object to the introduction of the paper presented and do not admit that the witness, Samuel H. Benge if present would testify to the facts therein stated. They consent and desire that the testimony of said Benge be taken before the Commission at its office in Muskogee but not elsewhere, and protest against it being taken at any other place, with the understanding, however, that when taken we have opportunity to introduce any evidence we may desire in rebuttal.

Mr. Hutchings:
The Nation will pay all the expenses of the opposing Counsel, their client and Commission officers in taking the deposition at Fort Gibson.

Commissioner Breckinridge: The allegations of this witness are material in their character and are quite tangent. The Commission of its own volition would acquire information of that character if it knew of its existance anywhere. While the functions of the Commission, as well known are in many respects judicial, yet it is bodied with somewhat complex powers, such as Congress creates from time to time to do business of certain character, and it is ordered to make a correct roll, which is a duty largely independent of hearing simply what is brought before them; it must be the architect and constructor of that roll and if evidence is not brought before before the Commission it must go out and get it, to be uniform on that construction of the law. The Commission, therefore, desires this information independent of any counsel on either side both with respect to the applicant and to the Nation, and if this witness is is not able to come one of the Commissioners will go to Fort Gibson and to his bed-side, or send a proper official, if necessary to take his testimony. The only matter to consider, therefore, is one of convenience with respect to getting this testimony. Now, I understand that this witness is an extreme sufferer from Bright's Disease he is an old man and he may never be able to get out of the house, and it may be an injustice to him to subject him to a trip here, and therefore it seems to me better that counsel for plaintiff submit to a form of taking a deposition or else accompany an official of this Commission over to Fort Gibson and let his testimony be taken there.

After consultation with the attorneys upon the two sides it is found to be agreeable that the parties start to Fort Gibson to-morrow morning at half past eight o'clock, and it is agreed then and directed with an official of the Commission with a stenographer leave from the office of the Commission for Fort Gibson at 8:30 to-morrow morning.

FRANCIS M. DAWSON, the applicant, re-called for additional cross-examination on part of the Cherokee Nation:

MR. HUTCHINGS:

Q What is your name? A Francis M. Dawson.
Q Where do you reside? A In Afton.
Q You have been examined in this case heretofore, have you?
A I don't know which case it is.
Q In your own case? A Yes, sir.
Q Are you the one that is commonly called Bud Dawson? A Yes, sir.
Q You made the original application in the Dawson family for admission to citizenship in the Cherokee Nation, didn't you? No, sir, my brother.
Q What was his name? A A. E. Dawson.
Q You and Robert Dawson and Elbert Dawson and others applied September 24, '81, about that time? A Yes, sir.
Q And you were admitted about the 11th of January '83? A Yes, sir.
Q There were other members of your family that applied and were admitted after that time? A Yes, sir.
Q Do you or not remember the evidence offered in theirs to substantiate their cases was the relationship between yourself and Robert and others and the evidence of your admission by the Tehlequah Court. In all the subsequent admissions I mean the only evidence offered was the fact that you and your brothers had been admitted before and that they were kin to you; that was the only evidence offered in any subsequent cases, wasn't it; so far as you know?
A That is afterwards?
Q Yes, afterwards? A I think there was some other evidence introduced.
Q Don't you know that there was never any evidence offered in any other case except evidence of Dr. Baker of Arkansas? A No, sir.
Q Who else? A Oliver Miller.
Q The late Oliver Miller; the records in this case have been somewhat destroyed and mutilated? A Oliver Miller died in 1881.
Q What was he, who was he? A He is no kin to me.
Q Well, what station in life did he occupy; was he a farmer?
A Yes, sir, farmer.
Q Were you present when he testified? A Yes, sir.
Q Were you present when Dr. Baker testified? A Yes, sir.

Q Have you a fair recollection of the testimony of those two men?
A No, not at all.
Q You don't read to you, Mr. Dawson? A No, sir, I don't read nor write; I can barely write my name.
Q Do you think you would remember the testimony of Dr. Baker if your mind was refreshed on it? A Part of it I think.
Q Were you present when you were admitted? A I was not in the room.
Q You were in Tahlequah at the time? A I was in the town of Tahlequah at the time.
Q I will read this paper to you and desire for you to say whether or not it was the testimony of Dr. Baker in your case:
(Affidavit of Dr. Arthur Baker read to witness, and asked to be copied in the record later.)
Q Is that the correct transcript of the testimony? A It has been so long ago, I could not say; a part of it is, I could not remember it all.
Q Does that state the facts as to the family history correctly so far as you know about it? A So far as I know.
Q Now, you were a son of what Dawson? A Robert Dawson.
Q How many children did Robert Dawson have, and give me their names?
A Elbert Dawson, the oldest; Lila, Jasper, Francis Marion-
Q That is yourself? A Yes, sir; Elizabeth Dawson, Josephine Dawson, John Dawson, Joseph Dawson, Jane Dawson, James Dawson, Edna Dawson, Mollie Dawson, Wilburn Dawson.
Q Thirteen? (No response.)
Q Now, Robert Dawson's father was whom? A Sam Dawson.
Q Who was Sam Dawson's wife, your grandmother? A I have been told.
Q By family history is all you know? A She was called Polly Dawson.
Q Who was Anna Pruitt? A I don't know.
Q Never heard of anybody in the family by the name of Anna Pruitt? A No, sir, that was away back in the old country; I have heard talk about it, old Dr. Baker talked about it.
Q Your grand-mother's name was Polly Dawson? A Yes, sir; I don't remember seeing her but once, she died when I was small, died in Texas.
Q Pollie Dawson? A Yes, sir.
Q And she was known to be Pollie Rogers, her maiden name? A Yes, sir.
Q Daughter of Captain John Rogers? A Yes, sir.
Q Now, she died in Texas what time? A I don't remember.
Q Can't you guess at it? A Oh, I could guess.
Q Give your best recollection? A About '58 or '59, or no, '48 or '49; I don't say positive, just guessing at it.
Q How old a boy were you then? A I was born in '42.
Q Have you any distinct recollection of her? A No, sir.
Q Have you any recollection of all the children of Sam and Pollie Dawson; that is, your father, uncles and Aunts? I didn't see all of them.
Q Do you know by family history the names of all of them? A Yes, sir.
Q Will you give them to me?
A Betsy Ann Dawson, I believe her name was.
Q Did she marry a Petty? A Yes, sir; the next is Robert Dawson.
Q Your father? A Yes, sir.
Q Next one? A I think the next was James Dawson, and I think the next one was a girl, Edna Dawson.
Q Did he have two daughters? A Yes, sir.
Q Full sir? A The next one was Joe Dawson; I never saw him; Milo Dawson,

Q That is Samuel R. Dawson, Riley Dawson? A Yes, sir.
Q Any other one? A That is all I know anything about.
Q Did he have any child by the name of John? A Yes, Jack.
Q Didn't you get Jack mixed with Joe? A No, it was Joe; I have heard my father speak of him.
Q Then they have seven children? A I never saw them all.
Q How many of them did you ever see? A I saw uncle Riley Dawson and James Dawson and Jack Dawson and Betsy Ann Petty; I don't think I saw but one of Pa's sisters and brother, they went to Mississippi I think.
Q Do you know that your family history says that the mother of your grandmother, Sallie Rogers' name was? A We have no history.
Q Well, as it was brought down to you; did you ever hear anybody say what your great grandmother's name was? A No, I don't remember.
Q What is that other man, Oliver Millerthat testified in your case? A He testified in James Dawson's case; he never testified in my father's case.
Q Well, didn't anybody testify in your case but Dr. Baker?
A Yes, sir, several other witnesses.
Q Who were they? A I don't remember; my mother got them witnesses around Tahlequah, old people.
Q Were you present? A No, sir.
Q You were only present when Dr. Baker testified? A Yes, sir.
Q Now, do you find any mistakes in Dr. Baker's statement there? A I could not say all of that was correct or not, part of it is correct.
Q What part is correct? A Why about knowing the family over there.
Q Who is Buck Dawson? A My brother.
Q What is his name? A We always called him Buck, it is Elbert, E. Dawson.
Q Who went with you the first time you went up to make application for citizenship do you remember? A With my brother.
Q The first time? A I met my brother in Texas.
Q Which one? A E. Dawson.
Q That is Elbert or Buck? A Yes, sir.
Q You were living in Arkansas? A Yes, sir.
Q And he was living in Texas? A Yes, sir, and another one of little brothers, Dr. Dawson now:
Q Dr. Dawson now? A Yes, sir.
Q What is his name? A James.
Q And you three went there? A Yes, sir.

Mr. McKennon: Applicants by their counsel object to all the statement of the witness relating to the testimony introduced before the Cherokee Citizenship Commission, and the history of the family as detailed by him, because the same is incompetent and irrelevant, and cannot be used for the purpose of impeaching the integrity of the judgment of said Commission, or either of the Commissioners in admitting members of the Dawson family.

Commission: The objection of the Attorney for the applicants to the testimony above will be noted. The same will be filed and noted for what it is worth.

(Attorney for applicants waives examination.)

C. H. TAYLOR, being duly sworn, testified as follows on part of the Cherokee Nation:
MR. HUTCHINGS:

Q State your name? A C. M. Taylor.
Q Where do you reside, Mr. Taylor? A Up near Coffeyville.
Q Were you an attorney before various citizenship Courts along in '81 to '83 in the Cherokee Nation at Tahlequah? A Yes, sir.
Q Were you attorney for F. H. Duncan commonly known as Bud Dawson? A Yes, sir.
Q Were you present at the taking of testimony in that case? A No, sir; I wasn't present.
Q Do you know the committee the court that decided the case at that time? A Yes, sir.
Q Who were they? A Tom Tehee and Alex Wolfe and Terry Thompson.
Q Do you know whether or not they were all there when the case was decided? A No, sir, there were only two of them present.
Q Which two? A Tehee and Wolfe.
Q Who was the Clerk of the Court at that time? A Mr. Duncan, D. W. C. Duncan.
Q Do you know what witnesses were used in the case of Bud Dawson? A No, sir; now I was the attorney in the case and the evidence had already been filed before the Court.
Q When were you made attorney? A I was only called in as an attorney at the— Well, Mr. Duncan came down there, and Mr. Bryant had the case and several other attorneys had the case and he employed me.
Q Did you read the evidence in this case? A No, sir.
Q Did you deliver any money? A Now, I was the attorney in the case and I don't think it would be right for me to make any statement.
Q Now, you have claimed your privilege, I ask that you answer the question? Did Dawson ever send you any money with the direction to pay it to either member of the Court or the Clerk of the Court, D. W. C. Duncan, and if so state the amount? A I had a heap of trouble over this matter.-

Corrigan: Just answer the question, Mr. Taylor.

A Being the attorney I don't believe it is right for me to answer that question.

Corrigan: Do you refuse to answer? A Yes, sir.

Q Did the matter to which you object to testifying occur prior to the rendition of the decision admitting to citizenship or afterwards? (No response)

COMMISSIONER BRECKINRIDGE:

Q Do you desire to reply to the last question? A I don't think it is right; I was attorney in the case.
Q Mr. Taylor, do you object to answering that question? A Yes, sir.
Q You refuse to answer that question, do you? A I had rather not answer it.

Q Either answer it or say you won't answer it? A I had rather not answer it.
Q Mr. Taylor, you have answered a number of questions down to this point, but it is at this point that you prefer to plead your privileges, as an attorney, do you? A Yes, sir.

Com'r Breckinridge: The power in regard to these matters is lodged in the United States. The Court is clothed with special power with reference to matters with arise through this Commission. Of course the Commission desires and the Government needs for the making of a correct roll the fullest information possible, but it is subject to the limitation of law, and it is not for this Commission to decide of the law in a matter of this character with any authority as I understand it at this time, but to report the matter to the United States Court and let the Court pass judgment.

Under Section 21 of the Curtis law as it is commonly called Act of June 331698, the members of the Commission shall in performing all duties required of them by law, have authority to administer oaths, examine witnesses and send for papers and persons, and the court is clothed with authority to enforce obedience. The law having enumerated certain powers goes on to say so far as all others are concerned to enable said Commission to make rolls as herein required, and to punish anyone who may in any manner or by any means obstruct said work. Now, the Commission will report the facts to the United States Court and let the Court decide whether or not you are within your lawful privilege. It seems that you refuse to answer questions, or at least one question, which tends to establish as to whether or not you are claiming what what is commonly considered a matter of privilege--according to an authority referred to by an attorney, but the enforcement of an answer seems clearly to be a matter for the Court to deal with.

Q Now, Mr. Taylor, in regard to the last question asked you by Mr. Hutchings, one of the Counsel for the Cherokee Nation, I direct that you make answer, and if you refuse I shall report the matter to the United States Court; do you refuse? A Yes, sir.
Q Now, you have read to you, Mr. Taylor, the first of the two questions propounded to you by Mr. Hutchings, and which you declined at the time to make answer; viz: as to whether Mr. Dawson sent you money to pay to the Court or to any officials of the Court, it seems to come to the question as to whether there was any collusion between you and Mr. Dawson and any member of the Court; now, I understand that you refuse to answer that question upon the grounds that you were Mr. Dawson's attorney? A Yes, sir.
Q Now, I require that you answer that question, do you refuse?
A Yes, sir.
Q I shall also report that refusal to the United States Court as it seems to come under the provision of law, relating to conspiracy between you and Mr. Dawson which apparently considered a privilege matter, and you base your refusal now, not upon the ground that you are incriminating yourself, but that you were counsel for Mr. Dawson. I will report the matter to the Court and you will be informed at the time of any proceedings in the matter I cmution you not to talk with Mr. Dawson or any of the applicants in this case.

Mr. McKennon: Applicants do not object and have not objected to the witness answering on account of his privilege as an attorney or for any other cause whatever, they only want to object to the incompetence and irrelevancy of the testimony, with the privilege of cross-examining upon any testimony given by the witness.

COMM'R BRECKINRIDGE:
Q You still refuse having the consent of the attorneys in the case to make answer? A I will just ask your Honor to let the matter go over until morning.

Commissioner Breckinridge: It will rest until in the morning at its present status; it is other business now.

As for the objection made by Captain McKennon, Counsel for the applicant, it will be taken into consideration, but will not be granted at the present.
(The Commission adjourns until 1:00 P. M. to-morrow afternoon, March 13, 1900.)

SUPPLEMENTAL TESTIMONY in the matter of the enrollment of FRANCIS M. DAWSON ET AL., as citizens of the Cherokee Nation:

Appearances:
Mr. A. S. McKennon, of Counsel for applicants.
Mr. W. T. Hutchings, of Counsel for Cherokee Nation.

SAMUEL H. BENGE, being duly sworn, testified as follows on part of the Cherokee Nation:
MR. HUTCHINGS:

Q State your name? A Samuel H. Benge.
Q Where do you reside? A Fort Gibson.
Q How old are you? A I am 70 years old, going in 71.
Q Are you a citizen of the Cherokee Nation? A Yes, sir; Cherokee by blood.
Q State what official position you have held in the Cherokee Nation and what your general connection with the Nation officially in the last 40 years? A Well, I had several; I have been Sheriff, Councilman, Senator, Delegate to Washington; had a hand in making the treaty of 1866, I am the only one living that signed that treaty; President of the National Council of different tribes of Indians.
Q Were you acquainted with F. M. Dawson, commonly called Bud Dawson? A Yes, sir; I knew him.
Q State you connection with and what you know about his citizenship case before what is known as the Thomas Tehee Citizenship Court? A Mr. Dawson come down, I was living down below here, he come and employed me to tend to his case and we went to Tahlequah, I believe if I ain't mistaken in 1901 and filed his case there; we went several times and continued his case on for the want of evidence, and finally while we was up there we run across one old darkey by the name of Tosh Rogers; we got his testimony and after we got that testimony we concluded that it was sufficient to go into the trial with. Tosh lived here at Fort Gibson, he was a horse trainer down here and stayed here; he claimed that he knew the Rogers and belonged to one of them and after that we thought we had sufficient evidence we submitted our case to the Court for trial, and the Court went to work and rendered a decision against Mr. Dawson. I told Mr. Dawson right there that "our cake is dough", just made that remark, and he just made the remark "never mind", and next morning they taken up his case again and they rendered a decision in his favor. I filed no motion nor any evidence at all whatever; I give the case up right there and the decision was then given in his favor, and on our way back from Tahlequah, why we got to talking about the case and I told him: "it was a pretty hard blow when they rendered that decision against us." He said: "yes, but Duncan was the man to reach", but he reached him with five hundred dollars.
Q What position did Duncan occupy? A He was Clerk of the Court.
Q Duncan an educated man or—? A Yes, sir; he was an educated man.
Q Who were the members of the Court? A Tom Tehee, Alex Wolfe and Tom Thompson.
Q How many of those could speak English at all? A One.
Q Which one? A Thompson.
Q Who was the Attorney that represented the Nation in those cases?
A Ivy Sanders.

Q What was his given name? A Wilson Sanders; was it Wilson Sanders?
A Wilson Sanders.
Q Was he an educated man, or could speak English well? A No, sir.
Q Did Mr. Dawson say anything about the matters having cost him a good deal of money? A He said it had cost him a right smart.
Q Was any remark made on the way back about the opening up of the case, and if so, what? A He asked me if I thought the case was ever investigated eventually and I told him I didn't know.

MR. McKENNON:

Q Were you ever a witness in the Dawson case, Judge, in any of those investigations that have been made since that time? A I don't know that you might call it a witness; that young man came to me once at Tahlequah, and asked me to help him up there that the case was going against him, him and his mother and all was about knocked out and I interceded and done what I could there before the Committee. I was not a witness but that is what I don't for him.
Q That was Mr. Graham, wasn't it? A Yes, sir.
Q Have you had conversations with Mr. Graham since that time about it? A Now, I might, I don't recollect, I might have had conversations with him.
Q Well, after the Dawes Commission began taking a census of the Cherokees and when they were about Sallisaw down here, did you have a conversation with him here in Fort Gibson about the matter? A Now, I just can't tell you; I have seen him on several occasions, but the conversations we might have had I can't state.
Q To refresh your memory I will ask you if he did not tell you that they were making a fight on the Dawson family and he wanted to know of you whether that judgment in favor of Robert Dawson's family was fairly rendered, and did you not then tell him that it was all right, that it was fairly obtained? A Not as I recollect of; all he was; that is as I have stated he talked to me in regard to his mother, himself and probably his brothers and sisters, I don't recollect how many there were, but he told me they were rejected, that is just the words he used.
Q When? A It has been sometime ago.
Q Here in Fort Gibson? A Well, that is I saw him here in Fort Gibson, sometimes I saw him in Tahlequah.
Q Well, did he here in Fort Gibson ask you particularly about the Robert Dawson judgment, as to whether it was fairly obtained or not? A No, sir; he was taking his claim on the Dawson case, that is the way he--
Q Was he the principal Dawson family? A Yes.
Q When was this other written statement here made, when was this made by you? (referring to affidavit heretofore referred to.)
A Yesterday I reckon.
Q Who came to take this? A Mr. Starr.
Q Who else was present when this was taken? A No, sir.
Q What had you told about this matter, Judge? A No one as I know of.
Q Do you know how it was that they knew that you knew this?
A No, sir.
Q You never made any statement? A Never made any statement that I recollect of except I might have talked with Scales, he and him talked about these cases a good many times; if I ever made a statement it was to Joe Ab Scales.
Q How did Mr. Starr know? A I could not tell you how Mr. Starr knew.

Q He came alone here as a Notary Public? A He came alone here as a Notary Public. All he said when he came, he says "we understand that you know something in regard to these cases"; I said " what case," and he went to work and named Shoemake case and Dawson case.
Q And thereupon you made this tatement? A He said he wanted to qualify me.
Q Are you certain Judge that after the rendition of that judgment Mr. Dawson came back here to Fort Gibson with you?
A Yes, sir; we was together.
Q Let me ask you if it was not a very cold day when he came here and he went over ahead of you and you went over to Tahlequah the next day or two after he left? A My recollection was he and I went together.
Q And returned here together? A Yes, sir.
Q Did he not leave you there and go back direct to Arkansas?
A No, sir, we came here together. If my memory serves me right, I might be mistaken but then I don't believe I am, he came from Webbers Falls up here to my house, that is according to his statement.
Q What amount of fee did they pay you? A I don't know as that is in connection with the case whatever the money they paid me.
Q How didthey pay you? A Paid me the money.
Q Who paid it to you? A Dawson there and that fellow, young fellow paid me some.
Q Mr. Graham? A Yes.
Q At the same time? A Oh, no, he wanted me to intercede for him at Tahlequah and paid me to do something for him which I did.
Q I will ask you if Mr. F. M. Dawson here did not obtain two copies of the judgment one of which you sent in a letter in which you wrote to his brother living in Texas and that brother in Texas, the one they called Buck, didn't send you $50 that they paid you? A No, if I ever got a letter of Buck whatever you might call him, I don't recollect it and if I ever got a nickel from him I don't recollect it. Old man paid me what money I got from it. I don't know nothing about his brothers; he told me he had an uncle living over i Arkansas, but not living down in Texas, I don't know about it.
Q Where did he pay you the money? A Paid it here at home.
Q Before you went out? A He paid me fifty dollars before we went up and when we went up yonder he paid me fifty dollars more; if you want to know what I got, I got one hundredn dollars.
Q You were acting as his attorney in the case? A Yes, sir.
Q How many judges were there present when the judgment was rendered?
A In his case?
Q Yes, sir. A Well, according to my recollect there was all there, but if they were not all there, Tom Thompson was sick. Tehee and Wolfe.
Q Don't you remember that they were all present? A No, I think they were present though.
Q Who else was present at the time? A Oh, I could not tell you, there were several people in the house; could not tell you at all.
Q Were there several in the house the evening before the judgment was rendered against them as you say? A Yes, there were several in the house.
Q And several in the house when the judgment was rendered the next day? A I don't know how many there was.
Q Do you remember the names of any of them? A Why not exactly, mostly full bloods.
Q How long didyou remain out at Tahlequah on that trip?
A I guess I was there about three days.

Q Tending to this case alone, or did you have other cases? A No, sir.
Q Do you know of your own knowledge that the judges received any money (this question asked at the instance of Mr. Graham present) A I don't know whether the judges received nay or not.

---oooOOOooo---

I, J. O. Rosson, do hereby certify upon my official oath as stenographer to the Commission to the Five Civilized Tribes that I correctly recorded the testimony had this day in the above case, and that the foregoing is a true and complete transcript of my stenographic notes thereof.

(Signed) J. O. Rosson.

March 18, 1902. Commission convened pursuant to adjournment.

Appearances:
Mr. A. S. McKennon, of counsel for applicants.
Mr. W. T. Hutchings, of Counsel for Cherokee Nation.

C. H. TAYLOR takes the stand and continues his testimony.
BY MR. HUTCHINGS:

Q Mr. Taylor, you said you would consider the matter yesterday and let us know whether you would answer those questions today; have you decided what you would do about the matter? A Well, it is like this, of course I don't want to be held as in contempt of the Court.
Q You would be held in contempt and the other Court would make you answer? A That being he case of course I would make a statement.
Q Are you acquainted with D. W. C. Duncan, the Clerk of what is known as the Tehee Citizenship Commission Court? A Yes, sir.
Q Did you ever have any conversation with him about letting him know of the different character of cases that would come up before the Court that you knew of, whether they were good ones or bad ones? A No, the only thing that ever come up in that respect; he asked me if whatever large cases that would come up before the Court to let him know.
Q Did you have any talk with him about the Dawson case during the progress of its trial or before and ever introduced Mr. F. M. Dawson to him, or carry him to him? A I spoke to him when Mr. Dawson came to Tahlequah to see about his case, and he said that he would take the papers over to his room, the Dawson papers.
Q Did you see him again that night? A Yes, sir; after supper I went down to his room.
Q Did he ask you about the Dawsons or Dawson case? A He asked me where Dawson was.
Q Which Dawson are you referring to now, F. M. Dawson, known as Bud Dawson? A Bud Dawson.
Q Well, what didyou reply to him? A I told him that I thought he had gone to church.
Q Did you find Dawson after church? A Yes, sir, he told me to come and bring Dawson down and I did so; Dawson was in church.
Q You carried Dawson to him? A Yes, sir.

Q Did you remain during the conversation? A Only a minute.
Q What was said if anything while you were present? A Mr. Duncan spoke to Mr. Dawson and says "there is a hitch in your evidence." Q Go ahead and state what else he said? A He said "if that was straightened out it would be all right," and I turned and went away, I says, "gentlemen, I will go home."
Q Did you know of their having any other conversation or communication after that? A No, sir.
Q You left them there together yourself? A Yes, sir.
Q Did Mr. Dawson give you any directions the next morning about submitting the case? A Yes, sir, he asked me to call it up the case.
Q The next morning? A Yes, sir.
Q Had there been any additional evidence offered? A No, sir; there was not additional testimony offered.
Q He told you the next morning to call up the case? A Yes, sir.
Q Was it called up and submitted the next morning? A Yes, sir.
Q Now, how many of the members of the Court were there present that morning? A There were only two, two full-blood Indians.
Q Could they speak english at all? A Yes; could talk a little, both some.
Q Did that Court have open sessions all the time or what is called executive sessions sometimes? A Well, I don't remember about that; it was generally when the case was submitted the attorneys would go out. The parties would go out and they would determine the case.
Q Well, did they go out into that sort of executive session the next morning on the Dawson case? A Well, we went out when the case was submitted.
Q And was the decision rendered that morning in their favor?
A Yes, sir.
Q Who notified you of the decision of the Court? A Why, Mr. Dawson.
Q Do you remember whether he went out with you or was in there during the consideration of the case? A I think he went out with me.
Q Did you at any time thereafter receive any money, checks or other evidence money from Mr. Dawson with direction to turn it in part over to D. W. C. Duncan, the Clerk of that Court? A Mr. Dawson gave me 20 dollars and said he would send the balance in a short time. Said he would send some more money in a short time.
Q A If, did he send any money afterwards? A Yes, sir, in the course of ten days or two weeks he send a hundred dollar check, I think.
Q What did he direct you to do with it? A He directed me to give D. W. C. Duncan half of it.
Q Did you give him half of it? A Yes, sir.
Q Did he send you any at any other time after that? A Well, in the course of a couple of weeks he sent me a hundred dollars more.
Q Did he direct you to turn any of that and if so how much, to D. W. C. Duncan? A He told me to give him half of it,
Q And you give him half of it? A I did, sir.
Q Do you remember whether on Dr. Arthur Baker was the principal witness in behalf of the Dawson case? A No, sir, I don't because I never had any connection with the case, but I heard that he was a witness in the case.
Q No motion was made when you submitted the case? A No, sir.
Q You submitted it on the testimony? A Yes, sir.

MR. McKINNON:

Q Are you a citizen of the Cherokee Nation? A Yes, sir.
Q Were you born and reared in the Cherokee Nation? A No, sir; I was born in the old Nation.

Q When did you come to the Cherokee Nation? A Come here in 1895.
Q How long have you been practicing law in the Cherokee Nation?
A I think since '88.
Q You have done a great deal of citizenship business haven't you?
A Yes, sir.
Q You were in the United States Court at Fort Smith on charges in regard to the citizenship business? A Yes, sir.
Q Were you convicted there? A Yes, sir; I was convicted there on this very case.
Q And served a term of what length? A I was sent to the jail hospital for sixty days and I stayed in about 38 or 39 days, and I was released.
Q When was that? A I don't remember how long ago it has been.
Q You say it was in regard to this case? A Yes, sir; this case was the bone of contention; Clem Rogers and the Chief, they are the ones that had me arrested, carried to Fort Smith.
Q Well, now, were you charged with an offense against the law in this case, or was it in regard to some other case? A Well, it was in regard to using the mail for fraudulent purposes.
Q Sending out propositions and obtaining case for citizenship for people [illegible] Cherokee Nation? A No, sir, it was for answering correspon[illegible].
Q Not relating to this case at all? A Well, this was the main charge, Clem Rogers went before the Court there and stated that I had got in at least three hundred Dawsons, that they were white people and not entitled to citizenship and that was the main trouble.
Q Well, now, was the charge based upon that or was it based upon your letters you sent out to other people? A That was the charge for using the mail for fraudulent purposes.
Q The use of the mails for fraudulent purposes not in connection of this case was it? A Not particular of this case.
Q Then the trouble you had was the prejudice of Clem Rogers and others caused by your connection with the Dawson case; that is what you mean to say? A Yes, sir.
Q Why did you say because you were charged with an offense based upon this case? A Well, the prejudice grew out of this case.
Q Now, then, you had full conversation with the representatives of the Cherokee Nation as to your testimony in this case, did you not before you came on the stand? A Yes, sir.
Q You had told them of these particulars before you came on the witness stand did you not? A Yes, sir.
Q Yet when you came on the stand you assumed to have conscientious scruples as to answering as to matters which occured between you and your client, Bud Dawson, in relation to this matter and declined to answer claiming your privilege as an attorney did you not? A Yes, sir; I didn't want to make a statement at all in the matter.
Q You had voluntarily made a statement to the representatives of the Cherokee Nation? A Yes, sir; I had stated to Mr. Hastings; he summoned me and I come down here and I didn't want to make a statement to him but he insisted.
Q He had no power to compel you to make a statement? A No, sir.
Q You could then make it very freely and your conscience did not hurt you, but when you came on the stand you were very conscientious about it? A I didn't want to make a statement at all unless I I would be put in jail here if I didn't.
Q But you had armed them with information by which they could ask you these questions when you came on the stand? A I had told Mr. Hastings.

Q You knew what you gave him that information that you would be brought on the stand as a witness, did you not, by reason of that? A No, I didn't know that I would be compelled to make a statement in the matter, a sworn statement.
Q You thought you would not be compelled to answer?
A I didn't think the law would compel me to make a statement.
Q Why then did you make a statement to him about it? A Oh, he was asking me about it, and I told him that I didn't want to make a statement, and I didn't for quite a while after I came down here.
Q When the enrollment division of the Dawes Commission was in Tahlequah, in the winter of 1900, did you not there meet F. M. Dawson and did you not then and there say to him "I told Shoemake I would be for him if he would employ me in his case and if he didn't I would be against him, and the same to you?" A No, sir; I said to him this: I says that if there is not something done that I will likely be summoned against you and Mr. Shoemake both.
Q What did you mean by that? A Well, I just meant this, I just left the matter with him to say what he wanted to do in the matter; I only spoke a word or two about it. I was going out of town just as he came in.
Q When you told him if something was not done you would be summoned as a witness against him; what did you mean by that? A Well, I just meant that the chances were that the Nation would summon me against him.
Q What did you mean by the expression "if there was not something done" that you would be summoned as a witness?
A Well, I meant this, if I was re-employed in the matter if he was to have a case and I was re-employed I would not be required.

Q You could be required to make a statement as to declarations made to you by your client to you in one instance, but if a little more money was put up you could not be required to make a statement; is that what you mean? A I didn't think I could be forced to make a statement at all in the matter.
Q Why didyou make that expression to him "if something wasn't done you might be summoned as a witness" if you believed you could not be made to make a statement? A I meant if I was employed in the case.
Q If he would put up you would not testify? A That they could not force me to testify.
Q About the month of February, 1901, in the town of Wagoner, Indian Territory, did you not send your son to get Graham to come to the hotel at night, and did you not then and there say to Gid Graham; "you people are on the doubtful list and if you will give me $500. I will make it all right and see that you are enrolled and if you don't I will see that you don't get on"? A No, sir; I got a letter from Gid Graham in which he asked me to certify that the case was all right and after I met him I told him that I could not do it, that the case was crooked, he then said to me, he says, "I will give you a hundred dollars", he says "will you take a hundred dollars," I said "no, sir." I didn't make any bid, that is I didn't set no price with him.
Q You did not say to him then what I have embraced in that question there? A No, sir.
Q You did have a conversation with him about that time and at that place, did you not? A Yes, sir.
Q You say you didn't make any bid or set any price? A No, sir; he offered me a hundred dollars.
Q Why did you send for him to come to the hotel? A In answer to his letter.

A Did you not say yesterday morning on the street in Muskogee, Indian Territory, in a conversation with F. H. Shoemake say to him; "You have made a great mistake in not keeping in your employment and so have the Dawsons and it will go hard with you and you will see it"? No, sir; I says to Mr. Shoemake, I says: "Who have you employed in your case," and he says "Judge Thomas and Mr. Owen." I said "It might have been a advantage to you if you had retained me in your matter;" Well, he says "there was nothing wrong in my case" and I says "no, there is nothing wrong on earth in your case that I know of." He said all he wanted was justice and I said "I don't know a thing on earth against you," and I says "there is not a thing on earth wrong in your case as I know it come up fairly and squarely and decided in your favor."

Q You said nothing to him about the Dawson case? A Yes, I said to him "it might have been well if the Dawsons had retained me in their case." I said "I am summoned on the part of the Nation and I don't want to make a statement and I want if I can possible avoid it."

Q Was that before or after you talked with Mr. Hastings, the representative of the Nation? A It was afterwards.

Q You meant by that if you had refused to answer you would have gone to jail? A No, sir; if they had employed me before hand I meant not now.

Q You mean that if they had employed you before hand you would not have given this information to Mr. Hastings? A I would not be required, being the attorney.

Q Were you required to give him the information; did you know that you had to give him any information? A Who do you mean.

Q Mr. Hastings. A I did refuse him and he insisted.

Q Well, he no authority to compel you to do it? A No, sir; I don't know whether he did or not.

Q As a lawyer you knew that he did not have authority to compel you to make a statement to him? A I told him tht I was an attorney in the case and I didn't want to make any statement at all.

Q Why did you do it? A Well, he intimated to me it would go any further. He said to me "I will not make this matter — I will not use it;" that is, what I stated to him was part in confidence.

Q And he pledged you his word that it would not be used? A Well, told him I could make a statement in confidence, and that I didn't want to make a statement before the Court.

Q Well, what did he reply, as you said just now? A Oh, he says make the statement and then I told him—I regretted very much to do it, and I regret very much to make a statement here. I tried to avoid it yesterday.

Q You stated just now that he said it would not be used; did he say that or not? A Well, something to that amount; oh, he says it wont make any difference or something to that effect.

Q Now, don't you know that Mr. Hastings did not intimate to you that the statement he was making you to make would not be used? A Well, I didn't think that I could be forced to make a qualified statement before the Court here, because I thought my license would protect me in that matter.

Q Yet it did not protect you or prevent you from making a statement to the attorneys for the Nation? A No, sir.

Q Now, in this conversation with Shoemake to which I before referred did you not ask him to again employ you and tell him if he would you would make it all right for him? A No, sir; I didn't say that; he, I said if he had employed me in the matter "maybe it would have been better for you." Now, he offered me when I was down here last week, he offered me five dollars to go down and talk with the lawyers on the matter, I didn't go I was busy.

Q That was not your price? A No, no, I had nothing to say in his case that would be to his advantage; I knew nothing against him.
Q Now, then, you say that your were present on the morning that the judgment was rendered in favor of the Dawsons? A I was not in the Court house.
Q You were present in Tahlequah? A Yes, sir.
Q How long had you been at Tahlequah? A I was living there at that time.
Q When were you first employed by them? A By Dawsons?
Q Yes, sir. A The evening before the case was tried.
Q You say that after the judgment was rendered Dawson handed you $20? A Yes, sir.
Q And told you to hand to Duncan? A No, sir.
Q What was your statement? A That he paid me $20 and says "I will send you some more in a short time, week or so.
Q And then he sent you $100? A Yes, sir.
Q And wrote you to give D. W. C. Duncan $50 of it? A Yes, sir.
Q And then sent you another $100 and told you to give him half of it? A Yes, sir.
Q How much did they pay you? A Well, that was the agreement, was that he would pay me $50 a family.
Q How much did he pay you? A I think there was $250: now I am not sure about the $50, but it appears to me like there was a $50 sent, and Mr. Duncan asked me, as well as I remember, says "have you got a letter from Dawson," I told him "yes, sir." It was either that or the $100, and he says "I would like to have some money", and I went to Stapler's and got it changed-- I won't be sure about it being $50 or $100--I went to Stapler's and got him to cash the check and give him his part of it.
Q How much did they pay you for your services? A That is all I got.
Q How much? A I think it was $100, $120.
Q What did you do for them? A Didn't do a thing only called up the case and submitted it; never read the evidence.
Q Submitted it without remarks? A Yes, sir.
Q And for that you say they paid you $120? A Yes, sir: $120.
Q Was Houston Benge present when that was done? A No, sir; I don't think he was.
Q Did you see him then at that time in Tahlequah? A I don't remember.
Q Were you associated with him in any manner in connection with the case? A No, sir.
Q You had a great deal of business of that character, have you before the Courts? A Yes, sir.
Q Were you paid like fees in other cases for like services? A Yes, sir.
Q In many of them? A Yes, sir, good many.
Q All like cases? A Oh, citizenship cases.
Q When was it you were in jail at Fort Smith? A I don't remember: Mr. Lollette can remember, he was there, he was my attorney.
Q Was it about 1883? A It was somewhere along there, along in 1890 somewhere.
Q That has been your principal business as a lawyer, has it not? A Yes, sir.
Q You have never practiced much in any other way have you? A Very little.
Q Were you in the habit of working your cases through in the same manner in which you state you worked this through? A No, sir.

Q This was an exception was it? A I never worked this case through. I simply called the case up by request of Mr. Dawson. I read the evidence; don't know what proof there was in it; he just asked me to call the case up.
Q And he agreed to pay you $50 a family for doing that? A Yes, sir.
Q Was that what you required of him? A That is what he agreed to pay. I says "What will you give?" He says "I will give you $50 a family.

MR. HUTCHINGS:

Q At the same time that the attorney for the Nation was talking to you about the Dawson case he also made inquiries about the Shoemake case didn't he? A Yes, sir.
Q And you told him at that time before you knew anything about whether you would be made or compelled to testify that so far as you knew there was nothing you knew detrimental to the Shoemake case? A Yes, sir; that is what I said.
Q You told him at the same time that you not only expected to claim you privilege as an attorney in the case, but that you told him, Mr. Hastings, with the full belief that the Court would sustain your position? A Yes, sir.

Mr. McKennon: That is very leading.

Q Now, did you think that the re-employment, being the attorney in the pending case would strenthen your position or weaken it, when you spoke to Mr. Dawson? A What I thought in the matter was before ever I would be summoned in the matter, a long time ago, that if I had been employed in the matter of course my position would have been such that I would not have been required or could not have been forced.
Q Did you think under those circumstances that Mr. Hastings would approach you about the subject? A No, sir; I don't think I would be forced to, having license to practice law.
Q Did Mr. Hastings tell you at the time that he was going to put you on the stand? A Yes, sir.
Q And let the Court decide? A Yes, sir.

MR. McKENNON:

Q Now, have you a license to practice in the United States Courts? A Yes, sir.
Q In the Territory? A Yes, sir.
Q And also in the Indian Courts? A Yes, sir; do you want to see them?

JAMES W. LEWIS, being duly sworn, testified as follows on part of the Cherokee Nation:

MR. HUTCHINGS:

Q State your name please? A J. W. Lewis.
Q James W. Lewis? A Yes, sir.
Q Where is your postoffice, Mr. Lewis? A Afton.
Q How old are you? A 73 years old.
Q What is your business? A I work at the tin business and gun work.
Q Do you know one James Dawson, the brother of F. M. Dawson and the other Dawsons? A I know old man James Dawson.
Q That is the one I mean, old man James Dawson? A Yes, sir: I know him.
Q How long have you known him? A Well, some four or five years, I guess.
Q How long? A Four or five years I think.

Q When did you come to the country? A I have been in the country 70 odd years.
Q Well, when did he come to the country, do you know? A Along about somewhere in eighty if I recollect right, might have been later than that.
Q How did you happen to get acquainted with? A He lived right close by me and I built a house for him.
Q Did you have any conversation with him at the time you built that house? A Yes, several different times.
Q About how he became a citizen of the Cherokee Nation, about the circumstances? A Yes, sir.
Q Did he make any statement to you about the use of money in getting his citizenship, and if so, state what he said?
A Well, he told me that it cost him $700 to get his rights.
Q Didn't tell you to whom he paid it? A No, he didn't and I didn't ask any questions.

MR. McKENNON:

Q How old was he at that time, do you know? A I do not know exactly, must have been somewheres near about 70 years old, he might have been older than that, I don't know.
Q He was a very old and feeble man? A Yes, he was old and feeble.
Q He seldom ever got out away from his house? A No, sir, only short distance.
Q When you first know him he was that kind of man? A Yes, sir.

J. L. CLINKENBEARD, being duly sworn, testified as follows on part of the Cherokee Nation:

MR. HUTCHINGS:

Q State your name? A J. L. Clinkenbeard.
Q What is your post office address? A Vinita.
Q How old are you? A 56.
Q Were you ever an applicant for citizenship before the Tahlee citizenship Court in Tahlequah? A Yes, sir.
Q About what time was that? A September '81, I think.
Q Did you meet there about that time, one Elbert or Buck Dawson?
A Yes, sir.
Q How did you happen to meet him? A He and I stopped at the same place, ran's by the name of Sharbow.
Q You and he stopped there, did you, board there? A Yes, sir.
Q Well, did you have any talk about citizenship cases, yours and his? A
A Yes, sir.
Q Where did he state that he was from? A Texas.
Q Well, state what you can remember of the conversation between you from time to time about citizenship in the Cherokee Nation?
A Well, we were there on the same business and we talked about it at different times, and in talking about the evidence we had there I, of course, told him how many witness I had and what I could prove and so on, and he said that he didn't have but one witness, Dr. Baker from Arkansas, a man that was 85 or 90 years old, he said, and he hadn't come and said he was to have met him there, but he hadn't come.
Q Well, what did he say about the doctor's knowing anything?
A Well, he said he was 85 or 90 years old and didn't know straight up.
Q Well, did he say anything about giving him whisky?
A Well, he said he could give him four drinks of Arkansas whiskey and he would swear that black was white.

Q Did he say anything about what money would do in Texas or Indian Territory? A Well, in talking about the evidence, he said that money was what made them go down in Texas and he said "I come to get the lay of the land" and he says "I found out it goes there," or words to that effect.
Q Did he say what he had to stand on the question? A Well, he said that he could stand a thousand dollars on it and not be hurt very much; finally he said he could stand more than that.
Q What did he tell you what he thought about the necessity of witnesses anyhow? A Well, I don't know as he said as to that, but I understood from what he said that he thought money would beat witnesses.
Q Well, where did he go from there? A He and I left there together; he came to Muskogee by way of Fort Gibson and there we parted.
Q Did you ever see him after that? A I saw him about two years or something like that afterwards.
Q Where? A Vinita.
Q Did you refer to the citizenship matter? A I asked him how he come out and he said all right.
Q Was he deformed in any way this man? A He had a crippled hand or stiff finger; I don't remember just what it was now.

MR. McKENNON:

Q Your first conversation with him was in '81 was it? A Yes, sir.
Q What time in '81? A September.
Q You were then an applicant for citizenship? A Yes, sir.
Q Were you admitted? A No, sir.
Q You are still an applicant? A No, sir.
Q You are still working to get in as a citizen of the Cherokee Nation? A No, sir; haven't quit it entirely.
Q What business are you in now? A I am running a dairy in Vinita.
Q When did you make representations now to the representative of the Cherokee Nation? A Well, sir, I haven't; I saw Mr. Hastings I believe here last Saturday the first time.
Q How did they ever know that you had had these conversations with Mr. Dawson? A I don't know.
Q You don't know how they found that out? A No, sir.
Q You say you saw Mr. Hastings here last Saturday? A Yes, sir.
Q How, did you approach him or did he approach you? A He approached me.
Q You know why? A No, sir; I suppose somebody I have told something at some time about this, I don't know when or who. I don't remember of having talked to anyone about it. I have saw Mr. Hastings for years.
Q Now, you say—how was that expression about his giving Dr. Baker three or four drinks of liquor? A He said the old man; he said that Dr. Baker, he was expecting him there and he didn't come, and he said he didn't care where he did or not; he said he was 85 or 90 years old; he said he didn't know straight up; said he could give him three or four drinks of Arkansas whiskey and he would not know black or white.
Q Now, he said that did he? A Yes, sir.
Q You are just as positive of that as you are of any other statement he made are you? A Yes, sir.
Q You say you next saw Dawson at Vinita? A Yes, sir.
Q How long afterwards was that? A About two years, I think something near that.
Q Did he move to the Territory? A Yes, sir he lived at Vinita at one time.

Q You speak about having a dairy business there at Vinita, to what extent? A I am only milking about four cows now, I sent the others to the country.
Q Do you run a dairy wagon there? A No, sir.
Q You serve on the jury a good deal? A I have been serving on the Petit jury there this winter.
Q Generally? No, sir.
Q Are you a kind of a professional juror? A No, sir; I was on the regular petit jury, I was on the regular panel and served.

C. G. BRAUGHT, being duly sworn, testified as follows on part of the Cherokee Nation:

MR. HUTCHINGS:

Q State your name? A C. G. Braught.
Q What is your age? A 62 29th day of last January.
Q What is your post office? A Fairland.
Q How long have you been living in the neighborhood of Fairland?
A Been living there 19 years.
Q Do you know one Bud Dawson or F. M. Dawson as his name is?
A I do.
Q How long have you known him? A About 18 years.
Q How close do you live from him? A Half a mile of him.
Q Does he still own that place? A I think he does.
Q Were you an applicant for citizenship along about '81 or '2 at Tahlequah? A Yes, sir.
Q Did you have at any time a conversation with Bud Dawson about his and your citizenship cases? A Yes, sir.
Q State what he stated to you of citizenship cases in general and about his own in particular, you can state the time that you had these conversations as near as you can? A Well, I think it was in '83, he told me if I ever got in I would have to put up; he said it cost him $700 to get in; he said he paid one witness three hundred dollars.
Q Did he state the name of that witness? A No, he did not.
Q Whom did he say he made arrangements with? A He said he made arrangements with the Court; that is, heads of families to get them in at one hundred dollars apiece.
Q Do you know what time of the year that was, whether it was in the summer or not? A I think it was in June.
Q Did he make any other statements to you at any other time?
A No, sir, I don't think he has in regards to that matter.
Q You have been living neighbors with him? A Yes, sir.

MR. McKENNON:

Q You say this was about June of '83? A I think it was in June, 1883, I won't be positive whether it was June or not.
Q You were an applicant; were you admitted? A No, sir.
Q Have you been admitted? A No, sir.
Q You are still an applicant? A Yes, sir.
Q Still trying to get in? A Yes, sir.
Q Where was this conversation had? A Had at Bud Dawson's house.
Q What part of the premises? that is, in his residence?
A Yes, sir.
Q In the house? A Yes, sir.
Q Who was present? A There wasn't anybody present; he just built the house and there wasn't anybody there.
Q Was there more than one room? A I won't be positive but I don't think there was but one room, log house.
Q Just one room? A Yes, sir.

Q And in that room he made this statement to you? A Yes, sir.
Q He and you are enemies are you not? A No, I don't think we are enemies.
Q You are not friendly at all? A Friendly part of the time, and part of the time we ain't.
Q Haven't you had considerable trouble about he lands between your farms? A No, sir, we ain't had any trouble.
Q Didn't you have his little boy arrested recently for a difficulty? A Yes, sir.
Q And you say that you are not on bad terms with him? A Why we speak, have conversation, have right right along all the time.
Q Is it not a fact now that you and he have been all the while at outs? A No, sir.
Q You don't have any unkind feeling towards him? A No, sir.
Q What were your other remarks? A I said no, sir, I didn't have any unkind feeling towards him.

(It being 5 o'clock, the Commission adjourns until 8:30 o'clock to-morrow morning.)

March 19, 1903.
Commission convened pursuant to adjournment.

Appearances:
Mr. A. S. McKennon, of Counsel for Applicants.
Mr. W. T. Hutchings, of Counsel for Cherokee Nation.

C. C. BRAUGH, re-called, further testified:

MR. McKENNON:

Q Mr. Braught, you were a claimant under the Watts family are you not? A Yes, sir.
(witness excused.)

CHARLES D. KENNEY, being duly sworn, testified as follows on part of the Cherokee Nation:
MR. HUTCHINGS:

Q State your name? A Charles D. Kenney.
Q What is your post office? A Dawson now.
Q Are you a citizen of the Cherokee Nation? A Yes, sir; supposed to be.
Q Recognized as such are you? A Yes, sir.
Q How old are you? A There is no family record, my parents died when I was young, I just guess at my age, I am somewheres between 44 and 45 years old.
Q Were you personally acquainted with one Elbert or Buck Dawson? A I knew Buck Dawson when I saw him.
Q Did you know him in the state of Texas, if so state what time? A I knew Buck Dawson, knew him and saw him at different dates in Texas.
Q Well, in the year '81 in Clay County, Texas, did you ever see him? A It was in '81 or 82, I think I knew him in both years.
Q Did you ever have any conversation with him in the presence of Bill Smith, Miles Flippin and Joe Preston about his application for citizenship in the Cherokee Nation? A Mr. Dawson and Flippins were talking in regard to grass down there before we one time and it was mentioned, I was going up on the strip and Buck Dawson says "he an Indian" and Jiles said "yes, he is an Indian", and "By God," I believe is the way he spoke, "if I was an Indian I would not be punching cattle, I would have stock eating my grass."

Q What did he say about making application? A He said he was going to the Chickasaw Nation and prove up and get him some grass.
Q Who was that? A Buck Dawson.
Q Well, did anybody suggest about his going to the Cherokee Nation?
A Yes, sir, I told him, I says "why don't you go to the Cherokee Nation, why don't you go up home" I believe is the way I spoke it, "up amongst God's people;" and he says "are they all white like you?" and Jiles spoke up and says "majority of them."
Q Well, what did he say to Jiles then? A He says "let's go up Jiles", just in a whole crowd of cow punchers, and Mr. Flippin says "Hell, I am going; brother John is getting ready to go now."
Q Well, then what did he say to you? A He says "Who are your best lawyers up there, Kenney," and I told him "Hooley Bell was counted the brainiest man in our country."
Q Well, do you know whether he claimed to have any Indian blood or what he was claiming in that country, whether white man or Indian?
A No, sir, I could not say what he was; he was generally known down there as Buck Dawson, a citizen of the State of Texas, that is all I know of him.

Mr. McKennon: The applicants object to all of the testimony of this witness because it is wholly incompetent and irrelevant.

Mr. McKennon:
Q Were you born and reared in the Cherokee Nation? A I can't tell you where I was born; I was raised here part of the time and in Tulsa County, Texas. B. F. Alberty was my guardian.
Q Were you admitted to citizenship by the Council or Court? A I think both of them passed on me; I can't tell you the date.
Q About what time? A It was sometime in '80 though.
Q What tribunal first? A I don't know; I don't know either when I was admitted, I was re-instated at Council.
Q When? A I think it was in '87 or '88.
Q Haven't you been arrested for crime and charged with crime?
A Well, I didn't know that I was on trial; I have been arrested a hundred times I guess from here to the Rio Grande.
Q For what offense? A For gambling, stealing; if I am on trial I have had lots of them, I have been on the road.
MR. HASTINGS, of Counsel for Cherokee Nation:
Q Were you ever convicted? A No, sir.

Mr. McKennon: Applicant makes further objection to the testimony of this witness on account of his criminal character stated by him.

THOMAS B. BABBART, being duly sworn, testified as follows on part of the Cherokee Nation:
L.F. HUTCHINGS:

Q State your name, please? A Thomas B. Babbart.
Q What is your post office? A Melvin.
Q What is your age? A 49.
Q Are you a Cherokee by blood? A Yes, sir.

Q Did you know one James Dawson? A Well, yes; I did; I have seen him time or two.
Q Were you in Tahlequah about the time he had an application before the Spears or Snake Puppy Citizenship Court? A Yes, sir; I was there about the time the case was settled.
Q Did you know Aaron Butler? A Yes, sir.
Q Who was he? A He was a Cherokee interpreter for the Court.
Q Do you know James Smith? A Yes, sir.
Q Who was he? A He was the Nation's attorney before the Court.
Q Well, did you about that time have a conversation with either Aaron Butler of Jim Smith in company with Mr. James Dawson? A Yes.
Q State the full particulars of it? A About that time this man Dawson and Butler come to me while they were all together, all three of them, and Butler come and called me off to one side, that was down at a colored church, it was after dark, and they called me off there and this man Dawson borrowed some money from me, he said he had to have it that night, his case was going to be submitted the next morning.
Q Well, did he say anything about whether he could get his case submitted if he had more money? A Well, from the language to me and Butler, he wanted this money; Smith had agreed to submit the case without further evidence in the matter.
Q Well, did you let him have the ten dollars? A Yes, sir.
Q Where did they go then? A They walked off up towards town.
Q Did they go together, those three? A Yes, sir.

MR. McKENNON:

Q Was that James Dawson, the leading applicant in that case?
A Yes, best of my recollection that was.
Q How old a man was he? A I don't know; I could not tell you; he looked, I don't know, he might have been--could not tell you just about how old he was.
Q Well, about how old was he, 25, 30 or 40? A Yes, he was older than that, from my judgment I guess he must have been 45 or 50 years old.
Q Is he living or dead? A I don't know.
Q Where have you been living? A I have been living down here near Tahlequah.
Q What was the man's name, Dawson's name? A Jim Dawson I think.
Q You are certain of that? A Yes, sir; I am pretty certain.
Q They came to you with Smith, the Prosecuting Attorney, and Butler, the Interpreter? A Yes, sir.
Q Dawson took you off to one side? A Butler took me to where Dawson was and introduced me to Dawson and vouched for Dawson being all right for the money.
Q When did you first make a statement of this matter to anybody?
A I guess--I don't remember when.
Q How long have you been in Muskogee this time?
A I have been here since, I was summoned here last Friday.
Q Did you ever make any statement to anybody about this before that time? A Yes, I talked to Butler about it.
Q When? A Oh, about, first I remember it has been about two years ago, and Butler was talking to me about it; it was at my house.
Q Were you born a citizen? A Yes, sir.
Q You weren't admitted to citizenship by the Courts or Council?
A No, sir.
Q You have been living in the Cherokee Nation all your life?
A Well, I was born and raised here; I haven't been here all the time; I have been out and in.

Q You have never seen that man Dawson since? A If I have I have never known it, but I seen him the next day.
Q You saw him and took a good look at him, and know about what kind of man he was? I saw him around there about several times.
Q You think he was about 35 or 40 years old? A That would be my guess at it, my recollection.

Mr. McKennon: Applicants object to the testimony of this witness, all of it, because it is wholly incompetent and irrelevant.

DELIA A. BREWER, being duly sworn, testified as follows on part of the Cherokee Nation:
MR. HUTCHINGS:

Q State your full name? A My husband's name was O. P. Brewer, but generally I sign my name Mrs. D. A. Brewer.
Q What was your full maiden name? A Delia A. Vann; well it was really Delilah but I never was called by that name, it was De altogether in my young days.
Q What was your father's name? A His name was Joseph Vann.
Q Was he called by any nicknames and if so how many, and what? A None but the Cherokees, the full-bloods called him Joe Aney.
Q What does that name mean when you talk English? A Rich Joe.
Q Did any of them call him Big Joe Vann? A I don't know; he was a large man; larger than the other Joe Vann.
Q There was another Joe Vann? A Yes, sir.
Q Did your father have any sisters and brothers? A He had quite a number of sisters.
Q Did he have a half sister? A Had two half brothers.
Q Did he have a half sister? A Had several half sisters.
Q Who did they marry? A Different persons; I knew the names of all of them but I have a bad memory, but I know that there was one, a Mrs. Ibbie Wolfe, and Mrs. Lamer, she was first a Mrs. Nicholson and she became a Mrs. Lamer and lived in Alabama and never come to this country, but she has grandchildren in this country.
Q Well, did any of your father's sisters or half sisters ever marry a Rogers? A No, sir.
Q Never had any Rogers kin-folks? A No, sir, I certainly would have heard of them through my family, there was a great many of the kin-folks I never saw, but I heard of them.
Q The Dawson case was talked of here for many years, they claiming kin?
A I never knew until I understood they claimed to be kin to the Vanns, and I flatter myself that my family was prominent enough that they never claimed kin.
Q They never claimed kin at all? A No, sir.
Q Did your father ever had a sister or half sister by the name of Annie, Anna or Alsey? A No, sir.

Mr. McKennon: Applicants object to all the testimony of this witness because it is incompetent and irrelevant.

SAMUEL TOLLIVER DAWSON, being duly sworn, testified as follows on part of the Cherokee Nation:
MR. HUTCHINGS:

Q State your name? A Samuel Tolliver Dawson.

Q What relationare you to the Dawsons? A Well, I am not acquainted with none of these Dawsons, I guess I am cousin, that is what he told me.
Q Who was your father? A Samuel Riley Dawson.
Q What did you say your father's name was? A Lile Dawson.
Q Do you know what his full name was? A Samuel Riley Dawson.
Q What children had your father? A Why, he has got, you mean his first children or his whole family?
Q I want all of his children? A I can't know, I will have to count a while on them, there was nine or ten of them.
Q Just one or two of them I care for; is Mrs. Lewis your sister?
A Yes, sir.
Q Your full sister? A Yes, sir.
Q Was she a daughter of S. R. Dawson, Jr.? A Yes, sir.
Q Now who were the parents of your father, , Samuel Dawson?
A Why Sam Dawson was his father.
Q Sam Dawson was his father? A Yes, sir.
Q What was Sam Dawson's wife, if you know their family history, what your father said or what your grandfather said? A I have heard that she was a Pruitt, my father said; of course I don't know.
Q What was her given name? A Annie.
Q Did you ever see your grandfather, Samuel Dawson? A Yes, sir.
Q Saw him? A Yes, sir.
Q Do you know about how old he was when he died? A He was somewhere up about 90.
Q About how old were you when your grandfather died? A I don't remember exactly how old I was, I must have been somewhere near 12 years old when my grandfather died.
Q Was your father his youngest child? A Yes, sir.
Q Do you know about when your father was born? A Well, no, I don't, he died in '90 and he was 67 years old.
Q He died in about '90 and was about 67 years old when he died?
A Yes, sir.
Q And he was the youngest child? A Yes, sir.
Q Now, do you know how many children your grandfather had , that is brothers and sisters of your father? A I heard him say seven.
Q Well, did you ever hear your father or grandfather speak of whether or not your grandmother was a white woman or an Indian?
A Well, I heard my father speak about it, I don't know that I ever heard my grandmother say anything about it.
Q Well, what did he say about it? A I have heard him say his mother was not an Indian.
Q Did you fathercome here and apply once for citizenship?
A Yes, sir.
Q Was he admitted? A I think not.
Q Did you hear him make any statements about he ground he expected to get in? A He said his brothers had proved their rights here and if his brothers had any rights he did, but I don't know.
Q Well, in that connection didhe say whether his mother was an Indian or white woman? A Never heard him say that his mother was a white woman in speaking about that, I don't know whether he said anything about that or not; I have heard him say his mother wasn't no Indian.

Q About how old were you you suppose when your grandfather died? A About 6.
Q Was your father's birth recorded in the family Bible? A Yes, sir.
Q You know whether your grandfather's record of marriages and deaths were recorded in any Bible or not? A I was, but we haven't it.
Q What became of it? A Got burned.
Q Well, about what year do you remember that your father, Samuel Dawson was born? A I believe it was '23.
Q In 1823? A Yes, sir.
Q And how old was he when he died, if you recollect? A He was between 64 and '7.
Q Did you ever hear your father speak of his relations, his father and mother, as to whether they were white people or Indians? A Yes, sir, they were white people.

Q. You know whether in the family you grandmother was spoken of by the name of Annie, always? A Yes, sir.

BY MR. McKENNON: Applicants object to the testimony of this witness because it is wholly irrelevant and incompetent.

ALEX S. LEWIS, being first duly sworn and being examined, testified as follows:

BY MR. HUTCHINGS:

Q State your name? A Alex S. Lewis.
Q What is your post-office? A Dawson, Indian Territory.
Q How old are? A 59 years.
Q What was your wife's maiden name? A Elizabeth Parales Dawson.
Q Who was your wife's father and mother? A Her father was Samuel R. Dawson and her mother was the wife of Samuel R. Dawson, did you want her maiden name?
Q Well, if you know the maiden name of your wife's mother, state how you know it? A Well she was called Margarett, Margarett Queen was her maiden name.
Q The maiden name now of your wife's father's mother? A Why the maiden name of my wife's father's mother?
Q Yes, sir? A From what her husband and my father-in-law told me it was Annie Pruett.
Q What was the name of your wife's father's father? A My wife's grandfather on her father's side, Samuel Dawson.
Q And his wife's maiden name was Annie Pruett? A Yes, sir.
Q Did you know this old gentleman, Samuel Dawson, you wife's grandfather? A Yes, sir.
Q Personally? A Yes, sir.
Q What opportunities had you to get acquainted with him? A He lived with his youngest son, my father-in-law, and visited us, my wife and I, after we were married, stayed with us quite a while; I lived near my father-in-law and he visited very often.
Q When did he die? A '74.
Q Have you any particular method of recalling that date? A Well, I was away from the house when he was taken sick, and they sent for my wife and myself, and so when I got home my wife had gone to her father's to see her grandfather, he was sick, and I remember my first wife was a baby at that time.
Q And when was your first child born? A He was born December, '73.
Q You know how old you wife's father was when he died? A Why he was up in 60, but I don't remember his age.
Q Did the old original Samuel Dawson ever tell you his age? A Yes, sir, several times.
Q How old was he at the time of his death? A He was passed 94.
Q Did he ever tell you whether or not his wife Annie Pruett had any sister or brother? A Told me she only had one brother named Bob Pruett.
Q Have any of the members of the family named their children after him? A Make it a little plain, it is a little long; my wife's oldest brother was a particular favorite of his grandfather, and he always took this boy with him everywhere, and he had named one of his, oldest child for this brother-in-law who was a particular favorite of his grandfather; named it for him I understood.
Q How, what is his name? A Of course I don't know why he named it, but he gave him the name of Robert Pruett, and I understood it was on account of his grandfather thinking so much of Robert Pruett.
Q Did you ever hear the old Samuel Dawson speak of his brother-in-law? A Yes, sir; I have heard him say that he wished he knew what had become of Bob Pruett, he never had heard of him for a long time; didn't know where he was, or whether he was alive or not.

Q Now, I want the children of Samuel Dawson and Annie Pruett, how many of them did you know, first? A How many did I know personally?
Q Yes, sir? A John James, and Samuel R. Those were the only ones of his children that I remember personally.
Q Well, remember what you know of the family, what other children did he have? A Well he had two girls, as I understand the family history, he had two girls, first, and John Dawson was the third child, and the oldest boy was John Dawson.
Q Was John Dawson the oldest boy? A Yes, sir.
Q Which was the oldest girl? What is she known by now? A I think it was Mrs. Petty, nee Bettie Dawson.
Q And John Dawson was the oldest boy? A Yes, sir.
Q And Samuel R. Dawson was the youngest boy? A Yes, sir.
Q You know anything about the time John Dawson was born, have you any way of coming at it, the oldest boy? A Yes, sir, I know what the oldest son and his wife told me.
Q What was that? A They said he was born in 1811.
Q Who was his oldest son? A Toliver H. Dawson; told me his father was born in 1811.
Q Do you remember now whether the old man had occasion to say whether his wife, Annie Pruett was an Indian or white woman, or ever said anything about it? A I know what the old man said what she was, I don't know that I ever heard the question approached in that way, I have heard him speak as to her blood, but it was in a different way that he reached it.
Q What blood did he say she was? A Well he said that she was the daughter of Mrs. Pruett, a white woman; and that her father was Captain John Rogers, a white man who lived with the Cherokee Indians, and traded with them.
Q Did he say who Captain John Rogers afterwards married? A Said he had a wife in the Cherokee Nation.
Q But that Annie Pruett was not her child? A No, sir, she was the child of Mrs. Pruett.
Q A white woman? A Yes, sir, that was the half sister of Bob Pruett.

BY MR. McKENNON:

Applicants object to all of the testimony of this witness, because it is wholly incompetent and irrelevant.

Q Did ever you apply for citizenship here? A Yes, sir; for my wife.
Q When? A My father-in-law made the application, I don't know exactly when it was, I think probably about '88, I couldn't say as to the date.
Q Before the Cherokee authorities? A Yes, sir.
Q Did he file an application before the Dawes Commission in 1896 also? A Him.
Q Yes, sir? A I don't think he did, no sir.
Q Did you? A I did.
Q On account of your wife? A Yes, sir.
Q Did you make affidavit to that application? A No, sir.
Q Who did? A I don't know, don't remember now.
Q You applied for your wife as an Indian by blood did you not? A Yes, sir.
Q Are you still an applicant? A No, sir.
Q Is she? A No, sir.
Q She was denied was she? A Yes, sir.
Q Was there an appeal taken from that? A Application was filed if I remember, before the Dawes Commission, and they rejected the case, and then I appealed it to the District Court, and it was rejected there and then I stopped.

Q Have you ever been arrested for any crime? A Yes, sir.
Q What? A Charge of murder.
Q Anything else? A No, sir.
Q Committed on the train? A Yes, sir.
Q In a train robbery? A Yes, sir, in a train robbery.
Q How long did you remain in jail? A Appealed the case to the Supreme Court, and it was reversed and sent back, and I was acquitted on that charge.
Q That all the crime you were ever charged with? A Yes, sir.
Q Haven't you been having some trouble with the Dawson family? A Well me personally I have no trouble with any of them, there is one of my boys and one of W. A. Dawson's sons-in-law had some trouble.
Q You are not friendly with the Dawson family? A That son-in-law Mr. Wooley, and myself, don't speak, and I don't think his wife speaks to me either.
Q Well you are claiming some sort of lease on the Wooley farm, aren't you? A No. sir, I don't claim any lease on the Wooley farm.

B. W. ALBERTY, being first duly sworn, and being examined, testified as follows:
BY MR. HUTCHINGS:
Q State your name? A B. W. Alberty.
Q What is your post-office? A Tahlequah.
Q What is your present official position in the Cherokee Nation? A Assistant Executive Secretary of the Cherokee Nation.
Q As such have you charge of the citizenship records and books etc. of the Nation? A Yes, sir.
Q Have you made search recently for the original records in the various cases of the Dawson family before citizenship courts in Council? A Yes, sir.
Q Have you got what records you found with you? A I find what's supposed to be the original papers in the case, all that I could find. (Produces papers and hands to Nation's attorney.)
Q Where did you find these papers? A I found them in the desk in which papers of that character are filed away in the Executive Office at Tahlequah. (Applicant's attorneys examine papers produced by witness.)

My name is Arthur Baker I reside at Berryvill, Arkansas, Carroll County, my age is 73 years, I am not a Cherokee, I lived in the Cherokee Nation about three years when I first came to Arkansas I have been acquainted with him since he became a citizen of Carroll County some thirty five years time drawn through the last three years. I did years at my father's house near Calhoun I became acquainted with the claimants Robt Dawsons grand father on mother's side, saw him frequently at my father's house; though she A ne Pruit lived in the Nation side. She claimed to be a half sister to Big Joe Vann, who claimed to be half Cherokee; the first time she brought the claimant's mother to my father's house the the claimant's mother was about grown, when I was a lit le boy she called her daughter Polly Rogers said Capt. John Rogers who ran a boat up the river was the father of the child; I saw the girl frequently there at my father's and there at Louis Rogers Store I saw her occasionally until I was 15 or 16 years old and I think then Old Capt John Rogers took her off to school. I saw her no more from the time Old Capt. John Rogers took her off till I saw her here in Arkansas the wife of Old Samuel Dawson. I stayed all night there on one and I had a talk over our old matters, and I asked her when she became acquainted with Dawson and she said at the time she was going to school. And she said after she left school that Dawson followed her home to the Nation and they were there married. I have told that precisely in the words she used.

Capt John Rogers claimed to be one fourth Cherokee, the claimant is the son of Polly Rogers and I know Polly Rogers to be the daughter of Anna Pruet, and I know the claimant to be the son of Polly Dawson Capt Rogers then resided in the Cherokee Country about twelve miles from Calhoun on the Hiawassa River.

Anna Pruet resided in the Cherokee Nation as long as I stayed there the Dawsons when I got acquainted with them Arkansas were recognized where they were as Cherokees, Robt Dawsons children is Mack, John, Marion, and two girls; the children named in the petition I recognize as being the claimants.

Question by Solicitor:

Ques. 1 How many children did Polly Rogers have?
Ans. 1 Five, I think that's all.
Ques. 2 Did you say something about so some being married twice?
Ans. 2 The claimant was married twice.

-- filed August 11th, 1837."

Inked ink written along Age column is the following: "Rejected April 26, 1839."

"Now this day comes the above case for final hearing, Samuel R. Dawson, bases his application for readmission to citizenship in the Cherokee Nation upon the ground that he is the son of Samuel Dawson a white man, Polly Rogers the wife of Tolliver Dawson and Chilney Pruitt, said Polly being the sister of Joseph Vann, commonly known as Rich Joe, who was of Cherokee blood. It is admitted that John Rogers & Chilney Pruitt died before the roll upon which their names would appear if living at the time and specified in the 7th section of the Act of December 6th, 1836, creating the Comission on Citizenship, were made but in support of the application it is urged that certain members of the Dawson family and full brothers of the applicant were re-admitted to citizenship by the Comission on Citizenship commonly known as

"The Tehee Court", and the "Spears Court", and are now residing as citizens in the Cherokee Nation. In the opinion of this Commission the sufficiency of the considerations which determined the decision of those Commissions of the testimony now introduced to authorize the admission of the present applicant is not relivent to the issue now pending. The 7th section of the Act of December 8th, 1886, before named provides, that "The Commission shall give a hearing to any person applying for citizenship in the Cherokee Nation upon the ground of Cherokee blood or descent, but such applicant must be a person, or the lineal descendant of a person whose name appears upon the census rolls of Cherokees taken by the United States," As are hereafter enumerated. Neither the name of the applicant nor that of the person of whom he claims to be a lineal descendant appearing upon either of said rolls the Commission adjudge and decree that Samuel R. Dawson and family are not entitled to re-admission to citizenship in the Cherokee Nation as Cherokees by blood. This opinion includes the cases of Andrew J. Dawson, James K. P. Dawson, Jounnah Barber nee Jounnah Dawson and Jane Queen, nee Jane Dawson, and their families, as enumerated in their respective applications.

I am a citizen of the Cherokee Nation and reside in Goldwater-Cowee Dist. and am 53 years old. I am acquainted with the applicant, Andrew J. Dawson, he claims to be a relation of mine. I knew known him personally about three (3) years. He said his father was Joe Dawson. I know the party, the applicant, from circumstances, and have no doubt but that he is a reation of mine.

Joe Dawson, the father of the applicant was my father's brother. Joe Dawson was considered to be a Cherokee, I think he died on the Hiwassee river in Tenn. I think he had four (4) children. I never saw any of them but Andrew J. Dawson, and Jim Dawson.

-Cross Ex.-

Joe Dawson has been dead about 35 years he lived west of the Mississippi River, I understand. My father had four brothers. I don't know how long Joe Dawson had been living in Tenn. before he died. All that I know of the applicant being the son of My Uncle Joe Dawson, is from what he himself has told me, - My grandfather, Sam Dawson was a white man. The applicant could be of the Dawson name and not be related to me- My grandfather being a Dawson and a white man.

Now this day comes the above case for final hearing, Samuel R. Dawson bases his application for re-admission to Citizenship in the Cherokee Nation upon the ground that he is the son of Samuel Dawson, a white man, Polly Rogers, the daughter of Captain John Rogers, and Child by Pruett said to be half sister of Joseph Vann, an old known rich and [illegible] of Cherokee blood. It is admitted that John Rogers

Chilsey Pruett died before the rolls upon which their names would appear if living at the time, and specified in the 7th Section of the Act of December 6th, 1886, creating the Commission on Citizenship were made, but in support of the application it is urged that certain members of the Dawson family the full brothers of the applicant were admitted to citizenship by the Commission on Citizenship commonly known as the "Tehee Court" and "Spears Court" and are now residing as citizens in the Cherokee Nation. In the opinion of this Commission the sufficiency of the commitment one which determined the decisions of those Commissions or the testimony now introduced to authorize the admission of the present applicant is not relevant to the issue now pending. The 7th Section of the Act of December 6th, 1886, before mentioned provides that the Commission hereinafter to be appointed to any person applying for citizenship in the Cherokee Nation upon the grounds of Cherokee blood or descent, but such applicant must be a person, or the lineal descendant of a person whose name appears upon the census rolls of Cherokees taken by the United States, hereinafter mentioned, neither the name of the applicant nor that of the person of whom he claims to be a lineal descendant appearing upon either of said rolls, the Commission adjudge and decree that Samuel R. Dawson and family are not entitled to re-admission of citizenship in the Cherokee Nation as Cherokees by blood. This opinion includes the case of Andrew J. Dawson, James K. P. Dawson, Joannah Barber, nee Joannah Dawson, and Jane Queen, nee Jane Dawson and their families as enumerated in their respective applications.

W. C. Rogers being duly sworn on oath deposes and says: that he is a citizen and resident of the Cherokee Nation, Indian Territory. That his post-office address is Ski-ko-ki, Ind. Ter. that he was born and raised in the above mentioned Ter itory; that he is 46 years of age:

Affiant further states that he is slightly acquainted with Irena J. House, an applicant for admission to citizenship in the Cherokee Nation as shown by copy of her application.

Affiant further states that his father's name was Charlie Rogers- who was a son of Captain John Rogers and the said Capt. John Rogers was the only man of that name that ever lived in the Cherokee Nation that this affiant ever heard of; that the said Capt. John Rogers this affiant's grandfather lived at Grand Saline, I. T. and died in Washington, D. C.

This affiant states that his father Charlie Rogers was a sister and five brothers viz. Cynthia Rogers, Lewis Rogers, George Rogers, Nelson Rogers, Samuel Rogers and Randolph Rogers; that he (this affiant) was well and personally acquainted with the above said parties- except Samuel and Randolph Rogers, who were killed when this affiant was quite young.

This affiant at the time was 34 years of age, when his father, Charlie Rogers died, that his father never had any other family (like an ink blot) brothers or sisters that the ones above mentioned; that the said Polly Rogers named in the application for citizenship of Irene J. House, was not a sister of his fathers; that his father never had but one sister viz. Cynthia Rogers the this affiant ever heard of; that this affiant was well acquainted with his aunt Cynthia Crump-"

Just here the following is inserted on separate paper:

"EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT OF
CHEROKEE NATION. I, John L. Adair, Executive Secretary of the Cherokee Nation, do hereby certify that I have compared the foregoing with the original record in this Department, and that the same is correct copies and transcript therefrom.

In witness whereof I have hereunto set my hand and affixed the Great Seal of said Cherokee Nation, at Tahlequah, this, the 5th day of Feb. 1896.

(Seal) (signed) John L. Adair,
Executive Secretary."

Then the above affidavit continues:

"(nee) Rogers that she lived with this affiant's father for a number of years prior to here death.

Affiant states that he has often talked with his father, Charlie Rogers of his aunt Cynthia Crump (nee Rogers) about his relatives; that they never whole of any other sister in their family; that this affiant was about 20 years of age when his aunt, Cynthia Crump died; that they told him there never was (words "never was" marked over with ink) father never had any other daughter or daughter other than Cynthia Rogers

Affiant states that his father told him a number of times, that this affiants grandfather Capt John Rogers never had any other family other than the one above mentioned; that this affiant never heard his father Charlie Rogers or any of his relatives speak of his grandfather Capt John Rogers ever., or running a boat up any river.

Affiant states his father Charlie Rogers was born on Big Mulberry, South-east of Van Buren, Arkansas, in the year of 1817.

Further affiant saith not.

FIRST. The Commission erred in rendering its decision on said claims adversely to the applicants upon the proof submitted by said applicants.

SECOND. The Commission erred in investigating the claims of appellants in the absence of a majority of the members of the Commission.

THIRD. The Commission erred in refusing the applicants the right and privilege of examining the proof submitted by appellee in support of the answer filed by the appellee and denying the appellants the right of filing replication to appellee's answer or producing proof in rebuttal of the same.

FOURTH. The Commission erred in denying the appellants the right of a trial of their claims by a competent jury, as granted to them by the laws and constitution of the United States.

FIFTH. The Commission erred in refusing appellants the right to be present in person, or by attorney, during the trial and determination of their claims before the said Commission.

SIXTH. The Commission erred in refusing to issue process for witnesses and to send for persons and papers when requested to do so by the appellants.

SEVENTH. The Commission erred in deciding against the right of these appellants to be enrolled as citizens of the Cherokee Nation.

EIGHTH. The Commission erred in deciding against blood, holding that blood was not a test of the right of citizenship in said Cherokee Nation.

NINTH. The Commission erred in deciding against the question of residence, holding that residence in the Cherokee Nation was not a test of the right of citizenship in the said Cherokee Nation.

TENTH. The Commission erred in not entering upon their docket or record the grounds upon which the claims of appellants were denied and refusing to notify appellants the grounds of denial or rejection.

ELEVENTH. The Commission erred in examining the claims and proof of appellants and denying the same while the Commission was not clothed with any legal authority, nor had jurisdiction, to render decision on said claims or deny the same.

TWELVTH. That the Act of Congress approved June 10th, 1896, was unconstitutional and had no force or legal effect to confer jurisdiction on said Commission to try and determine the rights to citizenship of said appellants, and said Commission erred in determining the rights and denying the same to said appellants.

THIRTEENTH. That Congress had no power by enactment to create, appoint and empower a judiciary, and said Commission erred in denying the claims of said appellants without any legal authority to do so.

Therefore, the appellants of said case pray that an appeal be granted to this Court and that a trial, de novo, be granted the appellants, and that said applicants be permitted to introduce new testimony, and that an order be made requiring said Commission to send all pleadings, papers and records filed before it in this cause to this Court, and that the Cherokee Nation, the appellee herein, be at this writ and plead and defend against the appeal and show why the appellants should not by the rules, orders and decisions of this Court be adjudged entitled to citizenship in the said Cherokee Nation, and the appellants will ever pary.

This this cause was instituted on September 8th, 1906, before the Dawes Commission to the Five Civilized Tribes, by Joanna Barber, and Isaac J. Barber, her husband, and their Children, Onis E., Willie P., James E., Johnnie and Joel A. Barber. That Joel A. Barber has the following children, Hattie Toliver, George A., Frankie O., Jesse and Ethel Barber. That the application includes also Mary A. Bowser and her child Inez Bowser, Emma L. Murphy and her child Claud Murphy, Dora Loore and her children Anna J., Jackson D., Ruby M. Gladys, Attie L. Hunt and her child Dorina Hunt, Alsey J. Short and her children Georgia A. and Ezzey M. Short, Josepho J. Carlile House and her children Lyrtie C., Corn L. and Bertha M. Carlile House. That this application was by the Commission tried and rejected on October 20th, 1906, with no reasons given for the decision, and that subsequently on December 21, 1906, the claimants appealed to this Court. That the parties all live in the Cherokee Nation, Indian Territory.

II

That the parties claim the right to be admitted to citizenship in the Cherokee Nation by reason of their descent from Polly Rogers, who is claimed to be a Cherokee Indian by blood. That there filed in support of their application the affidavits of S. R. Dawson, E. Dawson, Francis M. Dawson, and F. A. Dawson, who testify that Joanna Barber is the daughter of Elizabeth Reavy, nee Dawson, who was the daughter of Polly Rogers, who was a full blood Cherokee Indian by the name of Sarah Dawson, and that Polly Rogers was the daughter of Captain John Rogers and Ailsey Vann. That these witnesses are all Cherokee citizens by blood, associated with the claimants, and according to their testimony, related to them by blood.

The appellee introduced to contravert this testimony the decision of the Cherokee Commission on Citizenship, rendered in the year 1907, in which these claimants were rejected by this Commission and also the affidavits of W. C. Rogers a grandson of Captain John Rogers, and Mrs. Sarah Carter, a granddaughter of Captain John Rogers, both of whom state that they never heard of any daughter of said Captain John Rogers by the name of Polly Rogers, and that Cynthia Rogers was his only daughter.

III

The claimants contend that they are residents of the Cherokee Nation, and are relatives of the Dawson family, who are recognized citizens of the Cherokee Nation by blood, are entitled to be admitted to the Cherokee Nation as citizens by blood, while the appellee contends that John Rogers, through whom the petitioners claim, is not now and has not been a citizen of the Cherokee Nation since the removal west; that his name does not appear on the rolls of the Cherokee Nation, and that he nor his ancestors ever resided in the Cherokee Nation as citizens thereof.

The premises considered, in view of the unsettled condition of affairs in the Cherokee Nation at the time when Captain John Rogers, the ancestors through whom these claimants trace their Cherokee blood, lived, and especially in view of the absence of a marriage law and of records pertaining to marriage, I am of the opinion that these claimants have proven that they are descended from Capt. John Rogers, who resided in the Cherokee Nation, and was a recognized citizen, though they do not show that he was ever enrolled as such, and I therefore find that the claimants are all residents of the Cherokee Nation, Indian Territory, that they are all Cherokee Indians by blood. That they have resided in the Cherokee Nation since 1907, and probably longer, though the proof does not state definitely how long they have so resided.

I ask that the Court allow me a reasonable fee for my services herein as Special Master.

Respectfully submitted this 16th day of August, 1907.

BY THE COURT.

From this report it appears that the claimants base their right to be enrolled as citizens of the Cherokee Nation upon the grounds that they are the descendants of a Cherokee Indian by blood, but their ancestors through whom they claim have never resided in the Cherokee Nation as now constituted. It appears that they have resided in the Cherokee Nation since 1907, and probably longer, though the proof does not state definitely how long they have so resided. It does not appear that the applicants or any of their ancestors have ever been recognized as members of the Cherokee Nation.

The judgment of the United States Commission rejecting this case is affirmed, and the application of the claimants to be enrolled as citizens of the Cherokee Nation is denied."

BY MR. HUTCHINGS:

We now introduce the original record in the citizenship case of Irene J. House, et al., before the Commission in 1896, the court number of same being 238, said case being denied by the Commission; appealed to the United States Court, and the decision of the Commission affirmed.

In this case we desire to call especial attention to the certified copy filed therein of the testimony of Arthur Tucker, the certified copy having been made in 1894, being the testimony of Dr. Tyler in the case of Robert Dawson against the nation, number 103, before the Citizenship Commission, and which was made January 12, 1892.

BY MR. McKENNON: To all of which the applicants object, because the same is immaterial, irrelevant and incompetent.

The papers in Court No. 238, just introduced above, are as follows:

"Office of Commission on Citizenship,
Cherokee Nation, Tahlequah, January 19, 1882.

No. 108.
Robert Dawson et al) Exhibit C. vs (
Cherokee Nation.)

Testimony for Claimants.

Witness, Dr. Arthur Baker sworn testified as follows:
My name is Arthur A. Baker I reside at Berryville Arkansas Carroll County my age is 77 years I am not a Cherokee. I lived in the Cherokee Nation about three years when I first came to Arkansas I have been acquainted with him since he became a citizen of Carrolls County more 35 years - At my Mothers house near Calhoun I became acquainted with the claimants Robt Dawson grandmother on Mother's side she was frequently at my Mothers house though she Anna Pruet lived in the Nation side; She claimed to be a half sister to Big Joe Vann, also claimed to be half Cherokee, the first time she brought the claimants mother to my Mothers house she the Mothers Mother was about grown when I was a little boy. She called her daughter Polly Rogers, Said Captain John Rogers who was a Boat up the River was the father of the child; I saw the girl frequently there at my Mothers and there at Louis Ramses Store.

I saw her occasionally until I was 15 or 16 years of old and I think then Old Capt. John Rogers took her off to school, I saw her no more from the time Old Capt. John Rogers took her off till I saw her here in Arkansas the wife of old Samuel Dawson, I stayed all night there with us and I had a talk over our old matters and I asked her where she became acquainted with Dawson and she said at the time she was going to school and she said after she left school that Dawson followed her home, to the Nation and they were there married. I have told that precisely in the words that she used, Capt John Rogers claimed to be one fourth Cherokee. The claimant is the son of Polly Rogers, and I know Polly Rogers to be the daughter of Anna Pruett and I know the claimant to be the son of Polly Dawson.

Capt. Rogers then reside in the Cherokee Country about twenty (word "twenty" marked through) twelve miles below Calhoun on the Hiwassee River Anna Pruett resided in the Cherokee Nation as long as I stayed there the Dawsons from I got acquainted with them Arkansas were recognized where they were as Cherokees. Robert Dawson children is Buck, John, Marian and two girls, The children named in the petition I recognized as being the claimants.

Question by Solicitor:

No. 1 How many children did Polly Rogers have?
Ans. 1 Five I think that's all.
No. 2 Did you ever see Polly Rogers married to some one besides Dawson twice?
Ans. 2 The claimant's mother married twice.
No. 3 Could Anna Pruett speak Cherokee?
Ans. 3 Yes, she could speak it well.

Ques 4 Did Polly Rogers speak Cherokee?
Ans. 4 She did when I was young.
Ques 5 How far did you live from Anna Pruet?
Ans 5 Just across the riva about 3/4 of a mile.
Ques 6 Was Calhoun in the Cherokee Nation?
Ans. 6 It was on both sides of the river part in the Nation and part out in the state.
Ques 7 Which Harnage was it went to Texas?
7 George went first, then John went, they were the sons of old man Harnage, that lived up near the line.
Ques 8 Did the Claimant go to Texas?
Ans. 8 No the Claimant did not go to Texas.
9 What connection was claimant and Polly Rogers?
9 The Claimant is the son of Polly Rogers Marion here is the grandson of Polly Rogers.
10 Where does claimant now live?
10 He lives in Carroll Co Arkansas.
11 Do you know what relation old Capt John Rogers was to Charles Rogers here in Cooweescoowee?
11 They claimed kin but what kin I dont know there were two Capt John Rogers in the Nation I am speaking of the time when I first came to this country about the year 1830.
12 Was Anna Pruet the maiden name of claimants grandmother
12 Yes that was her maden name the Indian called her Sinee

My name is F. M. Dawson; I am 54 years of age; my post office address is Afton Indian Territory I am a farmer by occupation and reside in the Cherokee Nation.

I am a recognized Cherokee citizen by blood. I was born in Carroll County Arkansas near Berryville. I derived my Cherokee Indian blood from my grandmother whose maiden name was Polly Rogers through my father Robert Dawson, my grandmother Polly Rogers was a Cherokee Indian and was married to Samuel Dawson my grand father in the old Cherokee Nation in Tennessee. My grand parents Samuel Dawson and his wife Polly came west from the Old Cherokee Country in about 1832 and settled in Western Arkansas and later came on to the Indian Territory and the father of this affiant Robert Dawson and family settled in the Cherokee Nation, Indian Territory, Robert Dawson, the father of the affiant was also a recognized citizen of the present Cherokee Nation by reason of his Cherokee Indian blood.

The said Robert Dawson father of this affiant and Elizabeth Dawson who married John Petty were full brother and sister by blood, both being children of said Samuel Dawson and his wife Polly Dawson whose maiden name was Polly Rogers The said Elizabeth Petty was the mother Of Joanna Barber who is a full cousin by blood of this affiant in the Indian side. The said Joanna Barber is the mother of Irene J. House nee Barber who is a second cousin of this affiant in the Indian side.

This affiant further states that he has seventy five to a hundred blood relatives who reside in the Cherokee Nation and are recognized Cherokee Indians by blood and drew their per capita money all the last payment; said citizens and relatives derived their Indian blood from the same source that the above named Irene J. House, derives her Indian blood and right.

This statement I have made to John H. Koo ler, a Notary Public at Lusho se Indi.. Territory and it has been written down by him at my dictation. Such part of this testimony which refers to matters occurin previous to my recol ection I know by means of family history and traditions which facts I have always b en taught and told of by my parents and grand parents from childhood up, th facts stated as occuring since my childhood I know of my personal knowledge. Affiant further states that he is not personally interested in the prosecution of the application of said Irene J. House for citizenship in the Cherokee Nation.

"Irene J. House et al,
vs. No. 238
Cherokee Nation.

Mr. N. A. Gibson, Special Master to whom the case was referred, submits the following report: (Insert report)

IN THE UNITED STATES COURT IN THE INDIAN TERRITORY.

NORTHERN DISTRICT AT MUSCOGEE.

IRENE J. HOUSE ET AL

VS # 238 REPORT OF SPECIAL MASTER.

THE CHEROKEE NATION.

----------oOo----------

I, M. A. Gibson, Special Master herein, show to the Court that under the general order herein, I have examined the proof and pleadings on file in this case which are made a part of this report, and that I find as follows:-

I

That this case is in reality a branch of Case No. 90, Joanna Barber vs Cherokee Nation, the principal claimant herein being Irene J. House a daughter of Joanna Barber.

That this cause was instituted on September 2, 1896 at which time application was made to the Commission to the Five Civilized Tribes for citizenship by blood in the Cherokee Nation.

That this case was tried by the said Commission on November 24, 1896 and the applicants denied, no reasons being given for the decision, and that on January 26, 1897, the parties appealed from said decision to this Court.

That this application was made by Irene J. House, her husband, W. J. House, and their children Chas., C. Winston T., and Henry W. House. That they file in support of their application the affidavits of Joanna Barber, T. . Dawson, Arthur A. Baker, E. Dawson, and F. A. Dawson. That these Dawson witnesses are citizens by blood of the Cherokee Nation, and state that they are related by blood to the claimants herein on the Cherokee side. The claimants base their contention of a right to Cherokee citizenship upon the fact that the claimant Irene J. House is the daughter of Joanna Barber, who is the daughter of Elizabeth Petty, who was the daughter of Polly Rogers, and that Polly Rogers was the daughter of Captain John Rogers and Ailsey Vann, who were recognized Cherokee citizens by blood. That the testimony shows that this Dawson family are recognized citizens of the Cherokee Nation, and that the claimants herein are cousins by blood upon the Dawson side, and that they all claim through a common ancestor, Polly Rogers and Captain John Rogers and Ailsey Vann, who are all recognized Cherokee Indians.

II

The appellee introduces in defense the record of the application of these claimants for Cherokee citizenship in the year 1897, and the record of the objections of the claimants, and further the affidavits of Mrs. Sam Carter, a granddaughter both of whom state that they never heard of any daughter of Captain John Rogers of the name of Polly Rogers, and that she had only two children, one named Cynthia.

III

The Claimants contend that they are residents of the Cherokee Nation and are relatives of the Dawsons, who are recognized citizens of the Cherokee Nation by blood, are entitled to be admitted to the Cherokee Nation as citizens by blood, while the appellee contends that John Rogers, through whom the petitioners claim, is not now and has not been a citizen of the Cherokee Nation since the removal west. That his name does not appear on the rolls of the Nation, and that neither he nor his ancestors ever resided in the Cherokee Nation as citizens thereof.

IV

The premises considered, I find that the claimants are the descendants of Captain John Rogers, and that it was entirely possible that in the condition of affairs at that early date in the Cherokee Nation, especially owing to the absence of a marriage law and of records pertaining to marriage, that these claimants should be the descendants of Captain John Rogers by a daughter, Polly Rogers, of whom the affiants for the appellee may never have heard.

I find that the claimants are residents of the Cherokee Nation, Indian Territory, where they have resided since 1[illegible], and that they are Cherokee Indians by blood.

I ask that the Court allow me a reasonable fee for my services herein as Special Master.

Respectfully submitted, this 9 day of Nov 1897.

By MR. HUTCHINGS:

Well we close for the present.

TESTIMONY INTRODUCED ON BEHALF OF THE APPLICANTS:

D. W. C. DUNCAN, being first duly sworn, and being examined, testified as follows:

BY MR. HOLCOMBE:

Q Please state your name, age and residence? A My name is D. W. C. Duncan, my age is 72 years, my residence, Vinita, Indian Territory.

Q Are you a duly recognized citizen of the Cherokee Nation by blood? A I am.

Q You have testimony in this case since before did you not, [illegible] the Dawes Commission? A I did.

Q Before the Commission I will say, the Commission? A The Dawes Commission? Q Yes. A Now I don't recollect the Dawes Commissioner was, that was the Vinita, or Muskogee.

Q [illegible] connected with the Cherokee citizenship [illegible] Dawes Commission?" A I was Clerk of the [illegible]

Q [illegible] what length of time? A I don't recollect the exact length of time I think it was about thirty days, during the continuance of [illegible] Commission, existance of that Commission.
Q You were the only clerk it had during its existance were you?
A I think I was.
Q You were Clerk of that Commission when it rendered a decision in favor of Robert Dawson et als, as found on page 114, of its record, numbered 108 (witness examines record referred to.) now in the possession of this Commission? A I was.
Q The members of that Commission were the same as shown by the [illegible] to this judgment were they? A The same, yes, sir.
Q [illegible], President of the Commission, Alex Wolfe and T. F. [illegible] Commission rendered that is correct, is it? A That's correct.
Q You were present when this case was under consideration by that Commission and when it rendered this judgment in the case? A I was.
Q Were you at that time acquainted with F. M. Dawson, commonly called "Red Bird Dawson", Campbell Taylor and Samuel H. Benge, who were attorneys, who were Cherokee attorneys at that time? A I might say that I merely knew Mr. Dawson; all I know of him was I saw him [illegible] as a party to the suit. I knew Mr. Taylor and Mr. Benge [illegible] relatively. I have known them a number of years.
Q They were Cherokee citizens were they? A They were.
Q Taylor was [illegible] generally as a Citizenship Attorney?
A I think he was.
Q Do you remember seeing him and Benge present at the time this case was under consideration by the Court? A Why I do not recollect seeing Mr. Benge, I cannot recollect, but I can recollect of seeing Mr. Taylor about the Court room now and then.
Q Do you know who submitted the case to the Court for the applicants? A Let me understand the meaning of that; who brought the case?
Q Who called up the case? A No, I don't recollect.
Q Do you remember whether that Commission rendered any other decision [illegible] found upon this record in that case? A I never had any [illegible] only one decision.
Q [illegible] in favor of or against the applicants? A It was in favor, I will say think that if there was another decision [illegible] I think the one that appears on the docket now before you, I have no recollection of it.
Q The only decision you have any knowledge of was rendered by you in this book as here shown was it not? A That is the only one that I have [illegible] knowledge of Q [illegible] your money in connection with that case?
Q [illegible] pay you any money for your influence
A Never.
Q [illegible] directly or through any other [illegible]
Q [illegible] to the Court
[illegible] for the purpose of influencing [illegible] whatever.
Q [illegible] correct during that [illegible] that I was during [illegible]
Q [illegible] without reward to any court which [illegible] that judgment? A I never observed anything of the kind; nothing that awakened a suspicion in my mind that he was engaged in that kind of Practice.

Q Did Campbell Taylor at any time after the rendition of that judgment pay to you any money as coming through him from Bud Dawson for any services which you had rendered to him in that case?
A Yes, he paid me some.
Q What amount? A My recollection is that I think it was a twenty dollar bill. I don't know but I had better go and state the transaction, all about it.
Q Yes, sir. A Mr. Dawson, Bud Dawson, during the trial of the case occasionally applied to me at my desk for writing paper, issue of a subpoena or transcript, something of that kind. I always treated him with courtesy and proper official consideration. He seemed to appreciate it, and whenever I did services of that kind to him, says he, I have no money, Mr. Duncan, but I feel as I ought to pay you. I told him I made no charges for such as that kind. And in passing I might state that I never received a cent for any kind of that work which I had been in the habit of doing for various parties before the Court.

After his trial was concluded, in the afternoon a little while before supper time I went to my hotel, The Whitehead Brick Hotel in Tahlequah; went to my room, felt a little tired, laid down upon the bed to rest. I recollect Mr. Duncan stepped into the room, drew a chair up to the bedside and sat down and commenced giving expression to his gratification at the success of his case, dwelling mostly upon the testimony in the case being so satisfactorily, establishing his Cherokee blood, and that he thought that he was entitled and that he had received justice by the Court. I listened to him, and we talked there I guess some ten or fifteen minutes; after a little he says, I must go to-morrow, I think he says to-morrow, I must go home,- he then lived down in Arkansas somewhere. Says he, Mr. Duncan, I believe I owe you something, ought to pay you something. Alluding, as I understood, to these little courtesies that I extended to him at my desk. Says I, I make no charges, Mr. Dawson, for services; if I have done you a good you are welcome. Well, says he, I feel indebted to you, I ought to pay you. I says, that makes no difference; I will leave that to you. Says he, I have hardly enough money to get back home. He shook my hand, and the last word he says to me, you shan't lose anything for your kindness to me. I thought he had reference to my services at the desk. That was the last I saw of Mr. Dawson, oh it must have been a year [illegible], I had located a little claim on the public domain up [illegible] District, at that time what I intended to be a farm, [illegible]. I didn't have any other improvements, ever there on [illegible] went over in that part of the country to look after my [illegible] across Mr. Dawson, he had come into the [illegible] built him a little shanty and was [illegible] he was very glad to see me; I [illegible] he said he had moved into the country [illegible], you are encroaching upon me here; he had [illegible] part of mine, mine had been made as long as it was entitled under Cherokee law. Well, says Mr. Dawson, I don't want to do you any wrong, I will pay you for your claim, and I will get to the matter in that way, that he as soon as we [illegible] together that he would satisfy me for it. [illegible] that point. It ran on then for a long time, I [illegible], - I think I met him in Vinita, and says he, did Campbell Taylor pay you any money that I sent to you? Says I, No, I have not seen Campbell Taylor.

Well, says he, I gave him some money and told him to hand it to you some time, and, says he, you ask him and he will hand it over to you I guess. Well we parted then. Well, went on for some time, some months; I happened to meet Mr. Taylor in Tahlequah; I met him on the street I think, jocularly I slapped my hand on his shoulder, says I, look here, did Mr. Dawson any money to me by you? He says, yes, and he pulled out what I recollect to be a twenty dollar bill, and handed it to me; I received it, and I received it with the idea that he was compensating me for taking my claim, or possibly for doing him those little services in the Court. Now that is the sum and substance of the whole thing.

Q Was not that twenty-five dollars, Mr. Duncan? A It might possibly have been, my recollection does not serve me exactly, it might have been 25 dollars.

Q Did Campbell Taylor pay you any other money as coming from Bud Dawson? A Never a cent.

Q Did he at one time pay you fifty dollars out of a hundred dollars which he had received from Mr. Dawson? A Never.

Q Did he on a second occasion pay you fifty dollars out of one hundred dollars which he claimed to have received from Mr. Dawson? A None at all.

Q He paid you no other money than that you have already stated, from Mr. Dawson? A Not a cent.

BY MR. McKENNON: We offer in evidence the judgment of the Cherokee Citizenship Commission before referred to, and ask that it be filed in evidence in the case of every application made by members of the Robert Dawson family who claim under it, or through Robert Dawson, as citizens of the Cherokee Nation, said judgment being found on page 114, Records of the Tehee Court, 1880 to 1884, case number 108, judgment dated January 11th, 1883, signed by Thomas Tehee, President, Alex Wolfe, T. Transcript turned to Claimants, January 11th, 1883, (signed) D. F. C. Duncan, Clerk.

Marginal Note: "Case submitted by Claimant January 11th 1883. Case submitted by Solicitor January 11th, 1883."

Q Do you remember how many members of the Court were present when this judgment was rendered, or were all of them? A My recollection upon that point is not positive, but my impression upon what I know to be the practice of the Court at the time, seeing the names of all these Commissioners there, I can say with a great deal of positiveness that they were all present, because I never signed the name of one of the Commissioners unless he was present, attending to it or directing it.
Q The rendition of that judgment then was concurred in by all of the three judges? A It was.
Q Mr. Duncan, if there had been a decision rendered the day in this case while the Court was in session, adverse to those Claimants, would you have known it? A I certainly should have known it.
Q Was there any such decision of the Court? A None to my knowledge. I said my positively there was not.
Q How many of those judges are now living? A Only one.
Q Who? A Mr. Thompson.
Q Tehee and Wolfe are dead? A Tehee and Wolfe are dead.
Q How long have they been dead, do you know? A I do not know, quite a number of years. I wasn't living here, never lived here then when their death occured, and their death occured before I got knowledge of it. It is presumed by everybody that they are dead.

Q Do you remember to have seen any other entry of the Durnon case in the Court at that time than that appears there in your handwriting, Mr. Dunnan, except that, until after they have entered the conviction of the defendant,

(At this point an ante room conversation in the Court in which the examination is held, took place between counsel, which is omitted.)

BY MR. MURPHY:

Q Mr. Dunnan, when did you become a clerk of the Tehoe Commission Court? A It must have been sometime in December, 1884, at the time the Commission was organized immediately at the close of the Council in which they were appointed.

Q December 1884? A I think so.

Q What are you doing recording judgments here in your handwriting in 1883? A The Commission held its Court after they were elected sometime.

Q The Court was elected in 1883, wasn't it? A Well, I can't tell you, I don't pretend to say when the Court was elected, I did not have said at the time I was chosen clerk, I was chosen clerk just at the close of the session of the National Council of that year.

Q '84? A I think it was '84.

Q You entered up this judgment rendered January, 1883? A Yes, that was the session of the Commission.

Q That was before you were clerk of it? A Well I held the clerkship for some time you know continuously.

Q Well but when you come to say to us that you were their clerk when the case was passed on? A No, I don't mean to say to it.

Q How could you be clerk when the case was passed on in 1883 when you were not elected until 1884? A I am mistaken in that, '84 comes after '83,- it was the year preceding 1883, it must have been '82.

Q Your first entry in the Durnon case is January 17, 1883, isn't it? Q I don't recollect what my first entry was. (Attorneys show the record to witness) Yes, that is the entry there on the 17th,

Q And that was shortly after you became clerk, wasn't it? A Yes, shortly after I became clerk.

Q The case had been entered upon the docket before you became clerk? A I think so, yes; It was entered at the previous term of the session of the Commission.

Q In whose handwriting was the names of the three Commissioners signed to that judgment? A Durnon Judgment?

(Attorney shows record to witness again) A That is my handwriting.

Q All three names? A All three names.

Q The record there shows that you immediately have that day a transcript of the judgment, do you know who signed it? A signed the transcript?

Q Yes, sir. A I do not recollect now, this is, did I do writing?

Q Signed the names to it? A Yes, that's it.

Q You always signed the names of Tehoe and Wells didn't you? A I think I did pretty generally: I don't know of their ever trying to write their own names.

Q When Mr. Thompson was there didn't he sign his own name? A Sometimes he did, sometimes he simply authorized me to do it.

Q Have you any recollection of his authorizing you to do it except from the fact that you have done it on that score frequently? A I don't recall the exact or literal fact of authorization, but I can say positively that, considering the record, that he authorized me to put his name there.

Q Will you look at the original transcript hereby shown you and refer to in the judgment and say who signed the names of the Commissioners there? A (Papers shown to witness) A I signed them there.

Q You recognize that as your handwriting? A I do.

Q What made you when you were testifying at Vinita before Mr. Martin, on looking at the same signatures, and being cross-examined by me, say that it was not your signature and that the signature thereto attached was the signature of Mr. Thompson? A Occurred in this way: I had not seen any of the records in the case for about nineteen years. The exact transaction in the court had vanished about entirely from my memory; I recollected at that time, however, when I gave in my testimony before the Commissioner, Martin, that that was a practice of the Court at the time I served by which I signed the names of the full-blood members of the Commission, and Mr. Thompson either uniformly or occasionally signed his own name. I based my statement in that deposition upon my knowledge of the rule or practice in the Court, without comparing the docket and refreshing my memory. I made an incorrect statement when I said that that was not my handwriting; I am convinced now that it is my handwriting. That is the way it occurred, the way it happened.

Q Then you consider your recollection of the fact that Thompson when he was present and rendering a judgment signed it himself, better than your own knowledge of your own handwriting?

A No, I didn't so regard it. I simply spoke without advisement when I gave in that testimony; I subsequently been better informed and concluded that that was my handwriting and not entered by Mr. Thompson under the rule, but was one of those cases in which he authorized me to do it myself, and I did it.

Q Then you have changed your testimony, because you think you have a better knowledge of the surrounding facts now than you had then, and not from the effect of your judgment on your handwriting at present? A I simply corrected my testimony in reference to my statement in regard to this handwriting, this case.

Q And you wouldn't know then as I understand you whether or not that is your handwriting if it was not refreshed by that you consider to be exterior facts? A I should know it by examining, and thinking over the circumstances, I think I should recognize my own handwriting, but if the question should be propounded instantaneously without any advisement or preconsideration I might make a mistake.

Q You did recognize the names of Thomas Teher and Alexander Selfe as being in your handwriting at that time? A I was very clear and positive, as I so stated, that the names of those Commissioners were in my handwriting, and I was also certain by reflecting on the rule that they never signed their names with their own hand, but always authorized me to do it. I have no mention in my mind in regard to my handwriting in those signatures.

Q And then the third name, as I understand it, appeared in your printed handwriting; you had to think over the facts after words to determine whether that was your signature or not? A No, I don't think that if I had seen the circumstances, I would have been in a reasonable [illegible] I have been in the habit of at least [illegible] and I am under the impression—I do not think I am deceived—that his autography [illegible] to my own, since I started [illegible] that account.

Q You were asked somewhat at that time in your testimony by the fact that Mr. Thompson did more that make his handwriting and not merely didn't but A Mr. [illegible] that that was my signature, and by time to work to ascertain whether I was not right when not, and after so long a time I concluded that I was.

Q And he stated, anyway he didn't you, that he always signed the original himself when he was present? A I do not recollect what I stated, that I used the word "always", at that time, but at the time I was examined when the deposition was taken by inspection was that he did, but now I come to reflect any examination of the record I was convinced that I was wrong, that occasionally I signed for him.

Q Then you never found out that your testimony given on this like a year and a half ago was wrong until you examined the document before yesterday, and answered you are Mr. Thompson's signature?
A I don't know that I have thought of it since that time until yesterday or day before when examining the record.

Q So the only recollection that you have not aid the aid to your recollection that Thompson was present when this judgment was rendered was the fact that you see his name signed to it, in your handwriting, is it? A As a fact,—

Q You can answer that yes or no? A That seeing the handwriting aids my recollection and I recollect now that the commissioners were all present at the time that I signed it. I didn't their names out of court at all.

Q Was it in the forenoon now or in the afternoon ? A I don't recollect whether it was in the forenoon or afternoon.

Q In recollecting that they were all present when the record was signed, do you mean to say that they were all present when the judgment was rendered? A Yes, that is, you mean when the question of admission or rejection was voted upon?
A Yes. A They were present.

Q Did you make up the record at the time that they rendered the judgment, or make a memorandum of it, and then write up the judgment some days afterward? A The record was not written up immediately upon the decision of any case, but I wrote up the record after adjournment, generally in the evening, and presented it next day or when the next session was had, for signature; that was the practice.

Q But in this Dawson case you wrote it up the very day that it was rendered didn't you? A I didn't recollect as to that.

Q And gave them a transcript the very day it was rendered?
A I don't recollect as to that.

Q And indicated the giving of the transcript on the bottom of the judgment the day it was rendered? A I should say it was given at the date of the transcript.

Q That was a very unusual thing for you to do in entering up judgments? A To do what?

Q To noteon the bottom that you had given a transcript the same day the judgment was rendered? A No, I dont know that there is anything unusual about that.

Q Any other places in that record or more than one in any event that you have ever done that? A I don't recollect, and I don't recollect of giving anybody else a transcript.

Q That is what I am getting at: you gave them a transcript and wrote up your judgment and everything right away? A Pretty promptly after the decision: whether it was the same day or the evening, and if not next day, I don't recollect.

IT NOW BEING THE HOUR OF NOON, 12 M., THE COMMISSION ADJOURNS UNTIL HALF PAST ONE P. M.

AFTERNOON, THUR-1:45, P. M.,-APPEARANCES,-same as in forenoon; D. W. C. DUNCAN again on the stand.
BY MR. HUTCHINGS:

Q Do you remember what witnesses were before the Court? A I don't recollect now distinctly except Dr. Baker, I was about his ~~failure~~ because of the length of his testimony at the time it took to take it.
Q The Doctor was about the only distinct witness there was? A He is the only one now that I can call to mind.
Q There was probably another old darkey that testified who is not there? A I have no recollection to that effect.
Q The case was just decided really on Doctor Baker's testimony, he is about the only man that knew anything about the case? A I am not certain that Dr. Baker was the only witness; might have been others that has now escaped my recollection.
Q Doctor Baker's testimony was taken down in writing? A Yes.
Q There was not anybodys else taken down in writing was there? A All the testimony that was accepted in the case was taken down in writing.
Q Did you ever see anybody's else testimony in writing except Dr. Baker in that case? A That is not as I recollect, I don't recollect any other but Dr. Baker's.
Q You know whether that was taken immediately before the trial or at the trial or how was it? A It was taken in the presence of the three Commissioners during the session of the Court.
Q You mean the day that the case was decided or how? A I do not recollect whether the case was on trial more than one day, but my impression is that it was.
Q Do you know whether it was the same term of the Court or not? A I think it was the same term of the Court.
Q How many terms a year did that Court have, when not now do they last? A I don't recollect of but serving but one term.
Q Don't recollect the serving but one term? A Myself, it seems to me so.
Q You didn't go in until January of 1890 with you: your first record is a record of about the 14th of January 1890, as shown by the book, isn't it? A I don't recollect in that regard.
Q How would they take testimony in the case, then continue it, or how could they generally do about that? A I think they decided the case at the term in which they took testimony.
Q Can you say whether or not this testimony was taken in the case at the time it was decided or at the same time it was decided, or within a week or two of the time it was decided? A My recollection is that it was taken at the term in which it was decided; that was taken up, testimony heard that the decision was had at the conclusion of the testimony.
Q Well now, I see on October 4th, 1890, in your proceedings, the following entry reads: "It is agreed by the parties that this cause finally be dismissed at the next January Term, ..." [illegible] January, 1891, "if the plaintiff does not commence drawing in the case, this cause shall be continued to the next term ..." [illegible] agree out to Court's discretion continuance [illegible]

January and a September term; and this decision was rendered at the January, 1853 term. Now, under the testimony taken during the January, 1853, term, at the term this decision was rendered? A I find it impossible now to recollect those facts that are recorded there; although I can say about that, that the record shows the correct statement of the facts; but I cannot recall those facts.

Q Well there is a record here that this case was continued on the 13th day of January, 1853, upon agreement that it should be taken upon the 4th day of October, 1853; your record shows that there was nothing done in the case from January 13th, 1853 until October 4th, 1853; would you say that was correct? A I should say it was correct if it so stands on the books it is supposed to be a correct entry of the facts.

Q I will let you see the book for yourself; I don't want to misrepresent that and of it at all. (Hands entry in book to witness.) A I can't recall those facts in regard to the agreement.

Q Who took down the testimony of the witnesses in court? A I took it down.

Q You took down the testimony of Dr. Baker? A Yes.

Q He was cross examined by counsel for the Nations? A As to that I can't recollect; he was present, he was always present; I think likely he was cross examined.

Q And that testimony was in court at the time when the judgment was rendered in January, 1853? A I think it was, my impression is to that effect.

Q Well the court seems to have had no session as to this case from January 13, 1853 up to October 4th, 1853, according to the record? A (No response.)

Q You don't recall taking down any of the testimony in the case? A No sir, I don't.

Q And the probability is that he was not, while it was examined isn't he? A It might have been so. My recollection is that he was regarded as the main witness of the case.

Q He was quite an old man, about 75 at that time? A Yes, he was quite old.

BY MR. MCKENNON:

Q The testimony of Dr. Arthur Baker, from this record, appears to have been taken on January 13th, 1853 is that correct as far as you may know, or are able to state? A Is that Dr. Baker's testimony? (Attorney hands witness papers) A It appears to be, yes; I don't think that was the testimony that the case was decided upon, because his testimony was taken orally before the Commission, and I wrote it down; please let me see it. (Attorney hands said papers to witness.)

A Well, all I know about this is as I stated before, I can't recall those facts, but whatever the record says why I say that the record was made correct, according to the fact. (Witness takes copy of the testimony referred to to refresh his memory.) I don't find in reading that very clearly to my own understanding, but I gather from the subject matter in that testimony that it is in accord with Doctor Baker's statement; in exactly word for word I am not able to say, but that is the tenor of the testimony.

BY MR. HUTCHINGS:

Q In taking the testimony you endeavored to get down all the material facts that you could in the language of the witness? A Yes, very nearly word for word, as I could get it, of course there may be little variation made necessary by the construction of the witness' statement.

BY MR. McKENNON: Applicants object to all of the witness' testimony relating to the method of taking the testimony of witnesses at the trial, the character and effect of that testimony, and the number of witnesses, except so far as the same may be used for the purpose of testing the memory of the witness, because the same is incompetent, irrelevant and immaterial.

B. F. FORTNER, being first duly sworn, and being examined testified as follows:

BY MR. McKENNON:

Q What is your name? A B. F. Fortner.
Q What is your age? A 54.

Q Is that good or bad? A It is bad.

BY MR. HASTINGS:

Q Mr. Du can belongs to the same church you belong to? A Yes, sir.
Q And has for a number of years? A Well now I say I think he does; I have always so understood.
Q Don't keep up with all your members? A No, but he has attended church there and my impression has been that he is a member of the church.
Q You didn't have any business before the Citizenship Court of which he was clerk, did you? A No, sir, not that I know of.
Q You was not at Tahlequah while he was clerk of a Court from 1898 to '3? A I don't believe I was.
Q Never had any business before that Court? A Had no business before then, nor while he was Clerk to my knowledge.

BY MR. McKENNON:

Q You spoke of his membership in the church; he is in good standing as a member of the church is he? A Yes, sir.
Q I will ask you if Campbell Taylor's reputation isn't notoriously bad? A Yes, I have so understood it.

BY MR. HASTINGS:

Q I will ask you if it was notoriously bad in [illegible] so people employed [illegible] to represent them before the Court? A [illegible]

Q But so far as you know his bad reputation dates back so far as you have any? A So far as I know him.

G. W. MILLER, being duly sworn and being examined, testified as follows:
BY MR. McKENNON:
Q What is your name? A G. W. Miller.
Q What is your age, Mr. Miller? A 61.
Q Where do you reside? A Minita.
Q How long have you lived there? A Well I have lived there altogether about 17 years I guess, or 14.
Q Are you a citizen of the Cherokee Nation? A No, sir.
Q What is your business? A Real estate and insurance agent.
Q Do you know B. W. C. Duncan? A Yes, sir.
Q How long have you known him? A I have known him twenty years.
Q Do you know his general reputation for honesty and uprightness of character where he lives? A Why yes sir.
Q Is that good or bad? A It is good, so far as I know.
Q Do you know Campbell Taylor? A Yes, sir.
Q How long have you known him? A Well I have known him 18 or 20 Years, I guess.
Q Do you know his general reputation for truth and honesty? A Well yes.
Q Is that good or bad? A Well, it is bad, I think.

ATTORNEYS FOR CHEROKEE NATION waive cross examination.

W. H. CURTIS, being first duly sworn and being examined testified as follows.
BY MR. McKENNON.
Q What is your name? A W. H. Curtis.
Q How old are you, Mr. Curtis? A 56.
Q Where do you reside? A Afton, Indian Territory.
Q How long have you lived in the Indian Territory? A 20 years.
Q What is your business? A Lumber business.
Q Do you know D. W. C. Duncan? A I do.
Q How long have you known him? A About 20 years.
Q You know his general reputation for honesty and uprightness of character in the community where he lives? A I do.
Q Is that good or bad? A As good as any man's.
Q Do you know Campbell Taylor? A I do.
Q How long have you known him? A Some 20 years, I suppose.
Q Do you know his general reputation for truth and integrity and honesty? A Yes sir.
Q Is that good or bad? A Bad.
Q Is it notoriously bad? A Yes.
Q Did you ever known Dr. Baker, Dr. A. B. Baker, of Berryville, Arkansas? A Yes sir, I knew him in '68 and '69.
Q Where? A Over at Berryville; I ran a saw mill in that country at Berryville.
Q Did you know his general reputation so far as honesty and uprightness of character and truthfulness? A Yes sir.
Q Is that good or bad? A Good sir. Good as any man's; he is a good Christian gentleman.
Q Did you know well enough to know his habits of life? A Yes sir.
Q Was he in the habit of taking liquor, drinking liquor? A Not that I [illegible] of [illegible] ever saw him take a drink in my life.

Q Was his character such as to preclude any such charge against him? A It was, yes sir.

BY MR. HUTCHINSON:

Q How long did you know Mr. Baker? A Two years.

Q What does he do there? A He had an old gentleman that he lived right in the edge of Berryville, Dr. Baker.

Q How old do you think he was then? A I think he must have been 65 or 70 years old, an old gentleman.

Q That was in 18 what, 60? A No sir, it was in '62 and '63, the two years that I lived over there.

Q He had retired from business? A Yes, sir.

Q Did he have any family? A Yes, sir.

Q What family did he have? A I don't know how much family he had, I am not acquainted with the old gentleman.

Q He hasn't been any business with anybody? A No sir.

Q And his character was never called in question one way or the other was it? A No sir, no sir.

Q Campbell Taylor was a notorious rascal pretty much ever since you ever knew him wasn't he? A Yes sir, I never know much good of him.

Q And whenever a man got a bad citizenship case he got Campbell to work it, because he was notoriously a rascal; that's it ain't it? A Well a great many of them got him.

Q It was a notorious thing that they had a bad case they would get him, it would sort of give a case a bad odor to have Campbell around it? A Yes, that would be right.

Q You never knew anything about Mr. Duncan's connection with citizenship matters? A No sir, never did.

Q You never heard about his stamping none of the records of citizenship cases? A No sir, never did.

Q You have heard lots of talk about this Dawson case? A Yes sir.

Q Rumor had it all around that somebody was doing something wrong? A Yes sir.

Q You never accused him of it you think? A I never heard him accused of it, no sir.

Q That rumor got out from the first day they were admitted right up to the present? A Well I don't know not from the first day. I have heard it for a good while though.

Q But you never knew who they fixed it on? A No sir.

Q They have been a pretty strong family up there in that country haven't they, pretty large family? A Yes sir.

Q Cast a good many votes up there? A Yes sir.

Q Did you ever know of the Doctor's testifying any in court, Mr. Baker? A No sir, I never did.

Q What would you think of a man who would testify that he knew a girl that was single in 1825 when the youngest of her seven children was born in 1823: what would you think, would you think that was a statement to be made by a man who was truthful? A -

BY MR. McKENNON: Applicants object to the question because it is wholly incompetent, and not based upon any proof or admitted facts in the case, and it is wholly immaterial and incompetent.

Q You think that was a statement that would be made by a truthful man? A (No response.)

Q You know him in '62? A Yes sir.

Q He was quite an old, decrepit man? A Yes sir, quite old, '62 and '63.

Q 14 years from that time he was liable to go in his goings?
A I don't know, he was a man when I knew him.
Q He was too old to vote, and retired from business then? A Well he did, I guess some deal, but wasn't doing any business particular that I knew of.
Q He would have been really old 14 years from that time? A Yes, he would be getting old.

D. H. HARRO, being first duly sworn and being examined, testified as follows:

BY MR. McKENNON:

Q What is your name? A D. H. Harro.
Q What is your age, Mr. Harro? A I am 44.

Q What paper? A The Indian Chieftan.
Q Are you Editor of that paper? A Yes sir.
Q You live at Vinita, then? A Yes sir.
Q Are you a citizen of the Cherokee Nation? A Yes sir.
Q By blood or intermarriage? A Intermarriage.
Q Do you know R. W. C. Duncan? A I do.
Q How long have you known him? A 12 or 13 years.
Q Do you know his general reputation in the community where he lives for honesty and uprightness of character? A Yes sir.
Q Is that good or bad? A Good.
Q Do you know Campbell Taylor? A Yes sir.
Q How long have you known him? A Why 15 years or longer.
Q Do you know his general reputation for truth and honesty in the community? A His general reputation, yes sir.
Q Is it good or bad? A Well it is not good.
Q Is it bad? A Well I suppose it must be bad then.

BY MR. HUTCHINGS:

Q How long has Campbell's reputation been bad, Mr. Harro, quite a good while, hasn't it? A Why I think so, yes sir.
Q Did it kind of begin mostly with this citizenship business? A Yes, so far as I know it did, yes sir.
Q Campbell got so many bad citizenship cases and through the mails, and they finally had him up about it, had a good deal of stir about it? A Yes sir.
Q And some of that stir was sort of occasioned by his helping the Downens in wasn't it? A I don't know, I don't know whether he helped the Dawsons.
Q Was not that one of the principal cases that brought him into notoriety? A I don't know whether he had that case or not. I know he had a great many cases.
Q That was the principal thing that convinced the Civil Campbell out, was citizenship cases here? A I think that is what got him into the most trouble.
Q I say before that time nobody had talked much about Campbell one way or another, and it became pretty general that Campbell was handling shoddy citizenship cases, and he got a bad reputation from that? A Yes sir, I think that was the impression generally.
Q How Mr. Duncan's connection with the Dawsons once sort of been a bad luck; people never talked much about it? A I never heard anything about it, as I know of.
Q You have heard that there was something, some, about the Dawson cases, that has been a notorious thing? A Oh it is a well known case, yes sir.
Q Well is not that of Mr. Duncan's reputation for truth and honesty as well as that [illegible] in his wife, he [illegible] in that?

Q His reputation for truthfulness is shown given by himself; he takes occasion to confess that very often himself; doesn't he?
A I don't know whether I am qualified to answer that.
Q Speaking of his own honesty, he does that very frequently?
A No sir, not that I know of.
Q Doesn't he write a good deal about that sort of thing? A About his reputation?
Q Why in speaking of his own integrity? A I don't remember that he does.
Q You were not about the citizenship courts along in 1881 & and '3 were you? A No sir.
Q Don't remember about the talk that was going on around the Capital over there about the citizenship cases? A Why no, don't remember anything special as I know of. I remember the citizenship court going on at different times.
Q How far were you living from Tahlequah in '83? A Well, I lived close to Vinita, I guess it is sixty miles probably.
Q Have you lived any nearer Tahlequah since that time? A No sir, never have.

H. L. BUTLER, being first duly sworn and being examined testified as follows;
BY I.R. McKENNON:
Q What is your name? A H. L. Butler.
Q You are a Minister of the Gospel? A Yes sir.
Q M. E. Church, South? A Yes sir.
Q How long have you been in the ministry? A I have been in the ministry 28 years, sir.
Q Did you ever live at Vinita? A Yes sir.
Q How long? A I was there four years, sir.
Q Do you know D. W. C. Duncan? A I do.
Q How long have you known him? A I have known Mr. Duncan 21 years.
Q Do you know his general reputation for honesty and truthfulness of character? A I do.
Q Is that good or bad? A Good, so far as I know.
Q You have had opportunity of knowing? A Yes sir.
BY MR. HUTCHINGS:
Q Mr. Duncan was a member of your church? A Yes sir.
Q That is the principal way you have of coming in contact with him?
A Yes sir, he was a member of my official board.
Q His connection with citizenship cases that were decided by the court of which he was clerk was never brought up in your presence anywhere? A No sir.
Q Or never discussed? A No sir, I know nothing about his connection with it.
Q You didn't live about or near Tahlequah in '83? A Yes sir, I was Pastor of the Methodist Church in '83 at Tahlequah.
Q Did you hear about the Dawson case, and other cases admitted over there by the Citizenship Court? A No sir, I know nothing about the cases; I remember when the Commission was in session, and remember that he was clerk of the Commission, but knew nothing about the cases that were decided at all.
Q Never heard anybody discuss the cases that were decided? A No sir.

THOMAS A. CHANDLER, being first duly sworn was heard, examined, testified as follows:

BY MR. McKENNON:

Q What is your name? A Thomas A. Chandler.
Q What is your name, Mr. Chandler? A I am?
Q What is your business? A Deputy Clerk of the United States Court at Vinita.
Q How long have you lived in the Cherokee Nation? A All my life.
Q Do you know Curt Duncan? A Yes sir.
Q How long have you known him? A Well as many I have known him about nine or ten years.
Q You know his general reputation for honesty or uprightness of character in the community where he lives? A Yes sir.
Q Is it good or bad? A Good so far as I know.
Q Do you know Campbell Taylor? A Yes sir.
Q How long have you known him? A I think about 15 years.
Q Do you know his general reputation for truth and honesty? A Yes sir.
Q Is it good or bad? A Bad so far as I know.

BY MR. HUTCHISON:

Q How did Campbell Taylor get a bad reputation? A As I sir, I don't know how he did.
Q You never knew his until 1885? A Well I never knew him personally, I heard of him before that.
Q He had a bad reputation before '85? A Yes sir.
Q Bad reputation way back yonder? A First I remember I ever heard of him I heard people speaking bad of him when I was a kid.
Q And everybody that came around the Nation had anything at all they Campbell had a bad reputation? A Yes sir, ever so far back as '79 or '80, that is as far back as I could remember? I think I heard it spoken of in '80, I think that's about the time.
Q And Campbell got a very bad reputation in '80 and '81 when we began to have these citizenship cases? A Yes sir.
Q You heard him spoken of in reality and using the mails for those business? A Yes sir, I heard of him being in the Fort Smith Jail on that account.
Q Citizens of the Nation talked a good deal about Campbell's being in these bad citizenship cases? A Yes sir.
And I also heard he had a bad reputation for paying his debts, also about the same time.
Q You don't know whether he had the money, he might not have had the money to pay his debts? A No sir.
Q He could have kept out of bad citizenship cases? A Yes sir, I suppose he could.
Q You never heard Mr. Duncan's name mentioned before in connection with the Duncan case, citizenship cases? A No sir, I don't think I have, I may have, but I don't remember hearing it.
Q General impression that somebody had done something wrong with that matter, citizenship cases? A I heard there was something wrong in connection with the Duncan citizenship case.
Q That has been in notoriety ever since it was settled? A Yes sir, I have heard it mentioned around over the country that a citizen was.

Q They do a pretty large voting capacity on the roll, Campbell was never investigated? A I don't know about that, I don't think it was ever investigated, I never heard of it.

Q ...ver have any answer to him, did he ...
A No sir.
Q ...re did you live in 1897? A In '97 I lived on Dick Creek about 12 miles south-east of Yanito.
Q How far from Yellowpoint was that? A About 25 or 30 miles, I suppose.
Q You never were around before the citizens in court and during that time? A No sir.
Q You don't know whether or not he owned and operated the saw-mill at Mount A No sir, I do not, at that time.

MR. HOUSTON: I object to all of the testimony of this witness as to what he heard by way of rumor, about the character of the enemy case, because it is hearsay, immaterial, irrelevant and incompetent.

J. S. HOUSTON, of counsel for Appellant, being first duly sworn, makes the following statement:

I became a resident of Carroll County, Arkansas, early in 1895. I was immediately acquainted with Dr. Arthur Baker, for many years. Knew him as well as I did anyone alive. He was a gentleman of the highest Christian character, as recognized by everybody who knew him. He was a sober man, and never drunk liquor. I make this statement here in vindication of that good man's reputation for any other reason, because any imputation against his character is false.

BY MR. HASTINGS:

Q How long did you know him? A I resided in Carroll County until 1897 when I removed to Johnson County, Arkansas; during the war I was away from home, but I knew him intimately every year that I resided in Carroll County.
Q Did you know him since 1897? A Yes sir, I have seen him several times. I have relatives living in the town in which he lived; my relations to him were such as to cause me always to inquire about Doctor Baker; I knew his reputation I think as well after I left there as I did when I lived there.
Q Did you know those facts in 1897 when you were a member of this Committee? A Yes sir, I have known them all my life, and I know them now.
Q Did you know that when you were a member of this Committee on the Isaac J. Rouse case? A I knew it every day of my life, in fact he was on me.
Q Did you know Doctor Baker's opinion as to what should appear that he was born in the year 1858, or anyone he said when he was 15 or 16 years of age that Aggie Pruett the wife of Sandy Dawson, was a grown woman and went to school, when the other undisputed evidence shows that she was married Sam Dawson prior to that time and had seven children, the youngest of whom was born in '83, how could you harmonize that with a man who was an honest man and knew the facts in the case? A Yesterday Dr. Baker stated he honestly believed, whether it was right or wrong, whether it was error or truth, he honestly believed it, and stated it as he believed it.
Q He was capable of being in error? A Every man is.
Q I say he was? A Yes sir, just as you and I and every man, he was; I merely stated as to his character, which could be proven, by every one who knows, as I think, I know it.
Q The Committee reported Isaac J. Rouse in 1896, of which you were a member? A I could hardly say anything about that personally.

TESTIMONY ON BEHALF OF CHEROKEE NATION.

DAVID MEREDITH, being first duly sworn, and being examined, testified as follows:
BY MR. HUTCHINGS:
Q State your name? A David Meredith.
Q Where do you reside? A Vinita.
Q How old are you? A 60 years old.
Q Did you ever know James Dawson? A Yes sir.
Q How long have you known him? A I knew him probably 8 years.
Q Did you ever have any talk with him about his citizenship case.
A Very little.
Q You were at one time an applicant before the Dawes Commission for citizenship were you not? A Yes sir.
Q Tell what did Mr. Dawson tell you with reference to his citizenship, as to the cost of his getting it, if anything? A Why he told me it cost him eleven or twelve hundred dollars to get his case through.
Q Where did that conversation take place? A At Afton.
Q At what time? A It was in '38, spring of '38.
BY MR. McKENNON:
Q Where were you when he told you that? A I was working on a house in Afton, building a house.
Q Whose house? A S. S. Haines.
Q Who else was present? A Haines was present.
Q Where is he? A At Afton.
Q What age man was Mr. Dawson at that time? A I don't know, he was very old, probably 75 years old.
Q Was he not a very feeble man? A Yes sir.
Q Hardly able to get around? A No sir.
Q Was he not then regarded as feeble minded old man? A I don't know whether he was so regarded or not.
Q You don't know what he had to do with the case, in fact, himself, do you? A No, I judged it was himself and family that cost that much to get through; attorney's fees, etc. That is the way I took it anyway.
Q You were an applicant yourself were you not? A Yes sir.
Q When? A At that time.
Q Before the Cherokee authorities? A Yes sir.
Q They rejected you? A Yes sir.
Q You were an applicant then before the Dawes Commission were you?
A Yes sir, been rejected ever since.
Q Are you still an applicant? A Yes sir.
Q Still trying to get in? A Yes sir.
Q Claiming by blood? A Yes sir.
Q How long have you been living in the Cherokee Nation? A 15 years.
Q Where did you come from? A Indiana.
Q Claiming to be a Cherokee citizen? A Yes sir.
Q Indian? A Yes sir.
Q James Dawson is dead is he? A Yes sir.
Q How long has he been dead? A I think he died probably two in two years after that.

TESTIMONY TAKEN ON BEHALF OF THE APPLICANTS.

F. H. DAWSON, being re-called and further examined, testified as follows:
BY MR. McKENNON:
F. H. Dawson? A Yes sir.

Q Mr. Dawson, what member of your family came to the Cherokee Nation in 1839 and was engaged in the clerk's office, Robert Dawson, and he was engaged in his family to Cherokee citizenship? A My brother Tom Dawson was not living then.
Q Tell his name. A Robert Dawson, they all knew him by that.
Q When you first, A In '81 I was living on the Illinois River, I don't know which it was in '81 or '82.
Q Did you file your claim at that time? A My brother was, yes, the application was pending and Joel Mayes he took it and filed it. That is interesting.
Q Joel Mayes, who afterwards was Chief of the Cherokee Nation?
A Yes sir.
Q Before what court was that filed? A My understanding was he was clerk of the court, that was all I know what court he was clerk of.
Q He was clerk of the Court at that time? A Yes sir, of the citizenship court, that's my understanding.
Q What was done about the case at that time, if you remember? A I went back home and left my brother down there at that time, that trip.
Q Where did you then live? A I lived at Tahlequah, Ark ansas.
Q When did you next come to the Cherokee Nation? A I believe I came back the next January, that was in Setting by.
Q Was your brother back here then? A I don't think he was, I don't remember.
Q Well had he at any part of the Court or session of the Commission at any time after you first came here and filed the application until after it was decided? A No sir, I never saw him any more until that case was decided.
Q You conducted the business then after that did you not? A Yes sir.
Q The case was finally determined 11 January 1883? A '83, yes sir, the 11th day as I remember.
Q Were you present at that session? A Yes sir.
Q Was there any decision of that case other than the one of record here? A I never heard of it if there was.
Q Was the judgment rendered in that case as recorded in the record Book of that Commission now in the custody of the Dawes Commission the only judgment that was rendered in that case so far as you know?
A Yes sir, so far as I know, if there was any I never heard of it in that case.
Q You then knew of no decision against you in the case? A No sir.
Q Who was your attorney employed at the beginning? A I employed A. H. Redmond.
Q Was he a Cherokee citizen? A Yes sir, I think so.
Q Where did he live? A At Claremore, my understanding.
Q Was he present at any time before the Commission? A I never saw him, he never was in the room before the Commission.
Q Did you pay him any money? A Yes sir.
Q How much? A Fifty Dollars.
Q Did he ever render any services? A If he ever did I never knew it.
Q Well then who did you employ? A My brother employed Joel Mayes.
Q Was he a Cherokee citizen?
A That is my understanding.
Q Was he not a prominent Cherokee citizen? A Yes sir.
Q What service did he render? A Well sir, I don't know whether he rendered any or not, only he met us a time or two at Tahlequah, and he was before the Commission whether he rendered any services or not I don't know; he was generally always at Washington City during the Term down there.

Q Well what did he do about it? A I don't know, I couldn't say whether he done anything about it. That is Mr. Bryant, he was always gone.
Q What next was done about the employment of an attorney? A Why I got a letter from Joel Bryant that he was going to Washington City and for me to come down in January Term and Campbell Taylor would see to my suit before the court.
Q Did he say that he had arranged the services of Campbell Taylor the attorney, to sue it in his absence? A Yes sir, in his absence.
Q Have you got that letter? A I don't think I got the letter.
Q Tell what did you do then? A Why when the time come I come down on the City to Muskogee here and I pass over from here to Fort Gibson and I pass down to see Uncle Houston Benge and stays all night with him; it was very cold weather, and I got him to go over and submit my case to the court; I went over one day and the next day Uncle Houston Benge come over and the next morning after he come over the case was submitted.
Q Did he submit the case? A Yes sir, he told me so.
Q For you? A Yes sir.
Q Were you present? A I was present until they went to take the vote on the case and then we was drove out of their room and they had a secret session, acting on the case.
Q Was Houston Benge present with you? A Yes sir.
Q Were you in the court when he submitted it to them? A Yes sir, when he made his argument.
Q He made an argument before the Commission? A Yes sir.
Q Was the decision rendered on that day? A Yes sir.
Q How long after he made his argument and submitted the case? A Was not but a little bit; when we were drove out of the house the first time before they went into secret session they wanted me to get up the cigars to the court and the crowd in the house; after the decision was rendered then I was to get up the cigars, and everybody come to me and told me to go and get the cigars and I done so.
Q And you took the cigars there and all? A Yes sir, everybody, the attorneys and all that was in the house, all had a cigar.
Q Did they then announce their finding in the case? A Yes sir, they told me that I was granted by citizenship right and by the Commission.
Q What did you do about it then? A The the clerk wrote a out my certificate.
Q That same day? A That same day.
Q What arrangements did you make with Mr. Benge about his fee, and what was the amount of his fee? A There was no arrangements made until we got up there and he submitted our case; then he stated to me, he charged me fifty dollars, that was his fee.
Q What was the agreement about the matter, the manner in which that fee should be paid? A My brother in Texas was to pay it.
Q Were you to write or was he to write? A He was to write for it.
Q Did your brother in Texas ever pay this fee of fifty dollars? A Yes sir.
Q Was that all that was to be paid? A All that I have ever known of.
Q You never was asked for any more than that? A No sir.

Q Mr. [illegible] you paid him $[illegible] before [illegible] to Tahlequah, is that so? A No sir.
Q You will not say you paid him fifty dollars after he got over to [illegible] Q Never paid him a cent in my life.
Q [illegible] A I went to Arkansas.
Q By what route? A I went by Gilroy, Springfield and on by Spring Dale and I do not know, took Summitville, there and went on by Salina and by Tahlequah I guess now.
Q You then did not return to Fort Gibson with Donald Vaught as stated? A No sir, I did not.
Q You did not return by way of Fort Gibson? A Well I took anyhow the nearest way to the cheapest road and struck a back going out on San Bois when I was coming in, I could go to Silo, Spring and I went by that route and then there was a back going by Spring Dale, that was the first direct route.
Q That was the most direct route from your home was it not? A Yes sir.
Q All to Chelsea? A And the cheapest route.
Q Had you been coming back to Fort Gibson you would have been going directly away from home would you not? A Yes sir.
Q You have been nearly east, due east of Tahlequah was it not? A Yes sir, little north of east, pretty near due east.
Q While Fort Gibson is almost due west is it not? A South west.
Q You heard Mr. Wisdom state that you came to Fort Gibson with [illegible] and as you say you stated to Mr. that it was up to Judge [illegible] Grayson Bynum and you reached there through Donald, five hundred dollars, did you make that statement? A I never did, I didn't have the five hundred dollars to reach him.
Q Did you while at Tahlequah inthe court room on the evening before this judgment was rendered in your favor, tell you that the court had rendered a judgment against you? A No sir.
Q And did you then say to him, you never did that? A I had no such conversation with him.
Q Did you pay to D. C. G. Duncan, who was the Clerk of the court any sum of money, or agree to pay him any sum of money, directly or through any other person for any services he might render you by way of influencing the court to decide it your favor? A No sir.
Q Or for any other purpose? A No sir.
Q Did you pay him any money after that through Campbell Taylor?
A Yes sir.
Q What amount? A 20 or 25 Dollars, I don't know which it was.
Q State what that money was paid for? A For a claim.
Q What do you mean by a claim? A Claim on the Public Domain; he had [illegible] close to me; paid him 20 or 25 dollars for his claim, he has no claim to me, on the Cherokee Public Domain.
Q What did Campbell Taylor have to do with your home?
A He had nothing to do with it.
Q Did you agree to pay him any money for his services as an attorney? A No sir.
Q Did he perform any services in that case foryou as a representative of Joel Bryant? A No sir.
Q Did you pay him any money? A Yes sir.
Q In what amount? A He came to me and said he had the claim [illegible] for Joel Bryant and wanted me to pay him the money and I done so.
Q What amount? A Hundred dollars.

Q [illegible] A [illegible]
Q Did you pay it over to Joel Brown, to your knowledge? A Joel [illegible] I paid him a hundred dollars of what I got from Mr. Dupont. Joel Brown paid Joel Smith; after that he came to me and got a hundred dollars from Campbell Taylor, and this twenty dollars or thereabouts dollars; and in all I paid over to Joel Brown.
Q How did you get that $5 dollars out of Mr. Dupont? A I don't remember; but I think that's what he paid me, he suggested no services to be paid all and the money was to go to Joel Brown, and I finally worked it down to twenty or twenty-five dollars, but that all I ever did get back.
Q The amount that he paid to Dupont? A Yes sir.
Q You think they paid to him this one hundred dollars, while you were there at the time the judgment was rendered, or was it sent to him afterwards? A I think it was paid then, as well as I remember about it.
Q You think it was paid then? A Yes sir, that's my recollection now.
Q Did you remit one hundred dollars after you went away from there, subsequent to the rendition of that judgment, after it was rendered? A I don't remember. I don't think I sent any fifty dollars of that or any other sum to D. W. C. Dupont? A No sir.
Q Did you send him a check for one hundred dollars with such direction? A No sir.
Q Mr. Brown, do you [illegible] to obtain this claim for the Cherokee Nation under this judgment? A Pretty much it I do.
Q Well about that, now? A About five hundred dollars, pretty near 500 dollars. That is what I considered, I was beat out of some of my money, what I was beat out of and expenses.
Q Now take a statement of what that money was paid for and how, so far as you remember, itemize that now? Tell the first fifty dollars Joel Brown got; the next fifty dollars you got; that was the attorneys fees; I speak of the Attorneys fees now: the next money was the hundred that Campbell Taylor got; the next attorney fees was Bryant's one hundred dollars.
Q Was that all the attorney's fees? A I think it was, no, wait, I paid Ross 15 dollars for taking Baker's deposition.

Q Which Ross was that? A The old Chief, Will Ross I think. His name, William P. Ross.
Q He then, this Chief William P. Ross for taking the deposition of Dr. Baker charged you fifteen dollars? A Yes sir.
Q Do you recall by that that he acted as your attorney and examined him? A Yes sir.
He examined Mr. Baker before the Commission, took his statements.
Q What other attorneys were there present? A None of them was present.
Q Well now, go on? A For the expenses of taking Dr. Baker and he was a Doctor, as well as I remember he charged $5 dollars a day and I was two and his expenses down there; we came through a little place Maysville, Arkansas, to Richmond, and our board and expenses amounted I think to about 75 dollars that trip, something near it. Maybe a little over that.
Q Did you pay him a per diem? A I paid him five dollars a day for his time and then his expenses.

Q Well? A Well I made several trips out here at different times, to Tahlequah before the Commission, and back, three or four trips as well as I remember now, cost me 20 or 25 dollars each trip, as I remember about it.
Q Do you have any how many trips aside from the one by which you brought Dr. Baker? A No, I think there was probably three trips I think it was, maybe more, and then I made one trip to Claremore to see A. B. Norwood.
Q What did that trip cost you? A I don't remember what it cost; I went in a wagon down there.
Q You went through and employed Songe, went by railroad; what did that trip cost you? A I don't remember what it was, whether it was 21 dollars or 31 dollars, one or the other, I don't remember which it was; Joe Dawson, my brother-in-law me the money, it was either 21 or 31 dollars.
Q Now then is there any other expense that you know of that was paid by you or your family, any members of your family, other than that you have mentioned? A I don't remember any other now; I can't call to my memory right now.
Q What was the condition of the members of your family generally now, financially, at that time? A Well we were considered poor people; I don't know, we didn't have much money, scarcely any.
Q Was there any one of them that was better off than the others, and if so, which one? A I suppose Elbert Dawson was better off than the others, Buck Dawson.
Q Do you know how much Buck Dawson paid of these expenses? A I don't think he paid, he paid the Songe debt and the Bryant debt, I think it was.
Q That is one hundred and fifty dollars? A Yes sir, then he came up on one trip and taken some evidence with Joel Bryant Joel Bryant was Clerk of the Court before this Tahlee Court, I don't know what that cost him.
Q Care my he send you to timony? A Yes, came up and went back to Texas. Filed his claim and took some testimony and went back to Texas and I didn't see him.
Q Did that testimony include Dr. Baker's testimony? A No sir.
Q You know how many witnesses were examined then? A I only know what he told me.
Q How many? A Four witnesses.
Q You know whether they were residence of the Cherokee Nation or not? A He told me they was.
Q Were you present on that trip in which he came there and took that testimony? A No, I met him there and then I went back home and left him at Tahlequah.
Q He had taken the testimony before you left him or after words?
A He taken it afterwards; that was my understanding.
Q Did Buck furnish only the one hundred fifty dollars that you now remember? A I think it was.
Q And the expense of taking those witness up there A Yes sir.
Q Who else furnished money now of the members of your family?
A My brothers and father lived down in Berryville, me and my brother-in-law, Blassingame, we all chipped in together a few dollars from each family.
Q You heard the statement of C. C. Brought that in June that you told him that it had cost you 700 dollars, did you make any such statement to him? A I never did.
Q And that you paid one witness 300 dollars? A I never made any such statement.

Q Did you pay any witness any such sum? A No sir, I paid Dr. Baker for his time; he said his time was worth 5 dollars a day, and I paid it.
Q Did you pay any other witness any more than that? A No sir, he was the only witness I put on down there in my case.
Q Well the Robert Dawson case? A Yes sir.
Q He says that you told him that in your house there on your place, did you have any house there in June 1893? A I was not living on my farm that time.
Q Did you have any farm? A Didn't have any.
Q Where did you build a house there? A I built a house on the farm I live in now by Mr. Brought, I moved on the farm the last of July, 1893, and I carried in my wagon.
Q What did you do? A I went to the timber and cut poles and hauled them out and made me a log cabin on the place by a spring near Mr. Brought.
Q About what time did you finish that house? A It was in September.
Q How soon after you finished that house until you brought your family out? A I finished it up and got it covered and the floor in it and I went back to Eureka Springs after my wife.
Q What family did you have then? A I had my wife and she had one child; but my oldest children, by my first wife were with me in the Territory, camping with me; three little boys and one girl were with me, and one girl back in Arkansas.
Q Are you and C. G. Brought on good terms? A No sir.
Q What has been the character of the trouble between you? A Trouble over our places first started it.
Q When did it begin? A As soon as I got back from Arkansas he commenced hinder crowding me out to take my farm and my fruit, and we have been in a racket ever since.
Q Then his statement that you were on friendly terms, is it correct or not? A No sir, it aint correct.
Q He and you have never been friendly as neighbors then since you first came back from Arkansas and settled in the Territory? A I don't remember ever being in his house; I never was in his house.
Q Have you had law suits with each other? A Yes sir.
Q How many? A I don't know that we had any particular law suits, but I have had law suits and he has been a witness against me.
Q What was your last trouble with him, when I mean? A Along last fall.
Q That was when your boys had a little racket and he had your boy arrested? A Yes sir.
Q What was the age of those boys? A Eleven years old.
Q He had him arrested down at Vinita? A Yes sir, had him arrested and carried before the Commissioner at Vinita.
Q He was discharged on account of his age? A Yes sir.
Q Buck Dawson is dead is he? A Yes sir.
Q How long has he been dead? A Three years, little over three years.
Q And James Dawson is dead? A Yes sir.
Q Is your father, Robert Dawson living? A No sir.
Q When did James Dawson die? A I don't remember, been dead several years, I don't remember how long, 6 or 7 years, I couldn't state.
Q When did your father, Robert Dawson die? A I believe it was in '97 or I remember now, I won't be positive.
Q Had all these moved to the Cherokee Nation before their death? A No sir, Father died in Arkansas.

Q Those that lived here in the Nation they lived here in the Nation but went back to Arkansas and died there? A Well the rest of my folks all lived home. That was James Dawson and Nick Dawson.
Q Robert Dawson, your father, never did move to the territory, did he? A No.
Q Did you hear the statement of the witness Beavert this morning, that about the time of hearing of the James Dawson case, at a negro church at night James Dawson was down there with someone else & was introduced to him, and he loaned him ten dollars; did you hear that statement this morning? A I heard the statement, yes sir, I heard it.
Q He says that then James Dawson was 35 or 40 years old; was there any James Dawson living below in, to your family at that time of any such age? A No sir.
Q How many James Dawson's were there belonging to your family? A There was my Uncle James Dawson and a brother James Dawson, the Doctor here.
Q How old was your brother James Dawson then? A He was a tolerable old man, I don't know his age.
Q About what age? A Must have been 60.
Q Between 60 and 70? A Yes sir.
Q What was the age of your brother James? A At that time?
Q Yes sir, in '84? A In '84 I suppose he was about 18, somelike that.
Q Had anything to do with the James Dawson case? A No sir.
Q Was he present at the time that the James Dawson case was under consideration? A No sir.
Q Was James Dawson, your uncle James Dawson, present at any time during the consideration of his case? A No sir.
Q He never was present? A No sir, if Uncle Jim Dawson was ever in Tahlequah I never knew it.
Q Who conducted the prosecution of the James Dawson case before the Cherokee Citizenship Commission, who conducted it? A The James Dawson case?
Q Yes sir? A I think James Low and Bill Jackson and Campbell Taylor.
Q Were you acting with them? A Yes sir.
Q They employed Campbell Taylor? A Yes sir.
Q Then there was no James Dawson present during that session of the Commission? A No sir.
Q What was the condition of James Dawson's health at that time?
A It was pretty poorly; was not good.
Q Was he at that time able to get about and attend to business?
A I don't think he was.
Q He was not a very feeble man or old man at that time? A Yes sir.
Q Judged as rather a silly man was he not? A Yes sir.
Q Did he attend to any kind of business of the family at that time?
A No sir, didn't.
Q What was his financial condition? A Pretty bad.
Q Did he have any money? A No sir.
Q Did he have any property? A None hardly at all; horses probably, a cow or two, something that way.
Q What about all the property he had? A Yes sir.
Q How about the other members of his family that were admitted at that time; what was their financial condition? A They were in poor circumstances.
Q Now then after these judgments were rendered that you have already moved to the Territory, Cherokee Nation, I will say?
A Robert Dawson and family and James Dawson and family, that is, myself and their children.

Q Robert Dawson didn't remove here? A No, I said except Robert Dawson.
Q Did all the members of Robert Dawson family move here? A Yes sir.
Q Except himself? A Yes sir.
Q And all the members of James Dawson family? A No, not all the members, Melvina Low I don't think ever lived here.
Q She has never moved here? A No sir.
Q Now all the members of your family, your father's family included in that judgment of the Committee, rendered January 11th, 1893? A All but one.
Q What was the name of that one? A Edna.
Q A daughter? A Daughter of Robert Dawson.
Q Your sister? A Yes sir.
Q Was she then of age or was she a minor? A I think she was a minor, as well as I can remember.
Q Was she afterwards admitted to citizenship in the Cherokee Nation? A She was.
Q By a Commission or by the Cherokee Council? A She was first admitted by the Spears Court, her and two of my nieces.
Q What are their names? A Katie Vernon and Verna Fishback.
Q What became of that? A The certificate papers they got was lost, and they went before the Council in 1894 andthey was readmitted back by the act of Council.
Q That was in 1894, the Cherokee Council admitted, re-admitted as they called it, the three above named? A Yes sir. Mary and Verna Fishback and Katie Vernor, they have now the same names now except Vernor, it is not, Tob Robinson married the widow, a niece of mine.
Q Now then was there any other consideration of the Dawson case by the Cherokee authorities at any time aside from these two judicial acts in '87 and '94 admitting the two families of Robert and James Dawson, and the act of Council of '94 admitting these three that you have just named? A Yes sir.
Q When? A My two of my sons was placed on the roll by the act of Council in 1892 I think it was; left off of the rolls in per capita payment and they was placed on the rolls I think, and Sam Smallwood member of Council, got their draft or checks for the money.
Q Have you got that copy of the act of Council admitting them? A Yes sir.
Q Where is it? A (Produces papers.)

BY MR. HADDOCK: We offer in evidence an act of the Cherokee National Council relative to an appropriation of $6,500 dollars belonging to the general fund for the payment of certain persons therein named a per capita payment, as per amount set opposite their respective names, provided that the Principal Chief shall draw warrants for such amounts, and further provided "That the names of the persons appearing on the per capita rolls in this act shall be placed (on) the authenticated roll of 1880 by the Principal Chief."
This act was approved December 21, 1891.
Approval signed by Stephen Foreman, Assistant Acting Principal-
In this list appears the names of William H. Dawson for payment of $13.70, and of Marion Dawson, for a like sum. Are these the names of two of your sons? A Yes sir.

(Paper above introduced, filed and made a part of the record in this case.)

Q Was there any other action of the Cherokee authorities relative to members of your family? A Yes sir.

Q Then? A In 1894.
Q What was that? A Allowing them their Strip Money.
Q Have you a copy of that? A I think I have. (Produces papers.)

BY MR. McKENNON: We offer in evidence a duly certified copy of an act of the Cherokee National Council approved November 24, 1894, signed C. J. Harris, Principal Chief. Senate Bill No. 19, appropriating a sufficient amount of money to make payment per capita of what is known as the strip money to certain persons named therein. Among them are members of the Blassingame family, as follows: Jane, Elbert, Henry, James Ross Lerrie, Pearl, Amos, Myrtle, Winnie and Clifford; this act mentions these persons as Cherokees by blood, and whose names had been left off the pay roll approved May 3, 1894, providing a payment to each one of these a sum of $265.70.

Q Were these members of the Robert Dawson family? A Yes sir.
Q Which one of the members of the family? A Jane.
Q This is Jane who was admitted by the judgment admitting the Robert Dawson family? A Yes sir.
Q And her children? A Her children, was not admitted, she was admitted.
Q I mean this mentions her children here? A Yes, that mentions her children.

(The paper last above introduced is filed and made a part of the record in this case.)

Q Do you know whether the payment of the Cherokee Strip money was to Cherokee citizens by blood only or not? A Yes sir.
Q Was there any other act of the Cherokee authorities passing upon the citizenship of members of your family? A Why the Douthett children, my brother's grand-children. Two grand-children of F. Dawson.
Q When was that? A That, I think it was in '84.
Q Have you got a copy of that act? A No, the record is here.
Q Was that by the Spears Court? A Yes sir, by the Spears Court.

BY MR. McKENNON: We now offere in evidence a judgment of the Cherokee Commission on Citizenship, 1880 and 1884, found on page 190, case No. 181, dated September 9th, 1884, signed by Eli Spears, President, John Lee and Andrew Young, Commissioners, admitting to citizenship Lula Douthett and Dallas Douthett as Cherokees by blood.

Q These two are the Douthetts to which you refer, are they? Yes sir.

BY MR. McKENNON: Attention is called to the fact that the names of the Commissioners are all signed in the same hand-writing as the record of the judgment.

The said judgment record above introduced, and found on page 190, No. 181, record of 1880 to 1884, is as follows:

"Office of Commission on Citizenship,
Tahlequah, Cherokee Nation, September 14th, 1884.

F. Dawson, for his grand-children,) Lula Douthitt,) Atty. for Claim.

Dallas Douthitt, (
vs) Petition filed September
The Cherokee Nation. (14th, 1884.

Case submitted by claimants Sept 14th, 1934.
Case submitted by Solicitor, Sept. 19th, 1934.
Continued by Petitioner Dec 27 1934 to September Court 1934.
Re-submitted September 2nd 1934, by Attys Taylor and Seavert

Submitted by defense Sept 9 1935.

And now on this 14th day of September 1934 comes this cause for final hearing and all the evidence in the case having been carefully read and considered by the Commission on Citizenship it has been decided by the Commission that the above named Lula Darthell and Dallas Darthell are Cherokees by blood, and that they are entitled to all the rights and privileges of Cherokee citizenship in the Cherokee Nation and that they should be, and are hereby entitled to the full and complete enjoyment of the same in all respects, as native born Cherokees.

Ellis Sperry, Pres.
John Lee,
John L. Adair, Andrew Young,
Cln Com'n. Commission on Citizenship.

Q How were there any other actions of the Cherokee Authorities of like character relating to the members of your family?
A I don't remember of any others.
Q I will ask you if when the Cherokee authorities were making the roll of 1896, in compliance with the request of the Dawes Commission for a roll to be prepared by them for the use of the said Commission, the question of the citizenship of the members of your family was not then raised and an investigation had in regard to it? A Before the Dawes Commission?
Q No, before the Cherokee Commission making the roll of 1896, of which John T. Gunter was a member? A Yes sir, yes. I had forgot it, but since you have named it there was some investigation of them at that time; this is what I understood.
Q That roll shows that the members of your family were duly enrolled by the Commission? A Yes.

Q Have you and the other members of your family since your removal to the Territory in 1833 and immediately following been recognized as Cherokee citizens by blood? A Yes sir.

Q Have you been exercising and enjoying all the rights of Cherokee citizens by blood since that time? A Yes sir.
Q You and all the members of your family are living in the Cherokee Nation? A Yes sir.
Q You have all drawn Cherokee moneys whenever payments were made? A Yes sir.
Q And have you all male members been voting at the Cherokee elections or in the Cherokee elections? A Yes sir, I was one of the judges of the elections that was held voting on the treaty.
Q What treaty? A The treaty bill that was sent back here for the Cherokees to vote on; I was one of the judges at Afton.
Q In what year was that? A I believe it was last spring some time, last April.

Q Have any of you held any offices in the Cherokee Nation? A Yes sir.
Q What offices have the members of your family filled? A Deputy Clerk, Under Pete Hastings, when he was clerk of Delaware District, I was a candidate once for Council in the Downing party.

Q You say offices of deputy clerk be held by any one else except a recognized citizen? A Only by a citizen, you sir.
Q Is that all? A (No reply).
Q Were the children or members of your family attended the public schools, and one or more of them in Cherokee schools? A Yes, sir.
Q Have the members of your family been all the while subject to the jurisdiction of the courts of the Cherokee Nation? A Yes sir.
Q Have they been tried for any offenses against the law? A Yes sir.
Q And have they instituted their civil suits in the courts of the Cherokee Nation? A Yes sir.
Q And had suits instituted against them in such courts? A Yes sir.
Q So all of you have got to the Supreme Court of the Cherokee Nation? A Yes sir.
Q And been passed upon by that tribunal? A Yes sir.
Q Is there anything else? A Nothing more; I have a little sick spell ; I have got a head-ache so bad I can't hardly see.

BY MR. MITCHELL:

Q How old was your father Robert Benge when he died? A I don't know, I couldn't say about that.
Q He was a very old man? A Yes sir, he was getting tolerably old.
Q And you will be the older person than you? A No I don't know.
Q Mr. Jones I took it that he must have been a very old man ; you said A Well he was old and he was feeble.
Q Well you stated that he had been so silly you could hardly tell anything? A He used to live in Texas; I didn't know him until after he came to the Territory.
Q I say he had gotten so old, that was the occasion of that?
A I suppose so, the oldest one of these children was Mrs. Betty Bates, that's my understanding.
Q And the oldest boy was John Benge? A He was he called it Jack.
Q Jack Benge he was the oldest? A Yes sir.
Q Sal was the youngest? A Sal Riley.
Q He was the youngest one of the crowd? A Yes sir.
Q Your father lived four or five years after he and you were admitted to citizenship? A Yes sir, something about that, it was in 1.87, I think he died in 1.87, I won't be positive; that is as near as I remember now. I have got a headache so bad that I can't remember anything.
Q Now none of the older members of the family were ever present at any of these trials of citizenship? A No sir, not any of them.
Q None of them was ever called upon to testify as to the blood of their father, who are you saying about it? A I don't know they was.
Q Your child of kin was through Captain Joe Benge, that was your grandmother was the half sister of Joe Vann, wasn't it? A I don't know, I couldn't answer the question.
Q You were there when they took the testimony? A I was there when Mr. Baker's testimony was taken, that was about all I came to.
Q Nobody else on your side ever called to testify in the case? A Not as I know of.
Q You were very well known Cherokee families in the Cherokee country? A I suppose so, I don't know.
Q And yet nobody on any side of the family connected with it was ever called to testify as to any of them I know of, I don't count my brother done. I was one of the evidences at Tahlequah when I was a boy there; I first like all children

Q You had spoken to Dr. Baker about the testifying before you brought your case didn't you? A No sir.
Q Must have been a short time afterwards? A It was a short time afterwards. I went back after him and it was too late and I fetched him the next time.
Q You had talked to your brother about what you could prove by Dr. Baker? A I told him I thought Dr. Baker, I thought he knew about our folks.
Q You had told him in general why you expected to use Dr. Baker as a witness? A Yes sir.
Q You went off, came to Arkansas and left your brother at Tahlequah after you told him that fact? A Yes sir.
Q You didn't see your brother any more until after you were admitted? A No sir.
Q You and he however made trips back and forth to Tahlequah a few times at different times, but you didn't happen to get to Tahlequah? A No. I never met him any more and I don't know that he was there until after we were admitted.
Q But you were there and brought Dr. Baker over? A Yes sir.
Q And took his testimoney a year or such a matter before ever you were admitted? A I think as well as I remember, yes sir.
Q How the way you came to get Campbell Taylor was on the recommendation of old man Bryant? A I didn't get him, didn't employ him.
Q The way he came into your case? A The way he claimed to come in.
Q He did more in your case than Bryant did? A Campbell didn't do anything.
Q What did Bryant do? A I think he held my brother but evidence my brother employed him.
Q How did you happen to be sending money by Campbell to Mr. Duncan? A I never sent him any money.
Q Then when he, Mr. Duncan, states that Campbell delivered the money as Campbell said he did, both were wrong? A Oh no, you misunderstood, Mr. Duncan got 20 or 25 dollars, which he stated, from Campbell Taylor, for me.
Q How did you happen to give it to Campbell? A I give the money to Campbell to give to Joel Bryant, and he wouldn't do it, and I tried to get the money back from him, and I finally worked the 20 or 25 dollars he gave to Duncan.
Q Then you didn't tell Duncan as he testified that you sent 20 or 25 dollars by Campbell Taylor? A Campbell Taylor agreed to pay Duncan 20 or 25 dollars for me of the money I give him to give to Joel Bryant.
Q The family kept Campbell Taylor employed though at their attorney after that? A In the James Dawson case I think so.
Q E. Dawson, you remember, had him for his grand-children? A That is my understanding.
Q And your uncle James Dawson nothing in the case of his children? A Uncle James had nothing to do with it; James Lo[illegible] Bill Jackson got him; that was my understanding of who employed him.
Q The record here shows that the case was originally instituted by C. E. Taylor and was finally submitted by him, September 2nd, 1904, in the James Dawson case? A I don't deny him being in that case.
Q You say he was employed in the E. Dawson case? A I don't know who was in the Dauthett children's case.
Q The record shows that Campbell Taylor instituted the case, and it was finally submitted by him, and Mr. Bennett, who testified a while ago? A That was in the James Dawson case, wasn't it?
Q That was in the E. Dawson grand-children? A Eliott?
Q No, in the Dauthett children's case? A Oh yes.

Q He was likewise attorney in the Mary Dawson case, was he, and -- for the Adair court, the 4th of October, 1877, in the case of Jo er K. P. Dawson? A I don't know anything about that.
Q And the case Filey Dawson? A I don't know anything about those.
Q They are relations of yours? A Well I couldn't say.
Q James K. P. Dawson proves to be son of Filey Dawson? A Well if he is he is my connection then. There are so many I don't know them all.
Q You know Andrew J. Ba[illegible]? A Yes sir.
Q The Lawsons have so many children their brothers didn't rarely know they did they? A That's it, I don't know them.
Q Tell them you don't know who Andrew J. Ba got in? A [illegible] sir, I don't know.
Q It appears in his application as well, a cousin of [illegible], and yourself, who were admitted to citizenship [illegible]?
A He may be, I don't know nothing about it.
Q He resided I believe, at that time at Nevada, Missouri? A I don't know anything about those people.
Q Old Jim Bader was an old and paralyzed man at the time he testified wasn't he? A Getting old, he was not paralyzed.
Q Then the statement made that the reason he couldn't write his name and had to make his mark, because he was paralyzed, in his testimony isn't that true? A He didn't have good use of his fingers.
Q Then he was not paralyzed? A No, I brought him over [illegible] back from Berryville, Arkansas.
Q Tell I say he was a very old man? A Yes, [illegible].
Q How didn't you go to this place and [illegible] Dawson's work on it some time before you brought your family? A No, I brought my family with me, except my wife.
Q And you subsequently built a log house on it? A Yes sir.
Q And went back and got your wife and moved them to the log house? A Yes sir, went to Pineville and got my wife.
Q You never saw your grandfather at all? A No Dawson, [illegible] I never saw him.
Q You remember do you of being with him one of the times? A I was in Texas in time of the war, with my uncle Filey Dawson, [illegible] he was there.
Q In '60 sometime? A '62, I reckon, or '63. Some where [illegible] in time of the war.
Q How old a man was he at that time? A Pretty old man.
Q You never saw your grandmother, she died before she came?
A Yes sir, I never saw her at all.
Q The first started the citizenship matter, your brother [illegible] or you? A They it was me, and my brother together.
Q I mean who first conceived the idea? A I [illegible] about it.
Q And went down for him? A I was in Texas with [illegible] Arkansas; I went backwards and forwards a time or two [illegible].
Q About that time nearly everybody in Arkansas [illegible] some claim of kinship to Cherokees? A No sir, [illegible].
Q There were getting [illegible] in there in 1906? [illegible] '14 and '15 I think.
Q Was [illegible] excitement over there [illegible]?
A Just got to be everybody [illegible] I attended there was not [illegible].
Q Well the matter had been [illegible]? A I don't [illegible] there was not much excitement over [illegible] wife.

BY MR. HASTINGS:

Q You did locate [illegible] Sam Sheldon when you first came to Tahlequah in '01? A I think I did.

Q Your brother Mack Dawson stayed here also? A Yes sir.

Q Sam Sheldon lived in the north end of town, old German? A Yes sir, old German lived in the lower part of town.

Q Did you ever hear the names of any other witnesses which you stated perhaps testified in your case? A I have heard but I have forgot them.

Q You don't recollect any name now? A I don't remember them sir.

Q In the Irene House case and Joanna Barber case, in which you testified before the Commission, when you were making search for this testimony you couldn't find any other testimony from that of record except the Dr. Baker testimony, could you? A That's all we could find; no we didn't find the testimony, we got a copy.

Q Well it must have been a copy of the original, the certificate shows that? A I don't know; House got a copy of what claimed to be the affidavit of Baker and he told me to give it to him; that is all I know about it.

Q Well the certificate there does not bear my certificate does it? A I don't know about that, I am no scholar.

Q Well you didn't get the testimony of any other witnesses except that of Dr. Baker; you couldn't find any other over there of record? A I didn't hunt for any; House hunted for them.

Q None of you have ever been able to find any other? A No. Not even find our petition.

Q Samuel P. Dawson applied to what is known as the Adair Court, didn't he? A I don't remember now.

Q He was an uncle of yours wasn't he? A Yes sir, claimed to be.

Q The father of these two parties who testified here this morning? A Well I don't know, they claim to be, I never met them to know them.

Q He was rejected by the Adair Court, or Haven Court? A I don't know whether he filed his petition.

Q Did you testify in his case? A I don't remember; I might have done it.

Q Didn't you testify in the Andrew J. Dawson case before what is known as the Haven Court? A I don't recollect, if I did I don't remember.

Q Did you testify in the Riley Dawson case? A No sir, not that I remember.

Q Didn't you know of his being rejected by that court? A I don't remember, sir.

Q You know that the Cherokee Council never authenticated the roll of 1896, don't you? A No sir, I don't know it; I didn't know this was done until I went to Tahlequah after some papers and came back and they told me about it.

Q You never found out that C. H. Taylor was a big rogue up until the present time have you? A (No response)

Q The records here show that he was been in the constant employment of your family from that date up to this time? A Why it shows here from the record; I [illegible] for any part of it.

Q You were the man that had the contract to do it? A I never employed him, I own my that.

Q You are the man that had [illegible] in the Irene House case and in my father's case.

Q Didn't you testify for your uncle Jim Dawson? A Yes sir.

Q Wasn't he attorney for him? A Yes sir.

Q wasn't he a play [illegible] by Jim Bryant after you [illegible] of your citizenship?
A Why not but the grand-children.
Q Jim Bryant's petition was filed in a [illegible] letter, isn't that so?
A Yes sir.
Q C. H. Taylor, attorney of record, filed the petition? A He might have filed it for all I know.
Q Well you hadn't at that time fallen out with C. H. Taylor had you? A Why no, we never did have any trouble, only over the money, he never would give it back to me or give it to Bryant.
Q You never discovered that he was such a rascal until after your judgment was rendered? A I know he was not of good character.
Q Are you not aware that this man who testified for the Cherokee Nation, on speaking terms? A Hardly speak.
Q Does he refuse to speak to you? A So others do.
Q Do you refuse to speak to him? A Yes sir.
Q Have you been speaking to him for the last two or three years? A I have not spoke to him until I met him there at the hotel the other day.
Q First time you spoke to him since he had the boy arrested? A Yes sir.
Q When did he have the boy arrested? A Along in September or October, September I think.
Q When did Dr. Baker die? A I don't remember.
Q You don't remember how much older your father was than you?
A No, I don't know.
Q What is your age? A I will be 60 in May.
Q Then you were born in '42? A Yes sir, '42 according to the record.
Q Was your father as much as 25 years old when you were born?
A I couldn't say.
Q What was your best judgment? A I suppose he was 20 or 25 years old. My understanding he married young.
Q Can't you give any better idea than 4 or 5 years of your father's age? A I say 25.
Q Your father was born say, 25 from 42 would have made him be born in 1817; now had your father any older brothers or sisters? A I think Jack Bryan was the eldest of the family, no, Betty, the girl, was the oldest and Jack next, and then my father as well as I remember about it.
Q There were two girls older? A No, one of the girls I never saw.
Q Then you think there are only 2 older than your father? A Yes, that's my understanding of the family.
Q Dr. Baker given his age 77 in '32, which would make him be born in '69, now he states that [illegible] 10 years old, which would be 1808, and in June 1824, when your mother Adam Priest, [illegible] school girl; whereas from your testimony and that of the family already introduced here show that your mother Adam Priest [illegible] other of seven children, the youngest being born in 1827, how do you reconcile that? A I don't remember about the ages of Dr. Baker; I don't know what he was at that time at all, I don't remember about it.
Q And [illegible] you don't know how to reconcile it? A (No response.)

Q Did you talk to any of the officers of the Court that [illegible] you? A No sir, I was not acquainted [illegible] them.
Q You know whether they were all or some of them? A There were [illegible] Steve Tehee. I got acquainted [illegible] afterwards, and Jo Thompson, at the Court [illegible]

Q That was the fellow that was on the Court? A Yes sir.
Q He was afterwards Assistant Chief of the Cherokee Nation?
A I think so.
Q Steven Tehee, that's the man you had reference to? A Yes sir, I think it was, I just knew the man; I had no acquaintance with him at all.
Q D. W. C. Duncan boarded when you were down there at the National Hotel? A I think he did, as well as I remember now when we were admitted.
Q Don't you know he did? A I think he did, as well as I remember.
Q Were not you over there to his room? A I think I was.
Q You remember when it was that you brought Dr. Baker down there to make a statement before the Court? A It was in January, Ter., Was in January Term of 1882 I believe, it was, as well as I remember about it.
Q Well you didn't take any more testimony after Dr. Baker testified? A No sir, I didn't.
Q But your case was not submitted or passed upon then, was it? A I think it was, yes sir, as well as I remember.
Q I would like to ask you when the Blasingame family came to the Cherokee Nation? A Alex Balsmingame came with me when we moved here, and went back and got his family and moved that fall.
Q Did he move his family here that same fall? A Yes sir.
Q What year was that? A In the fall of .87 I believe it was, as well as I can remember now.
Q When did the Sulaska family come? A I think the girl and the old lady came in the next spring.
Q How long did they remain that time? A The old lady stayed here, but the girl went back and in a short time after she got her husband came back.
Q Did she come back until after her marriage? A No, she was married when she came first.
Q The last time? A She was married I think, she was married when she came out.

Q How long has Robert Pierce been a continuous resident of the Cherokee Nation? A Ever since he was admitted.
Q When was that? A '83.
Q How long has Martin L. Patterson? A Ever since he married his wife, and he was living here before he married his wife.
Q Who is Arizona Airey? A That is my daughter.
Q Did you bring her with you? A No not when I moved.
Q When did she come? A She came out in a year or two after I moved here.
Q Was she married when you moved here? A No sir, she was not married.
Q She was not married when you were admitted? A No sir, she was a child.
Q When did Jim Love come to this country? A With his grandfather, James Dawson.
Q What was his mother's name? A Melvina Dawson.
Q You know Jim Love's age? A No sir.
Q Don't know how old he was in '83? A No sir.
Q He was grown? A I think he was.
Q Married? A No no.
Q Married in this country? A Yes sir.
Q She is James E. Ware's? A Married [illegible] daughter.

Q When did they come to this Country? A Right away after they was admitted.
Q In what year? A I think the winter of '94, I think it was, spring or winter of '94.
Q You know Gideon Graham? A Yes sir.
Q Who is his mother? A Missouri Ann Graham, formerly Missouri Ann Dawson.
Q Did he come from Texas to Arkansas? A Came from Texas.
Q Did you know them in Texas? A I knew the girl.
Q You never knew the family until they came to this country? A I never knew Gid.
Q When did you see him here? A I think they came here in the fall or winter of 1894 or '5.
Q He was married then? A I think he was.
Q Brought his wife? A I think he was, I don't know.
Q Did he have any children when you first saw him? A He came to my house and I never saw his family for--I don't know, for several years.
Q You understood he had a family? A Yes sir.
BY MR. McKENNON:
Q Did you mean to say '84 or '94? A '84.
Q Did you see Gid Graham in '84? A '84, let me study, 1884 '85.
BY MR. HASTINGS:
Q Did you see him in '85, are you positive on that proposition? A I think so.
Q Will you swear it? A No sir, I wont positive swear it, but I think it was. As I remember now it was; I couldn't say positive.
Q All the people Mr. Dawson that have been admitted to citizenship by courts of competent jurisdiction unless they were de-citizenised by courts of acquired jurisdiction, enjoyed the same privileges that you have narrated here about going to school and being tried in the courts? A Yes sir.

Q All that sort of thing that you have been telling here in your direct examination? A Ask me the question again.
Q I say all people who were admitted here by courts of competent jurisdiction, until they were de-citizenised by courts of like jurisdiction, enjoyed the same privileges that you did? A So far as I know they was.
Q They all drawed money and all tried in the courts as long as we had tribunal courts, were they not? A Yes sir, so far as I know.
Q There was no special privilege granted to you in preference to anybody else? A None but recognized citizens of the Cherokee Nation.
Q Well you had been recognized since you were admitted? A Yes sir, I enjoyed the same privileges of native born Cherokees.
Q Well I any there is nothing special about it? A No, I don't know if there is.
Q You got acquainted with Mr. Duncan while you were up there during the hearing? A Yes sir, I was acquainted with Mr. new him, when I saw him.
Q Mr. Pitt Boen did the examination of Dr. Baker? A Yes sir.
Q Did you file any other paper before the Court other than your petition and then Dr. Baker's statement? A I never filed any petition there at all.
Q None whatever? A I don't remember any.
Q Well you never had occasion to file any papers in behalf of Mr. Duncan? A I got him to do some writing for me.
Q What? A Letters to my brother in Texas.
Q Buck Dawson? A Yes sir, B. Dawson.

Q That? A Yes sir, Mac Dawson.
Q Well is that all he did for you? A I don't remember . about it.
Q Why didn't you get your attorney to do that letter writing? A There was not any there.
Q Taylor Nor Benge was not there then? A No sir.
Q That is what you paid the 20 or 25 dollars for, was writing this letter back to your brother? A I paid him for that claim.
Q When did you pay that? A I think I paid it, I don't exactly when, Carn Taylor paid it a year or two after I moved out here and settled where I did; might have been 2 years. I don't remember.
Q Where was Duncan living then? A I couldn't say now.
Q Was he still clerk of this Court? A No sir, not when money was paid; that is, when Carn Taylor said he paid it.
Q You did send Carn Taylor some money? A I sent some money for Joel Bryant.
Q You knew Joel Bryant's address didn't you? A No, I don't know that I did, No I didn't send Carn Taylor any money, I gave it to him.
Q How much did you give him? A One hundred dollars.
Q When? A Right at that time; he claimed it from me when we got our papers; he come into me and claimed it for Bryant.
Q You never sent him any then after that? A No sir.
Q Did you ever see Bryant after that? A Yes sir.
Q How long after that? A I don't know, a year or two afterwards. a year I believe, my brother wrote, I wrote to my brother about paying Carn Taylor money and he went onto my brother about it and he never paid him until we moved out to this country.
Q After all that you got him to attend to your uncle Jim Dawson's and the other relatives cases? A The other parties did.

BY MR. McKENNON:

Applicants object to all that part of the witness' evidence in response to interrogatories by representatives of the Cherokee Nation which relates to the character of the evidence upon which the judgments admitting members of the Jones and Robert Dawson families were admitted, and to the history of the members of the Dawson family, because the same is immaterial, incompetent and irrelevant.

BY MR. McKENNON:

Q One question I omitted to ask you Mr. Dawson, as to the Court at the time the judgment admitting Robert Dawson's family was rendered, who of the judges were present on that day? A They was all three of them, Wolfe, Tehee and Thompson.
Q Are you positive of that fact? A Yes sir.
Q You do not know this Andrew Dawson family who applied to the Dawes Commission for Cherokee citizenship, and who stated that they are cousins of some members of your family? A Andrew?
Q Andrew J. Dawson, who claim to be from Missouri? A How was the question?
Q You do not know them do you? A I don't know that they are any kin to us.
Q You don't know that they are related to you at all? A No sir.
Q This Mary Dawson case, do you know the members of that family? A No sir, I don't.
Q Don't know who they are? A No sir.
Q The Rebecca Dawson case? A I don't know her either.
Q You don't know whether they are related to you or not? A No sir.
Q If any of these persons are related to you or the family do you have any knowledge of it? A Not as I know of.

Q Jonah Barber, do you know anything about them? A They claim to be kin to us.
Q Where are they from? A They are from Texas.
Q Do you know they are related to you? A They claim to be kin.
BY MR. HASTINGS:
Q Paid you money for them before the Commission? A Yes, they claim to be kinfolks of mine.
BY MR. McKENNON:
Q Irene J. House, who is that? A That is a cousin of mine; claims to be.
BY MR. HASTINGS:
Q You testified for her didn't you before the Commission? A I think I did as well as I remember.
BY MR. McKENNON:
Q Before the Court that admitted James Dawson and family, who were the witnesses there? A Oliver Miller, from Berryville, Arkansas.
Q Who were the others? A Myself and J. Dawson and there was two other witnesses, I don't remember who they are.
Q Were they Cherokee citizens and residents of th Cherokee Nation? A Yes sir.
BY MR. HASTINGS:
Q You don't remember their names? A Which?
Q Of these other people who claimed to be citizens of the Cherokee Nation and who were witnesses? A I said about me and J. Dawson was citizens of the Cherokee Nation.
Q You only proved that Jim Dawson was a brother of Robert Dawson before the Court? A Yes sir.
Q And then referred back to the decision in the Court Before? A We proved that they were citizens, and he knew my folks before he ever came here.
Q Was he older than Dr. Baker? A About the same age.
Q Why didn't you get Oliver Miller's testimony in the House case?
Q He was dead.
Q You and no member of your family in the Irene House case or the Jonah Barber case or any of those cases that were tried before the Dawes Commission in your affidavits ever had reference to the fact what Oliver Miller testified in Jim Dawson's case in '04 did you?
A I don't remember about that.
Q You did make reference to the fact that Dr. Baker testified there in '8?, didn't you? A I don't remember about that now.
Q You never made reference to any other witness having testified other than Dr. Baker did you? A I don't remember about it now.
BY MR. McKENNON:
Q Now just one other question: All of these papers in the original application and everything, so far as you know, in the James Dawson case, were filed before the Commission which admitted the James Dawson family, are lost or missing are they not? A I suppose they are, I don't know, I never saw them.
Q Have you tried to get copies of them? A Yes sir, I tried to get the original papers.

BY COMMISSION: This case is continued until 8:30 a.m., tomorrow morning, March 20th, 1902, it now being the hour for adjournment.

MARCH 20, 1902,- 8:30 a.m.- J. L. LAWSON, [illegible], testifies as follows:
BY MR. McKENNON:

Q Do you know Josephine Pierce? A Yes sir.
Q Where did you know her? A Robert Dawson's.
Q Is she the same identical person who is called Josie Pierce, and Josie Dawson? A Yes sir.
Q Is there any other Josie Pierce or Josie Dawson or Josephine Pierce or Josephine Dawson? A I don't know, but to me.
Q She was also called Josephine or Josie Kelly? A Yes, after she married her first husband was Pierce.
Q And has become husband A Man Kelly.
Q Where was Andrew Jackson Dawson when's time, Blanks's wife? A Why they called her Joe, I suppose it's her name, I would not be positive that was Rile Dawson's daughter, August Blanks's wife.
Q She is much younger than your sister, Josephine, above referred to? A Yes sir, oh yes.

BY MR. HUTCHINS:

Q Where were you born, Mr. Dawson? A Carroll County, Arkansas.
Q You don't know old you are? A 42.
Q 42? A I think so.
Q How many older children were there of your father and mother than yourself? A Three.
Q Which were they? A E. Dawson, Riley Dawson and Jasper Dawson.
Q You are the fourth child and the fourth boy? A Yes sir, fourth boy.
Q Where were your father and mother married, do you know, from family history? A I think it was in Arkansas, I couldn't be positive, I think they was.
Q Do you know how long your grandfather lived in Arkansas? A No sir I don't.
Q Don't know what year he came to Arkansas? A Only from statement.
Q Recall what did they say about it? A I think they came there in '60.
Q You find whether your father was born in Arkansas? No many of your grandfather's children were born there? A There was none of them born in Arkansas according to history and according to what he always told me, they were born in Tennessee.
Q He came there in '60, and all the other children were born on the Kiamesa River in Tennessee, before he ever came? A That is what I think, yes sir. No I am not positive about that. They were from Tennessee, but either Mr. Dawson lived there or my father or some where; I don't know as I recall that I ever heard my father say where he was born at.
Q In Tennessee somewhere; he said he was a good big boy when he came to Arkansas? A I don't know as I ever heard him say.
Q Do you know the difference in the ages of yourself and your three older brothers? A No I don't.
Q Don't know the time that comes in between you? A No I don't know exact; I think it is about two years though.
Q That would make E. Dawson about eight years older than you, probably? A Yes sir.

BY MR. McKENNON:
Q Did Josephine Pierce have a daughter who married Mr. Bogle?
A Yes sir.
Q What was her name? A I always knowed her by Dode Pierce; I don't know whether that is her right name or not.
Q What is Bogle's name? A John Bogle.
Q She is the child of Josephine Pierce who married John Bogle?
A Yes sir.
BY MR. HASTINGS:
Q Where did she marry John Bogle? A Near Afton.
Q When? A I couldn't state.
Q About when? A You have got a copy of the marriage license.
Q When did Josephine Pierce come to the Cherokee Nation? A '83.
Q Has she lived here continuously since that time? A Up until her death; she is dead.
Q Any of her children come with her at that time? A Yes sir.
Q And have they lived here continuously since that time? A Yes sir, except Bill Pierce, he went to Colorado and died.

J. C. STARR, being first duly sworn and being examined, testified as follows:
BY MR. McKENNON:
Q Your name is J. C. Starr is it? A Yes sir.
Q Mr. Starr, was that instrument taken by you, or before you? (Showing witness document.)
A Yes sir.
Q Where? A At the residence of S. H. Benge near Fort Gibson.
Q When? A On the 15th day of this month.
Q What day of the week was that? A On Saturday.
Q Is that the day it was taken? A Yes sir.
Q Did you go there on Saturday to take this? A Yes sir.
Q Then when Judge Benge stated on Tuesday that it was taken "yesterday" meaning Monday, the 17th, he was mistaken, was he?
A It was taken Saturday, the 15th.
Q Was he mistaken or not? A It was not taken then.
Q Then his statement made on Tuesday the 18th that it was taken on "yesterday", meaning Monday, the 17th, was not correct, was it?
A I think not, because I was there, and it was taken on the 15th.
Q And it was taken on the 15th, you are positive it was taken on the 15th? A Yes sir.

Q Then of course his statement could not be correct? A I guess not.
BY MR. HASTINGS:
Q He was just mistaken about the date, wasn't he? A Yes sir.
BY MR. McKENNON:
Q Did you tell Charles T. Moore who is now present, on last Tuesday that they sent you out there on Monday to take that? A No sir.
BY MR. HASTINGS:
Q I sent you there last Saturday? A Yes sir.
Q And you went there at my direction, didn't you? A Yes sir, and come back Saturday night.

ROBERT L. DAWSON, being first duly sworn, and being examined testified as follows:
BY MR. McKENNON:
Q What is your name? A My name is Robert L. Dawson.
Q What is your age? A I am a little [illegible] of age.

Q Are you a son of E. Dawson, commonly known as Buck Dawson?
A Yes sir.
Q I will ask you if you will examine this letter sent with the enclosure and state whether or not you found that among the papers of your father after his death? A (Hands letter to witness who examines it) A Yes sir, I found this amongst the papers of my father. He always kept all his own papers, and me looking over them I saw this letter.
Q Has that been in your custody ever since you found it? A Yes sir, if that's the letter that was in the envelope.
Q Well that's what it is, you can tell whether it is or not. (Witness further examines letter) Q That purports to be a letter from Samuel H. Benge, does it not, to your father? A Yes sir. (Here applicants' attorney hands letter and env lope referred to to attorneys for Cherokee Nation.)

BY MR. McKENNON: I want to offer this letter in evidence in this case; it is a letter signed by S. H. Benge, attorney at law, dated Fort Gibson, C. N., Jan. 13, 1883. Addressed to Mr. E. Dawson, Esq., together with the envelope, in which it was enclosed, with the card of C. H. Taylor upon it, attorney at law, Tahlequah, Indian Territory, and postmarked Tahlequah, Ind. T., January 17.

BY MR. HUTCHINGS: The Nation objects to the introduction of this letter for the reason that S. H. Benge is living and has testified in this case, and his handwriting should be either proven or denied by himself.

G. W. BENGE, being first duly sworn, and being examined, testified as follows:
BY MR. McKENNON:
Q What is your name? A G. W. Benge.
Q Are you a son of Samuel H. Benge? A Yes sir.
Q Do youknow his handwriting? A I believe so.
Q Is that his handwriting? (shows witness letter before referred to.) A Yes sir, it is either his or a resemblance of his.
Q To the best of your knowledge and belief is that his letter?
A Yes sir.

BY MR. McKENNON: Now we offer it in evidence.

BY COMMISSION: (Reading letter)

"Fort Gibson, C. N.,
Jan 13th, 1883.

Mr. E. Dawson, Esq.,

Dear Sir:- I write this note to inform you that your case came off before the Court on Citizenship on the 11th inst, and was decided in your favor, so you all are citizens of this Nation. F. M. Dawson was furnished with a copy of the decision at the court. He will write to you also. You will please send me fifty dollars as my fee in your case according to contract. Send it to Fort Gibson, Cherokee Nation.

Respectfully yours,
S. H. Benge,
Attorney at Law."

Enclosed in envelope, as follows:
Card in upper corner, left hand:
"Return in ten days to C. H. Taylor,
Attorney at Law,
Tahlequah, Ind. Ter."
Addressed: "E. F. Dawson,

Henryetta,
Clay Co., Texas."

Post-marked: " Tahlequah, Jan 17 Ind T."

ROBERT L. DAWSON, -re-called and further examined, testified as follows:

BY MR. McKENNON:

Q Now examine that and see if that is also a paper which you found among your father's papers after his death? (Hands papers to witness) A That is the same letter that I found.

Q Among the ones that you found the Benge letter? A Yes sir.

BY MR. McKENNON: This is a letter purporting to have been written by J. M. Bryan, to R. Dawson, dated at Choutaau Station, Cherokee Nation, and not dated, which we offer in evidence. (Applicants) attorney hands said paper to Nation's attorneys.)

Q Mr. Bryan is dead is he not? A I think so.

BY MR. HUTCHINGS: We have no objection.

BY COMMISSION: (reads letter)

"Choutaau Station, Cherokee Nation.
I. T., M. K. & T. R. R.

MR. Dawson:

Dear Sir:-

I ar in receipt of your favor of the 30th inst in regard to our contract.

After I had got the claim so there would be little more to do I employed Campbell Taylor to answer for me when the case came up, for which I was to pay him $20 out of my fee.

This all the action I had in the matter with Taylor.

I saw Taylor in Washington last month, and he told me that your brother had made another contract with him, and paid him, or that you was to pay him $100- and that you had offered him a check on some bank in Texas.

That $100- matter with Taylor, I have nothing to do with, nor couldn't have if I wanted to.

I hope Mr. Dawson this letter will explain the matter fully.

And I ar satisfied that you are apprised of the earnest work I done for you, Please write to me.

Very respectfully,
Very truly,
J. M. Brynn."

Q I will ask you if you know of your father having paid Bryan that money? A Yes sir, paid him a horse and some other money.

BY MR. HUTCHINGS:

Q How old was your father when he died? A No, I don't know whether I know his age or not.

Q If you don't know you can't say? A I wouldn't have no reason to know his age; never asked him his age; of course I guess my father knows.

Q Never had occasion to talk about his age at all? A Oh I have heard him speaking of his age at different times, but then I never paid enough attention to it.

Cid Graham, being first duly sworn and [illegible], examined and testified as follows:

BY MR. McKENNON:

Q What is your [illegible]

Q How old are you? A Mr. Graham? A I am 35 years old.
Q How long have you been living in the Territory? A I came out here in 1887 or '88.
Q To the Cherokee Nation? A Yes sir.
Q How long have you been living in the Cherokee Nation, what year was that '87 or '8? A Yes sir.
Q Have you resided here continuously from that time ever since in the Territory? A Yes sir.
Q How long did you live in the Cherokee Nation? A About 6 years.
Q Where did you go then? A Wagoner.
Q In the Creek Nation? A Yes sir.
Q And been residing there ever since? A Yes sir.
Q In business? A Yes sir.
Q Have you all the while been recognized as a citizen of the Cherokee Nation? A Yes sir.
Q Mr. Graham, do you know Judge Samuel H. Benge? A Yes sir.
Q Did you have a conversation with him in Fort Gibson about September of 1900? A Well as to the exact time I couldn't say, it was sometime about the time that the Dawes Commission were at Sallisaw, or possibly a little later, somewhere about there.
Q Taking the census of the Cherokees? A Yes sir.
Q At that time had the question of the validity of the judgment of the Cherokee citizenship commission admitting Robert Dawson and family been called in question? A Yes sir.
Q Did you talk to him about the facts concerning the obtaining of that judgment? A I did.
Q What did he tell you about it; well I will just ask you, did he then and there tell you that that judgment was regular and all right nothing wrong with it? A . He did.

BY MR. HUTCHINGS:

Q You were looking around for testimony at that time, Mr. Graham, were you? A How was that?
Q You were looking around for testimony at that time, expecting this case to be questioned? A Since the validity of that judgment had been attacked by the authorities of the Cherokee Nation, I thought it was well to look into the matter.
Q And he told you the judgment was all right? A Having known that Mr. Benge was connected with the case, I saw him in Fort Gibson, subsequent to that time and asked him about it, if there was anything wrong about the matter, and also that I might want his affidavit concerning the matter, and I also I think maybe wrote to him; possibly prior to that, I am not sure as to the writing, but I think possibly I did.
Q Did he tell you he would make an affidavit? A I don't think at that time that I asked him for an affidavit. I thought as he lived right near here I would use him in person; he assured me that everything was all right.
Q Your mother was Missouri Dawson was not she? A Yes sir.
Q Her name was Missouri Graham when she was re-admitted to citizenship? A Yes sir.
Q And was not Missouri Dawson as named in that judgment? A Yes sir.
Q Do you know whether the other children named in there had married and changed their names also at the time they were admitted?
A There were not any of them married.
Q Ella Dawson was your aunt? A Yes sir.
Q Was she married at that time? In 1883? A Yes sir.
Q Melvina Dawson, was she married at that time? A Yes sir.
Q And the fourth one you have mentioned, Missouri Dawson, was your mother? A Yes sir.

Q Can you give us the exact date of your birth? A Yes sir.
Q Do so, please? A January 21, 1867.
Q And you came to the Territory when? A In 1887 or 1888.
Q You can't make that any more definite? A Well sir, it has been a good while ago, and I didn't have anything to cause me to.
Q Well I just want to know whether you did have or not? A No sir.
Q When were you married? A 1886.
Q You were married prior to coming here? A Yes sir.
Q Your first child born away from here? A Yes sir.
Q What is its name? A John W.
Q '86 you were married, and he was born about the spring of '87? A Somewhere in 1887, I don't remember.
Q Prior to your coming here? A Yes sir.
Q That is the only child you had that was born away from here? A No sir, Julius.
Q Julius was not born in the Territory? A No sir.
Q And prior to the time of your removing to the Territory? A Yes sir.
Q These are the only children born out? A Yes sir.

BY MR. McKENNON:

Q Do you know Campbell Taylor? A Yes sir.
Q I will ask you if about February 1901, he came to Wagoner, and sent his son to have you come to the hotel at night where he was, and if he then and there said to you "You people are on the doubtful list, and if you will give me five hundred dollars I will make it all right and see that you are enrolled, and if you don't I will see that you don't get on".? A Well now as to the first part of thatquestion, where you say he sent his son; that is an error; I don't know whether he came to my house or sent some one; when I returned home that evening my wife told me there was some one there to see me, and was at the city hotel at Wagoner, and said come down and see him; I went down there; I never had met Taylor; he introduced himself to me and stated what his business was; asked me if I was on the doubtful list, etc., to which I replied that we were; he asked me if I didn't want to employ him, stating that if we would give him, our family would give him five hundred dollars he would see that we were placed on the rolls all right, but if we refused to give him five hundred dollars that he would use his influence against us and see that we were rejected.
Q You never had met him before, or had any communication with him? A I never met him before; as to the communication, I may have written him something about his affidavit as to the validity of that judgment, I can't say as to that. He said in his testimony that I did; I don't know whether I did or not now.

BY MR. HUTCHINGS:

Q You knew he was the attorney in the case, originally? A After looking at the records I did.
Q I mean you knew it at the time you wrote to him about the affidavit; that was the reason why you thought he would know something? A Certainly.
Q He never told you he was going to swear against you or threatened to tell anything that was not true? A He just simply said unless we gave him that five hundred dollars he would see we were all cut off the rolls.
Q Said he would use his influence against you, that is what he said? A Yes sir.

BY MR. HASTINGS:
Q You don't deny writing to him then for the affidavit? A I don't say I did or I did not: I neither affirm it or deny the question.
Q You went to Captain Benge and also wrote him with reference to what he knew about the case? A I don't know whether I wrote him or not, I said I was under the impression I wrote his son.
Q You went to see Aaron Butler, who was interpreter before that court that admitted you? A Yes sir.
Q And you went with Aaron Butler to see Jim Smith, attorney before that court? A Yes sir.
Q And you either wrote or went to see everybody you knew of that was before that court then? A Yes sir.
Q That shows you used considerable activity? A Yes sir, I used such activity as was to my interest.
BY MR. McKENNON:
Q That was all after the representatives of the Cherokee Nation objected to the enrollment of the Dawson family and by reason thereof such as had appeared before the Commission had been placed upon a doubtful card? A Yes sir.
Q Then you began to look up the evidence and see what there was in it? A Yes sir.
Q As Mr. Hastings has stated? A That's right.
BY MR. McKENNON:
Q You are a grandson of James Dawson? A Yes sir.
Q The old gentleman? A Yes sir.
Q About what was his age when he was admitted to citizenship in the Cherokee Nation, in 1884, wasn't it? A Yes sir, well I can't be exact as to that.
Q Well as nearly as you can? A He was somewhere about 70 or 72, years of age.
Q Well what other James Dawson did you know belonging to the families, either one of these families, Robert Dawson family or the James Dawson family? A I never knew of but two James Dawsons.
Q Who were the others? A Dr. James R. Dawson, who is present and standing right here: my grandfather, James Dawson.
Q Was there in '84 any James R. Dawson 35 or 40 or 45 years old, that you know of, belonging to either one of these families?
A No sir.
Q Do you know how old Dr. James R. Dawson was that that time?
A James Dawson? Q No I am speaking of Dr. James R. Dawson? A Oh, how old he was, no sir, I do not.
BY MR. HUTCHINGS:
Q Do you know who was here attending to your mother's citizenship case at that time, at the time they were admitted? A Yes sir, James Low and Bill Jackson, son of Ellen Jackson.
Q Who was W. A. Dawson? A That is Wilburn, my uncle.
Q Was he here? A I don't know sir.
Q You were not here any of the time? A No sir.
Q You knew your grandfather then, you had lived in the same neighborhood with him? A Yes sir, I know him well.
Q He didn't die for a year or two after that did he? A After when, Mr. Hutchings?
Q After his admission to citizenship? A No sir, he didn't die I think until '91 or '90, several years after.
Q Very old man when he died? A Yes sir.
BY MR. McKENNON:
Q About what age? A He was approximately 80 years old.
BY MR. HUTCHINGS:
Q When he died? A Yes sir.

BY MR. HASTINGS:
Q That about 1891? A I think so, yes sir.
BY MR. McKENNON:

Applicants object to the testimony of the witness elicited by interrogatories of Counsel for the Cherokee Nation relating to his family, their history, etc, as being immaterial, irrelevant and incompetent.

James R. Dawson, being first duly sworn, and being examined, testified as follows:
BY MR. McKENNON:
Q Your name is James R. Dawson? A Yes sir.
Q Where do you live? A Afton, Indian Territory.
Q What is your age? A 45.
Q You are a physician are you not? A Yes sir.
Q Was James Dawson, whose family was admitted in 1884, an uncle of yours? A Yes sir.
Q Do you know what his age was at that time? A No sir, I do not, only approximately.
Q State as nearly as you can? A At the time of theadmission?
Q Yes sir? A About 70, I don't know exactly.
Q How old was he when he died? A I would suppose he was about 78.
Q What was your age in 1884? A I am 45.
Q What year were you born, Doctor? A I was born in '65.
Q That have been '84? A Yes sir, that's right.
Q What was your age then? A In '84?
Q Yes sir? A About 28.
Q Were you present at the time that James Dawson family was admitted, or at any time while their case was pending before the Cherokee citizenship commission? A Not while the James Dawson case was, no sir.
Q You were present during your father's case? A I was there at the time.
Q When was that? A The dates I dicre member; when the case first came up, I dicre member the exact date.
Q How long were you there? A I was there about a week.
Q Was that when it first came up you say? A Yes sir.
Q Nothing was done? A No sir.
BY MR. HUTCHINGS:
Q You never saw Dr. Baker? A Yes sir.
Q Did he and your uncle Jim ie us d to talk about how they played together when they were boys? A My uncle Jim and Dr. Baker talk?
Q Yes? A I never saw them together.
Q They were about the same age? A Yes sir, I believe Dr. Baker was 15 years older probably.
Q Dr. Baker must have been mistaken about his own age? A Generally, that's all I know about his age.
Q The Doctor had been paralyzed, rather a decrepit looking man at the time he was over here at this citizenship business? A No sir, not as I know anything about.
Q He was near about 70 then? A I couldn't tell you, he was an old looking man.
Q Your uncle Jim ie was about 70? A Yes sir.

TESTIMONY ON BEHALF OF THE CHEROKEE NATION.

W. W. HASTINGS, being first duly sworn, and being examined testified as follows:
BY MR. HUTCHINGS:
Q State your name? A W. W. Hastings.
Q Residence? A Tahlequah, age 35.
Q You are attorney for the Cherokee Nation in the general preparation of these cases? A Yes sir.
Q Just state how it happened that you summoned Mr. Campbell Taylor, and what occurred between you with reference to his testimony?
A Well there had been some talk, as the testimony here indicates, that there was perhaps fraud in the admission of this family, and by agreement with counsel on the other side, and the Commission, this case was set for the 17th day of March, and some short time prior to that, as the attorney for the Nation I began to make some preparation or inquiry into the case, and I wrote a great many letters around to different people and among them I wrote C. H. Taylor to come down here. I don't think in that letter that I told him what I wanted with him. I don't think I told him the case that I wanted him to testify in; that is my recollection now. Mr. Taylor prior to that time, neither directly nor indirectly, so far as I know, ever gave me any information voluntarily against this family, or ever said anything that would lead me to believe that he knew anything of a fraudulent character connected with it. But I summonsed him; perhaps the fact that I knew he had been connected with them in some way and that I perhaps also would get some information from him. Well he came in response to a letter that I wrote, and I took him up to my office. I talked to him quite a long while. He was exceedingly reluctant about giving any testimony whatever, he told me first and last that he didn't intend to testify before the Commission. He told me he had been attorney for these people, and he didn't believe he could be compelled to testify, and that if he was put upon the stand he would claim that privilege, and he didn't believe I could force him to testify. I talked to him at some considerable length; I asked him what he knew about it; of course he for a long time declined to tell me; and what information I did get from him was by piecemeal. He was exceedingly reluctant all through the interview to give any information. I asked him finally though that if the Court compelled him to testify when he got before the Commission, if he would tell the facts about it, and he said that he would. I told him then that I would subpoena him.
Well we talked quite a good while and finally after always telling me that he intended to claim that privilege, and never wanting to testify, he detailed to me the facts just as he told them on the stand; I don't believe there is the slightest variation, except that he perhaps was not so full at that time and it was told by piecemeal, but I got all those facts out of him, or very nearly all those facts out of him. He may have elaborated a little more here by examination; but he never voluntarily gave me any information at all, either directly or so far as I know indirectly. I don't think he sent any one to me. I got his name because I heard he was connected with the case, and perhaps knew something about it, like I did a great many other people, some of whom I didn't bring, because they didn't know what I supposed they did know about the case.

With reference to S. H. Benge, I want to state that he never voluntarily gave me any information at all about this case, nor did I know that he knew anything in connection with this case until I sent J. C. Starr over to S. H. Benge's place to take his affidavit on Saturday, March 15, in the W. H. and J. W. Shoemake case, and their descendants. I had heard that Mr. Benge knew some important facts in connection with the Shoemake case and I sent him over there then to take that affidavit; and when Mr. Starr came back he told me that he knew some facts also in connection with these other cases, and I was surprised to find he had instead of one affidavit in the Shoemake case, that he also had another affidavit in the Dawson case. That is the first information I had that Mr. Benge knew anything whatever in connection with the Dawson case, and therefore he never voluntarily, either directly or indirectly gave any information prior to that time to me.

I impressed upon Mr. Taylor that the Nation only wanted the absolute truth in this matter; that it was not seeking anything else but the truth, and didn't want him to tell anything else but the truth.

I want to say again that after he was on the stand and left that evening, and after Captain McKennon, or counsel for the family, had indicated his willingness for Mr. Taylor to testify, that he went over all of these facts that he testified to on the stand subsequent to that time in the presence of J. C. Starr in my office. I simply wanted to go on the stand for the purpose of showing that Mr. Taylor hadn't voluntarily given me any information, and

I make this statement for that purpose.

BY MR. McKENNON:

Q You had no power to compel him to give you any information at that time at all did you? A No sir, none other than the persuasion that I brought to bear.

Q He therefore did it simply upon your persuation? A Yes sir.

Q You knew he had been acting as attorney for these parties?

A Yes sir, I had seen from the record that he did too.

Q And he told you so? A Yes sir.

BY COMMISSION: The attorneys for the applicant and the representatives of the Cherokee Nation will be granted thirty days from the receipt of the transcript in this case in which to file a brief in this case with the Commission.

All of these proceedings have been made a part of the record herein.

The evidence, and an examination of the records of the Cherokee Nation, in the possession of this Commission show that on January 11, 1883, one Robert Dawson and his adult children, F. M. Dawsin, Elbert Dawson, Jasper Dawson, Mollie Dawson, Wilborn Dawson, James Dawson, Rial Dawson, Josephine Dawson, Joseph Dawson, Jane Dawson and John Dawson were admitted to citizenship in the Cherokee Nation by the Cherokee Commission on Citizenship, commonly known as the "Teehee Court", and that on September 9, 1884, one James Dawson, a brother of the Robert Dawson aforesaid, together with his adult children, Ella Dawson, W. A. Dawson, Malvina Dawson and Missouri Dawson were admitted to citizenship in the Cherokee Nation by the Cherokee Commission on Citizenship commonly known as the "Spears Court." In addition to their tribal enrollment as shown by the evidence herein, it also appears from an examination of the Cherokee tribal rolls, in the possession of this Commission, that F. M. Dawson is identified on the Cherokee pay rolls of 1883 and 1894, Elbert Dawson on the Cherokee pay roll of 1886, Mollie Dawson on the pay roll of 1883, Wilborn Dawson on the pay rolls of 1886 and 1894, James Dawson on the pay rolls of 1883 and 1894, Rial Dawson on the pay rolls of 1886 and 1894, Josephine Dawson on the pay roll of 1886, Jane Dawson on the pay roll of 1883, Joseph Dawson and John Dawson on the pay rolls of 1883, 1886 and 1894, Ella Dawson and W.A.

Dawson on the pay roll of 1886, and Missouri Dawson on the pay roll of 1894.

A majority of the above named persons, together with the descendants of the persons admitted as aforesaid and such white persons as may have intermarried with the said Dawsons or their descendants are the applicants herein.

For convenience, the applications are divided into groups:

Group 1, includes the applications of Francis M. Dawson and those claiming through him and embraces cases numbered D 324, D 583, D 584, D 588 and D 835.

The evidence shows that Francis M. Dawson is the same person admitted to citizenship as hereinbefore stated under the name of F.M. Dawson. Katie Dawson, his wife, was married to him on November 21, 1880. The Cherokee Supreme Court in the cases of Cherokee Nation vs. Nancy Rogers and Melissa Dawson vs. W. A. Dawson held that a white woman married to a Cherokee Indian at the time of his admission to citizenship acquires thereby the rights of Cherokee citizenship. She has lived with her said husband since they were married, and the six children included in the application of said Francis M. Dawson, and hereinbefore named are the issue of the marriage aforesaid. All the applicants herein are identified on the Cherokee Census roll of 1896.

John Dawson, William R. Dawson, Lizzie Atkins, formerly Dawson, Francis M. Dawson, Jr., and Arizona Allred are the children of said Francis M. Dawson by a former wife, Julia Ann. They were minors at the date of their father's admission to citizenship. John Dawson, Lizzie Atkins and Francis M. Dawson, Jr., are identified on the Strip Payment roll of 1894, and William R. Dawson and Arizona Allred are identified on the Cherokee Census roll of 1896.

Andrew C. Atkins was married under a Cherokee marriage license and in accordance with the laws of the Cherokee Nation on March 29, 1891, to the above named Lizzie Dawson. He has resided in the Cherokee Nation with his said wife since they were married, and the four children included in his application, and hereinbefore named are the issue of that marriage. The oldest child, Arthur, is identified on the Cherokee pay roll of 1894, and the three younger children are identified by birth affidavits on file with this Commission.

Arizona Allred, nee Dawson, came from Arkansas to the Cherokee Nation for the first time in 1894, remained there about two years and then returned to Arkansas, where she was married to Lee Allred. Such marriage was not in accordance with the laws of the Cherokee Nation. Arizona Allred and her husband came to the Cherokee Nation in 1896, stayed there a month and returned to Arkansas where they remained until September, 1898, at which time they came to the Cherokee Nation, remained there about a year and returned to Arkansas in 1899, where they were living at the date of this application. William C. Allred is the child of said Arizona Allred and possesses no rights not acquired by his mother. He is identified on the Cherokee Census roll of 1896.

Paragraph 9, Section 21, of the Act of Congress approved June 28, 1898 (30 Stats., 495) provides:

> "No person shall be enrolled who has not heretofore removed to and in good faith settled in the Nation in which he claims citizenship."

The evidence further shows that Francis M. Dawson, his wife, Katie and William P. Dawson, Francis M. Dawson, Jr., and Lizzie Atkins have resided in the Cherokee Nation since 1883, and Andrew C. Atkins, the husband of said Lizzie Atkins, since 1891, and that John Dawson has resided in the Cherokee Nation for at least fourteen years prior to the date of his application. The residence of the minor children of the above named persons is considered to be that of their parents, with whom they are living.

Group XX, includes the applications of Samuel R. Dawson, together with those claiming through him and embraces cases numbered D 380, D 358, D 358, D 385, D 482 and D 408.

The evidence shows that Samuel R. Dawson is identified as the Rial Dawson admitted to citizenship in the Cherokee Nation as hereinbefore stated. His wife, Catherine, a white woman, was married to him on July 11, 1868. The Cherokee Supreme Court in the cases of Cherokee Nation vs. Nancy Rogers and Melissa Dawson vs. W. A. Dawson held that a white woman married to a Cherokee Indian at the time of his admission to citizenship acquires thereby the rights of Cherokee citizenship. She has lived with her said husband since their marriage, and August and Mate Dawson are the issue of the aforesaid marriage. Samuel R. Dawson, his wife and children are identified on the Cherokee Census roll of 1896.

Robert Dawson, Albert H. Dawson, Josephine Bulawsky, formerly Josephine Dawson, John W. Dawson, and Katie Newman, formerly Katie Dawson are the children of said Samuel R. Dawson. They were minors at the date of their father's admission to citizenship, and they are all identified on the Cherokee Census roll of 1896.

Sarah F. Dawson, nee Abbott, was married to the said Albert H. Dawson in October, 1894. She has lived with her said husband, since they were married. Ralph H., Alford and Cecil Dawson are the issue of that marriage. Sarah F. Dawson and her child Ralph H. are identified on the Cherokee Census roll of 1896. Alford is identified by a birth affidavit on file with this Commission. The evidence further shows that the youngest child, Cecil Dawson, is dead.

August Bulawsky, was married under a Cherokee marriage license and in accordance with the laws of the Cherokee Nation on May 25, 1893, to the said Josephine Dawson. He has lived with his said wife since they were married and the six children included in his application, and hereinbefore named, are the issue of that marriage. The four older children are identified on the Cherokee Census roll of 1896, and the Strip payment roll of 1894. May Bulawsky is identified on the Cherokee Census roll of 1896, and Oscar Bulawsky is identified by a birth affidavit on file with this Commission.

Mannie Dawson, nee Baugher, was married to the said John W. Dawson on September 2, 1894, and she has lived with her said husband since they were married.

The evidence further shows that Samuel R. Dawson, his wife, Catherine, and Robert Dawson, Albert H. Dawson, John W. Dawson, and Katie Newman have resided in the Cherokee Nation since 1886, August Bulawsky and his wife Josephine, since 1892, and Sarah F. and Mannie Dawson since 1894. The residence of the minor children included in this group is considered to be that of their parents, with whom they are living.

Group III, includes the application of John Dawson, and those claiming through him and embraces cases numbered D 578, D 360 and D 530. The evidence shows that John Dawson is the same person admitted to citizenship in the Cherokee Nation as hereinbefore stated. Sarah J. Dawson, nee Wood, his wife, a white woman, was married to him on October 4, 1871. The Cherokee Supreme Court in the cases of Cherokee Nation vs. Nancy Rogers and Melissa Dawson vs. W. A. Dawson held that a white woman married to a Cherokee Indian at the time of his admission to citizenship acquires thereby the rights of Cherokee citizenship. She has lived with her said husband since they were married and the nine children included in the application of said John Dawson, and hereinbefore named, are the issue of said marriage. John Dawson, his wife, and his seven older children are identified on the Cherokee Census roll of 1896. The two younger children are identified by birth affidavits on file with this Commission.

Thomas P. Dawson and Orle H. Dawson are the children of said John Dawson. They were minors at the date of their father's admission to citizenship, and they are both identified on the Cherokee

Census roll of 1896.

Thomas P. Dawson was married on April 24, 1898, to Allen A. Allison, and Marion J. Dawson is the issue of that marriage. The said child is identified by a birth affidavit on file with this Commission.

Orle H. Dawson was married on December 28, 1899, to Addie York, and Burr R. and James W. Dawson are the issue of that marriage. The said children are identified by birth affidavits on file with this Commission.

The evidence further shows that the said John Dawson and his wife, Sarah J., have resided together in the Cherokee Nation since 1883; that said Orle H. Dawson has resided in the Cherokee Nation since 1883, and that Thomas P. Dawson has resided in the Cherokee Nation since 1888. The residence of the minor children herein is considered to be that of their parents, with whom they are living.

Group IV, includes the applications of those claiming through the said Josephine Dawson, now deceased. At the time of her admission she was the wife of one Thomas Pierce, but was admitted to citizenship under maiden name of Dawson. The group embraces cases numbered D 408, D 409, D 431, D 471, D 472 and D 479.

The evidence shows that Robert Pierce, William Pierce, Charles E. Pierce, Oma Gray, formerly Oma Pierce, Effie Pierce (now Effie Akin) and Nancy J. Bogle, formerly Nancy J. Pierce are the children of said Josephine Dawson. They were minors at the date of their mother's admission to citizenship, and they are all identified on the Cherokee Census roll of 1896.

Nellie Pierce, a white woman, was married to said Robert Pierce on July 15, 1894. She has lived with her said husband since they were married, and Lyrtle and Arthur Pierce are the issue of that marriage. Nellie Pierce is identified on the Cherokee Census roll of 1896, and her two children are identified by birth affidavits on file with this Commission.

Oma Gray was married to John B. Gray on April 7, 1898, and Cecil and Velton Gray are the issue of that marriage. Oma Gray is identified on the strip payment roll of 1894 and her children are identified by birth affidavits on file with this Commission.

John S. Bogle was married under a Cherokee marriage license, and in accordance with the laws of the Cherokee Nation on April 5, 1894, to the above named Nancy J. Pierce. He has lived with his said wife since they were married and the six children included in his application, and hereinbefore named, are the issue of that marriage. John S. Bogle and his two older children are identified on the Cherokee Census roll of 1896, and his four younger children are identified by birth affidavits on file with this Commission.

The evidence further shows that the said William Pierce died in January, 1902.

It further appears that Robert Pierce, Charles E. Pierce, Nancy J. Bogle and Oma Gray have resided in the Cherokee Nation since 1884; that John S. Bogle, husband of Nancy J. Bogle, and Nellie Pierce, wife of Robert Pierce, have resided in said Nation ever since they were married, and the residence of the minor children herein is considered to be that of their parents with whom they are living. It appears that Effie Akin was seventeen years old at the date of the application for her enrollment, and it further appears that she resided in the Cherokee Nation from about 1886 up to December, 1900, when she went to Colorado, was married there to Will Akin, and is now living in that state with her said husband.

Group V, includes the application of the said Joseph Dawson, Wilborn Dawson and James Dawson, and embraces cases numbered D 364, D 475 and D 526.

Joseph R. Dawson is identified as the Joseph Dawson admitted to citizenship in the Cherokee Nation as hereinbefore stated. He was married to Florence Jackson on May 16, 1886, and they have lived together since the date of their marriage. The said Florence Jackson is the daughter of Ella Dawson, but she was of age at the date of her mother's admission to citizenship. The six children included in the application of said Joseph R. Dawson, and hereinbefore named, are the issue of the marriage between the said Joseph R. Dawson and Florence Jackson. The applicant, his said wife and his four older children are identified on the Cherokee Census roll of 1896. The two younger children are identified by birth affidavits on file with this Commission.

Wilborn Dawson is identified as the person of that name admitted to citizenship in the Cherokee Nation as hereinbefore stated. He is identified on the Cherokee Census roll of 1896.

James R. Dawson is identified as the James Dawson admitted to citizenship in the Cherokee Nation as heretofore stated. His wife, Martha A. Dawson was married to him on February 20, 1890. She has lived with her said husband since the date of their marriage, and the four children included in the application of said James R. Dawson, and hereinbefore named, are the issue of said marriage. The applicant, his said wife and his three older children are identified on the Cherokee Census roll of 1896. The youngest child is identified by a birth affidavit on file with this Commission.

The evidence further shows that Joseph R. Dawson has resided in the Cherokee Nation since 1883; that Florence Dawson and Wilborn Dawson have resided in said Nation since 1886, and that James R. Dawson has resided in said Nation since 1883, excepting a temporary absence from 1889 to 1891. The residence of the minor children included in this group is considered to be that of their parents, with whom they are living.

Group VI, includes the application of Mollie Dawson and those claiming through her and embraces case numbered D 518.

The evidence shows that Mollie Moore, formerly Dawson, is identified as the Mollie Dawson admitted to citizenship in the Cherokee Nation as hereinbefore stated. Her husband, Charles T. Moore, was married to her under a Cherokee marriage license, and in accordance with the laws of the Cherokee Nation on January 17, 1887. He has lived with his said wife since they were married and the six children included in his application, and hereinbefore named, are the issue of said marriage. Charles T. Moore, his wife Lollie, and his four older children are identified on the Cherokee Census roll of 1896; the two younger children are identified by birth affidavits on file with this Commission.

The evidence further shows that said Charles T. Moore, his wife Mollie and his oldest child have resided in the Cherokee Nation since 1883; the younger children have resided in said nation all their lives.

Group VII, includes the applications of those claiming through the above named Jane Dawson, who, at the time of her admission to citizenship in the Cherokee Nation, as hereinbefore stated, was the wife of one Alexander Blasingame, but she was admitted under her maiden name of Dawson. Jane Dawson is a resident of Arkansas, and is not an applicant for enrollment. This group embraces cases numbered D 832, D 833 and D 834.

The evidence shows that Henry A. Blasingame, Elbert L. Blasingame, and James R. Blasingame are the children of said Jane Dawson. They were minors at the time of their mother's admission to citizenship and they are all identified on the Cherokee Census roll of 1896.

Henry A. Blasingame was married to his wife Birdie J., on December 6, 1896, and Vinnie C. Blasingame is the issue of that marriage. The said child is identified by a birth affidavit on file with this Commission.

Ida Blasingame, a white woman, was married to the said Elbert L. Blasingame on September 5, 1894. She has lived with her said husband ever since they were married and the minor children included in the application of said Elbert L. Blasingame are the issue of that marriage. The said Ida Blasingame and her two older children are identified on the Cherokee Census roll of 1896. The two younger children are identified by birth affidavits on file with this Commission.

Mary A. Blasingame was married to the said James R. Blasingame on August 11, 1895. She has lived with her said husband since they were married and the three minor children included in the application of said James R. Blasingame, and hereinbefore named, are the issue of that marriage. Mary A. Blasingame and her oldest child are identified on the Cherokee Census roll of 1896. The two younger children are identified by birth affidavits on file with this Commission.

The evidence further shows that the said Henry A. Blasingame, Elbert L. Blasingame and James R. Blasingame removed to the Cherokee Nation in 1897 and have resided therein with their said wives ever since. The residence of the minor children included in this group is considered to be that of their parents, with whom they are living.

Group VIII, includes the applications of those claiming through the said Elbert Dawson, and embraces cases numbered D 435, D 604, D 608, D 605, D 609, D 617, D 626 and D 627.

The evidence shows that Zona Patterson, formerly Dawson, William C. Dawson, Robert L. Dawson, Elbert B. Dawson, Richard W. Dawson, Ella L. Spickerman, formerly Dawson, and Francis M. Dawson are the children of the said Elbert Dawson. All of them, excepting the said Francis M. Dawson, were minors at the time of their father's admission to citizenship. Zona Patterson is identified on the Cherokee Census roll of 1896, and William C. Dawson, Robert L. Dawson, Elbert B. Dawson and Richard W. Dawson are identified on the Strip payment roll of 1894. An examination of the Cherokee tribal rolls, in the possession of this Commission, shows that the said Ella L. Spickerman is also identified on the Strip payment roll of 1894.

Martin L. Patterson was married under a Cherokee marriage license, and in accordance with the laws of the Cherokee Nation on July 13, 1890, to the said Zona Dawson. He has lived with his said wife since they were married and the six children included in his application, and hereinbefore named, are the issue of that marriage. Martin L. Patterson and his three older children are identified on the Cherokee Census roll of 1896, and his three younger children are identified by birth affidavits on file with this Commission.

Alice Dawson, nee Alexander, was married to the said William C. Dawson on November 18, 1886. She has lived with her said husband ever since they were married.

Elbert B. Dawson was married on February 16, 1898, to Cora Bright, a non-citizen, and his child Ralph E. Dawson is the issue of that marriage. The said child is identified by a birth affidavit on file with this Commission.

Sarah J. Dawson, nee Jones, was married to the above named Elbert Dawson about 1854, and lived with him as his wife until his death in February, 1899, and has not re-married since his death. The Cherokee Supreme Court in the cases of Cherokee Nation vs. Nancy Rogers and Melissa Dawson vs. W. A. Dawson held that a white woman married to a Cherokee Indian at the time of his admission to citizenship acquires thereby the rights of Cherokee citizenship.

Richard W. Dawson was married to Luella Mason, a white woman, on January 24, 1898. His child Ina E. Dawson is the issue of that marriage, and she is identified by a birth affidavit on file with this Commission.

Ella L. Spickerman was married to John J. Spickerman, a white man on September 7, 1897. Her children Hellen J. and William Glenn are the issue of that marriage. They are identified by birth affidavits on file with this Commission.

It further appears from the evidence that Francis M. Dawson, son of Elbert Dawson, at the time of his father's admission to citizenship in the Cherokee Nation was twenty-two or twenty-three years old. There is no evidence that the said Francis M. Dawson has been admitted to citizenship in the Cherokee Nation by the duly constituted authorities of said Nation, or by the Commission to the Five Civilized Tribes, or by the United States Court under the provisions of the Act of Congress of June 10, 1896 (29 Stats., 321), Section twenty-one of the Act of Congress approved June 28, 1898 (30 Stats., 495), provides for the enrollment of,

> "all persons who have been enrolled by the tribal authorities who have heretofore made permanent settlement in the Cherokee Nation whose parents, by reason of their Cherokee blood have been lawfully admitted to citizenship by the tribal authorities, and who were minors when their parents were so admitted."

The evidence further shows that Zona Patterson, William C. Dawson and Richard W. Dawson have resided in the Cherokee Nation since 1884; Robert L. Dawson, Elbert B. Dawson, Sarah J. Dawson, and Ella L. Spickerman since 1883, Alice Dawson since 1886, and Martin L. Patterson since 1894. The residence of the minor children included in this group is considered to be that of their parents, with whom they are living.

Group IX, includes the applications of the said Missouri Dawson, and those claiming through her. The said Missouri Dawson at the time of her admission to citizenship was the wife of one John W. Graham, but she was admitted under her maiden name of Dawson, This group embraces cases numbered D 23, D 35, D 836, D 1124, D 1125, D 1126, D 1127 and D 1128.

The evidence shows that John W. Graham was married under a Cherokee marriage license and in accordance with the laws of the Cherokee Nation on February 12, 1880, to the said Missouri Dawson. He had been formerly married to her in the State of Texas in 1866, and has lived with her since that time. Tempa V. and Robert S. Graham are the issue of the aforesaid marriage. John W. Graham, his wife and two children were living on the date of the Cherokee roll of 1896.

ship in the Cherokee Nation was twenty-two or twenty-three years old. There is no evidence that the said Francis L. Dawson has been admitted to citizenship in the Cherokee Nation by the duly constituted authorities of said Nation, or by the Commission to the Five Civilized Tribes, or by the United States Court under the provisions of the Act of Congress of June 10, 1896 (29 Stats., 321). Section twenty-one of the Act of Congress approved June 28, 1898 (30 Stats., 495), provides for the enrollment of,

> "all persons who have been enrolled by the tribal authorities who have heretofore made permanent settlement in the Cherokee Nation whose parents, by reason of their Cherokee blood have been lawfully admitted to citizenship by the tribal authorities, and who were minors when their parents were so admitted."

The evidence further shows that Zona Patterson, William C. Dawson and Richard W. Dawson have resided in the Cherokee Nation since 1884; Robert L. Dawson, Elbert B. Dawson, Sarah J. Dawson, and Ella L. Spickerman since 1885; Alice Dawson since 1886, and Martin L. Patterson since 1894. The residence of the minor children included in this group is considered to be that of their parents, with whom they are living.

Group IX includes the applications of the said Missouri Dawson, and those claiming through her. The said Missouri Dawson at the time of her admission to citizenship was the wife of one John W. Graham, but she was admitted under her maiden name of Dawson. This group embraces cases numbered, D 23, D 35, D 836, D 1124, D 1125, D 1126, D 1127 and D 1128.

The evidence shows that John W. Graham was married under a Cherokee marriage license, and in accordance with the laws of the Cherokee Nation on February 12, 1888, to the said Missouri Dawson. He had been formerly married to her in the State of Texas in 1866, and has lived with her since that time. Tempe V. and Robert S. Graham are the issue of the aforesaid marriage. John W. Graham, his wife and two children are identified on the Cherokee Census roll of 1896.

Joe E. Graham was married to Mary Bradshaw, a non-citizen on January 6, 1898. William C. Graham is the issue of that marriage, and he is identified by a birth affidavit on file with this Commission.

John F. Grahar was married on February 11, 1900, to Mattie Lawson, a non-citizen, and Edna M. and Robert Lee are the issue of that marriage. Said children are identified by birth affidavits on file with this Commission.

Bessie Graham was married on November 2, 1892, to the said James M. Graham. She has lived with him since the date of their marriage, and the six children included in the application of said James M. Graham, and hereinbefore named, are the issue of the said marriage. The oldest child Marion is identified on the Strip payment roll of 1894, and the five younger children are identified by birth affidavits on file with this Commission.

The evidence further shows that the said John W. Graham, his wife Missouri Graham, Gideon Graham, Mathew A. Painter, and his wife Laverna A. Painter, Florence P. Bradshaw, John F. Graham and Joe Willie Neal have resided in the Cherokee Nation since 1888, and that Joe F. Graham and James M. Graham have resided in the Cherokee Nation since 1884. The residence of the minor children included in this group is considered to be that of their parents, with whom they are living.

Group X, includes the application of the said Ella Dawson and those claiming through her. The said Ella Dawson, at the time of her admission to citizenship, was the wife of Green W. Jackson, but she was admitted to citizenship under her maiden name of Dawson. This group embraces cases numbered D 395, D 470, D 508, D 830 and D 847.

The evidence shows that Green W. Jackson was married under a Cherokee marriage license, and in accordance with the laws of the Cherokee Nation on March 24, 1887 to the said Ella Dawson. He had been previously married to her in Texas prior to her admission to citizenship. From an affidavit made a part of this record it appears that Green W. Jackson died subsequent to the date of this application, and prior to September 1, 1902.

The evidence further shows that Flora Harmon, formerly Jackson, Toshie A. Jackson, William Jackson and Fannie Lenox, formerly Jackson are the children of said Ella Dawson, now Ella Jackson. Flora Harmon, Toshie A. Jackson and Fannie Lenox were minors at the date of their mother's admission to citizenship, and they are all identified on the Cherokee Census roll of 1896.

James H. Harmon was married under a Cherokee marriage license and in accordance with the laws of the Cherokee Nation on April 24, 1887, to the said Flora Jackson. He has lived with his wife since the date of their marriage, and the four minor children included in his application, and hereinbefore named, are the issue of the said marriage. James H. Harmon and his three older children are identified on the Cherokee Census roll of 1896. The youngest child is identified by a birth affidavit on file with this Commission.

William C. Lenox was married under a Cherokee marriage license and in accordance with the laws of the Cherokee Nation on April 1, 1888, to the said Fannie Jackson. He has lived with his wife since the date of their marriage, and the two children Birtie E. and Myrtle Lenox, included in his application, are the issue of the said marriage. William C. Lenox and his two children are identified on the Cherokee Census roll of 1896.

Lizzie Jackson claims to have been married in 1868 to the said William Jackson, who is now deceased. It appears that William Jackson at the date of his mother's admission to citizenship, was over twenty-one years old. There is no evidence that the said William Jackson was ever admitted to citizenship in the Cherokee Nation, by the duly constituted authorities of said Nation, or by the Commission to the Five Civilized Tribes, or by the United States Court under the provisions of the Act of Congress approved June 10, 1896 (29 Stats., 321). Lizzie Jackson and the five minor children included in her application, and hereinbefore named, are identified on the Cherokee Census roll of 1896, and they take only such rights as may have been possessed by the said William Jackson. The authority of the Commission herein is defined in Section twenty-one of the Act of Congress approved June 28, 1898 (30 Stats., 495), heretofore quoted.

The evidence further shows that the said Ella Jackson, the said Flora Harmon and the said Toshie A. Jackson have resided in the Cherokee Nation since 1884, and that William C. Lenox, and his wife Fannie Lenox have resided in the Cherokee Nation since 1888. The residence of the minor children included in this group is considered to be that of their parents, with whom they are living.

Group XI, includes the applications of those claiming through Malvina Dawson and embraces case numbered D 839.

The evidence shows that James Lowe is the son of the said Malvina Dawson, and that at the time of her admission to citizenship the said James Lowe was over 21 years old. There is no evidence that the said James Lowe was ever admitted to citizenship in the Cherokee Nation, by the duly constituted authorities of said Nation, or by the Commission to the Five Civilized Tribes, or by the United States Court under the provisions of the Act of Congress approved June 10, 1896 (29 Stats., 321). It further appears that the said James Lowe was married on June 12, 1887, to Mollie Knight, a white woman, and the four minor children included in his application and hereinbefore named, are the issue of that marriage. James Lowe and his said children are identified on the Cherokee Census roll of 1896 and said children take only the rights which may have been acquired by their father.

The authority of the Commission herein is defined in Section 21 of the Act of Congress approved June 28, 1898 (30 Stats., 495), heretofore quoted.

Group XII, includes the applications of those claiming through the said W. A. Dawson and embraces cases numbered D 405, D 406, D 715, R 12 and R 13.

The evidence shows that Millie T. Dawson was married to the said W. A. Dawson in 1892 and lived with him as his wife in the Cherokee Nation until his death in 1899, and that she has not re-married since his death. Texanna Woolley is the daughter of said W. A. Dawson and his former wife Melissa A. Dawson. Texanna Woolley was a minor at the date of her father's admission to citizenship, and she is identified on the Strip payment roll of 1894. She was married on March 27, 1898, to James Woolley, and her children Irene W. and Wilburn E. are the issue of that marriage. They are identified by birth affidavits on file with this Commission.

Henry T. Richardson was married under a Cherokee marriage license, and in accordance with the laws of the Cherokee Nation on July 11, 1886, to one Sellar Dawson, who was the daughter of the said W. A. Dawson by his first wife Melissa A. Sellar Dawson was a minor at the date of her father's admission to citizenship. Henry T. Richardson lived in the Cherokee Nation with his said wife Sellar from the date of their marriage until her death in 1892. On September 22, 1898, Henry T. Richardson married one Kitty Flournoy nee Dawson. The said Kitty Flournoy was re-admitted to citizenship in the Cherokee Nation by an Act of the Cherokee National Council on December 1, 1894. Of the children herein applied for, Delia F. Richardson is the child of the applicant by his first wife, Sellar. Finis T. Richardson and Jasper C. Richardson are children by his wife Kitty. Edgar, Walter, Alice, Laura, Oscar, Claude and Edna Flournoy are the children of his said wife Kitty by a former husband.

The six older children were admitted to citizenship in the Cherokee Nation on December 7, 1894, with their mother as the members of her family. The youngest child Edna Flournoy was born in 1896 and was living at the date of this application. Delia F. Richardson is identified on the Cherokee Census roll of 1896, and Finis T. and Jasper C. Richardson are identified by birth affidavits on file with this Commission.

Etta Brauer is the daughter of said W. A. Dawson, and was a minor at the date of her father's admission. She was married in 1892 to a non-citizen but such marriage was not in accordance with Cherokee laws. She is identified on the Cherokee Census roll of 1896.

Melissa A. Dawson was married to the said W. A. Dawson in the State of Texas on September 28, 1873. The Supreme Court of the Cherokee Nation in the case of Melissa A. Dawson vs. W. A. Dawson, decided that Melissa A. Dawson, the applicant herein was a citizen of the Cherokee Nation by virtue of intermarriage with her said husband, W. A. Dawson. She is identified on the Cherokee Census roll of 1896, and she has not re-married since her divorce from said W. A. Dawson.

The evidence shows that Texanna Woolley has resided in the Cherokee Nation since 1884: that Etta Brauer and Melissa A. Dawson have resided in the Cherokee Nation, with the exception of temporary absences, since 1884; that Millie T. Dawson has resided in the Cherokee Nation since 1892; that Henry T. Richardson has resided in the Cherokee Nation since 1886, and that Kitty Richardson, his wife, has resided in the Cherokee Nation since 1894. The residence of the minor children included in this group is considered to be that of their parents, with whom they are living.

Group XIII, includes the following applications: Hiram F. Weddle, et al D 521: William D. Douthitt, D 522; Alonzo M. Fishback, D 343; Florence Morgan, et al D 737, John R. Fishback, D 845 and George A. Mabry, et al D 979. The persons embraced in these applications are related to the above named Dawsons. They are not claiming the right to enrollment by virtue of such relationship, but rely upon a separate adjudication of their rights.

The evidence shows that Hiram F. Weddle was married under a Cherokee marriage license, and in accordance with the laws of the Cherokee Nation on September 13, 1884, to Lula P. Douthitt, who was admitted to citizenship in the Cherokee Nation by the said "Spears Court" on September 13, 1884. Curtis, Morris O. and Roy Weddle are the issue of the said marriage. Hiram F. Weddle and his said wife are identified on the Cherokee Census roll of 1896, and their three children are identified by birth affidavits on file with this Commission.

William D. Douthitt is the brother of said Lula P. Weddle, and was admitted to citizenship in the Cherokee Nation with his said sister on September 13, 1884. He is identified on the Cherokee Census roll of 1896.

Alonzo M. Fishback was married under a Cherokee marriage license and in accordance with the laws of the Cherokee Nation on May 17, 1891, to Lavirna A Dawson. He had been previously married to the same wife in Texas in 1877, and has lived with her ever since. It appears that Lavirna Fishback was re-admitted to citizenship in the Cherokee Nation by an Act of the Cherokee National Council on December 4, 1891. William A. and Annie B. Fishback are the issue of the said marriage. Alonzo M. Fishback and his said wife and children are all identified on the Cherokee Census roll of 1896, and his wife is also identified on the Cherokee pay roll of 1890.

Florence Morgan, the wife of Elbert L. Morgan, is the daughter of the Kitty Richardson heretofore mentioned and was admitted to citizenship in the Cherokee Nation on December 1, 1894 with the said Kitty Richardson as a member of her family. Clide and Alice A. Morgan are the children by her said husband. The said children are identified by birth affidavits on file with this Commission.

John E. Fishback is the son of Laverna Fishback, who was re-admitted to citizenship on December 1, 1894, as heretofore stated. He was a minor at the date of his mother's admission to citizenship and he is identified on the Cherokee Census roll of 1896.

George A. Mabry was married to one Edna Dawson in the State of Arkansas in 1884. He claims to have been married under a Cherokee marriage license to his said wife in 1889, but he presents no satisfactory proof of such marriage. Edna Dawson was re-admitted to citizenship in the Cherokee Nation by an Act of the Cherokee National Council on December 1, 1894. Roby and Charley Mabry are her children by her said husband, George A. Mabry. Edna Mabry is identified on the strip payment roll of 1894, and the two children were minors at the date of their mother's admission to citizenship.

The evidence further shows that Alonzo H. Fishback and his wife Laverna A. Fishback have resided in the Cherokee Nation since 1883; that Lula P. Weddle, William D. Douthitt, and John E. Fishback have resided in the Cherokee Nation since 1884, and that Florence Morgan and Edna Mabry have resided in said Nation since 1894. The residence of the minor children included in this group is considered to be that of their parents, with whom they are living.

All birth affidavits for the minor children embraced in this decision, and hereinbefore noted, are made a part of this record.

It is contended by the Cherokee Nation that the applicants herein are not entitled to be enrolled by this Commission because they have never been lawfully admitted or enrolled by the Cherokee authorities, and that the judgment of the Cherokee Commission on Citizenship admitting Robert Dawson and his family was obtained by fraud on the part of said Dawson.

In considering the question at issue, it is the opinion of this Commission that it has not power, and that it is not the purpose of this proceeding, to review or to set aside the judgment in the Dawson case, or to determine such questions as were necessarily involved in the issues before the Cherokee Commission, and were passed upon by that Commission. In United States vs. Throckmorton, 98 U.S. Page 61, it is stated, "the doctrine is well settled that the Court will not set aside a judgment because it was founded on perjured testimony or for any matter which was actually presented and considered in the judgment assailed." Only such facts therefore, are considered by this Commission, as were not part of the record in the Robert Dawson case before the Teehee Commission, and which tend to show whether the judgment admitting the Dawsons was a bona fide judgment of the Teehee Commission, or whether such judgment is void because of fraud, and upon this proposition the burden of proof is upon those attacking the judgment.

Briefly stated, the circumstances attending the admission of the Dawsons appear to be as follows:

On September 24, 1881, an application was made to the Cherokee Commission on Citizenship known as the "Teehee Court" for admission to Cherokee citizenship of Robert Dawson and the members of his family above mentioned. The members of that Commission were Thomas Teehee, Alex Wolfe and T. F. Thompson. The first two were full blood Cherokee Indians; they could understand, but could not talk English. One D. W. C. Duncan was the Clerk of the Commission. The Dawson case was continued several times before final decision. J. M. Bryan appears to have been an attorney in the case, and after some delay he notified Francis M. Dawson that the case would be taken up by the Commission at its session in January, 1883, and also informed him that C.H.Taylor would look after Dawson's interests as he, Bryan, would be in Washington. On receipt of this notice Francis M. Dawson went to Fort Gibson, Cherokee Nation, and made arrangements with his uncle Samuel H. Benge to go to Tahlequah and conduct the case. Benge who is a witness herein testifies that he was connected with the Dawson case when it was commenced in 1881; that it was continued several times for want of evidence, and that in January, 1883, in company with F. M. Dawson he went to Tahlequah and while there secured the testimony of Tosh Rogers, a negro, who knew the Dawson's ancestors, and that after getting his evidence the case was submitted to the Commission. He further testifies that the Commission rendered a decision against the Dawsons and that next morning the Commission reopened the case, but not upon motion of the witness, and rendered a judgment admitting the Dawsons to citizenship. He further states that on his way home to Fort Gibson with Dawson he remarked to the latter, "it was a pretty hard blow when they rendered a decision against us," to which Dawson is alleged to have replied, "yes, but Duncan was the man to reach and he reached him with five hundred dollars."

Dawson denies ever having had such a conversation and says that he did not return to Fort Gibson with Benge but went home to Arkansas by a different route.

C. H. Taylor testifies that he was an attorney in the case and was present when the case was decided. He says there were only two Commissioners present, Tee-hee and Wolfe. He further testifies that D. W. C. Duncan, the Clerk of the Court asked the witness to let him know when any large citizenship cases came up; that he introduced F. M. Dawson to Duncan on the evening of January 10th, heard part of a conversation between them in which Duncan addressing Dawson said, "there is a hitch in your evidence, if that was straightened out it will be all right." Next morning witness says Dawson told him to call up the case while he [illegible]. That there was no additional evidence introduced and no argument made and that the case was then decided in favor of the Dawsons. Witness further testifies that Dawson gave him twenty dollars and said he would send him the balance in a short time, that in the course of ten days he sent him one hundred dollars with directions to pay over half of it to Duncan; that Dawson soon afterwards sent him another hundred dollars with the same instruction to give Duncan half of it.

Dawson denied the matters testified to by Taylor excepting in the matter of paying Taylor money, which he admits in part, but says that the twenty dollars mentioned was sent to Taylor about a year after the decision, and that he instructed Taylor to pay it over to Duncan to pay him for a land claim, and that the other money was in payment of J. M. Bryan's attorney fees which Taylor represented to Dawson he had for collection against him. Taylor's reputation for truth and veracity has been impeached by various disinterested witnesses.

The evidence which may be considered as tending to support the charge of fraud is the testimony of S. H. Denge, C. H. Taylor, Thomas J. Babeart, J. L. Clinkenbeard, James W. Lewis, C. G. Draught and David Meredith.

S. H. Denge testifies that a judgment adverse to the Dawsons was rendered by the Commission on the evening of one day and without any additional proceedings in the case that judgment was reversed on the morning of the next day.

Even if this were a material fact, there is no other proof that two judgments in the case were ever rendered. The record of the proceedings and judgment in the Commission's docket is all on one page, the entry of the application in 1881 and the first continuance being entered under authority of a former Commission and by a different clerk, and there is no evidence of erasure on that page. It is not an unusual thing for a Court to change its judgment, and this fact, if it is a fact, is not in itself any evidence of fraud.

Thomas B. Babeart testifies that one James Dawson, a man of forty or fifty years of age, in company with Butler, the Commission's interpreter and Jim Smith solicitor for the Nation, came to the witness in Tahlequah the evening of January 10, 1885, to borrow some money; that Dawson was vouched for by Butler as a responsible party and that Dawson told the witness that he had to have money that night, that his case was to be submitted the next day if he could get some money, that Smith had agreed to submit the case without evidence, and that witness thereupon let Dawson have ten dollars.

Admitting all this to be true and that the influence of these officials was purchased for the sum of ten dollars, the Commission fails to see how these alleged facts show that the Court was imposed upon or misled. Bribery of officials to use their influence with the Commission would not necessarily vitiate the judgment, but it must appear that the fraud, or corruption reached the members of the Commission and tainted the judgment itself. The case was not submitted without evidence as appears from the record, and it is shown that such evidence was carefully considered by that Commission. Furthermore, the evidence shows that there was no such person then in Tahlequah as the James Dawson described by witness.

Clinkenbeard testifies that he had a talk with Elbert Dawson about 1881; that Dawson told him he had only one witness, Dr. Baker of Arkansas, "an old man 85 or 90 years old who did not know straight up" and that he could give Dr. Baker four drinks of Arkansas whiskey and he would swear black was white. Witness further testifies that Dawson told him that money was what made the mare go in Texas, and that he had found out that it goes here too.

Assuming that this Commission can go into thequestion of perjury in connection with evidence in that case, the testimony of Clinkenbeard establishes, if anything, only the facts stated, and does not prove [illegible] that [illegible] testimony before the Commission. Further, it is not clear that Dr. Baker was the only witness in the case. Bonge stated that Tosh Rogers was a witness, Duncan is under that impression also, and T. F. Thompson, one of the Commissioners states that he thinks there were three witnesses. The testimony of Dr. Baker seems however to be the only testimony preserved of record. As to whether Doctor Baker offered perjured testimony by Dawson's procurement, it is proper to state that the evidence of W. H. Curtis and A. S. McClennon, witnesses for applicants, show that Doctor Baker was a man of integrity and was not addicted to drinking.

The testimony of James W. Lewis is to the effect that he had a conversation with F. M. Dawson about 1885, in which Dawson had told the witness that it had cost him seven hundred dollars to get his rights. Draught also testifies that he was an applicant for citizenship about 1881 or 1882, and that while his case was pending he had a talk with F. M. Dawson who told him that if he (the witness) ever got in, it would cost him seven hundred dollars, and that Dawson told him he had paid one witness three hundred dollars, and made arrangements with the Court to get the Dawsons in at one hundred dollars a family. David Meredith testifies that he had a talk with old James Dawson in 1880, and that the latter told the witness it cost him twelve hundred dollars to get his case through.

It can hardly be urged that such evidence is sufficient to show that the members of the Teehee Commission were corrupted by the fraudulent use of money. So far as these witnesses have been able to testify the money spent by the Dawsons might have been for proper and legitimate purposes. F. M. Dawson gives a detailed statement of what the case cost him and his brother in a legitimate way. The presumption can not be indulged that such moneys were used for fraudulent purposes and the proof to the contrary must be very clear before this Commission will deny applicants the right to be enrolled upon that ground.

Admitting the truth of all the testimony in this case as to the actual transfer of money by the Dawsons, it appears that Duncan, Butler and Smith were the only beneficiaries of that money. There is no evidence that the members of the Commission received or were offered any of it.

The judgment entered in the Commission's docket shows the signature of the three members of the Commission appended thereto. There is some conflict as to whether Duncan signed Thompson's name, or whether Thompson affixed his own signature. Duncan testified that all three signatures were made by him as Clerk under authority of the Commissioners present, the two full bloods being unable to sign their names. T. F. Thompson testifies that he signed the original transcript of the judgment, which was made on the day of its rendition. The question, however, is not considered to be very material. The signing of judgments by each Commissioner appears to have been a matter of custom only. T. F. Thompson testifies that he remembers the Dawson case and recognizes the judgment therein as the final judgment of the Commission, and that there was no fraud or corruption in the procurement of that judgment by the Dawsons or by any one else so far as he knew.

Much evidence has been introduced by the Cherokee Nation for the purpose of showing that the ancestor, through whom the Dawsons claim, was not a Cherokee, and that other members of the Dawson family, claiming from the same source, have been denied Cherokee citizenship by subsequent Cherokee tribunals, and also by this Commission and by the United States Court. Such evidence, in the opinion of this Commission, is not competent for any purpose in this proceeding. The only question before this Commission is whether there was fraud in the procurement of the Robert Dawson judgment, and not whether the applicants are Cherokee Indians, or whether they ought to have been admitted to citizenship upon the proof submitted. These were questions presented, considered and passed upon by the Teehee Commission. If their decision is a valid and regular judgment, it is binding on this Commission. If, on the contrary, the applicants have never been lawfully admitted to citizenship, because the judgment under which they claim is void, for fraud, then the question as to whether they are Cherokees by blood is not material, as this Commission has now no authority to admit them to citizenship.

While it is true, that since 1883, a number of applicants, members of the Dawson family, have been denied admission to citizenship in the Cherokee Nation, no argument derived therefrom is of any force, for it is also true that other members of the same family have been admitted to citizenship, and the action of the Cherokee authorities in admitting them has never been questioned by the Cherokee Nation. Whatever inference, therefore, may be drawn from these facts applies with equal force both for and against the validity of the judgment in question.

The Dawsons have lived in the Cherokee Nation, most of them since 1883; they have exercised the rights of Cherokee citizenship for many years, some of them occupying official positions in the Nation, and no protest seems to have been made against their citizenship until within the last few years. The records of the Cherokee Nation, in the possession of this Commission, show, that since 1883, there have been Commissions on citizenship charged with authority to investigate the judgments of former tribunals alleged to have been secured by fraud, and the Cherokee Legislature had power to order an investigation, and to create a tribunal with authority to set aside a judgment so obtained. No such action appears to have been taken by the Cherokee authorities with reference to the judgment of the Teehee Commission in the Robert Dawson case.

After a careful consideration of all the facts in this case this Commission is of the opinion that the evidence fails to establish that the Dawsons secured their admission to citizenship by fraud or that the judgment of the Teehee Commission as rendered January 11, 1883, was fraudulent as the result of corruption, bribery, or deception upon the part of the Dawsons, or their agents, and that such judgment, and also the judgment of the Spears Commission in 1884, and the Act of the Cherokee National Council of December 1, 1894, which have not been attacked by the Cherokee Nation, being regular on their face, must therefore be accepted by this Commission as the valid judgments of the duly constituted Cherokee authorities.

It is, therefore, the opinion of this Commission that,

It is further the opinion of this Commission that, for the reasons heretofore stated, the applications for the enrollment of Arizona Allred and William C. Allred, (embraced in D 835); Francis M. Dawson, son of Kibert Dawson, (embraced in D 827); Osie Jackson, Lizzie Jackson, Jessie Jackson, Ray Jackson, and Clyde Jackson, the children of William and Lizzie Jackson, (embraced in D 830); James Lowe, May Lowe, Zelma Lowe, Roberta Lowe and Rosa Lowe, (embraced in D 839), as citizens by blood of the Cherokee Nation, and that the applications of Lizzie Jackson, widow of William Jackson, (embraced in D 830), and George A. Mabry (embraced in D 979), as citizens by intermarriage of the Cherokee Nation should be denied, in accordance with the provisions of the law heretofore quoted, and it is so ordered.

As hereinbefore stated William Pierce (D 409) and Cecil Dawson (D 358) and Green W. Jackson (D 395), died prior to September 1, 1902. It further appears from affidavits, made a part of this record that Liddie and Margaret Graham (D 1128) have died since the date of the application for their enrollment and prior to September 1, 1902.

It is, therefore, ordered that the applications for the enrollment of said William Pierce, Cecil Dawson, Green W. Jackson, Liddie Graham and Margaret Graham be, and the same are hereby dismissed.

COMMISSION TO THE FIVE CIVILIZED TRIBES

Muskogee, Indian Territory, February 1st, 1902

Mrs. Texanna Wooley,

Dawson, Indian Territory,

Madam:-

You are hereby notified that the application of yourself and daughter

for enrollment as citizen of the Cherokee Nation will be taken up for final consideration by the Commission to the Five Civilized Tribes, at its office in Muskogee, Indian Territory, on the 17th day of March, 1902.

On said date, you may, if you desire, appear before the Commission, in person or by attorney, when an opportunity will be given you to introduce any additional testimony affecting your application.

You are further notified that the Representatives of the Cherokee Nation will also, at the same time, be afforded an opportunity to introduce testimony tending to disprove your right to enrollment, but said Representatives will be required to notify you of their intention to introduce such testimony before they will be permitted to do so.

Yours truly,

CHEROKEE ENROLLMENT

FRANCIS M. DAWSON, ET AL., GROUP xll.

The Honorable

The Secretary of the Interior.

Sir:

Referring to office report of even date, transmitting the record relative to the applicants parties to Group 1. of the consolidated case of Francis M. Dawson et al., applicants for enrollment as Cherokees, there is enclosed herewith the record relative to the parties applicants to Group Xll. ---

D 405, Group Xll, page 1.

Millie T. Dawson applies for enrollment as an intermarried citizen.

D 406, Group Xll, page 4.

Texanna Woolley applies for the enrollment of herself and her minor children, Irene and William E. Woolley as citizens by blood. William E. Woolley was born subsequent to the date of his mother's application. He is identified by a birth affidavit.

D 715, Group Xll, page 9.

Henry T. Richardson applies for enrollment as an intermarried citizen, and for the enrollment of his wife, Kitty, and their minor children, Delilah F., and Finis T. Richardson, and for his minor step-children, Edgar, Walter, Alice, Laura, Oscar, Claude, Edna and Florence Flournoy as citizens by blood. He also applies for the enrollment of his minor child, Jasper C. Richardson, who was born subsequent to the date of his application. This child is identified by a birth affidavit. Florence Flournoy is embraced in the application of Elbert L. Morgan, (D 737, Group XIII.), and will not be considered in connection with this group.

R 12, Group XII. page 20

Etta Brauer applies for the enrollment of herself as an intermarried citizen.

R 13, Group XII page 24

Melissa A. Dawson applies for enrollment as an intermarried citizen.

The Commission, in its decision of December 23, 1902, held that all the parties to this group were entitled to enrollment as citizens, -- Willie T. Dawson, Henry T. Richardson and Melissa A. Dawson as citizens by intermarriage, and the others as citizens by blood.

Willie T. Dawson, (Group XII page 1), the record shows was married to W. A. Dawson, October 1892, and W. A. Dawson was admitted to citizenship in the Cherokee Nation by the Spears Commission or Court, September 9, 1884. She died October 1899. Her name does not appear on the 1896 roll.

Texanna Woolley (Group XII page 4), is a daughter of W. A.

Dawson, by his former wife. W. A. Dawson was admitted September 9, 1884, and he died October, 1899. Texanna Woolley was married to James Woolley November 27, 1898. She was a minor when her father was admitted to citizenship. Her name appears on the 1894 pay-roll.

Henry T. Richardson, (Group XII, page 9), July 11, 1886, was married to Mrs. Sollar, or Stella, or Sella Dawson, in accordance with the Cherokee laws. She was a daughter of W. A. Dawson, who was admitted September 9, 1884. She was a minor at the time her father was admitted. Her father died October 1899. She died about 1892. In September, 1898, Henry T. Richardson married his present wife, Kitty Richardson, formerly Flournoy. His present wife's maiden name was Dawson. Kitty Richardson, Formerly Flournoy nee Dawson, was admitted to citizenship in the Cherokee Nation by act of the National Council, December 1, 1894. Delilah Richardson is the child of the principal applicant by his first wife, Sollar Richardson. Minis T. and Jasper C. Richardson are children by his wife, Kitty Richardson. Edgar, Walter, Alice, Laura, Oscar, Claude and Edna Flournoy are children of Kitty Richardson by her former husband. Delilah F. Richardson is identified by the 1896 census roll. All of the Flournoy children except Edna, appear to be identified by the 1894 strip payment roll. Sollar Dawson, first wife of the principal applicant, was a daughter of W. A. Dawson, who was admitted to citizenship September 9, 1884. She was a minor when her father was admitted.

Etta Fraser, (Group VII. page 20), is a daughter of W. A.

Dawson, who was admitted to citizenship September 9, 1884. She was a minor when her father was admitted. She is identified by the Cherokee census roll of 1896. She has resided in the Cherokee Nation since 1884, except that she has temporarily been absent from the Nation at different times.

Melissa A. Dawson, (Group 411, page 24), was formerly the wife of W. A. Dawson, who was admitted to citizenship in the Cherokee Nation September 9, 1884. She is identified by the 1896 census roll. She has resided in the Cherokee Nation since 1884, except that she has been temporarily absent therefrom several times for the purpose of securing employment. W. A. Dawson died in October 1899. This applicant and her husband had, however, been divorced. The decree was rendered September 3, 1890. The applicant has not remarried since the divorce was granted, and the Supreme Court of the Cherokee Nation in the case of Melissa A. Dawson vs. W. A. Dawson, held that Melissa A. Dawson, this applicant, was a citizen of the Cherokee Nation by virtue of her marriage with W. A. Dawson.

In connection herewith attention is respectfully invited to office report of even date, transmitting group 1 of this consolidated case, and for the reasons therein stated the office recommends the approval of the Commission's decision, except in so far as it relates to the enrollment of Willie T. Dawson, Henry T. Richardson and Melissa A. Dawson, who apply for enrollment as intermarried citizens.

Very respectfully,

T. A. Jones.

Commissioner.

Commission to the Five Civilized Tribes,

Muskogee, Indian Territory.

Gentlemen:

February 25, 1905, you transmitted the record in the matter of the application of Francis A. Dawson et al., for enrollment as citizens of the Cherokee Nation. In your decision of December 23, 1903, you disposed of the applications in the Dawson case by groups. In this letter Group xii, as disposed of by you, will be considered.

This group includes the application of Millie T. Dawson (D. 406), for the enrollment of herself as a citizen by intermarriage of Texanna Wooley (D.406), for the enrollment of herself and her minor children, Irene and Wilburn E. Woolley, as citizens by blood; of Henry T. Richardson (D 715), for the enrollment of himself as a citizen by intermarriage, and for the enrollment of his wife, Kitty, and his minor children, Delilah F., Finis T., and Jasper C. Richardson, and his minor step-children, Edgar, Walter, Alice, Laura, Oscar, Claude, Edna and Florence Flournoy, as citizens by blood; of Etta Brauer (R 12) for enrollment as a citizen by blood; and of Melissa A. Dawson (R 13), for enrollment as a citizen by intermarriage of the Cherokee Nation.

In said decision you disposed of all these applications except that of Florence Flournoy, who is included in application D 737, Group xiii, as Florence Morgan. You held that all of the applicants referred to above are entitled to enrollment as citizens of the Cherokee Nation.

Reporting in the matter October 16, 1903, the Commissioner of Indian Affairs recommended that yout decision be approved, except as to those applicants claiming enrollment by intermarriage. As to those applicants claiming by intermarriage, no action will be taken at the present time.

The record has been examined in detail respecting the applicants claiming by blood, to determine the origin of their rights, whether by birth or admission. An examination has also been made in respect to their residence in the Cherokee Nation, and their identification as citizens thereof, whether by enrollment or by birth affidavit. This investigation persuades the Department that your decision is correct as to those applicants claiming by blood. You are accordingly directed to enroll them as citizens of the Cherokee Nation.

The question of fraud in its relation to the Dawson case was disposed of by the Assistant Attorney General, in an opinion of February 18, 1904, copy of which was sent you February 24, ,1904.

A copy of the Commissioner's letter of October 16, 1903, relating to this group, is inclosed.

1 inclosure.

Respectfully,
Thos Ryan, Acting Secretary.

Department of the Interior,
Commission to the Five Civilized Tribes,
Fairland, I.T., July 19, 1900.

In the matter of the application of Etta Brauer for enrollment as a Cherokee by blood; being duly sworn, and examined by Commissioner Breckenridge, she testified as follows:

Q What is your name? A Etta Brauer.
Q What is your age? A 25.
Q What is your post office address? A Afton, just at present.
Q Is that were you live? A That is where my home is at this time, my furniture.
Q In what district is that? A Delaware.
Q How long have you lived there? A We moved to Afton in the spring of 1895.
Q Where did you life before that? A We moved to the Indian Territory in 1884, the fall of 1884, and we lived there part of the time and part of the time in Kansas.
Q How long have you lived in the Territory? A We moved here in 1895 the last time.
Q What is the nature of your claim for enrollment? A By blood.
Q Through your father or mother? A WA. Dawson.
Q Do you claim also through your mother? A No, sir.
Q Tell me please about your residence in the Teritory, when you came here and how long you have been here? A We first came here in the fall of 1884, I can't remember just how long we lived here then, three years then, and then we spent a part of every year in Kansas and part in the Territory after that until 1895, when we moved down.
Q Where were you making your home during that time? A Argentine, Kansas.
Q Not in the Territory? A Well, our home was both places.
Q Well, you had to consider one as your political home? A Well the Territory was our home.
Q Does your husband live in Kansas? A Yes, sir.
Q So that Kansas was his home? A Well, I was married there.
Q You know there is a clause in the law requiring a certain residence in the Territory, I want to get at the facts about your residence, and I want you to state them just as they are? ~~xxxWhxxxxxxx~~ When were you married? A In 1892.
Q Please state where you lived and what your movements were after 1895? A We were in Kansas, and came back to th Territory in the spring of 1895.
Q Has your husband been making his home in Kansas from 1892 to 1895? A Yes, sir, he has never left there at all.
Q He doesn't claim at all? A No, sir.
Q For whom are you applying? A For myself alone.
Q Are you upon any of the tribal rolls? A Yes, sir.
Q Are you upon the roll of 1880? A No, sir.
Q Is your father upon the roll of 1880? A No, sir.
Q Have you any paper there you want to submit? A There is the paper when he was admitted.

By Mr. W. T. Hutchings, attorney for Cherokee Nation: What was your name before you married? A Etta Dawson, it is Amanda Etta on some of the rolls, and just Etta on some; I was a minor when my father was admitted.

Commissioner Breckenridge: Your father was admitted by action of the tribal authorities since 1880? A Yes, sir.
Q His name isn't on the 1880 roll? A No, sir.
Q Nor your mother's? A No, sir, 1883 I believe is the date he was admitted.

Mr. Hutchings: What relation are you to Ella Dawson? A She is my aunt, they are my father's sisters.
Q You were born in what year? A 1874.
Q Your name is not in this paper? A No, sir, I was a minor then, but I am on the roll.

Mr. Hutchings: The Commission has decided that minors don't come in unless their name is mentioned in the decree admitting them to citizenship.

A You will have to put the Cherokee Nation out if that is the case, because none of them were mentioned then. I have been on all the rolls of the Cherokee Nation and have drawn money, and have been considered a citizen by the Cherokee Nation.

Q Has your husband lived here? A No, he never lived here, but I have lived here without him for three years, while he was working and sending me money to live on.

Commissioner Breckenridge: The paper filed relates to the proceedings on the part of Malissa E. Dawson.

A That is my mother.

Q Then here is another paper, attached, the first part in the proceedings in the case of James Dawson, is that your father? A No, sir, my grandfather.

Q Who is Ella Dawson? A That is my father's sister.

Q Who is W. A. Dawson? A That is my father.

Q Malvina Dawson? A That is my father's sister, my aunt.

Q Missouria Dawson? A She is my aunt. As we have been rejected and Mr. Brauer has worked in Kansas and we have put what we have in this Territory and now I am going to be put out, and we are going to lose it, I have lived here to hold it, I think after this then we have lost seven or eight or ten years of money.

Q This Commission has to decide according to law and what it considers the requirements of the law, entirely independent of anything else.

A I was taken out from here a minor to go to school, I didn't leave here of my own accord at all.

Q We will develop your case fully and in regular order so that all the facts will be considered not only by this Commission, but by those who have the power to review the action of the Commission. When did you say you were married? A In the fall of 1892.

Q Where did your husband live? A In Kansas.

Q Does he still live in Kansas? A No, he is living in Missouri and Kansas, he runs on the road, part of the time in Missouri and part of the time in Kansas.

Q He votes in Kansas? A No, he don't vote in Kansas now, he could vote, but he never has voted because he didn't want to.

Q I want to find out about your husband's home; will you please tell me abo t that? A My husband was boarding when I met him, and he has been boarding nearly ever since, and I don't know where to consider his home.

Q Has he ever made his home in the Indian Territory? A No, sir, he don't claim any right there at all, he has been working, sending me money to help me.

Q And you have been making your claim here since when? A Since the spring of 1895, until last year, I have been visiting him, boarding in Missouri part of the time and Kansas part of the time.

Q You considered that simply a visit and not a change of your own home: that is the view you took of it?m A Yes, sir.

Q You stated that your husband has been sending you money here to support you? A Yes, sir.

Q And also to expend upon property that you have here? A Yes, sir.

Q Where is that property? A I have a house and lot in Afton and a farm by Dawson, I.T.

Q Have you kept house in the Territory? A Yes, sir, my home and furniture.

Q Kept your own house? A Yes, sir.

Q This paper that you hand me seems to be a duly authenticated copy of the records of the Committee on Citizenship of the Cherokee Nation, dated September 14, 1883, admitting to citizenship your father, W. A. Dawson. It enumerates certain names, and your name is not one of those enumerated. There is no mention made in the document of any persons except those previously stated in the first allusion to this document. This document has been submitted to the representatives of the Cherokee Nation, who make no objection to the regularity or official character of the document as regards what it purports to be, namely, a copy of a certified copy of the judgment in the case, supposed to have been furnished to the applicant's father, W. A. Dawson. This copy is duly signed by J. S. Truitt, Notary Public, appointed by the United States Court for the Indian Territory, Northern District, and whose Commission is stated to expire January 14, 1901. Upon what rolls of the Cherokee Nation does your name appear? Does it appear upon the official roll of 1896? A Yes, sir.

Q Is your name on the 1894 roll? A I suppose it is, I got my strip money. I don't know whether it is on there as Dawson or Brauer.

(The name of the applicant is not found on the 1894 roll.)

Q Under what law were you married? A Under Kansas law; United States law.

Q Have you your marriage license and certificate which you desire to present in evidence? A I haven't got it with me, I can send and get it if necessary.

Q Mrs. Brauer, you were married in 1892, and you then went with your husband, I believe you stated, and you and he boarded in Kansas?

A We were married there and kept house there until 1895, when we moved to Afton.

Q You moved to Afton? A Yes, sir, I brought my baby, and all the furniture, and we bought and built on a lot in Afton.

Q Is your baby living? A No, sir.

Q What time in 1895 did you come? A May, 1895.

Q And you have claimed your home in Afton ever since? A Yes, sir.

Q And your husband in the mean while has claimed his home outside of the Territory? A Well, he has been boarding.

Q Has he been in the Territory at all? A Yes, he come down and visited me two or three times.

Q The status seems to be this; that since 1895 you have lived here, in your opinion, consistently in the Territory, but that your husband, while he has contributed to your support and you and he have exchanged visits, yet has made his permanent domicile elsewhere, as he has always done? A Yes, sir; he isn't applying for a right at all.

Q I am simply getting at his status and your status. Mrs. Brauer, it appears to be the settled practice of this Commission, its construction of the law as applied in numerous instances and consistently applied, that where an applicant derives a claim for enrollment from an act of adoption by the tribal authorities, and who was living at the time that the decree of adoption was rendered, and is not mentioned in that decree, that then that applicant under the law is not entitled to enrollment, unless upon the roll of 1880; being upon subsequent rolls gives this Commission jurisdiction, as we understand the law, but does not necessarily give the claimant a right to be enrolled. Upon the contrary, the Commission is charged to scrutinize the other rolls and examine into the accompanying circumstances. So that not taking into the consideration the question of residences, which might have some weight, yet from the fact that you were living at the time your father was decreed by the properly constituted authorities as a citizen of the Cherokee Nation, and your name not being mentioned in the decree, the Commission feels constrained from its uniform construction of the law to deny you enrollment at this time.

But I wish to say to you that if there are any documents, affidavits, or representations of any character that you wish to file with the Commission in connection with your case, that they will be received, and the whole matter will be transmitted with the report of the Commission to the Secretary of the Interior, whose approval is necessary under the law to give validity to the present conclusion.

[illegible].

[illegible] is all I have to say at this time.

Bruce C. Jones, being duly sworn, says that as stenographer [illegible] Commission to the Five Civilized Tribes he reported the testimony of the above named witness, and that the foregoing is a full, true and correct translation of his stenographic notes.

Department of the Interior
Commission to the Five Civilized Tribes,
Vinita, I.T., October 4, 1900.

In the matter of
JAMES S. TRUITT, being sworn, testified:

Q What is your name? A James S. Truitt.
Q How old are you? A 32.
Q What is your postoffice? A Afton.
Q How long have you lived in the Cherokee nation? A 19 years.
Q Now you want to give evidence in the application of Malissa A. Dawson and also Etta Bremer, Malissa Dawson's number is R.13, and Etta Bremer's is R. 12. Now you want to testify in regard to the residence of Malissa Dawson? A Yes.
Q What have you to say about here residence— is she living in the Cherokee nation now? A Yes. I have to say concerning her residence that I first became acquainted with them when they came to the territory in '84. Shortly after they came here they were neighbors of mine.
Q Have Malissa Dawson and Etta Bremer both lived in the Cherokee Nation since '84? A With the exception of going backwards and forwards out in the states and back into the territory— the majority of the time they have been in the Cherokee Nation.
Q Have they owned property in the Cherokee nation all this time? A They have.
Q What was the occasion of their going out of the Cherokee nation? A The occasion, so far as I know, was that Malissa was a widow woman and was on a little farm down south of Afton and she had some folks that lived up in the states and she visited with them very often.
Q Etta Bremer is her daughter? A Yes.
Q She would go with her mother on these visits? A Yes.

By W. W. Hastings, Cherokee Attorney:
Q Etta Bremer married to a Kansas man in '95? A To the best of my knowledge he is.
Q He has never lived in the Territory? A No, not for any considerable length of time; he is a railroad man.
Q Do you know whether he has a home in Kansas? A I understand he has not; I don't know. He works in Missouri and Kansas and various places, and from the best information I have he boards.
Q About how much of the year does she go up there and board with him? A I could not say, some of the time she is up there and some of the time is at Afton.
Q She, herself, has never had any place in the Cherokee nation? A Yes, she has and has at present. She has her house-hold goods at Afton and a farm in the Cherokee nation— also a house at Afton.
Q But her husband has never lived at Afton with her since they were married? A Not any length of time. I saw him there several times. He built a house— had it built.
Q His home is in Kansas? A I suppose so. He is a railroad man in Kansas and Missouri is where he works
Q What kind of work does he do on the railroad? A Bridge foreman.
Q Constructing bridges? A Yes, and repairing.

The undersigned, being first duly sworn, states that as stenographer to the Commission to the Five Civilized Tribes, he correctly recorded the testimony and proceedings in this case, and that the foregoing is a true and complete transcript of his stenographic notes thereof.

Muskogee, I. T., September 17th, 1900.

In the matter of the application of Francis Marion Dawson, wife and children for enrollment as citizens of the Cherokee Nation, and he being sworn by Commissioner, C. R. Breckinridge, testified as follows:

Q That is your full name? A Francis Marion Dawson.
Q What is your [redacted] years old.
Q What is your [redacted]
Q What [redacted]
Q The [redacted] A Myself and family.
Q Your wife? A [redacted]
Q How many children?
Q Do you apply to [redacted] as a Cherokee by blood? A Yes, sir.
Q Is your wife a Cherokee by blood? A No, sir, she is a white woman.
Q How long have you lived in the Cherokee Nation? A Since 1883.
Q Were you admitted by the Cherokee Commission? A Yes, sir.

The applicant produces a duly authenticated certificate of admission to citizenship, bearing date of the 11th day of January, 1893, certain persons were admitted by the Commission on citizenship, and among them appears the name of F. M. Dawson.

Q That is your name in [redacted] sir.

This is recognized as satisfactory evidence of the facts stated.

Q Have you lived in the Cherokee Nation ever since your admission?
A Yes, sir, in Delaware District ever since.
Q Give me the name of your wife? A Katie Dawson.
Q How old is she now? A Forty five.
Q Was she admitted with you? A No, sir.
Q Have you married her according to Cherokee law since your admission? A Yes, sir.
Q You have not remarried since your admission? A No, sir: it was not necessary.

The applicant presents a duly authenticated marriage license and certificate, showing that he was married to his wife, as stated by him, in 1880, by the Reverend R. W. Goodlock, in Carrol County, Arkansas, the license being issued by the Clerk of that County.

These papers are filed herewith.

Q Your wife was not admitted by the Cherokee Commission, when you were? A No, sir.
Q Or at any other time? A No, sir.

Q Is this Delaware or Lully? A Lully.

The applicant applies for the enrollment of himself, wife and six children;

Q Were these children all born since you were admitted into the Cherokee Nation? A Yes, sir.

The applicant is shown by the certificate of admission, cited in the testimony, to have been admitted to Cherokee citizenship by the Commission on Citizenship, January 11th, 1883; he is identified on the roll of 1896, but the representative of the Cherokee Nation desires to make inquiry into the methods of that time, and for that reason, the application of the applicant will at present be placed on a "Doubtful Card." He has lived in the Cherokee Nation ever since his admission to citizenship. His wife was married to him under United States law, and was married prior to his admission: she has never been remarried according to Cherokee law: She has lived with him ever since his admission to citizenship, and she is identified on the roll of 1896. The application for her enrollment will be placed on a "Doubtful Card".

Their six children, as enumerated in the testimony are identified on the roll of 1896: They are living at this time, all having been born since his admission (applicant's) . These children will be placed with him on a "Doubtful Card". The applicant's marriage to the mother of these children is established by the marriage license and certificate filed herewith. If any additional papers, adverse are developed in this case, he will be given timely notice thereof.

The undersigned, being sworn, states that as stenographer to the Commission to the Five Civilized Tribes, he correctly recorded the testimony and proceedings in this case, and that the foregoing is a true and complete transcript of his stenographic notes thereof.

BEFORE THE HONORABLE COMMISSION TO THE FIVE CIVILIZED TRIBES.

In the matter of the enrollment of T. F. Dawson and minors as Cherokee citizens.

Depositions of witness persons in behalf of the applicants for enrollment as Cherokees by blood, taken before me, Lewis E. Martin, a Notary Public in and for the Northern District of the Indian Territory, duly commissioned, qualified and acting as such, at the office of C. B. Denison in the Frame Brick building in the town of Muskogee, Indian Territory, on Thursday the fourth day of October, 1900, between the hours of ten and a half o'clock and six o'clock P. M. thereof on said day, in accordance with the agreement hereinafter, entered into between the applicants and the Cherokee Nation, by their respective attorneys, which agreement is hereto attached.

T. F. Thompson, being produced by the applicants, being first duly sworn to testify to the truth, the whole truth and nothing but the truth, testified as follows:

DIRECT EXAMINATION BY C. B. DENISON:

Q State your name, age, residence and occupation?
A T. F. Thompson, 53 years old, I live near Vinita, Cherokee Nation, I. T. I am a farmer.
Q How long have resided in the Cherokee Nation? A All my life.
Q Are you a citizen of the Cherokee Nation as now constituted?
A Yes, sir.
Q Upon what is that citizenship based, blood or otherwise?
A Blood.
Q What, if any official position have you held in the Cherokee Nation, and at what time?
A I was elected to the Cherokee Council in 1870 some odd, I don't remember the exact year, I was also on the Commission Court.
Q Do you remember when that was? A Some time in 1880 or 1881, I think, it may have been earlier.
Q Did that Commission or Court have anything to do with admission to citizenship in the Cherokee Nation? A Yes, sir.
Q State, if you remember, how many members of that Commission or Court, there were, and who they were besides yourself?
A There were three, Tehee, Wolf and myself, Tehee was President of the Court.
Q Where were the sessions of that body held? A Tahlequah, Cherokee Nation.
Q Did you have a Clerk? A Yes, sir.
Q Do you remember who that was? A D. W. C. Duncan.
Q Do you know whether the members of that Commission beside yourself, are living or dead? A Yes, sir, they are both dead.
Q Can you recollect now what period of time that Commission lasted?
A About two years I think, two sessions, and there was one session each year.
Q Were the sessions of that body held in Tahlequah, open to the public at all times when it was in session?
A Yes, sir.
Q Were the cases coming before that body heard in open session?
A Yes.
Q Witnesses examined orally? A Yes, sir.

Q Judgments of the Court or Commission pronounced in open session?
A In case of decisions I think they sometimes had secret sessions, yes, the judgments of the Commission were pronounced openly.
Q What you intended to convey by you answer to the former question was that after hearing the proof the Commission or Court deliberated in secret session upon the testimony taken before reaching a decision or announcing it? A After hearing all the testimony we went into secret session.
Q I will present you with a paper which the Notary will mark exhibit "A" and a copy of which he will attach to your deposition, and will ask you if with the exception of the certificate of record by M. L. Bragdon, Clerk, and John L. Adair Asst. Ex. Secretary, you recognise it as a paper you have ever seen before?
A I recognise the signature to it, but don't remember the instrument.
Q Which signature on that paper do you recognise? A My own.
Q That signature is in your own handwriting? A Yes, sir.
Q Do you know whether Thomas Tehee, president of the Commission could write in English or not? A No, I don't think he could.
Q How as to Alexander Wolfe, a member of the Commission?
A I don't think he could write either, I don't think either of them ever wrote except by touching the pen.
Q Were you, nd are you familiar with the handwriting of D. W. C. Duncan, the Clerk of that Commission?
A Tolerably well, but it has been a long time since I saw any of it.
Q Will you look at the paper again and say whether you recognize his signature attached thereto?
A Yes, that is his signature to the best of my knowledge.
Q Do you preserve any personal recollection of the application before that Corrission of F. M. Dawson and other members of the Dawson family, to be admitted as citizens of he Cherokee Nation by the Commission?
A I remember F. M. Dawson and his brother, that is about the only ones I remember.
Q The question was not as to the personal recollection of the individuals, but as to the claim being presented by the Dawsons for admission?
A Yes, there was such a claim before the Commission.
Q Can you state as to the citizenship of Thomas Tehee, whether he was a citizen of the Nation by blood or not?
A Yes, sir, he was always recognised as such, full blood besides.
Q What is your knowledge of Alexander Wolfe?
A About the same, he was also a full blood and recognised as a Cherokee.
Q Judge Thompson, if you possessed or had, or have now any knowledge of any corruption or bribery of the court or Commission, or any member of it by F. M. Dawson or any of the Dawson family or anybody connected with the presentation of their claim for citizenship, state it fully?
A None whatever as far as I was concerned, and I don't think there was by the balance of the Court.

CROSS-EXAMINATION BY W. T. HUTCHINGS:

Q Do you mean to say Mr. Thompson that your name attached to the certificate shown you is in your handwriting?
A Yes, sir.
Q When Mr. Duncan certified that this is a transcript of the decision in the case, he is mistaken, that is the original?
A No, I don't know, that may be the original, if that is not the original I did not sign it, if it is the original I signed it.
Q You state that the witnesses were examined orally before the Court, don't you know that in almost every case you took ex parte affidavits of witnesses when these witnesses were not present?

A I think we ruled ex parte evidence out, as well as I remember.
Q Did you have any stenographer or anybody to copy the evidence?
Mr. Duncan did all of the copying.
Q Was the evidence copied and preserved?
A Yes, sir, I think it was.
Q What was done with that evidence, where was any of it ever put?
A I suppose it is at Tahlequah in the office of the Treasurer or Secretary.
Q When you went into secret session did you have Mr. Duncan read that evidence to you?
A Yes, sir, we went over the evidence thoroughly.
Q Did you allow the applicants or their attorneys admission to any of your secret sessions?
No, sir.
Q When you got ready to render your decisions did you then send for the applicants or their attorneys?
A No, sir.
Q And you rendered them in secret also, did you? A Yes, sir.
Q Have you any recollection who testified in the Dawson case, as to their claim? A No, sir, I have not.
Q Have you any recollection as to who they claimed their Cherokee ancestors were? A Yes, sir, they claimed the Rogers.
Q Did they claim relationship with any of the present families of Rogers residing in the Cherokee Nation?

The applicant objects to this question as tending to elicit testimony wholly incompetent and irrelevant to the issue, and not cross-examination of this witness.

A I don't know that they did, particularly.
Q How would your court determine when they claimed descent through some Rogers family, that that family was of Cherokee blood?

The applicant objects to the question upon the same grounds as their objection to the previous question.

A By the evidence they produced.
Q Didn't you make them prove that that family was well known at one time to be connected with the Cherokee Nation, and were citizens thereof? A Yes.
Q Who was the attorney for the Dawsons? A Old man Houston Benge.
Q Could either Tehee or Wolfe speak English? A They could understand, but they never spoke English, they had an interpretor.
Q Did you ever talk to either of them as to whether they got anything for decidingthis case? A No, sir.
Q How long were you considering the case altogether?
A I could not say as to that, I think we were on it two or three weeks anyhow, I could not say positively now, they were a long time getting in testimony.
Q There were only two or three witnesses examined all told, were there not?
A I think so, three I think, they had quite a lot of affidavits, but we did not consider them.
Q Well the Court was a good while arriving at its conclusion after the evidence was closed?
A Yes, quite a good while, I don't remember the exact time.

RE-DIRECT EXAMINATION:

Do you remember who the interpreter the Commission had during the hearing of the Dawson case.
A His name was Reese, I forgot his given name.

Q Do you know whether he is living or dead?
A I don't know, he seemed to be in bad health at the time we had the case up, I think they are all dead but me and Mr. Duncan.
Q What was he, a Cherokee by blood?
A He was considered a Cherokee by blood.
Q Do you know where he lived at that time?
A No, sir, he lived in the south part of the Nation though, I think in Sequoyah.

DIRECT EXAMINATION BY S. S. DENISON:

Q Please state your name, age, residence and occupation?
A My name is D. W. C. Duncan, my age is 70 years, my residence is Vinita, Indian Territory, my occupation is a farmer.
Q How long has that been your place of residence? A Since 1874.
Q Are you a member of the Cherokee Nation as it is now constituted?
A Yes, sir.
Q Upon what is your citizenship based, a Cherokee by blood?
A Yes, a Cherokee by blood.
Q In January 1883, did you hold any official position in the Cherokee Nation, if so, what was it?
A About that time I held the position of Clerk of the Citizenship Court or Commission.
Q If you remember the names of themembers of that Commission or Court, please give them?
A The President of the Commission was Tehee I believe, and a member by the name of Wolfe whose first name I don't recollect, and Mr. Thompson here.
Q T. F. Thompson?
A Yes.
Q Do you know whether those three members of that Commission were recognized citizens of the Cherokee Nation, and whether their citizenship was based upon blood or not?
A They were supposed to be citizens of the Cherokee Nation and their citizenship was based upon their blood.
Q Will you please look at the paper now handed you which the Notary has marked exhibit "A" to the deposition of Mr. T. F. Thompson, and a copy of which he will attach to Mr. Thompson's depositions, and state whether with the exception of the certificate of H. L. Bragdon, Clerk, and of John L. Adair Asst. Ex. Secretary, you recognize the paper as one you have ever seen before?
A Yes, I think I have seen this before.
Q When, and where, if you remember, did you first see that paper?
A This is a paper I drew up at the time I was acting as clerk of the said Citizenship Court.
Q Looking at its date, was it drawn at you at the time it bears date?
A To the best of my recollection it was drawn at the date specified.
Q Do you recognize the signature to the certificate attached to that paper?
A Yes, that is my signature.
Q State if you know, in whose handwriting the body of the paper is?
A It is in my handwriting.
Q And at that time you were Clerk of that Commission? A Yes.
Q Will you please look at the signatures of the members of the Commission as they appear on that paper, and state if you can, by whom they were written?
A I think the first two is my handwriting, the last I recognize that as T. F. Thompson's.
Q Explain please, how you came to write the signatures of Thomas Tehee and Alex Wolfe to that paper?
A Thomas Tehee and Alex Wolfe were full bloods and could not write, and in their presence, and at their request I wrote their signatures.

Q Was that the usual manner of certifying to the action of the Commission to applicants as to the decision of their application for citizenship, where admitted?
A In all instances where it was necessary for the Court to sign a paper of any kind it was adopted by that Court for the Clerk to sign Tehee's and Wolf's names and T. F. Thompson to sign his own name.
Q You didn't catch exactly my idea, but perhaps that answered it, what I intended to call you attention to, was whether when applicants had been admitted to citizenship a paper of this kind now shown you, signed by the judges as you have explained, and certified by you as a transcript of the proceedings was issued?
A My recollection is that a transcript of the judgment was issued to the applicant when they were admitted at their request, the judgment was entered upon the record when they were admitted and signed by the judges, and whenever the transcript was delivered to the applicants I think it was signed by the judges.
Q If you had any knowledge at the time the application of the Dawson family, F. M. and others whose names are mentioned in that paper, was pending before that Commission, or before or after, of any corruption or bribery, or attempted corruption or bribery of the Court or any of its officers, by F. M. Dawson, or any person connected in any manner with the claim of the Dawsons to citizenship in the Cherokee Nation, state it fully?
A I never heard a thing of the kind, I know nothing of the kind, all that I have ever heard about a question of that kind is what has originated recently, since the enrollment business has been inaugurated.

CROSS-EXAMINATION BY W. T. HUTCHINGS:

Q If as you certify, this paper was a transcript of the record, why did you have the judges sign it?
A I know no reason further than that was the practice at that time, the members of the Court being present I presume it was thought it would be as good or better than the signature of the Clerk.
Q Examine that signature of Mr. Thompson, examine the first T in his name and the T in Tehee's name and see if it is not all your own handwriting?
A No, I would not call that mine, there is a resemblance between the letters but I am satisfied it is a mere fortuity, accident.
Q How was the evidence taken in those cases?
A It was taken by the witness being present and detailing his knowledge of the case, I wrote it down sentence by sentence as it was delivered.

Q Do you know whether that evidence is in existance or not?
A I do not, the last I saw of it was when I turned the records over to the Executive office at Tahlequah, and I have not seen it since.
Q You say you never heard any talk about this being an improper case until very recently?
A Well, that would depend upon what you mean by recently, I don't think I ever heard of it prior to three years ago, I can safely say that did not.

Q Do you remember through what ancestor they claimed their right to citizenship here?

Objected to by applicants because the question tends to elicit testimony which is wholly incompetent and irrelevant, and because it is not proper cross-examination.

A They claimed their right of citizenship through a man by the name of Rogers, I don't recol ect his first name.
Q Do you know how many Rogers families there are who have citizenship in the Cherokee Nation?
A I do.

Commission to the Five Civilized Tribes,
Muskogee, I. T., March 17, 1902.

SUPPLEMENTAL TESTIMONY in the matter of the enrollment of FRANCIS M. DAWSON, ET AL., as citizens of the Cherokee Nation:

The case having been set for final hearing March 17, 1902, the following proceedings were had:

APPEARANCES:
Mr. A. S. McKennon, of counsel for applicants;
Mr. W. T. Hutchings, of counsel for Cherokee Nation.

Mr. Hutchings: Comes now the Nation on the calling of this case and announces that it is ready for trial, provided permission is given to hereafter examine before the Commission, either at this place or Fort Gibson, the witness S. H. Benge, who has been regularly summoned to attend at this day and time but who is too sick to travel at this time and probably will be for some time to come. As evidence of a good faith of the Nation we hereby present an affidavit of the facts sought to be proven by the said Benge. If the applicant's counsel are willing to concede that the witness if present would testify to the facts herein set forth, the Nation is ready to proceed to trial without reservation of any kind. If they are not it desires to reserve this privilege of hereafter, either tomorrow or otherwise, this case being set for to-day and tomorrow, of examining before the Commission, or its authorized officer, this witness as above set forth.

Mr. McKennon: Applicants object to the introduction of the paper presented and do not admit that the witness, Samuel H. Benge if present would testify to the facts therein stated. They consent and desire that the testimony of said Benge be taken before the Commission at its office in Muskogee but not elsewhere, and protest against it being taken at any other place, with the understanding, however, that when taken we have opportunity to introduce any evidence we may desire in rebuttal.

Mr. Hutchings:
The Nation will pay all the expenses of the opposing Counsel, their client and Commission officers in taking the deposition at Fort Gibson.

Commissioner Breckinridge: The allegations of this witness are material in their character and are quite tangent. The Commission of its own volition would acquire information of that character if it knew of its existance anywhere. While the functions of the Commission, as well known are in many respects judicial, yet it is bodied with somewhat complex powers, such as Congress creates from time to time to do business of certain character, and it is ordered to make a correct roll, which is a duty largely independent of hearing simply what is brought before them; it must be the architect and constructor of that roll and if evidence is not brought before before the Commission it must go out and get it, to be uniform on that construction of the law. The Commission, therefore, desires this information independent of any counsel on either side both with respect to the applicant and to the Nation, and if this witness is is not able to come one of the Commissioners will go to Fort Gibson and to his bed-side, or send a proper official, if necessary to take his testimony. The only matter to consider, therefore, is one of convenience with respect to getting this testimony. Now, I understand that this witness is an extreme sufferer from Bright's Disease he is an old man and he may never be able to get out of the house, and it may be an injustice to him to subject him to a trip here, and therefore it seems to me better that counsel for plaintiff submit to a form of taking a deposition or else accompany an official of this Commission over to Fort Gibson and let his testimony be taken there.

After consultation with the attorneys upon the two sides it is found to be agreeable that the parties start to Fort Gibson to-morrow morning at half past eight o'clock, and it is agreed then and directed with an official of the Commission with a stenographer leave from the office of the Commission for Fort Gibson at 8:30 to-morrow morning.

FRANCIS M. DAWSON, the applicant, re-called for additional cross-examination on part of the Cherokee Nation:

MR. HUTCHINGS:

Q What is your name? A Francis M. Dawson.
Q Where do you reside? A In Afton.
Q You have been examined in this case heretofore, have you?
A I don't know which case it is.
Q In your own case? A Yes, sir.
Q Are you the one that is commonly called Bud Dawson? A Yes, sir.
Q You made the original application in the Dawson family for admission to citizenship in the Cherokee Nation, didn't you? No, sir; my brother.
Q What was his name? A A. B. Dawson.
Q You and Robert Dawson and Elbert Dawson and others applied September 24, '81, about that time? A Yes, sir.
Q And you were admitted about the 11th of January '83? A Yes, sir.
Q There were other members of your family that applied and were admitted after that time? A Yes, sir.
Q Do you or not remember the evidence offered in their to substantiate their cases was the relationship between yourself and Robert and others and the evidence of your admission by the Tehlequah Court. In all the subsequent admissions I mean the only evidence offered was the fact that you and your brothers had been admitted before and what they were kin to you; that was the only evidence offered in any subsequent cases, wasn't it; so far as you know?
A That is afterwards?
Q Yes, afterwards? A I think there was some other evidence introduced.
Q Don't you know that there was never any evidence offered in any other case except evidence of Dr. Baker of Arkansas? A Yes, sir.
Q The clerk? A Oliver Miller.
Q Who was Oliver Miller; the records in this case have been somewhat removed and mutilated? A Oliver Miller [illegible] lived in Arkansas.
Q What was he, who was he? A He is [illegible]
Q Well, what station in life did he occupy; was he a farmer?
A Yes, sir, former.
Q Were you present when he testified? A Yes, sir.
Q Were you present when Dr. Baker testified? A Yes, sir.

Q Have you a fair recollection of the testimony of those two men?
A No, not at all.
Q You don't read do you, Mr. Dawson? A No, sir, I dont read nor write; I can barely write my name.
Q Do you think you would remember the testimony of Dr. Baker if your mind was refreshed on it? A Part of it I think.
Q Were you present when you were admitted? A I was not in the room.
Q You were in Tahlequah at the time? A I was in the town of Tahlequah at the time.
Q I will read this paer to you and desire for you ro say whether or not it was the testimony of Dr, Baker in your case:
(Affidavit of Dr. Arthur Baker read to witness, and asked to be copied in the record later.)
Q Is that the correct transcript of the testimony? A It has been so long ago, I could not say; a part of it is, I could not remember it all.
Q Does that state the facts as to the family history correctly so far as you know about it? A So far as I know.
Q Now, you were a son of what Dawson? A Robert Dawson.
Q How many children did Robert Dawson have, and give me their names?
A Albert Dawson, the oldest; Lila, Jesper, Francis Marion-
Q That is yourself? A Yes, sir; Elizabeth Dawson, Josephine Dawson, John Dawson, Joseph Dawson, Jane Dawson, James Dawson, Edna Dawson, Mollie Dawson, Wilburn Dawson.
Q Thirteen? (No response,)
Q Now, Robert Dawson's father was whom? A Sam Dawson.
Q Who was Sam Dawson's wife, your grandmother? A I have been told.
Q By family history is all you know? A She was called Polly Dawson.
Q Who was Anna Pruitt? A I don't know.
Q Never heard of anybody in the family by the name of Anna Pruitt? A No, sir, that was away back in the old country; I have heard talk about it, old Dr. Baker talked about it.
Q Your grand-mother's name was Polly Dawson? A Yes, sir; I don't remember seeing her but once, she died when I was small, died in Texas.
Q Pollie Dawson? A Yes, sir.
Q And she was known to be Pollie Rogers, her maiden name? A Yes, sir.
Q Daughter of Captain John Rogers? A Yes, sir.
Q Now, she died in Texas what time? A I don't remember.
Q Can't you guess at it? A Oh, I could guess.
Q Give your best recollection? A About '58 or '59, or no, '48 or '49; I don't say positive, just guessing at it.
Q How old a boy were you then? A I was born in '42.
Q Have you any distinct recollection of her? A No, sir.
Q Have you any recollection of all the children of Sam and Pollie Dawson; that is, your father, uncles and Aunts? I didn't see all of them.
Q Do you know by family history the names of all of them? A Yes, sir.
Q Will you give them to me?
A Betsy Ann Dawson, I believe her name was.
Q Did she marry a Petty? A Yes, sir; the next is Robert Dawson.
Q Your father? A Yes, sir.
Q Next one? A I think the next was James Dawson, and I think the next one was a girl, Edna Dawson.
Q Did he have two daughters? A Yes, sir.
Q Well sir? A The next one was Joe Dawson; I never saw him. Riley Dawson.

Q That is Samuel R. Dawson, Riley Dawson? A Yes, sir.
Q Any other one? I think is all I know anything about.
Q Did he have any child by the name of John? A Yes, Jack.
Q Didn't you get Jack mixed with Jess? A No, it was Jack; I have heard my father speak of him.
Q They have been dead a long time? A I never saw them all.
Q How many of them did you ever see? A I used uncle Riley Dawson and Aunt Louisa A. Dawson and Betsy Ann Petty; I don't think I saw Bill, one of the other brothers, they went to Mississippi I think.
Q Do you know what your family history says that the mother of your grandmother, Nellie Dawson's name was? A We have no history.
Q Well, as it was brought down to you; did you ever hear anybody say what your great grandmother's name was? A No, I don't remember.
Q What is that other man, Oliver Millspaugh testified in your case? A He testified in James Dawson's case; he never testified in my father's case.
Q Well, didn't anybody testify in your case but Dr. Baker?
A Yes, sir, several other witnesses.
Q Who were they? A I don't remember; my mother got them witnesses around Tahlequah, old people.
Q Were you present? A No, sir.
Q You were only present when Dr. Baker testified? A Yes, sir.
Q Now, do you find any mistakes in Dr. Baker's statement there?
A I could not say all of that was correct or not, part of it is correct.
Q What part is there of it? A Why about knowing the family over there.
Q Who is Buck Dawson? A My brother.
Q What is his name? A We always called him Buck, it is Elbert, E. Dawson.
Q Who went with you the first time you went up to make application for citizenship do you remember? A With my brother.
Q The first time? A I and my brother in Texas.
Q Which one? A E. Dawson.
Q That is Elbert or Buck? A Yes, sir.
Q You were living in Arkansas? A Yes, sir.
Q And he was living in Texas? A Yes, sir, and another one of little brothers, Dr. Dawson now.
Q Dr. Dawson now? A Yes, sir.
Q What is his name? A James.
Q And you three went there? A Yes, sir.

Mr. McKennon: Applicants by their counsel object to all the statement of the witness relating to the testimony introduced before the Cherokee Citizenship Commission, and the history of the family as detailed by him, because the same is incompetent and irrelevant, and cannot be used for the purpose of impeaching the integrity of the judgment of said Commission, or either of the Commissioners in admitting members of the Dawson family.

Commission: The objection of the Attorney for the applicants to the testimony above will be noted. The same will be filed and noted for what it is worth.

(Attorney for applicants waives examination.)

O. H. TAYLOR, being duly sworn, testified as follows on Part of the Cherokee Nation:

MR. HUTCHINGS:

Q State your name? A C. H. Taylor.
Q Where do you reside, Mr. Taylor? A Near Coffeyville.
Q Were you an attorney before various cities this Court sits along in '01 to '07 in the Cherokee Nation at Tahlequah? A Yes, sir.
Q Were you attorney for W. H. Dawson who is only known as Bud Dawson? A Yes, sir.
Q Were you present at the taking of testimony in that case? A No, sir; I wasn't present.
Q Do you know who can need the court that decided the case at that time? A Yes, sir.
Q Who were they? A Tom Teneo and Alex Wolfe and Tommy Thompson.
Q Do you know whether or not they were all there when the case was decided? A No, sir, there was only two of them present.
Q Which two? A Teneo and Wolfe.
Q Who was the Clerk of the Court at that time? A Mr. Duncan, D. W. C. Duncan.
Q Do you know what witnesses were used in the case of Bud Dawson? A No, sir; now I was the attorney in the case and the evidence had already been filed before the Court.
Q When were you made attorney? A I was only called in as an attorney at the— Well, Mr. Duncan came down there, and Mr. Bryant had the case and several other attorneys had the case and he employed me.
Q Did you read the evidence in this case? A No, sir.
Q Did you deliver any money? A Now, I was the attorney in the case and I don't think it would be right for me to make any statement.
Q Now, you have claimed your privilege, I ask that you answer the question? Did Dawson ever send you any money with the direction to pay it to either member of the Court or the Clerk of the Court, D. W. C. Duncan, and if so state the amount? A I had a heap of trouble over this matter.-

Commission: Just answer the question, Mr. Taylor.

A Being the attorney I don't believe it is right for me to answer that question.

Commission: Do you refuse to answer? A Yes, sir.

Q Did the matter to which you object to testifying occur prior to the rendition of the decision admitting to citizenship or afterwards? (No response)

COMMISSIONER BRECKINRIDGE:

Q Do you desire to reply to the last question? A I don't think it is right; I was attorney in the case.
Q Mr. Taylor, do you object to answering that question? A Yes, sir.
Q You refuse to answer that question, do you? A I had rather not answer it.

Q Either answer it or say you won't answer it? A I had rather not answer it.
Q Mr. Taylor, you have answered a number of questions down to this point, but it is at this point that you prefer to plead your privileges, as an attorney, do you? A Yes, sir.

Com'r Breckinridge: The power in regard to these matters is lodged in the United States. The Court is clothed with special power with reference to matters which arise through this Commission. Of course the Commission desires to aid the Government needs for the making of a correct roll the fullest information possible, but it is subject to the limitation of law, and it is not for this Commission to decide of the law in a matter of this character with any authority as I understand it at this time, but to report the matter to the United States Court and let the Court pass judgment.

Under section 81 of the Curtis law as it is commonly called Act of June 28 1898, the members of the Commission shall in performing all duties required of them by law, have authority to administer oaths, examine witnesses and send for papers and persons, and the court is clothed with authority to enforce obedience. The law having enumerated certain powers goes on to say so far as all others are concerned to enable said Commission to make rolls as herein required, and to punish anyone who may in any manner or by any means obstruct said work. Now, the commission will report the facts to the United States Court and let the Court decide whether or not you are within your lawful privilege. It seems that you refuse to answer questions, or at least one question, which tends to establish as to whether or not you are claiming what what is commonly considered a matter of privilege--according to an authority referred to by an attorney, but the enforcement of an answer seems plainly to be a matter for the Court to deal with.

Q Now, Mr. Taylor, in regard to the last question asked you by Mr. Hutchings, one of the Counsel for the Cherokee Nation, I direct that you make answer, and if you refuse I shall report the matter to the United States Court: do you refuse? A Yes, sir.
Q Now, you have read to you, Mr. Taylor, the first of the two questions propounded to you by Mr. Hutchings, and which you declined at the time to make answer; viz: As to whether Mr. Dawson sent you money to pay to the Court or to any officials of the Court, it seems to come under the question as to whether there was any collusion between you and Mr. Dawson and any member of the Court; now, I understand that you refuse to answer that question upon the grounds that you were Mr. Dawson's attorney? A Yes, sir.
Q Now, I require that you answer that question, do you refuse?
A Yes, sir.
Q I shall also report that refusal to the United States Court as it seems to come under the provision of law, relating to conspiracy between you and Mr. Dawson which apparently considered a privilege matter, and you base your refusal now, not upon the ground that you are incriminating yourself, but that you were counsel for Mr. Dawson. I will report the matter to the Court and you will be informed at the time of any proceedings in the matter I caution you not to talk with Mr. Dawson or any of the applicants in this case.

Mr. McKennon: Applicants do not object and have not objected to the witness answering on account of his privilege as an attorney or for any other cause whatever, they only want to object to the incompetence and irrelevancy of the testimony, with the privilege of cross-examining upon any testimony given by the witness.

COM'R BRECKINRIDGE:
Q You still refuse having the consent of the attorneys in the case to make answer? A I will just ask your Honor to let the matter go over until morning.

Commissioner Breckinridge: It will rest until in the morning at its present status: it is after business hours now.

As for the objection made by Captain McKennon, Counsel for the applicant, it will be taken into consideration, but will not be granted at the present.
(The Commission adjourns until 1:30 P. M. to-morrow afternoon, March 10, 1903.)

SUPPLEMENTAL TESTIMONY in the matter of the enrollment of FRANCIS M. DAWSON ET AL., as citizens of the Cherokee Nation:

Appearances:
Mr. A. S. McKennon, of Counsel for applicants.
Mr. W. T. Hutchings, of Counsel for Cherokee Nation.

SAMUEL H. BENGE, being duly sworn, testified as follows on part of the Cherokee Nation:
MR. HUTCHINGS:

Q State your name? A Samuel H. Benge.
Q Where do you reside? A Fort Gibson.
Q How old are you? A I am 70 years old, going in 71.
Q Are you a citizen of the Cherokee Nation? A Yes, sir; Cherokee by blood.
Q State what official position you have held in the Cherokee Nation and what your general connection with the Nation officially in the last 40 years? A Well, I had several; I have been Sheriff, Councilman, Senator, Delegate to Washington; had a hand in making the treaty of 1866, I am the only one living that signed that treaty; President of the National Council of different tribes of Indians.
Q Were you acquainted with F. M. Dawson, commonly called Red Dawson? A Yes, sir; I knew him.
Q State you connection with and what you know about his citizenship case before what is known as the Thomas Tehee Citizenship Court? A Mr. Dawson come down, I was living down below here, he come and employed me to tend to his case and we went to Tahlequah, I believe if I ain't mistaken in 1881 and filed his case there; we went several times and continued his case on for the want of evidence, and finally while we was up there we run across one old darkey by the name of Tosh Rogers; we got his testimony and after we got that testimony we concluded that it was sufficient to go into the trial with. Tosh lived here at Fort Gibson, he was a horse trainer down here and stayed here; he claimed that he knew the Rogers and belonged to one of them and after that we thought we had sufficient evidence we submitted our case to the Court for trial, and the Court went to work and rendered a decision against Mr. Dawson. I told Mr. Dawson right there that "our case is dough", just made that remark, and he just made the remark "never mind", and next morning they taken up his case again and they rendered a decision in his favor. I filed no motion nor any evidence at all whatever; I give the case up right there and the decision was then given in his favor, and on our way back from Tahlequah, why we got to talking about the case and I told him: "it was a pretty hard blow when they rendered that decision against us." He said: "yes, but Duncan was the man to reach", but he reached him with five hundred dollars.
Q What position did Duncan occupy? A He was a Clerk of the Court.
Q Duncan an educated man or—? Yes, sir; he was an educated man.
Q Who were the members of the Court? A Tom Tehee, Alex Rolfe and Tom Thompson.
Q How many of these could speak English at all? A One.
Q Which one? A Thompson.
Q Who was the Attorney that represented the Nation in those cases? A Wm Saunders.

Q What was his given name? A Wilson Sanders; was it Wilson Sanders?
A Wilson Sanders.
Q Was he an educated man, or could speak English well? A No, sir.
Q Did Mr. Dawson say anything about the matters having cost him a good deal of money? A He said it had cost him a right smart.
Q Was any remark made on the way back about the opening up of the case, and if so, what? A He asked me if I thought the case was ever investigated eventially and I told him I didn't know.

MR. McKENNON:

Q Were you ever a witness in the Dawson case, Judge, in any of those investigations that have been made since that time? A I don't know that you might call it a witness; that young man came to me once at Tahlequah, and asked me to help him up there that the case was going against him, him and his mother and all was about knocked out and I interceded and done what I could there before the Committee. I was not a witness but that is that I don't for him.
Q That was Mr. Graham, wasn't it? A Yes, sir.
Q Have you had conversations with Mr. Graham since that time about it? A Well, I might, I don't recollect, I might have had conversations with him.
Q Well, after the Dawes Commission began taking a census of the Cherokees and when they were about Sallisaw down here, did you have a conversation with him here in Fort Gibson about the matter? A Now, I just can't tell you; I have seen him on several occasions, but the conversations we might have had I can't state.
Q To refresh your memory I will ask you if he did not tell you that they were making a fight on the Dawson family and he wanted to know of you whether that judgment in favor of Robert Dawson's family was fairly rendered, and did you not then tell him that it was all right, that it was fairly obtained? A Not as I recollect of; all he said; that is as I have stated he talked to me in regard to his mother, himself and probably his brothers and sisters, I don't recollect how many there were, but he told me they were rejected, that is just the words he used.
Q When? A It has been sometime ago.
Q Here in Fort Gibson? A Well, that is I saw him here in Fort Gibson, and then I saw him in Tahlequah.
Q Well, did he here in Fort Gibson ask you particularly about the Robert Dawson judgment, as to whether it was fairly obtained or not? A No, sir; he was basing his claim on the Dawson case, that is the way he-
Q That is the principal Dawson family? A Yes.
Q When was this other written statement here made, when was this made by you? (referring to affidavit heretofore referred to.)
A Yesterday I reckon.
Q Who came to take this? A Mr. Starr.
Q Who else was present when this was taken? A No, sir.
Q Whom had you told about this matter, Judge? A No one as I know of.
Q Do you know how it was that they knew that you knew this?
A No, sir.
Q You never made any statement? A Never made any statement that I recollect of except I might have talked with Scales, he and him talked about these cases a good many times; if I ever made a statement it was to Joe Ab Scales.
Q How did Mr. Starr know? A I could not tell you how Mr. Starr knew.

Q He came alone here as a Notary Public? A He came alone here as a Notary Public. All he said when he come, he says "we understand that you know something in regard to these cases", I said " what case," and he went to work and named Shoemake case and Dawson case.
Q And thereupon you made this statement? A He said he wanted to qualify me.
Q Are you certain Judge that after the rendition of tat judgment Mr. Dawson came back here to Fort Gibson with you?
A Yes, sir; we was together.
Q Let me ask you if it was not a very cold day when he came here and he went over ahead of you and you went over to Tahlequah the next day or two after he left? A My recollection was he and I went together.
Q And returned here together? A Yes, sir.
Q Did he not leave you there and go back direct to Arkansas?
A No, sir, we came here together. If my memory serves me right, I might be mistaken but then I don't believe I am, he came from Webbers Falls up here to my house, that is according to his statement.
Q What amount of fee did they pay you? A I don't know as that is in connection with the case whatever the money they paid me.
Q How didthey pay you? A Paid me the money.
Q Who paid it to you? A Dawson there and that fealow, young fellow paid me some.
Q Mr. Graham? A Yes.
Q At the same time? A Oh, no, he wanted me to intercede for him at Tahlequah and paid me to do something for him which I did.
Q I will ask you if Mr. F. M. Dawson here did not obtain two copies of the judgment one of which you sent in a letter in which you wrote to his brother living in Texas and that brother in Texas, the one they called Buck, didn't send you $50 that they paid you? A No, if I ever got a letter of Buck whatever you might call him, I don't recollect it and if I ever got a nickel from him I don't recollect it. Old man paid me what money I got from it. I don't know nothing about his brothers; he told me he had an uncle living over i Arkansas, but not living down in Texas, I don't know about it.
Q Where did he pay you the money? A Paid it here at home.
Q Before you went out? A He paid me fifty dollars before we went up and when we went up yonder he paid me fifty dollars more; if you want to know what I got, I got one hundredn dollars.
Q You were acting as his attorney in the case? A Yes, sir.
Q How many judges were there present when the judgment was rendered? In his case?
A Yes, sir. A Well, according to my recollect there was all there, but if they were not all there, Tom Thompson was sick. Tom and Wolfe.
Q Don't you remember that they were all present? A No, I think they were present though.
Q Who else was present at the ime? A Oh, I could not tell you, there were several people in the house; could not tell you at all.
Q Were there several in the house the evening before the judgment was rendered against them as you say? A Yes, there were several in the house.
Q Were several in the house when the judgment was rendered the next day? A I don't know how many there was.
Q Do you remember the names of any of them? A Why not exactly, mostly full bloods.
Q How long didyou remain out at Tahlequah on that trip?
A I guess I was there about hree days.

Q Tending to this case alone, or did you have other cases? A no, sir.
Q Do you know of your own knowledge that the judges received any money (this question asked at the instance of Mr. Graham present)
A I don't know whether the judges received nay or not.

---oooOOOooo---

I, J. O. Rosson, do hereby certify upon my official oath as stenographer to the Commission to the Five Civilized Tribes that I correctly recorded the testimony had this day in the above case, and that the foregoing is a true and complete transcript of my stenographic notes thereof.

(Signed) J. O. Rosson.

March 18, 1903. Commission convened pursuant to adjournment.

Appearances:
Mr. A. S. McKennon, of counsel for applicants.
Mr. W. T. Hutchings, of Counsel for Cherokee Nation.

C. H. TAYLOR takes the stand and continues his testimony.
BY MR. HUTCHINGS:

Q Mr. Taylor, you said you would consider the matter yesterday and let us know whether you would answer those questions today: have you decided what you would do about the matter? A Well, it is like this, of course I don't want to be held as in contempt of the Court.
Q You would be held in contempt and the other Court would make you answer? A That being he case of course I would make a statement.
Q Are you acquainted with D. W. C. Duncan, the Clerk of what is known as the Tehee Citizenship Commission Court? A Yes, sir.
Q Did you ever have any conversation with him about letting him know of the different character of cases that would come up before the Court that you knew of, whether they were good ones or bad ones?
A No, the only thi g that ever come up in that respect; he asked me if whatever large cases that would come up befor the Court to let him know.
Q Did you have any talk with him about the Dawson case during the progress of its trial or before and ever introduced Mr. F. M. Dawson to him, or carry him to him? A I spoke to him when Mr. Dawson came to Tahlequah to see about his case, and he said that he would take the papers over to his room, the Dawson papers.
Q Did you see him again that night? A Yes, sir; after supper I went down to his room.
Q Did he ask you about the Dawsons or Dawson case? A He asked me where Dawson was.
Q Which Dawson are you referring to now, F. M. Dawson, known as Bud Dawson? A Bud Dawson.
Q Well, what didyou reply to him? A I told him that I thought he had gone to church.
Q Did you find Dawson after church? A Yes, sir, he told me to come and bring Dawson down and I did so; Dawson was in church.
Q You carried Dawson to him? A Yes, sir.

Q Did you remain during the conversation? A Only a minute.
Q What was said if anything while you were present? A Mr. Duncan spoke to Mr. Dawson and says "there is a hitch in your evidence."
Q Go ahead and state what else he said? A He said "if that was straightened out it would be all right," and I turned and went away, I says, "gentlemen, I will go home."
Q Did you know of their having any other conversation or communication after that? A No, sir.
Q You left them there together yourself? A Yes, sir.
Q Did Mr. Dawson give you any directions the next morning about submitting the case? A Yes, sir, he asked me to call it up the case.
Q The next morning? A Yes, sir.
Q Had there been any additional evidence offered? A No, sir; there was not additional testimony offered.
Q He told you the next morning to call up the case? A Yes, sir.
Q Was it called up and submitted the next morning? A Yes, sir.
Q Now, how many of the members of the Court were there present that morning? A There were only two, two full-blood Indians.
Q Could they speak english at all? A Tehee could talk a little, talk some.
Q Did that Court have open sessions all the time or what is called executive sessions sometimes? A Well, I don't remember about that; it was generally when the case was submitted th attorneys would go out. The parties would go out and they would determine the case.
Q Well, did they go out into that sort of executive session the next morning on the Dawson case? A Well, we went out when the case was submitted.
Q And was the decision rendered that morning in their favor?
A Yes, sir.
Q Who notified you of the decision of the Court? A Why, Mr. Dawson.
Q Do you remember whether he went out with you or was in there during the consideration of the case? A I think he went out with me.
Q Did you at any time thereafter receive any money, checks or other evidence money from Mr. Dawson with direction to turn it in part over to D. W. C. Duncan, the Clerk of that Court? A Mr. Dawson gave me 30 dollars and said he would send the balance in a short time, said he would send some more money in a short time.
Q Well, did he send any money afterwards? A Yes, sir, in the course of ten days or two weeks he send a hundred dollar check, draft.
Q What did he direct you to do with it? A He directed me to give D. W. C. Duncan half of it.
Q Did you give him half of it? A Yes, sir.
Q Did he send you any at any other time after that? A Well, in the course of a couple of weeks he sent me a hundred dollars more.
Q Did he direct you to turn any of that and if so how much, to D. W. C. Duncan? A He told me to give him half of it,
Q Did you give him half of it? A I did, sir.
Q Do you remember whether on Dr. Arthur Baker was the principal witness in behalf of the Dawson case? A No, sir, I don't because I never had any connection with the case, but I heard that he was a witness in the case.
Q No argument was made when you submitted the case? A No, sir.
Q Just submitted it on the testimony? A Yes, sir.

MR. McKENNON:

Q Are you a citizen of the Cherokee Nation? A Yes, sir.
Q Were you born and reared in the Cherokee Nation? A No, sir; I was born in the old Nation.

Q When did you come to the Cherokee Nation? A Come here in 1895.
Q How long have you been practicing law in the Cherokee Nation?
A I think since '96.
Q You have done a great deal of citizenship business haven't you?
A Yes, sir.
Q You were in the United States Court at Fort Smith on charges in regard to the citizenship business? A Yes, sir.
Q Were you convicted there? A Yes, sir; I was convicted there on this very case.
Q And served a term of what length? A I was sent to the jail hospital for sixty days and I stayed in about 38 or 39 days, and I was released.
Q When was that? A I don't remember how long ago it has been.
Q You say it was in regard to this case? A Yes, sir; this case was the bone of contention; Clem Rogers and the Chief, they are the ones that had me arrested, carried to Fort Smith.
Q Well, now, were you charged with an offense against the law in this case, or was it in regard to some other case? A Well, it was in regard to using the mail for fraudulent purposes.
Q Sending out propositions and obtaining case for citizenship for people [illegible] Cherokee Nation? A No, sir, it was for answering correspon[illegible].
Q Not relating to this case at all? A Well, this was the main charge, Clem Rogers went before the Court there and stated that I had got in at least three hundred Dawsons, that they were white people and not entitled to citizenship and that was the main trouble.
Q Well, now, was the charge based upon that or was it based upon your letters you sent out to other people? A That was the charge for using the mail for fraudulent purposes.
Q The use of the mails for fraudulent purposes not in connection of this case was it? A Not particular of this case.
Q Then the trouble you had was the prejudice of Clem Rogers and others caused by your connection with the Dawson case; that is what you mean to say? A Yes, sir.
Q Why did you say because you were charged with an offense based upon this case? A Well, the prejudice grew out of this case.
Q Now, then, you had full conversation with the representatives of the Cherokee Nation as to your testimony in this case, did you not before you came on the stand? A Yes, sir.
Q You had told them of these particulars before you came on the witness stand did you not? A Yes, sir.
Q Yet when you came on the stand you assumed to have conscientious scruples as to answering as to matters which occured between you and your client, Bud Dawson, in relation to this matter and declined to answer claiming your privilege as an attorney did you not? A Yes, sir; I didn't want to make a statement at all in the matter.
Q You had voluntarily made a statement to the representatives of the Cherokee Nation? A Yes, sir; I had stated to Mr. Hastings; he summoned me and I come down here and I didn't want to make a statement to him but he insisted.
Q He had no power to compel you to make a statement? A No, sir.
Q You could then make it very freely and your conscience did not hurt you, but when you came on the stand you were very conscientious about it? A I didn't want to make a statement at all unless I I would be put in jail here if I didn't.
Q But you had armed them with information by which they could ask you these questions when you came on the stand? A I had told Mr. Hastings.

Q You knew when you gave him that information that you would be brought on the stand as a witness, did you not, by reason of that?
A No, I didn't know that I would be compelled to make a statement in the matter, a sworn statement.
Q You thought you would not be compelled to answer?
A I didn't think the law would compel me to make a statement.
Q Why then did you make a statement to him about it? A Oh, he was asking me about it, and I told him that I didn't want to make a statement, and I didn't for quite a while after I came down here.
Q When the enrollment division of the Dawes Commission was in Tahlequah, in the winter of 1900, did you not there meet T. M. Dawson and did you not then and there say to him that you told Shoemake I would be for him if he would employ me in his case and if he didn't I would be against him, and the same to you?" A No, sir; I said to him this; I says that if there is not something done that I will likely be summoned against you and Mr. Shoemake both.
Q What did you mean by that? A Well, I just meant this, I just left the matter with him to say what he wanted to do in the matter; I only spoke a word or two about it. I was going out of town just as he came in.
Q When you told him if something was not done you would be summoned as a witness against him; what did you mean by that? A Well, I just meant that the chances were that the Nation would summon me against him.
Q What did you mean by the expression "if there was not something done" that you would be summoned as a witness?
A Well, I meant this, if I was re-employed in the matter if he was to have a case and I was re-employed I would not be required.

Q You could be required to make a statement as to declarations made to you by your client to you on one instance, but if a little more money was put up you could not be required to make a statement; is that what you mean? A I didn't think I could be forced to make a statement at all in the matter.
Q Why didyou make that expression to him "if something wasn't done you might be summoned as a witness" if you believed you could not be made to make a statement? A I meant if I was employed in the case.
Q If he would put up you would not testify? A That they could not force me to testify.
Q About the month of February, 1901, in the town of Wagoner, Indian Territory, did you not send your son to get Graham to come to the hotel at night, and did you not then and there say to Sid Graham; "you people are on the doubtful list and if you will give me $500. I will make it all right and see that you are enrolled and if you don't I will see that you don't get on? A No, sir; I got a letter from Sid Graham in which he asked me to certify that the case was all right and after I met him I told him that I could not do it, that the case was crooked. He then came to me, he says, "I will give you a hundred dollars", he says "will you take a hundred dollars," I said "no, sir." I didn't make any bid to him that I didn't set no price with him.
Q You did not say to him then what I have embraced in that question there? A No, sir.
Q You did have a conversation with him about that time and at that place, did you not? A Yes, sir.
Q You say you didn't make any bid or set any price? A No, sir; he offered me a hundred dollars.
Q Why did you send for him to come to the hotel? A In answer to his letter.

A Did you not [illegible] yesterday morning on the street in Muskogee, Indian Territory, in a conversation with W. H. Shoemake say to him: "You have made a great mistake in not keeping in your employment and so have the Dawsons and it will go hard with you and you will see it"? No, sir; I says to Mr. Shoemake, I says "Who have you employed in your case," and he says "Judge Thomas and Mr. Owen." I said "It might have been a advantage to you if you had retained me in your matter;" well, he says "there was nothing wrong in my case" and I says "no, there is nothing wrong on earth in your case that I know of." He said all he wanted was justice and I said "I don't know a thing on earth against you," and I says "there is not a thing on earth wrong in your case as I know it came up fairly and squarely and decided in your favor."

Q You said nothing to him about the Dawson case? A Yes, I said to him "it might have been well if the Dawsons had retained me in their case." I said "I am summoned on the part of the Nation and I don't want to make a statement and I want if I can possible avoid it."

Q Was that before or after you talked with Mr. Hastings, the representative of the Nation? A It was afterwards.

Q You meant by that if you had refused to answer you would have gone to jail? A No, sir; if they had employed me before hand I meant not now.

Q You mean that if they had employed you before hand you would not have given this information to Mr. Hastings? A I would not be required, being the attorney.

Q Were you required to give him the information; did you know that you had to give him any information? A Who do you mean.

Q Mr. Hastings. A I did refuse him and he insisted.

Q Well, he no authority to compel you to do it? A No, sir; I don't know whether he did or not.

Q As a lawyer you knew that he did not have authority to compel you to make a statement to him? A I told him that I was an attorney in the case and I didn't want to make any statement at all.

Q Why did you do it? A Well, he intimated to me it would go any further. He said to me "I will not make this matter — I will not use it;" that is, what I stated to him was part in confidence.

Q And he pledged you his word that it would not be used? A Well, I told him I could make a statement in confidence, and that I didn't want to make a statement before the Court.

Q Well, what did he reply, as you said just now? A Oh, he says make the statement and then I told him—I regretted very much to do it, and I regret very much to make a statement here. I tried to avoid it yesterday.

Q You stated just now that he said it would not be used; did he say that or not? A Well, something to that amount; oh, he says it wont make any difference or something to that effect.

Q Now, don't you know that Mr. Hastings did not intimate to you that the statement he was making you make would not be used? A Well, I didn't think that I could be forced to make a qualified statement before the Court here, because I thought my license would protect me in that matter.

Q Yet it did not protect you or prevent you from making a statement to the attorneys for the Nation? A No, sir.

Q Now, in this conversation with Shoemake to which I before referred did you not ask him to again employ you and tell him if he would you would make it all right for him? A No, sir; I didn't say that; no, I said if he had employed me in the matter "maybe it would have been better for you." Now, he offered me when I was down here last week, he offered me five dollars to go down and talk with his lawyers on the matter, I didn't go I was busy.

Q That was not your price? A No, no. I had nothing to say in his case that would be to his advantage; I knew nothing against him.
Q Now, then, you say that your were present on the morning that the judgment was rendered in favor of the Dawsons? A I was not in the Court house.
Q You were present in Tahlequah? A Yes, sir.
Q How long had you been at Tahlequah? A I was living there at that time.
Q When were you first employed by them? A By Dawsons?
Q Yes, sir. A The evening before the case was tried.
Q You say that after he judgrent was rendered Dawson handed you $30? A Yes, sir.
Q And told you to hand to Duncan? A No, sir.
Q What was your statement? A That he paid me $30 and says "I will send you some more in a short time, week or so.
Q And then he sent you $100? A Yes, sir.
Q And wrote you to give D. W. G. Duncan $50 of it? A Yes, sir.
Q And then sent you another $100 and told you to give him half of it? A Yes, sir.
Q How much did they pay you? A Well, that was the agreement, was that he would pay me $50 a family.
Q How much did he pay you? A I think there was $250; now I am not sure about the $50, but it appears to me like there was a $50 sent, and Mr. Duncan asked me, as well as I remember, says "have you got a letter from Dawson," I told him "yes, sir." It was either that or the $100, and he says "I would like to have some money", and I went to Stapler's and got it changed— I won't be sure about it being $50 or $100—I went to Stapler's and got him to cash the check and give him his part of it.
Q How much did he pay you for your services? A That is all I got.
Q How much? A I think it was $100, $130.
Q What did you do for them? A Didn't do a thing only called up the case and submitted it; never read the evidence.
Q Submitted it without remarks? A Yes, sir.
Q And for that you say they paid you $130? A Yes, sir; $130.
Q Was Houston Benge present when that was one? A No, sir; I don't think he was.
Q Did you see him then at that time in Tahlequah? A I don't remember.
Q Were you associated with him in any manner in connection with the case? A No, sir.
Q You had a great deal of business of that character, have you before the Courts? A Yes, sir.
Q Were you paid like fees in other cases for like services? A Yes, sir.
Q In many of them? A Yes, sir, good many.
Q All like cases? A Oh, citizenship cases.
Q When was it you were in jail at Fort Smith? A I don't remember; Mr. Mellette can remember, he was there, he was my attorney.
Q Was it about 1885? A It was somewhere along there, along in 1880 somewhere.
Q That has been your principal business as a lawyer, has it not? A Yes, sir.
Q You have never practiced much in any other way have you? A Very little.
Q Were you in the habit of working your cases through in the same manner in which you state you worked this through? A No, sir.

Q This was an exception was it? A I never worked this case through. I simply called the case up by request of Mr. Dawson. I read the evidence; don't know what proof there was in it: he just asked me to call the case up.
Q And he agreed to pay you $50 a family for doing that? A Yes, sir.
Q Was that what you required of him? A That is what he agreed to pay. I says "What will you give?" He says "I will give you $50 a family."

MR. HUTCHINGS:

Q At the same time that the attorney for the Nation was talking to you about the Dawson case he also made inquiries about the Shoemake case didn't he? A Yes, sir.
Q And you told him at that time before you knew anything about whether you would be made or compelled to testify that so far as you knew there was nothing you knew detrimental to the Shoemake case? A Yes, sir; that is what I said.
Q You told him at the same time that you not only expected to claim you privilege as an attorney in the case, but that you told him, Mr. Hastings, with the full belief that the Court would sustain your position? A Yes, sir.

Mr. McKennon: That is very leading.

Q Now, did you think that the re-employment, being the attorney in the pending case would strenthen your position or weaken it, when you spoke to Mr. Dawson? A What I thought in the matter was before ever I would be summoned in the matter, a long time ago, that if I had been employed in the matter of course my position would have been such that I would not have been required or could not have been forced.
Q Did you think under those circumstances that Mr. Hastings would approach you about the subject? A No, sir; I don't think I would be forced to, having license to practice law.
Q Did Mr. Hastings tell you at the time that he was going to put you on the stand? A Yes, sir.
Q And let the Court decide? A Yes, sir.

MR. McKENNON:

Q Now, have you a license to practice in the United States Courts? A Yes, sir.
Q In the Territory? A Yes, sir.
Q And also in the Indian Courts? A Yes, sir: do you want to see them?

JAMES W. LEWIS, being duly sworn, testified as follows on part of the Cherokee Nation:

MR. HUTCHINGS:

Q State your anem please? A J. W. Lewis.
Q James W. Lewis? A Yes, sir.
Q Where is your postoffice, Mr. Lewis? A Afton.
Q How old are you? A 73 years old.
Q What is your business ? A I work at the tin business and gun work.
Q Do you know one James Dawson, the brother of F. M. Dawson and the other Dawsons? A I know old man James Dawson.
Q That is the one I mean, old man James Dawson? A Yes, sir: I know him.
Q How long have you known him? A Well, some four or five years, I guess.
Q How long? A Four or five years I think.

Q When did you come to the country? A I have been in the country 70 odd years.
Q Well, when did he come to the country, do you know? A Along about somewheres in eighty if I recollect right, might have been later than that.
Q How did you happen to get acquainted with? A He lived right close by me and I built a house for him.
Q Did you have any conversation with him at the time you built that house? A Yes, several different times.
Q About how he became a citizen of the Cherokee Nation, about the circumstances? A Yes, sir.
Q Did he make any statement to you about the use of money in getting his citizenship, and if so, state what he said?
A Well, he told me that it cost him $700 to get his rights.
Q Didn't tell you to whom he paid it? A No, he didn't and I didn't ask any questions.

MR. McKENNON:

Q How old was he at that time, do you know? A I do not know exactly, must have been somewheres near about 70 years old, he might have been older than that, I don't know.
Q He was a very old and feeble man? A Yes, he was old and feeble.
Q He seldom ever got out away from his house? A No, sir, only short distance.
Q When you first knew him he was that kind of man? A Yes, sir.

J. L. CLINKENBEARD, being duly sworn, testified as follows on part of the Cherokee Nation:

MR. HUTCHINGS:

Q State your name? A J. L. Clinkenbeard.
Q What is your post office address? A Vinita.
Q How old are you? A 56.
Q Were you ever an applicant for citizenship before the Tehee citizenship Court in Tahlequah? A Yes, sir.
Q About what time was that? A September '81, I think.
Q Did you meet there about that time, one Elbert or Buck Dawson?
A Yes, sir.
Q How did you happen to meet him? A He and I stopped at the same place, man's by the name of Sharbow.
Q You and he stopped there, did you, board there? A Yes, sir.
Q Well, did you have any talk about citizenship cases, yours and his? A
A Yes, sir.
Q Where did he state that he was from? A Texas.
Q Well, state what you can remember of the conversation between you from time to time about citizenship in the Cherokee Nation?
A Well, we were there on the same business and we talked about it at different times, and in talking about the evidence we had there - I, of course, told him how many witness I had and what I could prove and so on, and he said that he didn't have but one witness, Dr. Baker from Arkansas, a man that was 85 or 90 years old, he said, and he hadn't come and said he was to have met him there, but he hadn't come.
Q Well, what did he say about the Doctor's knowing anything?
A Well, he said he was 85 or 90 years old and didn't know straight up.
Q Well, did he say anything about giving him whisky?
A Well, he said he could give him four drinks of Arkansas whiskey and he could swear that black was white.

Q Did he say anything about what money would do in Texas or Indian Territory? A Well, in talking about the evidence, he said that money was what made the mare go down in Texas and he said "I come to get the fur of the land" and he says "I found out it goes here," or words to that effect.
Q Did he say what he had to spend on the question? A Well, he said that he could stand a thousand dollars on it and not be hurt very much; finally he said he could stand more than that.
Q What did he tell you what he thought about the necessity of witnesses anyhow? A Well, I don't know as he said as to that, but I understood from what he said that he thought money would beat witnesses.
Q Well, where did he go from there? A He and I left there together; he came to Muskogee by way of Fort Gibson and there we parted.
Q Did you ever see him after that? A I saw him about two years or something like that afterwards.
Q Where? A Vinita.
Q Did you refer to the citizenship matter? A I asked him how he come out and he said all right.
Q Was he deformed in any way this man? A He had a crippled hand or stiff finger; I don't remember just what it was now.

I R. McKENNON:

Q Your first conversation with him was in '21 was it? A Yes, sir.
Q What time in '21? A September.
Q You were then an applicant for citizenship? A Yes, sir.
Q Were you admitted? A No, sir.
Q You are still an applicant? A No, sir.
Q You are still working to get in as a citizen of the Cherokee Nation? A No, sir; haven't quit it entirely.
Q What business are you in now? A I am running a dairy in Vinita.
Q When did you make these statements now to the representative of the Cherokee Nation? A Well, sir, I haven't; I saw Mr. Hastings I believe here last Saturday the first time.
Q How did they ever know that you had had these conversations with Mr. Dawson? A I don't know.
Q You don't know how they found that out? A No, sir.
Q You say you saw Mr. Hastings here last Saturday? A Yes, sir.
Q Now, did you approach him or did he approach you? A He approached me.
Q You know why? A No, sir; I suppose somebody I have told something at some time about this, I don't know when or who. I don't remember of having talked to anyone about it. I have saw Mr. Hastings for years.
Q Now, you say—now was that expression about his giving Dr. Baker three or four drinks of liquor? A He said the old man; he said that Dr. Baker, he was expecting him there and he didn't come, and he said he didn't care where he did or not; he said he was 85 or 90 years old; he said he didn't know straight up; said he could give him three or four drinks of Arkansas whiskey and he would not know black or white.
Q Now, he said that did he? A Yes, sir.
Q You are just as positive of that as you are of any other statement he made are you? A Yes, sir.
Q You say you next saw Dawson at Vinita? A Yes, sir.
Q How long afterwards was that? A About two years, I think something near that.
Q Did he move to the Territory? A Yes, sir he lived at Vinita at one time.

Q You speak about having a dairy business there at Vinita, to what extent? A I am only milking about four cows now, I sent the others to the country.
Q Do you run a dairy wagon there? A No, sir.
Q You serve on the jury a good deal? A I have been serving on the Petit jury there this winter.
Q Generally? No, sir.
Q Are you a kind of a professional juror? A No, sir; I was on the regular petit jury, I was on the regular panel and served.

A I do.
Q How long have you known him? A About 18 years.
Q How close do you live from him? A Half a mile of him.
Q Does he still own that place? A I think he does.
Q Were you an applicant for citizenship along about '81 or '2 at Tahlequah? A Yes, sir.
Q Did you have at any time a conversation with Bud Dawson about his and your citizenship cases? A Yes, sir.
Q State what he stated to you of citizenship cases in general and about his own in particular, you can state the time that you had these conversations as near as you can? A Well, I think it was in '83, he told me if I ever got in I would have to put up; he said it cost him $700 to get in; he said he paid one witness three hundred dollars.
Q Did he state the name of that witness? A No, he did not.
Q Whom did he say he made arrangements with? A He said he made arrangements with the Court; that is, heads of families to get them in at one hundred dollars apiece.
Q Do you know what time of the year tht was, whether it was in the summer or not? A I think it was in June.
Q Did he make any other statements to you at any other time?
A No, sir, I don't think he has in regards to that matter.
Q You have been living neighbors with him? A Yes, sir.

MR. WORTHINGTON:

Q You say this was about June of '83? A I think it was in June, 1883, I won't be positive whether it was June or not.
Q You were an applicant; were you admitted? A No, sir.
Q Have you been admitted? A No, sir.
Q You are still an applicant? A Yes, sir.
Q Still trying to get in? A Yes, sir.

Q What part of the premises? that is, in his residence?
A Yes, sir.
Q In the house? A Yes, sir.
Q Who was present? A There wasn't anybody present; he just built the house and there wasn't anybody there.
Q How many rooms? A I won't be positive but I don't think there was but one room, log house.
Q Just one room? A Yes, sir.

Q And in that room he made this statement to you? A Yes, sir.
Q He and you are enemies are you not? A No, I don't think we are enemies.
Q You are not friendly at all? A Friendly part of the time, and part of the time we ain't.
Q Haven't you had considerable trouble about the lands between your farms? A No, sir; we ain't had any trouble.
Q Didn't you have his little boy arrested recently for a difficulty? A Yes, sir.
Q And you say that you are not on bad terms with him? A Why we speak, have conversation, have right right along all the time.
Q Is it not a fact now that you and he have been all the while at outs? A No, sir.
Q You don't have any unkind feeling towards him? A No, sir.
Q What were your other remarks? A I said no, sir, I didn't have any unkind feeling towards him.

(It being 5 o'clock, the Commission adjourns until 8:30 o'clock to-morrow morning.)

March 19, 1902.
Commission convened pursuant to adjournment.

Appearances:

MR. HUTCHINGS:

Q State your name? A Charles D. Kenney.
Q What is your post office? A Dawson now.
Q Are you a citizen of the Cherokee Nation? A Yes, sir; supposed to be.
Q Recognized as such are you? A Yes, sir.
Q How old are you? A There is no family record, my parents died when I was young, I just guess at my age, I am somewheres between 44 and 45 years old.
Q Were you personally acquainted with one Elbert or Buck Dawson? A I knew Buck Dawson when I saw him.
Q Did you know him in the state of Texas, if so state what time? A I knew Buck Dawson, knew him and saw him at different dates in Texas.
Q Well, in the year '81 in Clay County, Texas, did you ever see him? A It was in '81 or 82, I think I know him in both years.
Q Did you ever have any conversation with him in the presence of Bill Smith, Jiles Pippin and Joe Preston about his application for citizenship in the Cherokee Nation? A Mr. Dawson and Pippins were talking in regard to grass down there befo e re one time and it was mentioned, I was going up on the strip and Buck Dawson says "he an Indian" And Jiles said "yes, he is an Indian", and "By God," I believe is the way he spoke, "if I was an Indian I would not be punching cattle, I would have stock eating by grass."

Q What did he say about making application? A He said he was going to the Chickasaw Nation and prove up and get him some grass.
Q Who was that? A Buck Dawson.
Q Well, did anybody suggest about his going to the Cherokee Nation?
A Yes, sir, I told him, I says "why don't you go to the Cherokee Nation, why don't you go up home" I believe is the way I spoke it, "up amongst God's people," and he says "are they all white like you?" and Jiles spoke up and says "majority of them."
Q Well, what did he say to Jiles then? A He says "let's go up Jiles", just in a whole crowd of cow punchers, and Mr. Filspin says "Hell, I am going; brother John is getting ready to go now."
Q Well, then what did he say to you? A He says "Who are your best lawyers up there, Kenney," and I told him "Hooley Bell was counted the brainiest man in our country."
Q Well, do you know whether he claimed to have any Indian blood or what he was claiming in that country, whether white man or Indian?
A No, sir, I could not say what he was; he was generally known down there as Buck Dawson, a citizen of the State of Texas, that is all I know of him.

Mr. McKennon: The applicants object to all of the testimony of this witness because it is wholly incompetent and irrelevant.

Mr. McKennon:
Q Were you born and reared in the Cherokee Nation? A I can't tell you where I was born; I was raised here part of the time and in Bass County, Texas. B. W. Alberty was my Guardian.
Q Were you admitted to citizenship by the Council or Court? A I think both of them passed on me; I can't tell you the date.
Q About what time? A It was sometime in '80 though.
Q What tribunal first? A I don't know; I don't know either when I was admitted, I was re-instated at Council.
Q When? A I think it was in '87 or '88.
Q Haven't you been arrested for crime and charged with crime?
A Well, I didn't know that I was on trial; I have been arrested a hundred times I guess from here to the Rio Grande.
Q For what offense? A For gambling, stealing; if I am on trial I have had lots of them, I have been on the road.
MR. HASTINGS, of Counsel for Cherokee Nation:
Q Were you ever convicted? A No, sir.
Mr. McKennon: Applicant makes further objection to the testimony of this witness on account of his criminal character stated by him.

THOMAS B. BABBART, being duly sworn, testified as follows on part of the Cherokee Nation:

Q Did you know Aaron Butler? A Yes, sir.
Q Who was he? A He was a Cherokee Interpreter for the Court.
Q Do you know James Smith? A Yes, sir.
Q Who was he? A He was the Nation's attorney before the Court.
Q Well, did you about that time have a conversation with either Aaron Butler of Jim Smith in company with Mr. James Dawson? A Yes.
Q State the full particulars of it? A About that time this man Dawson and Butler come to me while they were all together, all three of them, and Butler come and called me off to one side, that was down at a colored church, it was after dark, and they called me off there and this man Dawson borrowed some money from me, he said he had to have it that night, his case was going to be submitted the next morning.
Q Well, did he say anything about whether he could get his case submitted if he had some money? A Well, from the language to me and Butler, he wanted this money, Smith had agreed to submit the case without further evidence in the matter.
Q Well, did you let him have the ten dollars? A Yes, sir.
Q Where did they go then? A They walked off up towards town.
Q Did they go together, those three? A Yes, sir.

MR. McKENNON:

Q Was that James Dawson, the leading applicant in that case?
A Yes, best of my recollection that was.
Q How old a man was he? A I don't know; I could not tell you; he looked, I don't know, he might have been--could not tell you just about how old he was.
Q Well, about how old was he, 35, 30 or 40? A Yes, he was older than that, from my judgment I guess he must have been 45 or 50 years old.
Q Is he living or dead? A I don't know.
Q Where have you been living? A I have been living down here near Tahlequah.
Q What was the man's name, Dawson's name? A Jim Dawson I think.
Q You are certain of that? A Yes, sir; I am pretty certain.
Q They came to you with Smith, the Prosecuting Attorney, and Butler, the Interpreter? A Yes, sir.
Q Dawson took you off to one side? A Butler took me to where Dawson was and introduced me to Dawson and vouched for Dawson being all right for the money.
Q When did you first make a statement of this matter to anybody?
A I guess--I don't remember when.
Q How long have you been in Muskogee this time?
A I have been here since, I was summoned here last Friday.
Q Did you ever make any statement to anybody about this before that time? A Yes, I talked to Butler about it.
Q When? A Oh, about, [illegible] been about two years ago, and Butler was talking to me about it; it was at my house.
Q Were you born a citizen? A Yes, sir.
Q You weren't admitted to citizenship by the Courts or Council?
A No, sir.
Q You have been living in the Cherokee Nation all your life?
A Well, I was born and raised here; I haven't been here all the time; I have been out and in.

Q You have never seen that ray Dawson since? A If I have I have never known it, but I seen him the next day.
Q You saw him and took a good look at him, and know about what kind of man he was? A Saw him around there about several times.
Q You think he was about 35 or 40 years old? A That would be my guess at it, my recollection.

Mr. McKennon: Applicants object to the testimony of this witness, all of it, because it is wholly incompetent and irrelevant.

DELIA A. BREWER, being duly sworn, testified as follows on part of the Cherokee Nation:

Q What was your father's name? A His name was Joseph Vann.
Q Was he called by any nicknames and if so how many, and what?
A None but the Cherokees, the full-bloods called him Joe Aney.
Q What does that name mean when you talk English? A Rich Joe.
Q Did any of them call him Big Joe Vann? A I don't know; he was a large man; larger than the other Joe Vann.
Q There was another Joe Vann? A Yes, sir.
Q Did your father have any sisters and brothers? A He had quite a number of sisters.
Q Did he have a half sister? A Had two half brothers.
Q Did he have a half sister? A Had several half sisters.
Q Who did they marry? A Different persons; I knew the names of all of them but I have a bad memory, but I know that there was one, a Mrs. Ibbie Wolfe, and Mrs. Lamer, she was first a Mrs. Nicholson and she became a Mrs. Lamer and lived in Alabama and never come to this country, but she has grandchildren in this country.
Q Well, did any of your father's sisters or half sisters ever marry a Rogers? A No, sir.
Q Never had any Rogers kin-folks? A No, sir, I certainly would have heard of them through my family, there was a great many of the kin-folks I never saw, but I heard of them.
Q The Dawson case was talked of here for many years, they claiming kin?
A I never knew until I understood they claimed to be kin to the Vanns, and I flatter myself that my family was prominent enough that they never claimed kin.
Q They never claimed kin at all? A No, sir.
Q Did your father ever had a sister or half sister by the name of Annie, Anna or Alsey? A No, sir.

Mr. McKennon: Applicants object to all the testimony of this witness because it is incompetent and irrelevant.

Q Was your father his youngest child? A Yes, sir.
Q Do you know about when your father was born? A Well, no, I don't, he died in '90 and he was 67 years old.
Q He died in about '90 and was about 67 years old when he died?
A Yes, sir.
Q And he was the youngest child? A Yes, sir.
Q Now, do you know how many children your grandfather had , that is brothers and sisters of your father? A I heard him say seven.
Q Well, did you ever hear your father or grandfather speak of whether or not your grandmother was a white woman or an Indian?
A Well, I heard my father speak about it, I don't know that I ever heard my grandmother say anything about it.
Q Well, what did he say about it? A I have heard him say his mother was not an Indian.
Q Did you fathercome here and apply once for citizenship?
A Yes, sir.
Q Was he admitted? A I think not.
Q Did you hear him make any statements about he ground he expected to get in? A He said his brothers had proved their rights here and if his brothers had any rights he did, but I don't know.
Q Well, in that connection didhe say whether his mother was an Indian or white woman? A Never heard him say that his mother was a white woman in speakin; about that, I don't know whether he said anything about that or not; I have heard him say his mother wasn't no Indian.

Mr. McKennon: Applicants object to the testimony of this witness because it is wholly irrelevant and incompetent.

Q In 1823? A Yes, sir.
Q And how old was he when he died, if you recollect? A He was between 64 and 67.
Q Did you ever hear your father speak of his relations, his father and mother, as to whether they were white people or Indians? A Yes, sir, they were white people.

Q. You knew whether in the family you grandfather was spoken of by the name of Annie, always? A. Yes, sir.

BY MR. McKENNON: Applicants object to the testimony of this witness because it is wholly irrelevant and incompetent.

ALEX S. LEWIS, being first duly sworn and being examined, testified as follows:

BY MR. HUTCHINGS:

Q State your name? A Alex S. Lewis.
Q What is your post-office? A Dawson, Indian Territory.
Q How old are? A 39 years.
Q What was your wife's maiden name? A Elizabeth Faralee Dawson.
Q Who was your wife's father and mother? A Her father was Samuel R. Dawson and her mother was the wife of Samuel R. Dawson, did you want her maiden name?
Q Well, if you know the maiden name of your wife's mother, state how you know it? A Well she was called Margarett, Margarett Queen was her maiden name.
Q The maiden name now of your wife's father's mother? A Why the maiden name of my wife's father's mother?
Q Yes, sir? A From what her husband and my father-in-law told me it was Annie Pruett.
Q What was the name of your wife's father's father? A My wife's grandfather on her father's side, Samuel Dawson.
Q And his wife's maiden name was Annie Pruett? A Yes, sir.
Q Did you know the old gentleman, Samuel Dawson, you wife's grandfather? A Yes, sir.
Q Personally? A Yes, sir.
Q What opportunities had you to get acquainted with him? A He lived with his youngest son, my father-in-law, and visited us, my wife and I, after we were married, stayed with us quite a while; I lived near my father-in-law and we visited very often.
Q When did he die? A '74.
Q Have you any particular method of recalling that date? A Well, I was away from the house when he was taken sick, and they sent for my wife and myself, and so when I got home my wife had gone to her father's to see her grandfather, he was sick, and I remember my first wife was a baby at that time.
Q And when was your first child born? A He was born December, '73.
Q You know how old you wife's father was when he died? A Why he was up in 60, but I don't remember his age.
Q Did the old original Samuel Dawson ever tell you his age? A Yes, sir, several times.
Q How old was he at the time of his death? A He was passed 94.
Q Did he ever tell you whether or not his wife Annie Pruett had any sister or brother? A Told me she only had one brother named Bob Pruett.
Q Have any of the members of the family named their children after him? A Make it a little plain, it is a little long; my wife's oldest brother was a particular favorite of his grandfather, and he always took this boy with him everywhere, and he has named one of his,- oldest child for this brother-in-law who was a particular favorite of his grandfather; named it for him I understood.
Q Now, what is his name? A Of course I don't know why he named it, but he gave him the name of Robert Pruett, and I understand it was on account of his grandfather thinking so much of Robert Pruett.
Q Did you ever hear the old Samuel Dawson speak of his brother-in-law? A Yes, sir; I have heard him say that he wished he knew what had become of Bob Pruett, he never had heard of him for a long time; didn't know where he was, or whether he was alive or not.

Q Now, I want the children of Samuel Dawson and Annie Pruett, how many of them did you know, first? A How many did I know personally?
Q Yes, sir? A John James, and Samuel R. Those were the only ones of his children that I remember personally.
Q Well, remember what you know of the family, what other children did he have? A Well he had two girls, as I understand the family history, he had two girls, first, and John Dawson was the third child, and the oldest boy was John Dawson.
Q Was John Dawson the oldest boy? A Yes, sir.
Q Which was the oldest girl? What is she known by now? A I think it was Mrs. Petty, nee Bettie Dawson.
Q And John Dawson was the oldest boy? A Yes, sir.
Q And Samuel R. Dawson was the youngest boy? A Yes, sir.
Q You know anything about the time John Dawson was born, have you any way of seeing at it, the oldest boy? A Yes, sir, I know what the oldest son and his wife told me.
Q What was that? A They said he was born in 1811.
Q Who was his oldest son? A Toliver M. Dawson; told me his father was born in 1811.
Q Do you remember now whether the old man had occasion to say whether his wife, Annie Pruett was an Indian or white woman, or ever said anything about it? A I know what the old man said that she was, I don't know that I ever heard the question approached in that way, I have heard him speak as to her blood, but it was in a different way that he reached it.
Q What blood did he say she was? A Well he said that she was the daughter of Mrs. Pruett, a white woman; and that her father was Captain John Rogers, a white man who lived with the Cherokee Indians, and traded with them.
Q Did he say who Captain John Rogers afterwards married? A Said he had a wife in the Cherokee Nation.
Q But that Annie Pruett was not her child? A No, sir, she was the child of Mrs. Pruett.
Q A white woman? A Yes, sir, that was the half sister of Bob Pruett.

BY MR. McKENNON:

Applicants object to all of the testimony of this witness, because it is wholly incompetent and irrelevant.

Q Did ever you apply for citizenship here? A Yes, sir; for my wife.
Q When? A My father-in-law made the application, I don't know exactly when it was, I think probably about '86, I couldn't say as to the date.
Q Before the Cherokee authorities? A Yes, sir.
Q Did he file an application before the Dawes Commission in 1896 also? A Him.
Q Yes, sir? A I don't think he did, no sir.
Q Did you? A I did.
Q On account of your wife? A Yes, sir.
Q Did you make affidavit to that application? A No, sir,
Q Who did? A I don't know, don't remember now.
Q You applied for your wife as an Indian by blood did you not? A Yes, sir.
Q Are you still an applicant? A No, sir.
Q Is she? A No, sir.
Q She was denied was she? A Yes, sir.
Q Was there an appeal taken from that? A Application was filed if I remember, before the Dawes Commission, and they rejected the case, and then I appealed it to the District Court, and it was rejected there and then I stopped.

Q Have you ever been arrested for any crime? A Yes, sir.
Q What? A Charge of murder.
Q Anything else? A No, sir.
Q Committed on the train? A Yes, sir.
Q In a train robbery? A Yes, sir, in a train robbery.
Q How long did you remain in jail? A Appealed the case to the Supreme Court, and it was reversed and sent back, and I was acquitted on that charge.
Q That all the crime you were ever charged with? A Yes, sir.
Q Haven't you been having some trouble with the Dawson family?
A Well me personally I have no trouble with any of them, there is one of my boys and one of W. A. Dawson's sons-in-law had some trouble.
Q You are not friendly with the Dawson family? A That son-in-law Mr. Wooley, and myself, don't speak, and I don't think his wife speaks to me either.
Q Well you are claiming some sort of lease on the Wooley farm, aren't you? A No, sir, I don't claim any lease on the Wooley farm.

B. W. ALBERTY, being first duly sworn, and being examined, testified as follows:
BY MR. HUTCHINGS:
Q State your name? A B. W. Alberty.
Q What is your post-office? A Tahlequah.
Q What is your present official position in the Cherokee Nation?
A Assistant Executive Secretary of the Cherokee Nation.
Q As such have you charge of the citizenship records and books etc. of the Nation? A Yes, sir.
Q Have you made search recently for the original records in the various cases of the Dawson family before citizenship courts in Council? A Yes, sir.
Q Have you got what records you found with you? A I find what's supposed to be the original papers in the case, all that I could find. (Produces papers and hands to Nation's attorney.)
Q Where did you find those papers? A I found them in the desk in which papers of that character are filed away in the Executive Office at Tahlequah. (Applicant's attorneys examine papers produced by witness.)

Testimony for Claimants.

Witness:

Dr. Baker sworn testified as follows. My name is Arthur Baker I reside at Berryvill, Arkansas, Carroll County, my age is 73 years, I am not a Cherokee, I lived in the Cherokee Nation about three years when I first came to Arkansas I have been acquainted with him since he became a citizen of Carroll County some thirty five years (line drawn through the last three words,) 35 years at my mother's house near Calhoun I became acquainted with the claimants Robt Dawsons grandmother on mother's side, she was frequently at my mother's house; though she Anna Pruit lived in the Nation side. She claimed to be a half sister to Big Joe Vann, also claimed to be half Cherokee; the first time she brought the claimant's mother to my mother's house she the claimant's mother was about grown, when I was a lit le boy she called her daughter Polly Rogers said Capt. John Rogers who ran a boat up the river was the father of the child; I saw the girl frequently there at my mother's and there at Louis Rannes Store I saw her occasionally until I was 15 or 16 years old and I think then Old Capt John Rogers took her off to school. I saw her no more from the time Old Capt. John Rogers took her off till I saw her here in Arkansas the wife of Old Samuel Dawson. I stayed all night there and we and I had a talk over our old matters, and I asked her when she became acquainted with Dawson and she said at the time she was going to school. And she said after she left school that Dawson followed her home to the Nation and they were there married, I have told that precisely in the words she used.

Capt John Rogers claimed to be one fourth Cherokee, the claimant is the son of Polly Rogers and I know Polly Rogers to be the daughter of Anna Pruet, and I know the claimant to be the son of Polly Dawson Capt Rogers then resided in the Cherokee Country about twelve miles from Calhoun on the Hiawassa River.

Anna Pruet resided in the Cherokee Nation as long as I stayed there the Dawsons when I got acquainted with them Arkansas were recognized where they were as Cherokees, Robt Dawsons children is Buck, John, Marion, and two girls; the children named in the petition I recognize as being the claimants.

Question by Solicitor:
Ques. 1 How many children did Polly Rogers have?
Ans. 1 Five, I think that's all.
Ques. 2 Did you any something about someone being married twice?
Ans. 2 The claimant was married twice.
Ques. 3 Could Anna Pruet speak Cherokee?
Ans. 3 Yes she could speak it well
Ques. 4 Did Polly Rogers speak Cherokee?
Ans. 4 She could when she was young.
Ques. 5 How far do you live from Anna Pruet?
Ans. 5 Just across the river about 3/4 of a mile.
Ques. 6 Was Calhoun in the Cherokee Nation?
Ans.6 It was on both sides of the river Part in the Nation and part out in the State.

Ques. 7 Which Marriage was it went to Texas?
Ans. 7 George went first then John went they were the sons of old man Marriage that lived up here near the line.
Ques. 8 Did the claimant go to Texas?
Ans. 8 No the claimant didn't go to Texas.
Ques. 9 What connection was claimant and Polly Rogers?
Ans. 9 The claimant is the son of Polly Rogers Marion here is the grandson of Polly Rogers.
Ques. 10 Where does claimant now live?
Ans. 10 He lives in Carroll County, Arkansas.
Ques. 11 Do you know what relation old Captain John Rogers was to Charlotte Rogers here in Coosewaccoogee?
Ans. 11 They claimed kin but what kin I don't know there were two Capt. John Rogers' in the Nation I am speaking of the time when I first came to this 1830 country about the year 1830.
Ques. 12 Was Anna Pruet the maiden name of Claimant's grandmother
Ans. 12 Yes that was her maiden name the Indians called her Sinee.

Joseph Dawson introduced for Claimants, sworn in open Court testified as follows:

Jos. Dawson, am a Cherokee live in the Cherokee Nation, am 31 years old.

Lulu Dauthett and Dallas Dauthett, the Claimants are Cherokees. Fannie Dawson was their mother. Fannie Dawson was a Cherokee, that is what I was always told. Her father was E. Dawson. E. Dawson was my brother. Mrs. Dauthett is not living now: the last time I saw Lula, and Dallas Dauthett, they were in Texas. But I have heard since that they are in the Cherokee Nation. E. Dawson recognizes them as his grandchildren and I have known them ever since they were born.

By Solicitor:

Lula is about 10 years old. The Dallas is about 5 or 6 years old. I heard that their father is now at Vinita Cherokee Nation, E. Dawson is Elbert Dawson. The applicants' mother has been dead about three or four years. She died at Hillsboro, Texas.

I was not present when their mother and E. Dawson had eight children to the best of my recollection, or 9. Fannie, Francis, Catherine, Zunie, Rob, Smith, Forsh, Bert, Ella. All living but two, Fannie and Smith. They are all living in Texas when I left there. I am a brother to F. M. Dawson, we are full brothers. "Now this day comes the above cause for final hearing, Samuel R. Dawson, bases his application for readmission to citizenship in the Cherokee Nation upon the ground that he is the son of Samuel Dawson a white man, Polly Rogers the alleged daughter of Captain John Rogers and Chilsey Pruitt, said to be a half sister of Joseph Vann, commonly known as Rich and who were of Cherokee blood. It is admitted that John Rogers and Chilsey Pruitt died before the said act upon their names would appear if living at the time and practically under the 7th section of the Act of December 8th, 1835, creating the Commission on Citizenship, were made but in support of the application. It is urged that certain members of the Dawson family and full brothers of the applicant were re-admitted to citizenship by the commission on citizenship commonly known as "the Tahlo Court", and the "Supreme Court", and are now residing as citizens in the Cherokee Nation. In the opinion of this Commission the sufficiency of the foundation upon which determined the decision of the Commission of the evidence not introduced to authorize the admission of the present application is not relivent to the issue now pending. The 7th section of the Act of December 8th, 1886, before named provides, that "the Commission shall give a hearing to any person applying for citizenship in the Cherokee Nation upon the ground of Cherokee blood or descent, but such applicant must be a person, or the lineal descendant of a person whose name appears upon the census rolls of Cherokees taken by the United States." As are hereafter enumerated, neither the name of the applicant nor that of the person of whom he claims to be a lineal descendant appearing upon either, said Roll the Commission adjudge and decree that (Sarge) E. Dawson and family are not entitled to re-admission to citizenship in the Cherokee Nation as Cherokees by blood." This opinion including the cases of Andrew J. Dawson, James K. P. Dawson, Jounnah Dawson nee Jounnah Dawson and Jane Queen, nee Jane Dawson, and their families, as enumerated in their respecti e applic ti ns.

Commission's No.....
for citizenship in the Cherokee Nation.

Your respondent, S. H. Mayes, Principal Chief of the Cherokee Nation, comes now and demurs the said application, and for the grounds thereof says:

1st. That this Commission has not jurisdiction over the parties or subject matter of this controversy.

2nd. That the application does not state facts sufficient if true, to show that the applicant . . . entitled to citizenship.

Respondent not waiving his aforesaid demurrer, but insisting upon the same for answer to said application, says that John Rogers through whom the petitioner claims to derive right to citizenship in the Cherokee Nation, is not now, - . . and has not been a citizen of the Cherokee Nation, since the removal of said Nation, west to the Indian Territory, as at present located and defined; that his name does not appear on any of the authenticated rolls of said nation; that neither nor any of his ancestors now reside, or ever have resided in the Cherokee Nation and Indian Territory, as citizens thereof.

See case Nation's No. 1573.

Having fully answered, your respondent asks to be hence dismissed.

	Rejected April 26, 1889.

Now this day comes the above case for final hearing, Samuel R. Dawson bases his application for admission to Citizenship in the Cherokee Nation upon the ground that he is the son of Samuel Dawson, a white man, Polly Rogers, the alleged daughter of Captain John Rogers, and Cilley Pruett said to be half sister of Joseph Vann, col'd. known as rich and who were of Cherokee Blood. It is admitted that John Rogers Chilsey Proctor filed before the Commission their claim to new born citizens at the time, and rejected in the 7th Section of the Act of December 6th, 1886, creating the Commission on Citizenship made, but in support of the application it is urged that certain records of the Dawson family the full brothers of the applicant were admitted to citizenship by the Commission on Citizenship then only known as the "Takes Court" and "Spears Court" and are now residing as citizens in the Cherokee Nation. In the opinion of this Commission the sufficiency of the consideration which determined the decisions of those Commissions or the testimony now introduced to authorize the admission of the present applicant is not involved in the issue now pending. The 7th Section of the Act of December 6th, 1886, before mentioned provides that the Commission according to any person applying for citizenship in the Cherokee Nation upon the grounds of Cherokee blood or descent, but such applicant must be a person, or the lineal descendant of a person whose name appears upon the Dawes roll of Cherokees taken by the United States, as hereafter mentioned, neither the name of the applicant nor that of the person of whom he claims to be a lineal descendant appearing upon either of said rolls, the Commission adjudge and decree that Samuel R. Dawson and family are not entitled to re-admission of citizenship in the Cherokee Nation as Cherokees by blood. This opinion includes the case of Andrew J. Dawson, James K. P. Dawson, Joannah Barber, nee Joannah Dawson, and Jane Queen, nee Jane Dawson and their families as enumerated in their respective applications.

W. C. Rogers being duly sworn on oath deposes and says: that he is a citizen and resident of the Cherokee Nation, Indian Territory. That his post-office address is Skiatook, Ind. Ter. That he was born and raised in the above said Nation and Territory; that he is 46 years of age:

Affiant further states that he is slightly acquainted with Irena J. House, an applicant for admission to citizenship in the Cherokee Nation as shown by copy of her application.

Affiant further states that his father's name was Charlie Rogers who was a son of Captain John Rogers and the said Capt. John Rogers was the only man of that name that ever lived in the Cherokee Nation that this affiant ever heard of; that the said Capt. John Rogers this affiants grandfather lived at Grand Saline, I. T. and died in Washington, D. C.

This affiant states that his father Charlie Rogers had one sister and five brothers viz. Synthia Rogers, Leslie Rogers, George Rogers, Nelson Rogers, Granvil Rogers and Randolph Rogers; that he (this affiant) was well and personally acquainted with the above said families except Granvil and Randolph Rogers, who were killed when this affiant was quite young.

This affiant was then 24 years of age, that his father, Charlie Rogers died, that his father never had any sister, Emily (Mrs. Crum) never had any brothers or sisters, that she was an only child; that his father Polly Rogers named in the application for citizenship of Frank, Mamie, Ida and a sister Emily Rogers; that his father never had but one sister viz, Cynthia Rogers Crum, that of last ever heard of; that this affiant was well acquainted with his aunt Cynthia Crum."

And here the following is inserted on separate paper:

"EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT OF
CHEROKEE NATION, I, John L. Adair, Executive Secretary of the Cherokee Nation, do hereby certify that I have compared the foregoing with the original record in this Department, and that the same are correct copies and transcripts therefrom.

In witness whereof I have hereunto set my hand and affixed the Great Seal of said Cherokee Nation, at Tahlequah, this, the 5th day of Feb. 1896.

(signed) John L. Adair,
(seal) Executive Secretary."

Then the above affidavit continues:

"(nee) Rogers that she lived with this affiant's father for a number of years prior to here death.

Affiant states that he has often talked with his father, Charlie Rogers and his aunt Cynthia Crum (nee Rogers) about his relations but that they never spoke of any other sister in their family; that this affiant was about 20 years of age when his aunt, Cynthia Crum died; that they told him there never was (words "never was" marked over with ink) father never had any other daughter or daughter other than Cynthia Rogers

Affiant states that his father told him a number of times, that this affiants grandfather Capt John Rogers never had any other family other than the one above mentioned; that this affiant never heard his father Charlie Rogers or any of his relatives speak of his grandfather Capt John Rogers owning or running a boat up any river.

Affiant states his father Charlie Rogers was born on Big Mulberry, South-east of Van Buren, Arkansas, in the year of 1817.

Further affiant saith not.

Your respondent, S. H. Mayes, Principal Chief of the Cherokee Nation, comes now and demurs to said application, and for [illegible] cause says:

1st. That the Commission has no jurisdiction over the parties or subject matter of this controversy, and not legal right, however, to hear and determine the same.

2nd. That the application does not state facts sufficient, if true, to show that the applicants are entitled to citizenship.

Respondent not waiving the aforesaid demurrer, but insisting upon the same for answer to said application, says that the said [illegible] claims to derive their right to citizenship in the Cherokee Nation, is not now, and has not been a citizen of the Cherokee Nation, since the removal of said Nation, west to the Indian Territory and present located and defined; that his name does not appear upon any of the recognized rolls of said Nation; that neither [illegible] ancestors now resident or ever have resided in the Cherokee Nation and Indian Territory, as citizens thereof.

Having fully answered, your respondent asks to be hence dismissed.

VS
CHEROKEE NATION, APPELLEE.

PETITION FOR APPEAL FROM THE DECISION OF THE COMMISSION TO THE FIVE CIVILIZED TRIBES.

Come now the appellants in the above entitled cause and petition the Court to grant an appeal in said cause from a decision of the Commission, known as the Dawes Commission, created and empowered to treat with the Five Civilized Tribes of Indians, to-wit: the Cherokee, Creek, Choctaw, Chickasaw, and Seminole Indians, and to pass upon and decide applications for citizenship in the said Five Civilized Tribes, which decision by said Commission was rendered by authority of, but not in accordance with, an Act of Congress passed and approved June 10th, 1896, and by which decision on the 29 day of October, 1896 the aforesaid appellants were denied their rights to citizenship in the Cherokee Nation, Indian Territory.

The facts relied upon by the appellants to establish their rights to citizenship in the Cherokee Nation, as aforesaid are as follows: to-wit: The affidavits of E. Dawson, S. E. Dawson T. A. Dawson, F. M. Dawson.

Said affidavits fully and conclusively establishing the fact that said applicants are Cherokee Indians, by blood and descent, and entitled to rights of citizenship in the Cherokee Nation.

Said affidavits, together with the application, of said appellants, were, prior to September the 10th, 1896, filed with and submitted to said Commission for its investigation, consideration and decision.

That a certified copy of said application, together with the accompanying affidavits, were served upon the Chief, or Attorney General, of said Cherokee Nation, prior to September the 10th, 1896.

The errors of the Commission in rejecting the claims for citizenship of said appellants are the grounds for appeal to this Court, to-wit:

FIRST. The Commission erred in rendering its decision on said claims adversely to the appellants and against the proof submitted by said appellants.

SECOND. The Commission erred in investigating the claims of appellants and denying same during the absence of a majority of the members of the Commission.

THIRD. The Commission erred in refusing the appellants the right and privilege of examining the proof submitted by appellee in support of the answers filed by the appellee and denying the appellants the right of filing replication to appellee's answer or producing proof in rebuttal of the same.

FOURTH. The Commission erred in denying the appellants the right of a trial of their claims by a competent jury, as granted to them by the law and constitution of the United States.

FIFTH. The Commission erred in refusing appellants the right to be present in person, or by attorney, during the trial and determination of their claims before the said Commission.

SIXTH. The Commission erred in refusing to issue process for witnesses and to send for persons and papers when requested to do so by the appellants.

SEVENTH. The Commission erred in deciding against the right of these appellants to be enrolled as citizens of the Cherokee Nation.

EIGHTH. The Commission erred in deciding against blood, holding that blood was not a test of the right of citizenship in said Cherokee Nation.

NINTH. The Commission erred in deciding against the question of residence, holding that residence in the Cherokee Nation was not a test of the right of citizenship in the said Cherokee Nation.

TENTH. The Commission erred in not entering upon their docket or record the grounds upon which the claims of appellants were denied and refusing to notify appellants the grounds of denial or rejection.

ELEVENTH. The Commission erred in examining the claims and proof of appellants and denying the same while the Commission was not clothed with any legal authority, nor had jurisdiction, to render decision on said claims nor deny the same.

TWELVTH. That the Act of Congress approved June the 10th, 1906, was unconstitutional and had no power or legal right to confer jurisdiction on said Commission to try and determine the rights to citizenship of said appellants, and said Commission erred in determining the rights and denying the same to said appellants.

THIRTEENTH. That Congress had no power by enactment to create, appoint and empower a judiciary, and said Commission erred in denying the claims of said appellants without any legal authority to do so.

Wherefore, the appellants of this cause pray that an appeal be granted to this Court and that a trial, de novo, be granted the appellants, and that said appellants be permitted to introduce new testimony, and that an order be made requiring said Commission to send all pleadings, papers and records filed before it in this cause to this Court, and that the Cherokee Nation, the appellee in this case, be cited to appear at this Court and filed and defend against the appeal and show why the Appellants should not by the rules, orders and decisions of this Court be adjudged entitled to citizenship in the said Cherokee Nation, and the appellants will ever pray.

Mr. W. A. Gibson, Special Master, to Whom this case was referred, submits the following report:

IN THE UNITED STATES COURT IN THE INDIAN TERRITORY,
NORTHERN DISTRICT, AT MUSKOGEE.

JOANNA BARBER ET AL)
-vs)-) REPORT OF SPECIAL MASTER.
THE CHEROKEE NATION.)

---oOo---

I, W. A. Gibson, Special Master herein, show to the Court that under the general order herein, I have examined the proof and pleadings herein, which are hereto attached and form a part hereof, and that I find as follows:

I

This this cause was instituted on September 8th, 1896, before the Dawes Commission to the Five Civilized Tribes, by Joanna Barber, and Isaac J. Barber, her husband, and their children, Onie E., William R., James E., Johnnie and Joel A. Barber. That Joel A. Barber has the following children, Hattie Tolliver, Oscar A., Frankie C., Jesse and Ethel Barber. That the application includes also Mary A. Boyer and her child Ihez Boyer, Emma L. Murphy and her child Claud Murphy, Emma Moore and her children Anna J., Jackson D., Mary M. Gladys, Attie B. Hunt and her child Dorothy Hunt, Alex J. Smart and her children Oscar A. and Emzey L. Smart, Joanna J. Carlinhouse and her children Lyrtie O., Cora L., and Bertha M. Carlinhouse. That this application was by the Commission tried and rejected on October 20th, 1896, with no reasons given for the decision, and that subsequently on December 2nd, 1896, the claimants appealed to this Court. That the Parties all live in the Cherokee Nation, Indian Territory.

II

That the parties claim the right to be admitted to citizenship in the Cherokee Nation by reason of their descent from Polly Rogers, who is claimed to be a Cherokee Indian by blood. That there filed in support of their application the affidavits of S. R. Dawson, E. Dawson, Francis M. Dawson, and W. A. Dawson, who testify that Joanna Barber is the daughter of Elizabeth Tolley, nee Dawson, who was the daughter of Polly Rogers, who married a white man by the name of Samuel Dawson, and that Polly Rogers was the daughter of Captain John Rogers and Ailsey Vann. That these witnesses are all Cherokee citizens by blood, now living with the claimants, and according to their testimony, related to them by blood.

The appellee introduces to controvert this testimony the decision of the Cherokee Commission on Citizenship, rendered in the year 1907, in which these claimants were rejected by this Commission and also the affidavits of W. C. Rogers a grandson of Captain John Rogers, and Mrs. Sarah Carter, a granddaughter of Captain John Rogers, both of whom state that they never heard of any daughter of said Captain John Rogers by the name of Polly Rogers, and that Cynthia Rogers was his only daughter.

III

The claimants contend that they are residents of the Cherokee Nation, and are relatives of the Dawson family, who are recognized citizens of the Cherokee Nation by blood, are entitled to be admitted to the Cherokee Nation as citizens by blood, while the appellee contends that John Rogers, through whom the petitioners claim, is not now and has not been a citizen of the Cherokee Nation since the removal west; that his name does not appear on the rolls of the Cherokee Nation, and that he nor his ancestors ever resided in the Cherokee Nation as citizens thereof.

The premises considered, in view of the unsettled condition of affairs in the Cherokee Nation at the time when Captain John Rogers, the ancestors through whom these claimants trace their Cherokee blood, lived, and especially in view of the absence of a marriage law and of records pertaining to marriage, I am of the opinion that these claimants have proved that they are descended from Capt. John Rogers, who resided in the Cherokee Nation, and was a recognized citizen, though they do not show that he was ever enrolled as such, and I therefore find that the claimants are all residents of the Cherokee Nation, Indian Territory, and that they are all Cherokee Indians by blood. That they have resided in the Cherokee Nation since 1907, and probably longer, though the proof does not state definitely how long they have so resided.

I ask that the Court allow me a reasonable fee for my services here in as Special Master.

Respectfully submitted this 16 day of August, 1907.

(signed) W. A. Gibson,
SPECIAL MASTER.

My fee paid.
No Exceptions filed."

BY THE COURT.

From this report it appears that the claimants base their right to be enrolled as citizens of the Cherokee Nation upon the grounds that they are the descendants of a Cherokee Indian by blood, but their ancestors through whom they claim have never resided in the Cherokee Nation as now constituted. It appears that they have resided in the Cherokee Nation since 1907, and probably longer, though the proof does not state definitely how long they have so resided. It does not appear that the applicants or any of their ancestors have ever been recognized as members of the Nation.

The judgment of the United States Court in re-petitioning this case be affirmed, and the application of the claimants to be enrolled as citizens of the Cherokee Nation is denied."

BY MR. HUTCHINGS:

We now introduce the original record in the citizenship case of Irene J. House, et al., before the Commission in 1896, the court number of same being 238. said case being denied by the Commission; appealed to the United States Court, and the decision of the Commission affirmed.

In this case we desire to call especial attention to the certified copy filed therein of the testimony of Arthur Baker, the certified copy having been made in 1894, being the testimony of Dr. Baker in the case of Robert Dawson against the Nation, Number 108, before the Citizenship Commission, and which was made January 19, 1893.

BY MR. McKENNON: To all of which the applicants object, because the same is immaterial, irrelevant and incompetent.

The papers in Court No 238 just introduced above, are as follows:

"Office of Commission on Citizenship,
Cherokee Nation, Tahlequah, January 19, 1902.

No. 108.
Robert Dawson et al) Exhibit C.
vs
Cherokee Nation.

Testimony for Claimants.

Witness, Dr. Arthur Baker sworn testified as follows:

My name is Arthur A. Baker I reside at Berryvill Arkansas Carroll County my age is 75 years I am not a Cherokee. I lived in the Cherokee Nation about three years when I first came to Arkansas I have been acquainted with him since he became a citizen of Carrolls County some 35 years - At my Mothers house near Calhoun I became acquainted with the claimants Robt Dawson grandmother on mother's side she was frequently at my mothers house though she Anna Pruet lived in the Nation side; She claimed to be a half sister to Big Joe Vann, also claimed to be half Cherokee, the first time she brought the claimants mother to my mothers house she the mothers mother was about grown when I was a little boy. She called her daughter Polly Rogers, Said Captain John Rogers who ran a boat up the River was the father of the child; I saw the girl frequently there at my mothers and there at Louis Ramses Store.

I saw her occasionally until I was 15 or 16 years of old and I think then Old Capt. John Rogers took her off to school, I saw her no more from the time Old Capt. John Rogers took her off till I saw her here in Arkansas the wife of old Samuel Dawson, I stayed all night there and we and I had a talk over our old matters and I asked her where she became acquainted with Dawson and she said at the time she was going to school and she said after she left school that Dawson followed her home, to the Nation and they were there married. I have told that precisely in the words that she used, Capt John Rogers claimed to be one fourth Cherokee. The claimant is the son of Polly Rogers, and I know Polly Rogers to be the daughter of Anna Pruett and I know the claimant to be the son of Polly Dawson.

Capt. Rogers then resided in the Cherokee Country about twenty (Word "twenty" marked through) twelve miles below Calhoun on the Hiwassee River Anna Pruett resided in the Cherokee Nation as long as I stayed there the Dawson when I got acquainted with them Arkansas were recognized there they were as Cherokees. Robert Dawson children is Buck, John, Marian and two girls, The children named in th petition I recognized as being the claimants.

Question by Solicitor:

No. 1 How many children had Polly Rogers have?

P. L. Dawson being duly sworn according to law deposes and says:

My name is F. M. Dawson; I am 54 years of age; My post office address is Afton Indian Territory I am a farmer by occupation and reside in the Cherokee Nation.

I am a recognized Cherokee citizen by blood. I was born in Carroll County Arkansas near Berryville. I derived my Cherokee Indian blood from my grandmother whose maiden name was Polly Rogers through my father Robert Dawson, My grandmother Polly Rogers was a Cherokee Indian and was married to Samuel Dawson my grand father in the old Cherokee Nation in Tennessee. My grand parents Samuel Dawson and his wife Polly came west from the Old Cherokee Country in about 1832 and settled in Western Arkansas and later came on to the Indian Territory and the father of this affiant Robert Dawson and family settled in the Cherokee Nation, Indian Territory, Robert Dawson, the father of the affiant was also a recognized citizen of the present Cherokee Nation by reason of his Cherokee Indian blood.

The said Robert Dawson father of this affiant and Elizabeth Dawson who married John Petty were full brother and sister by blood, both being children of said Samuel Dawson and his wife Polly Dawson whose maiden name was Polly Rogers The said Elizabeth Petty was the mother Of Joanna Barber who is a full cousin by blood of this affiant in the Indian side. The said Joanna Barber is the mother of Irena J. House nee Barber who is a second cousin of this affiant in the Indian side.

This affiant further states that he has seventy five to a hundred blood relatives who reside in the Cherokee Nation and are recognized Cherokee Indians by blood and drew their per capita money all the last payment: said citizens and relatives derived their Indian blood from the same source that the above named Irene J. House, derives her Indian blood and right.

This statement I have made to John H. Koogler, a Notary Public at Muskogee Indian Territory and it has been written down by him at my dictation. Such part of this testimony which refers to matters occuring previous to my recollection I know by means of family history and traditions which facts I have always been taught and told of by my parents and grand parents from childhood up, ta facts stated as occuring since My childhood I know of my personal knowledge. Affiant further states that he is not personally interested in the prosecution of the application of said Irena J. House for citizenship in the Cherokee Nation.

EXHIBIT D.

E. Dawson, being duly sworn according to law on oath states: My name is E. Dawson; I am 61 years old; My post office address is Talala, Ind. Ter. I am a farmer by Occupation, and reside in Coowescoowee District- Cherokee Nation. I am a recognized Cherokee Indian by blood, and exercise all the rights and immunities of a Cherokee Citizen now living in the present Cherokee Nation. I was born in Carroll County Arkansas near Berryville. I derived my Cherokee Indian blood from my Grandmother Polly Rogers through my father, Robert Dawson. My grandmother Polly Rogers was a Cherokee Indian and was married to my grandfather Samuel Dawson in the old Cherokee Nation in Tennessee. My Grand Parents, Samuel Dawson and his wife Polly Dawson whose maiden name was Polley Roger came West from the Old Cherokee Country in about the year 1832, and settled in Western Arkansas, and later came on to the Cherokee Nation. My father Robert Dawson was a recognized member of the Cherokee Nation when he died, by reason of his Cherokee Indian blood.

The said Robert Dawson, the father of this affiant, and Elizabeth Dawson who married John Petty were full brother and sister by blood, both being children of the said Samuel Dawson and Polly Dawson his wife she being the same Polly Rogers as aforesaid. The said Elizabeth Petty was the mother of Joanah Barber who is a full cousin by blood of this affiant on the Indian side, the said Joanah Barber is the mother of Irena J. House, whose maiden name was Irena J. Barber and a second cousin of this affiant on the Cherokee Indian side. This affiant further states that he has seventy five to a hundred blood relatives who reside in the Cherokee Nation and are recognized Cherokee Indians of the present Cherokee Nation and exercise all the rights and privileges of such Cherokee citizens, they having drawn their shares of the Strip money at the last per capita payment made by the Cherokee Nation.

Said citizens and relatives derived their Cherokee Indian blood from the same source, as did the above named Irena J. House.

I have made this statement before J. Barrickman, Notary Public at Talala, Ind. Ter, and affiant further states that he has no personal interest in the prosecution of the claim for citizenship in the Cherokee Nation of the said Irena J. House.

That the above facts which are within the personal knowledge of the affiant or within his years of discreetion he knows personally, and the other facts which occured before the recollection of affiant he testifies to that what he has been taught from his family history and traditions.

That the relationship existing among all his people in the Cherokee Nation he knows from his personal knowledge and that they are related to the Cherokee Indian side.

"Irene J. House et al,
vs. No. 238
Cherokee Nation.

Mr. M. A. Gibson, Special Master to whom this case was referred, submits the following report: (Insert report)

IN THE UNITED STATES COURT IN THE INDIAN TERRITORY.

NORTHERN DISTRICT AT MUSKOGEE.

IRENE J. HOUSE ET AL

VS No. 238 REPORT OF SPECIAL MASTER.

THE CHEROKEE NATION.

----------oOo----------

I, N. A. Gibson, Special Master herein, show to the Court that under the general order herein, I have examined the proof and pleadings on file in this case which are made a part of this report, and that I find as follows:-

I

That this case is in reality a branch of Case No. 90, Joanna Barber vs Cherokee Nation, the principal claimant herein being Irene J. House a daughter of Joanna Barber.

That this cause was instituted on September 2, 1896 at which time application was made to the Commission to the Five Civilized Tribes for citizenship by blood in the Cherokee Nation.

That this case was tried by the said Commission on November 24, 1896 and the applicants denied, no reasons being given for the decision, and that on January 30, 1897, the parties appealed from said decision to this Court.

That this application was made by Irene J. House, her husband, W. J. House, and their children Chas., C. Winston T., and Henry V. House. That they file in support of their application the affidavits of Joanna Barber, F. . Dawson, Arther A. Baker, E. Dawson, and W. A. Dawson. That these Dawson witnesses are citizens by blood of the Cherokee Nation, and state that they are related by blood to the claimants herein on the Cherokee side. The claimants base their contention of a right to Cherokee citizenship upon the fact that the claimant Irene J. House is the daughter of Joanna Barber, who is the daughter of Elizabeth Pet y, who w s the da ghter of Polly Rogers, and that Polly Rogers was the daughter of Captain John Rogers and Ailsey Vann, who were recognized Cherokee citizens by blood. That the testimony shows t t this Dawson family are recognized citizens of the Cherokee Nation, and that the claimants herein are cousins by blood upon the Indian side, and t t they all claim through a com on ancestor, Polly Rogers and Captain John Rogers and Ailsey Vann, who were all recognized Cherokee Indians.

II

The appellee introduces in defense the record of the application of these claimants to the Cherokee Commission on Citizenship in the year 1896, and the record of the rejection of the claimants, and further the affidavits of F. . Rogers, and Mrs. Sarah Carter, a grand daughter both of whom state that they never heard of any d ughter of Captain John Rogers by the name of Polly Rogers, and that he had only one daughter, whose name was Cynthia.

III

The Claimants contend t at they are recognized citizens of the Cherokee Nation and are relatives of the Dawsons, who are recognized citizens of the Cherokee Nation by blood, are entitled to be admitted to the Cherokee Nation as citizens by blood, while the appellee contends that John Rogers, through whom the petitioners claim, is not now and has not been a citizen of the Cherokee Nation since the removal west. That his name does not appear on the rolls of the Nation, and that neither he nor his ancestors ever resided in the Cherokee Nation as citizens thereof.

IV.

The premises considered, I find that the claimants are the descendants of Captain John Rogers, and that it was entirely possible that in the condition of arrairs at that early date in the Cherokee Nation, especially owing to the absence of a marriage law and of records pertaining to marriage, that these claimants should be the descendants of Captain John Rogers by a daughter, Polly Rogers, of whom the affiants for the appellee may never have heard.

I find that the claimants are residents of the Cherokee Nation, Indian Territory, where they have resided since 1887, and that they are Cherokee Indians by blood.

I ask that the Court allow me a reasonable fee for my services herein as Special Master.

Respectfully submitted, this 9 day of Nov 1897.

(signed) H. A. Gibson,
Special Master.

My fee paid,
No Exceptions filed."

BY MR. HUTCHINGS:

Well we close for the present.

TESTIMONY INTRODUCED ON BEHALF OF THE APPLICANTS:

D. C. DUNCAN, being first duly sworn, and being examined, testified as follows:

BY MR. MCKENNON:

Q. Please state your name, age and residence? A My name is D. C. Duncan, my age is 72 years, my residence, Vinita, Indian Territory.
Q Are you a duly recognized citizen of the Cherokee Nation by blood? A I am.
Q You gave testimony in this case once before did you not, before the Dawes Commission? A I did.
Q Before this Commission I will say, this Commission? A The Dawes Commission? A Why I don't recollect who the Commissioner was, that was taken at Vinita, ex parte.
Q Were you in any way connected with the Cherokee citizenship Commission in 1883 known as the "Tehee Commission"? A I was Clerk of that Commission.

Q For what length of time? A I don't recollect the exact length of time, I think it was about thirty days, during the continuance of that Commission, existance of that Commission.
Q You were the only clerk it had during its existance were you?
A I think I was.
Q You were Clerk of that Commission when it rendered a decision in favor of Robert Dawson et als, as found on page 114, of its record, numbered 108 (witness examines record referred to.) now in the possession of this Commission? A I was.
Q The members of that Commission were the same as shown by the signatures to this judgment were they? A The same, yes, sir.
Q Thomas Tehee, President of the Commission, Alex Wolfe and T. F. Wilson, Commissioners, that is correct, is it? A That's correct.
Q Were you present when this case was under consideration by that Commission and when it rendered this judgment in the case? A I was.
Q Were you at that time acquainted with F. M. Dawson, commonly known as "Mad Dawson", Campbell Taylor and Samuel H. Benge, who were attorneys, who were Cherokee attorneys at that time? A I might say that I merely know Mr. Dawson; all I know of him was I saw him here as a party to the suit. I know Mr. Taylor and Mr. Benge quite extensively; I have known them a number of years.
Q They were recognized Cherokee citizens were they? A They were.
Q Was Taylor not known generally as a Citizenship Attorney?
A I think he was.
Q Do you remember seeing him and Benge present at the time this case was under consideration by the Court? A Why I do not recollect seeing Mr. Benge, I cannot recollect, but I can recollect of seeing Mr. Taylor about the Court room now and then.
Q Do you know who submitted the case to the Court for the applicants? A Let me understand the meaning of that; who brought the case?
Q Who called up the case? A No, I don't recollect.
Q Do you remember whether that Commission rendered any other decision than that found upon this record in that case? A I never had any knowledge only but one decision.
Q Was that in favore of or against the applicants? A It was in favor of them; I will say this: that if there was another decision other than the one that appears on the docket now before you, I have no recollection of it.
Q The only decision you have any knowledge of was recorded by you in your book as here shown was it not? A That is the only one that I have any knowledge of.
Q Did Dawson pay you any money in connection with that case?
A He did not.
Q Did he promise to pay you any money for your influence [illegible] in that case? A Never.
Q Did he pay money, either directly or through any other [illegible] for my influence in that case?
A Never.
Q Have any knowledge of his having paid to the Court [illegible] member of the Court any money for the purpose of influencing [illegible] in that case? A None whatever.
Q You have opportunity of observing his conduct during that [illegible] time? A The only opportunity that I had was during the session of the Commission; I saw but very little of him [illegible] of the Commission; now and then I would see him in [illegible]
Q Did you see anything in his conduct toward that Court which indicated that he had used undue influence in procuring that judgment? A I never observed anything of the kind; nothing that awakened a suspicion in my mind that he was engaged in that kind of practice.

Q Did Campbell Taylor at any time after the rendition of that judgment pay to you any money as coming through him from Bud Dawson for any services which you had rendered to him in that case?
A Yes, he paid me some.
Q What amount? A My recollection is that, I think it was a twenty dollar bill. I don't know but I had better go and state the transaction, all about it.
Q Yes, sir. A Mr. Dawson, Bud Dawson, during the trial of the case occasionally applied to me at my desk for writing paper, issue of a subpoena or transcript, something of that kind; I always treated him with courtesy and proper official consideration. He seemed to appreciate it, and whenever I did services of that kind to him, says he, I have no money, Mr. Duncan, but I feel as I ought to pay you. I told him I made no charges for work of that kind. And in passing I might state that I never received a cent for any kind of that work which I had been in the habit of doing for various parties before the Court.

After his trial was concluded, in the afternoon a little while before supper time I went to my hotel, The National Brick Hotel in Tahlequah; went to my room, felt a little tired, laid down upon the bed to rest. I recollect Mr. Duncan stepped into the room, drew a chair up to the bedside and sat down and commenced giving expression to his gratification at the success of his case, dwelling mostly upon the testimony in the case being so satisfactorily, establishing his Cherokee blood, and that he thought that he was entitled and that he had received justice by the Court. I listened to him, and we talked there I guess some ten or fifteen minutes; after a little he says, I must go to-morrow, I think he says to-morrow, I must go home,- he then lived down in Arkansas somewhere. Says he, Mr. Duncan, I believe I owe you something, ought to pay you something. Alluding, as I understood, to these little courtesies that I extended to him at my desk. Says I, I make no charges, Mr. Dawson, for services; if I have done you any good you are welcome. Well, says he, I feel indebted to you, I ought to pay you. I says, that makes no difference; I will leave that to you. Says he, I have hardly enough money to get back home. He shook my hand, and the last word he says to me, you shan't lose anything for your kindness to me; I thought he had reference to my services at the desk. That was the last I saw of Mr. Dawson, oh it must have been a year afterwards; I had located a little claim on the public domain up there in Delaware District, staked off what I intended to be a farm, merely stables, I didn't make any other improvements, over there on Horse Creek. Went over in that part of the country to look after my claim, and I ran across Mr. Dawson, he had come into the Country and located and built him a little shanty and was living in it; I called upon him, he was very glad to see me; I asked him what he was doing there; he said he had moved into the country, and I told him, says I, you are encroaching upon me here; he had spread his claim over part of mine, mine had been made so long it was outlawed under Cherokee law. Well, says Mr. Dawson, I don't feel like doing you any wrong, I will pay you for your claim, and we will settle the matter in that way, that he as soon as he got his little matters together that he would satisfy me for it. Well we parted at that point. It ran on then for a long time, I don't know how long,- I think I met him in Vinita, and says he, did Camp Taylor pay you any money that I sent to you? Says I, No, I have not seen Camp Taylor.

Well, says he, I gave him some money and told him to hand it to you for me, and, says he, you ask him and he will hand it over to you I guess. Well we parted then. Well, went on for some time, some months; I happened to meet Mr. Taylor in Tahlequah; I met him on the street I think, jocularly I clapped my hand on his shoulder, says I, look here, did Mr. Dawson any money to me by you? He says, yes, and he pulled out what I recollect to be a twenty dollar bill, and handed it to me: I received it, and I received it with the idea that he was compensating me for taking my claim, or possibly for doing him those little services in the Court. Now that is the gist and substance of the whole thing.

Q Was not that twenty-five dollars, Mr. Duncan? A It might possibly have been, my recollection does not serve me exactly, it might have been 25 dollars.

Q Did Campbell Taylor pay you any other money as coming from said Dawson? A Never a cent.

Q Did he at one time pay you fifty dollars out of a hundred dollars which he had received from Mr. Dawson? A Never.

Q Did he on A second occasion pay you fifty dollars out of one hundred dollars which he claimed to have received from Mr. Dawson? A None at all.

Q He paid you no other money than that you have already stated, from Mr. Dawson? A Not a cent.

BY MR. McKENNON: We offer in evidence the judgment of the Cherokee Citizenship Commission before referred to, and ask that it be filed in evidence in the case of every application made by members of the Robert Dawson family who claim under it, or through Robert Dawson, as citizens of the Cherokee Nation, said judgment being found on page 114, Records of the Tahlequah Court, 1880 to 1884, case number 108, judgment dated January 11th, 1883, signed by Thomas Taher, President, Alex Wolfe, T. F. Thompson, Commissioners. D. W. C. Duncan, Clerk Commission.

The said judgment just introduced is as follows:

"Office Commission on Citizenship,
Tahlequah, C. N., September 24th, 1881.
No. 108
Robt Dawson,
Elbert Dawson,
Jasper Dawson,
John Dawson,
Josephine Dawson,

Jane Dawson,
Molly Dawson,
Tilbron Dawson,
James Dawson,
Lial Dawson,
vs.
Cherokee Nation.

Continued by the Plaintiff, Oct. 5, 1881.

January 13th, 1882.
The above case continued by the Cherokee Nation till next.

term, thereon by the parties that the above shall not be tried, and for final disposition before the [illegible] day of Oct, 1888.

October 4th, 1887.

It is agreed by the parties that this shall be finally disposed of at the next January term if the claimant is present demanding the same to be, the case shall be then continued to the September term, 1888.

On this agreement Commission continues the case till the next January term to-wit, January 1888.

And now this 11th day of January A.D. 1888 this case coming on for final hearing, and all the evidence produced in the case being carefully read and fully considered by the Commission it was adjudged and determined by the Commission on Citizenship that the claimants, Roe ct Dawson, F. M. Dawson, Elbert Dawson, Jasper Dawson, John Dawson, Jo Annie Dawson, Joseph H Dawson, Jane Dawton, Polly Dawson, Tilson Dawson, Sarah Dawson, and Rial Dawson, are Cherokees by blood: and that they are entitled to all the rights and privileges of Cherokee Citizenship within the Cherokee Nation, and that they should be, and they are, hereby admitted to the full and complete enjoyment of the same in all respects as native born Cherokees.

Marginal Note: "Case submitted by Claimant January 11th, 1887. Case submitted by Solicitor January 11th, 1887."

Q Do you remember how many members of the Court were present when this judgment was rendered, or were all of them? A My recollection upon that point is not positive, but it is my effort to state upon what I know to be the practice of the Court at the time, saying the names of all those Commissioners there, I can say with a great deal of positiveness that they were all present, because I never signed the name of one of the Commissioners unless he was present, assenting to it or directing it.

Q The rendition of that judgment then was concurred in by all of the three judges? A It was.

Q Mr. Duncan, if there had been a decision rendered the day before in this case while the Court was in session, adverse to these Claimants, would you have known it? A I certainly should have known it.

Q Was there any such decision of the Court? A None to my recollection. I can say positively there was not.

Q How many of those judges are now living? A Only one.

Q Which? A Mr. Thompson.

Q Ponce and Wolfe are dead? A Ponce and Wolfe are dead.

Q How long have they been dead, do you know? A I do not [illegible] quite a number of years. I wasn't living there, never lived there when their death occurred, and their death occurred perhaps a long time before I got knowledge of it. It is generally understood that they are dead.

Q Do you recall how it was that action arose in the Damon [illegible] court as to [illegible] and Bruning? A I have been thinking, and I don't [illegible] they [illegible] any motion Damon except [illegible] pro [illegible] entire subsequent to the rendition of [illegible]

(At this point a lady [illegible] sitting in the room in which the [illegible] held, is called forward, sworn as [illegible] and asked to retire until called.)

BY MR. STRINGER:

Q Mrs. Damon, when did you become a clerk of the Lewis Commission Court? A It was [illegible] November in [illegible], 1903, at the time the Commission was organized in relation to the clerk of the Council in which [illegible] related.
Q [illegible] A Yes, sir.
Q Were you doing [illegible] in January in 1903? A The Commission sold its Court after they were elected something.
Q The Court was elected in July wasn't it? A Well, I mean the time,
I don't pretend to say when the Court was elected, but I have said at the time I was chosen clerk, I was chosen clerk just at the close of the session of the National Council of that year.
Q '02? A I think it was '02.
Q You entered up this judgment rendered January, 1903? A Yes, that was the session of the Commission.
Q That was before you were clerk of it? A Well I held my clerkship for some time you in a continuously.
Q Well but when you go back to say that you were their clerk when it was on case was put on? A No, I don't mean by that.
Q How could you be clerk when the Damon case was passed on in 1903 when you were not elected until 1902? A I am mistaken in that, but comes after '01. It was the year preceding 1903, it must have been '02.
Q Your first entry in the Damon case is January 15, 1903, isn't it?
Q I don't recollect that my first entry was. (Attorneys show the record to witness) Yes, that is the entry there on that day, Q And that was shortly after you became clerk wasn't it? A Yes, shortly after I became clerk.
Q The [illegible] upon the docket before you became clerk?
A I think so, yes, it was entered in the previous term of the session of the Commission.
Q In whose handwriting was the names of the three Commissioners signed to that judgment? A Damon [illegible]?
(Attorney shows record to witness again) A That is my handwriting.
Q All three names? A All three names.
Q The record shows that you [illegible] gave that that day a transcript of the judgment, do you know who signed that? A Signed the transcript?
Q Yes, sir. A I do not recollect now, this in, did the writing?
Q Signed the name to it? A Yes, I did it.
Q You signed [illegible] row of Jones and Felts didn't you?
A I think I did [illegible] generally: I don't know of their attending to [illegible]
Q When [illegible] was there didn't he sign his own name? A Sometimes he did, sometimes he simply authorized me to do it.
Q Have you any recollection of [illegible] you to do it
[illegible] the fact that you have done it on that score frequently?
A I don't [illegible] literal [illegible] of authorization, but I can say [illegible] sometime the record, that he authorized me to put it's name there.

Q Will you look at the original transcript hereby shown you and refer not to it the judgment and say who signed the names of the Commissioners there? A (Papers shown to witness) A I signed them there.

Q You recognize that as your handwriting? A I do.

Q What made you when you were testifying at Vinita before Mr. Martin, on looking at the two signatures, and being cross-examined by me, say that it was not your signature and that the signature thereto attached was the signature of Mr. Thompson? A Occurred in this way: I had not seen any of the records in the case for about nineteen years. The exact transaction in the Court had vanished about entirely from my memory: I recollected at that time, however, when I gave in my testimony before the Commissioner, Martin, that that was a practice of the Court at the time I served by which I signed the names of the full-blood members of the Commission, and Mr. Thompson either uniformly or occasionally signed his own name. I based my statement in that deposition upon my knowledge of the rule or practice in the Court, without comparing the docket and refreshing my memory. I made an incorrect statement when I said that that was not my handwriting: I am convinced now that it is my handwriting. That is the way it occurred, the way it happened.

Q Then you consider your recollection of the fact that Thompson, when he was present and rendering a judgment signed it himself, better than your own knowledge of your own handwriting?

A No, I didn't so regard it. I simply spoke without advisement when I gave in that testimony: I subsequently became better informed and concluded that that was my handwriting and not entered by Mr. Thompson under the rule, but was one of those cases in which he authorized me to do it myself, and I did it.

Q Then you have changed your testimony, because you think you have a better knowledge of the surrounding facts now than you had then, and not from the fact of your judgment on your handwriting at present? A I simply corrected my testimony in reference to my statement in regard to this handwriting, this case.

Q And you wouldn't know then as I understand you whether or not that is your handwriting if it was not refreshed by what you consider to be exterior facts? A I should know it by examining it and thinking over the circumstances, I think I should recognize my own handwriting, but if Question should be propounded instantaneously without any advisement or preconsideration I might take a mistake.

Q You did recognize the names of Thomas Teher and Alexander Wolfe as being in your handwriting at that time? A I was very clear and positive, and so stated, that the names of those Commissioners were in my handwriting, and I was made certain by reflecting on the rule that they never signed their names with their own hand, but always authorized me to do it. Hence there is no question in my mind in regard to my handwriting in their signatures.

Q And then the third name, right under it, as compared with your admitted handwriting, you had to wait and learn the facts afterwards to determine whether that was your signature or not? A No, I don't think that if I had considered the circumstances, I know there was a resemblance; what made me of the opinion that it might have been Mr. Thompson's signature was like this: I had been in the habit of at least sometimes signing his own name, and I was under the impression-and I do not now think I am much deceived- that his chirography bore at least some resemblance to my own, hence I doubted whether I had signed that name or not on that account.

Q You were after somewhere at that time in your testimony to the fact that Mr. Thomas had written more than one paragraph on that record didn't you? A My recollection is that that was a possibility, not to such an extent as to make the question material to the case, but as I now recollect that I was

Q And he stated, didn't he, that he always at the original had the words "Tuesday"? A I do not recollect that I stated that I read the word "Tuesday" at that time, but at the time I was examined upon the determination was made that he did, but when I come to reflect and examine the docket I was convinced that I was wrong, that occasionally I signed for him.

Q Then you never found out that your testimony given on that like a year and a half ago was wrong until you examined the docket before yesterday, and compared your own signature? A I don't know that I have thought of it since that time until yesterday or the day before the examining the docket.

Q So the only recollection that you have at all to add to your recollection that Thomas was present when that judgment was rendered was the fact that you saw him and signed it, in your handwriting, is it? A As a fact,-

Q You can answer that yes or no? A That being the recollection I have recollection and I recollect now that the court is there were all present at the time that I signed it. I didn't their names out of court at all.

Q Was it in the forenoon now or in the afternoon? A I don't recollect whether it was in the forenoon or afternoon.

Q In recollecting that they were all present when the record was signed, do you mean to say that they were all present when the judgment was rendered? A Yes, that is, you mean when the question of admission or rejection was voted upon?

A Yes. A They were present.

Q Did you write up the record at the time that they rendered the judgment, or make a memorandum of it, written write up the judgment some days afterwards? A The record was not written up I, exclusively upon the decision of any case, but I wrote up the record after adjournment, generally in the evening, and presented it next day or when the next session was had, for signature; that was the practice.

Q But in this instance you wrote it up the very day that it was rendered didn't you? A I didn't recollect as to that.

Q And gave them a transcript the very day it was rendered?

A I don't recollect as to that.

Q And indicated the giving of the transcript on the bottom of the judgment the day it was rendered? A I should say it was given at the date of the transcript.

That was a very unusual thing for you to do in entering up a judgment A To do what?

To noteon the bottom that you had given a transcript the same day the judgment was rendered? A No, I don't know that there is anything unusual about that.

Any other places in that record or more than one. In any event did you just once done that? A I don't recollect, but if I don't recollect of giving anybody else a transcript.

That is what I am getting at: you gave them a transcript and wrote up your judgment and everything right away? A Pretty generally after the decision: whether it was the same day or the evening, and signed next day, I don't recollect.

IT NOW BEING THE HOUR OF NOON, A. M., THE COMMISSION ADJOURNS UNTIL HALF PAST ONE P. M.

AFTERNOON. [illegible] P. M. -APPEARANCES, same as in forenoon. W. C. H. HEAD again on the stand.
W. H. HUTCHINGS:

Q Do you remember what witnesses were before the Court? A I don't recollect now distinctly except Dr. Baker. I was there [illegible] the length of the testimony at the time it took to try it.
Q The Doctor was about the only distinct witness there was? A He is the only one now that I can call to mind.
Q The other probably another old darkey that testified was not there? A I have no recollection to that effect.
Q The case was just decided really on Doctor Baker's testimony, is it about the only one that knew anything about the case? A I am not certain that Dr. Baker was the only witness; might have been others that I am now recalled by recollection.
Q Doctor Baker's testimony was taken down in writing? A Yes.
Q There was not anybody else taken down in writing was there? A All the testimony that was accepted in the case was taken down in writing.
Q Did you ever see anybody's else testimony in writing; except Dr. Baker in that case? A That is not as I recollect, I don't recollect any other but Dr. Baker's.
Q You know whether or not it was taken immediately before the trial or at the trial or how was it? A It was taken in the presence of the three Commissioners during the session of the Court.
Q You mean the day that the case was decided or how? A I do not recollect whether the case was on trial more than one day, but my impression is that it was.
Q Do you know whether it was the same term of the Court or not? A I think it was the same term of the Court.
Q How many terms a year did that Court have, when and how did they last? A I don't recollect of but serving but one term.
Q Don't recollect but serving but one term? A Myself, it seems to me so.
Q You didn't go in until January of 1883 did you; your first record is a record of now of the 11th of January 1883, as shown on the book, isn't it? A I don't recollect in that regard.
Q How would they take testimony in the case, then continue it, as you say they generally do about that? A I think they decided on the case at the term in which they took testimony.
Q Can you say whether or not this testimony was taken in this case at the time it was decided or at the same time it was decided, or within a week or two of the time it was decided? A My best recollection is that it was taken at the term in which it was decided; the case was taken on testimony heard that the decision was made on the conclusion of the testimony.
Q I will now ask you October 4th, 1880, on your docket, the following entry reads: "It is agreed by the parties that this shall finally be disposed of at the next January Term," It should be January, 1881, "if the clerk is not ready to write, the case shall be continued to the September term, 1881; if taken and the Court can continue the case till the [illegible] January term, 1882, [illegible] you had

January and a portion of October ter ; and this decision was rendered in the January, 1902 term. Was Baker's testimony on an entire day in January, 1902, or was it the decision and opinion ? A I find it impossible for me to recollect those facts that are recorded there; without I can say about that, that the record shows the correct statement of the facts, but I can't recall those facts.

Q Well there is a record here that this case was continued on the 16th day of January, 1902, upon agreement that it should be taken from the 6th day of October, 1902. Your record shows that there was nothing done in the case from January 16th, 1902 until October 6th, 1902; would you say that was correct? A I should say it was correct if it is shown on the book; it is supposed to be a correct entry of the facts.

Q I will let you see the book for yourself; I don't want to misrepresent one end of it to all. (Shows entry in book to witness.)

A I can't recall those facts in regard to the agreement.

Q You took down the testimony of the witnesses in court? A I took it down.

Q You took down the testimony of Dr. Baker? A Yes.

Q He was cross examined by counsel for the Nation? A As to that I don't recollect. He was present, he was always present; I think likely he was cross examined.

Q And that testimony was taken at or near the time when the judgment was rendered in January, 1902? A I think it was, my impression is to that effect.

Q Well the court seems to have had no session as to this case from January 16, 1902 to October 6th, 1902, according to the record? A (No response.)

Q You don't recall the testimony of anybody else testifying in the case? A No sir, I don't.

Q And the probability is that he was the only witness examined, isn't he? A It might have been so. My recollection is that he was regarded as the main witness of the case.

Q He was quite an old man, about ? of that time? A Yes, he was quite old.

BY MR. McKINNON:

Q The testimony of Dr. Arthur Baker, from this record, appears to have been on an January 16th, 1902: is that correct as far as you may know, or are able to state? A Is that Dr. Baker's testimony? (Attorney there exhibits witness papers) A It appears to be, yes; I don't think that was the testimony that was the case decided upon, because his testimony was to be orally before the Commission, and I wrote it down; I was let to go by it. (Attorney hands paper to witness.)

A Well, all I know about this is as I stated before, I can't recall those facts, but whatever the record says why I say that the record was made correct, according to the fact. (Witness to refer to the testimony referred to to refresh his memory.) I don't understand it readily, very clearly to my own mind, but I gather from the subject matter it is that testimony that it is a report with Dr. Baker's statement; in exactly word for word I am not able to say, but that is the tenor of the testimony.

BY MR. McKINNON:

Q Is it the testimony you endeavored to get down in your ? And state that you could if this is it, in your own nearly word for word, as I could not it. Only as there was a little variation made necessary by the length of witness' statement.

BY MR. McKENNON: Applicants object to all of the witness' testimony relating to the method of taking the testimony of witnesses at the trial, the character and effect of that testimony, and the number of witnesses, except so far as the same may be used for the purpose of testing the memory of the witness, because the same is incompetent, irrelevant and immaterial.

Q Do you know D. F. C. Duncan? A I do.
Q How long have you known him? A About 30 years.
Q You know his general reputation for honesty and uprightness of character in the community where he lives? A I do.
Q Is that good or bad? A As good as any man's.
Q Do you know Campbell Taylor? A I do.
Q How long have you known him? A Some 20 years, I suppose.
Q Do you know his general reputation for truth and integrity and honesty? A Yes sir.
Q Is that good or bad? A Bad.
Q Is it notoriously bad? A Yes.
Q Did you ever known Dr. Baker, Dr. A. B. Baker, of Berryville, Arkansas? A Yes sir, I knew him in '68 and '69.
Q Where? A Over at Berryville; I ran a saw mill in that country at Berryville.
Q Did you know his general reputation so far as honesty and uprightness of character and truthfullness? A Yes sir.
Q Is that good or bad? A Good sir. Good as any man's; he is a good Christian gentleman.
Q Did you know him well enough to know his habits of life? A Yes sir.
Q Was he in the habit of taking liquor, drinking liquor? A Not that I know, of sir, I never saw him take a drink in my life.

Q Was the character of his family such as to preclude any such charge against him? A It was, yes sir.

BY MR. FERNANDEZ:

Q How long did you know Dr. Dupont? A Two years.

Q What done he do there? A He was an old gentleman that he lived with on the edge of Jacksville, Mr. Baker.

Q How old do you think he was then? A I think he must have been 65 or 67 years old and was feeble and

Q What was in it was that, too? A No sir, it was in '68 and '69, the two years that I lived over there.

Q He had retired from practice? A Yes, sir.

Q Did he have any family? A Yes, sir.

Q What family did he have? A I don't know how much family he had. I was very acquainted with the old gentleman.

Q He wasn't doing any business with anybody? A No sir.

Q And the character was never called in question one way or the other was it? A No sir, no sir.

Q Campbell Taylor knew a whole lot more than I probably ever will, you even knew his character? A Yes sir, I never knew much good of him.

Q And whenever a man has a bad character he got Campbell to work it, because he was notoriously a rascal, that's it sir? A Well a great many of them got him.

Q It was a notorious thing that they had a bad case they would get him, it would sort of give a case a bad odor to have Campbell around it? A Yes, that would be right.

Q You never knew anything about Mr. Dupont's connection with Little Rhinestone? A No sir, never did.

Q You never heard about his changing some of the records of citizenship cases? A No sir, never did.

Q You have heard lots of talk about this Dawson case? A Yes sir.

Q Rumor has it all around that somebody was doing something wrong? A Yes sir.

Q You never heard a bit of it you think? A I never heard him accused of it, no sir.

Q That report got out from the first day they were white or right to the records? A Well I don't know not the first day, I have heard it for a good while though.

Q But you never knew who had fixed it out? A No sir.

Q They have been a pretty strong family up there in that country haven't they, pretty large family? A Yes sir.

Q Cast a good many votes up there? A Yes sir.

Q Did you ever know of the Doctor's testifying any in court, Mr. Baker? A No sir, I never did.

Q What would you think of a man who would testify that his [illegible] that was single in 1825 when the youngest of her seven children was born in 1837 what would you think, would you think that was a statement to be made by a man who was truthful? A -

BY MR. McMANON: Applicants object to the question because it is wholly incompetent, and not based upon any proof of admitted facts in the case, and it is wholly immaterial and incompetent.

Do you think that was a statement that would be made by a truthful man? A (No response.)

Q You knew him in '68? A Yes sir.

Q He was quite an old, decrepit man? A Yes sir, quite so, in '68 '69.

Q 14 years from that time he was liable to be in his dotage?
A I don't know, he was an old man when I knew him.
Q He was too old to work, and retired from business then? A Well he did retire in good shape, but wasn't doing any business particular here I knew of.
Q He would have been pretty old 14 years from that time? A Yes, he would be getting old.

D. E. HARRE, being first duly sworn and being examined, testified as follows:

BY MR. MCKINNON:

Q What is your name? A D. E. Harre.
Q What is your age, Mr. Harre? A I am 44.
Q What is your business? A I am publishing a newspaper.
Q What paper? A "The Indian Chieftan."
Q Are you editor of that paper? A Yes sir.
Q You live at Vinita, then? A Yes sir.
Q Are you a citizen of the Cherokee Nation? A Yes sir.
Q By blood or intermarriage? A Intermarriage.
Q Do you know D. W. C. Duncan? A I do.
Q How long have you known him? A 15 or 16 years.
Q Do you know his general reputation in the community where he lives for honesty and uprightness of character? A Yes sir.
Q Is that good or bad? A Good.
Q Do you know Campbell Taylor? A Yes sir.
Q How long have you known him? A Why 15 years or longer.
Q Do you know his general reputation for truth and honesty in the community? A His general reputation, yes sir.
Q Is it good or bad? A Well if is not good.
Q Is it bad? A Well I suppose it must be bad then.

BY MR. HUTCHINGS:

Q You don't know Campbell's reputation to be bad, Mr. Harre, quite a good while, haven't it? A Why I think so, yes sir.
Q And it kind of began mostly with this citizenship business? A Yes, so far as I know it did, yes sir.
Q Campbell got so many bad citizenship cases and through this cause, and they finally had him up about it, had a good deal of stir about it? A Yes sir.
Q And some of that stir was sort of occasioned by him helping the Dawsons in wasn't it? A I don't know, I don't know whether he helped the Dawsons.
Q Was not that one of the principal cases that brought him into notoriety? A I don't know whether he had that case or not. I know he had a great many cases.
Q That was the principal thing that commenced the kind Campbell out, was citizenship cases here? A I think that is what got him into the most trouble.
Q I say before that time nobody had talked much about Campbell one way or another, and it became pretty general that Campbell was handling shoddy citizenship cases, and he got a bad reputation from that? A Yes sir, I think that was the impression generally.
Q Now Mr. Duncan's connection with the Dawson case sort of been kept people never talked much about it? A I never heard anything about it, as I know of.
Q You have heard that there was something, you say, that was in the case, that has been a notorious fact? A Oh it is a notorious case, yes sir.
Q Tell us the fact of Mr. Duncan's reputation for truthfulness has been somewhat given by himself, he confessed it frequently? A So he did.

Q His reputation for truthfulness is unusual given by all people as A I don't know, rather it is qualified or proper term.
Q [illegible] as good, as good [illegible] frequently?
A [illegible]
Q [illegible] about that sort of thing? A About
Q Why [illegible] in non-intercourse I don't remember
Q You have not heard the [illegible] along in 1861 and
A No sir.
Q [illegible] about [illegible] on around the [illegible] A No no, don't [illegible] court [illegible]
Q How [illegible] A Well, I lived close [illegible] I guess to be sixty miles horseback.
Q Have you lived any nearer Tahlequah since that time? A No sir, never have.

W. D. Miller, being first duly sworn and being examined testifies as follows:
BY I.R. Kennedy:
Q What is your name? A W. D. Miller.
Q You are a minister of the Gospel? A Yes sir.
Q W. D. Carter, Sr.? A Yes sir.
Q How long have you been in the ministry? A I have been in the ministry 28 years, sir.
Q Did you ever live at Vinita? A Yes sir.
Q How long? A I was there four years, sir.
Q Do you know D. W. C. Duncan? A I do.
Q How long have you known him? A I have known him, I guess 21 years.
Q Do you have his general reputation for honesty and truthfulness of character? A Yes.
Q Is that good or bad? A Good, so far as I know.
Q Is [illegible] A Yes sir.
BY MR. [illegible]:
Q Mr. Duncan was a member of your Church? A Yes sir.
Q That is the reason why you had of coming in contact with him?
A Yes sir, he was a member of my official board.
Q His connection with Cherokee affairs that were decided by the courts of which he was clerk was never brought up in your presence [illegible]? A No sir.
Q He never discussed? A No sir, I know nothing about his connection with it.
Q You didn't live about or near Tahlequah in '83? A Yes sir, I was Pastor of the Methodist Church in '87 at Tahlequah.
Q Did you hear about the Dawson case, or other cases settled over there by the Cherokee Court? A No sir, I know nothing about the cases, I was only [illegible] Cherokee was in session, and I remember that in one [illegible] the Convention, but knew nothing about the cases that were decided at all.
Q Never heard anybody discuss the cases that were decided?
No sir.

THOMAS A. CHANDLER, being first duly sworn and being examined, testified as follows:

BY MR. ANDERSON:

Q [illegible] A [illegible]

Q [illegible]

Q [illegible]

Q [illegible] A I am the Deputy Clerk of the United States Court at Vancouver.

Q How long have you lived in the Cowlitz Nation? A All of my life.

Q Do you know [illegible]? A Yes sir.

Q How long have you known him? A Let me see, I have known him about nine or ten years.

Q You know the general reputation for honesty and truthfulness of character in the community where he lives? A Yes sir.

Q Is it good or bad? A Good so far as I know.

Q Do you know Campbell Taylor? A Yes sir.

Q How long have you known him? A I think about 15 years.

Q Do you know the general reputation for truth and honesty? A Yes sir.

Q [illegible] A Bad as far as I know.

MR. ANDERSON: [illegible]

Q How did Campbell Taylor get a bad reputation? A Why sir, I don't know how he got it.

Q You never knew him until 1883? A Well I never knew him personally, I heard of him before that.

Q He had a bad reputation before 1883? A Yes sir.

Q Bad reputation way back yonder? A First I remember I ever heard of him, I knew people would speak bad of him, when I was a kid.

Q And everybody, all around in the Nation and knew anything at all about Campbell had a bad reputation? A Yes sir, ever so far back as '79 or '80, that is as far back as I can remember; I think I heard it spoken of in '80, I think that's about the time.

Q And Campbell got a very bad reputation in '80 and '81 when we began to have those citizenship cases? A Yes sir.

Q You heard him spoken of frequently and being one of those [illegible]? A Yes sir. I heard of him being in the Fort Smith Jail on that account.

Q Citizens of the Nation talked a good deal about Campbell's being in those bad citizenship cases? A Yes sir.

And I also heard he had a bad reputation for paying his debts, also, about the same time.

Q You don't recollect whether he had the money, he might not have had the money to pay his debts? A No sir.

Q He could have kept out of bad citizenship cases? A Yes sir, I suppose he could.

Q You never heard Mr. Duncan mentioned before in connection with the Barnum suit, citizenship cases? A No sir, I don't think I have, I may have, but I don't remember hearing it.

Q General impression that everybody had done something wrong with that matter, citizenship cases? A I heard there was something wrong in connection with the Duncan citizenship cases.

Q [illegible] A Yes sir, I have heard it my entire life all over the country that I can hear them speak.

Q [illegible] A [illegible] never investigated? A I don't know about that, I don't think it has ever investigated, I never heard of it.

Q So they never [illegible] him [illegible] A No sir.
Q Where do you live in Ark. A In [illegible] Dick Brook about 12 miles southeast of Yellville.
Q How far from Yellville and Cecil A About 65 or 70 miles, I reckon.
Q You never were [illegible] A No sir.
that time? A No sir.
Q You can't say [illegible] A No sir.
BY MR. [illegible] I object to all of the testimony of this witness as to what [illegible] about the character of this woman cited, because the man is married, is [illegible], irrelevant and immaterial.

I. M. HARMON, of counsel for Applicants, being first duly sworn, takes the following statement:

I was a resident of Carroll County, Arkansas, early in 1896. I was intimately acquainted with Dr. Arthur Baker, for many years. I knew him well as I did my own mind. He was a gentleman of the highest Christian character, so recognized by everybody who knew him. He was a member of the [illegible] and never drank liquor. I [illegible] this statement here in vindication of that good man's character than for any other reason, because any imputation against his character is false.

BY MR. HASTINGS:

Q How long did you know him? A I resided in Carroll County until 1897 when I moved to Benton County, Arkansas; during the war I was away from home, but I knew him intimately every year that I resided in Carroll County.

Q Did you know his wife? A Yes sir, I have seen her several times. I have [illegible] visit in the home of the [illegible] I relations to the [illegible] when he [illegible] always to inquire about Dr. Baker, and [illegible] information I could after I left [illegible] I lived there.

Q Did you know [illegible] in 1896 when you were a member of this Constitutional [illegible] A Yes sir, I have known him all my life as I was [illegible].

Q [illegible] know who you were a member of this Convention [illegible] on the [illegible] James Rogers owned? A I knew it every day of my life, in 1896 as well as now.

Q Do you think Doctor Baker [illegible] A I [illegible] should swear that he was born in the year 1850, and because he told them he was 46 years of age that year? [illegible] was a widow [illegible] Dr. Baker [illegible] school, was the oldest unmarried [illegible] and her mother [illegible] Dr. Baker [illegible] that time? A [illegible] the youngest of the [illegible] born in '30, how could you know [illegible] with a man who was an infant [illegible] A Whatever Dr. Baker stated he honestly believed, whether it was right or wrong; whether it was error or truth, he honestly believed it, and stated it as he believed it.

Q He [illegible] because of being in error? A Every man is.

Q I say he must? A Yes sir, just as you and I and every man, he would [illegible] merely wishes me to [illegible] character, which could be proven, [illegible] every man does always. I think, I know it.

Q The Constitution rejected James J. Round in 1896, of which you were a member? A I don't remember anything about that personally.

TESTIMONY ON BEHALF OF CHEROKEE NATION.

DAVID MEREDITH, being first duly sworn, and being examined, testified as follows:
BY MR. HUTCHINGS:
Q State your name? A David Meredith.
Q Where do you reside? A Vinita.
Q How old are you? A 60 years old.
Q Did you ever know James Dawson? A Yes sir.
Q How long have you known him? A I knew him probably 8 years.
Q Did you ever have any talk with him about his citizenship case.
A Very little.
Q You were at one time an applicant before the Dawes Commission for citizenship were you not? A Yes sir.
Q Well what did Mr. Dawson tell you with reference to his citizenship, as to the cost of his suing it, if anything? A Well he told me it cost him eleven or twelve hundred dollars to get his case through.
Q Where did that conversation take place? A At Afton.
Q What time? A It was in '98, spring of '98.
BY MR. McKENNON:
Q Where were you when he told you that? A I was working on a house in Afton, building the house.
Q Whose house? A S. S. Haines.
Q Who else was present? A Rainer was present.
Q There is not? A At Afton.
Q What age was Mr. Dawson at that time? A I don't know, he was very old, probably 75 years old.
Q Was he not a very feeble man? A Yes sir.
Q Hardly able to get around? A No sir.
Q Was he not looked on as feeble minded old man? A I don't know whether he was so regarded or not.
Q You don't know what he had to do with the case, in fact, himself, do you? A No, I judged it was himself and family that cost that much to get through, attorney's fees, etc. That is the way I took it anyway.
Q You were an applicant yourself were you not? A Yes sir.
Q When? A At that time.
Q Before the Cherokee authorities? A Yes sir.
Q They rejected you? A Yes sir.
Q You have an application then before the Dawes Commission now? A Yes sir, been rejected ever since.
Q Ah, you still an applicant? A Yes sir.
Q Still trying to get in? A Yes sir.
Q Claiming by blood? A Yes sir.
Q How long have you been living in the Cherokee Nation? A 15 years.
Q Where did you come from? A Indiana.
Q Claiming to be a Cherokee citizen? A Yes sir.
Q Indian? A Yes sir.
Q James Dawson is dead is he? A Yes sir.
Q How long has he been dead? A I think he died probably within two years after that.

TESTIMONY TAKEN ON BEHALF OF THE APPLICANTS.

E. H. Dawson, being recalled and further examined, testified as follows:
BY MR. McKENNON:
E. H. Dawson? A Yes sir.

Q Mr. Dawson, what relation of your family came to the Cherokee Nation in 1829 and became citizens of the Cherokee Nation, Robert Dawson, and the members of his family, to Cherokee citizenship?
A My father first married a Indian.
Q Tell his name? A Elbert Dawson, they all came up by mule.
Q When was that? A In '31, and it as I remember of '32, I can't say which it was in '31 or '32.
Q Did your father make application at that time? A My brother, yes, the application, registration and land there to take it out and file it. That is my understanding.
Q And I mean, who officiated as Clerk of the Cherokee Nation?
A Yes sir.
Q Before what court was that filed? A I understanding was the Clerk of the court. Hastings can tell us what court he was a Clerk of.
Q He was Clerk of the Court at that time? A Yes sir, of the citizenship court, that's my understanding.
Q That was done about his case at that time, if you remember? A I went back home and left my brother down there at that time, that trip.
Q Where did you then live? A I lived at Fayetteville, Arkansas.
Q When did you next come to the Cherokee Nation? A I believe I came back the next January, that was in September.
Q Was your brother then here then? A I don't think he was, I don't remember.
Q Well had he at any term of the Court of session of the Commission at any time after you first came here and filed the application until after it was decided? A No sir, I never set at any more until that case was decided.
Q You completed the business then after it did you not? A Yes sir.
Q The case was finally determined in January 1837? A '37, yes sir, the 11th day as I remember.
Q Were you present at that session? A Yes sir.
Q Was there any decision of that case other than the one of record here? A I never heard of it if there was.
Q Was the judgment rendered in that case as recorded in the record book of the Commission now in the custody of the Dawes Commission the only judgment that was rendered in that case so far as you know?
A Yes sir, so far as I know, if there was any I never heard of it in that case.
Q You then knew of no decision against you in the case? A No sir.
Q Who was your attorney employed at the beginning? A I employed A. H. Rowland.
Q Was he a Cherokee citizen? A Yes sir, I think so.
Q Where did he live? A At Clarksville, to my understanding.
Q Was he present at any time before the Commission? A I never saw him, he never was there before the Commission.
Q Did you pay any money? A Yes sir.
Q How much? A Fifty dollars.
Q Did he ever render any services? A If he ever did I never knew it.
Q Well then who did you employ? A My brother employed Joel Bryant.
Q Was he a Cherokee citizen?
A That is my understanding.
Q Was he not a prominent Cherokee citizen? A Yes sir.
Q What services did he render? A Well sir, I don't know whether he rendered any or not, only he met me at Tahlequah, and he was before the Commission; whether he rendered any services or not I don't know; he was generally always at Muscogee ; City during the term there.

Q Well what did he do about it? A I can't know; I couldn't say whether he done anything about it. That is Mr. Bryant, he was always gone.
Q What next was done about the employment of an attorney? A Why I got a letter from Joel stating that he was going to Washington City and for me to come down in January term and Campbell Taylor would represent my suit before the court.
Q Did he say that he had engaged the services of Campbell Taylor the attorney, to attend this in his absence? A Yes sir, in his absence.
Q Have you got that letter? A I don't think I got the letter.
Q Well what did you do then? A Why when the time come I come down on the city to Muskogee here and I come over from here to Fort Gibson and I come down to see Uncle Houston Benge and stays all night with him; it was very cold weather, and I got him to go over and submit my case to the court; I went over one day and the next day Uncle Houston Benge come over and the next morning after he come over the case was submitted.
Q Did he submit the case? A Yes sir, he told me so.
Q For you? A Yes sir.
Q Were you present? A I was present until they went to take the vote on the case and then we was drove out of their room and they had a secret session, actin' on the case.
Q For Houston Benge present with you? A Yes sir.
Q Were you in the court when he submitted it to them? A Yes sir, when he made his argument.
Q He made an argument before the Commission? A Yes sir.
Q Was the decision rendered on that day? A Yes sir.
Q How long after he made his argument and submitted the case? A Was not but a little bit; when we kept drove out of the house the first time before they went into secret session they wanted me to get up the cigars to the court and I was found in the house; after the decision was rendered I was to get up the cigars, and everybody come to me and told me to go and get the cigars and I done so.
Q And you took the cigars there and all? A Yes sir, everybody, the attorneys and all that was in the house, all had a big smoke.
Q Did they then announce their finding in the case? A Yes sir, they told me that I was granted by citizenship right and by the Commission.
Q What did you do about it then? A Why the clerk wrote me out my certificate.
Q That same day? A That same day.
Q What arrangements did you make with Mr. Benge about his fee, and what was the amount of his fee? A There was no arrangement made until we got up there and he submitted our case; then he wanted me to pay, the charges is fifty dollars, that was his fee.
Q That was the agreement about the matter, the manner in which that fee should be paid? A My brother in Texas was to pay it.
Q Were you to write or was he to write? A He was to write for me.
Q Did your brother in Texas ever pay his fee of fifty dollars?
A Yes sir.
Q Was that all that was to be paid? A All that was to have; that was charges to.
Q You have his state at when you was in the Commission at Fort Gibson the other day did you not? A Yes sir.

Q [illegible] you said $[illegible] dollars before [illegible]
[illegible] to Pollard and [illegible] A No sir.
Q Did you not pay him fifty dollars after you got away to [illegible] for you to sell? A I never paid him anything in my life.
Q Did you pay him anything? A I never did. Q Did you [illegible]?
A I went to Arkansas.
Q [illegible] A I went by Silver Springs and on by String Bale [illegible] Pollard [illegible] by Silver Springs [illegible]
Q You know did not return to Fort Gibson with [illegible], do you [illegible]? A No sir, I did not.
Q [illegible] you go [illegible] Fort Gibson? A Well I thought [illegible] Arkansas [illegible] road [illegible] think going out by Silver Springs where I was boarding at, I could go to Silver Springs and I went by that route and then [illegible] going by String Bale, that was the most direct route.
Q That was the most direct route from [illegible] was it not? A Yes
sir.
Q And [illegible] A By the shortest route.
Q What you mean by being [illegible] Fort Gibson you would have been going directly away from [illegible] you not? A Yes sir.
Q Fort Gibson is nearly east, [illegible] east of Tahlequah was it not?
A Yes sir, little north of east, [illegible] east.
Q While Fort Gibson is almost due east is it not? A South east.
Q You heard Mr. Mayfield state that you went to Fort Gibson with him, and he was sued, you state to him that I was to reach the court [illegible] Indian and you reached him through Dutch with five hundred dollars, did you hear him state so? A I never did, I didn't [illegible] five hundred dollars to reach him.
Q Did he white at Tahlequah in the court room during evening before this judgment was rendered in your favor, tell [illegible] you that the court had rendered a judgment against you? A No sir.
Q And did you then say to him, you would fix that? A I had no such conversation with him.
Q Did you pay to D. M. C. Duncan, who was the Clerk of the Court any sum of money, or agree to pay him any sum of money, directly or through any other person for any services he might render you by way of influencing the court to decide in your favor? A No
sir.
Q Or for any other purpose? A No sir.
Q Did you pay him any money after that through Cal Ball Taylor?
A Yes sir.
Q What amount? A 30 or 35 Dollars. I don't know which it was.
Q State what that money was paid for? A For A claim.
Q What do you mean by a claim? A Claim on the public domain; he had a claim up there close to [illegible] paid him 30 or 35 dollars [illegible] claim [illegible] by me, on the Cherokee Public Domain.
Q What did Cal Ball Taylor have to do with your case?
A He had nothing to do with it.
Q Did you agree to pay him any money for his services as an attorney? A No sir.
Q Did he perform any services in that case for you as a representative of [illegible] Agency? A No sir.
Q Did you pay him any money? A Yes sir.
Q On what account? A He [illegible] to me and said he had the claim [illegible] for Cal Ball and wanted me to pay him the money and I [illegible] me.
Q What amount A Three hundred dollars.

Q [illegible] A [illegible]
Q Did [illegible] Joel Bryant, did it come out? A Joel Bryant was a [illegible] Joel Bryant, Joel Bryant paid [illegible] Campbell Taylor, one hundred dollars or twenty-five dollars; that is all I ever got back, sir.
Q How did you get that 25 dollars out of it, Mr. Duncan? A I kept after him, and telling him to let that money back to me, he rendered no services [illegible] all and the money was to go to Joel Bryant, and I finally worked on the loyalty or twenty-five dollars, that is, if I ever did get that.
Q The amount that he paid to Duncan? A Yes sir.
Q Was this money paid to him, this one hundred dollars, while you were there at the time the [illegible] or was it next to his retirement? A I think it was paid then, as well as I remember about it.
Q You think it was paid then? A Yes sir, that's my recollection now.
Q Did you send him one hundred dollars after you got home from there, subsequent to the rendering of that judgment, after it was rendered I mean, directing him to pay fifty dollars of that money over and to D. W. C. Duncan? A No sir.
Q Did you send him a second one hundred dollars with such direction?
A No sir.
Q Mr. Duncan, do you [illegible] it cost you personally in all to obtain the citizenship in the Cherokee Nation under this judgment? A Pretty near it I do.
Q Well about what sum? A About five hundred dollars, pretty near 500 dollars. That is what I considered, I was bent out of some of my money, what I was bent out of and expenses.
Q Now I take a statement of what that money was paid for and how, so far as you remember, itemize that now? Well the first fifty dollars Haywood got; the next fifty dollars he got; that was the attorneys fees; I speak of the attorneys fees now; the next money was the hundred that Campbell Taylor got; the next attorney fees was Bryant's one hundred dollars.
Q Was that all the attorney's fees? A I think it was, no, wait, I paid Ross 15 dollars for taking Baker's deposition.

Q Which Ross was that? A The old Chief, Will Ross I think was his name, William P. Ross.
Q So then, this Chief William P. Ross for taking the deposition of Dr. Baker charged you fifteen dollars? A Yes sir.
Q Do you remember that that was before your attorney was examined [illegible]? A Yes sir.
He examined it before the Commission, took his statements.
Q What other attorneys were there present? A None of this was present.
Q Well now, go on? A Was the expenses of taking Dr. Baker and he was a Doctor, he will as I guess he charged me 5 dollars a day and I guess time and his expenses down there; we come through a mail from Fayetteville, Arkansas, to Muskogee and our and our expenses amount I think it was about 75 dollars that trip we [illegible] Maybe a little over that.
Q Did you pay his per diem? A I paid him five dollars a day for his time and then his expenses.

Q Well? A Well I made several trips out here at different times, to Tahlequah before the Commission, and back, three or four trips as well as I remember now, cost me 30 or 40 dollars each trip, as I remember about it.

Q Do you remember now any trips aside from the one in which you brought Dr. Baker? A No, I think there was probably three trips I think it was, maybe more, and then I made one trip to Claremore by way of A. M. Harwood.

Q What did that trip cost you? A I don't remember what it cost: I went in a wagon down there.

Q You went through and employed hands, went by railroad: what did that trip cost you? A I don't remember what it was, whether it was $1 dollars or 11 dollars, one of the two of it, I don't remember which it was: Joe Bayson, or whether I've got the money, it was either $1 or $1 dollars.

Q Now then is there any other expense that you know of that was paid by you or your family, any members of your family, other than what you have mentioned? A I don't remember any other now: I can't call to my memory right now.

Q What was the condition of the matters of your family generally now, financially, at that time? A Well we were considered poor people: I don't know, we didn't have much money, scarcely any.

Q Was there any one of them that was better off than the others, and if so, which one? A I suppose Albert Bryson was better off than the others, was D Bryson.

Q Do you know how much Buck D Bryson paid of these expenses? A I don't think he paid, he paid the Bruce debt and the Bryant debt, I think it was.

Q That is one hundred and fifty dollars? A Yes sir, that he came up on one trip and taken more evidence with Joel Bryant when Joel Bryant was Clerk of the Court before this Tahlequah Court, I don't know what that cost him.

Q Came up and then not to testify? A Yes, came up and went back to Texas. Filed his claim and took some testimony and went back to Texas and I didn't see him.

Q Did that testimony include Dr. Baker's testimony? A No sir.

Q You know how many witnesses were examined then? A I only know what he told me.

Q How many? A Four witnesses.

Q You know whether they were residence of the Cherokee Nation or not? A He told me they was.

Q Were you present on that trip in which he came there and took that testimony? A No, I met him there and then I went back home and left him at Tahlequah.

Q He took on the testimony before you left him or afterwards? A He taken it afterwards: that was my understanding.

Q Did Buck furnish only the one hundred fifty dollars that you now remember? A I think it was.

Q And the expense of taking those witness up there A Yes sir.

Q You also furnished money now of the members of your family? A My brothers and father lived down in Berryville, me and my brother-in-law, Blasingame, we all chipped in together a few dollars from each family.

Q You heard the statement of C. C. Brought that in June that you told him that it had cost you 700 dollars, did you make any such statement to him A I never did.

Q And that you paid and witness 500 dollars? A I never made any such statement.

Q Did you have any witness any such sum? A No sir, I paid Dr. Baker for his time; he said his time was worth $ dollars a day, sir, and I paid it.
Q Did you have any other witness than that? A No sir, he was the only witness I took down there in my case.
Q Well the Robert Dawson case? A Yes sir.
Q You say that you told him this in your house there on your place, did you have any house there in June 1887? A I was not living on my farm at that time.
Q Did you have any farm? A Didn't have any.
Q When did you build a house there? A I built a house on the farm I live in now by Dr. Brought, I moved on the farm the last of July, 1883, and I owned in my wagon.
Q What did you do? A I went to the timber and cut poles and logs and built me a log cabin on the place by a spring near Dr. Brought.
Q About what time did you finish that house? A I it was in September.
Q How long after you finished that house until you brought your family out? A I finished it up and got it covered and the floor in it and I went back to Eureka Springs after my wife.
Q What family did you have then? A I had my wife and she had one child; but my oldest children, by my first wife were with me in the Territory, coming with her three little boys and one girl here with me, and one girl back in Arkansas.
Q Are you and C. G. Brought on good terms? A No sir.
Q What has been the character of the trouble between you? A Trouble over our places first started it.
Q When did it begin? A As soon as I got back from Arkansas he commenced plowing around me out to the edge my farm and my fence, and we have been in a racket ever since.
Q Then his statement that you were on friendly terms, is it correct or not? A No sir, it aint correct.
Q He and you have never been friendly as neighbors then since you first came back from Arkansas and settled in the Territory? A I don't remember ever being in his house; I never was in his house.
Q Have you had law suits with each other? A Yes sir.
Q How many? A I don't know that we had any particular law suits, but I have had law suits and he has been a witness against me.
Q That was your last trouble with him, when I mean? A Along last fall.
Q That was when your boys had a little racket and he had your boy arrested? A Yes sir.
Q What was the age of those boys? A Eleven years old.
Q He had him arrested down at Vinita? A Yes sir, had him arrested and carried before the Commissioner at Vinita.
Q He was discharged on account of his age? A Yes sir.
Q Jack Dawson is dead is he? A Yes sir.
Q How long has he been dead? A Three years, little over three years.
Q And Jarea Dawson is dead? A Yes sir.
Q Is your father, Robert Dawson living? A No sir.
Q When did Jarea Dawson die? A I don't remember, been dead several years, I don't remember how long, 6 or 7 years, I couldn't state.
Q When did your father, Robert Dawson die? A I believe it was in 87 as I remember now, I wont be positive.
Q Had all these moved to the Cherokee Nation before their death? A No sir, father died in Arkansas.

Q Those that lived here in the Nation they lived here in the Nation but went back to Arkansas and died there? A Well the rest of my folks all lived here. That was James Dawson and Buck Dawson.
Q Robert Dawson, your father, never did move to the Territory, did not A No.
Q Did you hear the statement of the witness Beavert this morning, that about the time of hearing of the James Dawson case, at a negro church at night James Dawson was down there with someone else was introduced to him, and he loaned him ten dollars; did you hear that statement this morning? A I heard the statement, yes sir, I heard it.
Q He says that then James Dawson was 30 or 40 years old; was there any James Dawson living belonging to your family at that time of any such age? A No sir.
Q How many James Dawson's were there belonging to your family? A There was my uncle James Dawson and my brother James Dawson, the Doctor here.
Q How old was your brother James Dawson then? A He was a tolerable old man, I don't know his age.
Q About what age? A I just have been 60.
Q Between 60 and 70? A Yes sir.
Q That was the age of your brother James? A At that time?
Q Yes sir, in '84? A In '84 I suppose he was about 18, something like that.
Q Had he anything to do with the James Dawson case? A No sir.
Q Was he present at the time that the James Dawson case was under consideration? A No sir.
Q Was James Dawson, your uncle James Dawson, present at any time during the consideration of his case? A No sir.
Q He never was present? A No sir, if Uncle Jim Dawson was ever in Tahlequah I never knew it.
Q Who conducted the prosecution of the James Dawson case before the Cherokee Citizenship Commission, who conducted it? A The James Dawson case?
Q Yes sir? A I think James Low and Will Jackson and Campbell Taylor.
Q Were you acting with them? A Yes sir.
Q They employed Campbell Taylor? A Yes sir.
Q Then there was no James Dawson present during that session of the Commission? No sir.
Q What was the condition of James Dawson's health at that time?
A It was pretty poorly; was not good.
Q Was he at that time able to get about and attend to business?
A I don't think he was.
Q Was he not a very feeble aged old man at that time? A Yes sir.
Q He acted as rather a silly man did he not? A Yes sir.
Q Did he attend to any kind of business of the family at that time?
A No sir, didn't.
Q What was his financial condition? A Pretty bad.
Q Did he have any money? A No sir.
Q Did he have any property? A None hardly at all; horse probably, or a cow or two, something that way.
Q Was that about all the property he had? A Yes sir.
Q How about the other members of his family that were admitted at that time; what was their financial condition? A They were in poor circumstances.
Q Now then after these judgments were rendered that members of your family removed to the Territory, Cherokee Nation, I will say?
A Robert Dawson and family and James Dawson and family, that is, the and their children.

Q Robert Dawson didn't remove here? A No, I said except Robert Dawson.
Q Did all the members of Robert Dawson family move here? A Yes sir.
Q Except himself? A Yes sir.
Q And all the members of James Dawson family? A No, not all the members, Melvina Low I don't think ever lived here.
Q She has never moved here? A No sir.
Q Well all the members of your family, your father's family included in that judgment of the Committee, rendered January 11th, 1893? A All but one.
Q What was the name of that one? A Mina.
Q A daughter? A Daughter of Robert Dawson.
Q Your sister? A Yes sir.
Q Was she then of age or was she a minor? A I think she was a minor, as well as I can remember.
Q Was she afterwards admitted to citizenship in the Cherokee Nation? A She was.
Q By Commission or by the Cherokee Council? A She was first admitted by the Spears Court, her and two of my neices.
Q What were their names? A Katie Vernon and Verna Fishback.
Q What became of that? A The certificate papers they got was lost, and they went before the Council in 1894 andthey was readmitted back by the act of Council.
Q That was in 1894, the Cherokee Council admitted, re-admitted as they called it, the three above named? A Yes sir. Mary and Verna Fishback and Katie Vernon, they have now the same names except Vernon, it is not, Bob Robinson married the widow, a neice of mine.
Q Now then was there any other consideration of the Dawson case by the Cherokee authorities at any time aside from these two judgments in '87 and '94 admitting the two families of Robert and James Dawson, and the act of Council of '94 admitting these three that you have just named? A Yes sir.
Q When? A Why two of my sons was placed on the roll by the act of Council in 1892 I think it was; left off of the rolls in per capita payment and they was placed on the rolls I think, and Sam Hitchcock member of Council, got their draft or checks for the money.
Q Have you got that copy of the act of Council admitting them?
A Yes sir.
Q There is it? A (Produces papers.)

BY MR. McKENNON: We offer in evidence an act of the Cherokee National Council making an appropriation of 20,000 dollars belonging to the general fund for the payment of certain persons therein named a per capita payment, as per amount set opposite their respective names, provided that the Principal Chief shall draw warrants for such amounts, and further provided "That the names of the persons appearing on the per capita rolls in this act shall be placed (on) the authenticated roll of 1880 by the Principal Chief."
This act was approved December 21, 1891.
Approval signed by Stephen Tenee, Assistant Acting Principal-
In this list appears the names of William R. Dawson for payment of $17.70, and of Marion Dawson, for a like sum. Are these the names of two of your sons? A Yes sir.
(The paper above introduced, is filed and made a part of the papers in this case.
Q Are there any other action of the Cherokee authorities relating to members of your family? A Yes sir.

Q Then? A In 1894.
Q What was that? A Allowing them their strip money.
Q Have you a copy of that? A I think I have. (Produces papers.)

BY MR. McKENNON: We offer, in evidence a duly certified copy of an act of the Cherokee National Council approved November 24, 1894, signed C. J. Harris, Principal Chief. Senate Bill No. 19, appropriating a sufficient amount of money to make payment per capita of what is known as the strip money to certain persons named therein. Among them are members of the Dickeninger family, as follows: Jane, Elbert, Henry, James Ross Lerrie, Pearl, Roe, Myrtle, Minnie and Clifford; this act mentions these persons as Cherokees by blood, and whose names had been left off the pay roll approved May 3, 1894, providing a payment to each one of these a sum of $265.70.

Q Were these members of the Robert Dawson family? A Yes sir.
Q Which one of the members of the family? A Jane.
Q This is Jane who was admitted by the judgment admitting the Robert Dawson family? A Yes sir.
Q And her children? A Her children, was not admitted, she was admitted.
Q I mean this mentions her children here? A Yes, that mentions her children.

(The paper last above introduced is filed and made a part of the record in this case.)

Q Do you know whether the payment of the Cherokee Strip money was to Cherokee citizens by blood only or not? A Yes sir.
Q Was there any other act of the Cherokee authorities passing upon the citizenship of members of your family? A Why the Douthett children, my brother's grand-children. Two grand-children of E. Dawson.
Q When was that? A That, I think it was in '84.
Q Have you got a copy of that act? A No, the record is here.
Q Was that by the Spears Court? A Yes sir, by the Spears Court.

BY MR. McKENNON: We now offere in evidence a judgment of the Cherokee Commission on Citizenship, 1880 and 1884, found on page 190, case No. 181, dated September 9th, 1884, signed by Dll Spears, President, John Lee and Andrew Young, Commissioners, admitting to citizenship Lula Dowthett and Dallas Douthett as Cherokees by blood.

Q These now are the Douthetts to which you refer, are they? Yes sir.

BY MR. McKENNON: Attention is called to the fact that the names of the Commissioners are all signed in the same hand-writing as the record of the judgment.

The said judgment record above introduced, and found on page 190, No. 181, record of 1880 to 1884, is as follows:

"Office of Commission on Citizenship,
Tahlequah, Cherokee Nation, September 14th, 1883.

E. Dawson, for his grand-children, No. 181.
Lula Douthitt,
Dallas Douthitt,
vs
The Cherokee Nation.

C. H. Taylor, Atty for Claim.

Petition filed September 14th, 1883.

Case submitted by claimants Sept 14th, 1883.
Case submitted by Solicitor, Sept. 14th, 1883.
Continued by Petitioner from 22 Book to September Court 1884.
Re-submitted September 2nd 1884 by Attys Taylor and Benvert

Submitted by defense Sept 3 1884.

And now on this the 15th day of September 1884 comes this case for final hearing and all the evidence in the case having been carefully read, and considered by the Commission on Citizenship it has been decided by the Commission that the above named Lilla Dawhaus and Dallas Dawhaus are Cherokees by blood, and that they are entitled to all the rights and privileges of Cherokee citizenship in the Cherokee Nation and that they should be, and are hereby admitted to the full and complete enjoyment of the same in all respects, as native born Cherokees.

Eli Spears, Jr. A.
John Lee,
John L. Adair, Andrew Young,
City Com'n, Commission on Citizenship."

Q Now have there any other actions of the Cherokee authorities of like character relating to the members of your family?
A I don't remember of any others.
Q I will ask you if when the Cherokee authorities were making the roll of 1896, in compliance with the request of the Dawes Commission for a roll to be prepared by them for the use of the said Commission, the question of the citizenship of the members of your family was not then raised and an investigation had in regard to it? A Before the Dawes Commission?
Q No, before the Cherokee Commission making the roll of 1896, of which John T. Carter was a member? A Yes sir, yes. I had forgot it, but since you have named it there was some investigation of that at that time; this is what I understood.
Q That roll shows that the members of your family were duly enrolled by the Commission? A Yes.

Q Have you and the other members of your family since your removal to the Territory in 1883 and immediately following been recognized as Cherokee citizens by blood? A Yes sir.

Q Have you been exercising and enjoying all the rights of Cherokee citizens by blood since that time? A Yes sir.
Q You and all the members of your family are living in the Cherokee Nation? A Yes sir.
Q You have all drawn Cherokee moneys whenever payments were made? A Yes sir.
Q And have you all male members been voting at the Cherokee elections or in the Cherokee elections? A Yes sir, I was one of the judges of the elections that was held voting on the treaty.
Q What treaty? A The treaty bill that was sent back here for the Cherokees to vote on; I was one of the judges at Afton.
Q In what year was that? A I believe it was last spring some time, last April.

Q Have any of you held any offices in the Cherokee Nation? A Yes sir.
Q What offices have the members of your family held? A Deputy Clerk, under Pete Hastings, when he was clerk of Delaware District, I was a candidate once for Council in the Bunch Party.

Q Can any office of deputy clerk be held by any one else except a recognized citizen? A Only by a citizen, yes sir.
Q Is that all? A (No reply).
Q Have the children of members of your family attended the Cherokee schools, and been educated in Cherokee schools? A Yes, sir.
Q Have the members of your family been all the while subject to the jurisdiction of the courts of the Cherokee Nation? A Yes sir.
Q Have they been tried for any offenses against the laws? Yes sir.
Q And have they instituted their civil suits in the courts of the Cherokee Nation? A Yes sir.
Q And had suits instituted against them in such courts? A Yes sir.
Q Some of these cases have gone to the Supreme Court of the Cherokee Nation? A Yes sir.
Q And were passed upon by that tribunal? A Yes sir.
Q Is there anything else? A Nothing now; I am sick this evening; I have got the head-ache so bad I can't hardly see.

BY MR. HUTCHINGS:

Q How old was your father Robert Dawson when he died? A I don't know, I couldn't say or that.
Q He was a very old man? A Yes sir, he was getting tolerably old.
Q Could you tell how much older he was than you? A No I don't know.
Q Mr. James Dawson in 1884 must have been a very old man mustn't he? A Well he was old and he was feeble.
Q Well you stated that he had been sick: was he naturally that way? A He used to live in Texas; I didn't know him until after he came to the Territory.
Q I say he had gotten so old, that was the occasion of that? A I suppose so, the oldest one of these children was Mrs. Betty Peter, that's my understanding.
Q And the oldest boy was John Dawson? A He always called him Jack.
Q Jack Dawson he was the oldest? A Yes sir.
Q Sam was the youngest? A Sam Riley.
Q He was the youngest one of the crowd? A Yes sir.
Q Your father lived four or five years after he and you were admitted to citizenship? Yes sir, something about that, it was in 1883, I think he died in 1888, I wont be positive; that is as near as I remember now. I have got a headache so bad that I can't remember anything.
Q He nor none of the older members of the family were ever present at any of these trials of citizenship? A No sir, not a one of them.
Q Not a one of them was ever called upon to testify as to the blood of their mother, who she was or anything about it? A I don't think they was.
Q Your claim of kinship was through Captain John Rogers and that your grandmother was the half sister of Sly Joe Vann, wasn't it? A I don't know, I couldn't answer the question.
Q You were there when they took the testimony? A I was there when Mr. Baker's testimony was taken, that was about 15 years ago.
Q And nobody kin to the Rogers and Vanns was ever called to testify in the case? A Not as I know of.
Q They were very well known Cherokee families in the country? A I suppose so, I don't know.
Q And yet nobody on any side of the family connected with it was ever called to testify A Not that I know of, I don't know whether brother John, he was some of the evidence at Tahlequah when I was not there; he first filed his claim.

Q You ha' spoken to Dr. Baker about the testifying before you brought your case didn't you? A No sir.
Q That must have been a short time afterwards? A It was a short time afterwards. I went back after it and it was too late and I fetched him the next time.
Q You had talked to your brother about what you could prove by Dr. Baker? A I told him I thought Dr. Baker, I thought he knew about our folks.
Q You had told him in a general way you expected to use Dr. Baker as a witness? A Yes sir.
Q You went off, came to Arkansas and left your brother at Tallequah after you told him that fact? A Yes sir.
Q You didn't see your brother any more until after you were admitted? A No sir.
Q You and he however made trips back and forth to Tallequah and home at different times, but you didn't happen to get together? A No. I never told him any more and I don't know what he was there until after we were admitted.
Q But you were there and brought Dr. Baker over? A Yes sir.
Q And took him testimoney a year or such a matter before ever you were admitted? A I think as well as I remember, yes sir.
Q How the way you came to get Campbell Taylor was on the recommendation of old man Bryant? A I didn't get him, didn't have him.
Q The way he came into your case? A The way he claimed to come in.
Q He did more in your case than Bryant did? A Campbell didn't do anything.
Q What did Bryant do? A I think he help my brother take evidence my brother employed him.
Q How did you happen to be sending money by Campbell to Mr. Duncan? A I never sent him any money.
Q Then when he, Mr. Duncan, states that Campbell delivered the money as Campbell said he did, both were wrong? A Oh no, you are mistaken, Mr. Duncan got 20 or 25 dollars, which he stated, from Campbell Taylor, for me.
Q How did you happen to give it to Campbell? A I give the money to Campbell to give to Joel Bryant, and he wouldn't do it, and I tried to get the money back from him, and I finally worked the 20 or 25 dollars he gave to Duncan.
Q Then you didn't tell Duncan as he testified that you sent 20 or 25 dollars by Campbell Taylor? A Campbell Taylor agreed to pay Duncan 20 or 25 dollars for me of the money I give him to give to Joel Bryant.
Q The family kept Campbell Taylor employed though as their attorney after that? A In the James Dawson case I think so.
Q E. Dawson, you remember, had him for his grand-children? A That is my understanding.
Q And your uncle James Dawson had him in the case of his children? A Uncle James had nothing to do with it; James Low and Will Jackson got him; that was my understanding of who employed him.
Q The record here shows that the case was originally instituted by C. H. Taylor and was finally submitted by him September 2nd, 1884, in the James Dawson case? A I don't deny him being in that case.
Q You say he was employed in the E. Dawson case? A I don't know who was in the Dunbelt children's case.
Q The record shows that Campbell Taylor instituted the case, and it was finally submitted by him, and Mr. Beavert, who testified a while ago? A That was in the James Dawson case, wasn't it?
Q That was in the E. Dawson grand-children? A Elbert?
Q No, in the Dunbelt children's case? A Oh yes.

Q He was likewise attorney in the Mary Dawson case was he, and before the Adair court, the 4th of October, 1897, in the case of James K. P. Dawson? A I don't know anything about that.
Q And the case Illowine of Riley Dawson? A I don't know anything about those.
Q They are relations of yours? A Well I couldn't say.
Q James K. P. Dawson proves to be a son of Riley D wson? A Well if he is he is no connection then. There are so many Dawsons I don't know them all.
Q You know Andrew J. Dawson? A Yes sir.
Q The Dawsons have so many children their brothers didn't hardly know them did they? A That's it, I don't know them.
Q Well then you don't know who Andrew J. Dawson is? A No sir, I don't know.
Q He refers in his application as being a cousin of E. Dawson, and yourself, who were admitted to citizenship by the Tahlequah Court? A He may be, I don't know nothing about it.
Q He resided I believe, at that time at Nevada, Missouri? A I don't know anything about other people.
Q Old man Baker was an old and paralyzed man at the time he testified wasn't he? A Getting old, he was not paralyzed.
Q Then the statement made that the reason he couldn't write his name and had to make his mark, because he was paralyzed, in the testimony isn't that true? A He didn't have good use of his fingers.
Q Then he was not paralyzed? A No, I brought him over there in a hack from Bunnyville, Arkansas.
Q Well I say he was a very old man? A Yes, getting old.
Q How didn't you come to this place and there joining Brought's and work on it some time before you brought your family? A No, I brought my family with me, except my wife.
Q And you subsequently built a log house on it? A Yes sir.
Q And went back and got your wife and moved them to the log house? A Yes sir, went to Dardanelle and got my wife.
Q You never saw your grandfather at all? A Sam Dawson, yes sir, I saw him.
Q You remember do you of being with him much of any at all? A I was in Texas in time of the war, with my uncle Riley Dawson, and he was there.
Q In '60 sometime? A '63, I reckon, or '64. Somewhere along there, it was in time of the war.
Q How old a man was he at that time? A Pretty old man.
Q You never saw your grandmother, she died before she came?
A Yes sir, I never saw her at all.
Q Who first started the citizenship matter, your brother in Texas or you? A Why it was me, and my brother together.
Q I mean who first conceived the idea? A I first commenced talking about it.
Q And went down for him? A I was in Texas with him and then in Arkansas; I went backwards and forwards a time or two after the war.
Q About that time nearly everybody in Arkansas were trying to get some claim of kinship to Cherokees? A No sir, not at that time.
Q They were getting pretty thick in there in 1880? A Well in 83 and '4 and '5 I think.
Q Been much excitement over there to get yourselves on the rolls?
A Just got to be everybody; but it wasn't at the time we were admitted there was not much stir about the rights here.
Q Well the Watts had been admitted before that? A I suppose they had; there was not much excitement over the Watts claim at that time.

BY MR. HASTINGS:

Q You did locate and board with Sam Stubbles when you first got to Tahlequah in '81? A I think I did.

Q Your brother Enoch Dawson stayed there also? A Yes sir.

Q Sam Stubbles lived at the north end of town, old Sergeant? A Yes sir, old German, lived in the lower part of town.

Q Did you ever hear the names of any other witnesses which you stated perhaps testified in your case? A I have heard them but I have forgot them.

Q You don't recollect one name now? A I dont remember them now sir.

Q In the Irene House case and Joann Barber case, in which you testified before the Commission, when you were making search for this testimony you couldn't find any other testimony from that of record except the Dr. Baker testimony, could you? A That's all we could find; no we didn't find the testimony, we got a copy.

Q Well it must have been a copy of the original, the certificate shows that? A I don't know; House got a copy of what claimed to be the affidavit of Baker and he told me to give it to him; that is all I know about it.

Q Well the certificate there does not bear my certificate does it? A I don't know about that, I am no scholar.

Q Well you didn't get the testimony of any other witnesses except that of Dr. Baker; you couldn't find any other over there of record? A I didn't hunt for any; House hunted for them.

Q None of you have ever been able to dfind any other? A No. Not even find our petition.

Q Samuel P. Dawson applied to what is known as the Adair Court, didn't he? A I don't remember now.

Q He was an uncle of yours wasn't he? A Yes sir, claimed to be.

Q The father of these two parties who testified here this morning? A Well I don't know, they claimed to be, I never met them to know them.

Q He was rejected by the Adair Court, or Hayes Court? A I don't know whether he filed his petition.

Q Did you testify in his case? A I don't remember; I might more dont it.

Q Didn't you testify in the Andrew J. Dawson case before what is known as the Hayes Court? A I don't recollect, if I did I don't remember.

Q Did you testify in the Riley Dawson case? A No sir, not that I remember.

Q Didn't you know of his being rejected by that court? A I don't remember, sir.

Q You know that the Cherokee Council never authenticated the roll of 1896, don't you? A No sir, I don't know it; I didn't know this was done until I went to Tahlequah after some papers and come back and they told me about it.

Q You never found out that C. H. Taylor was a big rascal up until the present time have you? A (No response)

Q The records here show that he has been in the constant employment of your family from that date up to this time? A Why it shows here from the record: I would rather be excused for my part of it.

Q You were the man that had most to do with it? A I never employed him, I deny that.

Q You are the man that had most to do with this record? A In my case and in my father's case.

Q Didn't you testify for your uncle Jim Dawson? A Yes sir.

Q Wasn't he attorney for him? A Yes sir.

Q Wasn't he employed by Jim Dawson after you got your citizenship?
A Why not but the grand-children.
Q Jim Dawson's petition was filed in September 1883, after yours?
A Yes sir.
Q C. H. Taylor, attorney of record, filed his petition? A He might have filed it for all I know.
Q Well you hadn't at that time fallen out with C. H. Taylor had you? A Why no, we never did have any trouble, only over this money, he never would give it back to me or give it to Bryant.
Q You never discovered that he was such a bad man until after your judgment was rendered? A I know he was not of good character.
Q Are you and Wright, this man who testified for the Cherokee Nation, on speaking terms? A Hardly speak.
Q Does he refuse to speak to you? A So etimes he does.
Q Do you refuse to speak to him? A Yes sir.
Q Have you been speaking to him for the last two or three months? A I have not spoke to him until I met him there at the hotel the other day.
Q First time you spoke to him since he had the boy arrested? A Yes sir.
Q When did he have the boy arrested? A Along in September or October, September I think.
Q When did Dr. Baker die? A I don't remember.
Q You don't remember how much older your father was than you? A No, I don't know.
Q What is your age? A I will be 60 in May.
Q Then you were born in '42? A Yes sir, '43 according to the record.
Q Was your father as much as 25 years old when you were born? A I couldn't say.
Q What was your best judgment? A I suppose he was 20 or 25 years old. My understanding he married young.
Q Can't you give any better idea than 4 or 5 years of your father's age? A I say 25.
Q Your father was born say, 25 from 43 would have made him be born in 1817; now had your father any older brothers or sisters? A I think Jack Dawson was the oldest of the family, no, Betty, the girl, was the oldest and Jack next, and then my father as well as I remember about it.
Q There were two girls older? A No, one of the girls I never saw.
Q Then you think there are only 3 older than your father? A Yes, that's my understanding of the family.
Q Dr. Baker gives his age 73 in '82, which would make him be born in '89, now he states that when he was 15 or 16 years old, which added to 1809, will make 1824, that your grandmother Anna Priest, was a school girl; whereas from your testimony and that of the family history introduced here shows that your grandmother Anna Priest was the mother of seven children, the youngest being born in 1827, how do you reconcile that? A I don't remember about the statement of Dr. Baker; I don't know that he made such statement as that, I don't remember about it.
Q And if he did you don't know how to reconcile it? A (No response.)

Q Did you talk to any of the members of the Court that admitted you? A No sir, I was not acquainted with them.
Q You know whether they were old or young men? A They were old men like; Steve Tehee. I got acquainted with him afterwards, and Jo ie Thompson, at the Council you know I was there a good deal.

Q That was the fellow that was on the bench? A Yes sir.
Q He was afterwards assistant chief of the Cherokee Nation?
A I think so.
Q Steven Foreman, that's the man you had reference to? A Yes sir, I think it was, I just knew the man; I had no acquaintance with him at all.
Q D. W. C. Duncan boarded when you were down there at the National Hotel? A I think he did, as well as I remember now when we were admitted.
Q Don't you know he did? A I think he did, as well as I remember.
Q Were you over there to his room? A I think I was.
Q You remember what it was that you brought Dr. Baker down there to make a statement before the Court? A It was in January, I was in January Term of 1882 I believe, it was, as well as I remember about it.
Q Well you didn't take any more testimony after Dr. Baker testified?
A Not sir, I think.
Q But your case was not submitted or passed upon for a year?
A I think it was, yes sir, as well as I remember.
Q I would like to have you when the Blackings family came to the Cherokee Nation? A Alex Blackings came with me when we moved here, and went back and got his family and moved that fall.
Q Did he move his family here that same fall? A Yes sir.
Q What year was that? A In the fall of 87 I believe it was, as well as I remember now.
Q When did the Bulanka family come? A I think the girl and the old lady came in the next spring.
Q How long did they remain that time? A The old lady stayed here, but the girl went back and in a short time her and her husband came back.
Q Did she come back until after her marriage? A No, she was married when she came first.
Q The last time? A She was married I think, she was married when she came out.
Q How long has August Bulanka been a permanent and continuous resident of the Cherokee Nation? A I think he came there in the fall of 1884 or 1885, I must say which.
Q How long has Robert Pierce been a continuous resident of the Cherokee Nation? A Ever since he was admitted.
Q When was that? A '83.
Q How long has Martin L. Patterson? A Ever since he married his wife, and he was living here before he married his wife.
Q Who is Arizona Airey? A That is my daughter.
Q Did you bring her with you? A No not when I moved.
Q When did she come? A She came out in a year or two after I moved here.
Q Was she married when you moved here? A No sir, she was not married.
Q She was not married when you were admitted? A No sir, she was a child.
Q When did Jim Love come to this country? A With his grandfather, James Dawson.
Q What was his mother's name? A Melvina Dawson.
Q You know Jim Love's age? A No sir.
Q Don't know how old he was in '83? A No sir.
Q Was he grown? A I think he was.
Q Married? A No no.
Q Married in this country? A Yes sir
Q Who is James H. Hanson? A Married one of the Jackson girls.

Q When did they come to this country? A Right away after they was admitted.
Q In what year? A I think the winter of '84, I think it was, spring or winter of '84.
Q You knew Gideon Graham? A Yes sir.
Q Who is his mother? A Missouri Ann Graham, formerly Missouri Ann Dawson.
Q Did he come from Texas to Arkansas? A Come from Texas.
Q Did you know them in Texas? A I knew the girl.
Q You never knew them until they came to this country? A I never knew Gid.
Q When did you see her first? A I think they came here in the fall or winter of 1894 or '5.
Q He was married then? A I think so was.
Q Know it his wife? A I think he was, I don't know.
Q Did he have any children when you first saw him? A He came to Tahlequah and I never saw his family for I don't know, for several years.
Q You understood he had a family? A Yes sir.

BY I.E. McKENNON:

Q Did you mean to say '84 or '94? A '84.
Q Did you see Gid Graham in '84? A '84, let me study, maybe '85.

BY I.E. HASTINGS:

Q Did you see him in '85, are you positive on that proposition? A I think so.
Q Will you swear it? A No sir, I won't swear it positive swear it, but I think it was, as I remember now it was; I couldn't say positive.
Q All the people Mr. Dawson that have been admitted to citizenship by courts of competent jurisdiction while they were de-citizenised by courts of acquired jurisdiction, enjoyed the same privileges that you have narrated here about going to school and being tried in the courts? A Yes sir.

Q All that sort of thing that you have been telling here in your direct examination? A Ask me the question again.
Q I say all people who were admitted here by courts of competent jurisdiction, until they were de-citizenised by courts of like jurisdiction, enjoyed the same privileges that you did? A So far as I know they can.
Q They all drawed money and all tried in the courts as long as we had tribunal courts, were they not? A Yes sir, so far as I know.
Q There was no special privilege granted to you in preference to anybody else? A None but recognized citizens of the Cherokee Nation.
Q Well you had been recognized since you were admitted? A Yes sir, I enjoyed the same privileges of native born Cherokees.
Q Well I say there is nothing special about it? A No, I don't know as there is.
Q You got acquainted with Mr. Duncan while you were up there during the hearing? A Yes sir. I was acquainted with him, knew him, when I saw him.
Q Mr. Bill Rose did the examination of Dr. Baker? A Yes sir.
Q Did you file any other paper before the Court other than your petition and then Dr. Baker's statement? A I never filed any petition there at all.
Q None whatever? A I don't remember any.
Q Well you never had occasion to file any papers before Mr. Duncan? A I got him to do some writing for me.
Q What? A Letters to my brother in Texas.
Q Mack Dawson? A Yes sir, W. Dawson.

Q That? A Yes sir, Nick Dawson.
Q Well is that all he did for you? A I don't remember now about it.
Q Why didn't you get your attorney to do that letter writing? A There was not any there.
Q Taylor nor Bonge was not there then? A No sir.
Q What is that you paid the 20 or 25 dollars for, was writing this letter back to your brother? A I paid him for that claim.
Q When did you pay that? A I think I paid it, I don't exactly when, Camp Taylor paid it a year or two after I found out here and settled where I did; might have been 3 years. I don't remember.
Q Where was Duncan living then? A I couldn't say where.
Q Was he still clerk of this Court? A No sir, not when that money was paid; that is, when Camp Taylor said he paid it.
Q You did send Camp Taylor some money? A I sent some money to him for Joel Bryant.
Q You knew Joel Bryant's address didn't you? A No, I don't know that I did, No I didn't send Camp Taylor any money, I gave it to him.
Q How much did you give him? A One hundred dollars.
Q When? A Right at that time; he claimed it from me as soon as we got our papers; he come onto me and dunned me for Bryant.
Q You never sent him any then after that? A No sir.
Q Did you ever see Bryant after that? A Yes sir
Q How long after that? A I don't know, a year or two afterwards. a year I believe, my brother wrote, I wrote to my brother about paying Camp Taylor money and he went onto my brother about it and he never paid him until we moved out to this country.
Q After all that you got him to attend to your uncle Jim Dawson's and the other relatives cases? A The other parties did.

BY MR. McKENNON:

Applicants object to all that part of the witness' evidence in response to interrogatories by representatives of the Cherokee Nation which relates to the character of the evidence upon which the judgments admitting members of the James and Robert Dawson families were admitted, and to the history of the members of the Dawson family, because the same is immaterial, incompetent and irrelevant.

BY MR. McKENNON:

Q One question I omitted to ask you Mr. Dawson, as to the Court at the time the judgment admitting Robert Dawson's family was rendered, who of the judges were present on that day? A They was all three of them, Wolfe, Tehee and Thompson.
Q Are you positive of that fact? A Yes sir.
Q You do not know this Andrew Dawson family who applied to the Dawes Commission for Cherokee citizenship, and who stated that they are cousins of some members of your family? A Andrew?
Q Andrew J. Dawson, who claims to be from Missouri? A How was the question?
Q You do not know them do you? A I don't know that they are any kin to us.
Q You don't know that they are related to you at all? A No sir.
Q This Mary Dawson case, do you know the members of that family? A No sir, I don't.
Q Don't know who they are? A No sir.
Q The Rebecca Dawson case? A I don't know her either.
Q You don't know whether they are related to you or not? A No sir.
Q If any of these persons are related to you or your family did you have any knowledge of it? A Not as I know of.

Q John Barber, do you know anything about them? A They claim to be kin to me.
Q Where are they from? A They are from Texas.
Q Do you know they are related to you? A They claim to be kin.
BY MR. MASTINGS:
Q Will you swear for the entire two Commissions? A Yes; they claim to be kinfolks of mine.
BY MR. McKENNON:
Q Irene J. Haines, who is that? A That is a cousin of mine; claims to be.
BY MR. MASTINGS:
Q You testified for her, didn't you before the Commission? A I think I did on that as I remember.
BY MR. McKENNON:
Q Before the Court, that admitted Jo on Dawson and family, who were the witnesses there? A Oliver Miller, from Pennville, Arkansas.
Q Who were the others? A Myself and J. Dawson and there was two other witnesses, I don't remember who they are.
Q Were they Cherokee citizens and residents of the Cherokee Nation? A Yes sir.
BY MR. MASTINGS:
Q You don't remember their names? A Right.
Q Of those other people who claimed to be citizens of the Cherokee Nation and who were in Oklahoma? A I don't know about Ro and J. Dawson were citizens of the Cherokee Nation.
Q You only proved that Jim Dawson was a brother of Robert Dawson before the Court? A Yes sir.
Q And they returned back to the Commission in the Court before? A Yes, -- except that they were citizens, and he knew my folks before he ever came here.
Q He is older than Dr. Baker? A About the same age.
Q Why didn't you get Oliver Miller's testimony in the Horse case? A He was dead.
Q You and no member of your family in the Irene House case or the Johnnie Barber case or any of those cases that were tried before the Dawes Commission in your affidavits ever had reference to the fact that Oliver Miller testified in Jim Dawson's case in '84 did you? A I don't remember about that.
Q You did make reference to the fact that Dr. Baker testified there in '84, didn't you? A I don't remember about that now.
Q You never made reference to any other witness having testified other than Dr. Baker did you? A I don't remember about it now.
BY MR. McKENNON:
Q Now just one other question: All of these papers in the original application and everything, so far as you know, in the James Dawson case, were filed before the Commission which admitted the Jo on Dawson family, are lost or mislaid are they not? A I suppose they are, I don't know, I never saw them.
Q Have you tried to get copies of them? A Yes sir, I tried to get the original papers.

BY COMMISSIONER: This case is continued until 8:30 A.M., tomorrow morning, March 20th, 1902, it now being the hour for adjournment.

MARCH 20, 1902.- 8:30 A.M.- B. H. DAWSON again on the stand, testified as follows:
BY MR. McKENNON:
Q Where was your brother Jim Dawson raised? A In Arkansas.

Q What County? A Carroll.
Q Near what town? A Berryville.
Q Did Dr. Baker live at Berryville? A Yes sir.
Q Was your brother Will's acquaintance with him for many years?
A Yes sir.
Q Did he know him sufficiently to be acquainted with his character and habits of life? A Yes sir.
Q Do you know Josephine Pierce? A Yes sir.
Q Whose daughter was she? A Robert Dawson's.
Q Is she the same identical person who is called Josie Pierce, and Josie Dawson? A Yes sir.
Q Is there any other Josie Pierce or Josie Dawson or Joe Phine Pierce or Josephine Dawson? A I don't know but the one.
Q She was also called Josephine or Josie Kelly? A Yes, after she married; her first husband was Pierce.
Q And her second husband? A Dan Kelly.
Q There was another Josephine Dawson wasn't there, Bulaski's wife?
A Why they called her Joe, I suppose that's her name, I would not be positive; that was Rile Dawson's daughter, August Bulaski's wife.
Q She is much younger than your sister, Josephine, above referred to? A Yes sir, oh yes.

BY MR. HUTCHINGS:

Q Where were you born, Mr. Dawson? A Carroll County, Arkansas.
Q You know how old you are? A 42.
Q 42? A I think so.
Q How many older children were there of your father's than yourself? A Three.
Q Which were they? A E. Dawson, Riley Dawson and Jasper Dawson.
Q You are the fourth child and the fourth boy? A Yes sir, fourth boy.
Q Where were your father and mother married, do you know, from family history? A I think it was in Arkansas, I couldn't be positive, I think they was.
Q Do you know how long your grandfather lived in Arkansas? A No sir I don't.
Q Don't know what year he came to Arkansas? A Only from statement.
Q Well what did they say about it? A I think they come there some time in '30.
Q You know whether your father was born in Arkansas? How many of your grandfather's children were born there? A There was none of them born in Arkansas according to history and according to what he always told me, they were born in Tennessee.
Q He came there in '30, and all the other children were born on the Hiwasee River in Tennessee, before he ever came? A That is what I think, yes sir. Now I am not positive about that. They were from Tennessee, but either Dr. Baker lived there or my folks come from there; I don't know as I remember that I ever heard my father say where he was born at.
Q In Tennessee somewhere; he said he was a good big boy when he came to Arkansas? A I don't know as I ever heard him say.
Q Do you know the difference in the ages of yourself and your three older brothers? A No I don't.
Q Don't know the time that comes in between you? A No I don't know that; I think it is about two years though.
Q That would make E. Dawson about eight years older than you, probably? A Yes sir.

BY MR. McKENNON:
Q Did Josephine Pierce have a daughter who married Mr. Bogle?
A Yes sir.
Q What was her name? A I always knowed her by Dade Pierce; I don't know whether that is her right name or not.
Q What is Bogle's name? A John Bogle.
Q She is the child of Josephine Pierce who married John Bogle?
A Yes sir.
BY MR. HASTINGS:
Q Where did she marry John Bogle? A Near Afton.
Q When? A I couldn't state.
Q About when? A You have got a copy of the marriage license.
Q When did Josephine Pierce come to the Cherokee Nation? A '83.
Q Has she lived here continuously since that time? A Up until her death; she is dead.
Q Any of her children come with her at that time? A Yes sir.
Q And have they lived here continuously since that time? A Yes sir, except Bill Pierce, he went to Colorado and died.

J. C. STARR, being first duly sworn and being examined, testified as follows:
BY MR. McKENNON:
Q Your name is J. C. Starr is it? A Yes sir.
Q Mr. Starr, was that instrument taken by you, or before you? (Showing witness document.)
A Yes sir.
Q Where? A At the residence of S. H. Benge: near Fort Gibson.
Q When? A On the 15th day of this month.
Q What day of the week was that? A On Saturday.
Q Is that the day it was taken? A Yes sir.
Q Did you go there on Saturday to take this? A Yes sir.
Q Then when Judge Benge stated on Tuesday that it was taken "yesterday" meaning Monday, the 17th, he was mistaken, was he?
A It was taken Saturday, the 15th.
Q Was he mistaken or not? A It was not taken then.
Q Then his statement made on Tuesday the 18th that it was taken on "yesterday", meaning Monday, the 17th, was not correct, was it?
A I think not, because I was there, and it was taken on the 15th.
Q And it was taken on the 15th, you are positive it was taken on the 15th? A Yes sir.

Q Then of course his statement could not be correct? A I guess not.
BY MR. HASTINGS:
Q He was just mistaken about the date, wasn't he? A Yes sir.
BY MR. McKENNON:
Q Did you tell Charles T. Moore who is now present, on last Tuesday that they sent you out there on Monday to take that? A No sir.
BY MR. HASTINGS:
Q I sent you there last Saturday? A Yes sir.
Q And you went there at my direction, didn't you? A Yes sir, and came back Saturday night.

ROBERT L. DAWSON, being first duly sworn, and being examined testified as follows:
BY MR. McKENNON:
Q What is your name? A My name is Robert L. Dawson.
Q What is your age? A My age is something close to 30 years old, I am 29 past.

Q Are you a son of E. Dawson, commonly known as Buck Dawson?
A Yes sir.
Q I will ask you if you will examine this letter sent with the enclosure and state whether or not you found that among the papers of your father after his death? A (Hands letter to witness who examines it) A Yes sir, I found this amongst the papers of my father. He always kept all his own papers, and me looking over them I saw this letter.
Q Has that been in your custody ever since you found it? A Yes sir, if that's the letter that was in the envelope.
Q Well that's what it is, you can tell whether it is or not? (witness further examines letter) Q That purports to be a letter from Samuel H. Benge, does it not, to your father? A Yes sir. (Here Applicants' attorney hands letter and ent lope referred to to attorneys for Cherokee Nation.)

BY MR. McKENNON: I want to offer this letter in evidence in this case; it is a letter signed by S. H. Benge, attorney at law, dated Fort Gibson, C. N., Jan. 13, 1883. Addressed to Mr. E. Dawson, Esq., together with the envelope, in which it was enclosed, with the card of C. H. Taylor upon it, attorney at law, Tahlequah, Indian Territory, and postmarked Tahlequah, Ind. T., January 13.

BY MR. HUTCHINGS: The Nation objects to the introduction of this letter for the reason that S. H. Benge is living and can testified in this case, and his handwriting should be either proven or denied by himself.

G. W. BENGE, being first duly sworn, and being examined, testified as follows:
BY MR. McKENNON:
Q What is your name? A G. W. Benge.
Q Are you a son of Samuel H. Benge? A Yes sir.
Q Do youknow his handwriting? A I believe so.
Q Is that his handwriting? (shows witness letter before referred to.) A Yes sir, it is either his or a resemblance of his.
Q To the best of your knowledge and belief is that his letter?
A Yes sir.

BY MR. McKENNON: Now we offer it in evidence.

BY COMMISSION: (Reading letter)

"Fort Gibson, C. N.,
Jan 13th, 1883.

Mr. E. Dawson, Esq.,

Dear Sir:- I write this note to inform you that your case came off before the Court on Citizenship on the 11th inst, and was decided in your favor, so you all are citizens of this Nation. T. M. Dawson was furnished with a copy of the decision at the court. He will write to you also. You will please send me fifty dollars as my fee in your case according to contract. Send it to Fort Gibson, Cherokee Nation.

Respectfully yours,
S. H. Benge,
Attorney at law."

Enclosed in envelope, as follows:
Card in upper corner, left hand:
"Return in ten days to C. H. Taylor,
Attorney at Law,
Tahlequah, Ind. Ter."
Addressed: "Mr. E. Dawson,

Henryetta,
Okmulgee Co., Texas."

Post-marked: " Tahlequah, Jan 17 Ind T."

ROBERT L. DAWSON, -re-called and further Examined, testified as follows:

BY MR. McKENNON:

Q Now examine that and see if that is also a paper which you found among your father's papers after his death? (Hands papers to witness) A That is the same letter that I found.

Q Among the same that you found the Bangs letter? A Yes sir.

BY MR. McKENNON: This is a letter purporting to have been written by J. M. Bryan, to R. Dawson, dated at Chouteau Station, Cherokee Nation, And not dated, which we offer in evidence. (Applicants' attorney hands said paper to Nation's attorneys.)

Q Mr. Bryan is dead is he not? A I think so.

BY MR. HUTCHINGS: We have no objection.

BY COMMISSION: (reads letter)

"Chouteau Station, Cherokee Nation.
I. T., M. K. & T. R. R.

MR. Dawson:

Dear Sir:-

I am in receipt of your favor of the 30th inst in regard to our contract.

After I had got the claim so there would be little more to do I employed Campbell Taylor to answer for me which the case came up, for which I was to pay him $20 out of my fee.

This all the action I had in the matter with Taylor.

I saw Taylor in Washington last month, and he told me that your brother had made another contract with him, and paid him, or that you was to pay him $100- and that you had offered him a check on some bank in Texas.

That $100- matter with Taylor, I have nothing to do with, nor couldn't have if I wanted to.

I hope Mr. Dawson this letter will explain the matter fully.

And I am satisfied that you are apprised of the earnest work I done for you. Please write to me.

Very respectfully,

Very truly,

J. M. Bryan."

Q I will ask you if you know of your father having paid Bryan that money? A Yes sir, paid him a horse and some other money.

BY MR. HUTCHINGS:

Q How old was your father when he died? A Me, I don't know whether I know his age or not.

Q If you don't know you can't say? A I wouldn't have no reason to know his age; never asked him his age; of course I guess my mother knows.

Q Never had occasion to talk about his age at all? A Oh I have heard him speaking of his age at different times, but then I never paid enough attent on to it.

Old Crahon, being first duly sworn and being examined testified as follows:

BY MR. McKENNON:

Q What is your name? A Old Crahon.

Q How old are you? A Mr. Graham? A I am 35 years old.
Q How long have you been living in the Territory? A I came out here in 1887 or '88.
Q To the Cherokee Nation? A Yes sir.
Q How long have you been living in the Cherokee Nation, what year was that '87 or '8? A Yes sir.
Q Have you resided here continuously from that time ever since in the Territory? A Yes sir.
Q How long did you live in the Cherokee Nation? A About 6 years.
Q Where did you go then? A Wagnner.
Q In the Creek Nation? A Yes sir.
Q And been residing there ever since? A Yes sir.
Q In business? A Yes sir.
Q Have you all the while been recognized as a citizen of the Cherokee Nation? A Yes sir.
Q Mr. Graham, do you know Judge Samuel H. Benge? A Yes sir.
Q Did you have a conversation with him in Fort Gibson about September of 1900? A Well as to the exact time I couldn't say, it was sometime about the time that the Dawes Commission were at Sallisaw, or possibly a little later, somewhere about there.
Q Taking the census of the Cherokees? A Yes sir.
Q At that time had the question of the validity of the judgment of the Cherokee citizenship corrission admitting Robert Dawson and family been called in question? A Yes sir.
Q Did you talk to him about the facts concerning the obtaining of that judgment? A I did.
Q What did he tell you about it; well I will just ask you, did he then and there tell you that that judgment was regular and all right nothing wrong with it? A He did.

BY MR. HUTCHINGS:

Q You were looking around for testimony at that time, Mr. Graham, were you? A How was that?
Q You were looking around for testimony at that time, expecting this case to be questioned? A Since the validity of that judgment had been attacked by the authorities of the Cherokee Nation, I thought it was well to look into the matter.
Q And he told you the judgment was all right? A Having known that Mr. Benge was connected with the case, I saw him in Fort Gibson, subsequent to that time and asked him about it, if there was anything wrong about the matter, and also that I might want his affidavit concerning the matter, and I also I think maybe wrote to him; possibly prior to that, I am not sure as to the writing, but I think possibly I did.
Q Did he tell you he would make an affidavit? A I don't think at that time that I asked him for an affidavit. I thought as he lived right near here I would use him in person; he assured me that everything was all right.
Q Your mother was Missouri Dawson was not she? A Yes sir.
Q Her name was Missouri Graham when she was re-admitted to citizenship? A Yes sir.
Q And was not Missouri Dawson as named in that judgment? A Yes sir.
Q Do you know whether the other children named in there had married and changed their names also at the time they were admitted?
A There were not any of them married.
Q Ella Dawson was your aunt? A Yes sir.
Q Was she married at that time? In 1883? A Yes sir.
Q Melvina Dawson, was she married at that time? A Yes sir.
Q And the fourth one you have mentioned, Missouri Dawson, was your mother? A Yes sir.

Q Can you give us the exact date of your birth? A Yes sir.
Q Do so, please? A January 21, 1867.
Q And you came to the Territory when? A In 1887 or 1888.
Q You can't fix that any more definite? A Well sir, it has been a good while ago, and I didn't have anything to cause me to.
Q Well I just want to know whether you did have or not? A No sir.
Q When were you married? A 1886.
Q You were married prior to coming here? A Yes sir.
Q Your first child born away from her? A Yes sir.
Q What is its name? A John W.
Q '86 you were married, and he was born about the spring of '87? A Somewhere in 1887, I don't remember.
Q Prior to your coming here? A Yes sir.
Q That is the only child you had that was born away from here? A No sir, Julius.
Q Julius was not born in the Territory? A No sir.
Q And prior to the time of your removing to the Territory? A Yes sir.
Q These are the only children born out? A Yes sir.

BY MR. McKENNON:

Q Do you know Campbell Taylor? A Yes sir.
Q I will ask you if about February 1901, he came to Wagoner, and sent his son to have you come to the hotel at night where he was, and if he then and there said to you "You people are on the doubtful list, and if you will give me five hundred dollars I will make it all right and)see that you are enrolled, and if you don't I will see that you don't get on".? A Well now as to the first part of thatquestion, where you say he sent his son; that is an error; I don't know whether he came to my house or sent some one; when I returned home that evening my wife told me there was some one there to see me, and was at the city hotel at Wagoner, and said come down and see him; I went down there; I never had met Taylor; he introduced himself to me and stated what his business was; asked me if I was on the doubtful list, etc., to which I replied that we were; he asked me if I didn't want to employ him, stating that if we would give him, our family would give him five hundred dollars he would see that we were placed on the rolls all right, but if we refused to give him five hundred dollars that he would use his influence against us and see that we were rejected.
Q You never had met him before, or had any communication with him? A I never met him before; as to the communication, I may have written him something about his affidavit as to the validity of that judgment, I can't say as to that. He said in his testimony that I did; I don't know whether I did or not now.

BY MR. HUTCHINGS:

Q You knew he was the attorney in the case, originally? A After looking at the records I did.
Q I mean you knew it at the time you wrote to him about the affidavit; that was the reason why you thought he would know something? A Certainly.
Q He never told you he was going to swear against you or threatened to tell anything that was not true? A He just simply said unless we gave him that five hundred dollars he would see we were all put off the rolls.
Q Said he would use his influence against you, that is what he said? A Yes sir.

BY MR. HASTINGS:
Q You don't deny writing to him then for the affidavit? A I don't say I did or I did not; I neither affirm it or deny the question.
Q You went to Dartsid Range and also wrote him with reference to what he knew about the case? A I don't know whether I wrote him or not, I think I was under the impression I wrote his son.
Q You went to see Anson Butler, who was interpreter before that court that admitted you? A Yes sir.
Q And you went with Anson Butler to see Jim Smith, attorney before that court? A Yes sir.
Q And you talked around and went & saw everybody you knew of that was before that court then? A Yes sir.
Q That shows you used considerable activity? A Yes sir, I used such activity as was to my interest.
BY MR. [illegible]:
Q That was all after the representatives of the Cherokee Nation objected to the enrollment of the Dawson family and by reason thereof such as had appeared before the Commission had been placed upon a doubtful case? A Yes sir.
Q Then you began to look up the evidence and see what there was in it? A Yes sir.
Q As Mr. Hastings has stated? A That's right.
BY MR. McKENNON:
Q You are a grandson of James Dawson? A Yes sir.
Q The old gentleman? A Yes sir.
Q About what was his age when he was admitted to citizenship in the Cherokee Nation, in 1884, wasn't it? A Yes sir, well I can't be exact as to that.
Q Well as nearly as you can? A He was somewhere about 70 or 72, years of age.
Q Well now, either James Dawson did you know belonging to the families, either one of these families, Robert Dawson family or the James Dawson family? A I never knew of but two James Dawsons.
Q Who were the others? A Dr. James R. Dawson, who is present and standing right here; my grandfather, James Dawson.
Q Was there in '84 any James R. Dawson 35 or 40 or 45 years old, that you know of, belonging to either one of these families?
A No sir.
Q Do you know how old Dr. James R. Dawson was that time?
A James Dawson? Q No I am speaking of Dr. James R Dawson? A Oh, how old he was, no sir, I do not.
BY MR. HUTCHINGS:
Q Do you know who was here attending to your mother's citizenship case at that time, at the time they were admitted? A Yes sir, James Low and Bill Jackson, son of Ellen Jackson.
Q Who was W. A. Dawson? A That is Wilburn, my uncle.
Q Was he here? A I don't know sir.
Q You were not here any of the time? A No sir.
Q You knew your grandfather then, you had lived in the same neighborhood with him? A Yes sir, I knew him well.
Q He didn't die for a year or two after that did he? A After when, Mr. Hastings?
Q After his admission to citizenship? A No sir, he didn't die I think until '91 or '92, several years after.
Q Very old man when he died? A Yes sir.
BY MR. McKENNON:
Q About what age? A He was approximately 80 years old.
BY MR. HUTCHINGS:
Q When he died? A Yes sir.

TESTIMONY ON BEHALF OF THE CHEROKEE NATION.

W. W. HASTINGS, being first duly sworn, and being examined testified as follows:
BY MR. HUTCHINGS:
Q State your name? A W. W. Hastings.
Q Residence? A Tahlequah, age 55.
Q You are attorney for the Cherokee Nation in the general preparation of these cases? A Yes sir.
Q Just state how it happened that you summoned Mr. Campbell Taylor, and what occurred between you with reference to his testimony?
A Well there had been some talk, as the testimony here indicates, that there was perhaps fraud in the admission of this family, and by agreement with counsel on the other side, and the Commission, this case was set for the 17th day of March, and some short time prior to that, as the attorney for the Nation I began to make some preparation or inquiry into the case, and I wrote a great many letters around to different people and among them I wrote C. H. Taylor to come down here. I don't think in that letter that I told him what I wanted with him. I don't think I told him the case that I wanted him to testify in: that is my recollection now. Mr. Taylor prior to that time, neither directly nor indirectly, so far as I know, ever gave me any information voluntarily against this family, or ever said anything that would lead me to believe that he knew anything of a fraudulent character connected with it. But I summoned him; perhaps the fact that I knew he had been connected with them in some way and that I perhaps also would get some information from him. Well he came in response to a letter that I wrote, and I took him up to my office. I talked to him quite a long while. He was exceedingly reluctant about giving any testimony whatever, he told me first and last that he didn't intend to testify before the Commission. He told me he had been attorney for these people, and he didn't believe he could be compelled to testify, and that is he was put upon the stand he would claim that privilege, and he didn't believe I could force him to testify. I talked to him at some considerable length: I asked him what he knew about it: of course he for a long time declined to tell me; and what information I did get from him was by piecemeal. He was exceedingly reluctant all through the interview to give any information. I asked him finally though that if the Court compelled him to testify when he got before the Commission, if he would tell the facts about it, and he said that he would. I told him then that I would subpoena him.
Well we talked quite a good while and finally after always telling me that he intended to claim that privilege, and never wanting to testify, he detailed to me the facts just as he told them on the stand: I don't believe there is the slightest variation, except that he perhaps was not so full at that time and it was told by piecemeal, but I got all those facts out of him, or very nearly all those facts out of him. He may have elaborated a little more here by examination: but he never voluntarily gave me any information at all, either directly or so far as I know indirectly. I don't think he sent any one to me. I got his name because I heard he was connected with the case, and perhaps knew something about it, like I did a great many other people, some of whom I didn't bring, because they didn't know what I supposed they did know about the case.

With reference to S. H. Benge, I want to state that he never voluntarily gave me any information at all about this case, nor did I know that he knew anything in connection with this case until I sent J. C. Starr over to S. H. Benge's place to take his affidavit on Saturday, March 18, in the W. H. and J. W. Shoemake case, and their descendants. I had heard that Mr. Benge knew some important facts in connection with the Shoemake case and I sent him over there then to take that affidavit. And when Mr. Starr came back he told me that he knew some facts also in connection with these other cases, and I was surprised to find he had instead of one affidavit, in the Shoemake case, that he also had another affidavit in the Dawson case. That is the first information I had that Mr. Benge knew anything whatever in connection with the Dawson case, and therefore he never voluntarily, either directly or indirectly gave any information prior to that time to me.

I impressed upon Mr. Taylor that the Nation only wanted the absolute truth in this matter; that it was not seekin anything else but the truth, and didn't want him to tell anything else but the truth.

I want to say again that after he was on the stand and left that evening, and after Captain McKennon, or counsel for the family, had indicated his willingness for Mr. Taylor to testify, that he went over all of these facts that he testified to on the stand subsequent to that time in the presence of J. C. Starr in my office. I simply wanted to go on the stand for the purpose of showing that Mr. Taylor hadn't voluntarily given me any information, and I make this statement for that purpose.

BY MR. MCKENNON:

Q You had no power to compel him to give you any information at that time at all did you? A No sir, none other than the persuation that I brought to use.

Q He therefore did it simply upon your persuation? A Yes sir.

Q You knew he had been acting as attorney for these parties?

A Yes sir, I had seen from the record that he did too.

Q And he told you so? A Yes sir.

BY COMMISSION: The attorneys for the applicant and the representatives of the Cherokee Nation will be granted thirty days from the receipt of the transcript in this case in which to file a brief in this case with the Commission.

I, M. D. Green, do hereby certify that as stenographer to the Commission to the Five Civilized Tribes I correctly recorded the testimony and proceedings in this case and that the foregoing is a true and complete transcript of my stenographic notes thereof.

Martin, a Notary Public on October 4, 1900, and further proceedings were had therein before the Commission at Muskogee, Indian Territory on March 17, 1902. All of these proceedings have been made a part of the record herein.

The evidence, and an examination of the records of the Cherokee Nation, in the possession of this Commission show that on January 11, 1883, one Robert Dawson and his adult children, F. M. Dawson, Elbert Dawson, Jasper Dawson, Mollie Dawson, Wilborn Dawson, James Dawson, Rial Dawson, Josephine Dawson, Joseph Dawson, Jane Dawson and John Dawson were admitted to citizenship in the Cherokee Nation by the Cherokee Commission on Citizenship, commonly known as the "Teehee Court", and that on September 9, 1884, one James Dawson, a brother of the Robert Dawson aforesaid, together with his adult children, Ella Dawson, W. A. Dawson, Malvina Dawson and Missouri Dawson were admitted to citizenship in the Cherokee Nation by the Cherokee Commission on Citizenship commonly known as the "Sperre Court." In addition to their tribal enrollment as shown by the evidence herein, it also appears from an examination of the Cherokee tribal rolls, in the possession of this Commission, that F. M. Dawson is identified on the Cherokee pay rolls of 1883 and 1894, Elbert Dawson on the Cherokee pay roll of 1886, Mollie Dawson on the pay roll of 1883, Wilborn Dawson on the pay rolls of 1886 and 1894, James Dawson on the pay rolls of 1883 and 1894, Rial Dawson on the pay rolls of 1886 and 1894, Josephine Dawson on the pay roll of 1886, Jane Dawson on the pay roll of 1883, Joseph Dawson and John Dawson on the pay rolls of 1883, 1886 and 1894, Ella Dawson and F.A.

Dawson on the pay roll of 1896, and Missouri Dawson on the pay roll of 1894.

A majority of the above named persons, together with the descendants of the persons admitted as aforesaid and such white persons as may have intermarried with the said Dawsons or their descendants are the applicants herein.

For convenience, the applications are divided into groups:

Group 1, includes the applications of Francis M. Dawson and those claiming through him and embraces cases numbered D 524, D 530, D 531, D 534, D 538 and D 835.

The evidence shows that Francis M. Dawson is the same person admitted to citizenship as hereinbefore stated under the name of F.M. Dawson. Katie Dawson, his wife, was married to him on November 21, 1880. The Cherokee Supreme Court in the cases of Cherokee Nation vs. Nancy Rogers and Melissa Dawson vs. W. A. Dawson held that a white woman married to a Cherokee Indian at the time of his admission to citizenship acquires thereby the rights of Cherokee citizenship. She has lived with her said husband since they were married, and the six children included in the application of said Francis M. Dawson, and hereinbefore named are the issue of the marriage aforesaid. All the applicants herein are identified on the Cherokee Census roll of 1896.

John Dawson, William R. Dawson, Lizzie Atkins, formerly Dawson, Francis M. Dawson, Jr., and Arizona Allred are the children of said Francis M. Dawson by a former wife, Julia Ann. They were minors at the date of their father's admission to citizenship. John Dawson, Lizzie Atkins and Francis M. Dawson, Jr., are identified on the Strip payment roll of 1894, and William R. Dawson and Arizona Allred are identified on the Cherokee Census roll of 1896.

Andrew C. Atkins was married under a Cherokee marriage license and in accordance with the laws of the Cherokee Nation on March 22, 1891, to the above named Lizzie Dawson. He has resided in the Cherokee Nation with his said wife since they were married, and the four children included in his application, and hereinbefore named are the issue of that marriage. The oldest child, Arthur, is identified on the Cherokee pay roll of 1894, and the three younger children are identified by birth affidavits on file with this Commission.

Arizona Allred, nee Dawson, came from Arkansas to the Cherokee Nation for the first time in 1894, remained there about two years and then returned to Arkansas, where she was married to Lee Allred. Such marriage was not in accordance with the laws of the Cherokee Nation. Arizona Allred and her husband came to the Cherokee Nation in 1896, stayed there a month and returned to Arkansas where they remained until September, 1898, at which time they came to the Cherokee Nation, remained there about a year and returned to Arkansas in 1899, where they were living at the date of this application. William C. Allred is the child of said Arizona Allred and possesses no rights not acquired by his mother. He is identified on the Cherokee Census roll of 1896.

Paragraph B, Section 21, of the Act of Congress approved June 28, 1898 (30 Stats., 495) provides:

> "No person shall be enrolled who has not heretofore removed to and in good faith settled in the Nation in which he claims citizenship."

The evidence further shows that Francis M. Dawson, his wife, Katie and William H. Dawson, Francis M. Dawson, Jr., and Lizzie Atkins have resided in the Cherokee Nation since 1883, and Andrew C. Atkins, the husband of said Lizzie Atkins, since 1891, and that John Dawson has resided in the Cherokee Nation for at least fourteen years prior to the date of his application. The residence of the minor children of the above named persons is considered to be that of their parents, with whom they are living.

Group II, includes the applications of Samuel R. Dawson, together with those claiming through him and embraces cases numbered D 380, D 382, D 386, D 396, D 482 and D 402.

The evidence shows that Samuel R. Dawson is identified as the Rial Dawson admitted to citizenship in the Cherokee Nation as hereinbefore stated. His wife, Catherine, a white woman, was married to him on July 11, 1866. The Cherokee Supreme Court in the cases of Cherokee Nation vs. Nancy Rogers and Melissa Dawson vs. W. A. Dawson held that a white woman married to a Cherokee Indian at the time of his admission to citizenship acquires thereby the rights of Cherokee citizenship. She has lived with her said husband since their marriage, and August and Mate Dawson are the issue of the aforesaid marriage. Samuel R. Dawson, his wife and children are identified on the Cherokee Census roll of 1896.

Robert Dawson, Albert H. Dawson, Josephine Bulawsky, formerly Josephine Dawson, John W. Dawson, and Katie Newman, formerly Katie Dawson are the children of said Samuel R. Dawson. They were minors at the date of their father's admission to citizenship, and they are all identified on the Cherokee Census roll of 1896.

Sarah F. Dawson, nee Abbott, was married to the said Albert H. Dawson in October, 1894. She has lived with her said husband, since they were married. Ralph H., Alford and Cecil Dawson are the issue of that marriage. Sarah F. Dawson and her child Ralph H. are identified on the Cherokee Census roll of 1896. Alford is identified by a birth affidavit on file with this Commission. The evidence further shows that the youngest child, Cecil Dawson, is dead.

August Bulawsky, was married under a Cherokee marriage license and in accordance with the laws of the Cherokee Nation on May 26, 1893, to the said Josephine Dawson. He has lived with his said wife since they were married and the six children included in his application, and hereinbefore named, are the issue of that marriage. The four older children are identified on the Cherokee Census roll of 1896, and the Sixty Payment roll of 1894. May Bulawsky is identified on the Cherokee Census roll of 1896, and Oscar Bulawsky is identified by a birth affidavit on file with this Commission.

Hannie Dawson, nee Baugher, was married to the said John F. Dawson on September 2, 1894, and she has lived with her said husband since they were married.

The evidence further shows that Samuel R. Dawson, his wife, Catherine, and Robert Dawson, Albert H. Dawson, John W. Dawson, and Katie Newman have resided in the Cherokee Nation since 1886, August Bulawsky and his wife Josephine, since 1893, and Sarah F. and Hannie Dawson since 1894. The residence of the minor children included in this group is considered to be that of their parents, with whom they are living.

Group III, includes the application of John Dawson, and those claiming through him and embraces cases numbered D 578, D 580 and D 530. The evidence shows that John Dawson is the same person admitted to citizenship in the Cherokee Nation as hereinbefore stated. Sarah J. Dawson, nee Wood, his wife, a white woman, was married to him on October 4, 1871. The Cherokee Supreme Court in the cases of Cherokee Nation vs. Nancy Rogers and Melissa Dawson vs. W. A. Dawson held that a white woman married to a Cherokee Indian at the time of his admission to citizenship acquires thereby the rights of Cherokee citizenship. She has lived with her said husband since they were married and the nine children included in the application of said John Dawson, and hereinbefore named, are the issue of said marriage. John Dawson, his wife, and his seven older children are identified on the Cherokee Census roll of 1896. The two younger children are identified by birth affidavits on file with this Commission.

Thomas F. Dawson and Orle H. Dawson are the children of said John Dawson. They were minors at the date of their father's admission to citizenship, and they are both identified on the Cherokee

Census Roll of 1896.

Thomas P. Dawson was married on April 24, 1898, to Allen A. Hilliard, and Marion J. Dawson is the issue of that marriage. The said child is identified by a birth affidavit on file with this Commission.

Orle H. Dawson was married on December 26, 1899, to Willie York, and Mary E. and James F. Dawson are the issue of that marriage. The said children are identified by birth affidavits on file with this Commission.

The evidence further shows that the said John Dawson and his wife, Sarah J., have resided together in the Cherokee Nation since 1883; that said Orle H. Dawson has resided in the Cherokee Nation since 1883, and that Thomas P. Dawson has resided in the Cherokee Nation since 1888. The residence of the minor children herein is considered to be that of their parents, with whom they are living.

Group IV, includes the applications of those claiming through the said Josephine Dawson, now deceased. At the time of her admission she was the wife of one Thomas Pierce, but was admitted to citizenship under maiden name of Dawson. The group embraces cases numbered D 406, D 409, D 431, D 471, D 472 and D 479.

The evidence shows that Robert Pierce, William Pierce, Charles E. Pierce, Oma Gray, formerly Oma Pierce, Effie Pierce (now Effie Akin) and Nancy J. Bogle, formerly Nancy J. Pierce are the children of said Josephine Dawson. They were minors at the date of their mother's admission to citizenship, and they are all identified on the Cherokee Census roll of 1896.

Nellie Pierce, a white woman, was married to said Robert Pierce on July 15, 1894. She has lived with her said husband since they were married, and Lyrtle and Arthur Pierce are the issue of that marriage. Nellie Pierce is identified on the Cherokee Census roll of 1896, and her two children are identified by birth affidavits on file with this Commission.

Ora Gray was married to John S. Gray on April 7, 1898, and Cecil and Walton Gray are the issue of that marriage. Ora Gray is identified on the strip payment roll of 1894 and her children are identified by birth affidavits on file with this Commission.

John S. Bogle was married under a Cherokee marriage license, and in accordance with the laws of the Cherokee Nation on April 5, 1894, to the above named Nancy J. Pierce. He has lived with his said wife since they were married and the six children included in his application, and hereinbefore named, are the issue of that marriage. John S. Bogle and his two older children are identified on the Cherokee Census roll of 1896, and his four younger children are identified by birth affidavits on file with this Commission.

The evidence further shows that the said William Pierce died in January, 1902.

It further appears that Robert Pierce, Charles E. Pierce, Nancy J. Bogle and Ora Gray have resided in the Cherokee Nation since 1884; that John S. Bogle, husband of Nancy J. Bogle, and Nellie Pierce, wife of Robert Pierce, have resided in said Nation ever since they were married, and the residence of the minor children herein is considered to be that of their parents with whom they are living. It appears that Effie Akins was seventeen years old at the date of the application for her enrollment, and it further appears that she resided in the Cherokee Nation from about 1886 up to December, 1900, when she went to Colorado, was married there to Will Akins, and is now living in that state with her said husband.

Group V, includes the application of the said Joseph Dawson, Wilborn Dawson and James Dawson, and embraces cases number Ml D 364, D 475 and D 536.

Joseph R. Dawson is identified as the Joseph Dawson admitted to citizenship in the Cherokee Nation as hereinbefore stated. He was married to Florence Jackson on May 16, 1886, and they have lived together since the date of their marriage. The said Florence Jackson is the daughter of Ella Dawson, but she was of age at the date of her mother's admission to citizenship. The six children included in the application of said Joseph R. Dawson, and hereinbefore named, are the issue of the marriage between the said Joseph R. Dawson and Florence Jackson. The applicant, his said wife and his four older children are identified on the Cherokee Census roll of 1896. The two younger children are identified by birth affidavits on file with this Commission.

Wilborn Dawson is identified as the person of that name admitted to citizenship in the Cherokee Nation as hereinbefore stated. He is identified on the Cherokee Census roll of 1896.

James R. Dawson is identified as the James Dawson admitted to citizenship in the Cherokee Nation as heretofore stated. His wife, Martha A. Dawson was married to him on February 20, 1890. She has lived with her said husband [illegible] marriage, and the four children included in the application of said James R. Dawson, and hereinbefore named, are the issue of said marriage. The applicant, his said wife and his three older children are identified on the Cherokee Census roll of 1896. The youngest child is identified by a birth affidavit on file with this Commission.

The evidence further shows that Joseph R. Dawson has resided in the Cherokee Nation since 1883; that Florence Dawson and Wilborn Dawson have resided in said Nation since 1896, and that James R. Dawson has resided in said Nation since 1883, excepting a temporary absence from 1889 to 1891. The residence of the minor children included in this group is considered to be that of their parents, with whom they are living.

Group VI, includes the application of Mollie Dawson and those claiming through her and embraces case numbered D 518.

The evidence shows that Mollie Moore, formerly Dawson, is identified as the Mollie Dawson admitted to citizenship in the Cherokee Nation as hereinbefore stated. Her husband, Charles T. Moore, was married to her under a Cherokee marriage license, and in accordance with the laws of the Cherokee Nation on January 17, 1887. He has lived with his said wife since they were married and the six children included in his application, and hereinbefore named, are the issue of said marriage. Charles T. Moore, his wife Mollie, and his four older children are identified on the Cherokee Census roll of 1896; the two younger children are identified by birth affidavits on file with this Commission.

The evidence further shows that said Charles T. Moore, his wife Mollie and his eldest child have resided in the Cherokee Nation since 1883; the younger children have resided in said nation all their lives.

Group VII, includes the applications of those claiming through the above named Jane Dawson, who, at the time of her admission to citizenship in the Cherokee Nation, as hereinbefore stated, was the wife of one Alexander Blasingame, but she was admitted under her maiden name of Dawson. Jane Dawson is a resident of Arkansas, and is not an applicant for enrollment. This group embraces cases numbered D 832, D 833 and D 834.

The evidence shows that Henry A. Blasingame, Elbert L. Blasingame, and James R. Blasingame are the children of said Jane Dawson. They were minors at the time of their mother's admission to citizenship and they are all identified on the Cherokee Census roll of 1896.

Henry A. Blasingame was married to his wife Birdie J., on December 6, 1896, and Vinnie C. Blasingame is the issue of that marriage. The said child is identified by a birth affidavit on file with this Commission.

Ida Blasingame, a white woman, was married to the said Elbert L. Blasingame on September 5, 1894. She has lived with her said husband ever since they were married and the four minor children included in the application of said Elbert L. Blasingame are the issue of that marriage. The said Ida Blasingame and her two older children are identified on the Cherokee Census roll of 1896. The two younger children are identified by birth affidavits on file with this Commission.

Mary A. Blasingame was married to the said James R. Blasingame on August 21, 1895. She has lived with her said husband since they were married and the three minor children included in the application of said James R. Blasingame, and hereinbefore named, are the issue of that marriage. Mary A. Blasingame and her oldest child are identified on the Cherokee Census roll of 1896. The two younger children are identified by birth affidavits on file with this Commission.

The evidence further shows that the said Henry A. Blasingame, Elbert L. Blasingame and James R. Blasingame removed to the Cherokee Nation in 1897 and have resided therein with their said wives ever since. The residence of the minor children included in this group is considered to be that of their parents, with whom they are living.

Group VIII, includes the applications of those claiming through the said Elbert Dawson, and embraces cases numbered D 435, D 604, D 608, D 605, D 609, D 617, D 626 and D 627.

The evidence shows that Zona Patterson, formerly Dawson, William C. Dawson, Robert L. Dawson, Elbert B. Dawson, Richard W. Dawson, Ella L. Spickerman, formerly Dawson, and Francis M. Dawson are the children of the said Elbert Dawson. All of them, excepting the said Francis M. Dawson, were minors at the time of their father's admission to citizenship. Zona Patterson is identified on the Cherokee Census roll of 1896, and William C. Dawson, Robert L. Dawson, Elbert B. Dawson and Richard W. Dawson are identified on the Strip Payment roll of 1894. An examination of the Cherokee tribal rolls, in the possession of this Commission, shows that the said Ella L. Spickerman is also identified on the Strip Payment roll of 1894.

Martin L. Patterson was married under a Cherokee marriage license, and in accordance with the laws of the Cherokee Nation on July 15, 1890, to the said Zona Dawson. He has lived with his said wife since they were married and the six children included in his application, and hereinbefore named, are the issue of that marriage. Martin L. Patterson and his three elder children are identified on the Cherokee Census roll of 1896, and his three younger children are identified by birth affidavits on file with this Commission.

Alice Dawson, nee Alexander, was married to the said William C. Dawson on November 16, 1886. She has lived with her said husband ever since they were married.

Elbert D. Dawson was married on February 16, 1898, to Cora Bright, a non-citizen, and his child Ralph E. Dawson is the issue of that marriage. The said child is identified by a birth affidavit on file with this Commission.

Sarah J. Dawson, nee Jones, was married to the above named Elbert Dawson about 1854, and lived with him as his wife until his death in February, 1899, and has not re-married since his death. The Cherokee Supreme Court in the cases of Cherokee Nation vs. Nancy Rogers and Melissa Dawson vs. F. A. Dawson held that a white woman married to a Cherokee Indian at the time of his admission to citizenship acquires thereby the rights of Cherokee citizenship.

Richard W. Dawson was married to Luella Mason, a white woman, on January 24, 1898. His child Ina E. Dawson is the issue of that marriage, and she is identified by a birth affidavit on file with this Commission.

Ella L. Spickerman was married to John J. Spickerman, a white man, on September 7, 1897. Her children Hellen J. and William Glenn are the issue of that marriage. They are identified by birth affidavits on file with this Commission.

It further appears from the evidence that Francis M. Dawson, son of Elbert Dawson, at the time of his father's admission to citizenship in the Cherokee Nation was twenty-two or twenty-three years old. There is no evidence that the said Francis M. Dawson has been admitted to citizenship in the Cherokee Nation by the duly constituted authorities of said Nation, or by the Commission to the Five Civilized Tribes, or by the United States Court under the provisions of the Act of Congress of June 10, 1896 (29 Stats., 321), Section twenty-one of the Act of Congress approved June 28, 1898 (30 Stats., 495), provides for the enrollment of,

> "all persons who have been enrolled by the tribal authorities who have heretofore made permanent settlement in the Cherokee Nation whose parents, by reason of their Cherokee blood have been lawfully admitted to citizenship by the tribal authorities, and who were minors when their parents were so admitted."

The evidence further shows that Zona Patterson, William C. Dawson and Richard W. Dawson have resided in the Cherokee Nation since 1884; Robert L. Dawson, Elbert B. Dawson, Sarah J. Dawson, and Ella L. Spickerman since 1883; Alice Dawson since 1836, and Martin L. Patterson since 1894. The residence of the minor children included in this group is considered to be that of their parents, with whom they are living.

Group IX, includes the applications of the said Missouri Dawson, and those claiming through her. The said Missouri Dawson at the time of her admission to citizenship was the wife of one John W. Graham, but she was admitted under her maiden name of Dawson, This group embraces cases numbered D 23, D 35, D 836, D 1124, D 1125, D 1126, D 1127 and D 1128.

The evidence shows that John W. Graham was married under a Cherokee marriage license, and in accordance with the laws of the Cherokee Nation on February 12, 1888, to the said Missouri Dawson. He had been formerly married to her in the State of Texas in 1866, and has lived with her since that time. Tempa V. and Robert S. Graham are the issue of the aforesaid marriage. John W. Graham, his wife and two children are identified on the Cherokee Census roll of 1896.

ship in the Cherokee Nation was twenty-two or twenty-three years old. There is no evidence that the said Francis E. Dawson has been admitted to citizenship in the Cherokee Nation by the duly constituted authorities of said Nation, or by the Commission to the Five Civilized Tribes, or by the United States Court under the provisions of the Act of Congress of June 10, 1896 (29 Stats., 321). Section twenty-one of the Act of Congress approved June 28, 1898 (30 Stats., 495), provides for the enrollment of,

> "all persons who have been enrolled by the tribal authorities who have heretofore made permanent settlement in the Cherokee Nation whose parents, by reason of their Cherokee blood have been lawfully admitted to citizenship by the tribal authorities, and who were minors when their parents were so admitted."

The evidence further shows that Zona Patterson, William C. Dawson and Richard W. Dawson have resided in the Cherokee Nation since 1884; Robert L. Dawson, Albert L. Dawson, Sarah J. Dawson, and Ella L. Spicherman since 1883; Alice Dawson since 1886, and Martin L. Patterson since 1894. The residence of the minor children included in this group is considered to be that of their parents, with whom they are living.

Group IX, includes the applications of the said Missouri Dawson, and those claiming through her. The said Missouri Dawson at the time of her admission to citizenship was the wife of one John W. Graham, but she was admitted under her maiden name of Dawson. This group embraces cases numbered, D 23, D 35, D 836, D 1124, D 1125, D 1126, D 1127 and D 1128.

The evidence shows that John W. Graham was married under a Cherokee marriage license, and in accordance with the laws of the Cherokee Nation on February 12, 1888, to the said Missouri Dawson. He had been formerly married to her in the State of Texas in 1886, and has lived with her since that time. Tompa V. and Robert S. Graham are the issue of the aforesaid marriage. John W. Graham, his wife and two children are identified on the Cherokee Census roll of 1896.

Joe F. Graham was married to Mary Bradshaw, a non-citizen on January 6, 1898. William C. Graham is the issue of that marriage, and he is identified by a birth affidavit on file with this Commission.

John F. Graham was married on February 11, 1900, to Mattie Lawson, a non-citizen, and Edna M. and Robert Lee are the issue of that marriage. Said children are identified by birth affidavits on file with this Commission.

Bessie Graham was married on November 2, 1892, to the said James M. Graham. She has lived with him since the date of their marriage, and the six children included in the application of said James M. Graham, and hereinbefore named, are the issue of the said marriage. The oldest child Marion is identified on the Strip payment roll of 1894, and the five younger children are identified by birth affidavits on file with this Commission.

The evidence further shows that the said John W. Graham, his wife Missouri Graham, Gideon Graham, Mathew A. Painter, and his wife Laverna A. Painter, Florence P. Bradshaw, John F. Graham and Joe Willie Neal have resided in the Cherokee Nation since 1888, and that Joe F. Graham and James M. Graham have resided in the Cherokee Nation since 1884. The residence of the minor children included in this group is considered to be that of their parents, with whom they are living.

Group X, includes the application of the said Ella Dawson and those claiming through her. The said Ella Dawson, at the time of her admission to citizenship, was the wife of Green W. Jackson, but she was admitted to citizenship under her maiden name of Dawson. This group embraces cases numbered D 395, D 476, D 503, D 830 and D 847.

The evidence shows that Green W. Jackson was married under a Cherokee marriage license, and in accordance with the laws of the Cherokee Nation on March 24, 1887 to the said Ella Dawson. He had been previously married to her in Texas prior to her admission to citizenship. From an affidavit made a part of this record it appears that Green W. Jackson died subsequent to the date of this application, and prior to September 1, 1902.

The evidence further shows that Flora Harmon, formerly Jackson, Tashie A. Jackson, William Jackson and Fannie Lenox, formerly Jackson are the children of said Nila Dawson, now Nila Jackson. Flora Harmon, Tashie A. Jackson and Fannie Lenox were minors at the date of their mother's admission to citizenship, and they are all identified on the Cherokee Census roll of 1896.

James H. Harmon was married under a Cherokee marriage license, and in accordance with the laws of the Cherokee Nation on April 24, 1887, to the said Flora Jackson. He has lived with his wife since the date of their marriage, and the four minor children included in his application, and hereinbefore named, are the issue of the said marriage. James H. Harmon and his three older children are identified on the Cherokee Census roll of 1896. The youngest child is identified by a birth affidavit on file with this Commission.

William C. Lenox was married under a Cherokee marriage license, and in accordance with the laws of the Cherokee Nation on April 1, 1888, to the said Fannie Jackson. He has lived with his wife since the date of their marriage, and the two children Birtie E. and Myrtle Lenox, included in his application, are the issue of the said marriage. William C. Lenox and his two children are identified on the Cherokee Census roll of 1896.

Lizzie Jackson claims to have been married in 1888 to the said William Jackson, who is now deceased. It appears that William Jackson at the date of his mother's admission to citizenship, was over twenty-one years old. There is no evidence that the said William Jackson was ever admitted to citizenship in the Cherokee Nation, by the duly constituted authorities of said Nation, or by the Commission to the Five Civilized Tribes, or by the United States Court under the provisions of the Act of Congress approved June 10, 1896 (29 Stats., 321). Lizzie Jackson and the five minor children included in her application, and hereinbefore named, are identified on the Cherokee Census roll of 1896, and they take only such rights as may have been possessed by the said William Jackson. The authority of the Commission herein is defined in Section twenty-one of the Act of Congress approved June 28, 1898 (30 Stats., 495), heretofore quoted.

The evidence further shows that the said Ella Jackson, the said Flora Harmon and the said Tookie A. Jackson have resided in the Cherokee Nation since 1884, and that William C. Lenox, and his wife Fannie Lenox have resided in the Cherokee Nation since 1888. The residence of the minor children included in this group is considered to be that of their parents, with whom they are living.

Group XI, includes the applications of those claiming through Malvina Dawson and embraces case numbered D 839.

The evidence shows that James Lowe is the son of the said Malvina Dawson, and that at the time of her admission to citizenship the said James Lowe was over 21 years old. There is no evidence that the said James Lowe was ever admitted to citizenship in the Cherokee Nation, by the duly constituted authorities of said Nation, or by the Commission to the Five Civilized Tribes, or by the United States Court under the provisions of the Act of Congress approved June 10, 1896 (29 Stats., 321). It further appears that the said James Lowe was married on June 12, 1887, to Mollie Knight, a white woman, and the four minor children included in his application and hereinbefore named, are the issue of that marriage. James Lowe and his said children are identified on the Cherokee Census roll of 1896 and said children take only the rights which may have been acquired by their father.

The authority of the Commission herein is derived in Section 21 of the Act of Congress approved June 28, 1898 (30 Stats., 495), heretofore quoted.

Group XII, includes the applications of those claiming through the said W. A. Dawson and embraces cases numbered D 405, D 406, D 716, R 12 and R 13.

The evidence shows that Millie T. Dawson was married to the said W. A. Dawson in 1892 and lived with him as his wife in the Cherokee Nation until his death in 1899, and that she has not re-married since his death. Texanna Woolley is the daughter of said W. A. Dawson and his former wife Melissa A. Dawson. Texanna Woolley was a minor at the date of her father's admission to citizenship, and she is identified on the Strip payment roll of 1894. She was married on March 27, 1898, to James Woolley, and her children Irene W. and Wilburn E. are the issue of that marriage. They are identified by birth affidavits on file with this Commission.

Henry T. Richardson was married under a Cherokee marriage license, and in accordance with the laws of the Cherokee Nation on July 11, 1886, to one Sellar Dawson, who was the daughter of the said W. A. Dawson by his first wife Melissa A. Sellar Dawson was a minor at the date of her father's admission to citizenship. Henry T. Richardson lived in the Cherokee Nation with his said wife Sellar from the date of their marriage until her death in 1892. On September 22, 1898, Henry T. Richardson married one Kitty Flournoy nee Dawson. The said Kitty Flournoy was re-admitted to citizenship in the Cherokee Nation by an Act of the Cherokee National Council on December 1, 1894. Of the children herein applied for, Delia F. Richardson is the child of the applicant by his first wife, Sellar. Finis T. Richardson and Jasper C. Richardson are children by his wife Kitty. Edgar, Walter, Alice, Laura, Oscar, Claude and Edna Flournoy are the children of his said wife Kitty by a former husband.

The six older children were admitted to citizenship in the Cherokee Nation on December 1, 1896, with their mother as the members of her family. The youngest child Edna Kleurney was born in 1896 and was living at the date of this application. Delia F. Richardson is identified on the Cherokee Census roll of 1896, and Finis F. and Jasper C. Richardson are identified by birth affidavits on file with this Commission.

Etta Brauer is the daughter of said W. A. Dawson, and was a minor at the date of her father's admission. She was married in 1892 to a non-citizen but such marriage was not in accordance with Cherokee laws. She is identified on the Cherokee Census roll of 1896.

Melissa A. Dawson was married to the said W. A. Dawson in the State of Texas on September 26, 1875. The Supreme Court of the Cherokee Nation in the case of Melissa A. Dawson vs. W. A. Dawson, decided that Melissa A. Dawson, the applicant herein was a citizen of the Cherokee Nation by virtue of intermarriage with her said husband, W. A. Dawson. She is identified on the Cherokee Census roll of 1896, and she has not re-married since her divorce from said W. A. Dawson.

The evidence shows that Tennanna Woolley has resided in the Cherokee Nation since 1884; that Etta Brauer and Melissa A. Dawson have resided in the Cherokee Nation, with the exception of temporary absences, since 1884; that Millie T. Dawson has resided in the Cherokee Nation since 1892; that Henry T. Richardson has resided in the Cherokee Nation since 1886, and that Kitty Richardson, his wife, has resided in the Cherokee Nation since 1894. The residence of the minor children included in this group is considered to be that of their parents, with whom they are living.

Group XIII, includes the following applications: Hiram F. Weddle, et al D 521; William D. Douthitt, D 528; Alonzo M. Fishback, D 345; Florence Morgan, et al D 737; John E. Fishback, D 845 and George A. Mabry, et al D 979. The persons embraced in these applications are related to the above named Dawsons. They are not claiming the right to enrollment by virtue of such relationship, but rely upon a separate adjudication of their rights.

The evidence shows that Hiram F. Weddle was married under a Cherokee marriage license, and in accordance with the laws of the Cherokee Nation on September 13, 1884, to Lula P. Douthitt, and was admitted to citizenship in the Cherokee Nation by the said "Spears Court" on September 13, 1884. Curtis, Morris O. and Roy Weddle are the issue of the said marriage. Hiram F. Weddle and his said wife are identified on the Cherokee Census roll of 1896, and their three children are identified by birth affidavits on file with this Commission.

William D. Douthitt is the brother of said Lula P. Weddle, and was admitted to citizenship in the Cherokee Nation with his said sister on September 13, 1884. He is identified on the Cherokee Census roll of 1896.

Alonzo M. Fishback was married under a Cherokee marriage license and in accordance with the laws of the Cherokee Nation on May 17, 1893, to Lavorna A. Dawson. He had been previously married to the same wife in Texas in 1877, and has lived with her ever since. It appears that Lavorna Fishback was re-admitted to citizenship in the Cherokee Nation by an Act of the Cherokee National Council on December 1, 1894. William A. and Annie B. Fishback are the issue of the said marriage. Alonzo M. Fishback and his said wife and children are all identified on the Cherokee Census roll of 1896, and his wife is also identified on the Cherokee pay roll of 1890.

Florence Morgan, the wife of Elbert L. Morgan, is the daughter of the Kitty Richardson heretofore mentioned and was admitted to citizenship in the Cherokee Nation on December 1, 1894 with the said Kitty Richardson as a member of her family. Clide and Alice A. [illegible] children by her said husband. The said children are identified by birth affidavits on file with this Commission.

John E. Fishback is the son of Laverna Fishback, who was re-admitted to citizenship on December 1, 1894, as heretofore stated. He was a minor at the date of his mother's admission to citizenship and he is identified on the Cherokee Census roll of 1896.

George A. Mabry was married to one Edna Dawson in the State of Arkansas in 1884. He claims to have been married under a Cherokee marriage license to his said wife in 1889, but he presents no satisfactory proof of such marriage. Edna Dawson was re-admitted to citizenship in the Cherokee Nation by an Act of the Cherokee National Council on December 1, 1894. Roby and Charley Mabry are her children by her said husband, George A. Mabry. Edna Mabry is identified on the strip payment roll of 1894, and the two children were minors at the date of their mother's admission to citizenship.

The evidence further shows that Alonzo M. Fishback and his wife Laverna A. Fishback have resided in the Cherokee Nation since 1883; that Lula P. Weddle, William D. Douthitt, and John E. Fishback have resided in the Cherokee Nation since 1884, and that Florence Morgan and Edna Mabry have resided in said Nation since 1894. The residence of the minor children included in this group is considered to be that of their parents, with whom they are living.

All birth affidavits for the minor children embraced in this decision, and hereinbefore noted, are made a part of this record.

It is contended by the Cherokee Nation that the applicants herein are not entitled to be enrolled by this Commission because they have never been lawfully admitted or enrolled by the Cherokee authorities, and that the judgment of the Cherokee Commission on Citizenship admitting Robert Dawson and his family was obtained by fraud on the part of said Dawson.

In considering the question at issue, it is the opinion of this Commission that it has not power, and that it is not the purpose of this proceeding, to review or to set aside the judgment in the Dawson case, or to determine such questions as were necessarily involved in the issues before the Cherokee Commission, and were passed upon by that Commission. In United States vs. Throckmorton, 98 U.S. Page 61, it is stated, "the doctrine is well settled that the Court will not set aside a judgment because it was founded on perjured testimony or for any matter which was actually presented and considered in the judgment assailed." Only such facts therefore, are considered by this Commission, as were not part of the record in the Robert Dawson case before the Teehee Commission, and which tend to show whether the judgment admitting the Dawsons was a bona fide judgment of the Teehee Commission, or whether such judgment is void because of fraud, and upon this proposition the burden of proof is upon those attacking the judgment.

Briefly stated, the circumstances attending the admission of the Dawsons appear to be as follows:

On September 24, 1881, an application was made to the Cherokee Commission on Citizenship known as the "Teehee Court" for admission to Cherokee citizenship of Robert Dawson and the members of his family above mentioned. The members of that Commission were Thomas Teehee, Alex Wolfe and T. F. Thompson. The first two were full blood Cherokee Indians; they could understand, but could not talk English. One D. W. C. Duncan was the Clerk of the Commission. The Dawson case was continued several times before final decision. J. M. Bryan appears to have been an attorney in the case, and after some delay he notified Francis M. Dawson that the case would be taken up by the Commission at its session in January, 1883, and also informed him that C.H.Taylor would look after Dawson's interests as he, Bryan, would be in Washington. On receipt of this notice Francis M. Dawson went to Fort Gibson, Cherokee Nation, and made arrangements with his uncle Samuel H. Benge to go to Tahlequah and conduct the case. Benge who is a witness herein testifies that he was connected with the Dawson case when it was commenced in 1881; that it was continued several times for want of evidence, and that in January, 1883, in company with F. M. Dawson he went to Tahlequah and while there secured the testimony of Toah Rogers, a negro, who knew the Dawson's ancestors, and that after getting his evidence the case was submitted to the Commission. He further testifies that the Commission rendered a decision against the Dawsons and that next morning the Commission reopened the case, but not upon motion of the witness, and rendered a judgment admitting the Dawsons to citizenship. He further states that on his way home to Fort Gibson with Dawson he remarked to the latter, "it was a pretty hard blow when they rendered a decision against us," to which Dawson is alleged to have replied, "yes, but Duncan was the man to reach and he reached him with five hundred dollars."

Dawson denies ever having had such a conversation and says that he did not return to Fort Gibson with Benge but went home to Arkansas by a different route.

C. H. Taylor testifies that he was an attorney in the case and was present when the case was decided. He says there were only two Commissioners present, Teehee and Wolfe. He further testifies that D. W. C. Duncan, the Clerk of the Court asked the witness to let him know when any large citizenship cases came up; that he introduced F. M. Dawson to Duncan on the evening of January 10th, heard part of a conversation between them in which Duncan addressing Dawson said, "there is a hitch in your evidence, if that was straightened out it will be all right." Next morning witness says Dawson told him to call up the case, which he did. That there was no additional evidence introduced and no argument made, and that the case was then decided in favor of the Dawsons. Witness further testifies that Dawson gave him twenty dollars and said he could send him the balance in a short time, that in the course of ten days he sent him one hundred dollars with directions to pay over half of it to Duncan; that Dawson soon afterwards sent him another hundred dollars with the same instruction to give Duncan half of it.

Dawson denied the matters testified to by Taylor excepting in the matter of paying Taylor money, which he admits in part, but says that the twenty dollars mentioned was sent to Taylor about a year after the decision, and that he instructed Taylor to pay it over to Duncan to pay him for a land claim, and that the other money was in payment of J. C. Bryan's attorney fees which Taylor represented to Dawson he had for collection against him. Taylor's reputation for truth and veracity has been impeached by various disinterested witnesses.

The evidence which may be considered as tending to support the charge of fraud is the testimony of S. H. Lange, C. H. Taylor, Thomas [illegible]. Babcart, J. L. Clinkenbeard, James W. Lepin, C. C. Brought and David Meredith.

S. H. Lange testifies that a judgment adverse to the Dawsons was rendered by the Commission on the evening of one day and without any additional proceedings in the case that judgment was reversed on the morning of the next day.

Even if this were a material fact, there is no other proof that the judgments in the case were ever rendered. The record of the proceedings and judgment in the Commission's docket is all on one page, the entry of the application in 1881 and the first continuance being entered under authority of a former Commission and by a different clerk, and there is no evidence of erasure on that page. It is not an unusual thing for a Court to change its judgment, and this fact, if it is a fact, is not in itself any evidence of fraud.

Thomas B. Babeart testifies that one James Dawson, a man of forty or fifty years of age, in company with Butler, the Commission's interpreter and Jim Smith, solicitor for the Nation, came to the witness in Tahlequah the evening of January 10, 1883, to borrow some money; that Dawson was vouched for by Butler as a responsible party and that Dawson told the witness that he had to have money that night, that his case was to be submitted the next day if he could get some money, that Smith had agreed to submit the case without evidence, and that witness thereupon let Dawson have ten dollars.

Admitting all this to be true and that the influence of these officials was purchased for the sum of ten dollars, the Commission fails to see how these alleged facts show that the Court was imposed upon or misled. Bribery of officials to use their influence with the Commission would not necessarily vitiate the judgment, but it must appear that the fraud, or corruption reached the members of the Commission and tainted the judgment itself. The case was not submitted without evidence as appears from the record, and it is shown that such evidence was carefully considered by that Commission. Furthermore, the evidence shows that there was no such person then in Tahlequah as the James Dawson described by witness.

Clinkenbeard testifies that he had a talk with Elbert Dawson about 1881; that Dawson told him he had only one witness, Dr. Baker of Arkansas, "an old man 85 or 90 years old who did not know straight up" and that he could give Dr. Baker four drinks of Arkansas whiskey and he would swear black was white. Witness further testifies that Dawson told him that money was what made the mare go in Texas, and that he had found out that it goes here too.

Assuming that this Commission can go into the question of perjury in connection with evidence in that case, the testimony of Clinkenbeard establishes, if anything, only the facts stated, and does not prove that Dr. Baker committed perjury in giving his testimony before the Commission. Further, it is not clear that Dr. Baker was the only witness in the case. Benge stated that Tosh Rogers was a witness, Duncan is under that impression also, and T. F. Thompson, one of the Commissioners, states that he thinks there were three witnesses. The testimony of Dr. Baker, seems, however, to be the only testimony preserved of record. As to whether Doctor Baker offered perjured testimony by Dawson's procurement, it is proper to state that the evidence of W. H. Curtis and A. S. McClennon, witnesses for applicants, show that Doctor Baker was a man of integrity and was not addicted to drinking.

The testimony of James W. Lewis is to the effect that he had a conversation with F. M. Dawson about 1883, in which Dawson had told the witness that it had cost him seven hundred dollars to get his rights. Draught also testifies that he was an applicant for citizenship about 1881 or 1882, and that while his case was pending he had a talk with F. M. Dawson who told him that if he (the witness) ever got in, it would cost him seven hundred dollars, and that Dawson told him he had paid one witness three hundred dollars, and made arrangements with the Court to get the Dawsons in at one hundred dollars a family. David Meredith testifies that he had a talk with old James Dawson in 1886, and that the latter told the witness it cost him twelve hundred dollars to get his case through.

It can hardly be urged that such evidence is sufficient to show that the members of the Techee Commission were corrupted by the fraudulent use of money. So far as these witnesses have been able to testify the money spent by the Dawsons might have been for proper and legitimate purposes. F. M. Dawson gives a detailed statement of what the case cost him and his brother in a legitimate way. The presumption can not be indulged that such moneys were used for fraudulent purposes and the proof to the contrary must be very clear before this Commission will deny applicants the right to be enrolled upon that ground.

Admitting the truth of all the testimony in this case as to the actual transfer of money by the Dawsons, it appears that Duncan, Butler and Smith were the only beneficiaries of that money. There is no evidence that the members of the Commission received or were offered any of it.

The judgment entered in the Commission's docket shows the signature of the three members of the Commission appended thereto. There is some conflict as to whether Duncan signed Thompson's name, or whether Thompson affixed his own signature. Duncan testified that all three signatures were made by him as Clerk under authority of the Commissioners present, the two full bloods being unable to sign their names. T. F. Thompson testifies that he signed the original transcript of the judgment, which was made on the day of its rendition. The question, however, is not considered to be very material. The signing of judgments by each Commissioner appears to have been a matter of custom only. T. F. Thompson testifies that he remembers the Dawson case and recognizes the judgment therein as the final judgment of the Commission, and that there was no fraud or corruption in the procurement of that judgment by the Dawsons or by any one else so far as he knew.

Much evidence has been introduced by the Cherokee Nation for the purpose of showing that the ancestor, through whom the Dawsons claim, was not a Cherokee, and that other members of the Dawson family, claiming from the same source, have been denied Cherokee citizenship by subsequent Cherokee tribunals, and also by this Commission and by the United States Court. Such evidence, in the opinion of this Commission, is not competent for any purpose in this proceeding. The only question before this Commission is whether there was fraud in the procurement of the Robert Dawson judgment, and not whether the applicants are Cherokee Indians, or whether they ought to have been admitted to citizenship upon the proof submitted. Those were questions presented, considered and passed upon by the Dawes Commission. If their decision is a valid and regular judgment, it is binding on this Commission. If, on the contrary, the applicants have never been lawfully admitted to citizenship, because the judgment under which they claim is void, for fraud, then the question as to whether they are Cherokees by blood is not material, as this Commission has now no authority to admit them to citizenship.

While it is true, that since 1883, a number of applicants, members of the Dawson family, have been denied admission to citizenship in the Cherokee Nation, no argument derived therefrom is of any force, for it is also true that other members of the same family have been admitted to citizenship, and the action of the Cherokee authorities in admitting them has never been questioned by the Cherokee Nation. Whatever inference, therefore, may be drawn from these facts, applies with equal force both for and against the validity of the judgment in question.

The Dawsons have lived in the Cherokee Nation, most of them since 1883; they have exercised the rights of Cherokee citizenship for many years; some of them occupying official positions in the Nation, and no protest seems to have been made against their citizenship until within the last few years. The records of the Cherokee Nation, in the possession of this Commission, show, that since 1883, there have been Commissions on citizenship charged with authority to investigate the judgments of former tribunals alleged to have been secured by fraud, and the Cherokee Legislature had power to order an investigation, and to create a tribunal with authority to set aside a judgment so obtained. No such action appears to have been taken by the Cherokee authorities with reference to the judgment of the Teehee Commission in the Robert Dawson case.

After a careful consideration of all the facts in this case this Commission is of the opinion that the evidence fails to establish that the Dawsons secured their admission to citizenship by fraud or that the judgment of the Teehee Commission as rendered January 11, 1883, was fraudulent as the result of corruption, bribery, or deception upon the part of the Dawsons, or their agents, and that such judgment, and also the judgment of the Spears Commission in 1884, and the Act of the Cherokee National Council of December 1, 1894, which have not been attacked by the Cherokee Nation, being regular on their face, must therefore be accepted by this Commission as the valid judgments of the duly constituted Cherokee authorities.

It is, therefore, the opinion of this Commission that,

ADDRESS ONLY THE COMMISSION TO THE FIVE CIVILIZED TRIBES

Muskogee, Indian Territory, February 26, 1902

Mrs. Etta Brauer,

Afton, Indian Territory,

Madam:-

You are hereby notified that the application of yourself

for enrollment as citizen of the Cherokee Nation will be taken up for final consideration by the Commission to the Five Civilized Tribes, at its office in Muskogee, Indian Territory, on the 15 day of March, 1902.

On said date, you may, if you desire, appear before the Commission, in person or by attorney, when an opportunity will be given you to introduce any additional testimony affecting your application.

You are further notified that the Representatives of the Cherokee Nation will also, at the same time, be afforded an opportunity to introduce testimony tending to disprove your right to enrollment, but said Representatives will be required to notify you of their intention to introduce such testimony before they will be permitted to do so.

CHEROKEE ENROLLMENT

FRANCIS M. DAWSON, ET AL., GROUP Xll.

The Honorable

The Secretary of the Interior.

Sir:

Referring to office report of even date, transmitting the record relative to the applicants parties to Group 1. of the consolidated case of Francis M. Dawson et al., applicants for enrollment as Cherokees, there is enclosed herewith the record relative to the parties applicants to Group Xll. ---

D 405, Group Xll, page 1.

Millie T. pawson applies for enrollment as an intermarried citizen.

D 406, Group Xll, page 4.

Texanna Woolley applies for the enrollment of herself and her minor children, Irene and Wilburn E. Wooley as citizens by blood. Wilb rn E. Woolley was born subsequent to the date of his mother's application. He is identified by a birth affidavit.

D 715, Group Xll, page 9.

Henry T. Richardson applies for enrollment as an intermarried citizen, and for the enrollment of his wife, Kitty, and their minor children, Delilah F., and Finis T. Richardson, and for his minor step-children, Edgar, Walter, Alice, Laura, Oscar, Claude, Edna and Florence Flourney as citizens by blood. He also applies for the enrollment of his minor child, Jasper C. Richardson, who was born subsequent to the date of his application. This child is identified by a birth affidavit. Florence Flourney is embraced in the application of Albert L. Morgan, (D 737, Group XIII.), and will not be considered in connection with this group.

R 12, Group XII. page 20

Etta Brauer applies for the enrollment of herself as an intermarried citizen.

R 13, Group XII page 24

Melissa A. Dawson applies for enrollment as an intermarried citizen.

The Commission, in its decision of December 23, 1902, held that all the parties to this group were entitled to enrollment as citizens, -- Millie T. Dawson, Henry T. Richardson and Melissa A. Dawson as citizens by intermarriage, and the others as citizens by blood.

Millie T. Dawson, (Group XII page 1), the record shows was married to W. A. Dawson, October 1892, and W. A. Dawson was admitted to citizenship in the Cherokee Nation by the Spears Commission or Court, September 9, 1884. She died October 1899. Her name does not appear on the 1896 roll.

Texanna Woolley (Group XII page 4), is a daughter of W. A.

Dawson, by his former wife. W. A. Dawson was admitted September 9, 1884, and he died October, 1899. Texanna Woolley was married to James Woolley November 27, 1898. She was a minor when her father was admitted to citizenship. Her name appears on the 1894 pay-roll.

Henry T. Richardson, (Group XII, page 9), July 11, 1886, was married to Mrs. Sellar, or Stella, or Sella Dawson, in accordance with the Cherokee laws. She was a daughter of W. A. Dawson, who was admitted September 9, 1884. She was a minor at the time her father was admitted. Her father died October 1899. She died about 1892. In September, 1898, Henry T. Richardson married his present wife, Kitty Richardson, formerly Flourney. His present wife's maiden name was Dawson. Kitty Richardson, Formerly Flourney nee Dawson, was admitted to citizenship in the Cherokee Nation by act of the National Council, December 1, 1894. Delilah Richardson is the child of the principal applicant by his first wife, Sellar Richardson. Finis T. and Jasper C. Richardson are children by his wife, Kitty Richardson. Edgar, Walter, Alice, Laura, Oscar, Claude and Edna Flourney are children of Kitty Richardson by her former husband. Delilah F. Richardson is identified by the 1896 census roll. All of the Flourney children except Edna, appear to be identified by the 1894 strip payment roll. Sellar Dawson, first wife of the principal applicant, was a daughter of W. A. Dawson, who was admitted to citizenship September 9, 1884. She was a minor when her father was admitted.

Etta Brauer, (Group XII. page 20), is a daughter of W. A.

Dawson, who was admitted to citizenship September 9, 1884. She was a minor when her father was admitted. She is identified by the Cherokee census roll of 1896. She has resided in the Cherokee Nation since 1884, except that she has temporarily been absent from the Nation at different times.

Melissa A. Dawson, (Group XII, page 24), was formerly the wife of W. A . Dawson, who was admitted to citizenship in the Cherokee Nation September 9, 1884. She is identified by the 1896 census roll. She has resided in the Cherokee Nation since 1884, except that she has been temporarily absent therefrom several times for the purpose of securing employment. W. A. Dawson died in October 1899. This applicant and her husband had, however, been divorced. The decree was rendered September 3, 1890. The applicant has not remarried since the divorce was granted, and the Supreme Court of the Cherokee Nation in the case of Melissa A. Dawson vs. W. A. Dawson, held that Melissa A. Dawson, this applicant, was a citizen of the Cherokee Nation by virtue of her marriage with W. A. Dawson.

In connection herewith attention is respectfully invited to office report of even date, transmitting group 1 of this consolidated case, and for the reasons therein stated the office recommends the approval of the Commission's decision, except in so far as it relates to the enrollment of Millie T. Dawson, Henry T. Richardson and Melissa A. Dawson, who apply for enrollment as intermarried citizens.

Very respectfully,

W. A. Jones.

Commissioner.

Commission to the Five Civilized Tribes,
Muskogee, Indian Territory.

Gentlemen:

February 25, 1903, you transmitted the record in the matter of the application of Francis M. Dawson et al., for enrollment as citizens of the Cherokee Nation. In your decision of December 23, 1902, you disposed of the applications in the Dawson case by groups. In this letter Group xii, as disposed of by you, will be considered.

This group includes the application of Millie T. Dawson (D. 405), for the enrollment of herself as a citizen by intermarriage of Texanna Wooley (D.406), for the enrollment of herself and her minor children, Irene and Wilburn E. Woolley, as citizens by blood; of Henry T. Richardson (D 715), for the enrollment of himself as a citizen by intermarriage, and for the enrollment of his wife, Kitty, and his minor children, Delilah F., Finis T., and Jasper C. Richardson, and his minor step-children, Edgar, Walter, Alice, Laura, Oscar, Claude, Edna and Florence Flournoy, as citizens by blood; of Etta Brauer (R 12) for enrollment as a citizen by blood; and of Melissa A. Dawson (R 13), for enrollment as a citizen by intermarriage of the Cherokee Nation.

In said decision you disposed of all these applications except that of Florence Flournoy, who is included in application D 737, Group xiii, as Florence Morgan. You held that all of the applicants referred to above are entitled to enrollment as citizens of the Cherokee Nation.

Reporting in the matter October 16, 1903, the Commissioner of Indian Affairs recommended that yout decision be approved, except as to those applicants claiming enrollment by intermarriage. As to those applicants claiming by intermarriage, no action will be taken at the present time.

The record has been examined in detail respecting the applicants claiming by b ood, to determine the origin of their rights, whether by birth or admission. An examination has also been made in respect to their residence in the Cherokee Nation, and their identification as citizens thereof, whether by enrollment or by birth affidavit. This investigation persuades the Department that your decision is correct as to those applicants claiming by blood. You are accordingly directed to enroll them as citizens of the Cherokee Nation.

The question of fraud in its relation to the Dawson case was disposed of by the Assistant Attorney General, in an opinion of February 18, 1904, copy of which was sent you February 24, ,1904.

A copy of the Commissioner's letter of October 16, 1903, relating to this group, is inclosed.

Respectfully,

1 inclosure.

1896 roll, page 239, No. 3958, Delilah T. Richardson, Cowetoo Dist.
1894 455 2407 Delia T. Richardson, Delaware Dist.

The applicant presents a certificate of admission to Cherokee citizenship, showing that on the 9th of September, 1884, there was admitted to citizenship by the Cherokee Commission Ella Dawson. (Q How is that intended as the name of your first wife? A Yes sir----Q How is it that you claim admission for your first wife? A Her father was admitted with her.) The name of W. A. Dawson (father of applicants first wife) is included in this certificate as having been admitted at the time stated.

Q You say that you have a certificate in regard to the admission of your present wife? A Yes sir.
Q Your wife was aldo a party to an application to the Dawes Commission in 1896? A Yes sir.

The applicant now presents a certificate signed by W. H. Mayes under the seal of his office as Assistant Executive Secretary, certifying that by act of the National Council, approved December, 1st 1894, Kitty Flournoy and family were admitted to all the rights and privileges of citizenship in the Cherokee Nation.

Q Kitty Flournoy is your present wife? A Yes sir.
Q Has she lived in the Cherokee Nation ever since her admission in 1894? A Yes sir.
Q And all her children that were living at that time, have they continued to live in the Cherokee Nation since their admission to citizenship? A Yes sir.
Q Has your wife Kitty Flournoy ever been a party to an application for Cherokee citizenship before the Dawes Commission? A Yes sir.
Q How did she happen to get her rights disputed and have to make application to the Dawes Commission? A She was enrolled and they dropped her off.
Q You are not able to present at the present time any evidence of the final result of the application to the Dawes Commission, which included the application of both of your wives? A No sir I can not.

The applicant applies for the enrollment of himself, wife, two children and eight step-children. He is shown to have married his first wife in accordance with Cherokee laws in 1886. He states that he has lived in the Cherokee Nation ever since. That he lived with his first wife until she died, and since her death he has married again, to (as he alleges) another Cherokee woman. He claims admission to Cherokee citizenship for his first wife by a certificate cited in the testimony, through her father. He states that her father, W. A. Dawson was a party in an application to the Dawes Commission for admission to citizenship. The applicants second wife is shown to have been admitted to citizenship by the Cherokee Council on 1894, but he states that she has been a party in an application before the Dawes Commission for admission to Cherokee citizenship. His first wife is said to have been admitted after 1880 and to have died before the roll of 1896 was made. His second and present wife is not identified on any roll. His second marriage established by license and certificate filed herewith. Neither is the applicant identified on any roll. Under these circumstances his application for enrollment will be placed upon a doubtful card for further consideration. A search at this time of the Commission records does not disclose the proceedings had in this case. Applicant will be classed as a Cherokee by intermarriage His present wife Kitty will be classed as a Cherokee by blood on a doubtful card to await the further examination of the Commission records. When he files certificate of birth as to the infant Finis T. Richardson, the child of the present marriage, this child will be classed as a Cherokee by blood on a doubtful card. The child Delia T. Richardson, a child by the first wife, is identified on the rolls of 1894 and 1896. It appears from the admission of this child to enrollment that she was born at a time when her mother possessed rights afterwards disputed by the Cherokee authorities, and that as a minor these rights were continued to her, but for the present she will be classed as a Cherokee by blood and placed upon a doubtful card to await the inquiry indicated. Of the eight step-children named in the testimony, all the children of the applicants present wife by her first husband Flournoy, no record is found on any of the rolls. They are all minors at this time and will be classed as Cherokees by blood on a doubtful card to await the investigation of the rights of their mother.

Q Your first wife Sellar Dawson, was she ever married before she married you? A No sir.
Q Were you ever married before you married her? A No sir.
Q Your second wife Kittie Flournoy was married before, you are her second husband? A Yes, sir.
Q Her first husband was dead when she married you was he? A Yes sir.

The applicant presents a certificate of marriage showing that his present wife was married in April, 1889 to J. G. Flournoy. She must have been previously married to him under the laws of the United States as she is mentioned therein as Mrs. Kittie Flournoy. Said certificate shows that she was married by the Rev. G. E. Morrison. This is filed herewith.

DEPARTMENT OF THE INTERIOR,
COMMISSION TO THE FIVE CIVILIZED TRIBES,
VINITA, I. T., SEPTEMBER 17th, 1900.

IN THE MATTER OF THE APPLICATION OF Francis Marion Dawson, wife and children for enrollment as citizens of the Cherokee Nation, and being sworn by Commissioner, C. R. Breedinridge, testified as follows:

Q What is your full name? A Francis Marion Dawson.
Q What is your age? A I am fifty eight years old.
Q What is your Postoffice? A Oochee.
Q What District do you live in? A Delaware.
Q Who is it you want to have enrolled? A Myself and family.
Q Your wife? A Yes, sir.
Q How many children? A Six.
Q Do you apply for enrollment as a Cherokee by blood? A Yes, sir.
Q Is your wife a Cherokee by blood? A No, sir; she is a white woman.
Q How long have you lived in the Cherokee Nation? A Since 1883.
Q Were you admitted by the Cherokee Commission? A Yes, sir.

The applicant presents a duly authenticated certificate of admission to citizenship, showing that on the 11th day of January, 1883, certain persons were admitted by the Commission on citizenship, and among them appears the name of F. M. Dawson.

Q That is your name is it? A Yes, sir.

This is recognized as satisfactory evidence of the facts stated.

Q Have you lived in the Cherokee Nation ever since your admission?
A Yes, sir; in Delaware District ever since.
Q Give me the name of your child? A Katie Dawson.
Q How old is she now? A Forty five.
Q Was she admitted with you? A No, sir.
Q Have you married her according to Cherokee law since your admission? A No, sir.
Q You have not remarried since your admission? A No, sir; it was not necessary.

The applicant presents a duly authenticated marriage license and certificate, showing that he was married to his wife, as stated by him, in 1880, by the Reverend R. Y. Goudelock, in Carrol County, Arkansas, the license being issued by the Clerk of that County.

These papers are filed herewith.

Q Your wife was not admitted by the Cherokee Commission, when you were? A No, sir.
Q Or at any other time? A No, sir.
Q By act of the Commission or Council? A No, sir: she was placed on the rolls.
Q On the census rolls? A Yes, sir.
Q Give me the names of your children, please? A Lula.
Q How old? A Seventeen.
Q Next child? A Ray.
Q How old? A Fifteen.
Q Next child? A Jessie Jane.
Q How old? A Fourteen.
Q Next child? A Jacob Levy.
How old? A Ten.
Q Next child? A Ruth A.
Q How old? A He is eight I believe.

Q Next child? A Laura.
Q How old is that child? A She is four years old.
Q Is that all? A Yes, sir: six of them. I have others, but they are not at home.
Q Are they married? A No, sir.
Q Are they over age? A Yes, sir.

Q Is this Lula or Luly? A Luly.
The applicant applies for the enrollment of himself, wife and six children.
Q Were these children all born since you were admitted into the Cherokee Nation? A Yes, sir.

The applicant is shown by the certificate of admission, cited in the testimony, to have been admitted to Cherokee citizenship by the Commission on Citizenship, January 11th, 1883; he is identified on the roll of 1896, but the representative of the Cherokee Nation desires to make inquiry into the methods of that time, and for that reason, the application of the applicant will at present be placed on a "Doubtful Card." He has lived in the Cherokee Nation ever since his admission to citizenship. His wife was married to him under United States law, and was married prior to his admission: she has never been divorced according to Cherokee law: She has lived with him ever since his admission to citizenship, and she is identified on the roll of 1896. The application for her enrollment will be placed on a "Doubtful Card".
Their six children, as enumerated in the testimony are identified on the roll of 1896. They are living at this time, all having been born since his admission (Applicant's). These children will be placed with him on a "Doubtful Card". The applicant's marriage to the mother of these children is established by the marriage license and certificate filed herewith. If any additional papers, adverse are developed in this case, he will be given timely notice thereof.

The undersigned, being sworn, states that as stenographer to the Commission to the Five Civilized Tribes, he correctly recorded the testimony and proceedings in this case, and that the foregoing is a true and complete transcript of his stenographic notes thereof.

BEFORE THE HONORABLE COMMISSION TO THE FIVE CIVILIZED TRIBES.

In the matter of the enrollment of F. M. Dawson and others as Cherokee citizens.

Depositions of sundry persons in behalf of the applicants for enrollment mentioned in the title, taken before me, Lewis T. Martin, a Notary Public in and for the Northern District of the Indian Territory, duly appointed, qualified and acting as such, at the office of G. S. Denison in the Gray-Halsell building in the town of Vinita, Indian Territory, on Thursday the fourth day of October 1900, between the hours of one and a half o'clock and six o'clock in the afternoon of said day, in accordance with the agreement to take testimony, entered into between the applicants and the Cherokee Nation, by their respective attorneys, which agreement is hereto attached.

T. F. Thompson, being produced by the applicants, being first duly sworn to testify to the truth, the whole truth and nothing but the truth, testified as follows:

DIRECT EXAMINATION BY G. S. DENISON:

Q State your name, age, residence and occupation?
A T. F. Thompson, 55 years old, I live near Vinita, Cherokee Nation, I. T. I am a farmer.
Q How long have resided in the Cherokee Nation? A All my life.
Q Are you a citizen of the Cherokee Nation as now constituted?
A Yes, sir.
Q Upon what is that citizenship based, blood or otherwise?
A Blood.
Q What, if any official position have you held in the Cherokee Nation, and at what time?
A I was elected to the Cherokee Council in 1870 some odd, I don't remember the exact year, I was also on the Commission Court.
Q Do you remember when that was? A Some tim in 1880 or 1881, I think, it my have been earlier.
Q Did that Commission or Court have anything to do with admission to citizenship in the Cherokee Nation? A Yes, sir.
Q State, if you remember, how many members of that Commission or Court, there were, and who they were besides yourself?
A There were three, Tehee, Wolf and myself, Tehee was President of the Court.
Q Where were the sessions of that body held? A Tahlequah, Cherokee Nation.
Q Did you have a Clerk? A Yes, sir.
Q Do you remember who that was? A D. W. C. Duncan.
Q Do you know whether the members of that Commission beside yourself, are living or dead? A Yes, sir, they are both dead.
Q Can you recollect now what period of time that Commission lasted?
A About two years I think, two sessions, and there was one session each year.
Q Were the sessions of that body held in Tahlequah, open to the public at all times when it was in session?
A Yes, sir.
Q Were the cases coming before that body heard in open session?
A Yes.
Q Witnesses examined orally? A Yes, sir.

Q Judgments of the Court or Commission pronounced in open session?
A In case of decisions I think they sometimes had secret sessions, your the judgments of the Commission were pronounced openly.
Q What you intended to convey by you answer to the former question was that after hearing the proof the Commission or Court deliberated in secret session upon the testimony taken before reaching a decision or announcing it? A After hearing all the testimony we went into secret session.
Q I will present you with a paper which the Notary will mark exhibit "A" and a copy of which he will attach to your deposition, and will ask you if with the exception of the certificate of record by H. L. Bragdon, Clerk, and John L. Adair Asst. Ex. Secretary, you recognize it as a paper you have ever seen before?
A I recognize the signature to it, but don't remember the instrument.
Q Which signature on that paper do you recognize? A My own.
Q That signature is in your own handwriting? A Yes, sir.
Q Do you know whether Thomas Tehee, president of the Commission could write in English or not? A No, I don't think he could.
Q How as to Alexander Wolfe, a member of the Commission?
A I don't think he could write either, I don't think either of them ever wrote except by touching the pen.
Q Were you, and are you familiar with the handwriting of D. W. C. Duncan, the Clerk of that Commission?
A Tolerably well, but it has been a long time since I saw any of it.
Q Will you look at the paper again and say whether you recognize his signature attached thereto?
A Yes, that is his signature to the best of my knowledge.
Q Do you preserve any personal recollection of the application before that Commission of F. M. Dawson and other members of the Dawson family, to be admitted as citizens of he Cherokee Nation by that Commission?
A I remember F. M. Dawson and his brother, that is about the only ones I remember.
Q The question was not as to the personal recollection of the individuals, but as to the claim being presented by the Dawsons for admission?
A Yes, there was such a claim before the Commission.
Q Can you state as to the citizenship of Thomas Tehee, whether he was a citizen of the Nation by blood or not?
A Yes, sir, he was always recognized as such, full blood besides.
Q What is your knowledge of Alexander Wolfe?
A About the same, he was also a full blood and recognized as a Cherokee.
Q Judge Thompson, if you possessed or had, or have now any knowledge of any corruption or bribery of the court or Commission, or may member of it by F. M. Dawson or any of the Dawson family or anybody connected with the presentation of their claim for citizenship, state it fully?
A None whatever as far as I was concerned, and I don't think there was the balance of the Court.

CROSS-EXAMINATION BY W. T. HUTCHINGS:

Q I want to say Mr. Thompson that your name attached to the certificate shown you is in your handwriting?
A Yes, sir.
Q Mr. Bragdon certified that this is a transcript of the decision in the case, he is mistaken, that is the original?
A Yes, I don't know, that may be the original, if that is not the original I have not sign it, if it is the original I signed it.
Q You state that the witnesses were examined orally before the Commission, now that in almost every case you took ex parte affidavits of witnesses when those witnesses were not present?

A I think we ruled exparte evidence out, as well as I remember.
Q Did you have any stenographer or anybody to copy the evidence?
Mr. Duncan did all of the copying.
Q Was the evidence copied and preserved?
A Yes, sir, I think it was.
Q What was done with that evidence, where was any of it ever put?
A I suppose it is at Tahlequah in the office of the Treasurer or Secretary.
Q When you went into secret session did you have Mr. Duncan read that evidence to you?
A Yes, sir, we went over the evidence thoroughly.
Q Did you allow the applicants or their attorneys admission to any of your secret sessions?
No, sir.
Q When you got ready to render your decisions did you then send for the applicants or their attorneys?
A No, sir.
Q And you rendered them in secret also, did you? A Yes, sir.
Q Have you any recollection who testified in the Dawson case, as to their claim? A No, sir, I have not.
Q Have you any recollection as to who they claimed their Cherokee ancestors were? A Yes, sir, they claimed the Rogers.
Q Did they claim relationship with any of the present families of Rogers residing in the Cherokee Nation?

The applicant objects to this question as tending to elicit testimony wholly incompetent and irrelevant to the issue, and not cross-examination of this witness.

A I don't know that they did, particularly.
Q How would your court determine when they claimed descent through some Rogers family, that that family was of Cherokee blood?

The applicant objects to the question upon the same grounds as their objection to the previous question.

A By the evidence they produced.
Q Didn't you make them prove that that family was well known at one time to be connected with the Cherokee Nation, and were citizens thereof? A Yes.
Q Who was the attorney for the Dawsons? A Old man Houston Benge.
Q Could either Tehee or Wolfe speak English? A They could understand, but they never spoke English, they had an interpreter.
Q Did you ever talk to either of them as to whether they got anything for decidingthis case? A No, sir.
Q How long were you considering the case altogether?
A I could not say as to that, I think we were on it two or three weeks anyhow, I could not say positively now, they were a long time getting in testimony.
Q There were only two or three witnesses examined all told, were there not?
A I think so, three I think, they had quite a lot of affidavits, but we did not consider them.
Q Will the Court was a good while arriving at its conclusion after the evidence was closed?
A Yes, quite a good while, I don't remember the exact time.

RE-DIRECT EXAMINATION:

Q You remember who the interpreter the Commission had during the hearing of the Dawson case.
A His name was Reese, I forget his given name.

Q Do you know whether he is living or dead?
A I don't know, he seemed to be in bad health at the time we had the case up, I think they are all dead but me and Mr. Duncan.
Q What was He, a Cherokee by blood?
A He was considered a Cherokee by blood.
Q Do you know where he lived at that time?
A No, sir, he lived in the South part of the Nation though, I think in Sequoyah.

DIRECT EXAMINATION BY C. B. DENISON:

Q Please state your name, age, residence and occupation?
A My name is D. W. C. Duncan, my age is 70 years, my residence is Vinita, Indian Territory, my occupation is a farmer.
Q How long has that been your place of residence? A Since 1874.
Q Are you a member of the Cherokee Nation as it is now constituted?
A Yes, sir.
Q Upon what is your citizenship based, a Cherokee by blood?
A Yes, a Cherokee by blood.
Q In January 1883, did you hold any official position in the Cherokee Nation, if so, what was it?
A About that time I held the position of Clerk of the Citizenship Court or Commission.
Q If you remember the names of themembers of that Commission or Court, please give them?
A The President of the Commission was Tehee I believe, and a member by the name of Wolfe whose first name I do not recollect, and Mr. Thompson here.
Q T. F. Thompson?
A Yes.
Q Do you know whether those three members of that Commission were recognized citizens of the Cherokee Nation, and whether their citizenship was based upon blood or not?
A They were supposed to be citizens of the Cherokee Nation and their citizenship was based upon their blood.
Q Will you please look at the paper now handed you which the Notary has marked exhibit "A" to the deposition of Mr. T. F. Thompson, and a copy of which he will attach to Mr. Thompson's applications, and state whether with the exception of the certificate of H. L. Bragdon, Clerk, and of John L. Adair Asst. Ex. Secretary, you recognize the paper as one you have ever seen before?
A Yes, I think I have seen this before.
Q When, and where, if you remember, did you first see that paper?
A This is a paper I drew up at the time I was acting as Clerk of the said Citizenship Court.
Q Looking at its date, was it drawn at you at the time it bears date?
A To the best of my recollection it was drawn at the date specified.
Q Do you recognize the signature to the certificate attached to that paper?
A Yes, that is my signature.
Q State if you know, in whose handwriting the body of the paper is?
A It is in my handwriting.
Q And at that time you were Clerk of that Commission? A Yes.
Q Will you please look at the signatures of the members of the Commission as they appear on that paper, and state if you can, by whom they were written?
A I think the first two is my handwriting, the last I recognize that is T. F. Thompson's.
Q Explain to me, how you came to write the signatures of Tehee and Alex Wolfe to that paper?
A Tehee and Alex Wolfe were full bloods and could not write, and in their presence, and at their request I wrote their signatures.

Q Was that the usual manner of certifying to the action of the Commission to applicants as to the decision of their application for citizenship, where admitted?
A In all instances where it was necessary for the Court to sign a paper of any kind it was adopted by that Court for the Clerk to sign Tehee's and Wolf's names and T. F. Thompson to sign his own name.
Q You didn't catch exactly my idea, but perhaps that answered it, what I intended to call you attention to, was whether when applicants had been admitted to citizenship a paper of this kind now shown you, signed by the judges as you have explained, and certified by you as a transcript of the proceedings was issued?
A My recollection is that a transcript of the judgment was issued to the applicant when they were admitted at their request, the judgment was entered upon the record when they were admitted and signed by the judges, and whenever the transcript was delivered to the applicants I think it was signed by the judges.
Q If you had any knowledge at the time the application of the Dawson family, F. M. and others whose names are mentioned in that paper, was pending before that Commission, or before or after, of any corruption or bribery, or attempted corruption or bribery of the Court or any of its officers, by F. M. Dawson, or any person connected in any manner with the claim of the Dawsons to citizenship in the Cherokee Nation, state it fully?
A I never heard a thing of the kind, I know nothing of the kind, all that I have ever heard about a question of that kind is what has originated recently, since the enrollment business has been inaugurated.

CROSS-EXAMINATION BY W. T. HUTCHINGS:

Q If as you certify, this paper was a transcript of the record, why did you have the judges sign it?
A I know no reason further than that was the practice at that time, the members of the Court being present I presume it was thought it would be an good or better than the signature of the Clerk.
Q Examine that signature of Mr. Thompson, examine the first T in his name and the T in Tehee's name and see if it is not all your own handwriting?
A No, I would not call that mine, there is a resemblance between the letters but I am satisfied it is a mere fortuity, accident.
Q Now was the evidence taken in those cases?
A It was taken by the witness being present and detailing his knowledge of the case, I wrote it down sentence by sentence as it was delivered.

Q Do you know whether that evidence is in existance or not?
A I do not, the last I saw of it was when I turned the records over to the Executive office at Tahlequah, and I have not seen it since.
Q You may you never heard any talk about this being an improper [illegible] very recently?
A [illegible] would depend upon what you mean by recently, I don't [illegible] ever heard of it prior to three years ago, I can safely say that I did not.

Q Do you remember through what ancestor they claimed their right to citizenship here?

Objected to by applicants because the question tends to elicit testimony which is wholly incompetent and irrelevant, and because it is not proper cross-examination.

A They claimed their right of citizenship through a man by the name of Rogers, I don't recol ect him first name.
Q Do you know how many Rogers families there are who have citizenship in the Cherokee Nation?
A I do.

Department of the Interior,
Commission to the Five Civilized Tribes,
Muskogee, I. T., March 17, 1902.

SUPPLEMENTAL TESTIMONY in the matter of the enrollment of FRANCIS M. DAWSON, ET AL., as citizens of the Cherokee Nation:

The case having been set for final hearing March 17, 1902. the following proceedings were had:

APPEARANCES:
Mr. A. S. McKennon, of counsel for applicants;
Mr. W. T. Hutchings, of counsel for Cherokee Nation.

Mr. Hutchings: Comes now the Nation on the calling of this case and announces that it is ready for trial, provided permission is given to hereafter examine before the Commission, either at this place or Fort Gibson, the witness S. H. Benge, who has been regularly summoned to attend at this day and time but who is too sick to travel at this time and probably will be for some time to come. As evidence of a good faith of the Nation we hereby present an affidavit of the facts sought to be proven by the said Benge. If the applicant's counsel are willing to concede that the witness if present would testify to the facts herein set forth, the Nation is ready to proceed to trial without reservation of any kind. If they are not it desires to reserve this privilege of hereafter, either tomorrow or otherwise, this case being set for to-day and tomorrow, of examining before the Commission, or its authorized officer, this witness as above set forth.

Mr. McKennon: Applicants object to the introduction of the paper presented and do not admit that the witness, Samuel H. Benge if present would testify to the facts therein stated. They consent and desire that the testimony of said Benge be taken before the Commission at its office in Muskogee but not elsewhere, and protest against it being taken at any other place, with the understanding, however, that when taken we have opportunity to introduce any evidence we may desire in rebuttal.

Mr. Hutchings:
The Nation will pay all the expenses of the opposing Counsel, their client and Commission officers in taking the deposition at Fort Gibson.

Commissioner Breckinridge: The allegations of this witness are material in their character and are quite tangent. The Commission of its own volition would acquire information of that character if it knew of its existance anywhere. While the functions of the Commission, as well known are in many respects judicial, yet it is vested with somewhat complex powers, such as Congress creates from time to time to do business of certain character, and it is ordered to make a correct roll, which is a duty largely independent of hearing simply what is brought before them; it must be the architect and constructor of that roll and if evidence is not brought before before the Commission it must go out and get it, to a uniform on that construction of the law. The Commission, therefore, desires this information independent of any counsel on either side both with respect to the applicant and to the Nation, and if this [illegible] is is not able to come one of the Commissioners will go to Fort Gibson and to his bed-side, or send a proper official, if necessary to take his testimony. The only matter to consider, therefore, is one of convenience with respect to getting this testimony. Now, I understand that this witness is an extreme sufferer from Bright's Disease he is an old man and he may never be able to get out of the house, and it may be an injustice to him to subject him to a trip here, and therefore it seems to me better that counsel for plaintiff submit to a form of taking a deposition or else accompany an official of this Commission over to Fort Gibson and let his testimony be taken there.

After consultation with the attorneys upon the two sides it is found to be agreeable that the parties start to Fort Gibson to-morrow morning at half past eight o'clock, and it is agreed that and directed with an official of the Commission with a stenographer leave from the office of the Commission for Fort Gibson at 8:30 to-morrow morning.

FRANCIS M. DAWSON, the applicant, re-called for additional cross-examination on part of the Cherokee Nation:

MR. HUTCHINGS:

Q What is your name? A Francis M. Dawson.
Q Where do you reside? A In Afton.
Q You have been examined in this case heretofore, have you?
A I don't know which case it is.
Q In your own case? A Yes, sir.
Q Are you the one that is commonly called Bud Dawson? A Yes, sir.
Q You made the original application in the Dawson family for admission to citizenship in the Cherokee Nation, didn't you? No, sir; my brother.
Q What was his name? A A. E. Dawson.
Q You and Robert Dawson and Elbert Dawson and others applied September 24, '81, about that time? A Yes, sir.
Q And you were admitted about the 11th of January '83? A Yes, sir.
Q There were other members of your family that applied and were admitted after that time? A Yes, sir.
Q Do you or not remember the evidence offered in those subsequent admissions to substantiate their cases was the relationship between yourself and Robert and others and the evidence of your admission by the Tehlequah Court. In all the subsequent admissions I mean the only evidence offered was the fact that you and your brothers had been admitted and that they were kin to you; that was the only evidence offered in any subsequent cases, wasn't it; so far as you know?
A That is afterwards?
Q Yes, afterwards? A I think there was some other evidence introduced.
Q Don't you know that there was never any evidence of any kind in any other case except evidence of Dr. Baker of Arkansas, isn't it, sir.
Q Who else? A Oliver Miller.
Q Who was Oliver Miller; the records in this case show a number of aliases and mutilated? A Oliver I don't know.
Q What was he, who was he? A He is a white man.
Q Well, what station in life did he occupy? A Farmer.
Q Yes, sir, farmer.
Q Were you present when he testified? A Yes, sir.
Q Were you present when Dr. Baker testified? A Yes, sir.

Q Have you a fair recollection of the testimony of those two men?
A No, not at all.
Q You don't read do you, Mr. Dawson? A No, sir, I dont read nor write; I can barely write my name.
Q Do you think you would remember the testimony of Mr. Baker if your mind was refreshed on it? A Part of it I think.
Q Were you present when you were admitted? A I was not in the room.
Q You were in Tahlequah at the time? A I was in the town of Tahlequah at the time.
Q I will read this paper to you and desire for you to say whether or not it was the testimony of Dr. Baker in your case:
(Affidavit of Dr. Arthur Baker read to witness, and asked to be copied in the record later.)
Q Is that the correct transcript of the testimony? A It has been so long ago, I could not say; a part of it is, I could not remember it all.
Q Does that state the facts as to the family history correctly so far as you know about it? A So far as I know.
Q Now, you were a son of what Dawson? A Robert Dawson.
Q How many children did Robert Dawson have, and give me their names?
A Elbert Dawson, the oldest; Lila, Jesper, Francis Marion-
Q That is yourself? A Yes, sir; Elizabeth Dawson, Josephine Dawson, John Dawson, Joseph Dawson, Jane Dawson, James Dawson, Edna Dawson, Mollie Dawson, Wilburn Dawson.
Q Thirteen? (No response.)
Q Now, Rober Dawson's father was whom? A Sam Dawson.
Q Who was Sam Dawson's wife, your grandmother? A I have been told.
Q By family history is all you know? A She was called Polly Dawson.
Q Who was Anna Pruitt? A I don't know.
Q Never heard of anybody in the family by the name of Anna Pruitt? A No, sir, that was away back in the old country; I have heard talk about it, old Dr. Baker talked about it.
Q Your grand-mother's name was Polly Dawson? A Yes, sir; I don't remember seeing her but once, she died when I was small, died in Texas.
Q Pollie Dawson? A Yes, sir.
Q And she was known to be Pollie Rogers, her maiden name? A Yes, sir.
Q Daughter of Captain John Rogers? A Yes, sir.
Q Now, she died in Texas what time? A I don't remember.
Q Can't you guess at it? A Oh, I could guess.
Q Give your best recollection? A About '58 or '59, or no, '46 or '49; I don't say positive, just guessing at it.
Q How old a boy were you then? A I was born in '43.
Q Have you any distinct recollection of her? A No, sir.
Q Have you any recollection of all the children of Sam and Pollie Dawson; that is, your father, uncles and Aunts? I didn't see all of them.
Q Do you know by family history the names of all of them? A Yes, sir.
Q Will you give them to me?
A Betsy Ann Dawson, I believe her name was.
Q Did she marry a Petty? A Yes, sir; the next is Robert Dawson.
Q Your father? A Yes, sir.
Q Next one? A I think the next was James Dawson, and I think the next one was a girl, Edna Dawson.
Q Did he have two daughters? A Yes, sir.
Q Well sir? A The next one was Joe Dawson; I never saw him; Riley Dawson.

Q That is Samuel R. Dawson, Riley Dawson? A Yes, sir.
Q Any other one? A That is all I know anything about.
Q Did he have any child by the name of John? A Yes, Jack.
Q Didn't you get Jack misplaced with Joe? A No, it was Joe; I have heard my father speak of him.
Q Then they have seven children? A I never see them all.
Q How many of them did you ever see? A I seed uncle Riley Dawson and James Dawson and Jack Dawson and Betsy Ann Petsy; I don't think I saw but one of Pa's sisters and brother, they went to Mississippi I think.
Q Do you know what your family history says that the mother of your grandmother, Pollie Rogers' name was? A We have no history.
Q Well, as it was brought down to you; did you ever hear anybody say what your great grandmother's name was? A No, I don't remember.
Q What is that other man, Oliver Millerthat testified in your case? A He testified in James Dawson's case; he never testified in my father's case.
Q Well, didn't anybody testify in your case but Dr. Baker?
A Yes, sir, several other witnesses.
Q Who were they? A I don't remember; my mother got them witnesses around Tahlequah, old people.
Q Were you present? A No, sir.
Q You were only present when Mr. Baker testified? A Yes, sir.
Q Now, do you find any mistakes in Dr. Baker's statement there? A I could not say all of that was correct or not, part of it is correct.
Q What part is correct? A Why about knowing the family over there.
Q Who is Buck Dawson? A My brother.
Q What is his name? A We always called him Buck, it is Elbert, E. Dawson.
Q Who went with you the first time you went up to make application for citizenship do you remember? A With my brother.
Q The first time? A I met my brother in Texas.
Q Which one? A E. Dawson.
Q That is Elbert or Buck? A Yes, sir.
Q You were living in Arkansas? A Yes, sir.
Q And he was living in Texas? A Yes, sir, and another one of little brothers, Dr. Dawson now:
Q Dr. Dawson now? A Yes, sir.
Q What is his name? A James.
Q And you three went there? A Yes, sir.

Mr. McKennon: Applicants by their counsel object to all the statement of the witness relating to the testimony introduced before the Cherokee Citizenship Commission, and the history of the family as detailed by him, because the case is incompetent and irrelevant, and cannot be used for the purpose of impeaching the integrity of the judgment of said Commission, or either of the Commissioners in admitting members of the Dawson family.

Commission: The objection of the Attorney for the applicants to the testimony above will be noted. The same will be filed and noted for what it is worth.

(Attorney for applicants waives examination.)

C. H. TAYLOR, being duly sworn, testified on behalf of the Cherokee Nation:

DIRECT EXAMINATION BY MR. HUTCHINGS:

Q State your name? A C. H. Taylor.
Q Where do you reside, Mr. Taylor? A Near Coffeyville.
Q Were you an attorney before various citizenship Courts along in '01 to '8- in the Cherokee Nation at Tahlequah? A Yes, sir.
Q Were you attorney for F. M. Dawson commonly known as Bud Dawson? A Yes, sir.
Q Were you present at the taking of testimony in that case? A No, sir. I wasn't present.
Q Do you know who composed the court that decided the case at that time? A Yes, sir.
Q Who were they? A Tom Teheo and Alex Wolfe and Tommy Thompson.
Q Do you know whether or not they were all there when the case was decided? A No, sir, there were only two of them present.
Q Which two? A Teheo and Wolfe.
Q Who was the Clerk of the Court at that time? A Mr. Duncan, D. W. C. Duncan.
Q Do you know what witnesses were used in the case of Bud Dawson? A No, sir; now I was the attorney in the case and the evidence had already been filed before the Court.
Q When were you made attorney? A I was only called in as an attorney at the-- Well, Mr. Duncan came down there, and Mr. Bryant had the case and several other attorneys had the case and he employed me.
Q Did you read the evidence in this case? A No, sir.
Q Did you deliver any money? A Now, I was the attorney in the case and I don't think it would be right for me to make any statement.
Q Now, you have claimed your privilege, I ask that you answer the question? Did Dawson ever send you any money with the direction to pay it to either member of the Court or the Clerk of the Court, D. W. C. Duncan, and if so state the amount? A I had a heap of trouble over this matter.-

Commission: Just answer the question, Mr. Taylor.

A Again; the attorney I don't believe it is right for me to answer that question.

Commission: Do you refuse to answer? A Yes, sir.

Q Did the matter to which you object to testifying occur prior to the rendition of the decision admitting to citizenship or afterwards? (No response)

COMMISSIONER BRECKINRIDGE:

Do you decline to reply to the last question? A I don't think it is right; I was attorney in the case.

Mr. Taylor, do you object to answering that question? A Yes, sir.

You refuse to answer this question, do you? A I had rather not answer it.

Either answer it or say you won't answer it? A I had rather not answer it.

Mr. Taylor, you have answered a number of questions down to this point, and it is at this point that you prefer to claim your privileges, as an attorney, do you? A Yes, sir.

Com'r Breckinridge: The order in regard to these matters is lodged in the United States. The Court is clothed with special power with reference to the orders to be made through this commission. Of course it is contemplated that the records make for the making of a correct roll [illegible] possible, but it is subject to the limitation of law, [illegible] it is not for this Commission to decide of the law in any case or of this character with any authority as I understand it at this time, but to report the matter to the United States Court and not the Court's judgment.

Under Section 21 of the Curtis law as it is commonly called Act of June 28th98, the Members of the Commission shall in performing all duties required of them by law, have authority to administer oaths, examine witnesses and send for papers and persons, and the court is clothed with authority to enforce obedience. The law having enumerated certain powers goes on to say so far as all others are concerned to enable said Commission to make rolls as herein required, and to punish anyone who may in any manner or by any means obstruct said work. Now, the Commission will report the facts to the United States Court and let the Court decide whether or not you are within your lawful privilege. It seems that you refuse to answer questions, or at least one question, which tends to establish as to whether or not you are claiming what what is commonly considered a matter of privilege--according to an authority referred to by an attorney, but the enforcement of an answer seems clearly to be a matter for the Court to deal with.

Q Now, Mr. Taylor, in regard to the last question asked you by Mr. Hutchings, one of the Counsel for the Cherokee Nation, I direct that you make answer, and if you refuse I shall report the matter to the United States Court: do you refuse? A Yes, sir.
Q Now, you have read to you, Mr. Taylor, the first of the two questions propounded to you by Mr. Hutchings, and which you declined at the time to make answer; viz; as to whether Mr. Dawson sent you money to pay to the Court or to any officials of the Court, it seems to come to the question as to whether there was any collusion between you and Mr. Dawson and any member of the Court; now, I understand that you refuse to answer that question upon the grounds that you were Mr. Dawson's attorney? A Yes, sir.
Q Now, I require that you answer that question, do you refuse?
A Yes, sir.
Q I shall also report that refusal to the United States Court as it seems to come under the provision of law, relating to conspiracy between you and Mr. Dawson which apparently considered a privilege matter, and you base your refusal now, not upon the ground that you are incriminating yourself, but that you were counsel for Mr. Dawson. I will report the matter to the Court and you will be informed at the time of any proceedings in the matter I caution you not to talk with Mr. Dawson or any of the applicants in this case.

Mr. McKennon: Applicants do not object and have not objected to the witness answering on account of his privilege as an attorney or for any other cause whatever, they only want to object to the incompetence and irrelevancy of the testimony, with the privilege of cross-examining upon any testimony given by the witness.

COM'R BRECKINRIDGE:
Q You still refuse having the consent of the attorneys in the case to make answer? A I will just ask your Honor to let the matter go over until morning.

Commissioner Breckinridge: It will rest until the morning at its present status: it is after business hours now.

As for the objection made by Captain McKennon, Counsel for the applicant, it will be taken into consideration, but will not be granted at the present.
(The Commission adjourns until 1:30 P. M. to-morrow afternoon, March 13, 1900.)

SUPPLEMENTAL TESTIMONY in the matter of the enrollment of FRANCIS M. DAWSON ET AL., as citizens of the Cherokee Nation:

Appearances:
Mr. A. S. McKennon, of Counsel for applicants.
Mr. W. T. Hutchings, of Counsel for Cherokee Nation.

SAMUEL H. BENGE, being duly sworn, testified as follows on part of the Cherokee Nation:
MR. HUTCHINGS:

Q State your name? A Samuel H. Benge.
Q Where do you reside? A Fort Gibson.
Q How old are you? A I am 70 years old, going in 71.
Q Are you a citizen of the Cherokee Nation? A Yes, sir; Cherokee by blood.
Q State what official position you have held in the Cherokee Nation and what your general connection with the Nation officially in the last 40 years? A Well, I had several; I have been Sheriff, Councilman, Senator, Delegate to Washington; had a hand in making the treaty of 1866, I am the only one living that signed that treaty; President of the National Council of different tribes of Indians.
Q Were you acquainted with F. M. Dawson, commonly called Bud Dawson? A Yes, sir; I knew him.
Q State you connection with and what you know about his citizenship case before what is known as the Thomas Tehee Citizenship Court? A Mr. Dawson came down, I was living down below here, he come and employed me to tend to his case and we went to Tahlequah, I believe if I ain't mistaken in 1901 and filed his case there; we went several times and continued his case on for the want of evidence, and finally while we was up there we run across one old darkey by the name of Tosh Rogers; we got his testimony and after we got that testimony we concluded that it was sufficient to go into the trial with. Tosh lived here at Fort Gibson, he was a horse trainer down here and stayed here; he claimed that he knew the Rogers and belonged to one of them and after what we thought we had sufficient evidence we submitted our case to the Court for trial, and the Court went to work and rendered a decision against Mr. Dawson. I told Mr. Dawson right there that "our cake is dough", just made that remark, and he just made the remark "never mind", and next morning they taken up his case again and they rendered a decision in his favor. I filed no motion nor any evidence at all whatever; I give the case up right there and the decision was then given in his favor, and on our way back from Tahlequah, why we got to talking about the case and I told him: "it was a pretty hard blow when they rendered that decision against us." He said: "yes, but Duncan was the man to reach", but he reached his hand five thousand dollars.
Q What position did Duncan occupy? A He was clerk of the Court.
Q Duncan an educated man or—? Yes, sir; he was an educated man.
Q Who were the members of the Court? A Tom Tehee, Alex Wolfe and Tom Thompson.
Q How many of those could speak English at all? A One.
Q Which one? A Thompson.
Q Who was the Attorney that represented the Nation in those cases? A Thy Sanders.

Q What was his given name? A Wilson Sanders; was it Wilson Sanders?
A Wilson Sanders.
Q Was he an educated man, or could speak English well? A No, sir.
Q Did Mr. Dawson say anything about the matters having cost him a good deal of money? A He said it had cost him a right smart.
Q Was any remark made on the way back about the opening up of the case, and if so, what? A He asked me if I thought the case was ever investigated eventially and I told him I didn't know.

MR. McKENNON:

Q Were you ever a witness in the Dawson case, Judge, in any of those investigations that have been made since that time? A I don't know that you might call it a witness; that young man come to me once at Tahlequah, and asked me to help him up there that the case was going against him, him and his mother and all was about knocked out and I interceded and done what I could there before the Committee. I was not a witness but that is what I don't for him.
Q That was Mr. Graham, wasn't it? A Yes, sir.
Q Have you had conversations with Mr. Graham since that time about it? A Now, I might, I don't recollect, I might have had conversations with him.
Q Well, after the Dawes Commission began taking a census of the Cherokees and when they were about Sallisaw down here, did you have a conversation with him here in Fort Gibson about the matter?
A Now, I just can't tell you; I have seen him on several occasions, but the conversations we might have had I can't state.
Q To refresh your memory I will ask you if he did not tell you that they were making a fight on the Dawson family and he wanted to know of you whether that judgment in favor of Robert Dawson's family was fairly rendered, and did you not then tell him that it was all right, that it was fairly obtained? A Not as I recollect of; all he said; that is as I have stated he talked to me in regard to his mother, himself and probably his brothers and sisters, I don't recollect how many there were, but he told me they were rejected, that is just the words he used.
Q When? A It has been sometime ago.
Q Here in Fort Gibson? A Well, that is I saw him here in Fort Gibson, and then I saw him in Tahlequah.
Q Well, did he here in Fort Gibson ask you particularly about the Robert Dawson judgment, as to whether it was fairly obtained or not?
A No, sir; he was basing his claim on the Dawson case, that is the way he-
Q That is the principal Dawson family? A Yes.
Q When was this other written statement here made, when was this made by you? (referring to affidavit heretofore referred to.)
A Yesterday I reckon.
Q Who come to take this? A Mr. Starr.
Q Who else was present when this was taken? A No, sir.
Q Whom had you told about this matter, Judge? A No one as I know of.
Q Do you know how it was that they knew that you knew this?
A No, sir.
Q You never made any statement? A Never made any statement that I recollect of except I might have talked with Scales, he and him talked about these cases a good many times; if I ever made a statement it was to Joe Ab Scales.
Q How did Mr. Starr know? A I could not tell you how Mr. Starr knew.

Q He came alone here as a Notary Public? A He came alone here as a Notary Public. All he said when he come, he says "we understand that you know something in regard to these cases", I said " what case," and he went to work and named Shoemake case and Dawson case.
Q And thereupon you made this tatement? A He said he wanted to qualify me.
Q Are you certain Judge that after the rendition of that judgment Mr. Dawson came back here to Fort Gibson with you?
A Yes, sir; we was together.
Q Let me ask you if it was not a very cold day when he came here that he went over ahead of you and you went over to Tahlequah the next day or two after he left? A My recollection was he and I went together.
Q And returned here together? A Yes, sir.
Q Did he not leave you there and go back direct to Arkansas?
A No, sir, we came here together. If my memory serves me right, I might be mistaken but then I don't believe I am, he came from Webbers Falls up here to my house, that is according to his statement.
Q What amount of fee did they pay you? A I don't know as that is in connection with the case whatever the money they paid me.
Q How didthey pay you? A Paid me the money.
Q Who paid it to you? A Dawson there and that fealow, young fellow paid me some.
Q Mr. Graham? A Yes.
Q At the same time? A Oh, no, he wanted me to intercede for him at Tahlequah and paid me to do something for him which I did.
Q I will ask you if Mr. F. M. Dawson here did not obtain two copies of the judgment one of which you sent in a letter in which you wrote to his brother living in Texas and that brother in Texas, the one they called Buck, didn't send you $50 that they paid you? A No, if I ever got a letter of Buck whatever you might call him, I don't recollect it and if I ever got a nickel from him I don't recollect it. Old man paid me what money I got from it. I don't know nothing about his brothers; he told me he had an uncle living over i Arkansas, but not living down in Texas, I don't know about it.
Q Where did he pay you the money? A Paid it here at home.
Q Before you went out? A He paid me fifty dollars before we went up and when we went up yonder he paid me fifty dollars more; you want to know what I got, I got one hundredn dollars.
Q You were acting as his attorney in the case? A Yes, sir.
Q How many judges were there present when the judgment was rendered in his case?
A Two, sir. A Well, according to my recollect there was all there, but if they were not all there, Tom Thompson was sick. Bunch and Wolfe.
Q Don't you remember that they were all present? A No, I think there was present though.
Q Who else was present at the time? A Oh, I could not tell you, there was several people in the house; could not tell you at all.
Q Were there several in the house the evening before the judgment was rendered against them as you say? A Yes, there were several in the house.
Q And several in the house when the judgment was rendered the next day? A I don't know how many there was.
Q Do you remember the names of any of them? A Why not exactly, mostly full bloods.
Q How long did you remain out at Tahlequah on that trip?
A I guess I was there about three days.

Q Tending to this case alone, or did you have other cases? A no, sir.
Q Do you know of your own knowledge that the judges received any money (this question asked at the instance of Mr. Graham present)
A I don't know whether the judges received nay or not.

I, J. O. Rosson, do hereby certify upon my official oath, as stenographer to the Commission to the Five Civilized Tribes that I correctly recorded the testimony had this day in the above case, and that the foregoing is a true and complete transcript of my stenographic notes thereof.

(Signed) J. O. Rosson.

March 18, 1902. Commission convened pursuant to adjournment.

Appearances:
Mr. A. S. McKennon, of counsel for applicants.
Mr. W. T. Hutchings, of Counsel for Cherokee Nation.

C. H. TAYLOR taken the stand and continues his testimony.
BY MR. HUTCHINGS:

Q Mr. Taylor, you said you would consider the matter yesterday and let us know whether you would answer those questions today; have you decided what you would do about the matter? A Well, it is like this, of course I don't want to be held as in contempt of the Court.
Q You would be held in contempt and the other Court would make you answer? A That being he case of course I would make a statement.
Q Are you acquainted with D. F. C. Duncan, the Clerk of what is known as the Tehee Citizenship Commission Court? A Yes, sir.
Q Did you ever have any conversation with him about letting him know of the different character of cases that would come up before the Court that you knew of, whether they were good ones or bad ones? A No, the only thi g that ever come up in that respect; he asked me if whatever large cases that would come up before the Court to let him know.
Q Did you have any talk with him about the Dawson case during the progress of its trial or before and ever introduced Mr. F. M. Dawson to him, or carry him to him? A I spoke to him when Mr. Dawson came to Tahlequah to see about his case, and he said that he would take the papers over to his room, the Dawson papers.
Q Did you see him again that night? A Yes, sir; after supper I went down to his room.
Q Did he ask you about the Dawsons or Dawson case? A He asked me where Dawson was.
Q Which Dawson are you referring to now, F. M. Dawson, known as Bud Dawson? A Bud Dawson.
Q Well, what didyou reply to him? A I told him that I thought he had gone to church.
Q Did you find Dawson after church? A Yes, sir, he told me to come and bring Dawson down and I did so; Dawson was in church.
Q You carried Dawson to him? A Yes, sir.

Q Did you remain during the conversation? A Only a minute.
Q What was said if anything while you were present? A Mr. Duncan spoke to Mr. Dawson and says "there is a hitch in your evidence."
Q Go ahead and state what else he said? A He said "if that was straightened out it would be all right," and I turned and went away, I says, "gentlemen, I will go home."
Q Did you know of their having any other conversation or communication after that? A No, sir.
Q You left them there together yourself? A Yes, sir.
Q Did Mr. Dawson give you any directions the next morning about submitting the case? A Yes, sir, he asked me to call it up the case.
Q The next morning? A Yes, sir.
Q Had there been any additional evidence offered? A No, sir; there was not additional testimony offered.
Q He told you the next morning to call up the case? A Yes, sir.
Q Was it called up and submitted the next morning? A Yes, sir.
Q Now, how many of the members of the Court were there present that morning? A There were only two, two full-blood Indians.
Q Could they speak english at all? A Tehee could talk a little, talk some.
Q Did that Court have open sessions all the time or what is called executive sessions sometimes? A Well, I don't remember about that; it was generally when the case was submitted the attorneys would go out. The parties would go out and they would determine the case.
Q Well, did they go out into that sort of executive session the next morning on the Dawson case? A Well, we went out when the case was submitted.
Q And was the decision rendered that morning in their favor?
A Yes, sir.
Q Who notified you of the decision of the Court? A Why, Mr. Dawson.
Q Do you remember whether he went out with you or was in there during the consideration of the case? A I think he went out with me.
Q Did you at any time thereafter receive any money, checks or other evidence money from Mr. Dawson with direction to turn it in part over to D. W. C. Duncan, the Clerk of that Court? A Mr. Dawson gave me 20 dollars and said he would send the balance in a short time, said he would send some more money in a short time.
Q Well, did he send any money afterwards? A Yes, sir, in the course of ten days or two weeks he send a hundred dollar check, draft.
Q What did he direct you to do with it? A He directed me to give D. W. C. Duncan half of it.
Q Did you give him half of it? A Yes, sir.
Q Did he send you any at any other time after that? A Well, in the course of a couple of weeks he sent me a hundred dollars more.
Q Did he direct you to turn any of that and if so how much, to D. W. C. Duncan? A He told me to give him half of it,
Q Did you give him half of it? A I did, sir.
Q Do you remember whether or Dr. Arthur Baker was the principal witness in behalf of the Dawson case? A No, sir, I don't because I never had any connection with the case, but I heard that he was a witness in the case.
Q No argument was made when you submitted the case? A No, sir.
Q Just submitted it on the testimony? A Yes, sir.

MR. McKENNON:

Q Are you a citizen of the Cherokee Nation? A Yes, sir.
Q Were you born and reared in the Cherokee Nation? A No, sir; I was born in the old Nation.

Q When did you come to the Cherokee Nation? A Come here in 18[illegible].
Q How long have you been practicing law in the Cherokee Nation?
A I think since '68.
Q You have done a great deal of citizenship business haven't you?
A Yes, sir.
Q You were in the United States Court at Fort Smith on charges in regard to the citizenship business? A Yes, sir.
Q Were you convicted there? A Yes, sir; I was convicted there on this very case.
Q And served a term of what length? A I was sent to the jail hospital for sixty days and I stayed in about 38 or 39 days, and I was released.
Q When was that? A I don't remember how long ago it has been.
Q You say it was in regard to this case? A Yes, sir; this case was the bone of contention; Clem Rogers and the Chief, they are the ones that had me arrested, carried to Fort Smith.
Q Well, now, were you charged with an offense against the law in this case, or was it in regard to some other case? A Well, it was in regard to using the mail for fraudulent purposes.
Q Sending out propositions and obtaining case for citizenship for people [illegible] Cherokee Nation? A No, sir, it was for answering correspon[illegible].
Q Not relating to this case at all? A Well, this was the main charge, Clem Rogers went before the Court there and stated that I had got in at least three hundred Dawsons, that they were white people and not entitled to citizenship and that was the main trouble.
Q Well, now, was the charge based upon that or was it based upon your letters you sent out to other people? A That was the charge for using the mail for fraudulent purposes.
Q The use of the mails for fraudulent purposes not in connection of this case was it? A Not particular of this case.
Q Then the trouble you had was the prejudice of Clem Rogers and others caused by your connection with the Dawson case; that is what you mean to say? A Yes, sir.
Q Why did you say because you were charged with an offense based upon this case? A Well, the prejudice grew out of this case.
Q Now, then, you had full conversation with the representatives of the Cherokee Nation as to your testimony in this case, did you not before you came on the stand? A Yes, sir.
Q You had told them of these particulars before you came on the witness stand did you not? A Yes, sir.
Q Yet when you came on the stand you assumed to have conscientious scruples as to answering as to matters which occured between you and your client, Bud Dawson, in relation to this matter and declined to answer claiming your privilege as an attorney did you not? A Yes, sir; I didn't want to make a statement at all in the matter.
Q You had voluntarily made a statement to the representatives of the Cherokee Nation? A Yes, sir; I had stated to Mr. Hastings; he summoned me and I come down here and I didn't want to make a statement to him but he insisted.
Q He had no power to compel you to make a statement? A No, sir.
Q You could then make it very freely and your conscience did not hurt you, but when you came on the stand you were very conscientious about it? A I didn't want to make a statement at all unless I I would be put in jail here if I didn't.
Q But you had armed them with information by which they could ask you these questions when you came on the stand? A I had told Mr. Hastings.

Q You knew when you gave him that information that you would be brought on the stand as a witness, did you not, by reason of that?
A No; I didn't know that I would be compelled to make a statement in the matter, a sworn statement.
Q You thought you would not be compelled to answer?
A I didn't think the law would compel me to make a statement.
Q Why then did you make a statement to him about it? A Oh, he was asking me about it, and I told him that I didn't want to make a statement, and I didn't for quite a while after I came down here.
Q When the enrollment division of the Dawes Commission was in Tahlequah, in the winter of 1900, did you not there meet F. M. Dawson and did you not then and there say to him "I told Shoemake I would be for him if he would employ me in his case and if he didn't I would be against him, and the same to you?" A No, sir; I said to him this; I says that if there is not something done that I will likely be summoned against you and Mr. Shoemake both.
Q What did you mean by that? A Well, I just meant this, I just left the matter with him to say what he wanted to do in the matter; I only spoke a word or two about it. I was going out of town just as he came in.
Q When you told him if something was not done you would be summoned as a witness against him; what did you mean by that? A Well, I just meant that the chances were that the Nation would summon me against him.
Q What did you mean by the expression "if there was not something done" that you would be summoned as a witness?
A Well, I meant this, if I was re-employed in the matter if he was to have a case and I was re-employed I would not be required.

Q You could be required to make a statement as to declarations made to you by your client to you in one instance, but if a little more money was put up you could not be required to make a statement; is that what you mean? A I didn't think I could be forced to make a statement at all in the matter.
Q Why did you make that expression to him "if something wasn't done you might be summoned as a witness" if you believed you could not be made to make a statement? A I meant if I was employed in the case.
Q If he would put up you would not testify? A That they could not force me to testify.
Q About the month of February, 1901, in the town of Wagoner, Indian Territory, did you not send your son to get Graham to come to the hotel at night, and did you not then and there say to Gid Graham; "you people are on the doubtful list and if you will give me $500. I will make it all right and see that you are enrolled and if you don't I will see that you don't get on"? A No, sir; I got a letter from Gid Graham in which he asked me to certify that the case was all right and after I met him I told him that I could not do it, that the case was crooked. He then said to me, he says, "I will give you a hundred dollars", he says "will you take a hundred dollars," I said "no, sir." I didn't make any bid, that is I dddn't set any price with him.
Q You did not say to him then what I have embraced in that question there? A No, sir.
Q You did have a conversation with him about that time and at that place, did you not? A Yes, sir.
Q You say you didn't make any bid or set any price? A No, sir; I offered to take about a dollars.
Q Why did you send for him to come to the hotel? A In answer to this I say,

A Did you not on yesterday morning on the street in Muskogee, Indian Territory, in a conversation with W. H. Shoemake say to him; "You have made a great mistake in not keeping in your employment and so have the Dawsons and it will go hard with you and you will see it"? No, sir; I says to Mr. Shoemake, I says: "Who have you employed in your case," and he says "Judge Thomas and Mr. Owen." I said "It might have been a advantage to you if you had retained me in your matter;" Well, he says "there was nothing wrong in my case" and I says "no, there is nothing wrong on earth in your case that I know of." He said all he wanted was justice and I said "I don't know a thing on earth against you," and I says "there is not a thing on earth wrong in your case as I know it came up fairly and squarely and decided in your favor."

Q You said nothing to him about the Dawson case? A Yes, I said to him "it might have been well if the Dawsons had retained me in their case." I said "I am summoned on the part of the Nation and I don't want to make a statement and I wont if I can possible avoid it."

Q Was that before or after you talked with Mr. Hastings, the representative of the Nation? A It was afterwards.

Q You meant by that if you had refused to answer you could have gone to jail? A No, sir; if they had employed me before I said I mean't not now.

Q You mean that if they had employed you before hand you would not have given this information to Mr. Hastings? A I would not be required, being the attorney.

Q Were you required to give him the information; did you know that you had to give him any information? A Who do you mean.

Q Mr. Hastings. A I did refuse him and he insisted.

Q Well, he no authority to compel you to do it? A No, sir; I don't know whether he did or not.

Q As a lawyer you knew that he did not have authority to compel you to make a statement to him? A I told him that I was an attorney in the case and I didn't want to make any statement at all.

Q Why did you do it? A Well, he intimated to me it would go no further. He said to me "I will not make this matter — I will not use it;" that is, what I stated to him was part in confidence.

Q And he pledged you his word that it would not be used? A Well, told him I could make a statement in confidence, and that I didn't want to make a statement before the Court.

Q Well, what did he reply, as you said just now? A Oh, he says "to the statement and then I told him—I regretted very much to do it, and I regret very much to make a statement here. I tried to avoid it yesterday.

Q You stated just now that he said it would not be used; did he say that or not? A Well, something to that amount; oh, he says it won't make any difference or something to that effect.

Q Now, don't you know that Mr. Hastings did not intimate to you that the statement he was asking you to make would not be used? A Well, I didn't think that I could be forced to make a qualified statement before the Court here, because I thought my license would protect me in that matter.

Q Yet it did not protect you or prevent you from making a statement to the attorneys for the Nation? A No, sir.

Q Now, in this conversation with Shoemake to which I have referred did you not say to Shoemake you ask him if he thinks you could make it all right for him? A No, sir; I didn't say that; no, I said if I could employ me in the matter "maybe it would be much better for you." Now, he offered to them I was worth here last week, he offered me five dollars to go down and talk with the lawyers on the matter, I didn't go I was busy.

Q That was not your price? A No, no, I had nothing to say in his case that would be to his advantage; I knew nothing against him.
Q Now, then, you say that your were present on the morning that the judgment was rendered in favor of the Dawsons? A I was not in the Court house.
Q You were present in Tahlequah? A Yes, sir.
Q How long had you been at Tahlequah? A I was living there at that time.
Q When were you first employed by them? A By Dawsons?
Q Yes, sir. A The evening before the case was tried.
Q You say that after he judgment was rendered Dawson handed you $20? A Yes, sir.
Q And told you to hand to Duncan? A No, sir.
Q What was your statement? A That he paid me $20 and says "I will send you some more in a short time, week or so.
Q And then he sent you $100? A Yes, sir.
Q And wrote you to give D. W. C. Duncan $50 of it? A Yes, sir.
Q And then sent you another $100 and told you to give him half of it? A Yes, sir.
Q How much did they pay you? A Well, that was the agreement, was that he would pay me $50 a family.
Q How much did he pay you? A I think there was $250; now I am not sure about the $50, but it appears to me like there was a $50 sent, and Mr. Duncan asked me, as well as I remember, says "have you got a letter from Dawson," I told him "yes, sir." It was either that or the $100, and he says "I would like to have some money", and I went to Stapler's and got it changed-- I won't be sure about it being $50 or $100--I went to Stapler's and got him to cash the check and give him his part of it.
Q How much did they pay you for your services? A That is all I got.
Q How much? A I think it was $100, $120.
Q What did you do for them? A Didn't do a thing only called up the case and submitted it; never read the evidence.
Q Submitted it without remarks? A Yes, sir.
Q And for that you and they paid you $120? A Yes, sir; $120.
Q Was Houston Benge present when that was done? A No, sir; I don't think he was.
Q Did you see him then at that time in Tahlequah? A I don't remember.
Q Were you associated with him in any manner in connection with the case? A No, sir.
Q You had a great deal of business of that character, have you before the Courts? A Yes, sir.
Q Were you paid like fees in other cases for like services? A Yes, sir.
Q In many of them? A Yes, sir, good many.
Q All like cases? A Oh, citizenship cases.
Q When was it you were in jail at Fort Smith? A I don't remember; Mr. Pollette can remember, I was there, he was my attorney.
Q Was it about 1893? A It was somewhere along there, along in 1890 somewhere.
Q That has been your method of doing business, has it not? A Yes, sir.
Q You have never practiced much in any other way, have you? A No.
Q Now you I will ask of you in your case there in the Court of Claims when you state you worked it through? A No, sir.

Q This was an exception was it? A I never worked this case through. I simply called the case up by request of Mr. Dawson. I read the evidence; don't know what proof there was in it; he just asked me to call the case up.
Q And he agreed to pay you $50 a family for doing that? A Yes, sir.
Q Was that what you required of him? A That is what he agreed to pay. I says "What will you give?" He says "I will give you $50 a family.

MR. HUTCHINGS:

Q At the same time that the attorney for the Nation was talking to you about the Dawson case he also made inquiries about the Shoemake case didn't he? A Yes, sir.
Q And you told him at that time before you knew anything about whether you would be made or compelled to testify that so far as you knew there was nothing you knew detrimental to the Shoemake case? A Yes, sir; that is what I said.
Q You told him at the same time that you not only expected to claim you privilege as an attorney in the case, but that you told him, Mr. Hastings, with the full belief that the Court would sustain your position? A Yes, sir.

Mr. McKennon: That is very leading.

Q Now, did you think that the re-employment, being the attorney in the pending case would strenthen your position or weaken it, when you spoke to Mr. Dawson? A What I thought in the matter was before ever I would be summoned in the matter, a long time ago, that if I had been employed in the matter of course my position would have been such that I would not have been required or could not have been forced.
Q Did you think under those circumstances that Mr. Hastings would approach you about the subject? A No, sir; I don't think I would be forced to, having license to practice law.
Q Did Mr. Hastings tell you at the time that he was going to put you on the stand? A Yes, sir.
Q And let the Court decide? A Yes, sir.

MR. McKENNON:

Q Now, have you a license to practice in the United States Courts? A Yes, sir.
Q In the Territory? A Yes, sir.
Q And also in the Indian Courts? A Yes, sir: do you want to see them?

JAMES W. LEWIS, being duly sworn, testified as follows on part of the Cherokee Nation:

MR. HUTCHINGS:

Q State your name please? A J. W. Lewis.
James W. Lewis? A Yes, sir.
Q Where is your postoffice, Mr. Lewis? A Afton.
Q How old are you? A 73 years old.
Q What is your business ? A I work at the tin business and gun work.
Q Do you know one James Dawson, the brother of F. B. Dawson and the other Dawsons? A I know old man James Dawson.
Q That is the one I mean, old man James Dawson? A Yes, sir; I know him.
Q How long have you known him? A Well, some four or five years, I guess.
Q How long? A Four or five years I think.

Q When did you come to the country? A I have been in the country 70 odd years.
Q Well, when was you come to this country, do you know? A Along about somewheres in eighty if I recollect right, might have been later than that.
Q How did you happen to get acquainted with? A He lived right close by me and I built a house for him.
Q Did you have any conversation with him at the time you built that house? A Yes, several different times.
Q About how he became a citizen of the Cherokee Nation, about the circumstances? A Yes, sir.
Q Did he make any statement to you about the use of money in getting his citizenship, and if so, state what he said?
A Well, he told me that it cost him $700 to get his rights.
Q Didn't tell you to whom he paid it? A No, he didn't and I didn't ask any questions.

LR. McKENNON:

Q How old was he at that time, do you know? A I do not know exactly, must have been somewheres near about 70 years old, he might have been older than that, I don't know.
Q He was a very old and feeble man? A Yes, he was old and feeble.
Q He seldom ever got out away from his house? A No, sir, only short distance.
Q When you first knew him he was that kind of man? A Yes, sir.

J. L. CLINKENBEARD, being duly sworn, testified as follows on part of the Cherokee Nation:

LR. HUTCHINGS:

Q State your name? A J. L. Clinkenbeard.
Q What is your post office address? A Vinita.
Q How old are you? A 56.
Q Were you ever an applicant for citizenship before the Tahlequah Citizenship Court in Tahlequah? A Yes, sir.
Q About what time was that? A September '81, I think.
Q Did you meet there about that time, one Elbert or Buck Dawson?
A Yes, sir.
Q How did you happen to meet him? A He and I stopped at the same place, ran'n by the name of Sherrow.
Q You and he stopped there, did you, board there? A Yes, sir.
Q Well, did you have any talk about citizenship cases, yours and his? A
A Yes, sir.
Q Where did he state that he was from? A Texas.
Q Well, state what you can remember of the conversation between you from time to time about citizenship in the Cherokee Nation?
A Well, we were there on the same business and we talked about it at different times, and in talking about the evidence we had there I, of course, told him how many witness I had and what I could prove and so on, and he said that he didn't have but one witness, Mr. Baker from Arkansas, a man that was 85 or 90 years old, he said, and he hadn't come and said he was to have met him there, but he hadn't come.
Q Well, what did he say about the doctor's taking anything?
A Well, he said he was 85 or 90 years old and didn't now straight up.
Q Well, did he say anything about giving him whisky?
A Well, he said he could give him four drinks of Arkansas whiskey and would swear that black man white.

Q Did he say anything about what money would do in Texas or Indian Territory? A Well, in talking about the evidence, he said that [illegible] he just rode over there go down in Texas and he said "I come to get the say-so the land" and he says "I found out it good here," or words to that effect.
Q Did he say what he was to spend on the question? A Well, he said that he could stand a thousand dollars on it and not be hurt very much; finally he said he could stand more than that.
Q What did he tell you what he thought about the necessity of witnesses anyhow? A Well, I don't know as he said as to that, but I understood from what he said that he thought money would beat witnesses.
Q Well, where did he go from there? A He and I left there together; he came to Muskogee by way of Fort Gibson and there we parted.
Q Did you ever see him after that? A I saw him about two years or something like that afterwards.
Q Where? A Vinita.
Q Did you refer to the citizenship matter? A I asked him how he come out and he said all right.
Q Was he deformed in any way this man? A He had a crippled hand or stiff finger; I don't remember just what it was now.

MR. McKENNON:

Q Your first conversation with him was in '01 was it? A Yes, sir.
Q What time in '01? A September.
Q You were then an applicant for citizenship? A Yes, sir.
Q Were you admitted? A No, sir.
Q You are still an applicant? A No, sir.
Q You are still working to get in as a citizen of the Cherokee Nation? A No, sir; haven't quit it entirely.
Q What business are you in now? A I am running a dairy in Vinita.
Q When did you make representations now to the representative of the Cherokee Nation? A Well, sir, I haven't; I saw Mr. Hastings I believe here last Saturday the first time.
Q How did they ever know that you had had these conversations with Mr. Dawson? A I don't know.
Q You don't know how they found that out? A No, sir.
Q You say you saw Mr. Hastings here last Saturday? A Yes, sir.
Q Now, did you approach him or did he approach you? A He approached me.
Q You know why? A No, sir; I suppose somebody I have told something at some time about this, I don't know when or who. I don't remember of having talked to anyone about it. I have saw Mr. Hastings for years.
Q Now, you say—how was that expression about his giving Dr. Baker three or four drinks of liquor? A He said the old man; he said that Dr. Baker, he was expecting him there and he didn't come, and he said he didn't care where he did or not; he said he was 85 or 90 years old; he said he didn't know straight up; said he could give him three or four drinks of Arkansas whiskey and he would not know black or white.
Q Now, he said that did he? A Yes, sir.
Q You are just as positive of that as you are of any other statement he made are you? A Yes, sir.
Q You say you next saw Dawson at Vinita? A Yes, sir.
Q How long afterwards was that? A About two years, I think something near that.
Q Did he move to the Territory? A Yes, sir, he lived at Vinita at one time.

Q You speak about having a dairy business there at Vinita, to what extent? A I am only milking about four cows now, I sent the others to the country.
Q Do you run a dairy wagon there? A No, sir.
Q You serve on the jury a good deal? A I have been serving on the Petit jury there this winter.
Q Generally? No, sir.
Q Are you a kind of a professional juror? A No, sir; I was on the regular petit jury, I was on the regular panel and served.

C. G. BRAUGHT, being duly sworn, testified as follows on part of the Cherokee Nation:
MR. HUTCHINGS:

Q What is your post office? A Fairland.
Q How long have you been living in the neighborhood of Fairland?
A Been living there 19 years.
Q Do you know one Bud Dawson or F. M. Dawson as his name is?
A I do.
Q How long have you known him? A About 13 years.
Q How close to you live from him? A Half a mile of him.
Q Does he still own that place? A I think he does.
Q Were you an applicant for citizenship along about '81 or '2 at Tahlequah? A Yes, sir.
Q Did you have at any time a conversation with Bud Dawson about his and your citizenship cases? A Yes, sir.
Q State what he stated to you of citizenship cases in general and about his own in particular, you can state the time that you had these conversations as near as you can? A Well, I think it was in '83, he told me if I ever got in I would have to put up; he said it cost him $700 to get in; he said he paid one witness three hundred dollars.
Q Did he state the name of that witness? A No, he did not.
Q Who did he say he made arrangements with? A He said he made arrangements with the Court; that is, heads of families to get them in at one hundred dollars apiece.
Q Do you know what time of the year tht was, whether it was in the summer or not? A I think it was in June.
Q Did he make any other statements to you at any other time?
A No, sir, I don't think he has in regards to that matter.
Q You have been living neighbors with him? A Yes, sir.
MR. McKENNON:
Q You say this was about June of '83? A I think it was in June, 1883, I won't be positive whether it was June or not.
Q You were an applicant; were you admitted? A No, sir.
Q Have you been admitted? A No, sir.
Q You are still an applicant? A Yes, sir.
Q Still trying to get in? A Yes, sir.
Q Where was this conversation had? A Had at Bud Dawson's house.
Q What part of the premises? that is, in his residence?
A Yes, sir.
Q In the house? A Yes, sir.
Q Who was present? A There wasn't anybody present; he just built the house and there wasn't anybody there.
Q How many rooms was there more than one room? A I won't be positive but I don't think there was but one room, log house.
Q Just one room? A Yes, sir.

Q And in that room he made this statement to you? A Yes, sir.
Q He and you are enemies are you not? A No, I don't think we are enemies.
Q You are not friendly at all? A Friendly part of the time, and part of the time we din't.
Q Haven't you had considerable trouble about he lands between your farms? A No, sir; we ain't had any trouble.
Q Didn't you have his little boy arrested recently for a difficulty?
A Yes, sir.
Q And you say that you are not on bad terms with him?
A Why we speak, have conversation, have right right along all the time.
Q Is it not a fact now that you and he have been all the while at outs? A No, sir.
Q You don't have any unkind feeling towards him? A No, sir.
Q What were your other remarks? A I said no, sir, I didn't have any unkind feeling towards him.

(It being 5 o'clock, the Commission adjourns until 8:30 o'clock to-morrow morning.)

March 19, 1902.
Commission convened pursuant to adjournment.

Appearances:
Mr. A. S. McKennon, of Counsel for Applicants.
Mr. W. T. Hutchings, of Counsel for Cherokee Nation.

C. C. BRAUGH, re-called, further testified:

MR. McKENNON:

Q Mr. Braught, you were a claimant under the Watts family are you not? A Yes, sir.
(witness excused.)

CHARLES D. KENNEY, being duly sworn, testified as follows on part of the Cherokee Nation:
MR. HUTCHINGS:

Q State your name? A Charles D. Kenney.
Q What is your post office? A Dawson now.
Q Are you a citizen of the Cherokee Nation? A Yes, sir: supposed to be.
Q Recognized as such are you? A Yes, sir.
Q How old are you? A There is no family record, my parents died when I was young, I just guess at my age, I am somewheres between 44 and 45 years old.
Q Were you personally acquainted with one Elbert or Buck Dawson?
A I knew Buck Dawson when I saw him.
Q Did you know him in the state of Texas, if so state what time?
A I knew Buck Dawson, knew him and saw him at different dates in Texas.
Q Well, in the year '01 in Clay County, Texas, did you ever see him?
A It was in '01 or '02, I think I know him in both years.
Q Did you ever have any conversation with him in the presence of Bill Smith, Giles Pilgrim and Joe Pleasten about his application for citizenship in the Cherokee Nation? A Mr. Dawson and Pilgrim were talking in regard to grass down there before it one time and it was mentioned, I was going up on the strip and Buck Dawson says "he an Indian" and Jiles said "yes, he is an Indian", and "By God," I believe is the way he spoke, "if I was an Indian I would not be punching cattle, I would have stock eating my grass."

Q What did he say about making application? A He said he was going to the Chickasaw Nation and drove up and got him some grass.
Q Who was that? A Buck Dawson.
Q Well, did anybody suggest about his going to the Cherokee Nation? A Yes, sir, I told him, I says "why don't you go to the Cherokee Nation, why don't you go up home" I believe is the way I spoke it, "up amongst God's people;" and he says "are they all white like you?" and Jiles spoke up and says "majority of them."
Q Well, what did he say to Jiles then? A He says "let's go up Jiles", just in a whole crowd of cow punchers, and Mr. Flippin says "Hell, I am going; brother John is getting ready to go now."
Q Well, then what did he say to you? A He says "Who are your best lawyers up there, Kenney," and I told him "Hooley Bell was counted the brainiest man in our country."
Q Well, do you know whether he claimed to have any Indian blood or what he was claiming in that country, whether white man or Indian? A No, sir, I could not say what he was; he was generally known down there as Buck Dawson, a citizen of the State of Texas, that is all I know of him.

Mr. McKennon: The applicants object to all of the testimony of this witness because it is wholly incompetent and irrelevant.

Mr. McKennon:
Q Were you born and reared in the Cherokee Nation? A I can't tell you where I was born; I was raised here part of the time and in Rusk County, Texas. B. F. Alberty was my guardian.
Q Were you admitted to citizenship by the Council or Court? A I think both of them passed on me; I can't tell you the date.
Q About what time? A It was sometime in '80 though.
Q What tribunal first? A I don't know; I don't know either when I was admitted, I was re-instated at Council.
Q When? A I think it was in '87 or '88.
Q Haven't you been arrested for crime and charged with crime? A Well, I didn't know that I was on trial; I have been arrested a hundred times I guess from here to the Rio Grande.
Q For what offense? A For gambling, stealing; if I am on trial I have had lots of them, I have been on the road.
MR. HASTINGS, of Counsel for Cherokee Nation:
Q Were you ever convicted? A No, sir.

Mr. McKennon: Applicant makes further objection to the testimony of this witness on account of his criminal character stated by him.

THOMAS B. BABBART, being duly sworn, testified as follows on part of the Cherokee Nation:
MR. HUTCHINGS:

Q State your name, please? A Thomas B. Babbart.
Q What is your post office? A Melvin.
Q What is your age? A 49.
Q Are you a Cherokee by blood? A Yes, sir.

Q Did you know one James Dawson? A Well, yes; I did; I have seen him time or two.
Q Were you in Tahlequah about the time he had an application before the Spears or Snake Fuzzy Citizenship Court? A Yes, sir; I was there about the time the case was settled.
Q Did you know Aaron Butler? A Yes, sir.
Q Who was he? A He was a Cherokee Interpreter for the Court.
Q Do you know James Smith? A Yes, sir.
Q Who was he? A He was the Nation's attorney before the Court.
Q Well, did you about that time have a conversation with either Aaron Butler of Jim Smith in company with Mr. James Dawson? A Yes.
Q State the full particulars of it? A About that time this man Dawson and Butler come to me while they were all together, all three of them, and Butler come and called me off to one side, that was down at a colored church, it was after dark, and they called me off there and this man Dawson borrowed some money from me, he said he had to have it that night, his case was going to be submitted the next morning.
Q Well, did he say anything about whether he could get his case submitted if he had more money? A Well, from the language to me and Butler, he wanted this money; Smith had agreed to submit the case without further evidence in the matter.
Q Well, did you let him have the ten dollars? A Yes, sir.
Q Where did they go then? A They walked off up towards town.
Q Did they go together, these three? A Yes, sir.

MR. McKENNON:

Q Was that James Dawson, the leading applicant in that case?
A Yes, best of my recollection that was.
Q How old a man was he? A I don't know; I could not tell you; he looked, I don't know, he might have been—could not tell you just about how old he was.
Q Well, about how old was he, 25, 30 or 40? A Yes, he was older than that, from my judgment I guess he must have been 45 or 50 years old.
Q Is he living or dead? A I don't know.
Q Where have you been living? A I have been living down here near Tahlequah.
Q What was the man's name, Dawson's name? A Jim Dawson I think.
Q You are certain of that? A Yes, sir; I am pretty certain.
Q They came to you with Smith, the Prosecuting Attorney, and Butler, the Interpreter? A Yes, sir.
Q Dawson took you off to one side? A Butler took me to where Dawson was and introduced me to Dawson and vouched for Dawson being all right for the money.
Q When did you first make a statement of this matter to anybody?
A I guess—I don't remember when.
Q How long have you been in Muskogee this time?
A I have been here since, I was summoned here last Friday.
Q Did you ever make any statement to anybody about this before that time? A Yes, I talked to Butler about it.
Q When? A Oh, about, first I remember it was been about two years ago, and Butler was talking to me about it; it was at my house.
Q Were you born a citizen? A Yes, sir.
Q You weren't admitted to citizenship by the Courts or Council?
A No, sir.
Q You have been living in the Cherokee Nation all your life?
A Well, I was born and raised here; ; I haven't been here all the time; I have been out and in.

Q You have never seen that man Dawson since? A If I have I have never known it, but I seen him the next day.
Q You saw him and took a good look at him, and know about what kind of man he was? I saw him around there about several times.
Q You think he was about 35 or 40 years old? A That would be my guess at it, my recollection.

Mr. McKennon: Applicants object to the testimony of this witness, all of it, because it is wholly incompetent and irrelevant.

DELIA A. BREWER, being duly sworn, testified as follows on part of the Cherokee Nation:
MR. HUTCHINGS:

Q State your full name? A My husband's name was O. P. Brewer, but generally I sign my name Mrs. D. A. Brewer.
Q What was your full maiden name? A Delia A. Vann; well it was really Delilah but I never was called by that name, it was De altogether in my young days.
Q What was your father's name? A His name was Joseph Vann.
Q Was he called by any nicknames and if so how many, and what? A None but the Cherokees, the full-bloods called him Joe Aney.
Q What does that name mean when you talk English? A Rich Joe.
Q Did any of them call him Big Joe Vann? A I don't know: he was a large man; larger than the other Joe Vann.
Q There was another Joe Vann? A Yes, sir.
Q Did your father have any sisters and brothers? A He had quite a number of sisters.
Q Did he have a half sister? A Had two half brothers.
Q Did he have a half sister? A Had several half sisters.
Q Who did they marry? A Different persons; I knew the names of all of them but I have a bad memory, but I know that there was one, a Mrs. Ibbie Wolfe, and Mrs. Lamer, she was first a Mrs. Nicholson and she became a Mrs. Lamer and lived in Alabama and never come to this country, but she has grandchildren in this country.
Q Well, did any of your father's sisters or half sisters ever marry a Rogers? A No, sir.
Q Never had any Rogers kin-folks? A No, sir, I certainly would have heard of them through my family, there was a great many of the kin-folks I never saw, but I heard of them.
Q The Dawson case was talked of here for many years, they claiming kin?
A I never knew until I understood they claimed to be kin to the Vanns, and I flatter myself that my family was prominent enough that they never claimed kin.
Q They never claimed kin at all? A No, sir.
Q Did your father ever had a sister or half sister by the name of Annie, Anna or Aney? A No, sir.

Mr. McKennon: Applicants object to all the testimony of this witness because it is incompetent and irrelevant.

SAMUEL TOLLIVER DAWSON, being duly sworn, testified as follows on part of the Cherokee Nation:
MR. HUTCHINGS:

Q State your name? A Samuel Tolliver Dawson.

Q What relationare you to the Dawsons? A Well, I am not acquainted with none of these Dawsons, I guess I am cousin, that is what he told me.
Q Who was your father? A Samuel Riley Dawson.
Q What did you say your father's name was? A Mile Dawson.
Q Do you know what his full name was? A Samuel Riley Dawson.
Q What children had your father? A Why, he has got, you mean his first children or his whole family?
Q I want all of his children? A I don't know, I will have to count a while on them, there was nine or ten of them.
Q Just one or two of them I care for; is Mrs. Lewis your sister?
A Yes, sir.
Q Your full sister? A Yes, sir.
Q Was she a daughter of S. R. Dawson, Jr.? A Yes, sir.
Q Now who were the parents of your father, , Samuel Dawson?
A Why Sam Dawson was his father.
Q Sam Dawson was his father? A Yes, sir.
Q What was Sam Dawson's wife, if you know their family history, what your father said or what your grandfather said? A I have heard that she was a Pruitt, my father said; of course I don't know.
Q What was her given name? A Annie.
Q Did you ever see your grandfather, Samuel Dawson? A Yes, sir.
Q Saw him? A Yes, sir.
Q Do you know about how old he was when he died? A He was somewhere up about 90.
Q About how old were you when your grandfather died? A I don't remember exactly how old I was, I must have been somewhere near 12 years old when my grandfather died.
Q Was your father his youngest child? A Yes, sir.
Q D you know about when your father was born? A Well, no, I don't, he died in '90 and he was 67 years old.
Q He died in about '90 and was about 67 years old when he died?
A Yes, sir.
Q And he was the youngest child? A Yes, sir.
Q Now, do you know how many children your grandfather had , that is brothers and sisters of your father? A I heard him say seven.
Q Well, did you ever hear your father or grandfather speak of whether or not your grandmother was a white woman or an Indian?
A Well, I heard my father speak about it, I don't know that I ever heard my grandmother say anything about it.
Q Well, what did he say about it? A I have heard him say his mother was not an Indian.
Q Did you fathercome here and apply nce for citizenship?
A Yes, sir.
Q Was he admitted? A I think not.
Q Did you hear him make any statements about he ground he expected to get in? A He said his brothers had proved their rights here and if his brothers had any rights he did, but I don't know.
Q Well, in that connection didhe say whether his mother was an Indian or white woman? A Never heard him say that his mother was a white woman in speaking about that, I don't know whether he said anything about that or not; I have heard him say his mother wasn't no Indian.

Mr. McKennon: Applicants object to the testimony of this witness because it is wholly irrelevant and incompetent.

EMMA BRASHEARS, being first duly sworn, and being examined testified as follows:
BY MR. HUTCHINGS:

Q State your name? A Emma Brashears.
Q What was your maiden name? A Emma Dawson.
Q What was your father's name? A Samuel Riley Dawson.
Q What was his father's name? A Samuel.
Q What was your grandmother's name? So far as you know from family history? A Her maiden name was Annie Pruett.
Q Then your father, if I understand you, was the son of Samuel Dawson and Annie Dawson, nee Pruett? A Yes, sir.
Q Did your father have a brother named Robert, and a brother named James? A Yes, sir; that is what I was told.
Q And had a sister named Mrs. Petty? A Yes, sir.
Q And another one named Mrs. McGee? A Yes, sir.
Q And another brother named John? A Yes, sir.
Q What relation are you to Mrs. A. S. Lewis? A Sister.
Q Did you ever see your grandfather, Samuel Dawson? A Yes, sir.
Q You have a distinct recollection of him? A I, yes, I can [illegible] him, but I was small.
Q About how old were you you suppose when your grandfather died?
A About 6.
Q Was your father's birth recorded in the family Bible? A Yes, sir.
Q You know whether your grandfather's record of marriages and deaths were recorded in any Bible or not? A I was, but we haven't it.
Q What became of it? A Got burned.
Q Well, about what year do you remember that your father, Samuel Dawson was born? A I believe it was '23.
Q In 1823? A Yes, sir.
Q And how old was he when he died, if you recollect? A He was between 64 and '7.
Q Did you ever hear your father speak of his relations, his father and mother, as to whether they were white people or Indians?
A Yes, sir, they were white people.

Q. You know whether in the family you grandfather was spoken of by the name of Annie, always? A Yes, sir.

BY MR. McKENNON: Applicants object to the testimony of this witness because it is wholly irrelevant and incompetent.

ALEX S. LEWIS, being first duly sworn and being examined, testified as follows:

BY MR. HUTCHINGS:

Q State your name? A Alex S. Lewis.
Q What is your post-office? A Dawson, Indian Territory.
Q How old are? A 59 years.
Q What was your wife's maiden name? A Elizabeth Parales Dawson.
Q Who was your wife's father and mother? A Her father was Samuel R. Dawson and her mother was the wife of Samuel R. Dawson, did you want her maiden name?
Q Well, if you know the maiden name of your wife's mother, state how you know it? A Well she was called Margarett, Margarett Queen was her maiden name.
Q The maiden name now of your wife's father's mother? A Why the maiden name of my wife's father's mother?
Q Yes, sir? A From what her husband and my father-in-law told me it was Annie Pruett.
Q What is the name of your wife's father's father? A My wife's grandfather on her father's side, Samuel Dawson.
Q And his wife's maiden name was Annie Pruett? A Yes, sir.
Q Did you know the old gentleman, Samuel Dawson, your wife's grandfather? A Yes, sir.
Q Personally? A Yes, sir.
Q What opportunities had you to get acquainted with him? A He lived with his youngest son, my father-in-law, and visited us, my wife and I, after we were married, at first with us quite a while; I lived near my father-in-law and so visited very often.
Q When did he die? A '74.
Q Have you any particular method of recalling that date? A Well, I was away from the house when he was taken sick, and they sent for my wife and myself, and so when I got home my wife had gone to her father's to see her grandfather, he was sick, and I remember my first wife was a baby at that time.
Q And when was your first child born? A He was born December, '73.
Q You know how old your wife's father was when he died? A Why he was up in 60, but I don't remember his age.
Q Did the old original Samuel Dawson ever tell you his age? A Yes, sir, several times.
Q How old was he at the time of his death? A He was past 94.
Q Did he ever tell you whether or not his wife Annie Pruett had any sister or brother? A Told me she only had one brother named Bob Pruett.
Q Have any of the members of the family named their children after it? A Make it a little plain, it is a little long; my wife's eldest brother was a particular favorite of his grandfather, and he always took this boy with him everywhere, and he named one of his,- oldest child for this brother-in-law who was a particular favorite of his grandfather; now as it for him I understood.
Q Oh, what is his name? A Of course I don't know why he named it, but he gave him the name of Robert Pruett, and I understand it was on account of his grandfather thinking so much of Robert Pruett.
Q Did you ever hear the old Samuel Dawson speak of his brother-in-law? A Yes, sir; I have heard him say that he thought he had married into a family of Pruetts, he never had heard of him for a long time; didn't know where he was, or whether he was alive or not.

Q Now, I want the children of Samuel Dawson and Annie Pruett, how many of them did you know, first? A How many did I know personally?
Q Yes, sir? A John James, and Samuel R. Those were the only ones of his children that I remember personally.
Q Well, remember what you know of the family, what other children did he have? A Well he had two girls, as I understand the family history, he had two girls, first, and John Dawson was the third child, and the oldest boy was John Dawson.
Q Was John Dawson the oldest boy? A Yes, sir.
Q Which was the oldest girl? What is she known by now? A I think it was Mrs. Petty, nee Bettie Dawson.
Q And John Dawson was the oldest boy? A Yes, sir.
Q And Samuel R. Dawson was the youngest boy? A Yes, sir.
Q You know anything about the time John Dawson was born, have you any way of coming at it, the oldest boy? A Yes, sir, I know what the oldest son and his wife told me.
Q What was that? A They said he was born in 1811.
Q Who was his oldest son? A Toliver H. Dawson; told me his father was born in 1811.
Q Do you remember now whether the old man had occasion to say whether his wife, Annie Pruett was an Indian or white woman, or ever said anything about it? A I know that the old man said that she was, I don't know that I ever heard the question approached in that way, I have heard him speak as to her blood, but it was in a different way that he reached it.
Q What blood did he say she was? A Well he said that she was the daughter of Mrs. Pruett, a white woman; and that her father was Captain John Rogers, a white man who lived with the Cherokee Indians, and traded with them.
Q Did he say who Captain John Rogers afterwards married? A Said he had a wife in the Cherokee Nation.
Q But that Annie Pruett was not her child? A No, sir, she was the child of Mrs. Pruett.
Q A white woman? A Yes, sir, that was the half sister of Bob Pruett.

BY MR. McKENNON:

Applicants object to all of the testimony of this witness, because it is wholly incompetent and irrelevant.

Q Did ever you apply for citizenship here? A Yes, sir; for my wife.
Q When? A My father-in-law made the application, I don't know exactly when it was, I think probably about '86, I couldn't say as to the date.
Q Before the Cherokee authorities? A Yes, sir.
Q Did he file an application before the Dawes Commission in 1896 also? A Him.
Q Yes, sir? A I don't think he did, no sir.
Q Did you? A I did.
Q On account of your wife? A Yes, sir.
Q Did you make affidavit to that application? A No, sir.
Q Who did? A I don't know, don't remember now.
Q You applied for your wife as an Indian by blood did you not? A Yes, sir.
Q Are you still an applicant? A No, sir.
Q Is she? A No, sir.
Q She was denied was she? A Yes, sir.
Q Was there an appeal taken from that? A Application was filed if I remember, before the Dawes Commission, and they rejected the case, and then I appealed it to the District Court, and it was rejected there and then I stopped.

Q Have you ever been arrested for any crime? A Yes, sir.
Q What? A Charge of murder.
Q Anything else? A No, sir.
Q Committed on the train? A Yes, sir.
Q In a train robbery? A Yes, sir, in a train robbery.
Q How long did you remain in jail? A Appealed the case to the Supreme Court, and it was reversed and sent back, and I was acquitted on that charge.
Q That all the crime you were ever charged with? A Yes, sir.
Q Haven't you been having some trouble with the Dawson family? A Well me personally I have no trouble with any of them, there is one of my boys and one of W. A. Dawson's sons-in-law had some trouble.
Q You are not friendly with the Dawson family? A That son-in-law Mr. Wooley, and myself, don't speak, and I don't think his wife speaks to me either.
Q Well you are claiming some sort of lease on the Wooley farm, aren't you? A No, sir, I don't claim any lease on the Wooley farm.

B. W. ALBERTY, being first duly sworn, and being examined, testified as follows:
BY MR. HUTCHINGS:
Q State your name? A B. W. Alberty.
Q What is your post-office? A Tahlequah.
Q What is your present official position in the Cherokee Nation? A Assistant Executive Secretary of the Cherokee Nation.
Q As such have you charge of the citizenship records and books etc. of the Nation? A Yes, sir.
Q Have you made search recently for the original records in the various cases of the Dawson family before citizenship courts in Council? A Yes, sir.
Q Have you got what records you found with you? A I find what's supposed to be the original papers in the case, all that I could find. (Produces papers and hands to Nation's attorney.)
Q Where did you find these papers? A I found them in the desk in which papers of that character are filed away in the Executive Office at Tahlequah. (Applicant's attorneys examine papers produced by witness.)
BY MR. HUTCHINGS: The Nation here introduces in evidence an envelope marked No. 108, the names on the back of it are Robert, Elbert, Jasper, John, Frances, Marion, Josephine, Joseph, Jane, Mollie, Wilburn, James, Rial Dawson, versus the Cherokee Nation; the envelope and its contents.

vs.
Cherokee Nation.

Testimony for Claimants.

Witness:

Dr. Baker sworn testified as follows. My name is Arthur Baker I reside at Berrivill, Arkansas, Carroll County, my age is 73 years, I am not a Cherokee, I lived in the Cherokee Nation about three years when I first came to Arkansas I have been acquainted with him since he became a citizen of Carroll County more thirty five years (-line drawn through the last three words.) 35 years at My mother's house near Calhoun I became acquainted with the claimants Robt Dawsons grandmother on mother's side, she was frequently at My mother's house; though she Anna Pruit lived in the Nation side. She claimed to be a half sister to Big Joe Vann, also claimed to be half Cherokee; the first time she brought the clairant's mother to My mother's house she the clairant's mother was about grown, when I was a little boy she called her daughter Polly Rogers said Capt. John Rogers who ran a boat up the river was the father of the child; I saw the girl frequently there at My mother's and there at Louis Rosses Store I saw her occasionally until I was 15 or 16 years old and I think then Old Capt John Rogers took her off to school. I saw her no more from the time Old Capt. John Rogers took her off till I saw her here in Arkansas the wife of Old Samuel Dawson. I stayed all night there and she and I had a talk over our old matters, and I asked her when she became acquainted with Dawson and she said at the time she was going to school. And she said after she left school that Dawson followed her home to the Nation and they were there married. I have told that precisely in the words she used.

Capt John Rogers claimed to be one fourth Cherokee, the claimant is the son of Polly Rogers and I know Polly Rogers to be the daughter of Anna Pruet, and I know the claimant to be the son of Polly Dawson Capt Rogers then resided in the Cherokee Country about twelve miles from Calhoun on the Hiawassa River.

Anna Pruet resided in the Cherokee Nation as long as I stayed there the Dawsons when I got acquainted wih them Arkansas were recognized where they were as Cherokees, Robt Dawsons children is Buck, John, Marion, and two girls; the children named in the petition I recognize as being the claimants.

Question by Solicitor:

Ques. 1 How many children did Polly Rogers have?
Ans. 1 Five, I think that's all.
Ques. 2 Did you any something about someone being married twice?
Ans. 2 The claimant was married twice.
Ques. 3 Could Anna Pruet speak Cherokee?
Ans. 3 Yes she could speak it well
Ques. 4 Did Polly Rogers speak Cherokee?
Ans. 4 She could when she was young.
Ques. 5 How far do you live from Anna Pruet?
Ans. 5 Just across the river about 3/4 of a mile.
Ques. 6 Was Calhoun in the Cherokee Nation?
Ans.6 It was on both sides of the river, part in the Nation and part out in the State.

Ques. 7 Which Harnage was it went to Texas?
Ans. 7 George went first then John went they were the sons of old man Harnage that lived up here near the line.
Ques. 8 Did the claimant go to Texas?
Ans.8 No the clairant didn't go to Texas.
Ques. 9 What connection was claimant and Polly Rogers?
Ans. 9 The claimant is the son of Polly Rogers Marion here is the grandson of Polly Rogers.
Ques. 10 Where does claimant now live?
Ans. 10 He lives in Carroll County, Arkansas.
Ques. 11 Do you know what relation old Captain John Rogers was to Charlotte Rogers here in Coowescoowee?
Ans. 11 They claimed kin but what kin I dont know there were two Capt. John Rogers' in the Nation I am speaking of the time when I first came to this 1830 Country about the year 1830.
Ques. 12 Was Anna Pruet the maiden name of Claimant's grandmother
Ans. 12 Yes that was her maiden name the Indians called her Sinee.

Joseph Dawson introduced for Clairants, sworn in open Court testified as follows:

Joe. Dawson, am a Cherokee live in the Cherokee Nation, am 31 years old.

Lulu Dauthett and Dallas Dauthett, the Claimants are Cherokees. Fannie Dawson was their mother. Fannie Dawson was a Cherokee, that is what I was always told. Her father was E. Dawson. E. Dawson was my brother. Mrs. Dauthett is not living now: the last time I saw Lula, and Dallas Dauthett, they were in Texas. But I have heard since that they are in the Cherokee Nation. E. Dawson recognizes them as his grandchildren and I have known them ever since they were born.

By Solicitor:

Lula is about 10 years old. The Dallas is about 5 or 6 years old. I heard that their father is now at Vinita Cherokee Nation, E. Dawson is Elbert Dawson. The applicants' mother has been dead about three or four years. She died at Hillsboro, Texas.

I was not present when their mother and E. Dawson had eight children to the best of my recollection, or 9. Fannie, Francis, Cartenas, Annie, Bob, Smith, Worsh, Bert, Ella. All living but two, Fannie and Smith. They are all living in Texas when I left there. I am a brother to F. M. Dawson, we are full brothers. "Now this day comes the above case for final hearing. Samuel R. Dawson, bases his application for readmission to citizenship in the Cherokee Nation upon the ground that he is the son of Samuel Dawson a white man, Polly Rogers the alleged daughter of Captain John Rogers and Chilsey Pruitt, said to be a sister of Joseph Vann, commonly known as Rich and who was of Cherokee blood. It is admitted that John Rogers and Chilsey Pruitt died before the roll upon which their names would appear if living at the time and specified in the 7th section of the Act of December 1, 1886, creating the Commission on Citizenship, were made but in support of the application it is urged that certain members of the Dawson family and full brothers of the applicant were re-admitted to citizenship by the Commission on Citizenship commonly known as

"The Tehee Court", and the "Spears Court", and are now residing as citizens in the Cherokee Nation. In the opinion of this Commission the sufficiency of the considerations which determined the decision of those Commissions of the testimony now introduced to authorize the admission of the present applicant is not relivent to the issue now pending. The 7th section of the Act of December 8th, 1886, before named provides, that "The Commission shall give a hearing to any person applying for citizenship in the Cherokee Nation upon the ground of Cherokee blood or descent, but such applicant must be a person, or the lineal descendant of a person whose name appears upon the census rolls of Cherokees taken by the United States," As are hereafter enumerated. Neither the name of the applicant nor that of the person of whom he claims to be a lineal descendant appearing upon eitherof said rolls the Commission adjudge and decree that Samuel R. Dawson and family are not entitled to re-admission to citizenship in the Cherokee Nation as Cherokees by blood. This opinion includes the cases of Andrew J. Dawson, James K. P. Dawson, Journah Barber nee Journah Dawson and Jane Queen, nee Jane Dawson, and their families, as enumerated in their respecti e applic tions.

I am a citizen of the Cherokee Na ion and reside in Coowescoowee Dist. and am 55 years old. I am acquainted with the applicant, Andrew J. Dawson, he claims to be a relation of mine. I have known him personally about three (3) years, He said his father was Joe Dawson. I know the party, the applicant, from circumstances, and have no doubt but that he is a realtion of mine.

Joe Dawson, the father of the applicant was my father's brother. Joe Dawson was considered to be a Cherokee, I think he died on the Hiwassee river in Tenn. I think he had four (4) children. I naver saw any of them but Andrew J. Dawson, and Jim Dawson.

-Cross Ex.-

Joe Dawson has been dead about 35 years he lived west of the Mississippi River, I understand. My father had four brothers. I don't know how long Jou Dawson had been living in Tenn. before he died. All that I know of the applicant being the son of my Uncle Jou Dawson, is from what he himself has told me, - My grandfather, Sam Dawson was a white man. The applicant could be of the Dawson name and not be related to me- My grandfather being a Dawson and a white man.

Commission's No.....
for citizenship in the Cherokee Nation.

Your respondent, S. H. Mayes, Principal Chief of the Cherokee Nation, comes now and demurs the said application, and for the grounds thereof says:

1st. That this Commission has not jurisdiction over the parties or subject matter of this controversy.

2nd. That the application does not state facts sufficient if true, to show that the applicant . . . entitled to citizenship.

Respondent not waiving his aforesaid demurrer, but insisting upon the same for answer to said application, says that John Rogers through whom the petitioner claims to derive right to citizenship in the Cherokee Nation, is not now, - . . and has not been a citizen of the Cherokee Nation, since the removal of said Nation, west to the Indian Territory, as at present located and defined; that his name does not appear on any of the authenticated rolls of said nation; that neither nor any of his ancestors now reside, or ever have resided in the Cherokee Nation and Indian Territory, . . citizens thereof.

See case Nation's No. 1573.

Having fully answered, your respondent asks to be hence dismissed.

Now this day comes the above case for final hearing, Samuel R. Dawson bases his application for re-admission to Citizenship in the Cherokee Nation upon the ground that he is the son of Samuel Dawson, a White man, Polly Rogers, the alleged daughter of Captain John Rogers, and Chilsey Pruett said to be half sister of Joseph Vann commonly known as rich and who were of Cherokee blood. It is admitted that John Rogers was Chilsey Proctt died before the roll upon which their names would appear if living at the time, and specified in the 7th Section of the Act of December 8th, 1896, creating the Commission on Citizenship were made, but in support of the application it is urged that certain members of the Dawson family the full brothers of the applicant were admitted to citizenship by the Commission on Citizenship commonly known as the "Tahlee Court" and "Spears Court" and are now residing as citizens in the Cherokee Nation. In the opinion of this Commission the sufficiency of the consideration which determined the decisions of those Commissions or the testimony now introduced to authorize the admission of the present applicant is not relevant in the issue now pending. The 7th Section of the Act of December 8th, 1896, before cited provides that the Commission hearing to any person applying for citizenship in the Cherokee Nation upon the grounds of Cherokee blood or descent, but such applicant must be a person, or the lineal descendant of a person whose name appears upon the census roll of Cherokees taken by the United States, or who hereafter enumerated, neither the name of the applicant nor that of the person of whom he claims to be a lineal descendant appearing upon either of said rolls, the Commission adjudge and decree that Samuel P. Dawson and family are not entitled to re-admission of citizenship in the Cherokee Nation as Cherokees by blood. This opinion includes the case of Andrew J. Dawson, James K. P. Dawson, Joannah Barber, nee Joannah Dawson, and Jane Queen, nee Jane Dawson and their families as enumerated in their respective applications.

Joanna Barber Onis E. Barber, William R. Barber, James E. Barber, Jennie Barber, Joel A. Barber, Mary A. Barber, Ella Moore, Attie L. Hunt, Alsey J. Smart, APPELLANTS.

VS

CHEROKEE NATION, APPELLEE.

PETITION FOR APPEAL FROM THE DECISION OF THE COMMISSION TO THE FIVE CIVILIZED TRIBES.

Come now the appellants in the above entitled cause and petition the Court to grant an appeal in said cause from a decision of the Commission, known as the Dawes Commission, created and empowered to treat with the Five Civilized Tribes of Indians, to-wit: the Cherokee, Creek, Choctaw, Chickasaw, and Seminole Indians, and to pass upon and decide applications for citizenship in the said Five Civilized Tribes, which decision by said Commission was rendered by authority of, but not in accordance with, an Act of Congress passed and approved June 10th, 1896, and by which decision on the 29 day of October, 1896 the aforesaid appellants were denied their rights to citizenship in the Cherokee Nation, Indian Territory.

The facts relied upon by the appellants to establish their rights to citizenship in the Cherokee Nation, as aforesaid are as follows: to-wit; The affidavits of E. Dawson, S. E. Dawson T. A. Dawson, F. H. Dawson.

Said affidavits fully and conclusively establishing the fact that said applicants are Cherokee Indians, by blood and descent, and entitled to rights of citizenship in the Cherokee Nation.

Said affidavits, together with the application, of said appellants, were, prior to September the 10th, 1896, filed with and submitted to said Commission for its investigation, consideration and decision.

That a certified copy of said application, together with the accompanying affidavits, were served upon the Chief, or Attorney General, of said Cherokee Nation, prior to September the 10th, 1896.

The action of the Commission in rejecting the claims for citizenship of said appellants are the grounds for appeal to this Court, to-wit:

FIRST. The Commission erred in rendering its decision on said claims adversely to the appellants and against the proof submitted by said claimants.

SECOND. The Commission erred in investigating the claims of appellants and denying same in the absence of a majority of the members of the Commission.

THIRD. The Commission erred in refusing the appellants the right and privilege of examining the proof submitted by appellee in support of the answer filed by the appellee and denying the appellants the right of filing replication to appellee's answer or producing proof in rebuttal of the same.

FOURTH. The Commission erred in denying the appellants the right of a trial of their claims by a competent jury, as granted to them by the law and constitution of the United States.

FIFTH. The Commission erred in refusing appellants the right to be present in person, or by attorney, during the trial and determination of their claims before the said Commission.

SIXTH. The Commission erred in refusing to issue process for witnesses and to send for persons and papers when requested to do so by the appellants.

SEVENTH. The Commission erred in deciding against the right of these appellants to be enrolled as citizens of the Cherokee Nation.

EIGHTH. The Commission erred in deciding against blood, holding that blood was not a test of the right of citizenship in said Cherokee Nation.

NINTH. The Commission erred in deciding against the question of residence, holding that residence in the Cherokee Nation was not a test of the right of citizenship in the said Cherokee Nation.

TENTH. The Commission erred in not entering upon their docket or record the grounds upon which the claims of appellants were denied and refusing to notify appellants the grounds of denial or rejection.

ELEVENTH. The Commission erred in examining the claims and proof of appellants and denying the same while the Commission was not clothed with any legal authority, nor had jurisdiction, to render decision on said claims or deny the same.

TWELVTH. That the Act of Congress approved June the 10th, 1896, was unconstitutional and had no power or legal right to confer jurisdiction on said Commission to try and determine the rights to citizenship of said appellants, and said Commission erred in determining the rights and denying the same to said appellants.

THIRTEENTH. That Congress had no power by enactment to create, appoint and empower a judiciary, and said Commission erred in denying the claims of said appellants without any legal authority to do so.

Wherefore, the appellants of this cause pray that an appeal be granted to this Court and that a trial, de novo, be granted the appellants, and that said appellants be permitted to introduce new testimony, and that an order be made requiring said Commission to send all pleadings, papers and records filed before it in this cause to this Court, and that the Cherokee Nation, the appellee in this cause, be cited to appear at this Court and plead and defend against the said rule to show why the appellants should not by the rules, orders and decisions of this Court be adjudged entitled to citizenship in the said Cherokee Nation, and the appellants will ever pray.

claimants, and according to their testimony, related to them by blood.

The Cherokee introduces to controvert this testimony the decision of the Cherokee Commission on Citizenship, rendered in the year 1907, in which these claimants were rejected by this Commission and also the affidavits of W. C. Rogers a grandson of Captain John Rogers, and Mrs. Sarah Carter, a granddaughter of Captain John Rogers, both of whom state that they never heard of any daughter of said Captain John Rogers by the name of Polly Rogers, and that Cynthia Rogers was his only daughter.

The claimants contend that they are residents of the Cherokee Nation, and are relatives of the Dawson family, who are recognized citizens of the Cherokee Nation by blood, are entitled to be admitted to the Cherokee Nation as citizens by blood, while the Cherokee contends that John Rogers, through whom the petitioners claim, is not now and has not been a citizen of the Cherokee Nation since the removal west; that his name does not appear on the rolls of the Cherokee Nation, and that he nor his ancestors ever resided in the Cherokee Nation as citizens thereof.

The premises considered, in view of the unsettled condition of affairs in the Cherokee Nation at the time when Captain John Rogers, the ancestors through whom these claimants trace their Cherokee blood, lived, and especially in view of the absence of a reliable land and of records pertaining to marriage, I regret the opinion that these claimants have proved that they are descended from Capt. John Rogers, who resided in the Cherokee Nation, and was a recognized citizen, though they do not show that he was ever enrolled as such, and I therefore find that the claimants are all residents of the Cherokee Nation, Indian Territory, and that they are all Cherokee Indians by blood. That they have resided in the Cherokee Nation since 1907, and probably longer, though the proof does not state definitely how long they have so resided.

I ask that the Court allow me a reasonable fee for my services herein as special master.

BY THE COURT.

From this report it appears that the claimants came there [illegible] to be enrolled as citizens of the Cherokee Nation upon the grounds that they are the descendants of a Cherokee Indian by blood. But their ancestors through whom they claim have never resided in the Cherokee Nation as now constituted. It does appear that they have resided in the Cherokee Nation since 1907, and probably longer, though the proof does not state definitely how long they have so resided. It does not appear that the claimants or any of their ancestors have ever been recognized as members of the Cherokee Nation.

The [illegible] United States Commission rejecting this case [illegible] the application of the claimants to be enrolled as citizens of the Cherokee Nation is denied."

BY MR. HUTCHINGS:

We now introduce the original record in the citizenship case of Irene J. House, et al., before the Commission in 1896, the court number of same being 23C. said case being denied by the Commission; appealed to the United States Court, and the decision of the Commission affirmed.

In this case we desire to call especial attention to the certified copy filed therein of the testimony of Arthur Baker, the certified copy having been made in 1894, being the testimony of Dr. Baker in the case of Robert Dawson against the nation, number 108, before the Citizenship Commission, and which was made January 10, 1898.

BY MR. McKENNON: To all of which the applicants object, because the same is immaterial, irrelevant and incompetent.

The papers in Court No. 238, just introduced above, are as follows:

"Office of Commission on Citizenship,
Cherokee Nation, Tahlequah, January 19, 1882.

No. 108.
Robert Dawson et al) Exhibit C. vs (
Cherokee Nation.)

Testimony for Claimants.

Witness, Dr. Arthur Baker sworn testified as follows:

My name is Arthur A. Baker I reside at Berryvill Arkansas Carroll County. My age is 73 years I am not a Cherokee. I lived in the Cherokee Nation about three years. When I first came to Arkansas I have been acquainted with him since he became a citizen of Carrolls County some 35 years - At my Mothers house near Calhoun I became acquainted with the claimants Robt Dawson grandmother on mother's side she was frequently at my mothers house though she Anna Pruet lived in the Nation side; She claimed to be a half sister to Big Joe Vann, also claimed to be half Cherokee, the first time she brought the claimants mother to my mothers house she the mothers mother was about grown when I was a little boy. She called her daughter Polly Rogers, Said Captain John Rogers who ran a Boat up the River was the father of the child; I saw the girl frequently there at my mothers and there at Louis Ramses Store.

I saw her occasionally until I was 15 or 16 years of old and I think then Old Capt. John Rogers took her off to school, I saw her no more from the time Old Capt. John Rogers took her off till I saw her here in Arkansas the wife of old Samuel Dawson, I stayed all night there and we and I had a talk over our old matters and I asked her where she became acquainted with Dawson and she said at the time she was going to school and she said after she left school that Dawson followed her home, to the Nation and they were there married. I have told that precisely in the words that she used, Capt John Rogers claimed to be one fourth Cherokee. The claimant is the son of Polly Rogers, and I know Polly Rogers to be the daughter of Anna Pruett and I know the claimant to be the son of Polly Dawson.

Capt. Rogers then resided in the Cherokee Country about twenty (Word "twenty" marked through) twelve miles below Calhoun on the Hiwassee River. Anna Pruett resided in the Cherokee Nation as long as I stayed there the Dawson when I got acquainted with them Arkansas were recognized where they were as Cherokees. Robert Dawson children is Buck, John, Marian and two girls. The children named in the petition I recognized as being the claimants.

Question by Solicitor:

Qo. 1 How many children did Polly Rogers have?
Ans. 1 Five I think that's all
Qo. 2 Did you say so that the claimant was married one or twice?
Ans. 2 The claimant was married twice.
Qo. 3 Could Anna Pruett read Cherokee?
Ans. 3 Yes, she could read and write

Ques 4 Did Polly Rogers speak Cherokee?
Ans. 4 She did when a o was young.
Ques 5 How far did you live from Anna Pruet?
Ans 5 Just across the river about 3/4 of a mile.
Ques 6 Was Calhoun in the Cherokee Nation?
Ans. 6 It was on both sides of the river part in the Nation and part out in the state.
Ques 7 Which Marriage was it went to Texas?
7 George went first, then John went, they were the sons of old man Marriage, that lived up near the line.
Ques 8 Did the Claimant go to Texas?
Ans. 8 No the Claimant did not go to Texas.
9 What connection was claimant and Polly Rogers?
9 The Claimant is the son of Polly Rogers Marion here is the grandson of Polly Rogers.
10 Where does claimant now live?
10 He lives in Carroll Co Arkansas.
11 Do you know what relation old Capt John Rogers was to Charles Rogers here in Cooweescoowee?
11 They claimed kin but what kin I dont know there were two Capt John Rogers in the Nation I ar speaking of the time when I first come to this country about the year 1830.
12 Was Anna Pruet the maiden name of claimants grandmother

My name is F. M. Dawson; I am 54 years of age; My post office address is Afton Indian Territory I am a farmer by occupation a d reside in the Cherokee Nation.

I am a recognized Cherokee citizen by blood. I was born in Carroll County Arkansas near Berryville. I derived my Cherokee Indian blood from my grandmother whose maiden name was Polly Rogers through my father Robert Dawson, My grandmother Polly Rogers was a Cherokee Indian and was married to Samuel Dawson my grand father in the old Cherokee Nation in Tennessee. My grand parents Samuel Dawson and his wife Polly came west from the Old Cherokee Country in about 1838 and settled in Western Arkansas and later came on to the Indian Territory and the father of this affiant Robert Dawson and family settled in the Cherokee Nation, Indian Territory, Robert Dawson, the father of the affiant was also a recognized citizen of the present Cherokee Nation by reason of his Cherokee Indian blood.

The said Robert Dawson father of this affiant and Elizabeth Dawson who married John Petty were full brother and sister by blood, both being children of said Samuel Dawson and his wife Polly Dawson whose maiden name was Polly Rogers The said Elizabeth Petty was the mother Of Joanna Barber who is a full cousin by blood of this affiant in the Indian side. The said Joanna Barber is the mother of Irena J. House nee Barber she is a second cousin of this affiant in the Indian side.

This affiant further states that he has seventy five to a hundred blood relatives who reside in the Cherokee Nation and are recognized Cherokee Indians by blood and drew their per capita money all the last payment; said citizens and relatives derived their Indian blood from the same source that the above named Irene J. House, derives her Indian blood and right.

This statement I have made to John H. Koogler, a Notary Public at Muskogee Indian Territory and it has been written down by him at my dictation. Such part of this testimony which refers to matters occurin; previous to my recol ection I know by means of family history and traditions which facts I have always been taught and told of by my parents and grand parents from childhood up, ta facts stated as occuring since my childhood I know of my personal knowledge. ----------000----------

I, N. A. Gibson, Special Master herein, show to the Court that under the general order herein, I have examined the proof and pleadings on file in this case which are made a part of this report, and that I find as follows:-

I

That this case is in reality a branch of Case No. 90, Joanna Barber vs Cherokee Nation, the principal claimant herein being Irene J. House a daughter of Joanna Barber.

That this cause was instituted on September 3, 1896 at which time application was made to the Commission to the Five Civilized Tribes for citizenship by blood in the Cherokee Nation.

That this case was tried by the said Commission on November 24, 1896 and the applicants denied, no reasons being given for the decision, and that on January 20, 1897, the parties appealed from said decision to this Court.

That this application was made by Irene J. House, her husband, W. J. House, and their children Chas., C. Winston T., and Henry V. House. That they file in support of their application the affidavits of Joanna Barber, F. P. Dawson, Arthur A. Baker, E. Dawson, and W. A. Dawson. That these Dawson witnesses are citizens by blood of the Cherokee Nation, and state that they are related by blood to the claimants herein on the Cherokee side. The claimants base their contention of a right to Cherokee citizenship upon the fact that the claimant Irene J. House is the daughter of Joanna Barber, who is the daughter of Elizabeth Petty, who was the daughter of Polly Rogers, and that Polly Rogers was the daughter of Captain John Rogers and Ailsey Vann, who were recognized Cherokee citizens by blood. That the testimony shows that this Dawson family are recognized citizens of the Cherokee Nation, and that the claimants herein are counting upon the Indian blood that they all claim through a line of ancestor, Polly Rogers and Captain John Rogers and Ailsey Vann, who were all recognized Cherokee Indians.

II

The objection introduced in defense is a record of the application of these claimants to the Cherokee Commission on Citizenship in the year 1896, and the record of the rejection of the claimants, and further the affidavits of W. S. Rogers, and Mrs. Sarah Carter, a grand daughter both of whom state that they never heard of any daughter of Captain John Rogers by the name of Polly Rogers, and that he had only one daughter, whose name was Cynthia.

III

The Claimants contend that they are recognized by the Cherokee Nation and are relatives of [illegible] recognized citizens of the Cherokee Nation by blood, are entitled to be admitted to the Cherokee Nation as citizens by blood, while the appellee contends that John Rogers, through whom the petitioners claim, is not now and has not been a citizen of the Cherokee Nation since the removal west. That his name does not appear on the rolls of the Nation, and that neither he nor his ancestors ever resided in the Cherokee Nation as citizens thereof.

IV

The premises considered, I find that the claimants are the descendants of Captain John Rogers, and that it was entirely possible that in the condition of arrairs at that early date in the Cherokee Nation, especially owing to the absence of a marriage law and of records pertaining to marriage, that these claimants should be the descendants of Captain John Rogers by a daughter, Polly Rogers, of whom the affiants for the appellee may never have heard.

I find that the claimants are residents of the Cherokee Nation, Indian Territory, where they have resided since 1887, and that they are Cherokee Indians by blood.

I ask that the Court allow me a reasonable fee for my services herein as Special Master.

Respectfully submitted, this 9 day of Nov 1897.

Special Master.

[illegible] close for the present

TESTIMONY INTRODUCED ON BEHALF OF THE APPLICANTS:

D. [illegible] being first duly sworn, and being examined, testified as follows:

BY MR. [illegible]

Q Please state your name, age and residence? A My name is D. W. C. Duncan, my age is [illegible] years, my residence, Vinita, Indian Territory.
Q Are you a duly [illegible] citizen of the Cherokee Nation by blood? A I am.
Q You gave testimony in this case once before did you not, before the Dawes Commission? A I did.
Q Before this Commission I will say, this Commission? A The Dawes Commission? I don't recollect who the Commissioner was, that was the [illegible], ex parte.
Q Were you [illegible] connected with the Cherokee Citizenship Commission[illegible] as the "Tahlequah Commission"? A I was Clerk of that Commission.

Q For what length of time? A I don't recollect the exact length of time, I think it was about thirty days, during the continuance of that Commission, existance of that Commission.
Q You were the only clerk it had during its existance were you?
A I think I was.
Q You were Clerk of that Commission when it rendered a decision in favor of Robert Dawson et als, as found on page 114, of its record, numbered 108 (witness examines record referred to.) now in the possession of this Commission? A I was.
Q The members of that Commission were the same as shown by the signatures to this judgment were they? A The same, yes, sir.
Q Thomas Tehee, President of the Commission, Alex Wolfe and T. F. Thompson, Commissioners, that is correct, is it? A That's correct.
Q Were you present when this case was under consideration by that Commission and when it rendered this judgment in the case? A I was.
Q Were you at that time acquainted with R. M. Dawson, commonly called "Mud Dawson", Campbell Taylor and Samuel H. Benge, who were attorneys, who were Cherokee attorneys at that time? A I might say that I merely knew Mr. Dawson; all I know of him was I saw him there as a party to the suit. I know Mr. Taylor and Mr. Benge more extensively; I have known them a number of years.
Q They were recognized Cherokee citizens were they? A They were.
Q Was Taylor not known generally as a Citizenship Attorney?
A I think he was.
Q Do you remember seeing him and Benge present at the time this case was under consideration by the Court? A Why I do not recollect seeing Mr. Benge, I cannot recollect, but I can recollect of seeing Mr. Taylor about the Court room now and then.
Q Do you know who submitted the case to the Court for the applicants? A Let me understand the meaning of that; who brought the case?
Q Who called up the case? A No, I don't recollect.
Q Do you remember whether that Commission rendered any other decision than that found upon this record in that case? A I never had any knowledge only but one decision.
Q Was that in favore of or against the applicants? A It was in favor of them; I will say this: that if there was another decision other than the one that appears on the docket now before you, I have no recollection of it.
Q The only decision you have any knowledge of was recorded by you in this book as here shown was it not? A That is the only one that I have any knowledge of.
Q Did Mud Dawson pay you any money in connection with that case?
A He did not.
Q Did he ever promise to pay you any money for your influence with the Court in that case? A Never.
Q Or paid you any money, either directly or through any other person? A For my influence in that case?
Q Yes, sir? A Never.
Q Did you have any knowledge of his having paid to the Court or to any member of the Court any money for the purpose of influencing their judgment in that case? A None whatever.
Q Did you have opportunity of observing his conduct during that Court at the time? A The only opportunity that I had was during the session of the commission; I saw but very little of him during the recesses of the commission; now and then I would see him in passing.
Q Did you see anything in his conduct toward that Court which indicated [illegible] used undue influence in procuring that judg-mont? A I never remember anything of the kind; nothing that reckoned a remission in my mind that he was crazy in that kind of practice.

Q Did Campbell Taylor at any time after the rendition of that judgment pay to you any money as coming through him from Ned Dawson for any services you had rendered to him in that court

A Yes, he paid me some.

Q What amount? A My recollection now that, I think it was a twenty-dollar bill, I don't know but I had better go and state the transaction, all about it.

Q Yes, sir. A Mr. Dawson, Ned Dawson, during the trial of the case occasionally applied to me at my desk for writing paper, issue of a statement of testimony, something of that kind; I always treated him with courtesy and proper official consideration. He seemed to appreciate it, and whenever I did services of that kind to him, says he, I have no money, Mr. Duncan, but I feel as I ought to pay you. I told him I made no charges for work of that kind. And in speaking I might state that I never received a cent for any kind of that work which I had been in the habit of doing for various parties before the Court.

After his trial was concluded, in the afternoon a little while before supper I went to my hotel, the National Brick Hotel in Tahlequah; went to my room, felt a little tired, laid down upon the bed to rest. I recollect it. Duncan stepped into the room, drew a chair up to the bedside and sat down and commenced giving expression to his gratification at the success of his cause, dwelling mostly upon the testimony in the case being so satisfactorily establishing his Cherokee blood, and that he thought that he was entitled and that he had received justice by the Court. I listened to him, and we talked there I guess some ten or fifteen minutes; after a little he says, I must go to-morrow, I think he says to-morrow, I must go home,- he then lived down in Arkansas somewhere. Says he, Mr. Duncan, I believe I owe you something, ought to pay you something. Alluding, as I understood, to these little courtesies that I extended to him at my desk. Says I, I make no charges, Mr. Dawson, for services; if I have done you any good you are welcome. Well, says he, I feel indebted to you, I ought to pay you. I says, that makes no difference; I will leave that to you. Says he, I have hardly enough money to get back home. He shook my hand, and in last word he says to me, you shan't lose anything for your kindness to me; I thought he had reference to my services at the desk. That was the last I saw of Mr. Dawson, as it must have been a year afterwards; I had located a little claim on the public domain up there in Delaware District, staked off what I intended to be a farm, merely stakes, I didn't make any other improvements, over there on Horse Creek. Went over in that part of the country to look after my claim, and I ran across Mr. Dawson, he had come into the country and located and built him a little shanty and was living in it; I called upon him, he was very glad to see me; I asked him what he was doing there; he said he had moved into the country, and I told him, says I, you are encroaching upon my herd; he had spread his claim over part of mine, mine had been made so long it was outlawed under Cherokee law. Well, says Mr. Dawson, I don't feel like doing you any wrong, I will pay you for your claim, and we will settle the matter in that way, that he as soon as he got his little matters together that he would actually pay for it. Well we parted at that point. It ran on that for a long time, I don't know how long,- I think I met him in Vinita, and says he, did Camp Taylor pay you any money that I sent to you? Says I, No, I have not seen Camp Taylor.

Well, says he, I gave him some money and told him to hand it to you for me, and, says he, you ask him and he will hand it over to you I guess. Well we parted then. Well, went on for some time, some months; I happened to meet Mr. Taylor in Tahlequah; I met him on the street I think, jocularly I slapped my hand on his shoulder, says I, look here, did Mr. Dawson any money to me by you? He says, yes, and he pulled out that I recollect to be a twenty dollar bill, and handed it to me: I received it, and I received it with the idea that he was compensating me for taking my claim, or possibly for doing him those little services in the Court. Now that is the sum and substance of the whole thing.

Q Was not that twenty-five dollars, Mr. Duncan? A It might possibly have been, my recollection does not serve me exactly, it might have been 25 dollars.

Q Did Campbell Taylor pay you any other money as coming from Bud Dawson? A Never a cent.

Q Did he at one time pay you fifty dollars out of a hundred dollars which he had received from Mr. Dawson? A Never.

Q Did he on a second occasion pay you fifty dollars out of one hundred dollars which he claimed to have received from Mr. Dawson? A None at all.

Q He paid you no other money than that you have already stated, from Mr. Dawson? A Not a cent.

BY MR. McKENNON: We offer in evidence the judgment of the Cherokee Citizenship Commission before referred to, and ask that it be filed in evidence in the case of every application made by members of the Robert Dawson family who claim under it, or through Robert Dawson, as citizens of the Cherokee Nation, said judgment being found on page 114, Records of the Tehee Court, 1880 to 1884, case number 108, judgment dated January 11th, 1883, signed by Thomas Tehee, President; Alex Wolfe, T. F. Thompson, Commissioners. D. W. C. Duncan, Clerk Commission.

The said judgment just introduced is as follows:

"Office Commission on Citizenship,
Tahlequah, C. N., September 24th, 1881.
No. 108
Robt Dawson,
Elbert Dawson,
Jasper Dawson,
John Dawson,
Josephine Dawson,

Marginal Note: "Case submitted by Claimant January 11th 1883. Case submitted by Solicitor January 11th, 1883."

Q Do you remember how many members of the Court were present when this judgment was rendered, or were all of them? A My recollection upon that point is not positive, but from my statement upon that I know to be the practice of the Court at the time, seeing the names of all these Commissioners there, I can say with a great deal of positiveness that they were all present, because I never signed the name of one of the Commissioners unless he was present, assenting to it or directing it.

Q The rendition of that judgment then was concurred in by all of the three judges? A It was.

Q Mr. Duncan, if there had been a decision rendered the day before in this case while the Court was in session, adverse to these Claimants, would you have known it? A I certainly should have known it.

Q Was there any such decision of the Court? A None to my knowledge. I can say positively there was not.

Q How many of those judges are now living? A Only one.

Q Which? A Mr. Thompson.

Q Tehee and Wolfe are dead? A Tehee and Wolfe are dead.

Q How long have they been dead, do you know? A I do not know, quite a number of years. I wasn't living there, never lived near them when their death occured, and their death occurred perhaps a long time before I was apprised of it. I have seen it stated that they are dead.

Q Do you remember to have seen any writer, either of the Dawson family about the Court at that time than Mr Dawson? A I have been thinking, and I don't call to mind that I ever saw any other Dawson except Jud, until after they left this country subsequent to the rendition of the judgment.

(At this point a party who has been sitting in the room in which the examination is being held, is called forward, sworn on behalf of applicants, and asked to retire until called.)

BY MR. HUTCHINGS:

Q Mr. Duncan, when did you become clerk of the Rehoboth Commission Court? A It must have been somewhere in December, 1864, at the time the Commission was organized initially at the close of the Council in which they were appointed.

Q December 1864? A I think so.

Q What are you doing rendering judgments here in your handwriting in 1863? A The Commission held its Court after they were elected sometime.

Q The Court was elected in 1861 wasn't it? A Well, I mean the time, I don't pretend to say when the Court was elected, I might have said at the time I was chosen clerk. I was chosen clerk just at the close of the session of the National Council of that year.

Q '84? A I think it was '64.

Q You entered up this judgment rendered January, 1863? A Yes, that was the session of the Commission.

Q That was before you were clerk of it? A Well I held my clerkship for some time you know continuously.

Q Well but when you came to enter it you were heir clerk when the Dawson case was passed on? A No, I don't mean to say that.

Q How could you be clerk when the Dawson case was passed on in 1863 when you were not elected until 1864? A I am mistaken in that, '64 comes after '63,- it was the year preceding 1863, it must have been '62.

Q Your first entry in the Dawson case is January 13, 1863, isn't it?

Q I don't recollect what my first entry was. (Attorneys show the record to witness) Yes, that is the entry there on that day.

Q And that was shortly after you became clerk wasn't it? A Yes, shortly after I became clerk.

Q The case had been entered upon the docket before you became clerk? A I think so, yes; It was entered at the previous term of the session of the Commission.

Q In whose handwriting was the names of the three Commissioners signed to that judgment? A Dawson Judgment?

(Attorney shows record to witness again) A That is my handwriting.

Q All three names? A All three names.

Q The record there shows that you immediately gave them that day a transcript of the judgment, do you know who signed that? A I signed the transcript?

Q Yes, sir. A I do not recollect now, this is, did the writing?

Q Signed the names to it? A Yes, that's it.

Q You always signed the names of Tahoe and Fales didn't you? A I think I did pretty generally: I don't like to let strangers write their own names.

Q When Mr. Thompson was there didn't he sign his own name? A Sometimes he did, sometimes he simply authorized me to do it.

Q Have you any recollection of him authorizing you to do it except from the fact that you have done it on that record frequently? A I don't recall the particular time of authorization, but I can say positively that, consulting the record, that he authorized me to sign the names there.

Q Will you look at the original transcript hereby shown you and referred to in the judgment and say who signed the names of the Commissioners there? A (Papers shown to witness) A I signed them there.
Q You recognize that as your handwriting? A I do.
Q What made you when you were testifying at Vinita before Mr. Martin, on looking at the two signatures, and being cross-examined by me, say that it was not your signature and that the signature thereto attached was the signature of Mr. Thompson? A Occurred in this way: I had not been any of the records in the case for about nineteen years. The exact transaction in the court had vanished almost entirely from my memory; I recollected at that time, however, when I gave in my testimony before the Commissioner, Martin, that that was a practice of the Court at the time I served by which I signed the names of the full-blood members of the Commission, and Mr. Thompson either uniformly or occasionally signed his own name. I based my statement in that deposition upon my knowledge of the rule or practice in the Court, without comparing the docket and refreshing my memory. I made an incorrect statement when I said that that was not my handwriting: I am convinced now that it is my handwriting. That is the way it occurred, the way it happened.
Q Then you consider your recollection of the fact that Thompson when he was present and rendering a judgment signed it himself, better than your own knowledge of your own handwriting?
A No, I didn't so regard it. I simply spoke without advisement when I gave in that testimony; I subsequently became better informed and concluded that that was my handwriting and not entered by Mr. Thompson under the rule, but was one of those cases in which he authorized me to do it myself, and I did it.
Q Then you have changed your testimony, because you think you have a better knowledge of the surrounding facts now than you had then, and not from the fact of your judgment on your handwriting at present? A I simply corrected my testimony in reference to my statement in regard to this handwriting, this case.
Q And you wouldn't know then as I understand you whether or not that is your handwriting if it was not refreshed by what you consider to be exterior facts? A I should know it by examining it and thinking over the circumstances, I think I should recognize my own handwriting, but if a question should be propounded instantaneously without any advisement or reconsideration I might make a mistake.
Q You did recognize the names of Thomas Tehee and Alexander Wolfe as being in your handwriting at that time? A I was very clear and positive, and so stated, that the names of those Commissioners were in my handwriting, and I was made certain by reflecting on the rule that they never signed their names with their own hand, but always authorized me to do it. Hence there is no question in my mind in regard to my handwriting in their signatures.
Q And then the third name, right under it, as compared with your admitted handwriting, you had to wait and learn the facts afterwards to determine whether that was your signature or not? A No, I don't think that if I had considered the circumstances, I knew what there was a resemblance; what I did do of the opinion that that might have been Mr. Thompson's signature was like this: I knew that he had been in the habit of at least sometimes signing his own name, and I was under the impression-and I do not now think I am much deceived- that his chirography to a at least some resemblance to my own, hence I doubted whether I had signed that name or not on that account.

Q You were asked somewhat at that time in your testimony by the fact that Mr. Thompson said more that that was his handwriting, but not yours, didn't he? A Mr. Thompson is stating that that was my handwriting, but my time to vary to ascertain whether I was not right or not, and after so long a time I concluded that I was.

Q And he stated, as you too didn't you, that he always signed the original bill when he was present? A I do not recollect that I stated that I used the word "always", at that time, but at the time I was examined when the deposition was taken my impression was that he did, but when I come to reflect and examined the docket I was convinced that I was wrong, that occasionally I signed for him.

Q Then you never knew at that your testimony given something like a year and a half ago was wrong until you examined the docket day before yesterday, which proved you are wrong? A I don't know that I have thought of it since that time until yesterday or day before the examine the docket.

Q Now the only recollection that you have got and the only aid to your recollection that Thompson was present when this judgment was rendered was the fact that you and he had signed to it, in your handwriting, is it? A As a fact,-

Q You can answer that yes or no? A That seeing the handwriting aids my recollection and I recollect now that the commissioners were all present at the time that I signed it. I didn't their names out of court at all.

Q Was it in the forenoon now or in the afternoon ? A I don't recollect whether it was in the forenoon or afternoon.

Q In recollecting that they were all present when the record was signed, do you mean to say that they were all present when the judgment was rendered? A Yes, that is, you mean when the question of admission or rejection was voted upon?

A Yes. A They were present.

Q Did you write up the record at the time that they rendered the judgment, or make a memoranda or it, and then write up the judgment some days afterward? A The record was not written up immediately upon the decision of any case, but I wrote up the record after adjournment, generally in the evening, and presented it next day or when the next session was had, for signature; that was the practice.

Q But in this Dawson case you wrote it up the very day that it was rendered, didn't you? A I didn't recollect as to that.

Q And gave them a transcript the very day it was rendered?

A I don't recollect as to that.

Q And indicated the giving of the transcript on the bottom of the judgment the day it was rendered? A I should say it was given at the time of the transcript.

Q That was a very unusual thing for you to do in entering up judgments. A To do what?

Q To notice the fact that you had given a transcript the same day the judgment was rendered? A No, I dont' know that there is anything unusual about that.

A Other cases in that record or more than one in any event Q Have you ever done that? A I don't recollect, and so I don't know that I ever did anybody else a transcript.

Q What I am getting at: you gave them a transcript and had it signed and everything right away? A Pretty generally the decision, whether it was the same day or the evening and the next day, I don't recollect.

IT NOW BEING THE HOUR OF NOON, 12 M., THE COMMISSION ADJOURNS UNTIL HALF PAST ONE P. M.

AFTERNOON, TIME: 1:45 P. M.,-APPEARANCES,-same as in forenoon. Mr. D. W. C. DUNCAN heard on the stand.
BY MR. HUTCHINGS:

Q Do you remember what witnesses were before the Court? A I don't recollect now distinctly except Dr. Baker, I was a bar distinctly because of the length of his testimony all the time it took to try it.
Q The Doctor was about the only distinct witness there was? A He is the only one now that I can call to mind.
Q There was probably another old darkey that testified was not there? A I have no recollection to that effect.
Q The case was just decided really on Doctor Baker's testimony, he is about the only man that knew anything about the case? A I am not certain but Dr. Baker was the only witness; might have been others that has now escaped my recollection.
Q Doctor Baker's testimony was taken down in writing? A Yes.
Q There was not anybody else testimony taken down in writing was there? A All the testimony that was accorded in the case was taken down in writing.
Q Did you ever see anybody's else testimony in writing except Dr. Baker in that case? A That is not as I recollect, I can't recollect any other but Dr. Baker's.
Q You know whether same was taken immediately before the trial or at the trial or how was it? A It was taken in the presence of the three Commissioners during the session of the Court.
Q You mean the day that the case was decided or how? A I do not recollect whether the case was on trial more than one day, but my impression is that it was.
Q Do you know whether it was the same term of the Court or not? A I think it was the same term of the Court.
Q How many terms a year did that Court have, when and how did they last? A I don't recollect of but serving one term.
Q Don't recollect the serving but one term? A Myself, it seems to me so.
Q You didn't go in until January of 1888 did you; your first record is a record of about the 15th of January 1888, as shown by the book, isn't it? A I don't recollect in that regard.
Q How would they take testimony in the case, then continue it, or how would they generally do about that? A I think they decided on the case at the term in which they took testimony.
Q Can you say whether or not this testimony was taken in the case at the time it was decided or at the term it was decided, or within a week or two of the time it was decided? A My own recollection is that it was taken at the term in which it was decided; case was taken up, testimony heard that the decision was made at the conclusion of the testimony.
Q Well now, I see on October 4th, 1888, an entry, the following entry reads: "It is ordered by the Court that this cause finally be continued at the next January Term," I would be inquire, 1889, "If the plaintiff desires to be heard, if not, the case shall be continued to the next term, 1889; it is then upon the Court rises continued to the 4th Monday in January term, 1889." Now that I read that to you does it

January and a September ter ; and this decision was rendered at the January, 1903 term. Was Baker's testimony taken during the January, 1903, term, at the time this decision was rendered? A I find it impossible for me to recollect those facts that are recorded there: although I can say about that, that the record shows the correct statement of the facts: but I can't recall those facts.
Q Well there is a record here that this case was continued on the 15th day of January, 1903, upon agreement that it should be taken upon the 4th day of October, 1903: your record shows that there was nothing done in the case from January 15th, 1903 until October 4th, 1903: would you say that was correct? A I should say it was correct if it so stands on the book: it is designed to be a correct entry of the facts.
Q I will let you see the book for yourself: I don't want to misrepresent your end of it at all. (Shows entry in book to witness.)
A I can't recall those facts in regard to the agreement.
Q Who took down the testimony of the witnesses in court? A I took it down.
Q You took down the testimony of Dr. Baker? A Yes.
Q He was cross examined by counsel for the Nation? A As to that I don't recollect. He was present, he was always present: I think likely he was cross examined.
Q And that testimony was taken at or near the time when the judgment was rendered in January, 1903? A I think it was, my impression is to that effect.
Q Well the court seems to have had no session as to this case from January 15, 1903 up to October 4th, 1903, according to the record? A (No response.)
Q You don't recall taking down anybody's else testimony in the case? A No sir, I don't.
Q And the probability is that he was the only witness examined isn't he? A It might have been so. My recollection is that he was regarded as the main witness of the case.
Q He was quite an old man, about 77 at that time? A Yes, he was quite old.

BY MR. McKENNON:

Q The testimony of Dr. Arthur Baker, from this record, appears to have been taken January 15th, 1903: is that correct as far as you may know, or are able to state? A Is that Dr. Baker's testimony? (Attorney here shows witness papers) A It appears to be, yes: I don't think that was the testimony that the case was decided upon, because his testimony was taken orally before the Commission, and I wrote it down: please let me see it. (Attorney hands said papers to witness.)
A Well, all I know about this is as I stated before, I can't recall those facts, but whatever the record says why I say that the record was made correct, according to the fact. (Witness takes copy of the testimony referred to to refresh his memory.) I don't succeed in reading that very clearly to my own understanding, but I gather from the subject matter in that testimony that it is in accord with Doctor Baker's statement: in exactly word for word I am not able to say, but that is the tenor of the testimony.

BY MR. HUTCHINGS:

Q In taking the testimony you endeavored to get down all the material facts that you could in taking it in long hand? A Yes, very nearly word for word, as I could write it, sometimes there was a little variation made necessary by the length of the witness' statement.

BY MR. McKENNON: Applicants object to all of the witness' testimony relating to the method of taking the test, any of witnesses at the trial, the character and effect of that testimony, and the number of witnesses, except as far as the same may be used for the purpose of testing the memory of the witness, because the same is incompetent, irrelevant and immaterial.

R. F. PORTNER, being first duly sworn, and being examined testified as follows:

BY MR. McKENNON:

Q What is your name? A R. F. Portner.
Q What is your age? A 54.
Q You are a physician are you not? A I am.

Q Are you a Cherokee citizen? A I am.
Q By blood or intermarriage? A Intermarriage.
Q Your wife is a citizen? A Yes, sir.
Q Do you know R. F. D. Duncan? A I do.
Q How long have you known him? A About twelve or fifteen years, about twelve years I should say.
Q Do you know his general reputation in the community where he resides for honesty and uprightness of character? A I do, I think.
Q Is that good or bad? A It is good.
Q Do you know Campbell Taylor? A I do.
Q How long have you known him? A About six or eight years, don't know exactly how long I know of him for ten years and personally I have known him about six or eight years.
Q Do you know his general reputation for truth and veracity? A I do.
Q Is that good or bad? A It is bad.

BY MR. HASTINGS:

Q Dr. Is he a member of the same church you belong to? A Yes, sir.
Q And has for a number of years? A Well now I say I think he does; I have always so understood.
Q Don't keep up with all your members? A No, but he has attended church there and my impression has been that he is a member of the church.
Q You didn't have any business before the Citizenship Court of which he was clerk, did you? A No, sir, not that I know of.
Q You was not at Tahlequah while he was clerk of a Court from 1902 to 13? A I don't believe I was.
Q Never had any business before that Court? A Had no business before them, not while he was clerk to my knowledge.

BY MR. McKENNON:

Q You spoke of his membership in the church: he is in good standing as a member of the church is he? A Yes, sir.
Q I will ask you if Campbell Taylor's reputation isn't notoriously bad? A Yes, I have so understood it.

BY MR. HASTINGS:

Q I will ask you if it was notoriously bad in 1902, when those people employed him to represent them before the Court? A That was before my knowledge of him.

Q But so far as you know his bad reputation dates back so far as you know him? A So far as I know him.

G. W. MILLER, being duly sworn and being examined, testified as follows:
BY MR. McKENNON:
Q What is your name? A G. W. Miller.
Q What is your age, Mr. Miller? A 61.
Q Where do you reside? A Vinita.
Q How long have you lived there? A Well I have lived there altogether about 13 years I guess, or 14.
Q Are you a citizen of the Cherokee Nation? A No, sir.
Q What is your business? A Land estate and insurance agent.
Q Do you know D. W. C. Duncan? A Yes, sir.
Q How long have you known him? A I have known him twenty years.
Q Do you know his general reputation for honesty and uprightness of character where he lives? A Why yes sir.
Q Is that good or bad? A It is good, so far as I know.
Q Do you know Campbell Taylor? A Yes, sir.
Q How long have you known him? A Well I have known him 18 or 20 years, I guess.
Q Do you know his general reputation for truth andhonesty? A Well yes.
Q Is that good or bad? A Well, it is bad, I think.

ATTORNEYS FOR CHEROKEE NATION waive cross examination.

F. H. CURTIS, being first duly sworn and being examined testified as follows:
BY MR. McKENNON:
Q What is your name? A F. H. Curtis
Q How old are you, Mr. Curtis? A 66.
Q Where do you reside? A Afton, Indian Territory.
Q How long have you lived in the Indian Territory? A 20 years.
Q What is your business? A Lumber business.
Q Do you know D. W. C. Duncan? A I do.
Q How long have you known him? A About 20 years.
Q You know his general reputation for honesty anduprightness of character in the community where he lives? A I do.
Q Is that good or bad? A As good as any man's.
Q Do you know Campbell Taylor? A I do.
Q How long have you known him? A Some 20 years, I suppose.
Q Do you know his general reputation for truth and integrity and honesty? A Yes sir.
Q Is that good or bad? A Bad.
Q Is it notoriously bad? A Yes.
Q Did you ever known Dr. Baker, Dr. A. B. Baker, of Berryville, Arkansas? A Yes sir, I knew him in '68 and '69.
Q Where? A Over at Berryville; I ran a saw mill in that country at Berryville.
Q Did you know his general reputation so far as honesty and uprightness of character and truthfullness? A Yes sir.
Q Is that good or bad? A Good sir. Good as any man's; he is a good Christian gentleman.
Q Did you know him well enough to know his habits of life? A Yes sir.
Q Was he in the habit of taking liquor, drinking liquor? A Not that I know, of sir, I never saw him take a drink in my life.

Q You are a witness here to preclude any such charge against him? A It is, yes sir.
BY MR. MORDINON:
Q How long did you know Dr. Bryant? A Ten years.
Q What sort of a man was he? A He was an old gentleman then; he lived right at the edge of Jonesville, Mr. Mordy.
Q How old do you think he was then? A I think he must have been 65 or 70 years old; an old gentleman.
Q That is in 98 what, 1898? A Yes sir, it was in '88 and '89, the two years that I lived there.
Q He had written for magazines? A Yes, sir.
Q Was he a man of culture? A Yes, sir.
Q Was he a man of truth? A Before I knew him I would say he was, I was by reputation, with the old gentleman.
Q Do you say that Dr. Bryant was a man of truth? A No sir.
Q And his character was bad, was it, in the community as one of the citizens was? A No sir, no sir.
Q Colonel Butler was a magistrate, was he? A Yes sir.
Q Do you ever know his character to prove when ever since you ever knew his name? A Yes sir, I never knew much good of him.
Q And whenever a man is indicted and arraigned under you, Colonel
Butler, it would be to your interest, would it not, to prove it
A Well, I don't know sir, I don't think it is that it
Q If prosecuting witness knew that they had a bad case they would get him, if they could, out of court, or a bad plea to have Campbell around it? A They would quite be right.
Q You [illegible] about Dr. Duncan's connection with citizenship? A Yes sir, never did.
Q You never [illegible] any public record of the records of citizenship? A No sir, never did.
Q You have [illegible] about this Dr. Bryant? A Yes sir.
Q Never heard [illegible] that somebody was doing something wrong? A [illegible]
Q You never [illegible] you think? A I never heard him accused of [illegible]
Q That was not all the time you were there, was it? A I never heard it to the contrary. A Well I don't know but from the first day,
I have heard it for a good while though.
Q But you never knew who they tried it on? A No sir.
Q They have been a pretty strong family up there in that country haven't they, pretty large family? A Yes sir.
Q And a good many voted up there? A Yes sir.
Q Did you ever know of the Doctor's testifying any in court, Dr.
Bryant? A No sir, I never did.
Q What would you think of a man who would testify that he knew a girl that was single in 1885 when the youngest of her seven children was born in 1883, what would you think, would you think that was a statement to be made by a man who was truthful? A -
BY MR. MORDINON: Applicants object to the question because it is wholly incompetent, and not based upon any proof or withdrawn facts in the case, and it is wholly immaterial and incompetent.
Do you think that was a statement that would be made by a truthful man? (No response.)
Q You know him in '88? A Yes sir.
Q He was quite an old, decrepit man? A Yes sir, quite so, in '88 '89.

Q 14 years from that time he was liable to be in his dotage?
A I don't know, he was an old man when I knew him.
Q He was too old to work, and retained his business then? A Well he did work a good deal, but wasn't doing any business particular that I knew of.
Q He would have been pretty old 14 years from that time? A Yes, he would be getting old.

B. M. HARRIS, being first duly sworn and being examined, testified as follows:
BY MR. McKENNON:
Q What is your name? A B. M. Harris.
Q What is your age, Mr. Harris? A I am 44.
Q What is your business? A I am publishing a newspaper.
Q What paper? A "The Indian Chieftain."
Q Are you Editor of that paper? A Yes sir.
Q You live at Vinita, then? A Yes sir.
Q Are you a citizen of the Cherokee Nation? A Yes sir.
Q By blood or intermarriage? A Intermarriage.
Q Do you know D. W. C. Duncan? A I do.
Q How long have you known him? A 12 or 13 years.
Q Do you know his general reputation in the community where he lives for honesty and uprightness of character? A Yes sir.
Q Is that good or bad? A Good.
Q Do you know Campbell Taylor? A Yes sir.
Q How long have you known him? A Why 15 years or longer.
Q Do you know his general reputation for truth and honesty in the community? A His general reputation, yes sir.
Q Is it good or bad? A Well it is not good.
Q Is it bad? A Well I suppose it must be bad then.
BY MR. HUTCHINS:
Q How long has Campbell's reputation been bad, Mr. Harris, quite a good while, hasn't it? A Why I think so, yes sir.
Q And it kind of began mostly with this citizenship business? A Yes, so far as I know it did, yes sir.
Q Campbell got so many bad citizenship cases and through the mails, and they finally had him up about it, had a good deal of stir about it? A Yes sir.
Q And some of that stir was sort of occasioned by him helping the Dawsons in some't it? A I don't know, I don't know whether he helped the Dawsons.
Q Was not that one of the principal cases that brought him into notoriety? A I don't know whether it had that case or not. I know he had a great many cases.
Q That was the principal thing that got around the kind Campbell out, was citizenship cases here? A I think that is what got him into the most trouble.
Q I say before that time nobody had talked much about Campbell one way or another, and it became pretty general that Campbell was handling shoddy citizenship cases, and he got a bad reputation from that? A Yes sir, I think that was the impression generally.
Q How Mr. Duncan's connection with the Dawson case sort of knocked back: people never talked much about it? A I never heard anything about it, as I know of.
Q You have heard that there has been a scandal, some sort of the Dawson case, that has been a notorious thing? A Oh, it has been a notorious case, yes sir.
Q Well the fact of Mr. Duncan's reputation for [illegible] that notorious case [illegible] a fact?

Q His reputation for straightness is somewhat given by himself; he takes occasion to confirm it on all occasions, doesn't he?
A I don't know whether I am qualified to answer that.
Q Speaking of his truthfulness, he does that very frequently?
A No sir, not that I know of.
Q Doesn't he write a good deal about that part of things? A About his invitations.
Q And in speaking of his own integrity? A I don't remember that he does.
Q You were not about the citizenship courts along in 1.81 '2 and '3 were you? A No sir.
Q Didn't you hear about the talk that was going on about the decisions over there about the citizenship cases? A No no, don't remember anything special as I know of. I knew how the citizenship cases were going on at different times.
Q How far were you living from Tahlequah in '87? A Well, I lived close to Vinita, I guess it is sixty miles probably.
Q Have you lived any nearer Tahlequah since that time? A No sir, never have.

H. L. MILLER, being first duly sworn and being examined testifies as follows:

BY A.R. HOLCOMB:

Q What is your name? A H. L. Miller.
Q You are a minister of the Gospel? A Yes sir.
Q M. E. Church, South? A Yes sir.
Q How long have you been a minister? A I have been in the ministry 22 years, sir.
Q Did you ever live at Vinita? A Yes sir.
Q How long? A I was there four years, sir.
Q Do you know D. W. Dobson? A I do.
Q How long have you known him? A I have known Mr. Dobson 21 years.
Q Do you know the general reputation for honesty and uprightness of character? A I do.
Q Is that good or bad? A Good, so far as I know.
Q You have an opportunity to know? A Yes sir.

BY MR. LEECHMAN:

Q Mr. Dobson was a member of your church? A Yes sir.
Q What is the principal way you have of coming in contact with him? A Yes sir, he was a member of my official board.
Q His connection with citizenship cases that were decided by the court of which he was clerk has never brought him in your presence anywhere? A No sir.
Q Or never discussed? A No sir, I know nothing about his connection with it.
Q You didn't live about or near Tahlequah in '87? A Yes sir, I was Pastor of the Methodist Church in '87 at Tahlequah.
Q Did you hear about the Dawson case, and other cases admitted over there by the citizenship court? A No sir, I know nothing about the cases. I recollect when the commission was in session, and I remember that he was clerk of the Commission, but know nothing about the cases that were decided at all.
Q Never heard anybody discuss how cases were decided? A No sir.

THOMAS A. CHANDLER, being first duly sworn and being examined, testified as follows:

BY MR. MCKENNON:

Q What is your name? A Thomas A. Chandler.

Q What is your age, Mr. Chandler? A I am 70.

Q What is your occupation? A Deputy Clerk of the United States Court at Vinita.

Q How long have you lived in the Cherokee Nation? A All my life.

Q Do you know B. W. C. Duncan? A Yes sir.

Q How long have you known him? A Let me see, I have known him about nine or ten years.

Q You know his general reputation for honesty and integrity of character in the community where he lives? A Yes sir.

Q Is it good or bad? A Good so far as I know.

Q Do you know Campbell Taylor? A Yes sir.

Q How long have you known him? A I think about 15 years.

Q Do you know his general reputation for truth and honesty? A Yes sir.

Q Is it good or bad? A Bad so far as I know.

BY MR. HUTCHINGS:

Q How did Campbell Taylor get a bad reputation? A Well sir, I don't know how he did.

Q You never knew him until 1885? A Well I never knew him personally, I heard of him before that.

Q He had a bad reputation back in '85? A Yes sir.

Q Bad reputation way back yonder? A First I remember I ever heard of him I heard people talking bad of him, when I was a kid.

Q And everybody that has around the Nation and knew anything at all knew Campbell had a bad reputation? A Yes sir, away so far back as '79 or '80, that is as far back as I can remember; I think I heard it spoken of in '80, I think that's about the time.

Q And Campbell got a very bad reputation in '80 and '81 when we began to have these citizenship cases? A Yes sir.

Q You heard him spoken of in connection and using the mails for those business? A Yes sir, I heard of him being in the Fort Smith Jail on that account.

Q Citizens of the Nation talked a good deal about Campbell's being in those bad citizenship cases? A Yes sir.

And I also heard he had a bad reputation for not paying his debts, all about the way he lives.

Q You don't know whether he had the money, he might have had the money to pay his debts? A No sir.

Q He could have kept out of bad citizenship cases? A Yes sir, I suppose he could.

Q You never heard Mr. Duncan's name mentioned before in connection with the Dawson case, citizenship cases? A No sir, I don't think I have, I may have, but I don't remember hearing it.

Q General impression that somebody had done something wrong with that matter, citizenship cases? A I heard there was something wrong in connection with the Dawson citizenship cases.

Q That he himself has been in notoriety ever since they were settled? A Yes sir, I have heard it rumored around over the country that such was the case.

Q There was a pretty large voting capacity of the Nation that was never investigated? A I don't know about that, I don't think it was ever investigated, I never heard of it.

-87-

Q So they never had any occasion to find out who the man was?
A No sir.
Q Where did you live in '87? A In '87 I lived out on Rock Creek about 12 miles south of Vinita.
Q How far from Bellegarde was that? A About 25 or 30 miles, I suppose.
Q You never were around before the citizens this county during that time? A No sir.
Q You don't know, then, whether or not Dr. Powell had rent or his land or not during that? A No sir, I do not, at that time.

BY MR. McKENNON: I will now object to all of the testimony of this witness as to what is heard by way of hear-say about the character of the Rachel case, because such evidence is hearsay, immaterial, irrelevant and incompetent.

A. S. McKENNON, of Counsel for Applicants, being first duly sworn, makes the following statement:

I became a resident of Carroll County, Arkansas, early in 1856. I was intimately acquainted with Dr. Arthur Baker, for many years. Knew him as well as I did anyone else. He was a gentleman of the highest Christian character, so recognized by everybody who knew him. He was a sober man, and never drank liquor. I take this statement now in vindication of that good man's memory then for any other reason, because any imputation against his character is false.

BY MR. McKENNON:

Q How long did you live in Carroll County until '87? A I resided in Carroll County until I was away from there, but I have in this state every year that I resided in Carroll County.
Q Did you know Mr. Baker well? A Yes sir, I have seen him several times. I have forgotten both the town in which he lived; my relations to him were such as to cause me to know but little about Doctor Baker. I have not seen him well after I left there. I think about 1887.
Q Did you know those facts in 1890 when you made a record of this Commission? A Yes sir, I have known them all my life as I know them now.
Q Did you know them when you as a member of this Board voted on the Irene J. House case? A I knew it every day of my life, in 1890 as well as now.
Q Suppose that Doctor Arthur Baker's statement should show that he was born in the year 1850, and suppose he said when he was 15 or 16 years of age that Dave Pruett the wife of Samuel Dawson, was a grown up girl going to school, when the other undisputed evidence shows that she had married Sam Dawson prior to this time and had seven children, the youngest of them was born in '72, how would you harmonize that with a man who was an honest man and then the facts in the case? A Whatever Dr. Baker stated he honestly believed, whether it was right or wrong, whether it was error or truth, he honestly believed it, and stated it as he believed it.
Q He was capable of being in error? A Every man is.
Q I say he was? A Yes sir, just as you and I and every man, he was; I merely state as to his high character, which could be proven, by every man who knows it I think, I knew it.
Q The Commission rejected Irene J. House in 1896, of which you were a member? A I don't remember anything about that personally.

TESTIMONY ON BEHALF OF CHEROKEE NATION.

DAVID MEREDITH, being first duly sworn, and being examined, testified as follows:
BY MR. HUTCHINGS:
Q State your name? A David Meredith.
Q Where do you reside? A Vinita.
Q How old are you? A 62 years old.
Q Did you ever know James Dawson? A Yes sir.
Q How long have you known him? A I knew him probably 8 years.
Q Did you ever have any talk with him about his citizenship? A Very little.
Q You were at one time an applicant before the Dawes Commission for citizenship were you not? A Yes sir.
Q Well what did Mr. Dawson tell you with reference to his citizenship, as to the cost of his getting it, if anything? A Well he told me it cost him eleven or twelve hundred dollars to get him over there.
Q Where did that conversation in a dinner? A At Afton.
Q At what time? A It was in 1896, spring of '96.
BY MR. McKENNON:
Q Where were you when he told you that? A I was working on a house in Afton, building a house.
Q Whose house? A W. S. Haines.
Q Who else was present? A Haines was present.
Q Where is he? A At Afton.
Q What age was he, Dawson at that time? A I don't know, he was very old, probably 75 years old.
Q Was he not a cripple to him? A Yes sir.
Q Hardly able to get around? A No sir.
Q Was he not then a feeble minded old man? A I don't know whether he was so regarded or not.
Q You don't know what he had to do with the case, in fact, himself, do you? A No. I judged it was himself and family that cost that much for his transit, attorney's fees, etc. That is the way I took it myself.
Q You were an applicant yourself were you not? A Yes sir.
Q From? A At that time.
Q Before the Cherokee authorities? A Yes sir.
Q They rejected you? A Yes sir.
Q You were an applicant then before the Dawes Commission were you? A Yes sir, been rejected ever since.
Q Are you still an applicant? A Yes sir.
Q Still trying to get in? A Yes sir.
Q Claiming by blood? A Yes sir.
Q How long have you been living in the Cherokee Nation? A 15 years.
Q Where did you come from? A Indiana.
Q Claiming to be a Cherokee citizen? A Yes sir.
Q Indian? A Yes sir.
Q James Dawson is dead is he? A Yes sir.
Q How long has he been dead? A I think he died probably within two years after that.

TESTIMONY TAKEN ON BEHALF OF THE APPLICANTS.

F. M. DAWSON, being re-called and further examined, testified as follows:
BY MR. McKENNON:
F. M. Dawson? A Yes sir.

Q Mr. Dawson, what number of your family came to the Cherokee Nation to file and prosecute the claim of your father, Robert Dawson, and the members of his family, to Cherokee citizenship?
A My father from Texas and me to Tahlequah.
Q Tell his name? A Elbert Dawson, they all knew him by Buck.
Q When was that? A In '81 as well as I remember, or '82, I don't know which, it was in '81 or '82.
Q Did you file your claim at that time? A My brother and, yes, the application,-my brother had Joel Hayes to make it out and file it. That is my understanding.
Q Joel Hayes, who afterwards was Chief of the Cherokee Nation?
A Yes sir.
Q Before what Court was that filed? A My understanding was he was clerk of the court; Hastings can tell us what court he was clerk of.
Q He was clerk of the Court at that time? A Yes sir, of the citizenship court; that's my understanding.
Q What was done about the case at that time, if you remember? A I went back home and left my brother down there at that time, that trip.
Q Where did you then live? A I lived at Berryville, Arkansas.
Q When did you next come to the Cherokee Nation? A I believe I came back the next January, that was in September.
Q Was your brother Buck here then? A I don't think he was, I don't remember.
Q Well had he at any term of the Court or session of the Commission at any time after you first came here and filed the application until after it was decided? A No sir, I never met him any more until that case was decided.
Q You commuted the business then after that did you not? A Yes sir.
Q The case was finally determined in January 1883? A '83, yes sir, the 11th day as I remember.
Q Were you present at that session? A Yes sir.
Q Was there any decision of that case other than the one of record here? A I never heard of it if there was.
Q Was the judgment rendered in that case as recorded in the record Book of that Commission now in the custody of the Dawes Commission the only judgment that was rendered in that case so far as you know? A Yes sir, so far as I know, if there was any I never heard of it in that case.
Q You then knew of no decision against you in the case? A No sir.
Q Who was your attorney employed at the beginning? A I employed A. H. Norwood.
Q Was he a Cherokee Citizen? A Yes sir, I think so.
Q Where did he live? A At Clarmore, my understanding.
Q Was he present at any time before the Commission? A I never saw him, he never met me there befor the Commission.
Q Did you pay him any money? A Yes sir.
Q How much? A Fifty dollars.
Q Did he ever render any services? A If he ever did I never know it.
Q Well then who did you employ? A My brother employed Joel Bryant.
Q Was he a Cherokee citizen?
A That is my understanding.
Q Was he not a prominent Cherokee citizen? A Yes sir.
Q What service did he render? A Well sir, I don't know whether he rendered any or not, only he met me a time or two at Tahlequah, and he was before the Commission: whether he rendered any services of got I don't know; he was generally always at Washington City during the term down there.

Q Well what did he do about it? A I don't know, I couldn't say whether he done anything about it. That is Mr. Bryant, he was always gone.

Q What next was done about the employment of an attorney? A Why I got a letter from Joel Bryce that he was going to Washington City and for me to come down in January term and Campbell Taylor would see to my claim before the court.

Q Did he say that he had employed the services of Campbell Taylor the attorney, to attend to it in his absence? A Yes sir, in his absence.

Q Have you got that letter? A I don't think I got the letter.

Q Well what did you do then? A Why when the time come I come down on the stage to Washington here and I come over from here to Fort Gibson and I come down to see Uncle Houston Benge and stayed all night with him; it was very cold weather, and I got him to go over and submit my case to the court; I went over one day and the next day Uncle Houston Benge came over and was there morning after he come over the case was submitted.

Q Did he submit the case? A Yes sir, he told me so.

Q For you? A Yes sir.

Q Were you present? A I was present until they went to take the vote on the case and then we was drove out of their room and they had a secret session, acting on the case.

Q Was Houston Benge present with you? A Yes sir.

Q Were you in the court when he submitted it to them? A Yes sir, when he made his argument.

Q He made an argument before the Commissioners? A Yes sir.

Q Was the decision rendered on that day? A Yes sir.

Q Mr. Long after he had his argument submitted the case? A I was not but a little bit, when we were drove out of the room the first time before they went into secret session they wanted me to get my the cigars to the court and to treat in the house. After the decision was rendered I am I was to get in the cigars, and everybody come to me and told me to go and get the cigars and I done so.

Q And you took the cigars there and all? A Yes sir, everybody, the attorneys and all that was in the house, all but a big snake.

Q Did they then announce their finding in the case? A Yes sir, they told me that I was granted my citizenship right and by the Commission.

Q What did you do about it then? A Why the clerk wrote me out my certificate.

Q What same day? A That same day.

Q What arrangements did you make with Mr. Benge about his fee, and what was the amount of his fee? A There was no arrangement made until we got up there and he submitted our case; then he wanted me to pay him, he charged me fifty dollars, that was his fee.

Q What was the agreement about the matter, the manner in which that fee should be paid? A My brother in Texas was to pay it.

Q Were you to write or was he to write? A He was to write for me.

Q Did your brother in Texas ever pay his fee of fifty dollars? A Yes sir.

Q Was that all that was to be paid? A All he was to have; all he charged me.

Q You heard his speech when he gave his deposition at Fort Gibson the other day did you not? A Yes sir.

Q He there state that you paid him fifty dollars before he went over to Tahlequah, did you do that? A No sir.
Q He said that you paid him fifty dollars after he got over to Tahlequah, did you do that? A I never paid him a cent in my life.
Q After that judgment was rendred where did you go to? A I went back home to Arkansas.
Q By what route? A I went by Silow Springs and on by Spring Dale and then on to Rogers, took the railroad there and went on by Saligaw and by Decatur Springs home.
Q You then did not return to Fort Gibson with Houston Benge, as he stated? A No sir, I did not.
Q Why did you not go by way of Fort Gibson? A Well I thought maybe the others who the cheap at road and struck a hack going out by Sam Stables where I was boarding at, I could go to Silow Springs and I went by that route and then there was a hack going by Spring Dale, that was the first direct route.
Q That was the best direct route from your home was it not? A Yes sir.
Q And the cheapest? A And the cheapest route.
Q And you been coming back to Fort Gibson you would have been going directly away from home would you not? A Yes sir.
Q Your home was nearly east, due east of Tahlequah was it not? A Yes sir, little north of east, pretty near due east.
Q While Fort Gibson is almost due west is it not? A Southwest.
Q You heard his statement that you went to Fort Gibson with him, and as you said you stated to him that the way to reach that court was through Duncan and you reached this through Duncan with five hundred dollars, did you make that state ment? A I never did, I didn't have the five hundred dollars to reach him.
Q Did he while at Tahlequah inthe court room on the evening before this judgment was rendered in your favor, tell you that the court had rendered a judgment against you? A No sir.
Q And did you then say to him, you can fix that? A I had no such conversation with him.
Q Did you pay to D. W. C. Duncan, who was the Clerk of the Court any sum of money, or agree to pay him any sum of money, directly or through any other person for any services he might render you by way of influencing the court to decide in your favor? A No sir.
Q Or for any other purpose? A No sir.
Q Did you pay him any money after that through Campbell Taylor?
A Yes sir.
Q What amount? A 20 or 25 Dollars, I don't know which it was.
Q State what that money was paid for? A For a claim.
Q What do you mean by a claim? A Claim on the public domain; he had a claim up there close to me; paid him 20 or 25 dollar for his claim he had up there by me, on the Cherokee Public Domain.
Q What did Campbell Taylor have to do with your case?
A He had nothing to do with it.
Q Did you agree to pay him any money for his services as an attorney? A No sir.
Q Did he perform any services in that case foryou as a representative of Mr. Bryant? A No sir.
Q Did you pay him any money? A Yes sir.
Q On what account? A He came to me and said he had the claim against me for fool tryant and wanted me to pay him the money and I done so.
Q What amount? A Hundred Dollars.

Q You [illegible] paid to [illegible] I [illegible], Joel Bryant. He [illegible] it for Joel Bryant.
Q Did you pay it money do Joel Bryant, what you know of? A Joel Bryant [illegible] he didn't, and [illegible] again, paid Joel Bryant two hundred dollars we owed him for his fee; E. Duncan paid Joel Bryant; after that, we [illegible] got two notes from Campbell Taylor, one for twenty dollars or twenty-five dollars; that in all we ever got back from him.
Q How did you get that 75 dollars out of Mr. Duncan? A I kept after him and dunning him to pay that money back to me, he rendered no services to [illegible] all and the money was to go to Joel Bryant, and I finally worked out the twenty or twenty-five dollars, that is all I ever did get back.
Q The judgment that he paid to Duncan? A Yes sir.
Q Was this money paid to him, this one hundred dollars, while you were there at the time the judge was rendering, or was it sent to his office later? A I think it was paid to him, as well as I remember about it.
Q You think it was paid then? A Yes sir, that's my recollection now.
Q Did you send him one hundred dollars after you went home, subsequent to the rendering of that judgment, after it was rendered I mean, directing him, of any fifty dollars of that or any other sum to D. W. C. Duncan? A No sir.
Q Did you send him a check one hundred dollars with such direction? A No sir.
Q Mr. Bryan, do you know about what it cost your family in all to obtain their rights with the Cherokee Nation under this judgment? A Pratt [illegible] it I do.
Q Tell about what was it A About five hundred dollars, pretty near 500 dollars. That is what I considered, I was beat out of some of [illegible] money, that I was beat out of and expenses.
Q Now take a statement of what that money was paid for and how, so far as you remember, itemize that now? Tell the first fifty dollars Norwood got; the next fifty dollars Norwood got; that was the attorneys fees; I speak of the attorneys fees now; the next money was the hundred that Campbell Taylor got; the next attorneys fees was Bryant's one hundred dollars.
Q Was that all the attorney's fees? A I think it was, no, wait, I paid Ross 15 dollars for taking Baker's deposition.

Q Which Ross was that? A The old Chief, Will Ross I think was his name, William P. Ross.
Q He then, this Chief William P. Ross for taking the deposition of Dr. Baker charged you fifteen dollars? A Yes sir.
Q Do you know of that that he acted as your attorney and examined him? A Yes sir.
He examined him before the Commission, took his statements.
Q What other attorneys were there present? A None of them was present.
Q Well now, go on? A For the expenses of taking Dr. Baker and he was a Doctor, as well as I remember he charged me 5 dollars a day and I hope him and his expenses down there; we come through in a hack from Perryville, Arkansas, to Muskogee, and our board and expenses and all I think was about 75 dollars that trip; something near it. Maybe a little over that.
Q Did you pay him a per diem? A I paid him five dollars a day for his time and then his expenses.

Q Well? A Well I made several trips out here at different times, to Tahlequah before the Commission, and back, three or four trips as well as I remember now, cost, I 30 or 25 dollars each trip. me I remember about it.

Q Do you recall how many trips a little from the one in which you brought Dr. Baker? A No, I think there was probably three trips I think it was, maybe more, did then I made one trip to Claremore to see A. M. Norwood.

Q What did that trip cost you? A I don't remember what it cost; I went in a wagon down there.

Q You went through and employed Benge, went by railroad: what did that trip cost you? A I don't remember what it was, whether it was 21 dollars or 31 dollars, one or the other, I don't remember which it was: Joe Dawson, my brother give me the money, it was either 21 or 31 dollars.

Q Now then is there any other expense that you know of that was paid by you or your family, any members of your family, other than that you have mentioned? A I don't remember any other now; I can't call to my memory right now.

Q What was the condition of the members of your family generally now, financially, at that time? A Well we were considered poor people; I don't know, we didn't have much money, scarcely any.

Q Was there any one of them that was better off than the others, but if so, which one? A I would say Albert Dawson was better off than the others, Buck Dawson.

Q Do you know how much Buck Dawson paid of these expenses? A I don't think he paid, he paid the Benge debt and the Bryant debt, I think it was.

Q That is one hundred and fifty dollars? A Yes sir, then he came up on one trip and taken care of Idence with Joel Bryant when Joel Bryant was Clerk of the Court before this Tenes Court, I don't know what it cost sir.

Q Came up here and went back now is there? A Yes, came up he went back to Texas. Filed his claim and took some testimony and went back to Texas and I didn't see him.

Q Did that testimony include Dr. Baker's testimony? A No sir.

Q You know how many witnesses were examined then? A I only know what he told me.

Q How many? A Four witnesses.

Q You know whether they were residence of the Cherokee Nation or not? A He told me they was.

Q Were you present on that trip in which he came there and took that testimony? A No, I met him there and then I went back home and left him at Tahlequah.

Q He had taken the testimony before you left him or after words? A He taken it afterwards: that was my understanding.

Q Did Buck furnish only the one hundred fifty dollars that you now remember? A I think it was.

Q And the expense of taking these witness up there A Yes sir.

Q Who else furnished money now of the members of your family? A My brothers and father lived down in Perryville, me and my brother-in-law, Blassingame, we all chipped in together a few dollars from each family.

Q You heard the statement of C. C. Brought that in June 1963 you told him that it had cost you 700 dollars, did you make any such statement to him? A I never did.

Q And that you paid one witness 300 dollars? A I never made any such statement.

Q Did you pay any witness any high fee? A No sir, I paid Dr. Baker for his time; he said his time was worth 5 dollars a day, and I paid it.
Q Did you pay any other witness any more than that? A No sir, he was the only witness I had on down there in my cause.
Q Was the Roland Dawson case? A Yes sir.
Q We have that you told him this in your house there on your place, did you have any house there in June 1883? A I was not living on my farm at that time.
Q Did you have any farm? A Didn't have any.
Q Then did you build a house there? A I built a house on the farm I live in now by Mr. Trought, I moved on the farm the last of July, 1883, and I camped in my wagon.
Q What did you do? A I went to the timber and cut poles and had them cut and made me a log cabin on the place he a spring near Mr. Trought.
Q About what time did you finish that house? A I t was in September.
Q How long after you finished that house until you brought your family out? A I finished it up and got it covered and the floor in it and I went back to Eureka Springs after my wife.
Q What family did you have then? A I had my wife and she had one child; but my oldest children, by my first wife were with me in the Territory, camping with me; three little boys and one girl here with me, and our girl back in Arkansas.
Q Are you and C.C. Brought on good terms? A No sir.
Q What has been the character of the trouble between you? A Trouble over our places first started it.
Q When did it begin? A As soon as I got back from Arkansas he and several tried crowding me out to the edge of farm away from me, and we have been in a racket ever since.
Q Then his statement that you were on friendly terms, is it correct or not? A No sir, it aint correct.
Q He said you had never been friendly as neighbors then since you first came back from Arkansas and settled in the Territory? A I don't remember ever being in his house, I never was in his house.
Q Have you had law suits with each other? A Yes sir.
Q How many? A I don't know that we had any particular law suits, but I have had law suits and he has been a witness against me.
Q That was your last trouble with him, when I mean? A Along last fall.
Q That was when your boys had a little racket and he had your boy arrested? A Yes sir.
Q What was the age of those boys? A Eleven years old.
Q He had him arrested down at Vinita? A Yes sir, had him arrested and carried before the Commissioner at Vinita.
Q He was discharged on account of his age? A Yes sir.
Q Polk Dawson is dead is he? A Yes sir.
Q How long has he been dead? A Three years, little over three years.
Q And James Dawson is dead? A Yes sir.
Q Is your father, Robert Dawson living? A No sir.
Q When did James Dawson die? A I don't remember, been dead several years, I don't remember how long, 6 or 7 years, I couldn't state.
Q When did your father, Robert Dawson die? A I believe it was in '87 or '8 I remember now, I won't be positive.
Q Had all these moved to the Cherokee Nation before their death?
A No sir, father died in Arkansas.

Q Those that lived here in the Nation they lived here in the Nation but went back to Arkansas and died there? A Well the rest of my folks all lived here. That was James Dawson and Buck Dawson.
Q Robert Dawson, your father, never did move to the Territory, did he? A No.
Q Did you hear the statement of the witness Beavert this morning, that about the time of hearing of the James Dawson case, at a negro church at night James Dawson come down there with someone else he introduced to him, and he loaned him ten dollars; did you hear that statement this morning? A I heard the statement, yes sir, I heard it.
Q He says that man James Dawson was 35 or 40 years old; was there any James Dawson living belonging to your family at that time of any such age? A No sir.
Q How many James Dawson's were there belonging to your family? A There was my uncle James Dawson and a brother James Dawson, the Doctor here.
Q How old was your brother James Dawson then? A He was a tolerable old man, I don't know his age.
Q About what age? A Must have been 60.
Q Between 60 and 70? A Yes sir.
Q What was the age of your brother James? A At that time?
Q Yes sir, in '84? A In '84 I suppose he was about 18, something like that.
Q Had he anything to do with the James Dawson case? A No sir.
Q Was he present at the time that the James Dawson case was under consideration? A No sir.
Q Was James Dawson, your uncle, James Dawson, present at any time during the consideration of his case? A No sir.
Q He never was present? A No sir, if Uncle Jim Dawson was ever in Tahlequah I never knew it.
Q Who conducted the prosecution of the James Dawson case before the Cherokee Citizenship Commission, who conducted it? A The James Dawson case?
Q Yes sir? A I think James Low and Bill Jackson and Campbell Taylor.
Q Were you acting with them? A Yes sir.
Q They employed Campbell Taylor? A Yes sir.
Q Then there was no James Dawson present during that session of the Commission? No sir.
Q What was the condition of James Dawson's health at that time? A It was pretty poorly; was not good.
Q Was he at that time able to get about and attend to business? A I don't think he was.
Q Was he not a very feeble minded old man at that time? A Yes sir.
Q Regarded as rather a silly man was he not? A Yes sir.
Q Did he attend to any kind of business of the family at that time? A No sir, didn't.
Q What was his financial condition? A Pretty bad.
Q Did he have any money? A No sir.
Q Did he have any property? A None hardly at all; horse probably, or a cow or two, something that way.
Q Was that about all the property he had? A Yes sir.
Q How about the other members of his family that were admitted at that time; what was their financial condition? A They were in poor circumstances.
Q Now then after these judgments were rendered what members of your family removed to the Territory, Cherokee Nation, I will say? A Robert Dawson and family and James Dawson and family, that is, them and their children.

Q Robert Dawson didn't remove here? A No, I said except Robert Dawson.
Q Did all the members of Robert Dawson family move here? A Yes sir.
Q Except himself? A Yes sir.
Q And all the members of James Dawson family? A No, not all the members, Melvina Low I don't think ever lived here.
Q She has never moved here? A No sir.
Q Well all the members of your family, your father's family included in that judgment of the Committee, rendered January 11th, 1883? A All but one.
Q That was the name of that one? A Edna.
Q A daughter? A Daughter of Robert Dawson.
Q Your sister? A Yes sir.
Q Was she then of age or was she a minor? A I think she was a minor, as well as I can remember.
Q Was she afterwards admitted to citizenship in the Cherokee Nation? A She was.
Q By a Commission or by the Cherokee Council? A She was first admitted by the Spears Court, her and two of my neices.
Q What were their names? A Katie Vernon and Verna Fishback.
Q What became of that? A The certificate papers they got was lost, and they went before the Council in 1894 and they was readmitted back by the act of Council.
Q That was in 1894, the Cherokee Council admitted, re-admitted as they called it, the three above named? A Yes sir. Mary and Verna Fishback and Katie Vernor, they have now the same names now except Vernor, it is not, Tob Robinson married the widow, a neice of mine.
Q Now then was there any other consideration of the Dawson case by the Cherokee authorities at any time aside from these two judgments in '83 and '84 admitting the two families of Robert and James Dawson, and the act of Council of '94 admitting these three whom you have just named? A Yes sir.
Q When? A My two of my sons was placed on the roll by the act of Council in 1892 I think it was; left off of the rolls in per capita payment and they was placed on the rolls I think, and Sam Nightingh member of Council, got their draft or checks for the money.
Q Have you got that copy of the act of Council admitting them? A Yes sir.
Q Where is it? A (Produces papers.)

BY Mr. McKENNON: We offer in evidence an act of the Cherokee National Council making an appropriation of 20,000 dollars belonging to the general fund for the payment of certain persons therein named a per capita payment, as per amount set opposite their respective names, provided that the Principal Chief shall draw warrants for such amounts, and further provided "That the names of the persons appearing on the per capita rolls in this act shall be placed (on) the authenticated roll of 1880 by the Principal Chief."
This act was approved December 31, 1891.
Approval signed by Stephen Fanne, Assistant Acting Principal-
In this list a pear the name of Willia. H. Dawson for payment of $13.70, and of Marion Dawson, for a like sum. Are these not the names of two of your sons? A Yes sir.

(This paper above introduced, is filed and made a part of the records in this case.

Q Was there any other action of the Cherokee authorities relating to members of your family? A Yes sir.

Q When? A In 1894.
Q What was that? A Allowing them their Strip money.
Q Have you a copy of that? A I think I have. (Produces papers.)

BY MR. McKENNON: We offer in evidence a duly certified copy of an act of the Cherokee National Council approved November 24, 1894, signed C. J. Harris, Principal Chief, Senate Bill No. 19, appropriating a sufficient amount of money to make payment per capita of what is known as the strip money to certain persons named therein. Among them are members of the Riddingers family, as follows: Jane, Elbert, Henry, James Ross Lorrie, Pearl, Anna, Lyttle, Minnie and Clifford; this act mentions these persons as Cherokees by blood, and whose names had been left off the pay roll approved May 3, 1894, providing a payment to each one of these a sum of $265.70.

Q Were these members of the Robert Dawson family? A Yes sir.
Q Which one of the members of the family? A Jane.
Q This is Jane who was admitted by the judgment admitting the Robert Dawson family? A Yes sir.
Q And her children? A Her children, was not admitted, she was admitted.
Q I mean this mentions her children here? A Yes, that mentions her children.

(The paper last above introduced is filed and made a part of the record in this case.)

Q Do you know whether the payment of the Cherokee Strip money was to Cherokee citizens by blood only or not? A Yes sir.
Q Was there any other act of the Cherokee authorities passing upon the citizenship of members of your family? A Why the Douthett children, my brother's grand-children. Two grand-children of E. Dawson.
Q When was that? A That, I think it was in 1884.
Q Have you got a copy of that act? A No, the record is here.
Q Was that by the Spears Court? A Yes sir, by the Spears Court.

BY MR. McKENNON: We now offere in evidence a judgment of the Cherokee Commission on Citizenship, 1880 and 1884, found on Page 180, case No. 181, dated September 8th, 1884, signed by Ell Spears, President, John Lee and Andrew Young, Commissioners, admitting to citizenship Lula Douthett and Dallas Douthett as Cherokees by blood.

Q These now are the Douthetts to which you refer, are they? Yes sir.

BY MR. McKENNON: Attention is called to the fact that the names of the Commissioners are all signed in the same hand-writing as the record of the judgment.

The said judgment record above introduced, and found on page 180, No. 181, record of 1880 to 1884, is as follows:

"Office of Commission on Citizenship,
Tahlequah, Cherokee Nation, September 18th, 1883.

E. Dawson, for his grand-children,
No. 181.
Lula Douthitt,
Dallas Douthitt,
vs
The Cherokee Nation.

C. H. Taylor,
Atty for Claim.

Petition filed September 14th, 1883.

Case submitted by claimants Sept 14th, 1883.
Case submitted by Solicitor, Sept. 19th, 1883.
Continued by Petitioner Jan 22 1884 to September Court 1884.
Re-submitted September 2nd 1884, by Attys Taylor and Benvert

Submitted by defense Sept 9 1884.

And now on this the 15th day of September 1884 comes this case for final hearing and all the evidence in the case having been carefully read, and considered by the Commission on Citizenship it has been decided by the Commission that the above named Lula Daudnett and Dallas Daudnett are Cherokees by blood, and that they are entitled to all the rights and privileges of Cherokee citizenship in the Cherokee Nation and that they should be, and are hereby admitted to the full and complete enjoyment of the same in all respects, as native born Cherokees.

Ell Spears, Pres.
John Lee,
John L. Adair, Andrew Young,
Clk Com'n. Commission on Citizenship."

Q Now were there any other actions of the Cherokee authorities of like character relating to the members of your family?
A I don't remember of any others.
Q I will ask you if when the Cherokee authorities were making the roll of 1896, in compliance with the request of the Dawes Commission for a roll to be prepared by them for the use of the said Commission, the question of the citizenship of the members of your family was not then raised and an investigation had in regard to it? A Before the Dawes Commission?
Q No, before the Cherokee Commission making the roll of 1896, of which John T. Gunter was a member? A Yes sir, yes. I had forgot it, but since you have named it there was some investigation of them at that time; this is what I understood.
Q That roll shows that the members of your family were duly enrolled by the Commission? A Yes.

Q Have you and the other members of your family since your removal to the Territory in 1883 and immediately following been recognized as Cherokee citizens by blood? A Yes sir.

Q Have you been exercising and enjoying all the rights of Cherokee citizens by blood since that time? A Yes sir.
Q You and all the members of your family are living in the Cherokee Nation? A Yes sir.
Q You have all drawn Cherokee moneys whenever payments were made? A Yes sir.
Q And have you all male members been voting at the Cherokee elections or in the Cherokee elections? A Yes sir, I was one of the judges of the elections that was held voting on the treaty.
Q What treaty? A The treaty bill that was sent back here for the Cherokees to vote on; I was one of the judges at Afton.
Q I.. What year was that? A I believe it was last spring some time, last April.

Q Have any of you held any offices in the Cherokee Nation? A Yes sir.
Q What offices have the members of your family filled? A Deputy Clerk, under Pete Hastings, when he was clerk of Delaware District, I was a candidate once for Council in the Downing party.

Q Can any office of deputy clerk be held by any one else except a recognized citizen? A Only by a citizen, yes sir.
Q Is that all? A (No reply).
Q How the children of members of your family attended the Cherokee schools, and been educated in Cherokee schools? A Yes, sir.
Q Have the members of your family been all the time subject to the jurisdiction of the courts of the Cherokee Nation? A Yes sir.
Q Have they been tried for any offences against the laws? Yes sir.
Q And have they instituted their civil suits in the courts of the Cherokee Nation? A Yes sir.
Q And had suits instituted against them in such courts? A Yes sir.
Q Some of these cases have gone to the Supreme Court of the Cherokee Nation? A Yes sir.
Q And were passed upon by that tribunal? A Yes sir.
Q Is there anything else? A Nothing now; I am sick this evening; I have got the head-ache so bad I can't hardly see.

BY MR. HUTCHINGS:

Q How old was your father Robert Dawson when he died? A I don't know, I couldn't answer that.
Q He was a very old man? A Yes sir, he was getting tolerably old.
Q Could you tell how much older he was than you? A No I don't know.
Q Mr. James Dawson in 1824 must have been a very old man wasn't he? A Well he was old and he was feeble.
Q Well you stated that he had been silly: was he naturally that way? A He used to live in Texas; I didn't know him until after he got to the Territory.
Q I say he had gotten so old, that was the occasion of that? A I suppose so, the oldest one of these children was Mrs. Betty Petty, that's my understanding.
Q And the oldest boy was John Dawson? A We always called him Jack.
Q Jack Dawson he was the oldest? A Yes sir.
Q Sam was the youngest? A Sam Riley.
Q He was the youngest one of the crowd? A Yes sir.
Q Your father lived four or five years after he and you were admitted to citizenship? A Yes sir, something about that, it was in 1843, I think he died in 1848, I wont be positive; that is as near as I remember now. I have got a headache so bad that I can't remember anything.
Q He nor none of the older members of the family were ever present at any of these trials of citizenship? A No sir, not a one of them was.
Q Not a one of them was ever called upon to testify as to the blood of their mother, who she was or anything about it? A I don't think they was.
Q Your claim of kinship was through Captain John Rogers and that your grandmother was the half sister of Big Joe Vann, wasn't it? A I don't know, I couldn't answer the question.
Q You were there when they took the testimony? A I was there when Dr. Baker's testimony was taken, that was about 16 years ago.
Q And nobody kin to the Rogers and Vanns was ever called to testify in the case? A Not as I know of.
Q They were very well known Cherokee families in the country? A I suppose so, I don't know.
Q And yet nobody on any side of the family connected with it was ever called to testify A Not that I know of, I don't know what my brother done, he taken some of the evidence at Tahlequah when I was not there; he first filed his claim.

Q You had spoken to Mr. Baker about the testifying before you brought your case didn't you? A No sir.
Q Must have been a short time afterwards? A It was a short time afterwards, I went back after him and it was too late and I fetched him the next time.
Q You had talked to your brother about what you could prove by Dr. Baker? A I told him I thought Dr. Baker, I thought he knew about our folks.
Q You had told him in a general way you expected to use Dr. Baker as a witness? A Yes sir.
Q You went off, come to Arkansas and left your brother at Tahlequah after you told him that fact? A Yes sir.
Q You didn't see your brother any more until after you were admitted? A No sir.
Q You and he however had trips back and forth to Tahlequah and here at different times, but you didn't happen to get together? A No. I never met him any more and I don't know that he was there until after we were admitted.
Q But you were there and brought Dr. Baker over? A Yes sir.
Q And took his testimoney a year or such a matter befor ever you were admitted? A I think so well as I remember, yes sir.
Q Now the way you came to get Campbell Taylor was on the recommendation of old man Bryant? A I didn't get him, didn't use him.
Q The way he came into your case? A The way he claimed to come in.
Q He did more in your case than Bryant did? A Campbell didn't do anything.
Q What did Bryant do? A I think he held my brother take evidence my brother employed him.
Q How did you happen to be sending money by Campbell to Mr. Duncan? A I never sent him any money.
Q Then when he, Mr. Duncan, states that Campbell delivered the money as Campbell said he did, both were wrong? A Oh no, you are mistaken, Mr. Duncan got 20 or 25 dollars, which he stated, from Campbell Taylor, for me.
Q How did you happen to give it to Campbell? A I give the money to Campbell to give to Joel Bryant, and he wouldn't do it, and I tried to get the money back from him, and I finally worked the 20 or 25 dollars he gave to Duncan.
Q Then you didn't tell Duncan as he testified that you sent 20 or 25 dollars by Campbell Taylor? A Campbell Taylor agreed to pay Duncan 20 or 25 dollars for me of the money I give him to give to Joel Bryant.
Q The family kept Campbell Taylor employed though as their attorney after that? A In the James Dawson case I think so.
Q E. Dawson, you remember, had him for his grand-children? A That is my understanding.
Q And your uncle James Dawson had him in the case of his children? A Uncle James had nothing to do with it; James Low and Bill Jackson got him; that was my understanding of who employed him.
Q The record here shows that the case was originally instituted by C. E. Taylor and was finally submitted by him September 2nd, 1884, in the James Dawson case? A I don't deny him being in that case.
Q You say he was employed in the E. Dawson case? A I don't know who was in the Dauthett children's case.
Q The record shows that Campbell Taylor instituted the case, and it was finally submitted by him, and Mr. Reavert, who testified a while ago? A That was in the James Dawson case, wasn't it?
Q That was in the E. Dawson grand children? A Elbert?
Q No, in the Dauthett children's case? A Oh yes.

Q He was likewise attorney in the Mary Dawson case was he, and before the Adair court, the 4th of October, 1887, in the case of James K. P. Dawson? A I don't know anything about that.
Q And the case likewise of Riley Dawson? A I don't know anything about those.
Q They are relations of yours? A Well I couldn't say.
Q James K. P. Dawson proves to be a son of Riley Dawson? A Well if he is he is my connection then. There are so many Dawsons I don't know them all.
Q You know Andrew J. Dawson? A Yes sir.
Q The Dawsons have so many children their brothers didn't hardly know them did they? A That's it, I don't know them.
Q Well then you don't know who Andrew J. Dawson is? A No sir, I don't know.
Q He refers in his application as being a cousin of E. Dawson, and yourself, who were admitted to citizenship by the Tehee Court? A He may be, I don't know nothing about it.
Q He resided I believe, at that time at Nevada, Missouri? A I don't know anything about the people.
Q Old Aunt Baker was an old and paralyzed man at the time he testified wasn't he? A Getting old, he was not paralyzed.
Q Then the statement made that the reason he couldn't write his name and had to make his mark, because he was paralyzed, in the testimony isn't that true? A He didn't have good use of his fingers.
Q Then he was not paralyzed? A No, I brought him over there in a hack from Berryville, Arkansas.
Q Well I say he was a very old man? A Yes, getting old.
Q Now didn't you come to this place up there joining Brought's and work on it some time before you brought your family? A No, I brought my family with me, except my wife.
Q And you subsequently built a log house on it? A Yes sir.
Q And went back and got your wife and move them to the log house? A Yes sir, went to Eureka and got my wife.
Q You never saw your grandfather at all? A Sam Dawson, yes sir, I saw him.
Q You remember do you of being with him much of any at all? A I was in Texas in time of the war, with my uncle Riley Dawson, and he was there.
Q In '60 sometime? A '62, I reckon, or '63. Somewhere along there, it was in time of the war.
Q How old a man was he at that time? A Pretty old man.
Q You never saw your grandmother, she died before she came?
A Yes sir, I never saw her at all.
Q Who first started the citizenship matter, your brother in Texas or you? A Why it was me, and my brother together.
Q I mean who first conceived the idea? A I first commenced talking about it.
Q And sent down for him? A I was in Texas with him and then in Arkansas; I went backwards and forwards a time or two after the war.
Q About that time nearly everybody in Arkansas were trying to get some claim of kinship to Cherokees? A No sir, not at that time.
Q They were getting pretty thick in there in 1880? A Well in 83 and '4 and '5 I think.
Q Been more excitement over there to get yourselves on the rolls?
A Just got to be everybody; but it wasn't at the time we were admitted there was not much stir about the rights here.
Q Well the Watts had been admitted before that? A I suppose they did; there was not much excitement over the Watts claim at that time.

BY MR. HASTINGS:
Q You did locate and board with Sam Shables when you first came to Tahlequah in '81? A I think I did.
Q Your brother Frank Dawson stayed there also? A Yes sir.
Q Sam Shables lived in the north end of town, old Ferrell? A Yes sir, old German, lived in the lower part of town.
Q Did you ever hear the names of any other witnesses which you stated perhaps testified in your case? A I have heard them but I have forget them.
Q You don't recollect any name now? A I dont remember that now sir.
Q In the Irene House case and Joshua Barber case, in which you testified before the Commission, when you were making search for this testimony you couldn't find any other testimony from that of record except the Dr. Baker testimony, could you? A That's all we could find; no we didn't find the testimony, we got a copy.
Q Well it must have been a copy of the original, the certificate shows that? A I don't know; House got a copy of what claimed to be the affidavit of Baker and he told me to give it to him; that is all I know about it.
Q Well the certificate there does not bear my certificate does it? A I don't know about that, I am no scholar.
Q Well you didn t get the testimony of any other witnesses except that of Dr. Baker; you couldn't find any other over there of record? A I didn't hunt for any; House hunted for them.
Q None of you have ever been able to dfind any other? A No. Not even find our petition.
Q Samuel P. Dawson applied to what is known as the Adair Court, didn't he? A I don't remember now.
Q He was an uncle of yours wasn't he? A Yes sir, claimed to be.
Q The father of these two parties who testified here this morning? A Well I don't know, they claimed to be, I never met them to know them.
Q He was rejected by the Adair Court, or Hayes Court? A I don't know whether he filed his petition.
Q Did you testify in his case? A I don't remember; I might have dont it.

Q Didn't you testify in the Andrew J. Dawson case before what is known as the Hayes Court? A I don't recollect, if I did I don't remember.
Q Did you testify in the Riley Dawson case? A No sir, now that I remember.
Q Didn't you know of his being rejected by that court? A I don't remember, sir.
Q You know that the Cherokee Council never authenticated the roll of 1896, don't you? A No sir, I don't know it; I didn't know this was done until I went to Tahlequah after some papers and came back and they told me about it.
Q You never found out that C. H. Taylor was a big rascal up until the present time have you? A [No response]
Q The records here show that he has been in the constant employment of your family from that date up to this time? A Why it shows here from the record; I would rather be excused for my part of it.
Q You were the man that had most to do with it? A I never employed him, I can say that.
Q You are the man that had most to do with the records? A In my case and in my father's case.
Q Didn't you testify for your uncle Jim Dawson? A Yes sir.
Q Wasn't he attorney for him? A Yes sir.

Q Wasn't he employed by Jim Dawson after you got your citizenship?
A Why not buy the grand-children.
Q Jim Dawson's petition was filed in September 1883, after yours?
A Yes sir.
Q C. H. Taylor, attorney of record, filed his petition? A He might have filed it for all I know.
Q Well you hadn't at that time fallen out with C. H. Taylor had you? A Why no, we never did have any trouble, only over that money, he never would give it back to me or give it to Bryant.
Q You never discovered that he was much a bad man until after your judgment was rendered? A I know he was not of good character.
Q Are you and Drought, this man who testified for the Cherokee Nation, on speaking terms? A Hardly speak.
Q Does he refuse to speak to you? A So still as he does.
Q Do you refuse to speak to him? A Yes sir.
Q Have you been speaking to him for the last two or three months? A I have not spoke to him until I met him here at the hotel the other day.
Q First time you spoke to him since he had the boy arrested? A Yes sir.
Q When did he have the boy arrested? A Along in September or October, September I think.
Q When did Dr. Baker die? A I don't remember.
Q You don't remember how much older your father was than you? A No, I don't know.
Q What is your age? A I will be 60 in May.
Q Then you were born in '43? A Yes sir, '42 according to the record.
Q Was your father as much as 25 years old when you were born? A I couldn't say.
Q What was your best judgment? A I suppose he was 30 or 35 years old. My understanding he married young.
Q Can't you give any better idea than 4 or 5 years of your father's age? A I say 35.
Q Your father was born say, 25 from 42 would have made him be born in 1817; now had your father any older brothers or sisters? A I think Jack Dawson was the oldest of the family, no, Betty, the girl, was the oldest and Jack next, and then my father as well as I remember about it.
Q There were two girls older? A No, one of the girls I never saw.
Q Then you think there are only 3 older than your father? A Yes, that's my understanding of the family.
Q Dr. Baker gives his age 73 in '83, which would make him be born in '89, now he states that when he was 15 or 16 years old, which added to 1809, will make 1824, that your grandmother Anna Priett, was a school girl; whereas from your testimony and that of the family history introduced here shows that your grandmother Anna Priett was the mother of seven children, the youngest being born in 1823, how do you reconcile that? A I don't remember about the statement of Dr. Baker; I don't know that he made such statement as that, I don't remember about it.
Q And if he did you don't know how to reconcile it? A (No response.)

Q Did you talk to any of the members of the Court that admitted you? A No sir, I was not acquainted with them.
Q You know whether they were old or young men? A They were old men like; Steve Tahee, I got acquainted with him afterwards, and Tom Thompson, at the Council you know I was there a good deal.

Q That was the fellow that was on the court? A Yes sir.
Q He was afterwards assistant Chief of the Cherokee Nation?
A I think so.
Q Steven Tehee. That's the man you had reference to? A Yes sir, I think it was, I just knew the name I had no acquaintance with him at all.
Q D. F. C. Duncan boarded when you were down there at the National Hotel? A I think he did, as well as I remember now when we were admitted.
Q Don't you know he did? A I think he did, as well as I remember.
Q Were not you over there in his room? A I think I was.
Q You remember when it was that you brought Dr. Baker down there to get a statement before the Court? A It was in January, Tex., was in January term of 1868 I believe, it was, as well as I remember about it.
Q Well you didn't take any more testimony after Dr. Baker testified?
A No sir, I didn't.
Q But your case was not submitted or passed upon for a year?
A I think it was; yes sir, as well as I remember.
Q I would like to ask you when the Blackings family came to the Cherokee Nation? A Alex Bulaningame came with us when we moved here, and went back and got his family and moved that fall.
Q Did he move his family here that same fall? A Yes sir.
Q What year was that? A In the fall of '87 I believe it was, as well as I remember now.
Q When did the Bulaingame family come? A I think the girl and the old lady came in the next spring.
Q How long did they remain that time? A The old lady stayed here, but the girl went back and in a short time her and her husband came back.
Q Did she come back still after her marriage? A No, she was married when she came first.
Q The last time? A She was married I think, she was married when she came out.
Q How long has August Bulaingame been a permanent and continuous resident of the Cherokee Nation? A I think he came there in the fall of 1884 or 1885, I must say which.
Q How long has Robert Pierce been a continuous resident of the Cherokee Nation? A Ever since he was admitted.
Q When was that? A '87.
Q How long has Martin L. Patterson? A Ever since he married his wife, and he was living here before he married his wife.
Q Who is Arizona Alsup? A That is my daughter.
Q Did you bring her with you? A No not when I moved.
Q When did she come? A She came out in a year or two after I moved here.
Q Was she married when you moved here? A No sir, she was not married.
Q She was not married when you were admitted? A No sir, she was a child.
Q When did Jim Lowe come to this country? A With his grandfather, James Dawson.
Q What was his father's name? A Melvina Dawson.
Q You know Jim Lowe's age? A No sir.
Q Don't know how old he was in '85? A No sir.
Q Was he grown? A I think he was.
Q Married? A No sir.
Q Married in this country? A Yes sir
Q Who is James H. Rawson? A Married one of the Jackson girls.

Q When did they come to this country? A Right away after they was admitted.
Q In what year? A I think the winter of '94, I think it was, during the winter of '94.
Q You know Gideon Graham? A Yes sir.
Q Who is his mother? A Missouri Ann Graham, formerly Missouri Ann Dawson.
Q Did he come from Texas to Arkansas? A Come from Texas.
Q Did you know them in Texas? A I knew the girl.
Q You never knew them until they came to this country? A I never knew Gid.
Q When did you see him here? A I think they came here in the fall or winter of 1894 or '95.
Q He was married then? A I think he was.
Q Who is his wife? A I think he was, I don't know.
Q Did he have any children when you first saw him? A He came to my house and I never saw his family for--I don't know, for several years.
Q You understood he had a wife? A Yes sir.

BY MR. WISE TON:

Q Did you come to say '94 or '95? A '94.
Q Did you see Gid Graham in '94? A '94, let me study, no '95.

BY MR. HASTINGS:

Q Did you see him in '95, are you positive on that proposition? A I think so.
Q Will you swear it? A No sir, I won't positive swear it, but I think it was, as I remember now it was; I couldn't say positive.
Q All the people Mr. Dawson that have been admitted to citizenship by courts of competent jurisdiction unless they were de-citizened by courts of competent jurisdiction, enjoyed the same privileges that you have narrated here about going in and out and being tried in the Courts? A Yes sir.

Q All that sort of thing that you have been telling here in your direct examination? A Ask me the question again.
Q I say all people who were admitted here by courts of competent jurisdiction, until they were de-citizened by courts of like jurisdiction, enjoyed the same privileges that you did? A So far as I know they was.
Q They all owned money and all tried in the courts as long as we had tribunal courts, were they not? A Yes sir, so far as I know.
Q There was no special privilege granted to you in preference to anybody else? A None but recognized citizens of the Cherokee Nation.
Q Well you had been recognized since you were admitted? A Yes sir, I enjoyed the same privileges of native born Cherokees.
Q Well I see there is nothing special about it? A No, I don't know as there is.
Q You got acquainted with Mr. Duncan while you were up there during the hearing? A Yes sir, I was acquainted with him, knew him, had seen him.
Q Mr. Bill Rose did the examination of Dr. Baker? A Yes sir.
Q Did you file any other paper before the Court other than your petition and then Dr. Baker's statement? A I never filed any petition there at all.
Q Any statement? A I don't remember any.
Q Well you never had occasion to file any papers before Mr. Duncan? A I got him to do some writing for me.
Q What? A Letters to my brother in Texas.
Q Took Duncan? A Yes sir, to write.

Q That? A Yes sir, Robt Dawson.
Q Well is that all he did for you? A I don't remember any about it.
Q Why didn't you get your attorney to do that lobby writing? A There was not any there.
Q Taylor Nor Bangs was not there? A No sir.
Q That is what you said the $6 or $5 dollars for, was writing this letter back to your brother? A I paid him for that claim.
Q When did you pay him? A I think I paid it, I don't exactly know, Jesse Taylor paid it a year or two after I moved out here and [illegible] I think I paid it, I don't remember.
Q [illegible] A I couldn't say where.
Q Was he present when you paid him? A No sir, but that money was sent to, I think Carr Taylor said he paid it.
Q [illegible] Carr Taylor some money? A I sent some money to him for Jesse Taylor.
Q You knew Neal Bryant's address didn't you? A No, I don't know that I did, but I didn't send Carr Taylor any money, I gave it to him.
Q How much did you give him? A One hundred dollars.
Q When? A Right at that time; he claimed it from me as soon as we got our papers, he came onto me and thanked me for Bryant.
Q You never paid him any thing after that? A No sir.
Q Did you ever see Bryant after that? A Yes sir
Q How long after that? A I don't know, a year or two afterwards. a year I believe, my brother wrote, I wrote to my brother about paying Carr Taylor money and he went onto my brother about it and he never paid him until we moved out to this country.
Q After all that you got him to attend to your uncle Sir Dawson's and the other relatives cases? A The other parties did.

BY MR. McKENNON:

Applicants object to all that part of the witness' evidence in response to interrogatories by representatives of the Cherokee Nation which relates to the character of the evidence upon which the judgments admitting [illegible] of the James and Thomas Dawson families were rendered and to the history of the members of the Dawson family, because the same is immaterial, incompetent and irrelevant.

BY MR. McKENNON:

Q One question I omitted to ask you Mr. Dawson, as to the Court at the time the judgment admitting Robert Dawson's family was rendered, who of the judges were present on that day? A They was all three of them, Wolfe, Tehee and Thompson.
Q Are you positive of that fact? A Yes sir.
Q You do not know this Andrew Dawson family who applied to the Dawes Commission for Cherokee citizenship, and who stated what they are cousins of some members of your family? A Andrew?
Q Andrew J. Dawson, who claims to be from Missouri? A How was the question?
Q You do Not know them do you? A I don't know that they are any kin to us.
Q You don't know that they are related to you at all? A No sir.
Q This Mary Dawson case, do you know the members of that family?
A No sir, I don't.
Q Don't know who they are? A No sir.
Q The Rebecca Dawson case? A I don't know her either.
Q You don't know whether they are related to you or not? A No sir.
Q If any of those persons are related to you or your family did you have any knowledge of it? A No. as I know of.

Q Joanna Barber, do you know anything about them? A They claim to be kin to us.
Q Where are they from? A They are from Texas.
Q Do you know they are related to you? A They claim to be kin.
BY MR. HASTINGS:
Q Well you were for them before the Commission? A Yes, they claim to be kinfolks of mine.
BY MR. McKENNON:
Q Irene J. House, who is that? A That is a cousin of mine: claims to be.
BY MR. HASTINGS:
Q You testified for her didn't you, before the Commission? A I think I did as well as I remember.
BY MR. McKENNON:
Q Before that Court that admitted James Dawson posthumously, who were the witnesses there? A Oliver Miller, from Berryville, Arkansas.
Q Who were the others? A Myself and J. Dawson and there was two other witnesses, I don't remember who they are.
Q Were they Cherokee citizens and residents of the Cherokee Nation? A Yes sir.
BY MR. HASTINGS:
Q You don't remember their names? A Which?
Q Of those other people who claimed to be citizens of the Cherokee Nation and who gave testimony? A I said about me and J. Dawson was citizens of the Cherokee Nation.
Q You only mentioned that Jim Dawson was a brother of Robert Dawson before the Court? A Yes sir.
Q And they referred back to the decision in the Court before? A He proved that they were citizens, and he knew my folks before he ever saw me.
Q Was he older than Dr. Baker? A About the same age.
Q Why didn't you get Oliver Miller's testimony in the Boins case?
Q He was dead.
Q You and no member of your family in the Irene House case or the Joanna Barber case or any of those cases that were tried before the Dawes Commission in your affidavits ever made reference to the fact that Oliver Miller testified in Jim Dawson's case or did you?
A I don't remember about that.
Q You did make reference to the fact that Dr. Baker testified there in '83, didn't you? A I don't remember about that now.
Q You never made reference to any other witness having testified other than Dr. Baker did you? A I don't remember about it now.
BY MR. McKENNON:
Q Now just one other question: All of these papers in the original application and everything, so far as you know, in the James Dawson case, were filed before the Commission which admitted the James Dawson family, are they or not? A I suppose they are, I don't know, I never saw them.
Q Have you tried to get copies of them? A Yes sir, I tried to get the original papers.

BY [illegible]: This case is continued until 8:30 a.m., tomorrow morning, March 30th, 1938, it now being the hour for adjournment.

A Yes sir.
Q What was her name? A I always knowed her by Dade Pierce; I don't know whether that is her right name or not.
Q What is Bogle's name? A John Bogle.
Q She is the child of Josephine Pierce who married John Bogle?
A Yes sir.
BY MR. HASTINGS:
Q Where did she marry John Bogle? A Near Afton.
Q When? A I couldn't state.
Q About when? A You have got a copy of the marriage license.
Q When did Josephine Pierce come to the Cherokee Nation? A '83.
Q Has she lived here continuously since that time? A Up until her death; she is dead.
Q Any of her children come with her at that time? A Yes sir.
Q And have they lived here continuously since that time? A Yes sir, except Bill Pierce, he went to Colorado and died.

J. C. STARR, being first duly sworn and being examined, testified as follows:
BY MR. McKENNON:
Q Your name is J. C. Starr is it? A Yes sir.
Q Mr. Starr, was that instrument taken by you, or before you? (Showing witness document.)
A Yes sir.
Q Where? A At the residence of S. H. Benge: near Fort Gibson.
Q When? A On the 15th day of this month.
Q What day of the week was that? A On Saturday.
Q Is that the day it was taken? A Yes sir.
Q Did you go there on Saturday to take this? A Yes sir.
Q Then when Judge Benge stated on Tuesday that it was taken "yesterday" meaning Monday, the 17th, he was mistaken, was he?
A It was taken Saturday, the 15th.
Q Was he mistaken or not? A It was not taken then.
Q Then his statement made on Tuesday the 18th that it was taken on "yesterday", meaning Monday, the 17th, was not correct, was it?
A I think not, because I was there, and it was taken on the 15th.
Q And it was taken on the 15th, you are positive it was taken on the 15th? A Yes sir.

Q Then of course his statement could not be correct? A I guess not.
BY MR. HASTINGS:
Q He was just mistaken about the date, wasn't he? A Yes sir.
BY MR. McKENNON:
Q Did you tell Charles C. Moore who is now present, on last Tuesday that they sent you out there on Monday to take that? A No sir.
BY MR. HASTINGS:
Q I sent you there last Saturday? A Yes sir.
Q And you went there at my direction didn't you? A Yes sir, and come back Saturday night.

ROBERT L. DAWSON, being first duly sworn, and being examined testified as follows:
BY MR. McKENNON:
Q What is your name? A My name is Robert L. Dawson.
Q What is your age? A I am in something close to 30 years old, I am 29 past.

Q Are you a son of E. Dawson, commonly known as Buck Dawson?
A Yes sir.
Q I will ask you if you will examine this letter sent with the enclosure and state whether or not you found that among the papers of your father after his death? A (Hands letter to witness who examines it) A Yes sir, I found this amongst the papers of my father. He always kept all his own papers, and me looking over them I saw this letter.
Q Has that been in your custody ever since you found it? A Yes sir, if that's the letter that was in the envelope.
Q Well that's what it is, you can tell whether it is or not. (Witness further examines letter) Q That purports to be a letter from Samuel H. Benge, does it not, to your father? A Yes sir. (Here applicants' attorney hands letter and env lope referred to to attorneys for Cherokee Nation.)

BY MR. McKENNON: I want to offer this letter in evidence in this case; it is a letter signed by S. H. Benge, attorney at law, dated Fort Gibson, C. N., Jan. 13, 1883. Addressed to Mr. E. Dawson, Esq., together with the envelope, in which it was enclosed, with the card of C. H. Taylor upon it, attorney at law, Tahlequah, Indian Territory, and postmarked Tahlequah, Ind. T., January 13.

BY MR. HUTCHINGS: The Nation objects to the introduction of this letter for the reason that S. H. Benge is living and has testified in this case, and his handwriting should be either proven or denied by himself.

G. W. BENGE, being first duly sworn, and being examined, testified as follows:
BY MR. McKENNON:
Q What is your name? A G. W. Benge.
Q Are you a son of Samuel H. Benge? A Yes sir.
Q Do youknow his handwriting? A I believe so.
Q Is that his handwriting? (Shows witness letter before referred to.) A Yes sir, it is either his or a resemblance of his.
Q To the best of your knowledge and belief is that his letter?
A Yes sir.

BY MR. McKENNON: Now we offer it in evidence.

BY COMMISSION: (Reading letter)

"Fort Gibson, C. N.,
Jan 13th, 1883.

Mr. E. Dawson, Esq.,

Dear Sir:- I write this note to inform you that your case came off before the Court on Citizenship on the 11th inst, and was decided in your favor, so you all are citizens of this Nation. E. M. Dawson was furnished with a copy of the decision at the court. He will write to you also. You will please send me fifty dollars as my fee in your case according to contract. Send it to Fort Gibson, Cherokee Nation.

Respectfully yours,
S. H. Benge,
Attorney at law."

Enclosed in envelope, as follows:
Card in upper corner, left hand:
"Return in ten days to C. H. Taylor,
Attorney at law,
Tahlequah, Ind. Ter."
Addressed: Mr. E. Dawson,

Henryetta,
Clay Co., Texas."

Post-marked: " Tahlequah, Jun 17 1902 I. T."

ROBERT L. DAWSON, -re-called and further examined, testified as follows:

BY MR. McKENNON:

Q Now exa ine that and see if that is also a paper which you found among your father's papers after his death? (Hands papers to witness) A That is the same letter that I found.

Q Among the ones that you found the Bonge letter? A Yes sir.

BY MR. McKENNON: This is a letter purporting to have been written by J. M. Bryan, to R. Dawson, dated at Chouteau Station, Cherokee Nation, and not dated, which we offer in evidence. (Applicants' attorney hands said paper to Nation's attorneys.)

Q Mr. Bryan is dead is he not? A I think so.

BY MR. HUTCHINGS: We have no objection.

BY COMMISSION: (reads letter)

"Chouteau Station, Cherokee Nation.
I. T., M. K. & T. R. R.

MR. Dawson:

Dear Sir:-

I am in receipt of your favor of the 30th inst. in regard to our contract.

After I had got the claim so there would be little more to do I employed Campbell Taylor to answer for me when the case came up, for which I was to pay him $20 out of my fee. This all the action I had in the matter with Taylor.

I saw Taylor in Washington last month, and he told me that your brother had made another contract with him, and paid him, or that you was to pay him $100- and that you had offered him a check on some bank in Texas.

That $100- matter with Taylor, I have nothing to do with, nor couldn't have if I wanted to.

I hope Mr. Dawson this letter will explain the matter fully.

And I am satisfied that you are apprised of the earnest work I done for you, Please write to me.

Very respectfully,
Very truly,
J. M. Brynn."

Q I will ask you if you know of your father having paid Bryan that money? A Yes sir, paid him a horse and some other money.

BY MR. HUTCHINGS.

Q How old was your father when he died? A I, I don't know whether I know his age or not.

Q If you don't know you can't say? A I wouldn't have no reason to know his age; never asked his his age; of course I guess my mother knows.

Q Never had occasion to talk about his age at all? A Oh I have heard him speaking of his age at different times, but then I never paid enough attention to it.

Old Graham, being first duly sworn and exa i ed testified as follows:

BY MR. McKENNON:

Q What is your name? A Old Graham.

Q How old are you? A Mr. Graham? A I am 35 years old.
Q How long have you been living in the territory? A I came out here in 1887 or '88.
Q To the Cherokee Nation? A Yes sir.
Q How long have you been living in the Cherokee Nation, what year was that '87 or '88? A Yes sir.
Q Have you resided here continuously from that time ever since in the Territory? A Yes sir.
Q How long did you live in the Cherokee Nation? A About 6 years.
Q Where did you go then? A Wagoner.
Q In the Creek Nation? A Yes sir.
Q And been residing there ever since? A Yes sir.
Q In business? A Yes sir.
Q Have you all the while been recognized as a citizen of the Cherokee Nation? A Yes sir.
Q Mr. Graham, do you know Judge Samuel H. Benge? A Yes sir.
Q Did you have a conversation with him in Fort Gibson about September of 1900? A Well as to the exact time I couldn't say, it was sometime about the time that the Dawes Commission were at Sallisaw, or possibly a little later, somewhere about there.
Q Taking the census of the Cherokees? A Yes sir.
Q At that time had the question of the validity of the judgment of the Cherokee citizenship commission admitting Robert Dawson and family been called in question? A Yes sir.
Q Did you talk to him about the facts concerning the obtaining of that judgment? A I did.
Q What did he tell you about it; well I will just ask you, did he then and there tell you that that judgment was regular and all right nothing wrong with it? A He did.

BY MR. HUTCHINGS:

Q You were looking around for testimony at that time, Mr. Graham, were you? A How was that?
Q You were looking around for testimony at that time, expecting this case to be questioned? A Since the validity of that judgment had been attacked by the authorities of the Cherokee Nation, I thought it was well to look into the matter.
Q And he told you the judgment was all right? A Having known that Mr. Benge was connected with the case, I saw him in Fort Gibson, subsequent to that time and asked him about it, if there was anything wrong about the matter, and also that I might want his affidavit concerning the matter, and I also I think maybe wrote to him: possibly prior to that, I am not sure as to the writing, but I think possibly I did.
Q Did he tell you he would make an affidavit? A I don't think at that time that I asked him for an affidavit. I thought as he lived right near here I would use him in person; he assured me that everything was all right.
Q Your mother was Missouri Dawson was not she? A Yes sir.
Q Her name was Missouri Graham when she was re-admitted to citizenship? A Yes sir.
Q And was not Missouri Dawson as named in that judgment? A Yes sir.
Q Do you know whether the other children named in there had married and changed their names also at the time they were admitted? A There were not any of them married.
Q Ella Dawson was your aunt? A Yes sir.
Q Was she married at that time? In 1883? A Yes sir.
Q Melvina Dawson, was she married at that time? A Yes sir.
Q And the fourth one you have mentioned, Missouri Dawson, was your mother? A Yes sir.

Q Can you give us the exact date of your birth? A Yes sir.
Q Do so, please? A January 21, 1867.
Q And you came to the Territory when? A In 1887 or 1888.
Q You can't make that any more definite? A Well sir, it has been a good while ago, and I didn't have anything to cause me to.
Q Well I just want to know whether you did have or not? A No sir.
Q When were you married? A 1886.
Q You were married prior to coming here? A Yes sir.
Q Your first child born away from her? A Yes sir.
Q What is its name? A John W.
Q '86 you were married, and he was born about the spring of '87?
A Somewhere in 1887, I don't remember.
Q Prior to your coming here? A Yes sir.
Q That is the only child you had that was born away from here?
A No sir, Julius.
Q Julius was not born in the Territory? A No sir.
Q And prior to the time of your removing to the Territory? A Yes sir.
Q These are the only children born out? A Yes sir.

BY MR. McKENNON:

Q Do you know Campbell Taylor? A Yes sir.
Q I will ask you if about February 1901, he came to Wagoner, and sent his son to have you come to the hotel at night where he was, and if he then and there said to you "You people are on the doubtful list, and if you will give me five hundred dollars I will make it all right and see that you are enrolled, and if you don't I will see that you don't get on".? A Well now as to the first part of thatquestion, where you say he sent his son; that is an error; I don't know whether he came to my house or sent some one; when I returned home that evening my wife told me there was some one there to see me, and was at the city hotel at Wagoner, and said come down and see him; I went down there; I never had met Taylor; he introduced himself to me and stated what his business was; asked me if I was on the doubtful list, etc., to which I replied that we were; he asked me if I didn't want to employ him, stating that if we would give him, our family would give him five hundred dollars he would see that we were placed on the rolls all right, but if we refused to give him five hundred dollars that he would use his influence against us and see that we were rejected.
Q You never had met him before, or had any communication with him?
A I never met him before; as to the communication, I may have written him something about his affidavi. as to the validity of that judgment, I can't say as to that. He said in his testimony that I did; I don't know whether I did or not now.

BY MR. HUTCHINGS:

Q You knew he was the attorney in the case, originally? A After looking at the records I did.
Q I mean you knew it at the time you wrote to him about the affidavit: that was the reason why you thought he would know something? A Certainly.
Q He never told you he was going to swear against you or threatened to tell anything that was not true? A He just simply said unless we gave him that five hundred dollars he would see we were all cut off the rolls.
Q Said he would use his influence against you, that is what he said? A Yes sir.

BY MR. HASTINGS:
Q You don't deny writing to him then for the affidavit? A I don't know I did or I did not; I neither affirm it or deny the question.
Q You went to Captain Mange and also wrote him with reference to what he knew about the case? A I don't know whether I wrote him or not; I said I was under the impression I wrote his son.
Q You came to see Aaron Butler, who was interpreter before that court that admitted you? A Yes sir.
Q And you went with Aaron Butler to see Sir Smith, attorney before that court? A Yes sir.
Q And you either wrote or went to see everybody you knew of that was before that court then? A Yes sir.
Q That shows you used considerable activity? A Yes sir, I used such activity as was to my interest.
BY MR. McKENNON:
Q This was all after the representatives of the Cherokee Nation objected to the enrollment of the Dawson family and by reason thereof such as had appeared before the Commission had been placed upon a doubtful card? A Yes sir.
Q Then you began to look up the evidence and see what there was in it? A Yes sir.
Q As Mr. Hastings has stated? A That's right.
BY MR. McKENNON:
Q You are a grandson of James Dawson? A Yes sir.
Q The old gentleman? A Yes sir.
Q About what was his age when he was admitted to citizenship in the Cherokee Nation, in 1884, wasn't it? A Yes sir, well I can't be exact as to that.
Q Well as nearly as you can? A He was somewhere about 70 or 72, years of age.
Q Well what other James Dawson did you know belonging to the families, either one of these families, Robert Dawson family or the James Dawson family? A I never knew of but two James Dawsons.
Q Who were the others? A Dr. James R. Dawson, who is present and standing right here; my grandfather, James Dawson.
Q Was there in 1884 any James R. Dawson 35 or 40 or 45 years old, that you know of, belonging to either one of these families?
A No sir.
Q Do you know how old Dr. James R. Dawson was that that time?
A James Dawson? Q No I am speaking of Dr. James R. Dawson? A Oh, how old he was, no sir, I do not.
BY MR. HUTCHINGS:
Q Do you know who was here attending to your mother's citizenship case at that time, at the time they were admitted? A Yes sir, James Low and Bill Jackson, son of Ellen Jackson.
Q Who was W. A. Dawson? A That is Wilburn, my uncle.
Q Was he here? A I don't know sir.
Q You were not here any of the time? A No sir.
Q You knew your grandfather then, you had lived in the same neighborhood with him? A Yes sir, I knew him well.
Q He didn't die for a year or two after that did he? A After when, Mr. Hastings?
Q After his admission to citizenship? A No sir, he didn't die I think until '91 or '90, several years after.
Q Very old man when he died? A Yes sir.
BY MR. McKENNON:
Q About what age? A He was approximately 80 years old.
BY MR. HUTCHINGS:
Q When he died? A Yes sir.

BY MR. HASTINGS:
Q That about 1891? A I think so, yes sir.
BY MR. McKENNON:
Applicants object to the testimony of the witness elicited by interrogatories of counsel for the Cherokee Nation relating to his family, their history, etc, as being immaterial, irrelevant and incompetent.

James R. Dawson, being first duly sworn, and being examined, testified as follows:
BY MR. McKENNON:
Q Your name is James R. Dawson? A Yes sir.
Q Where do you live? A Afton, Indian Territory.
Q What is your age? A 45.
Q You are a Physician are you not? A Yes sir.
Q Was James Dawson, whose family was admitted in 1884, an uncle of yours? A Yes sir.
Q Do you know what his age was at that time? A No sir, I do not, only approximately.
Q State as nearly as you can? A At the time of the admission?
Q Yes Sir? A About 70, I don't know exactly.
Q How old was he when he died? A I would suppose he was about 78.
Q What was your age in 1884? A I am 45.
Q What year were you born, Doctor? A I was born in '65.
Q That have been '84? A Yes sir, that's right.
Q What was your age then? A In '84?
Q Yes sir? A About 20.
Q Were you present at the time that James Dawson family was admitted, or at any time while their case was pending before the Cherokee citizenship commission? A Not while the James Dawson case was, no sir.
Q You were present during your father's case? A I was there at the time.
Q When was that? A The dates I dispute; when the case first came up, I disremember the exact date.
Q How long were you there? A I was there about a week.
Q And that when it first came up you say? A Yes sir.
Q Nothing was done? A No sir.
BY MR. HUTCHINGS:
Q You never saw Dr. Baker? A Yes sir.
Q Did he and your uncle Jimmie used to talk about how they played together when they were boys? A My uncle Jim and Dr. Baker talk?
Q Yes? A I never saw them together.
Q They were about the same age? A Yes sir, I believe Dr. Baker was 15 years older probably.
Q Dr. Baker must have been mistaken about his own age? A Guessing, that's all I know about his age.
Q The Doctor had been paralyzed, rather a decrepit looking man at the time he was over here at this citizenship business? A No sir, not as I know anything about.
Q He was near about 70 then? A I couldn't tell you, he was an old looking man.
Q Your uncle Jimmie was about 70? A Yes sir.

TESTIMONY ON BEHALF OF THE CHEROKEE NATION.

W. W. HASTINGS, being first duly sworn, and being examined testified as follows:

BY MR. HUTCHINGS:

Q State your name? A W. W. Hastings.
Q Residence? A Tahlequah, age 35.
Q You are attorney for the Cherokee Nation in the general preparation of these cases? A Yes sir.
Q Just state how it happened that you summoned Mr. Campbell Taylor, and what occurred between you with reference to his testimony?
A Well there had been some talk, as the testimony here indicates, that there was perhaps fraud in the admission of this family, and by agreement with counsel on the other side, and the Commission, this case was set for the 17th day of March, and some short time prior to that, as the attorney for the Nation I began to make some preparation or inquiry into the case, and I wrote a great many letters around to different people and among them I wrote C. H. Taylor to come down here. I don't think in that letter that I told him what I wanted with him; I don't think I told him the case that I wanted him to testify in; that is my recollection now. Mr. Taylor prior to that time, neither directly nor indirectly, so far as I knew, ever gave me any information voluntarily against this family, or ever said anything that would lead me to believe that he knew anything of a fraudulent character connected with it. But I summoned him; perhaps the fact that I knew he had been connected with them in some way and that I perhaps also would get some information from him. Well he came in response to a letter that I wrote, and I took him up to my office. I talked to him quite a long while. He was exceedingly reluctant about giving any testimony whatever, he told me first and last that he didn't intend to testify before the Commission. He told me he had been attorney for these people, and he didn't believe he could be compelled to testify, and that is he was put upon the stand he would claim that privilege, and he didn't believe I could force him to testify. I talked to him at some considerable length; I asked him what he knew about it; of course he for a long time declined to tell me; and what information I did get from him was by piecemeal. He was exceedingly reluctant all through the interview to give any information. I asked him finally though that if the Court compelled him to testify when he got before the Commission, if he would tell the facts about it, and he said that he would. I told him then that I would subpoena him.

Well we talked quite a good while and finally after always telling me that he intended to claim that privilege, and never wanting to testify, he detailed to me the facts just as he told them on the stand; I don't believe there is the slightest variation, except that he perhaps was not so full at that time and it was told by piecemeal, but I got all those facts out of him, or very nearly all those facts out of him. He may have elaborated a little more here by examination; but he never voluntarily gave me any information at all, either directly or so far as I know indirectly. I don't think he sent any one to me. I got his name because I heard he was connected with the case, and perhaps knew something about it, like I did a great many other people, some of whom I didn't bring, because they didn't know what I supposed they did know about the case.

With reference to S. M. Benge, I want to state that he never voluntarily gave me any information at all about this case, nor did I know that he knew anything in connection with this case until I sent J. G. Starr over to S. M. Benge's place to take his affidavit on Saturday, March 15, in the W. H. and J. W. Shoemake case, and their descendants. I had heard that Mr. Benge knew some important facts in connection with the Shoemake case and I sent him over there then to take that affidavit; and when Mr. Starr came back he told me that he knew some facts also in connection with these other cases, and I was surprised to find he had instead of one affidavit, in the Shoemake case, that he also had another affidavit in the Dawson case. That is the first information I had that Mr. Benge knew anything whatever in connection with the Dawson case, and therefore he never voluntarily, either directly or indirectly gave any information prior to that time to me.

I impressed upon Mr. Taylor that the Nation only wanted the absolute truth in this matter; that it was not seeking anything else but the truth, and didn't want him to tell anything else but the truth.

I want to say again that after he was on the stand and left that evening, and after Captain McKennon, of counsel for the family, had indicated his willingness for Mr. Taylor to testify, that he went over all of these facts that he testified to on the stand subsequent to that time in the presence of J. G. Starr in my office. I simply wanted to go on the stand for the purpose of showing that Mr. Taylor hadn't voluntarily given me any information, and I make this statement for that purpose.

BY MR. McKENNON:

Q You had no power to compel him to give you any information at that time at all did you? A No sir, none other than the persuation that I brought to bear.
Q He therefore did it simply upon your persuation? A Yes sir.
Q You knew he had been acting as attorney for these parties?
A Yes sir, I had seen from the record that he did too.
Q And he told you so? A Yes sir.

BY COMMISSION: The attorneys for the applicant and the representatives of the Cherokee Nation will be granted thirty days from the receipt of the transcript in this case in which to file a brief in this case with the Commission.

I, M. D. Green, do hereby certify that as stenographer to the Commission to the Five Civilized Tribes I correctly recorded the testimony and proceedings in this case and that the foregoing is a true and complete transcript of my stenographic notes thereof.

(Signed) M. D. Green.

I, Arthur C. Evans, being duly sworn, state that as stenographer to the Commission to the Five Civilized Tribes I copied the foregoing, and that the same is a true and complete copy of the original.

All of these proceedings have been made a part of the record herein.

The evidence, and an examination of the records of the Cherokee Nation, in the possession of this Commission show that on January 11, 1883, one Robert Dawson and his adult children, F. M. Dawson, Elbert Dawson, Jasper Dawson, Mollie Dawson, Wilborn Dawson, James Dawson, Rial Dawson, Josephine Dawson, Joseph Dawson, Jane Dawson and John Dawson were admitted to citizenship in the Cherokee Nation by the Cherokee Commission on Citizenship, commonly known as the "Teehee Court", and that on September 9, 1884, one James Dawson, a brother of the Robert Dawson aforesaid, together with his adult children, Ella Dawson, W. A. Dawson, Malvina Dawson and Missouri Dawson were admitted to citizenship in the Cherokee Nation by the Cherokee Commission on Citizenship commonly known as the "Spears Court." In addition to their tribal enrollment as shown by the evidence herein, it also appears from an examination of the Cherokee tribal rolls, in the possession of this Commission, that F. M. Dawson is identified on the Cherokee pay rolls of 1883 and 1894, Elbert Dawson on the Cherokee pay roll of 1883, Mollie Dawson on the pay roll of 1883, Wilborn Dawson on the pay rolls of 1883 and 1894, James Dawson on the pay rolls of 1883 and 1894, Rial Dawson on the pay rolls of 1883 and 1894, Josephine Dawson on the pay roll of 1883, Jane Dawson on the pay roll of 1883, Joseph Dawson and John Dawson on the pay rolls of 1883, 1883 and 1894, Ella Dawson and W.A.

Dawson on the pay roll of 1880, and Missouri Dawson on the pay roll of 1894.

A majority of the above named persons, together with the descendants of the persons admitted as aforesaid and such white persons as may have intermarried with the said Dawsons or their descendants are the applicants herein.

For convenience, the applications are divided into groups:

Group 1, includes the applications of Francis M. Dawson and those claiming through him and embraces cases numbered D 324, D 530, D 531, D 534, D 536 and D 538.

The evidence shows that Francis M. Dawson is the same person admitted to citizenship as hereinbefore stated under the name of F.M. Dawson. Katie Dawson, his wife, was married to him on November 21, 1880. The Cherokee Supreme Court in the cases of Cherokee Nation vs. Nancy Rogers and Melissa Dawson vs. W. A. Dawson held that a white woman married to a Cherokee Indian at the time of his admission to citizenship acquires thereby the rights of Cherokee citizenship. She has lived with her said husband since they were married, and the six children included in the application of said Francis M. Dawson, and hereinbefore named are the issue of the marriage aforesaid. All the applicants herein are identified on the Cherokee Census roll of 1896.

John Dawson, William R. Dawson, Lizzie Atkins, formerly Dawson, Francis M. Dawson, Jr., and Arizona Allred are the children of said Francis M. Dawson by a former wife, Julia Ann. They were minors at the date of their father's admission to citizenship. John Dawson, Lizzie Atkins and Francis M. Dawson, Jr., are identified on the Strip Payment roll of 1894, and William R. Dawson and Arizona Allred are identified on the Cherokee Census roll of 1896.

Andrew C. Atkins was married under a Cherokee marriage license and in accordance with the laws of the Cherokee Nation on March 28, 1891, to the above named Lizzie Dawson. He has resided in the Cherokee Nation with his said wife since they were married, and the four children included in his application, and hereinbefore named are the issue of that marriage. The oldest child, Arthur, is identified on the Cherokee pay roll of 1894, and the three younger children are identified by birth affidavits on file with this Commission.

Arizona Allred, nee Dawson, came from Arkansas to the Cherokee Nation for the first time in 1894, remained there about two years and then returned to Arkansas, where she was married to Len Allred. Such marriage was not in accordance with the laws of the Cherokee Nation. Arizona Allred and her husband came to the Cherokee Nation in 1896, stayed there a month and returned to Arkansas where they remained until September, 1898, at which time they came to the Cherokee Nation, remained there about a year and returned to Arkansas in 1899, where they were living at the date of this application. William C. Allred is the child of said Arizona Allred and possesses no rights not acquired by his mother. He is identified on the Cherokee Census roll of 1896.

Paragraph 9, Section 21, of the Act of Congress approved June 28, 1898 (30 Stats., 495) provides:

> "No person shall be enrolled who has not heretofore removed to and in good faith settled in the Nation in which he claims citizenship."

The evidence further shows that Francis M. Dawson, his wife, Katie and William R. Dawson, Francis M. Dawson, Jr., and Lizzie Atkins have resided in the Cherokee Nation since 1883, and Andrew C. Atkins, the husband of said Lizzie Atkins, since 1891, and that John Dawson has resided in the Cherokee Nation for at least fourteen years prior to the date of his application. The residence of the minor children of the above named persons is considered to be that of their parents, with whom they are living.

Group II, includes the applications of Samuel R. Dawson, together with those claiming through him and embraces cases numbered D 350, D 352, D 356, D 365, D 402 and D 402.

The evidence shows that Samuel R. Dawson is identified as the Rial Dawson admitted to citizenship in the Cherokee Nation as hereinbefore stated. His wife, Catherine, a white woman, was married to him on July 11, 1866. The Cherokee Supreme Court in the cases of Cherokee Nation vs. Nancy Rogers and Melissa Dawson vs. W. A. Dawson held that a white woman married to a Cherokee Indian at the time of his admission to citizenship acquires thereby the rights of Cherokee citizenship. She has lived with her said husband since their marriage, and August and Mate Dawson are the issue of the aforesaid marriage. Samuel R. Dawson, his wife and children are identified on the Cherokee Census roll of 1896.

Robert Dawson, Albert H. Dawson, Josephine Bulawsky, formerly Josephine Dawson, John W. Dawson, and Katie Newman, formerly Katie Dawson are the children of said Samuel R. Dawson. They were minors at the date of their father's admission to citizenship, and they are all identified on the Cherokee Census roll of 1896.

Sarah F. Dawson, nee Abbott, was married to the said Albert H. Dawson in October, 1894. She has lived with her said husband, since they were married. Ralph H., Alford and Cecil Dawson are the issue of that marriage. Sarah F. Dawson and her child Ralph H. are identified on the Cherokee Census roll of 1896. Alford is identified by a birth affidavit on file with this Commission. The evidence further shows that the youngest child, Cecil Dawson, is dead.

August Bulawsky, was married under a Cherokee marriage license and in accordance with the laws of the Cherokee Nation on May 25, 1893, to the said Josephine Dawson. He has lived with his said wife since they were married and the six children included in his application, and hereinbefore named, are the issue of that marriage. The four older children are identified on the Cherokee Census roll of 1896, and the Strip payment roll of 1894. May Bulawsky is identified on the Cherokee Census roll of 1896, and Oscar Bulawsky is identified by a birth affidavit on file with this Commission.

Hannie Dawson, nee Baugher, was married to the said John W. Dawson on September 8, 1894, and she has lived with her said husband since they were married.

The evidence further shows that Samuel R. Dawson, his wife, Catherine, and Robert Dawson, Albert H. Dawson, John W. Dawson, and Katie Newman have resided in the Cherokee Nation since 1836, August Bulawsky and his wife Josephine, since 1892, and Sarah F. and Hannie Dawson since 1894. The residence of the minor children included in this group is considered to be that of their parents, with whom they are living.

Group III, includes the application of John Dawson, and those claiming through him and embraces cases numbered D 578, D 360 and D 530. The evidence shows that John Dawson is the same person admitted to citizenship in the Cherokee Nation as hereinbefore stated. Sarah J. Dawson, nee Wood, his wife, a white woman, was married to him on October 4, 1871. The Cherokee Supreme Court in the cases of Cherokee Nation vs. Nancy Rogers and Melissa Dawson vs. W. A. Dawson held that a white woman married to a Cherokee Indian at the time of his admission to citizenship acquires thereby the rights of Cherokee citizenship. She has lived with her said husband since they were married and the nine children included in the application of said John Dawson, and hereinbefore named, are the issue of said marriage. John Dawson, his wife, and his seven older children are identified on the Cherokee Census roll of 1896. The two younger children are identified by birth affidavits on file with this Commission.

Thomas P. Dawson and Orie H. Dawson are the children of said John Dawson. They were minors at the date of their father's admission to citizenship, and they are both identified on the Cherokee

Census roll of 1896.

Thomas P. Dawson was married on April 24, 1898, to Allen A. Allison, and Marion J. Dawson is the issue of that marriage. The said child is identified by a birth affidavit on file with this Commission.

Orlo M. Dawson was married on December 28, 1899, to Addie York, and Burr R. and James W. Dawson are the issue of that marriage. The said children are identified by birth affidavits on file with this Commission.

The evidence further shows that the said John Dawson and his wife, Sarah J., have resided together in the Cherokee Nation since 1883; that said Orlo M. Dawson has resided in the Cherokee Nation since 1883, and that Thomas P. Dawson has resided in the Cherokee Nation since 1888. The residence of the minor children herein is considered to be that of their parents, with whom they are living.

Group IV, includes the applications of those claiming through the said Josephine Dawson, now deceased. At the time of her admission she was the wife of one Thomas Pierce, but was admitted to citizenship under maiden name of Dawson. The group embraces cases numbered D 408, D 409, D 431, D 471, D 472 and D 479.

The evidence shows that Robert Pierce, William Pierce, Charles K. Pierce, Oma Gray, formerly Oma Pierce, Effie Pierce (now Effie Akin) and Nancy J. Bogle, formerly Nancy J. Pierce are the children of said Josephine Dawson. They were minors at the date of their mother's admission to citizenship, and they are all identified on the Cherokee Census roll of 1896.

Nellie Pierce, a white woman, was married to said Robert Pierce on July 15, 1894. She has lived with her said husband since they were married, and Myrtle and Arthur Pierce are the issue of that marriage. Nellie Pierce is identified on the Cherokee Census roll of 1896, and her two children are identified by birth affidavits on file with this Commission.

Ora Gray was married to John B. Gray on April 7, 1898, and Cecil and Walton Gray are the issue of that marriage. Ora Gray is identified on the strip payment roll of 1896 and her children are identified by birth affidavits on file with this Commission.

John S. Bogle was married under a Cherokee marriage license, and in accordance with the laws of the Cherokee Nation on April 5, 1894, to the above named Nancy J. Pierce. He has lived with his said wife since they were married and the six children included in his application, and hereinbefore named, are the issue of that marriage. John S. Bogle and his two older children are identified on the Cherokee Census roll of 1896, and his four younger children are identified by birth affidavits on file with this Commission.

The evidence further shows that the said William Pierce died in January, 1902.

It further appears that Robert Pierce, Charles E. Pierce, Nancy J. Bogle and Ora Gray have resided in the Cherokee Nation since 1884; that John S. Bogle, husband of Nancy J. Bogle, and Nellie Pierce, wife of Robert Pierce, have resided in said Nation ever since they were married, and the residence of the minor children herein is considered to be that of their parents with whom they are living. It appears that Effie Akin was seventeen years old at the date of the application for her enrollment, and it further appears that she resided in the Cherokee Nation from about 1886 up to December, 1900, when she went to Colorado, was married there to Will Akin, and is now living in that state with her said husband.

Group V, includes the application of the said Joseph Dawson, Wilborn Dawson and James Dawson, and embraces cases numbered D 364, D 475 and D 526.

Joseph R. Dawson is identified as the Joseph Dawson admitted to citizenship in the Cherokee Nation as hereinbefore stated. He was married to Florence Jackson on May 16, 1886, and they have lived together since the date of their marriage. The said Florence Jackson is the daughter of Ella Dawson, but she was of age at the date of her mother's admission to citizenship. The six children included in the application of said Joseph R. Dawson, and hereinbefore named, are the issue of the marriage between the said Joseph R. Dawson and Florence Jackson. The applicant, his said wife and his four minor children are identified on the Cherokee Census roll of 1896. The two younger children are identified by birth affidavits on file with this Commission.

Wilborn Dawson is identified as the person of that name admitted to citizenship in the Cherokee Nation as hereinbefore stated. He is identified on the Cherokee Census roll of 1896.

James R. Dawson is identified as the James Dawson admitted to citizenship in the Cherokee Nation as heretofore stated. His wife, Martha A. Dawson was married to him on February 20, 1890. She has lived with her said husband since the date of their marriage, and the four children included in the application of said James R. Dawson, and hereinbefore named, are the issue of said marriage. The applicant, his said wife and his three older children are identified on the Cherokee Census roll of 1896. The youngest child is identified by a birth affidavit on file with this Commission.

The evidence further shows that Joseph R. Dawson has resided in the Cherokee Nation since 1883; that Florence Dawson and Wilborn Dawson have resided in said Nation since 1886; and that James R. Dawson has resided in said Nation since 1883, excepting a temporary absence from 1889 to 1891. The residence of the minor children included in this group is considered to be that of their parents, with whom they are living.

Group VI, includes the application of Mollie Dawson and those claiming through her and embraces case numbered D 518.

The evidence shows that Mollie Moore, formerly Dawson, is identified as the Mollie Dawson admitted to citizenship in the Cherokee Nation as hereinbefore stated. Her husband, Charles T. Moore, was married to her under a Cherokee marriage license, and in accordance with the laws of the Cherokee Nation on January 17, 1887. He has lived with his said wife since they were married and the six children included in his application, and hereinbefore named, are the issue of said marriage. Charles T. Moore, his wife Mollie, and his four older children are identified on the Cherokee Census roll of 1896; the two younger children are identified by birth affidavits on file with this Commission.

The evidence further shows that said Charles T. Moore, his wife Mollie and his oldest child have resided in the Cherokee Nation since 1883; the younger children have resided in said nation all their lives.

Group VII, includes the applications of those claiming through the above named Jane Dawson, who, at the time of her admission to citizenship in the Cherokee Nation, as hereinbefore stated, was the wife of one Alexander Blasingame, but she was admitted under her maiden name of Dawson. Jane Dawson is a resident of Arkansas, and is not an applicant for enrollment. This group embraces cases numbered D 832, D 833 and D 834.

The evidence shows that Henry A. Blasingame, Elbert L. Blasingame, and James R. Blasingame are the children of said Jane Dawson. They were minors at the time of their mother's admission to citizenship and they are all identified on the Cherokee Census roll of 1896.

Henry A. Blasingame was married to his wife Birdie J., on December 6, 1896, and Vinnie C. Blasingame is the issue of that marriage. The said child is identified by a birth affidavit on file with this Commission.

Ida Blasingame, a white woman, was married to the said Elbert L. Blasingame on September 5, 1894. She has lived with her said husband ever since they were married and the four minor children included in the application of said Elbert L. Blasingame are the issue of that marriage. The said Ida Blasingame and her two older children are identified on the Cherokee Census roll of 1896. The two younger children are identified by birth affidavits on file with this Commission.

Mary A. Blasingame was married to the said James R. Blasingame on August 11, 1895. She has lived with her said husband since they were married and the three minor children included in the application of said James R. Blasingame, and hereinbefore named, are the issue of that marriage. Mary A. Blasingame and her oldest child are identified on the Cherokee Census roll of 1896. The two younger children are identified by birth affidavits on file with this Commission.

The evidence further shows that the said Henry A. Blasingame, Elbert L. Blasingame and James R. Blasingame removed to the Cherokee Nation in 1897 and have resided therein with their said wives ever since. The residence of the minor children included in this group is considered to be that of their parents, with whom they are living.

Group VIII, includes the applications of those claiming through the said Elbert Dawson, and embraces cases numbered D 435, D 604, D 608, D 605, D 609, D 617, D 626 and D 627.

The evidence shows that Zona Patterson, formerly Dawson, William C. Dawson, Robert L. Dawson, Elbert B. Dawson, Richard W. Dawson, Ella L. Spickerman, formerly Dawson, and Francis M. Dawson are the children of the said Elbert Dawson. All of them, excepting the said Francis M. Dawson, were minors at the time of their father's admission to citizenship. Zona Patterson is identified on the Cherokee Census roll of 1896, and William C. Dawson, Robert L. Dawson, Elbert B. Dawson and Richard W. Dawson are identified on the Strip payment roll of 1894. An examination of the Cherokee tribal rolls, in the possession of this Commission, shows that the said Ella L. Spickerman is also identified on the Strip payment roll of 1894.

Martin L. Patterson was married under a Cherokee marriage license, and in accordance with the laws of the Cherokee Nation on July 13, 1890, to the said Rena Dawson. He has lived with his said wife since they were married and the six children included in his application, and hereinbefore named, are the issue of that marriage. Martin L. Patterson and his three older children are identified on the Cherokee Census roll of 1896, and his three younger children are identified by birth affidavits on file with this Commission.

Alice Dawson, nee Alexander, was married to the said William C. Dawson on November 18, 1886. She has lived with her said husband ever since they were married.

Elbert B. Dawson was married on February 16, 1898, to Cora Bright, a non-citizen, and his child Ralph E. Dawson is the issue of that marriage. The said child is identified by a birth affidavit on file with this Commission.

Sarah J. Dawson, nee Jones, was married to the above named Elbert Dawson about 1854, and lived with him as his wife until his death in February, 1898, and has not re-married since his death. The Cherokee Supreme Court in the cases of Cherokee Nation vs. Nancy Rogers and Melissa Dawson vs. W. A. Dawson held that a white woman married to a Cherokee Indian at the time of his admission to citizenship acquires thereby the rights of Cherokee citizenship.

Richard W. Dawson was married to Luella Mason, a white woman, on January 24, 1898. His child Ina E. Dawson is the issue of that marriage, and she is identified by a birth affidavit on file with this Commission.

Ella L. Spickerman was married to John J. Spickerman, a white man on September 7, 1897. Her children Hellen J. and William Glenn are the issue of that marriage. They are identified by birth affidavits on file with this Commission.

It further appears from the evidence that Francis M. Dawson, son of Elbert Dawson, at the time of his father's admission to citizenship in the Cherokee Nation was twenty-two or twenty-three years old. There is no evidence that the said Francis M. Dawson has been admitted to citizenship in the Cherokee Nation by the duly constituted authorities of said Nation, or by the Commission to the Five Civilized Tribes, or by the United States Court under the provisions of the Act of Congress of June 10, 1898 (30 Stats., 331), Section twenty-one of the Act of Congress approved June 28, 1898 (30 Stats., 495), provides for the enrollment of,

> "all persons who have been enrolled by the tribal authorities who have heretofore made permanent settlement in the Cherokee Nation whose parents, by reason of their Cherokee blood have been lawfully admitted to citizenship by the tribal authorities, and who were minors when their parents were so admitted."

The evidence further shows that Zona Patterson, William C. Dawson and Richard W. Dawson have resided in the Cherokee Nation since 1884; Robert L. Dawson, Elbert B. Dawson, Sarah J. Dawson, and Ella L. Spickerman since 1883, Alice Dawson since 1836, and Martin L. Patterson since 1894. The residence of the minor children included in this group is considered to be that of their parents, with whom they are living.

Group IX, includes the applications of the said Missouri Dawson, and those claiming through her. The said Missouri Dawson at the time of her admission to citizenship was the wife of one John W. Graham, but she was admitted under her maiden name of Dawson, This group embraces cases numbered D 33, D 835, D 1124, D 1125, D 1126, D 1127 and D 1128.

The evidence shows that John W. Graham was married under a Cherokee marriage license, and in accordance with the laws of the Cherokee Nation on February 12, 1888, to the said Missouri Dawson. He had been [illegible] the State of Texas in 1866, and has lived with her since that time. Temple V. and Robert S. Graham are the issue of [illegible] marriage. John W. Graham, his wife and two children are identified on the Cherokee Census roll of 1896.

ship in the Cherokee Nation was twenty-two or twenty-three years old. There is no evidence that the said Francis M. Dawson has been admitted to citizenship in the Cherokee Nation by the duly constituted authorities of said Nation, or by the Commission to the Five Civilized Tribes, or by the United States Court under the provisions of the Act of Congress of June 10, 1896 (29 Stats., 321). Section twenty-one of the Act of Congress approved June 28, 1898 (30 Stats., 495), provides for the enrollment of,

> "all persons who have been enrolled by the tribal authorities who have heretofore made permanent settlement in the Cherokee Nation whose parents, by reason of their Cherokee blood have been lawfully admitted to citizenship by the tribal authorities, and who were minors when their parents were so admitted."

The evidence further shows that Zona Patterson, William C. Dawson and Richard W. Dawson have resided in the Cherokee Nation since 1884; Robert L. Dawson, Elbert B. Dawson, Sarah J. Dawson, and Ella L. Spicherman since 1883; Alice Dawson since 1886, and Martin L. Patterson since 1894. The residence of the minor children included in this group is considered to be that of their parents, with whom they are living.

Group IX, includes the applications of the said Missouri Dawson, and those claiming through her. The said Missouri Dawson at the time of her admission to citizenship was the wife of one John W. Graham, but she was admitted under her maiden name of Dawson. This group embraces cases numbered, D 33, D 35, D 836, D 1124, D 1125, D 1126, D 1127 and D 1128.

The evidence shows that John W. Graham was married under a Cherokee marriage license and in accordance with the laws of the Cherokee Nation on February 15, 1878, to the said Missouri Dawson. He had been formerly married to her in the State of Texas in 1866, and has lived with her since that time. Thomas V. and Robert S. Graham are the issue of the aforesaid marriage. John W. Graham, his wife and two children are identified on the Cherokee census roll of 1896.

Joe B. Graham was married to Mary Bradshaw, a non-citizen on January 6, 1898. William C. Graham is the issue of that marriage, and he is identified by a birth affidavit on file with this Commission.

John F. Graham was married on February 11, 1900, to Mattie Lawson, a non-citizen, and Edna M. and Robert Lee are the issue of that marriage. Said children are identified by birth affidavits on file with this Commission.

Bessie Graham was married on November 2, 1892, to the said James M. Graham. She has lived with him since the date of their marriage, and the six children included in the application of said James M. Graham, and hereinbefore named, are the issue of the said marriage. The oldest child Marion is identified on the Strip payment roll of 1894, and the five younger children are identified by birth affidavits on file with this Commission.

The evidence further shows that the said John W. Graham, his wife Missouri Graham, Gideon Graham, Mathew A. Painter, and his wife Laverna A. Painter, Florence P. Bradshaw, John F. Graham and Joe Willie Neal have resided in the Cherokee Nation since 1888, and that Joe F. Graham and James M. Graham have resided in the Cherokee Nation since 1884. The residence of the minor children included in this group is considered to be that of their parents, with whom they are living.

Group X, includes the application of the said Ella Dawson and those claiming through her. The said Ella Dawson, at the time of her admission to citizenship, was the wife of Green W. Jackson, but she was admitted to citizenship under her maiden name of Dawson. This group embraces cases numbered D 395, D 476, D 508, D 830 and D 847.

The evidence shows that Green W. Jackson was married under a Cherokee marriage license, and in accordance with the laws of the Cherokee Nation on March 24, 1867 to the said Ella Dawson. He had been previously married to her in Texas prior to her admission to citizenship. From an affidavit made a part of this record it appears that Green W. Jackson died subsequent to the date of this application, and prior to September 1, 1902.

The evidence further shows that Flora Harmon, formerly Jackson, Teshie A. Jackson, William Jackson and Fannie Lenox, formerly Jackson are the children of said Ella Dawson, now Ella Jackson. Flora Harmon, Teshie A. Jackson and Fannie Lenox were minors at the date of their mother's admission to citizenship, and they are all identified on the Cherokee Census roll of 1896.

James H. Harmon was married under a Cherokee marriage license, and in accordance with the laws of the Cherokee Nation on April 24, 1887, to the said Flora Jackson. He has lived with his wife since the date of their marriage, and the four minor children included in his application, and hereinbefore named, are the issue of the said marriage. James H. Harmon and his three older children are identified on the Cherokee Census roll of 1896. The youngest child is identified by a birth affidavit on file with this Commission.

William C. Lenox was married under a Cherokee marriage license, and in accordance with the laws of the Cherokee Nation on April 1, 1888, to the said Fannie Jackson. He has lived with his wife since the date of their marriage, and the two children Birtie E. and Myrtle Lenox, included in his application, are the issue of the said marriage. William C. Lenox and his two children are identified on the Cherokee Census roll of 1896.

Lizzie Jackson claims to have been married in 1888 to the said William Jackson, who is now deceased. It appears that William Jackson at the date of his mother's admission to citizenship, was over twenty-one years old. There is no evidence that the said William Jackson was ever admitted to citizenship in the Cherokee Nation, by the duly constituted authorities of said Nation, or by the Commission to the Five Civilized Tribes, or by the United States Court under the provisions of the Act of Congress approved June 10, 1896 (29 Stats., 321). Lizzie Jackson and the five minor children included in her application, and hereinbefore named, are identified on the Cherokee Census roll of 1896, and they take only such rights as may have been possessed by the said William Jackson. The authority of the Commission herein is defined in Section twenty-one of the Act of Congress approved June 28, 1898 (30 Stats., 495), heretofore quoted.

The evidence further shows that the said Ella Jackson, the said Flora Harmon and the said Toshie A. Jackson have resided in the Cherokee Nation since 1884, and that William C. Lenox, and his wife Fannie Lenox have resided in the Cherokee Nation since 1888. The residence of the minor children included in this group is considered to be that of their parents, with whom they are living.

Group XI, includes the applications of those claiming through Malvina Dawson and embraces case numbered D 839.

The evidence shows that James Lowe is the son of the said Malvina Dawson, and that at the time of her admission to citizenship the said James Lowe was over 21 years old. There is no evidence that the said James Lowe was ever admitted to citizenship in the Cherokee Nation, by the duly constituted authorities of said Nation, or by the Commission to the Five Civilized Tribes, or by the United States Court under the provisions of the Act of Congress approved June 10, 1896 (29 Stats., 321). It further appears that the said James Lowe was married on June 12, 1887, to Mollie Knight, a white woman, and the four minor children included in his application and hereinbefore named, are the issue of that marriage. James Lowe and his said children are identified on the Cherokee Census roll of 1896 and said children take only the rights which may have been acquired by their father.

The authority of the Commission herein is defined in Section 21 of the Act of Congress approved June 28, 1898 (30 Stats., 495), heretofore quoted.

Group XII, includes the applications of those claiming through the said W. A. Dawson and embraces cases numbered D 405, D 406, D 718, R 12 and R 13.

The evidence shows that Millie T. Dawson was married to the said W. A. Dawson in 1892 and lived with him as his wife in the Cherokee Nation until his death in 1899, and that she has not re-married since his death. Texanna Woolley is the daughter of said W. A. Dawson and his former wife Melissa A. Dawson. Texanna Woolley was a minor at the date of her father's admission to citizenship, and she is identified on the Strip payment roll of 1894. She was married on March 27, 1898, to James Woolley, and her children Irene W. and Wilburn E. are the issue of that marriage. They are identified by birth affidavits on file with this Commission.

Henry T. Richardson was married under a Cherokee marriage license, and in accordance with the laws of the Cherokee Nation on July 11, 1886, to one Sellar Dawson, who was the daughter of the said W. A. Dawson by his first wife Melissa A. Sellar Dawson was a minor at the date of her father's admission to citizenship. Henry T. Richardson lived in the Cherokee Nation with his said wife Sellar from the date of their marriage until her death in 1892. On September 22, 1898, Henry T. Richardson married one Fitty Flournoy nee Dawson. The said Fitty Flournoy was re-admitted to citizenship in the Cherokee Nation by an Act of the Cherokee National Council on December 1, 1894. Of the children herein applied for, Delia F. Richardson is the child of the applicant by his first wife, Sellar. Finis T. Richardson and Jasper C. Richardson are children by his wife Fitty. Edgar, Walter, Alice, Laura, Oscar, Claude and Edna Flournoy are the children of his said wife Fitty by a former husband.

The six older children were admitted to citizenship in the Cherokee Nation on December [illegible], 1894, with their mother as the members of her family. The youngest child Edna Flournoy was born in 1896 and was living at the date of this application. Delia F. Richardson is identified on the Cherokee Census roll of 1896, and Finis T. and Jasper C. Richardson are identified by birth affidavits on file with this Commission.

Etta Brauer is the daughter of said W. A. Dawson, and was a minor at the date of her father's admission. She was married in 1892 to a non-citizen but such marriage was not in accordance with Cherokee laws. She is identified on the Cherokee Census roll of 1896.

Melissa A. Dawson was married to the said W. A. Dawson in the State of Texas on September 28, 1873. The Supreme Court of the Cherokee Nation in the case of Melissa A. Dawson vs. W. A. Dawson, decided that Melissa A. Dawson, the applicant herein was a citizen of the Cherokee Nation by virtue of intermarriage with her said husband, W. A. Dawson. She is identified on the Cherokee Census roll of 1896, and she has not re-married since her divorce from said W. A. Dawson.

The evidence shows that Texanna Woolley has resided in the Cherokee Nation since 1884; that Etta Brauer and Melissa A. Dawson have resided in the Cherokee Nation, with the exception of temporary absences, since 1884; that Millie T. Dawson has resided in the Cherokee Nation since 1892; that Henry T. Richardson has resided in the Cherokee Nation since 1886, and that Kitty Richardson, his wife, has resided in the Cherokee Nation since 1894. The residence of the minor children included in this group is considered to be that of their parents, with whom they are living.

Group XIII, includes the following applications: Hiram F. Weddle, et al D 521; William D. Douthitt, D 522; Alonzo M. Fishback, D 543; Florence Morgan, et al D 737; John E. Fishback, D 845 and George A. Mabry, et al D 979. The persons embraced in these applications are related to the above named Dawsons. They are not claiming the right to enrollment by virtue of such relationship, but rely upon a separate adjudication of their rights.

The evidence shows that Hiram F. Weddle was married under a Cherokee marriage license, and in accordance with the laws of the Cherokee Nation on September 13, 1884, to Lula P. Douthitt, who was admitted to citizenship in the Cherokee Nation by the said "Spears Court" on September 13, 1884. Curtis, Morris O. and Roy Weddle are the issue of the said marriage. Hiram F. Weddle and his said wife are identified on the Cherokee Census roll of 1896, and their three children are identified by birth affidavits on file with this Commission.

William D. Douthitt is the brother of said Lula P. Weddle, and was admitted to citizenship in the Cherokee Nation with his said sister on September 13, 1884. He is identified on the Cherokee Census roll of 1896.

Alonzo M. Fishback was married under a Cherokee marriage license and in accordance with the laws of the Cherokee Nation on May 17, 1891, to Laverna A. Dawson. He had been previously married to the same wife in Texas in 1877, and has lived with her ever since. It appears that Laverna Fishback was re-admitted to citizenship in the Cherokee Nation by an Act of the Cherokee National Council on December 1, 1894. William A. and Annie B. Fishback are the issue of the said marriage. Alonzo M. Fishback and his said wife and children are all identified on the Cherokee Census roll of 1896, and his wife is also identified on the Cherokee pay roll of 1890.

Florence Morgan, the wife of Elbert L. Morgan, is the daughter of the Kitty Richardson heretofore mentioned and was admitted to citizenship in the Cherokee Nation on December 1, 1894 with the said Kitty Richardson as a member of her family. Clide and Alice A. Morgan are her children by her said husband. The said children are identified by birth affidavits on file with this Commission.

John R. Fishback is the son of Laverna Fishback, who was re-admitted to citizenship on December 1, 1894, as heretofore stated. He was a minor at the date of his mother's admission to citizenship and he is identified on the Cherokee Census roll of 1896.

George A. Mabry was married to one Edna Dawson in the State of Arkansas in 1884. He claims to have been married under a Cherokee marriage license to his said wife in 1889, but he presents no satisfactory proof of such marriage. Edna Dawson was re-admitted to citizenship in the Cherokee Nation by an Act of the Cherokee National Council on December 1, 1894. Roby and Charley Mabry are her children by her said husband, George A. Mabry. Edna Mabry is identified on the strip payment roll of 1894, and the two children were minors at the date of their mother's admission to citizenship.

The evidence further shows that Alonzo H. Fishback and his wife Laverna A. Fishback have resided in the Cherokee Nation since 1883; that Lula P. Weddle, William D. Douthitt, and John R. Fishback have resided in the Cherokee Nation since 1884, and that Florence Morgan and Edna Mabry have resided in said Nation since 1894. The residence of the minor children included in this group is considered to be that of their parents, with whom they are living.

All birth affidavits for the minor children embraced in this decision, and hereinbefore noted, are made a part of this record.

It is contended by the Cherokee Nation that the applicants herein are not entitled to be enrolled by this Commission because they have never been lawfully admitted or enrolled by the Cherokee authorities, and that the judgment of the Cherokee Commission on Citizenship and that Robert Morgan and his family was obtained by fraud on the part of said [illegible]

In considering the question at issue, it is the opinion of this Commission that it has no power, and that it is not the purpose of this proceeding, to review or to set aside the judgment in the Dawson case, or to determine such questions as were necessarily involved in the issues before the Cherokee Commission, and were passed upon by that Commission. In United States vs. Throckmorton, 98 U.S. Page 61, it is stated, "the doctrine is well settled that the Court will not set aside a judgment because it was founded on perjured testimony or for any matter which was actually presented and considered in the judgment assailed." Only such facts therefore, are considered by this Commission, as were not part of the record in the Robert Dawson case before the Teehee Commission, and which tend to show whether the judgment admitting the Dawsons was a bona fide judgment of the Teehee Commission, or whether such judgment is void because of fraud, and upon this proposition the burden of proof is upon those attacking the judgment.

Briefly stated, the circumstances attending the admission of the Dawsons appear to be as follows:

On September 24, 1881, an application was made to the Cherokee Commission on Citizenship known as the "Teehee Court" for admission to Cherokee citizenship of Robert Dawson and the members of his family above mentioned. The members of that Commission were Thomas Teehee, Alex Wolfe and T. F. Thompson. The first two were full blood Cherokee Indians; they could understand, but could not talk English. One D. W. C. Duncan was the Clerk of the Commission. The Dawson case was continued several times before final decision. J. M. Bryan appears to have been an attorney in the case, and after some delay he notified Francis M. Dawson that the case would be taken up by the Commission at its session in January, 1883, and also informed him that C.H.Taylor would look after Dawson's interests as he, Bryan, would be in Washington. On receipt of this notice Francis M. Dawson went to Fort Gibson, Cherokee Nation, and made arrangements with his uncle Samuel H. Benge to go to Tahlequah and conduct the case. Benge who is a witness herein testifies that he was connected with the Dawson case when it was commenced in 1881; that it was continued several times for want of evidence, and that in January, 1883. in company with F. M. Dawson he went to Tahlequah and while there secured the testimony of Tosh Rogers, a negro, who knew the Dawson's ancestors, and that after getting his evidence the case was submitted to the Commission. He further testifies that the Commission rendered a decision against the Dawsons and that next morning, the Commission reopened the case, but not upon motion of the witness and rendered a judgment admitting the Dawsons to citizenship. He further states that on his way home to Fort Gibson with Dawson he remarked to the latter, "it was a pretty hard blow when they rendered a decision against us," to which Dawson is alleged to have replied, "yes, but Duncan was the man to reach and he reached him with five hundred dollars."

Dawson denies ever having had such a conversation and says that he did not return to Fort Gibson with Benge but went home to Arkansas by a different route.

C. H. Taylor testifies that he was an attorney in the case and was present when the case was decided. He says there were only two Commissioners present Teehee and Wolfe. He further testifies that D. W. C. Duncan, the Clerk of the Court asked the witness to let him know when any large citizenship cases came up that he introduced F. M. Dawson to Duncan on the evening of January 10th, heard part of a conversation between them in which Duncan addressing Dawson said, "there is a hitch in your evidence, if that was straightened out it will be all right." Next morning witness says Dawson told him to call up the case, which he did. That there was no additional evidence introduced and no argument made, and that the case was then decided in favor of the Dawsons. Witness further testifies that Dawson gave him twenty dollars and said he would send him the balance in a short time, that in the course of ten days he sent him one hundred dollars with directions to pay over half of it to Duncan; that Dawson soon afterwards sent him another hundred dollars with the same instruction to give Duncan half of it.

Dawson denied the matters testified to by Taylor excepting in the matter of paying Taylor money, which he admits in part, but says that the twenty dollars mentioned was sent to Taylor about a year after the decision, and that he instructed Taylor to pay it over to Duncan to pay him for a land claim, and that the other money was in payment of J. M. Bryan's attorney fees which Taylor represented to Dawson he had for collection against him. Taylor's reputation for truth and veracity has been impeached by various disinterested witnesses.

The evidence which may be considered as tending to support the charge of fraud is the testimony of S. M. Denge, C. H. Taylor, Thomas J. Babcart, J. L. Clinkenbeard, James W. Lewis, C. G. Draught and David Meredith.

S. M. Denge testifies that a judgment adverse to the Dawsons was rendered by the Commission on the evening of one day and without any additional proceedings in the case that judgment was reversed on the morning of the next day.

Even if this were a material fact, there is no other proof that two judgments in the case were ever rendered. The record of the proceedings and judgment in the Commission's docket is all on one page, the entry of the application in 1881 and the first continuance being entered under authority of a former Commission and by a different clerk, and there is no evidence of erasure on that page. It is not an unusual thing for a Court to change its judgment, and this fact, if it is a fact, is not in itself any evidence of fraud.

Thomas B. Dabeart testifies that one James Dawson, a man of forty or fifty years of age, in company with Butler, the Commission's interpreter and Jim Smith, solicitor for the Nation, came to the witness in Tahlequah the evening of January 10, 1883, to borrow some money; that Dawson was vouched for by Butler as a responsible party and that Dawson told the witness that he had to have money that night, that his case was to be submitted the next day if he could get some money, that Smith had agreed to submit the case without evidence, and that witness thereupon let Dawson have ten dollars.

Admitting all this to be true and that the influence of these officials was purchased for the sum of ten dollars, the Commission fails to see how these alleged facts show that the Court was imposed upon or misled. Bribery of officials to use their influence with the Commission would not necessarily vitiate the judgment, but it must appear that the fraud, or corruption reached the members of the Commission and tainted the judgment itself. The case was not submitted without evidence as appears from the record, and it is shown that such evidence was carefully considered by that Commission. Furthermore, the evidence shows that there was no such person then in Tahlequah as the James Dawson described by witness.

Clinkenbeard testifies that he had a talk with Elbert Dawson about 1881; that Dawson told him he had only one witness, Dr. Baker of Arkansas, "an old man 85 or 90 years old who did not know straight up" and that he could give Dr. Baker four drinks of Arkansas whiskey and he would swear black was white. Witness further testifies that Dawson told him that money was what made the mare go in Texas, and that he had found out that it goes here too.

Assuming that this Commission can go into thequestion of perjury in connection with evidence in that case, the testimony of Clinkenbeard establishes, if anything, only the facts stated, and does not prove that Dr. Baker committed perjury in giving his testi-many before the Commission. Further, it is not clear that Dr. Baker was the only witness in the case. Benge stated that Tosh Rogers was a witness, Duncan is under that impression also, and T. F. Thompson, one of the Commissioners, states that he thinks there were three witnesses. The testimony of Dr. Baker, seems, however, to be the only testimony preserved of record. As to whether Doctor Baker offered perjured testimony by Dawson's procurement, it is proper to state that the evidence of W. H. Curtis and A. S. McClennon, witnesses for applicants, show that Doctor Baker was a man of integrity and was not addicted to drinking.

The testimony of James W. Lewis is to the effect that he had a conversation with F. M. Dawson about 1883, in which Dawson had told the witness that it had cost him seven hundred dollars to get his rights. Draught also testifies that he was an applicant for citizenship about 1881 or 1882, and that while his case was pending he had a talk with F. M. Dawson who told him that if he (the witness) ever got in, it would cost him seven hundred dollars, and that Dawson told him he had paid one witness three hundred dollars, and made arrangements with the Court to get the Dawsons in at one hundred dollars a family. David Meredith testifies that he had a talk with old James Dawson in 1886, and that the latter told the witness it cost him twelve hundred dollars to get his case through.

It can hardly be urged that such evidence is sufficient to show that the members of the Texas Commission were corrupted by the fraudulent use of money. So far as these witnesses have been able to testify the money spent by the Dawsons might have been for proper and legitimate purposes. F. M. Dawson gives a detailed statement of what the case cost him and his brother in a legitimate way. The presumption can not be indulged that such moneys were used for fraudulent purposes and the proof to the contrary must be very clear before this Commission will deny applicants the right to be enrolled upon that ground.

Admitting the truth of all the testimony in this case as to the actual transfer of money by the Dawsons, it appears that Duncan, Butler and Smith were the only beneficiaries of that money. There is no evidence that the members of the Commission received or were offered any of it.

The judgment entered in the Commission's docket shows the signature of the three members of the Commission appended thereto. There is some conflict as to whether Duncan signed Thompson's name, or whether Thompson affixed his own signature. Duncan testified that all three signatures were made by him as Clerk under authority of the Commissioners present, the two full bloods being unable to sign their names. T. F. Thompson testifies that he signed the original transcript of the judgment, which was made on the day of its rendition. The question, however, is not considered to be very material. The signing of judgments by each Commissioner appears to have been a matter of custom only. T. F. Thompson testifies that he remembers the Dawson case and recognizes the judgment therein as the final judgment of the Commission, and that there was no fraud or corruption in the procurement of that judgment by the Dawsons or by any one else so far as he knew.

Much evidence has been introduced by the Cherokee Nation for the purpose of showing that the ancestor, through whom the Dawsons claim, was not a Cherokee, and that other members of the Dawson family, claiming from the same source, have been denied Cherokee citizenship by subsequent Cherokee tribunals, and also by this Commission and by the United States Court. Such evidence, in the opinion of this Commission, is not competent for any purpose in this proceeding. The only question before this Commission is whether there was fraud in the procurement of the Robert Dawson judgment, and not whether the applicants are Cherokee Indians, or whether they ought to have been admitted to citizenship upon the proof submitted. These were questions presented, considered and passed upon by the Tecihee Commission. If their decision is a valid and regular judgment, it is binding on this Commission. If, on the contrary, the applicants have never been lawfully admitted to citizenship, because the judgment under which they claim is void, for fraud, then the question as to whether they are Cherokees by blood is not material, as this Commission has now no authority to admit them to citizenship.

While it is true, that since 1883, a number of applicants, members of the Dawson family, have been denied admission to citizenship in the Cherokee Nation, no argument derived therefrom is of any force, for it is also true that other members of the same family have been admitted to citizenship, and the action of the Cherokee authorities in admitting them has never been questioned by the Cherokee Nation. Whatever inference, therefore, may be drawn from these facts applies with equal force both for and against the validity of the judgment in question.

The Dawsons have lived in the Cherokee Nation, most of them since 1883; they have exercised the rights of Cherokee citizenship for many years, some of them occupying official positions in the Nation, and no protest seems to have been made against their citizenship until within the last few years. The records of the Cherokee Nation, in the possession of this Commission, show, that since 1883, there have been Commissions on citizenship charged with authority to investigate the judgments of former tribunals alleged to have been secured by fraud, and the Cherokee Legislature had power to order an investigation, and to create a tribunal with authority to set aside a judgment so obtained. No such action appears to have been taken by the Cherokee authorities with reference to the judgment of the Teehee Commission in the Robert Dawson case.

After a careful consideration of all the facts in this case this Commission is of the opinion that the evidence fails to establish that the Dawsons secured their admission to citizenship by fraud or that the judgment of the Teehee Commission as rendered January 11, 1883, was fraudulent as the result of corruption, bribery, or deception upon the part of the Dawsons, or their agents, and that such judgment, and also the judgment of the Spears Commission in 1884, and the Act of the Cherokee National Council of December 1, 1894, which have not been attacked by the Cherokee Nation, being regular on their face, must therefore be accepted by this Commission as the valid judgments of the duly constituted Cherokee authorities.

It is, therefore, the opinion of this Commission that,

(Group I.) Francis M. Dawson, son of Robert Dawson, Lula Dawson, Ray Dawson, Jessie J. Dawson, Jacob L. Dawson, Hugh A. Dawson, Laura A. Dawson, John Dawson, William R. R 13, Group XII page 24

Melissa A. Dawson applies for enrollment as an intermarried citizen.

The Commission, in its decision of December 23, 1902, held that all the parties to this group were entitled to enrollment as citizens, -- Millie T. Dawson, Henry T. Richardson and Melissa A. Dawson as citizens by intermarriage, and the others as citizens by blood.

Millie T. Dawson, (Group XII page 1), the record shows was married to W. A. Dawson, October 1892, and W. A. Dawson was admitted to citizenship in the Cherokee Nation by the Spears Commission or Court, September 9, 1884. He died October 1899. Her name does not appear on the 1896 roll.

Texanna Woolley (Group XII page 4), is a daughter of W. A.

Dawson, by his former wife. W. A. Dawson was admitted September 9, 1884, and he died October, 1899. Texanna Woolley was married to James Woolley November 27, 1895. She was a minor when her father was admitted to citizenship. Her name appears on the 1894 pay-roll.

Henry T. Richardson, (Group XII, page 9), July 11, 1886, was married to Mrs. Sellar, or Stella, or Nella Dawson, in accordance with the Cherokee laws. She was a daughter of W. A. Dawson, who was admitted September 9, 1884. She was a minor at the time her father was admitted. Her father died October 1899. She died about 1892. In September, 1898, Henry T. Richardson married his present wife, Kitty Richardson, formerly Flourney. His present wife's maiden name was Dawson. Kitty Richardson, Formerly Flourney nee Dawson, was admitted to citizenship in the Cherokee Nation by act of the National Council, December 1, 1894. Delilah Richardson is the child of the principal applicant by his first wife, Sellar Richardson. Minis T. and Jasper C. Richardson are children by his wife, Kitty Richardson. Edgar, Walter, Alice, Laura, Oscar, Claude and Edna Flourney are children of Kitty Richardson by her former husband. Delilah F. Richardson is identified by the 1896 census roll. All of the Flourney children except Edna, appear to be identified by the 1894 strip payment roll. Sellar Dawson, first wife of the principal applicant, was a daughter of W. A. Dawson, who was admitted to citizenship September 9, 1884. She was a minor when her father was admitted.

Etta Fraser, (Group XII. page 20), is a daughter of W. A.

Dawson, who was admitted to citizenship September 9, 1884. She was a minor when her father was admitted. She is identified by the Cherokee census roll of 1896. She has resided in the Cherokee Nation since 1884, except that she has temporarily been absent from the Nation at different times.

Melissa A. Dawson, (Group XII, page 24), was formerly the wife of W. A . Dawson, who was admitted to citizenship in the Cherokee Nation September 9, 1884. She is identified by the 1896 census roll. She has resided in the Cherokee Nation since 1884, except that she has been temporarily absent therefrom several times for the purpose of securing employment. W. A. Dawson died in October 1899. This applicant and her husband had, however, been divorced. The decree was rendered September 3, 1890. The applicant has not remarried since the divorce was granted, and the Supreme Court of the Cherokee Nation in the case of Melissa A. Dawson vs. W. A. Dawson, held that Melissa A. Dawson, this applicant, was a citizen of the Cherokee Nation by virtue of her marriage with W. A. Dawson.

In connection herewith attention is respectfully invited to office report of even date, transmitting group 1 of this consolidated case, and for the reasons therein stated the office recommends the approval of the Commission's decision, except in so far as it relates to the enrollment of Millie T. Dawson, Henry T. Richardson and Melissa A. Dawson, who apply for enrollment as intermarried citizens.

Very respectfully,

W. A. Jones.

Commission to the Five Civilized Tribes,
Muskogee, Indian Territory.

Gentlemen:

February 25, 1903, you transmitted the record in the matter of the application of Francis M. Dawson et al., for enrollment as citizens of the Cherokee Nation. In your decision of December 23, 1902, you disposed of the applications in the Dawson case by groups. In this letter Group xii, as disposed of by you, will be considered.

This group includes the application of Millie T. Dawson (D. 405), for the enrollment of herself as a citizen by intermarriage of Texanna Woolley (D.406), for the enrollment of herself and her minor children, Irene and Wilburn E. Woolley, as citizens by blood; of Henry T. Richardson (D 715), for the enrollment of himself as a citizen by intermarriage, and for the enrollment of his wife, Kitty, and his minor children, Delilah V., Finis T., and Jasper C. Richardson, and his minor step-children, Edgar, Walter, Alice, Laura, Oscar, Claude, Anna and Florence Flournoy, as citizens by blood; of Etta Brauer (R 12) for enrollment as a citizen by blood; and of Melissa A. Dawson (R 13), for enrollment as a citizen by intermarriage of the Cherokee Nation.

In said decision you disposed of all these applications except that of Florence Flournoy, who is included in application D 737, Group xiii, as Florence Morgan. You held that all of the applicants referred to above are entitled to enrollment as citizens of the Cherokee Nation.

Reporting in the matter October 16, 1903, the Commissioner of Indian Affairs recommended that yout decision be approved, except as to these applicants claiming enrollment by intermarriage. As to these applicants claiming by intermarriage, no action will be taken at the present time.

The record has been examined in detail respecting the applicants claiming by blood, to determine the origin of their rights, whether by birth or admission. An examination has also been made in respect to their residence in the Cherokee Nation, and their identification as citizens thereof, whether by enrollment or by birth affidavit. This investigation persuades the Department that your decision is correct as to those applicants claiming by blood. You are accordingly directed to enroll them as citizens of the Cherokee Nation.

The question of fraud in its relation to the Dawson case was disposed of by the Assistant Attorney General, in an opinion of February 18, 1904, copy of which was sent you February 24, 1904.

A copy of the Commissioner's letter of October 16, 1903, relating to this group, is inclosed.

Respectfully,

1 inclosure. Thos Ryan, Acting Secretary.

Department of the Interior,
Commission to the Five Civilized Tribes,
Vinita, I.T., October 4, 1900.

In the matter of the application of Lula Pearl Weddle for the enrollment of herself as a Cherokee by blood and her husband as a Cherokee by intermarriage; being sworn and examined by Commissioner Brockenridge, she testified as follows:

Q Give me your name, please? A Lula Pearl Weddle.
Q How old are you? A 26 years old.
Q What is your post office? A Albia Switch.
Q In what district do you live in? A Delaware.
Q Who is it you want to have put on the roll, yourself? A Myself, and husband and two children.
Q Are you a Cherokee by blood? A Yes, sir.
Q Your husband a white man or a Cherokee? A He is a white man.
Q How long have you lived in the Cherokee Nation? A Ever since I was a child.
Q Have you lived here all your life? A No, sir, I came here in 1884.
Q You have lived here then since 1884? A Yes, sir.
Q Where you admitted to citizenship by the Cherokee Commission? A I reckon so.
Q Have you a certificate of your admission? A I don't know, I have witnesses here.
Q Give me the name of your father? A L. M. Douthitt.
Q Is he alive or dead? A He is living.
Q The name of your mother? A Nancy C. Douthitt.
Q Is she alive or dead? A She is alive.
Q How long has she been dead? A 20 years.
Q What was your mother's maiden name? A Dawson.
Q Mary California Dawson, is that right? A Yes, sir.
(The applicant presents an official certificate showing that in January 1883, certain persons were admitted to Cherokee citizenship)
Q Is your mother's name on this list, this paper? A I don't know.
Q For what purpose do you hand me this paper? A That is my grandfather.
Q What is his name? A E. Dawson.
Q Elbert Dawson? A Yes, sir.
(The name of Elbert Dawson is found on the paper).
Q What was the name of Elbert Dawson's wife? A Sarah Jane Jones.
Q Do you claim that her name is on this paper? A My uncle handed it to me, I haven't looked at it, he is right here as a witness.

Francis Marion Dawson, being sworn and examined by Commissioner Brockinridge, testified as follows:
A Give me your name? A Francis Marion Dawson.
Q How old are you? A I am 52 years old.
Q What is your post office? A Oceola.
Q Are you the uncle of this lady here, Lula Pearl Weddle? A Yes, sir, she is my brother's daughter.
Q She has handed me a paper here, showing that certain people were admitted to citizenship in 1883, and on that paper is the name of Elbert Dawson; that is the name of your father, is it? A No, sir, that is my grandfather.
Q Was he admitted at the same time as you? A No, sir.
Q Then you don't pretend that her name is on there, do you?
A No, sir, her name is not on the paper.

Q There is a Jane Dawson here, but that is not his wife? A No, sir, that is my sister.
Q The name of the mother of this woman is not on this paper?
A No, sir.
(This paper is accepted as official evidence of the admission of the applicant's grandfather as stated, Albert Dawson.)

Lula Pearl Weddle, recalled, testified:
Q Is your mother has been dead 20 years she was dead before this paper was issued? A She died in 1880.
(The admission states that the persons admitted were entitled to all the rights and privileges of Cherokee citizenship within the Cherokee Nation, and they were admitted to the full and complete enjoyment of the same in all respects as native born Cherokees.)
Q Now you came here in 1884, did you? A Yes, sir.
Q And have lived here ever since? A Yes, sir.
Q Give me the name of your husband? A Hiram F. Weidles.
Q How old is he? A He is 33 years old.
Q Have you his marriage license and certificate? A No, sir, I have no living witness to my marriage but one.
Q Did he get out a Cherokee license? A Yes, sir.
Q Why hasn't he got it? A It got misplaced in some way.
Q In what district did he get that out? A Delaware.
Q When were you married? A In 1895.
Q What time in 1895? A January 9.
Q Has he lived with you ever since you were married? A Yes, sir.
Q Give me the names of your children, please? A Curtis, 4 years old next January.
Q What is the name of the next one? A Morris Owen, 2 years old next April.
Q Have you a certificate of the birth of each of these children?
A Yes sir.
Q Did you ever apply to the Dawes Commission for admission to citizenship? A We paid Judge Dennison to have one of our children put on.

Francis Marion Dawson, recalled, testified:
Q Do you know whether your family ever applied to the Dawes Commission for admission? A No, sir, they went down to the Dawes Commission to see if we were on this 1896 roll.
Q You never made application? A No, sir.
Q This certificate of admission appears to have been used in the United States Court; for what purpose was it in the United States Court in 1893? A It was simply recorded; I had that done myself.
(Lula Pearl Weddle on 1896 roll, page 553, No. 3412, Lula P. Weddle, Delaware district, Hiram F. Weddle on 1896 roll, page 593, No. 586, Delaware district.)
Q Do you know about your neice being married to her husband, Hiram F. Weddle? A I know this much, I was at the Court house and John Duncan was Clerk and her husband came over there to get a license to marry, and Duncan told me he issued the license.
Q You never really were at the marriage? A I heard of it.

Q Have they been living together ever since as husband and wife?
A Yes, sir.

The applicant presents an official certificate of admission of her grandfather to Cherokee citizenship as set forth in the testimony in 1883. She states that she came to the Cherokee Nation in 1884 and has lived here ever since. She is identified under her married name on the roll of 1896 as a native Cherokee. Her marriage and consequent change of name is established by her own and her uncle's testimony. For the further consideration of the rights conveyed to her by the certificate of admission referred to her, her application will at present be placed upon a doubtful card, and the final decision of the Commission will be communicated to you. When she supplies the Commission with certificate of birth of her two children named in the testimony, they also will be placed upon a doubtful card with her as Cherokees by blood. She states that her husband, identified with her on the roll of 1896, was married to her in January, 1895, in accordance with Cherokee law, and that he has lived with her in the Cherokee Nation ever since their marriage. She is not able to supply the Commission with a marriage license and certificate at this time. She is desired to supply the Commission with said license and certificate or with a copy of the official record relating thereto. He will be placed upon a doubtful card to await this testimony, as well as for the determination of the rights of his wife, through whom he claims.

xxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxx

(The printed record of the Cherokee Nation shows that a Lula Dauthitt was admitted by the Cherokee Commission September 13, 1894.)
Q Do you think that could have been your name? A Yes, sir.
Q Do you think you were admitted yourself at that time?
A No, I was just a child.
Q That doesn't keep you from thinking that is or isn't your name? A That is my name.
Q Did you have a brother named Dallas? A Yes, sir.
(His name is mentioned with that of the applicant.)
You are desired to supply the Commission with an official copy of your certificate of admission by your maiden name as just set forth.

. . . . . .

Now come the representatives of the Cherokee Nation and protest against the enrollment of this applicant, alleging that if she was admitted, she obtained her admission by fraud.

The applicant applies for the enrollment of himself, wife and six children.

Q Were these children all born since you were admitted into the Cherokee Nation? A Yes, sir.

The applicant is shown by the certificate of admission, cited in the testimony, to have been admitted to Cherokee citizenship, by the Commission on Citizenship, January 11th, 1883; he is identified on the roll of 1896, but the representative of the Cherokee Nation desires to make inquiry into the methods of that time, and for that reason, the application of the applicant will at present be placed on a "Doubtful Card." He has lived in the Cherokee Nation ever since his admission to citizenship. His wife was married to the Cherokee citizen before the United States law, and was married prior to his admission, and is never been readmitted according to Cherokee law. She has lived with him ever since his admission to citizenship, and she is identified on the roll of 1896. The application for her enrollment will be placed on a "Doubtful Card".

Their six children, as enumerated in the testimony are identified on the roll of 1896. They are living at this time, all having been born since his admission (Applicant's). These children will be placed with him on a "Doubtful Card". The applicant's marriage to the mother of these children is established by the marriage license and certificate filed herewith. If any additional papers, adverse are developed in this case, he will be given timely notice thereof.

The undersigned, being sworn, states that as stenographer to the Commission to the Five Civilized Tribes, he correctly recorded the testimony and proceedings in this case, and that the foregoing is a true and complete transcript of his stenographic notes thereof.

BEFORE THE HONORABLE COMMISSION TO THE FIVE CIVILIZED TRIBES.

In the matter of the enrollment :
of F. M. Dawson and others as :
Cherokee citizens. :

Depositions of sundry persons in behalf of the applicants for enrollment mentioned in the title, taken before me, Lewis T. Martin, a Notary Public in and for the Northern District of the Indian Territory, duly appointed, qualified and acting as such, at the office of C. B. Denison in the Gray-Halsell Building in the town of Vinita, Indian Territory, on Thursday the fourth day of October 1900, between the hours of one and a half o'clock and six o'clock in the afternoon of said day, in accordance with the agreement to take testimony, entered into between the applicants and the Cherokee Nation, by their respective attorneys, which agreement is hereto attached.

T. F. Thompson, being produced by the applicants, being first duly sworn to testify to the truth, the whole truth and nothing but the truth, testified as follows:

DIRECT EXAMINATION BY C. B. DENISON:

Q State your name, age, residence and occupation?
A T. F. Thompson, 55 years old, I live near Vinita, Cherokee Nation, I. T. I am a farmer.
Q How long have resided in the Cherokee Nation? A All my life.
Q Are you a citizen of the Cherokee Nation as now constituted?
A Yes, sir.
Q Upon what is that citizenship based, blood or otherwise?
A Blood.
Q What, if any official position have you held in the Cherokee Nation, and at what time?
A I was elected to the Cherokee Council in 1870 some odd, I don't remember the exact year, I was also on the Commission Court.
Q Do you remember when that was? A Some time in 1880 or 1881, I think, it may have been earlier.
Q Did that Commission or Court have anything to do with admission to citizenship in the Cherokee Nation? A Yes, sir.
Q State, if you remember, how many members of that Commission or Court, there were, and who they were besides yourself?
A There were three, Tehee, Wolf and myself, Tehee was President of the Court.
Q Where were the sessions of that body held? A Tahlequah, Cherokee Nation.
Q Did you have a Clerk? A Yes, sir.
Q Do you remember who that was? A D. W. C. Duncan.
Q Do you know whether the members of that Commission beside yourself, are living or dead? A Yes, sir, they are both dead.
Q Can you recollect now what period of time that Commission lasted?
A About two years I think, two sessions, and there was one session each year.
Q Were the sessions of that body held in Tahlequah, open to the public at all times when it was in session?
A Yes, sir.
Q Were the cases coming before that body heard in open session?
A Yes.
Q Witnesses examined orally? A Yes, sir.

Q Judgments of the Court or Commission pronounced in open session?
A In case of decisions I think they sometimes had secret sessions, yes, the judgments of the Commission were pronounced openly.
Q What you intended to convey by you answer to the former question was that after hearing the proof the Commission or Court deliberated in secret session upon the testimony taken before reaching a decision or announcing it? A After hearing all the testimony we went into secret session.
Q I will present you with a paper which the Notary will mark exhibit "A" and a copy of which he will attach to your deposition, and will ask you if with the exception of the certificate of record by H. L. Bragdon, Clerk, and John L. Adair Asst. Ex. Secretary, you recognize it as a paper you have ever seen before?
A I recognize the signature to it, but don't remember the instrument.
Q Which signature on that paper do you recognize? A My own.
Q That signature is in your own handwriting? A Yes, sir.
Q Do you know whether Thomas Tehee, president of the Commission could write in English or not? A No, I don't think he could.
Q How as to Alexander Wolfe, a member of the Commission?
A I don't think he could write either, I don't think either of them ever wrote except by touching the pen.
Q Were you, and are you familiar with the handwriting of D. W. C. Duncan, the Clerk of that Commission?
A Tolerably well, but it has been a long time since I saw any of it.
Q Will you look at the paper again and say whether you recognize his signature attached thereto?
A Yes, that is his signature to the best of my knowledge.
Q Do you preserve any personal recollection of the application before that Commission of F. H. Dawson and other members of the Dawson family, to be admitted as citizens of he Cherokee Nation by the Commission?
A I remember F. H. Dawson and his brother, that is about the only ones I remember.
Q The question was not as to the personal recollection of the individuals, but as to the claim being presented by the Dawsons for admission?
A Yes, there was such a claim before the Commission.
Q Can you state as to the citizenship of Thomas Tehee, whether he was a citizen of the Nation by blood or not?
A Yes, sir, he was always recognized as such, full blood besides.
Q What is your knowledge of Alexander Wolfe?
A About the same, he was also a full blood and recognized as a Cherokee.
Q Judge Thompson, if you possessed or had, or have now any knowledge of any corruption or bribery of the court or Commission, or any member of it by F. H. Dawson or any of the Dawson family or anybody connected with the presentation of their claim for citizenship, state it fully?
A None whatever as far as I was concerned, and I don't think there was by the balance of the Court.

CROSS-EXAMINATION BY W. T. HUTCHINGS:

Q Do you mean to say Mr. Thompson that your name attached to the certificate shown you is in your handwriting?
A Yes, sir.
Q That Mr. Duncan certified that this is a transcript of the decision in the case, he is mistaken, that is the original?
A No, I don't know, that may be the original, if that is not the original I did not sign it, if it is the original I signed it.
Q You state that the witnesses were examined orally before the Court, don't you know that is almost every case you took ex parte affidavits of witnesses when these witnesses were not present?

A I think we ruled exparte evidence out, as well as I remember.
Q Did you have any stenographer or anybody to copy the evidence?
Mr. Duncan did all of the copying.
Q Was the evidence copied and preserved?
A Yes, sir, I think it was.
Q What was done with that evidence, where was any of it ever put?
A I suppose it is at Tahlequah in the office of the Treasurer or Secretary.
Q When you went into secret session did you have Mr. Duncan read that evidence to you?
A Yes, sir, we went over the evidence thoroughly.
Q Did you allow the applicants or their attorneys admission to any of your secret sessions?
No, sir.
Q When you got ready to render your decisions did you then send for the applicants or their attorneys?
A No, sir.
Q And you rendered them in secret also, did you? A Yes, sir.
Q Have you any recollection who testified in the Dawson case, as to their claim? A No, sir, I have not.
Q Have you any recollection as to who they claimed their Cherokee ancestors were? A Yes, sir, they claimed the Rogers.
Q Did they claim relationship with any of the present families of Rogers residing in the Cherokee Nation?

The applicant objects to this question as tending to elicit testimony wholly incompetent and irrelevant to the issue, and not cross-examination of this witness.

A I don't know that they did, particularly.
Q How could your court determine when they claimed descent through some Rogers family, that that family was of Cherokee blood?

The applicant objects to the question upon the same grounds as their objection to the previous question.

A By the evidence they produced.
Q Didn't you make them prove that that family was well known at one time to be connected with the Cherokee Nation, and were citizens thereof? A Yes.
Q Who was the attorney for the Dawsons? A Old man Kounton Benge.
Q Could either Tehee or Wolfe speak English? A They could understand, but they never spoke English, they had an interpreter.
Q Did you ever talk to either of them as to whether they got anything for decidingthis case? A No, sir.
Q How long were you considering the case altogether?
A I could not say as to that, I think we were on it two or three weeks anyhow, I could not say positively now, they were a long time getting in testimony.
Q There were only two or three witnesses examined all told, were there not?
A I think so, three I think, they had quite a lot of affidavits, but we did not consider them.
Q Well the Court was a good while arriving at its conclusion after the evidence was closed?
A Yes, quite a good while, I don't remember the exact time.

RE-DIRECT EXAMINATION:

Q Do you remember who the interpreter the Commission had been, during the Dawson case.
A His name was Reese, I forget his given name.

Q Do you know whether he is living or dead?
A I don't know, he seemed to be in bad health at the time we had the case up, I think they are all dead but me and Mr. Duncan.
Q What was he, a Cherokee by blood?
A He was considered a Cherokee by blood.
Q Do you know where he lived at that time?
A No, sir, he lived in the South part of the Nation though, I think in Sequoyah.

D. W. C. Duncan being produced by the applicants after being sworn to testify to the truth, the whole truth and nothing but the truth testified as follows:

DIRECT EXAMINATION BY C. B. ELLISON:

Q Please state your name, age, residence and occupation?
A My name is D. W. C. Duncan, my age is 70 years, my residence is Vinita, Indian Territory, my occupation is a farmer.
Q How long has that been your place of residence? A Since 1874.
Q Are you a member of the Cherokee Nation as it is now constituted?
A Yes, sir.
Q Upon what is your citizenship based, a Cherokee by blood?
A Yes, a Cherokee by blood.
Q In January 1883, did you hold any official position in the Cherokee Nation, if so, what was it?
A About that time I held the position of Clerk of the Citizenship Court or Commission.
Q If you remember the names of themembers of that Commission or Court, please give them?
A The President of the Commission was Tehee I believe, and a member by the name of Wolfe whose first name I do n t recollect, and Mr. Thompson here.
Q T. F. Thompson?
A Yes.
Q Do you know whether those three members of that Commission were recognized citizens of the Cherokee Nation, and whether their citizenship was based upon blood or not?
A They were supposed to be citizens of the Cherokee Nation and their citizenship was based upon their blood.
Q Will you please look at the paper now handed you which the Notary has marked exhibit "A" to the deposition of Mr. T. F. Thompson, and a copy of which he will att ch to Mr. Thompson's depositions, and state whether with the exception of the certificate of H. L. Dragdon, Clerk, and of John L. Adair Asst. Ex. Secretary, you recognize the paper as one you have ever se n before?
A Yes, I think I have se n this before.
Q When, and where, if you re mber, did you first see that p per?
A This is a paper I drew up at the time I was acting as Clerk of the said Citizenship Court.
Q Looking at its date, was it drawn at you at the time it bears date?
A To the best of my recollection it was drawn at the date specified.
Q Do you recognize the signature to the certificate attached to that paper?
A Yes, that is my signature.
Q State if you know, in whose handwriting the body of the paper is?
A It is in my handwriting.
Q And at that time you were Clerk of t at Co mis ion? A Yes.
Q Will you please look at the signatures of the members of the Commission as they appear on that paper, and state if you can, by whom they were written?
A I think the first two is my handwriting, the last I recognize that as T. F. Thompson's.
Q Explain please, how you came to write t e sign tures of Thomas Tehee and Alex Wolfe to that paper?
A Thomas Tehee and Alex Wolfe were full bl oods and could not write, and in their presence, and at their request I wrote their signatures.

Q Was that the usual manner of certifying to the action of the Commission to applicants as to the decision of their application for citizenship, where admitted?
A In all instances where it was necessary for the Court to sign a paper of any kind it was adopted by that Court for the Clerk to sign Tehee's and Wolf's names and T. F. Thompson to sign his own name.
Q You didn't catch exactly my idea, but perhaps that answered it, what I intended to call you attention to, was whether when applicants had been admitted to citizenship a paper of this kind now shown you, signed by the judges as you have explained, and certified by you as a transcript of the proceedings was issued?
A My recollection is that a transcript of the judgment was issued to the applicant when they were admitted at their request, the judgment was entered upon the record when they were admitted and signed by the judges, and whenever the transcript was delivered to the applicants I think it was signed by the judges.
Q If you had any knowledge at the time the application of the Dawson family, F. M. and others whose names are mentioned in that paper, was pending before that Commission, or before or after, of any corruption or bribery, or attempted corruption or bribery of the Court or any of its officers, by F. M. Dawson, or any person connected in any manner with the claim of the Dawsons to citizenship in the Cherokee Nation, state it fully?
A I never heard a thing of the kind, I know nothing of the kind, all that I have ever heard about a question of that kind is what has originated recently, since the enrollment business has been inaugurated.

CROSS-EXAMINATION BY W. T. HUTCHINGS:

Q If as you certify, this paper was a transcript of the record, why did you have the judges sign it?
A I know no reason further than that was the practice at that time, the members of the Court being present I presume it was thought it would be as good or better than the signature of the Clerk.
Q Examine that signature of Mr. Thompson, examine the first T in his name and the T in Tehee's name and see if it is not all your own handwriting?
A No, I would not call that mine, there is a resemblance between the letters but I am satisfied it is a mere fortuity, accident.
Q How was the evidence taken in those cases?
A It was taken by the witness being present and detailing his knowledge of the case, I wrote it down sentence by sentence as it was delivered.

Q Do you know whether that evidence is in existance or not?
A I do not, the last I saw of it was when I turned the records over to the Executive office at Tahlequah, and I have not seen it since.
Q You say you never heard any talk about this being an improper case until very recently?
A Well, that would depend upon what you mean by recently, I don't think I ever heard of it prior to three years ago, I can safely say that did not.

Q Do you remember through what ancestor they claimed their right to citizenship here?

Objected to by applicants because the question tends to elicit testimony which is wholly incompetent and irrelevant, and because it is not proper cross-examination.

A They claimed their right of citizenship through a man by the name of Rogers, I don't recollect his first name.
Q Do you know how many Rogers families there are who have citizenship in the Cherokee Nation?
A I do.

SUPPLEMENTAL TESTIMONY in the matter of the enrollment of FRANCIS M DAWSON, ET AL., as citizens of the Cherokee Nation:

The case having been set for final hearing March 17, 1902, the following proceedings are had:

APPEARANCES:
Mr. A. S. McKennon, of counsel for applicants;
Mr. W T. Hutchings, of counsel for Cherokee Nation.

Mr. Hutchings: Comes now the Nation on the calling of this case and announces that it is ready for trial, provided permission is given to hereafter examine before the Commission, either at this place or Fort Gibson, the witness S. H. Benge, who has been regularly summoned to attend at this day and time but who is too sick to travel at this time and probably will be for some time to come. As evidence of a good faith of the Nation we hereby present an affidavit of the facts sought to be proven by the said Benge. If the applicant's counsel are willing to concede that the witness if present would testify to the facts herein set forth, the Nation is ready to proceed to trial without reservation of any kind. If they are not it desires to reserve this privilege of hereafter, either tomorrow or otherwise, this case being set for to-day and tomorrow, of examining before the Commission, or its authorized officer, this witness as above set forth.

Mr. McKennon: Applicants object to the introduction of the paper presented and do not admit that the witness, Samuel H. Benge if present would testify to the facts therein stated. They consent and desire that the testimony of said Benge be taken before the Commission at its office in Muskogee but not elsewhere, and protest against it being taken at any other place, with the understanding, however, that when taken we have opportunity to introduce any evidence we may desire in rebuttal.

Mr. Hutchings:
The Nation will pay all the expenses of the opposing counsel, their client and Commission officers in taking the deposition at Fort Gibson.

Commissioner Breckinridge: The allegations of this witness are material in their character and are quite tangent. The Commission in its investigation would acquire information of the character if it knew of its existence anywhere. While the functions of the Commission are well known are in many respects judicial yet it is invested with somewhat complex powers, such as [illegible] from time to time is business of certain character, [illegible] ordered to make a correct roll, which is a duty largely [illegible] hearing [illegible] is brought before them. [illegible] and [illegible] that roll and if evidence [illegible] before the Commission it may [illegible] that consideration of the law. The Commission [illegible] this information independent of any counsel [illegible] respect to the applicants and to the Nation.

is not able to come one of the Commissioners will go to Fort Gibson and to his bed-side, or send a proper official, if necessary to take his testimony. The only matter to consider, therefore, is one of convenience with respect to getting this testimony. Now, I understand that this witness is an extreme sufferer from Bright's Disease he is an old man and he may never be able to get out of the house, and it may be an injustice to him to subject him to a trip here, and therefore it seems to me better that counsel for plaintiff submit to a form of taking a deposition or else accompany an official of this Commission over to Fort Gibson and let his testimony be taken there.

After consultation with the attorneys upon the two sides it is found to be agreeable that the parties start to Fort Gibson to-morrow morning at half past eight o'clock, and it is agreed then and directed with an official of the Commission with a stenographer leave from the office of the Commission for Fort Gibson at 8:30 to-morrow morning.

FRANCIS M. DAWSON, the applicant, re-called for additional cross-examination on part of the Cherokee Nation:

MR. HUTCHINGS:

Q What is your name? A Francis M. Dawson.
Q Where do you reside? A In Afton.
Q You have been examined in this case heretofore, have you?
A I don't know which case it is.
Q In your own case? A Yes, sir.
Q Are you the one that is commonly called Bud Dawson? A Yes, sir.
Q You made the original application in the Dawson family for admission to citizenship in the Cherokee Nation, didn't you? No, sir; my brother.
Q What was his name? A A. E. Dawson.
Q You and Robert Dawson and Elbert Dawson and others applied September 24, '81, about that time? A Yes, sir.
Q And you were admitted about the 11th of January '83? A Yes, sir.
Q There were other members of your family that applied and were admitted after that time? A Yes, sir.
Q Do you or not remember the evidence offered in their to establish their cases was the relationship between yourself and Robert and others and the evidence of your admission by the Tah[illegible] Court. In all the subsequent admissions I mean the only evidence of [illegible] was the fact that you and your brothers had been admitted before and that they were kin to you; that was the only evidence offered in any subsequent cases, wasn't it; so far as you know?
A That in after-wards?
Q Yes, after wards? A I think there was some other evidence introduced.
Q Don't you know that there was never any evidence of any in any other case except evidence of Dr. Miller of Arkansas, sir.
Q Who else? A Oliver Miller.
Q Who was Oliver Miller; the records in this case show that he was [illegible] stroke and mutilated? A Oliver Miller [illegible]
Q What was he, who was he? A He is a [illegible]
Q Well, what station in life did he occupy? [illegible]
A Yes, sir, former.
Q Were you present when he testified? A Yes, sir.
Q Were you present when Dr. [illegible] testified? A Yes, sir

Q Have you a fair recollection of the testimony of those two men?
A No, not at all.
Q You don't read do you, Mr. Dawson? A No, sir, I dont read nor write; I can barely write my name.
Q Do you think you would remember the testimony of Dr. Baker if your mind was refreshed on it? A Part of it I think.
Q Were you present when you were admitted? A I was not in the room.
Q You were in Tahlequah at the time? A I was in the town of Tahlequah at the time.
Q I will read this paer to you and desire for you ro say whether or not it was the testimony of Dr. Baker in your case:

(Affidavit of Dr. Arthur Baker read to witness, and asked to be copied in the record later.)

Q Is that the correct transcript of the testimony? A It has been so long ago, I could not say; a part of it is, I could not remember it all.
Q Does that state the facts as to the family history correctly so far as you know about it? A So far as I know.
Q Now, you were a son of what Dawson? A Robert Dawson.
Q How many children did Robert Dawson have, and give me their names?
A Elbert Dawson, the oldest; Lila, Jesper, Francis Marion-
Q That is yourself? A Yes, sir; Elizabeth Dawson, Josephine Dawson, John Dawson, Joseph Dawson, Jane Dawson, James Dawson, Edna Dawson, Mollie Dawson, Wilburn Dawson.
Q Thirteen? (No response.)
Q Now, Rober Dawson's father was whom? A Sam Dawson.
Q Who was Sam Dawson's wife, your grandmother? A I have been told.
Q By family history is all you know? A She was called Polly Dawson.
Q Who was Anna Pruitt? A I don't know.
Q Never heard of anybody in the family by the name of Anna Pruitt? A No, sir, that was away back in the old country; I have heard talk about it, old Dr. Baker talked about it.
Q Your grand-mother's name was Polly Dawson? A Yes, sir; I don't remember seeing her but once, she died when I was small, died in Texas.
Q Pollie Dawson? A Yes, sir.
Q And she was known to be Pollie Rogers, her maiden name? A Yes, sir.
Q Daughter of Captain John Rogers? A Yes, sir.
Q Now, she died in Texas what time? A I don't remember.
Q Can't you guess at it? A Oh, I could guess.
Q Give your best recollection? A About '58 or '59, or no, '48 or '49; I don't say positive, just guessing at it.
Q How old a boy were you then? A I was born in '42.
Q Have you any distinct recollection of her? A No, sir.
Q Have you any recollection of all the children of Sam and Pollie Dawson; that is, your father, uncles and Aunts? I didn't see all of them.
Q Do you know by family history the names of all of them? A Yes, sir.
Q Will you give them to me?
A Betsy Ann Dawson, I believe her name was.
Q Did she marry a Petty? A Yes, sir; the next to Robert Dawson.
Q Your father? A Yes, sir.
Q Next one? A I think the next was James Dawson, and I think the next one was a girl, Edna Dawson.
Q Did he have two daughters? A Yes, sir.
Q Tell sir? A The next one was Joe Dawson; I never saw him. Filo Dawson.

Q That is Samuel R. Dawson, Riley Dawson? A Yes, sir.
Q Any other one? A That is all I know anything about.
Q Did he have any child by the name of John? A Yes, Jack.
Q Didn't you get Jack misplaced with Joe? A No, it was Joe; I have heard my father speak of him.
Q Then they have seven children? A I never saw them all.
Q How many of them did you ever see? A I saw Uncle Riley Dawson and Jarvis Dawson and Jack Dawson and Betsy Ann Petty; I don't think I saw that one of Pa's sisters and brother, they went to Mississippi I think.
Q Do you know what your family history says that the mother of your grandmother, Sallie Rogers' name was? A We have no history.
Q Well, as it was brought down to you; did you ever hear anybody say what your great grandmother's name was? A No, I don't remember.
Q What is that other man, Oliver Millerthat testified in your case? A He testified in James Dawson's case; he never testified in my father's case.
Q Well, didn't anybody testify in your case but Dr. Baker?
A Yes, sir, several other witnesses.
Q Who were they? A I don't remember; my mother got them witnesses around Tahlequah, old people.
Q Were you present? A No, sir.
Q You were only present when Dr. Baker testified? A Yes, sir.
Q Now, do you find any mistakes in Dr. Baker's statement there?
A I could not say all of them was correct or not, part of it is correct.
Q What part is correct? A Why about knowing the family over there.
Q Who is Buck Dawson? A My brother.
Q What is his name? A We always called him Buck, it is Elbert, E. Dawson.
Q Who went with you the first time you went up to make application for citizenship do you remember? A With my brother.
Q The first time? A I got my brother in Texas.
Q Which one? A E. Dawson.
Q That is Elbert or Buck? A Yes, sir.
Q You were living in Arkansas? A Yes, sir.
Q And he was living in Texas? A Yes, sir, and another one of little brothers, Dr. Dawson now:
Q Dr. Dawson now? A Yes, sir.
Q What is his name? A James.
Q And you three went there? A Yes, sir.

Mr. McKennon: Applicants by their counsel object to all the statement of the witness relating to the testimony introduced before the Cherokee Citizenship Commission, and the history of the family as detailed by him, because the same is incompetent and irrelevant, and cannot be used for the purpose of impeaching the integrity of the judgment of said Commission, or either of the Commissioners in admitting members of the Dawson family.

Commission: The objection of the Attorney for the applicants to the testimony above will be noted. The same will be filed and noted for what it is worth.

(Attorney for applicants waives examination.)

C. E. TAYLOR, being duly sworn, testified as follows on part of the Cherokee Nation:
MR. HUTCHINGS:

Q State your name? A O. M. Taylor.
Q Where do you reside, Mr. Taylor? A In Nowata, Coffeyville.
Q Were you an attorney before various citizenship Courts along in '21 to '25 in the Cherokee Nation at Tahlequah? A Yes, sir.
Q Were you attorney for F. M. Dawson commonly known as Bud Dawson? A Yes, sir.
Q Were you present at the taking of testimony in that case? A No, sir; I wasn't present.
Q Do you know who composed the court that decided the case at that time? A Yes, sir.
Q Who were they? A Tom Tehee and Alex Wolfe and Tommy Thompson.
Q Do you know whether or not they were all there when the case was decided? A No, sir, there were only two of them present.
Q Which two? A Tehee and Wolfe.
Q Who was the Clerk of the Court at that time? A Mr. Duncan, D. W. C. Duncan.
Q Do you know what witnesses were used in the case of Bud Dawson? A No, sir; now I was the attorney in the case and the evidence had already been filed before the Court.
Q When were you made attorney? A I was only called in as an attorney at the—Well, Mr. Duncan came down there, and Mr. Bryant had the case and several other attorneys had the case and he employed me.
Q Did you read the evidence in this case? A No, sir.
Q Did you deliver any money? A Now, I was the attorney in the case and I don't think it would be right for me to make any statement.
Q Now, you have claimed your privilege, I ask that you answer the question? Did Dawson ever hand you any money with the direction to pay it to either member of the Court or the Clerk of the Court, D. W. C. Duncan, and if so state the amount? A I had a head of trouble over this matter.—

Commission: Just answer the question, Mr. Taylor.

A Being the attorney I don't believe it is right for me to answer that question.

Commission: Do you refuse to answer? A Yes, sir.

Q Did the matter to which you object to testifying occur prior to the rendition of the decision admitting to citizenship or afterwards? (No response)

COMMISSIONER BRECKINRIDGE:

Q Do you decline to reply to the last question? A I don't think it is right; I was attorney in the case.

Q Mr. Taylor, do you object to answering that question? A Yes, sir. You refuse to answer that question, do you? A I had rather not answer it.

Q Either answer it or say you won't answer it? A I had rather not answer it.

Q Mr. Taylor, you have answered a number of questions down to this point, and it is at this point that you prefer to claim your privilege, as an attorney, do you? A Yes, sir.

Com'r Breckinridge: The power in regard to these matters is lodged in the United States. The Court is clothed with special power with reference to the orders that arise through this Commission. Of course the decision rendered by the Court made for the sake of a correct roll the fullest information possible, but it is subject to the limitation of law, and it is not for this Commission to decide of the law in the matter of this character with any authority as I understand it, but this office, but to report the matter to the United States Court for the Court to pass judgment.

Under Section 21 of the Curtis law as it is commonly called Act of June 28 1898, the members of the Commission shall in performing all duties required of them by law, have authority to administer oaths, examine witnesses and send for papers and persons, and the court is clothed with authority to enforce obedience. The law having enumerated certain powers goes on to say so far as all others are concerned to enable said Commission to take rolls as herein required, and to punish anyone who may in any manner or by any means obstruct said work. Now, the Commission will report the facts to the United States Court and let the Court decide whether or not you are within your lawful privilege. It seems that you refuse to answer questions, or at least one question, which tends to establish as to whether or not you are claiming what what is commonly considered a matter of privilege--according to an authority referred to by an attorney, but the enforcement of an answer seems clearly to be a matter for the Court to deal with.

Q Now, Mr. Taylor, in regard to the last question asked you by Mr. Hutchings, one of the Counsel for the Cherokee Nation, I direct that you make answer, and if you refuse I shall report the matter to the United States Court; do you refuse? A Yes, sir.
Q Now, you have read to you, Mr. Taylor, the first of the two questions propounded to you by Mr. Hutchings, and which you declined at the time to make answer; viz: as to whether Mr. Dawson sent you money to pay to the Court or to any officials of the Court, it seems to come to the question as to whether there was any collusion between you and Mr. Dawson and any member of the Court; now, I understand that you refuse to answer that question upon the grounds that you were Mr. Dawson's attorney? A Yes, sir.
Q Now, I require that you answer that question, do you refuse? A Yes, sir.
Q I shall also report that refusal to the United States Court as it seems to come under the provision of law, relating to conspiracy between you and Mr. Dawson which apparently considered a privilege matter, and you base your refusal now, not upon the ground that you are incriminating yourself, but that you were counsel for Mr. Dawson. I will report the matter to the Court and you will be informed at the time of any proceedings in the matter I caution you not to talk with Mr. Dawson or any of the applicants in this case.

Mr. McKennon: Applicants do not object and have not objected to the witness answering on account of his privilege as an attorney or for any other cause whatever, they only want to object to the incompetence and irrelevancy of the testimony, with the privilege of cross-examining upon any testimony given by the witness.

COM'R BRECKINRIDGE:
Q You still refuse having the consent of the attorneys in the case to make answer? A I will just ask your Honor to let the matter go over until morning.

Commissioner Breckinridge: It will rest until in the morning at its present status: it is after business hours now.

As for the objection made by Captain McKennon, Counsel for the applicant, it will be taken into consideration, but will not be granted at the present.

(The Commission adjourns until 1:30 P. M. to-morrow, March 13, 1901.)

SUPPLEMENTAL TESTIMONY in the matter of the enrollment of FRANCIS M. DAWSON ET AL., as citizens of the Cherokee Nation:

Appearances:
Mr. A. S. McKennon, of Counsel for applicants.
Mr. W. T. Hutchings, of Counsel for Cherokee Nation.

SAMUEL H. BENGE, being duly sworn, testified as follows on part of the Cherokee Nation:
MR. HUTCHINGS:

Q State your name? A Samuel H. Benge.
Q Where do you reside? A Fort Gibson.
Q How old are you? A I am 70 years old, going in 71.
Q Are you a citizen of the Cherokee Nation? A Yes, sir; Cherokee by blood.
Q State what official position you have held in the Cherokee Nation and what your general connection with the Nation officially in the last 40 years? A Well, I had several; I have been Sheriff, Councilman, Senator, Delegate to Washington; had a hand in making the treaty of 1866, I am the only one living that signed that treaty; President of the National Council of different tribes of Indians.
Q Were you acquainted with F. M. Dawson, commonly called Bud Dawson? A Yes, sir; I knew him.
Q State you connection with and what you know about his citizenship case before what is known as the Thomas Tehee Citizenship Court? A Mr. Dawson came down, I was living down below here, he come and employed me to tend to his case and we went to Tahlequah, I believe if I ain't mistaken in 1881 and filed his case there; we went several times and continued his case on for the want of evidence, and finally while we was up there we run across one old darkey by the name of Tosh Rogers; we got his testimony and after we got that testimony we concluded that it was sufficient to go into the trial with. Tosh lived here at Fort Gibson, he was a horse trainer down here and stayed here; he claimed that he knew the Rogers and belonged to one of them and after what we thought we had sufficient evidence we submitted our case to the Court for trial, and the Court went to work and rendered a decision against Mr. Dawson. I told Mr. Dawson right there that "our case is dough", just made that remark, and he just made the remark "never mind", and next morning they taken up his case again and they rendered a decision in his favor. I filed no motion nor any evidence at all whatever; I give the case up right there and the decision was then given in his favor, and on our way back from Tahlequah, why we got to talking about the case and I told him: "it was a pretty hard blow when they rendered that decision against us." He said: "yes, but Duncan was too much to reach", but he reached him with five hundred dollars.
Q What position did Duncan occupy? A He was a Clerk of the Court.
Q Duncan an educated man or—? Yes, sir; he was all educated man.
Q Who were the members of the Court? A Tom Tehee, Alex Foreman and [illegible] Thompson.
Q How many of those could speak English at all? A One.
Q Who was that? A Tom Tehee.
Q [illegible] attorney that represented the Nation in those cases?
A [illegible] Benge.

Q That was his given name? A Wilson Sanders; was it Wilson Sanders?
A Wilson Sanders.
Q Was he an educated man, or could speak English well? A No, sir.
Q Did Mr. Dawson say anything about the matters having cost him a good deal of money? A He said it had cost him a right smart.
Q Was any remark made on the way back about the opening up of the case, and if so, what? A He asked me if I thought the case was ever investigated eventially and I told him I didn't know.

MR. McKENNON:

Q Were you ever a witness in the Dawson case, Judge, in any of those investigations that have been made since that time? A I don't know that you might call it a witness; that young man came to me once at Tahlequah, and asked me to help him up there that the case was going against him, him and his mother and all was about knocked out and I interceded and done what I could there before the Committee. I was not a witness but that is as I don't for him.
Q That was Mr. Graham, wasn't it? A Yes, sir.
Q Have you had conversations with Mr. Graham since that time about it? A Now, I might, I don't recollect, I might have had conversations with him.
Q Well, after the Dawes Commission began taking a census of the Cherokees and when they were about Sallisaw down here, did you have a conversation with him here in Fort Gibson about the matter?
A Now, I just can't tell you; I have seen him on several occasions, but the conversations we might have had I can't state.
Q To refresh your memory I will ask you if he did not tell you that they were making a fight on the Dawson family and he wanted to know of you whether that judgment in favor of Robert Dawson's family was fairly rendered, and did you not then tell him that it was all right, that it was fairly obtained? A Not as I recollect of; all he was; that is as I have stated he talked to me in regard to his father, himself and probably his brothers and sisters, I don't recollect how many there were, but he told me they were rejected, that is just the words he used.
Q When? A It has been sometime ago.
Q Here in Fort Gibson? A Well, that is I saw him here in Fort Gibson, and then I saw him in Tahlequah.
Q Well, did he here in Fort Gibson ask you particularly about the Robert Dawson judgment, as to whether it was fairly obtained or not?
A No, sir; he was basing his claim on the Dawson case, that is the way he-
Q That is the principal Dawson family? A Yes.
Q When was this other written statement here made, when was this made by you? (referring to affidavit heretofore referred to.)
A Yesterday I reckon.
Q Who came to take this? A Mr. Starr.
Q Who else was present when this was taken? A No, sir.
Q Now had you told about this matter, Judge? A No one as I know of.
Q Do you know how it was that they knew that you knew this?
A No, sir..
Q You never made any statement? A Never made any statement that I recollect of except I might have talked with Scales, and Mr. talked about these cases a good many times; if I ever made a statement it was to Joe Ab Scales.
Q How did Mr. Starr know? A I couldn't tell you how he knew.

Q He came alone here as a N tary Public? A He came alone here as a Notary Public. All he said when he come, he says "we understand that you know something in regard to these cases", I said " what case," and he went to work and named Shoemake case and Dawson case.
Q And thereupon you made this tatement? A He said he wanted to qualify me.
Q Are you certain Judge that after the rendition of that judgment Mr. Dawson came back here to Fort Gibson with you?
A Yes, sir; we was together.
Q Let me ask you if it was not a very cold day when he came here and he went over ahead of you and you went over to Tahlequah the next day or two after he left? A My recollection was he and I went together.
Q And returned here together? A Yes, sir.
Q Did he not leave you there and go back direct to Arkansas?
A No, sir, we care here together. If my memory serves me right, I might be mistaken but then I don't believe I am, he came from Webbers Falls up here to my house, that is according to his statement.
Q What amount of fee did they pay you? A I don't know as that is in connection with the case whatever the money they paid me.
Q How didthey pay you? A Paid me the money.
Q Who paid it to you? A Dawson there and that fellow, young fellow paid me some.
Q Mr. Grahar? A Yes.
Q At the same time? A Oh, no, he wanted me to intercede for him at Tahlequah and paid me to do something for him which I did.
Q I will ask you if Mr. F. M. Dawson here did not obtain two copies of the judgment one of which you sent in a letter in which you wrote to his brother living in Texas and that brother in Texas, the one they called Buck, didn't send you $50 that they paid you? A No, if I ever got a letter of Buck whatever you might call him, I don't recollect it and if I ever got a nickel from him I don't recollect it. Old man paid me what money I got from it. I don't know nothing about his brothers; he told me he had an uncle living over in Arkansas, but not living down in Texas, I don't know about it.
Q Where did he pay you the money? A Paid it here at home.
Q Before you went out? A He paid me fifty dollars before we went up and when we went up yonder he paid me fifty dollars more; if you want to know what I got, I got one hundredn dollars.
Q You were acting as his attorney in the case? A Yes, sir.
Q How many judges were there present when the judgment was rendered in his case?
A Yes, sir. A Well, according to my recollect there was all there, but if they were not all there, Tom Thompson was sick. Tehee and Wolfe.
Q Don't you remember that they were all present? A No, I think they were present though.
Q Who else was present at the time? A Oh, I could not tell you, there were several people in the house; could not tell you at all.
Q Were there several in the house the evening before the judgment was rendered against them as you say? A Yes, there were several in the house.
Q And several in the house when the judgment was rendered the next day? A I don't know how many there was.
Q Do you remember the names of any of them? A Why not exactly, mostly full bloods.
Q How long didyou remain out at Tahlequah on that trip?
A I guess I was there about three days.

Q Tending to this case alone, or did you have other cases? A no, sir.
Q Do you know of your own knowledge that the judges received any money (this question asked at the instance of Mr. Graham present) A I don't know whether the judges received nay or not.

---oooOOOooo---

I, J. O. Rosson, do hereby certify upon my official oath as stenographer to the Commission to the Five Civilized Tribes that I correctly recorded the testimony had this day in the above case, and that the foregoing is a true and complete transcript of My stenographic notes thereof.

(Signed) J. O. Rosson.

March 18, 1902. Commission convened pursuant to adjournment.

Appearances:
Mr. A. S. McKennon, of counsel for applicants.
Mr. W. T. Hutchings, of Counsel for Cherokee Nation.

C. H. TAYLOR takes the stand and continues his testimony.
BY MR. HUTCHINGS:

Q Mr. Taylor, you said you would consider the matter yesterday and let us know whether you would answer those questions today; have you decided what you would do about the matter? A Well, it is like this, of course I don't want to be held as in contempt of the Court.
Q You would be held in contempt and the other Court would make you answer? A That being he case of course I would make a statement.
Q Are you acquainted with D. W. C. Duncan, the Clerk of what is known as the Tehee Citizenship Commission Court? A Yes, sir.
Q Did you ever have any conversation with him about letting him know of the different character of cases that would come up before the Court that you knew of, whether they were good ones or bad ones? A No, the only thing that ever come up in that respect; he asked me if whatever large cases that would come up befoe the Court to let him know.
Q Did you have any talk with him about the Dawson case during the progress of its trial or before and ever introduced Mr. F. M. Dawson to him, or carry him to him? A I spoke to him when Mr. Dawson came to Tahlequah to see about his case, and he said that he would take the papers over to his room, the Dawson papers.
Q Did you see him again that night? A Yes, sir; after supper I went down to his room.
Q Did he ask you about the Dawsons or Dawson case? A He asked me where Dawson was.
Q Which Dawson are you referring to now, F. M. Dawson, known as Bud Dawson? A Bud Dawson.
Q Well, what didyou reply to him? A I told him that I thought he had gone to church.
Q Did you find Dawson after church? A Yes, sir, he told me to go and bring Dawson down and I did so; Dawson was in church.
Q You carried Dawson to him? A Yes, sir.

Q Did you remain during the conversation? A Only a minute.
Q What was said if anything while you were present? A Mr. Duncan spoke to Mr. Dawson and says "there is a hitch in your evidence."
Q Go ahead and state what else he said? A He said "if that was straightened out it would be all right," and I turned and went away, I says, "gentlemen, I will go home."
Q Did you know of their having any other conversation or communication after that? A No, sir.
Q You left them there together yourself? A Yes, sir.
Q Did Mr. Dawson give you any directions the next morning about submitting the case? A Yes, sir, he asked me to call it up the case.
Q The next morning? A Yes, sir.
Q Had there been any additional evidence offered? A No, sir; there was not additional testimony offered.
Q He told you the next morning to call up the case? A Yes, sir.
Q Was it called up and submitted the next morning? A Yes, sir.
Q Now, how many of the members of the Court were there present that morning? A There were only two, two full-blood Indians.
Q Could they speak english at all? A Tehee could talk a little, talk some.
Q Did that Court have open sessions all the time or what is called executive sessions sometimes? A Well, I don't remember about that; it was generally when the case was submitted th attorneys would go out. The parties would go out and they would determine the case.
Q Well, did they go out into that sort of executive session the next morning on the Dawson case? A Well, we went out when the case was submitted.
Q And was the decision rendered that morning in their favor?
A Yes, sir.
Q Who notified you of the decision of the Court? A Why, Mr. Dawson.
Q Do you remember whether he went out with you or was in there during the consideration of the case? A I think he went out with me.
Q Did you at any time thereafter receive any money, checks or other evidence money from Mr. Dawson with direction to turn it in part over to D. W. C. Duncan, the Clerk of that Court? A Mr. Dawson gave me 20 dollars and said he would send the balance in a short time, said he would send some more money in a short time.
Q Well, did he send any money afterwards? A Yes, sir, in the course of ten days or two weeks he send a hundred dollar check, draft.
Q What did he direct you to do with it? A He directed me to give D. W. C. Duncan half of it.
Q Did you give him half of it? A Yes, sir.
Q Did he send you any at any other time after that? A Well, in the course of a couple of weeks he sent me a hundr d dollars more.
Q Did he direct you to turn any of that and if so how much, to D. W. C. Duncan? A He told me to give him half of it,
Q Did you give him half of it? A I did, sir.
Q Do you remember whether or Dr. Arthur Baker was the principal witness in behalf of the Dawson case? A No, sir, I don't because I never had any connection with the case, but I he rd that he was a witness in the case.
Q No argument was made when you submitted the case? A No, sir.
Q Just submitted it on the testimony? A Yes, sir.

MR. McKENNON:

Q Are you a citizen of the Cherokee Nation? A Yes, sir.
Q Were you born and reared in the Cherokee Nation? A No, sir. I was born in the old Nation.

Q When did you come to the Cherokee Nation? A Come here in 18[illegible].
Q How long have you been practicing law in the Cherokee Nation?
A I think since '68.
Q You have done a great deal of citizenship business haven't you?
A Yes, sir.
Q You were in the United States Court at Fort Smith on charges in regard to the citizenship business? A Yes, sir.
Q Were you convicted there? A Yes, sir; I was convicted there on this very case.
Q And served a term of what length? A I was sent to the jail hospital for sixty days and I stayed in about 38 or 39 days, and I was released.
Q When was that? A I don't remember how long ago it has been.
Q You say it was in regard to this case? A Yes, sir; this case was the bone of contention; Clem Rogers and the Chief, they are the ones that had me arrested, carried to Fort Smith.
Q Well, now, were you charged with an offense against the law in this case, or was it in regard to some other case? A Well, it was in regard to using the mail for fraudulent purposes.
Q Sending out propositions and obtaining case for citizenship for people [illegible] Cherokee Nation? A No, sir, it was for answering correspon[illegible].
Q Not relating to this case at all? A Well, this was the main charge, Clem Rogers went before the Court there and stated that I had got in at least three hundred Dawsons, that they were white people and not entitled to citizenship and that was the main trouble.
Q Well, now, was the charge based upon that or was it based upon your letters you sent out to other people? A That was the charge for using the mail for fraudulent purposes.
Q The use of the mails for fraudulent purposes not in connection of this case was it? A Not particular of this case.
Q Then the trouble you had was the prejudice of Clem Rogers and others caused by your connection with the Dawson case; that is what you mean to say? A Yes, sir.
Q Why did you say because you were charged with an offense based upon this case? A Well, the prejudice grew out of this case.
Q Now, then, you had full conversation with the representatives of the Cherokee Nation as to your testimony in this case, did you not before you came on the stand? A Yes, sir.
Q You had told them of these particulars before you came on the witness stand did you not? A Yes, sir.
Q Yet when you came on the stand you assumed to have conscientious scruples as to answering as to matters which occured between you and your client, Bud Dawson, in relation to this [illegible] matter and declined to answer claiming your privilege as an attorney did you not? A Yes, sir; I didn't want to make a statement at all in the matter.
Q You had voluntarily made a statement to the representatives of the Cherokee Nation? A Yes, sir; I had stated to Mr. Hastings; he summoned me and I come down here and I didn't want to make a statement to him but he insisted.
Q He had no power to compel you to make a statement? A No, sir.
Q You could then make it very freely and your conscience did not hurt you, but when you came on the stand you had every conscientious about it? A I didn't want to make a statement at all unless I would be put in jail here if I didn't.
Q But you had armed them with information by which they could ask you those questions when you came on the stand? A I had told Mr. Hastings

Q You knew when you gave him that information that you would be brought on the stand as a witness, did you not, by reason of that? A No, I didn't know that I would be compelled to make a statement in the matter, a sworn statement.
Q You thought you would not be compelled to answer?
A I didn't think the law would compel me to make a statement.
Q Why then did you make a statement to him about it? A Oh, he was asking me about it, and I told him that I didn't want to make a statement, and I didn't for quite a while after I came down here.
Q When the enrollment division of the Dawes Commission was in Tahlequah, in the winter of 1900, did you not there meet F. M. Dawson and did you not then and there say to him "I told Shoemake I would be for him if he would employ me in his case and if he didn't I would be against him, and the same to you?" A No, sir; I said to him this; I says that if there is not something done that I will likely be summoned against you and Mr. Shoemake both.
Q What did you mean by that? A Well, I just meant this, I just left the matter with him to say what he wanted to do in the matter; I only spoke a word or two about it. I was going out of town just as he came in.
Q When you told him if something was not done you would be summoned as a witness against him; what did you mean by that? A Well, I just meant that the chances were that the Nation would summon me against him.
Q What did you mean by the expression "if there was not something done" that you would be summoned as a witness?
A Well, I meant this, if I was re-employed in the matter if he was to have a case and I was re-employed I would not be required.

Q You could be required to make a statement as to declarations made to you by your client to you in one instance, but if a little more money was put up you could not be required to make a statement; is that what you mean? A I didn't think I could be forced to make a statement at all in the matter.
Q Why did you make that expression to him "if something wasn't done you might be summoned as a witness" if you believed you could not be made to make a statement? A I meant if I was employed in the case.
Q If he would put up you would not testify? A That they could not force me to testify.
Q About the month of February, 1901, in the town of Wagoner, Indian Territory, did you not send your son to get Graham to come to the hotel at night, and did you not then and there say to Gid Graham; "you people are on the doubtful list and if you will give me $500. I will make it all right and see that you are enrolled and if you don't I will see that you don't get on"? A No, sir; I got a letter from Gid Graham in which he asked me to certify that the case was all right and after I met him I told him that I could not do it, that the case was crooked, he then said to me, he says, "I will give you a hundred dollars", he says "will you take a hundred dollars," I said "no, sir." I didn't make any bid, that is I didn't set no price with him.
Q You did not say to him then what I have embraced in that question there? A No, sir.
Q You did have a conversation with him about that time and at that place, did you not? A Yes, sir.
Q You say you didn't make any bid or set any price? A No, sir; he offered me a hundred dollars.
Q Why did you send for him to come to the hotel? A In answer to his letter.

A Did you not [illegible] yesterday morning on the street in Muskogee, Indian Territory, in a conversation with W. H. Shoemake say to him: "You have made a great mistake in not keeping in your employment and so have the Dawsons and it will go hard with you and you will see it"? No, sir; I says to Mr. Shoemake, I says: "Who have you employed in your case," and he says "Judge Thomas and Mr. Owen." I said "It might have been a advantage to you if you had retained me in your matter;" Well, he says "there was nothing wrong in my case" and I says "no, there is nothing wrong on earth in your case that I know of." He said all he wanted was justice and I said "I don't know a thing on earth against you," and I says "there is not a thing on earth wrong in your case as I know it came up fairly and squarely and decided in your favor."

Q You said nothing to him about the Dawson case? A Yes, I said to him "it might have been well if the Dawsons had retained me in their case." I said "I am summoned on the part of the Nation and I don't want to make a statement and I want if I can possible avoid it."

Q Was that before or after you talked with Mr. Hastings, the representative of the Nation? A It was afterwards.

Q You meant by that if you had refused to answer you would have gone to jail? A No, sir; if they had employed me before hand I meant not now.

Q You mean that if they had employed you before hand you would not have given this information to Mr. Hastings? A I would not be required, being the attorney.

Q Were you required to give him the information; did you know that you had to give him any information? A Who do you mean.

Q Mr. Hastings. A I did refuse him and he insisted.

Q Well, he no authority to compel you to do it? A No, sir; I don't know whether he did or not.

Q As a lawyer you knew that he did not have authority to compel you to make a statement to him? A I told him tht I was an attorney in the case and I didn't want to make any statement at all.

Q Why did you do it? A Well, he intimated to me it would go no further. He said to me "I will not make this matter — I will not use it;" that is, what I stated to him was part in confidence.

Q And he pledged you his word that it would not be used? A Well, told him I could make a statement in confidence, and that I didn't want to make a statement before the Court.

Q Well, what did he reply, as you said just now? A Oh, he says [illegible] the statement and then I told him—I regretted very much to do it, and I regret very much to make a statement here. I tried to avoid it yesterday.

Q You stated just now that he said it would not be used; did he say that or not? A Well, something to that amount; oh, he said it won't make any difference or something to that effect.

Q Now, don't you know that Mr. Hastings was not intimating to you that the statement he was asking you to make would not be used? A Well, I didn't think that I could be forced to make a qualified statement before the Court here, because I thought my license would protect me in that matter.

Q Yet it did not protect you or prevent you from making a statement to the attorneys for the Nation? A No, sir.

Q Now, in this conversation with Shoemake to which I have referred did you not ask him to again employ you and tell him if he would you would make it all right for him? A No, sir; I [illegible] Mr. Shoemake, I said if he had employed me in the matter "maybe it would [illegible] for you." Now, he offered to pay me I [illegible] that week, he offered me five dollars to go [illegible] lawyers on the matter, I didn't go I was busy.

Q That was not your price? A No, no, I had nothing to say in his case that would be to his advantage; I knew nothing against him.
Q Now, then, you say that your were present on the morning that the judgment was rendered in favor of the Dawsons? A I was not in the Court house.
Q You were present in Tahlequah? A Yes, sir.
Q How long had you been at Tahlequah? A I was living there at that time.
Q When were you first employed by them? A By Dawsons?
Q Yes, sir. A The evening before the case was tried.
Q You say that after he judgment was rendered Dawson handed you $20? A Yes, sir.
Q And told you to hand to Duncan? A No, sir.
Q What was your statement? A That he paid me $20 and says "I will send you some more in a short time, week or so.
Q And then he sent you $100? A Yes, sir.
Q And wrote you to give D. W. C. Duncan $50 of it? A Yes, sir.
Q And then sent you another $100 and told you to give him half of it? A Yes, sir.
Q How much did they pay you? A Well, that was the agreement, was that he would pay me $50 a family.
Q How much did he pay you? A I think there was $250; now I am not sure about the $50, but it appears to me like there was a $50 sent, and Mr. Duncan asked me, as well as I remember, says "have you got a letter from Dawson," I told him "yes, sir." It was either that or the $100, and he says "I would like to have some money", and I went to Stapler's and got it changed-- I won't be sure about it being $50 or $100--I went to Stapler's and got him to cash the check and give him his part of it.
Q How much did they pay you for your services? A That is all I got.
Q How much? A I think it was $100, $120.
Q What did you do for them? A Didn't do a thing; only called up the case and submitted it; never read the evidence.
Q Submitted it without regard? A Yes, sir.
Q And for that you got $120? A Yes, sir; $120.
Q Was Houston Benge present when it was done? A No, sir; I don't think he was.
Q Did you see him then at that time in Tahlequah? A I don't remember.
Q Were you associated with him in any manner in connection with the case? A No, sir.
Q You had a great deal of business of that character, have you before the Courts? A Yes, sir.
Q Were you paid like fees in other cases for like services? A Yes, sir.
Q In any of them? A Yes, sir, a good many.
Q All like cases? A Oh, citizenship cases.
Q When was it you were in jail at Fort Smith? A I don't remember; Mr. Lollette can remember, he was there, he was in attorney.
Q Was it about 1893? A It was more than that, about 1890 somewhere.
Q That has been your principal business as an attorney, has it? A Yes, sir.
Q You have never practiced [illegible] Fort Smith? A [illegible]
Q Were you in the habit of [illegible] your fees in any manner in which you state [illegible]? A No, [illegible].

Q This was an exception was it? A I never worked this case through. I simply called the case up by request of Mr. Dawson. I read the evidence; don't know what proof there was in it; he just asked me to call the case up.
Q And he agreed to pay you $50 a family for doing that? A Yes, sir.
Q Was that what you required of him? A That is what he agreed to pay. I says "what will you give?" He says "I will give you $50 a family.

MR. HUTCHINGS:

Q At the same time that the attorney for the Nation was talking to you about the Dawson case he also made inquiries about the Shoemake case didn't he? A Yes, sir.
Q And you told him at that time before you knew anything about whether you would be made or compelled to testify that so far as you knew there was nothing you knew detrimental to the Shoemake case? A Yes, sir; that is what I said.
Q You told him at the same time that you not only expected to claim your privilege as an attorney in the case, but that you told him, Mr. Hastings, with the full belief that the Court would sustain your position? A Yes, sir.

Mr. McKennon: That is very leading.

Q Now, did you think that the re-employment, being the attorney in the pending case would strengthen your position or weaken it, when you spoke to Mr. Dawson? A What I thought in the matter was before ever I would be summoned in the matter, a long time ago, that if I had been employed in the matter of course my position would have been such that I would not have been required or could not have been forced.
Q Did you think under those circumstances that Mr. Hastings would approach you about the subject? A No, sir; I don't think I would be forced to, having license to practice law.
Q Did Mr. Hastings tell you at the time that he was going to put you on the stand? A Yes, sir.
Q And let the Court decide? A Yes, sir.

MR. McKENNON:

Q Now, have you a license to practice in the United States Courts? A Yes, sir.
Q In the Territory? A Yes, sir.
Q And also in the Indian Courts? A Yes, sir: do you want to see them?

JAMES W. LEWIS, being duly sworn, testified as follows on part of the Cherokee Nation:

MR. HUTCHINGS:

Q State your name please? A J. W. Lewis.
Q James W. Lewis? A Yes, sir.
Q Where is your postoffice, Mr. Lewis? A Afton.
Q How old are you? A 73 years old.
Q What is your business ? A I work at the tin business and gun work.
Q Do you know one James Dawson, the brother of F. M. Dawson and the other Dawsons? A I know old man James Dawson.
Q That is the one I mean, old man James Dawson? A Yes, sir; I know him.
Q How long have you known him? A Well, some four or five years. I guess.
Q How long? A Four or five years I think.

Q When did you come to the country? A I have been in the country 70 odd years.
Q Well, when did he come to the country, do you know? A Along about somewhere in eighty if I recollect right, might have been later than that.
Q How did you happen to be acquainted with? A He lived right close by me and I built a house for him.
Q Did you have any conversation with him at the time you built that house? A Yes, several different times.
Q About how he became a citizen of the Cherokee Nation, about the circumstances? A Yes, sir.
Q Did he make any statement to you about the use of money in getting his citizenship, and if so, state what he said?
A Well, he told me that it cost him $700 to get his rights.
Q Didn't tell you to whom he paid it? A No, he didn't and I didn't ask any questions.

MR. McKENNON:

Q How old was he at that time, do you know? A I do not know exactly, must have been somewheres near about 70 years old, he might have been older than that, I don't know.
Q He was a very old and feeble man? A Yes, he was old and feeble.
Q He seldom ever got out away from his house? A No, sir, only short distance.
Q When you first knew him he was that kind of man? A Yes, sir.

J. L. CLINKENBEARD, being duly sworn, testified as follows on part of the Cherokee Nation:

MR. HUTCHINGS:

Q State your name? A J. L. Clinkenbeard.
Q What is your post office address? A Vinita.
Q How old are you? A 56.
Q Were you ever an applicant for citizenship before the Tahoe citizenship Court in Tahlequah? A Yes, sir.
Q About what time was that? A September '81, I think.
Q Did you meet there about that time, one Elbert or Buck Dawson?
A Yes, sir.
Q How did you happen to meet him? A He and I stopped at the same place, ran's by the name of Sharbon.
Q You and he stopped there, did you, board there? A Yes, sir.
Q Well, did you have any talk about citizenship cases, yours and his? A
A Yes, sir.
Q Where did he state that he was from? A Texas.
Q Well, state what you can remember of the conversation between you from time to time about citizenship in the Cherokee Nation?
A Well, we were there a few more business and we talked about it at different times, and in talking about the evidence we had there I, of course, told him how many witness I had and what I could prove and so on, and he said that he didn't have but one witness, Dr. Baker from Arkansas, a man that was 85 or 90 years old, he said, and he hadn't come and said he was to have met him there, but he hadn't come.
Q Well, what did he say about the doctor's taking anything?
A Well, he said he was 85 or 90 years old and didn't now straight up.
Q Well, did he say anything about giving him whisky?
A Well, he said he could give him four drinks of Arkansas whiskey and he could swear that black was white.

Q Did he say anything about what money would do in Texas or Indian Territory? A Well, in talking about the evidence, he said that money was what took the land down in Texas and he said "I come to get the law of the land" and he says "I found out it goes here," or words to that effect.
Q Did he say what he had to spend on the question? A Well, he said that he could stand a thousand dollars on it and not be hurt very much; finally he said he could stand more than that.
Q What did he tell you what he thought about the necessity of witnesses anyhow? A Well, I don't know as he said as to that, but I understood from what he said that he thought money would beat witnesses.
Q Well, where did he go from there? A He and I left there together; he came to Muskogee by way of Fort Gibson and there we parted.
Q Did you ever see him after that? A I saw him about two years or something like that afterwards.
Q Where? A Vinita.
Q Did you refer to the citizenship matter? A I asked him how he come out and he said all right.
Q Was he deferred in any way this man? A He had a crippled hand or stiff finger; I don't remember just what it was now.

J.R. McKENNON:

Q Your first conversation with him was in '81 was it? A Yes, sir.
Q What time in '81? A September.
Q You were then an applicant for citizenship? A Yes, sir.
Q Have you had it? A No, sir.
Q You are still an applicant? A No, sir.
Q You are still working to get in as a citizen of the Cherokee Nation? A No, sir; haven't quit it entirely.
Q What business are you in now? A I am running a dairy in Vinita.
Q When did you make these statements now to the representative of the Cherokee Nation? A Well, sir, I haven't; I saw Mr. Hastings I believe here last Saturday the first time.
Q How did they ever know that you had had these conversations with Mr. Dawson? A I don't know.
Q You don't know how they found that out? A No, sir.
Q You say you saw Mr. Hastings here last Saturday? A Yes, sir.
Q Now, did you approach him or did he approach you? A He approached me.
Q You know why? A No, sir; I suppose somebody I have told something at some time about this, I don't know when or who. I don't remember of having talked to anyone about it. I have seen Mr. Hastings for years.
Q Now, you say—now was that expression about his giving Dr. Baker three or four drinks of liquor? A He said the old man; he said that Dr. Baker, he was expecting him there and he didn't come, and he said he didn't care where he did or not; he said he was 85 or 90 years old; he said he didn't know straight up; said he could give him three or four drinks of Arkansas whiskey and he would not know black or white.
Q Now, he said that did he? A Yes, sir.
Q You are just as positive of that as you are of any other statement he made are you? A Yes, sir.
Q You say you next saw Dawson at Vinita? A Yes, sir.
Q How long afterwards was that? A About two years, I think something near that.
Q Did he move to the Territory? A Yes, sir he lived at Vinita at one time.

Q You speak about having a dairy business there at Vinita, to what extent? A I am only milking about four cows now, I sent the others to the country.
Q Do you run a dairy wagon there? A No, sir.
Q You serve on the jury a good deal? A I have been serving on the Petit jury there this winter.
Q Generally? No, sir.
Q Are you a kind of a professional juror? A No, sir; I was on the regular petit jury, I was on the regular panel and served.

C. C. BRAUGHT, being duly sworn, testified as follows on part of the Cherokee Nation:

MR. HUTCHINGS:

Q State your name? A C. C. Braught.

Q Do you know one Bud Dawson or F. M. Dawson as his name is? A I do.
Q How long have you known him? A About 13 years.
Q How close do you live from him? A Half a mile of him.
Q Does he still own that place? A I think he does.
Q Were you an applicant for citizenship along about '81 or '2 at Tahlequah? A Yes, sir.
Q Did you have at any time a conversation with Bud Dawson about his and your citizenship cases? A Yes, sir.
Q State what he stated to you of citizenship cases in general and about his own in particular, you can state the time that you had these conversations as near as you can? A Well, I think it was in '83, he told me if I ever got in I would have to set up; he said it cost him $700 to get in; he said he paid one witness three hundred dollars.
Q Did he state the name of that witness? A No, he did not.
Q Who did he say he made arrangements with? A He said he made arrangements with the Court; that is, heads of families to get them in at one hundred dollars apiece.
Q Do you know what time of the year tht was, whether it was in the summer or not? A I think it was in June.
Q Did he make any other statements to you at any other time? A No, sir, I don't think he has in regards to that matter.
Q You have been living neighbors with him? A Yes, sir.

MR. McKENNON:

Q You say this was about June of '83? A I think it was in June, 1883, I won't be positive whether it was June or not.
Q You were an applicant; were you admitted? A No, sir.
Q Have you been admitted? A No, sir.
Q You are still an applicant? A Yes, sir.
Q Still trying to get in? A Yes, sir.
Q Where was this conversation had? A Had at Bud Dawson's house.
Q What part of the premises? that is, in his residence? A Yes, sir.
Q In the house? A Yes, sir.
Q Who was present? A There wasn't anybody present; he just built the house and there wasn't anybody there.
Q Was there more than one room? A I won't be positive but I don't think there was but one room, log house.
Q Just one room? A Yes, sir.

Q And in that room he made this statement to you? A Yes, sir.
Q He and you are enemies are you not? A No, I don't think we are enemies.
Q You are not friendly at all? A Friendly part of the time, and part of the time we ain't.
Q Haven't you had considerable trouble about the lands between your farms? A No, sir; we ain't had any trouble.
Q Didn't you have his little boy arrested recently for a difficulty? A Yes, sir.
Q And you say that you are not on bad terms with him? A Why we speak, have conversation, have right right along all the time.
Q Is it not a fact now that you and he have been all the while at outs? A No, sir.
Q You don't have any unkind feeling towards him? A No, sir.
Q What were your other remarks? A I said no, sir, I didn't have any unkind feeling towards him.

(It being 5 o'clock, the Commission adjourns until 8:30 o'clock to-morrow morning.)

March 19, 1903.
Commission convened pursuant to adjournment.

Appearances:
Mr. A. S. McKennon, of Counsel for Applicants.
Mr. W. T. Hutchings, of Counsel for Cherokee Nation.

C. C. BRAUGH, re-called, further testified:

MR. McKENNON:

Q Mr. Braught, you were a claimant under the Watts family are you not? A Yes, sir.
(witness excused.)

CHARLES D. KENNEY, being duly sworn, testified as follows on part of the Cherokee Nation:
MR. HUTCHINGS:

Q State your name? A Charles D. Kenney.
Q What is your post office? A Dawson now.
Q Are you a citizen of the Cherokee Nation? A Yes, sir; supposed to be.
Q Recognized as such are you? A Yes, sir.
Q How old are you? A There is no family record, my parents died when I was young, I just guess at my age, I am somewheres between 44 and 45 years old.
Q Were you personally acquainted with one Elbert or Buck Dawson? A I knew Buck Dawson when I saw him.
Q Did you know him in the state of Texas, if so state what time? A I knew Buck Dawson, knew him and saw him at different dates in Texas.
Q Well, in the year '81 in Clay County, Texas, did you ever see him? A It was in '81 or 82, I think I knew him in both years.
Q Did you ever have any conversation with him in the presence of Bill Smith, Jiles Flippin and Joe Preston about his application for citizenship in the Cherokee Nation? A Mr. Dawson and Flippins were talking in regard to grass down there before we one time and it was mentioned, I was going up on the strip and Buck Dawson says "he an Indian" and Jiles said "yes, he is an Indian", and "By God," I believe is the way he spoke, "if I was an Indian I would not be punching cattle, I would have stock eating my grass."

Q What did he say about making application? A He said he was going to the Chickasaw Nation and prove up and get him some grass.
Q Who was that? A Buck Dawson.
Q Well, did anybody suggest about his going to the Cherokee Nation?
A Yes, sir, I told him, I says "why don't you go to the Cherokee Nation, why don't you go up home" I believe is the way I spoke it, "up amongst God's people;" and he says "are they all white like you?" and Jiles spoke up and says "majority of them."
Q Well, what did he say to Jiles then? A He says "let's go up Jiles", just in a whole crowd of cow punchers, and Mr. Filpin says "Hell, I am going; brother John is getting ready to go now."
Q Well, then what did he say to you? A He says "Who are your best lawyers up there, Kenney," and I told him "Hooley Bell was counted the brainiest man in our country."
Q Well, do you know whether he claimed to have any Indian blood or what he was claiming in that country, whether white man or Indian?
A No, sir, I could not say what he was; he was generally known down there as Buck Dawson, a citizen of the State of Texas, that is all I know of him.

Mr. McKennon: The applicants object to all of the testimony of this witness because it is wholly incompetent and irrelevant.

Mr. McKennon:
Q Were you born and reared in the Cherokee Nation? A I can't tell you where I was born; I was raised here part of the time and in Russ County, Texas. B. F. Alberty was my guardian.
Q Were you admitted to citizenship by the Council or Court? A I think both of them passed on me; I can't tell you the date.
Q About what time? A It was sometime in '80 though.
Q What tribunal first? A I don't know; I don't know either when I was admitted, I was re-instated at Council.
Q When? A I think it was in '87 or '88.
Q Haven't you been arrested for crime and charged with crime?
A Well, I didn't know that I was on trial; I have been arrested a hundred times I guess from here to the Rio Grande.
Q For what offense? A For gambling, stealing; if I am on trial I have had lots of them, I have been on the road.
MR. HASTINGS, of Counsel for Cherokee Nation:
Q Were you ever convicted? A No, sir.

Mr. McKennon: Applicant makes further objection to the testimony of this witness on account of his criminal character stated by him.

THOMAS B. BABEART, being duly sworn, testified as follows on part of the Cherokee Nation:
MR. HUTCHINGS:

Q State your name, please? A Thomas B. Babeart.
Q What is your post office? A Mel-vin.
Q What is your age? A 49.
Q Are you a Cherokee by blood? A Yes, sir.

Q Did you know one James Dawson? A Well, yes; I did; I have seen him time or two.
Q Were you in Tahlequah about the time he had an application before the Spears or Snake Puppy Citizenship Court? A Yes, sir; I was there about the time the case was settled.
Q Did you know Aaron Butler? A Yes, sir.
Q Who was he? A He was a Cherokee Interpreter for the Court.
Q Do you know James Smith? A Yes, sir.
Q Who was he? A He was the Nation's attorney before the Court.
Q Well, did you about that time have a conversation with either Aaron Butler of Jim Smith in company with Mr. James Dawson? A Yes.
Q State the full particulars of it? A About that time this man Dawson and Butler came to me while they were all together, all three of them, and Butler come and called me off to one side, that was down at a colored church, it was after dark, and they called me off there and this man Dawson borrowed some money from me, he said he had to have it that night, his case was going to be submitted the next morning.
Q Well, did he say anything about whether he could get his case submitted if he had more money? A Well, from the language to me and Butler, he wanted this money; Smith had agreed to submit the case without further evidence in the matter.
Q Well, did you let him have the ten dollars? A Yes, sir.
Q Where did they go then? A They walked off up towards town.
Q Did they go together, those three? A Yes, sir.

MR. McKENNON:

Q Was that James Dawson, the leading applicant in that case?
A Yes, best of my recollection that was.
Q How old a man was he? A I don't know; I could not tell you; he looked, I don't know, he might have been—could not tell you just about how old he was.
Q Well, about how old was he, 25, 30 or 40? A Yes, he was older than that, from my judgment I guess he must have been 45 or 50 years old.
Q Is he living or dead? A I don't know.
Q Where have you been living? A I have been living down here near Tahlequah.
Q What was the man's name, Dawson's name? A Jim Dawson I said.
Q You are certain of that? A Yes, sir; I am pretty certain.
Q They came to you with Smith, the Prosecuting Attorney, and Butler, the Interpreter? A Yes, sir.
Q Dawson took you off to one side? A Butler took me to where Dawson was and introduced me to Dawson and vouched for Dawson being all right for the money.
Q When did you first make a statement of this matter to anybody?
A I guess—I don't remember when.
Q How long have you been in Muskogee this time?
A I have been here since, I was summoned here last Friday.
Q Did you ever make any statement to anybody about this before that time? A Yes, I talked to Butler about it.
Q When? A Oh, about, first I remember it was been about two years ago, and Butler was talking to me about it; it was at my house.
Q Were you born a citizen? A Yes, sir.
Q You weren't admitted to citizenship by the Courts or Council?
A No, sir.
Q You have been living in the Cherokee Nation all your life?
A Well, I was born and raised here; I haven't been here all the time; I have been out and in.

Q You have never seen that man Dawson since? A If I have I have never known it, but I seen him the next day.
Q You saw him and took a good look at him, and know about what kind of man he was? I saw him around there about several times.
Q You think he was about 35 or 40 years old? A That would be my guess at it, my recollection.

Mr. McKennon: Applicants object to the testimony of this witness, all of it, because it is wholly incompetent and irrelevant.

DELIA A. BREWER, being duly sworn, testified as follows on part of the Cherokee Nation:
MR. HUTCHINGS:

Q State your full name? A My husband's name was O. P. Brewer, but generally I sign my name Mrs. D. A. Brewer.
Q What was your full maiden name? A Delia A. Vann; well it was really Delilah but I never was called by that name, it was De altogether in my young days.
Q What was your father's name? A His name was Joseph Vann.
Q Was he called by any nicknames and if so how many, and what?
A None but the Cherokees, the full-bloods called him Joe Aney.
Q What does that name mean when you talk English? A Rich Joe.
Q Did any of them call him Big Joe Vann? A I don't know; he was a large man; larger than the other Joe Vann.
Q There was another Joe Vann? A Yes, sir.
Q Did your father have any sisters and brothers? A He had quite a number of sisters.
Q Did he have a half sister? A Had two half brothers.
Q Did he have a half sister? A Had several half sisters.
Q Who did they marry? A Different persons; I knew the names of all of them but I have a bad memory, but I know that there was one, a Mrs. Ibbie Wolfe, and Mrs. Lamer, she was first a Mrs. Nicholson and she became a Mrs. Lamer and lived in Alabama and never come to this country, but she has grandchildren in this country.
Q Well, did any of your father's sisters or half sisters ever marry a Rogers? A No, sir.
Q Never had any Rogers kin-folks? A No, sir, I certainly would have heard of them through my family, there was a great many of the kin-folks I never saw, but I heard of them.
Q The Dawson case was talked of here for many years, they claiming kin?
A I never knew until I understood they claimed to be kin to the Vanns, and I flatter myself that my family was prominent enough that they never claimed kin.
Q They never claimed kin at all? A No, sir.
Q Did your father ever had a sister or half sister by the name of Annie, Anna or Alsey? A No, sir.
